School Finances Are Summarized

A summary of the financial reports of county and city school systems for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1955, shows that 87.2 per cent of all current public school expenditures were for salaries of teachers, bus drivers, and other school employees. The payment of salaries plus fixed charges made up 91.4 per cent of the total cost of operating schools. This left only 8.6 per cent for gas and oil for school buses, for repairs, and for maintenance.

Fixed charges include debt service, insurance, pensions, and fuel which cannot be reduced by shortening the school term.

Alabama school boards continue to face urgent need for rigid economy in school operation in their efforts to provide the best teachers, but 8.6 per cent of the expenditures for non-salary and fixed charges does not leave much leeway to find additional dollars for teachers' salaries.

Adult school bus drivers averaged $17.00 per week and student drivers were paid less.

Even though school boards have neglected building maintenance in order to find as many dollars as possible to plow into teachers' salaries, they were forced to employ 3,650 teachers with emergency certificates because they could not get teachers with regular certificates.

Dog Licenses

Residents of Montevallo are reminded that licenses for dogs are to be obtained at the City Hall during the month of January.

In order for a dog to be licensed, it must have a record of inoculation for rabies.

Some folks seem to look at the dog license as a joke, but it is a serious and determined effort on the part of the City to do two things: (1) To get rid of the many worthless, unwanted and pilfering dogs that run at large with apparently no home and no one to care for them; and (2) To eradicate from this community the constant threat of the terrors of rabies, which would be done if the dog population were properly controlled.

Every dog that runs at large should bear the guarantee that he is in no way a menace to the health and welfare of the public.

Miss DeMent Writes Magazine Article

Miss Susie DeMent, head of the Business Education Department at Montevallo High School, recently wrote a magazine article entitled "Christmas Time in Typing Class". The feature was published in the December 1955 issue of the nationally distributed periodical, "Business Education World".

In her article, Miss DeMent discussed the colorful idea of combining bulletin boards with parties at the Christmas season. She tells how she made a bulletin board display with simple presents which her first year typing students had to earn.

The pupils were very enthusiastic, and at the end of a class period, every student had earned a gift in different ways—by skill or personal traits. When they had won a present, they signed their names to the tag on the gift.

Miss DeMent concluded her article by telling about their Christmas party. The highly earned presents were distributed, after which refreshmentts were served.

Construction Progresses At United Cement Co.

Operation of the new plant of United Cement Company is hailed as an important addition to the industrial activity of this area.

Jimmy Fancher Is Corn Champion

Jimmy Fancher, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Fancher of Chelsea, has been named Champion FFA Corn Grower in Shelby County, it was announced today by B. P. Dilworth, district supervisor of vocational agriculture, Auburn.

Young Fancher, a member of the Vincent FFA chapter, made 90 bushels of corn per acre to win the championship title. He grew the corn as one of the several projects in his supervised farming program in vocational agriculture during 1955.

Dilworth explained that the purpose of the corn growing contest is to encourage FFA members to use better corn growing practices on their farms. The contest is sponsored by the Vocational Agriculture Service and the Chilean Nitrate Educational Bureau, Inc.

In growing his prize-winning corn, Jimmy planted Mosby Prolific variety in rows 36 inches apart and left the plants about 20 inches apart in the row. Jimmy fertilized with 200 pounds of 6-8-4 per acre at planting time and side dressed with 200 pounds of nitrate of soda about 40 days after planting.

"A standard FFA Champion Corn Growing Medal will be presented to Jimmy as first-place award in the Shelby County contest," Dilworth said.

Solicitor Conrad Fowler Speaks to Montevallo PTA

"Good Communities Protect Their Children and Youth" was the subject used by County Solicitor Conrad Fowler of Columbiana as he spoke to the Montevallo P. T. A. Monday night, Jan. 2.

According to Mr. Fowler, good law enforcement is of utmost importance if a community is to give children the proper protection. Mr. Fowler further added that support for better schools, more active church programs, an accepted code of conduct within the community, and an active recreation program, all play important parts in the prevention of juvenile delinquency. He also said that within the home, a child needs approval, a sense of security, affection, and a feeling of belonging; and he expressed agreement with the statement that "there are no delinquent children, only delinquent parents."

Preceding the program Mrs. Davis Yeuell gave a short devotional. Mrs. Lee Barclay announced that there was a great need for more clothing to fit grammar school children and asked that all who had anything to contribute bring them to the Westminster House for distribution.

Mrs. Denson Elliott, PTA president, was in charge of the meeting which was held in the cafeteria.

Test Driver Gives Safe Driving Rules

That is the advice of Danny Eames, chief test driver for Dodge, who suggests that motorists adopt New Year's resolutions governing their "behind the wheel" conduct.

Said Eames, "People joke at New Year's resolutions. Every year countless resolutions are made to give up candy, tobacco, or correct bad habits with no serious intentions behind them."

"However", he continued, "safety is a serious business. If each driver would resolve to observe traffic rules every day of the year, the highway accident toll would be greatly reduced in 1956."

Here are ten resolutions Eames recommends for motoring safety during the New Year:

1. Observe all traffic regulations. They are designed for your protection.
2. Keep a safe distance behind the car ahead, particularly at high speeds.
3. Stay in your own lane on hills, curves, and in "no passing" zones.
4. Dim your lights to oncoming traffic when driving at night.
5. Give the right of way to pedestrians.
6. Always be on the alert for children.
7. Know the proper hand or direction signals and use them.
8. Watch where you're going, and keep an eye on other cars near you.
9. Regulate speed to road conditions as well as to posted speed limits.
10. Give the other fellow more than his share of the road.

Here is why you can buy a new FORD TRUCK now and get a better deal!

It's simply this: those who buy now, instead of waiting until later in the year, gain in two ways. First, when the time comes to trade in the truck bought this year, it still will be rated for trade-in value as a 1956 truck—no matter how late or how early in the model-year it was originally bought.

Second, if you buy now, you will get a full year's use. You gain by not waiting—you enjoy the benefits of operating a new truck and your new Ford Truck's trade-in value will not depreciate any more quickly than if you bought it months from now.

Why a new Ford Truck is your smartest buy!

More horsepower! New safety! New capacities!

New Ford Trucks give you up to 44% more usable horsepower than any other trucks! More horsepower per dollar—proved by actual comparisons of net horsepower and suggested list prices of all trucks. Only Ford gives you such safety features as new Lifeguard steering wheel and new Lifeguard door latches. New higher capacities throughout the line—payload increases as much as one ton!

Ford F-600 12-ft. Stake. Widest range of Short Stroke power in the 2-ton field...a Six and three Y-8's, to 168 h.p.! Custom Cab (shown), slight extra cost.

Editor Presents Southern Viewpoint On School Segregation Problem

The real reasons that most Southerners are against school desegregation were laid before the nation today for the first time by a prominent Southern newspaper editor in the January issue of Harper's Magazine.

Thomas R. Waring, editor of the Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier, writes the frank expression of Southern sentiment—a report which, he charges, the Northern-controlled press has never published before.

The Charleston editor accuses national news magazines and metropolitan newspapers of abandoning "fair and objective reporting of the race story." He says their "one-sided" reports frequently substitute propaganda for facts.

Harper's Magazine is the first national periodical to present the Southern viewpoint in full. Its editors said the article ought to be widely read, although it does not express their point of view.

Waring, in his article, warns Northern readers at the outset that they may be "infuriated" by it. But, he adds, Southerners also have been "outraged" by the interpretation the Northern press has given to the desegregation problem.

He lists five differences in the Negro and white races which, he says, do not encourage white parents to permit their children to mingle freely with Negro children in school:

1. Health. "The incidence of venereal disease, for instance, is much greater among Negroes than among whites . . . Fastidious parents do not favor joint use of school washrooms when they would not permit it at home—and there's no use to tell them that it is unlikely that anyone will catch venereal disease from a toilet seat. They just don't want to take risks of any kind with their children."

2. Home Environment. "For most colored children in the South the cultural background is different in many ways from that of their white neighbors — and while these differences may have various explanations, they add up in the public's mind as racial. Slavery is so long in the past that nobody thinks about it any more, but the master and servant, or boss and laborer, relationship between whites and Negroes is still the rule rather than the exception."

3. Marital habits: "On the average one Southern Negro child in five is illegitimate . . . Many white persons believe that morals among their own race are lax enough as it is without exposing their children to an even more primitive view of sex habits."

4. Crime. "For many years, crime in the South has been more prevalent among Negroes than among white people . . . With racial bars and rowdies of both races daring one another to make something of the vast increase in daily contacts, opportunities for interracial strife are frightening. Conservative, law-abiding people—and believe it or not, they constitute the bulk of Southern whites—are deeply fearful that hatred and bloodshed would increase without separation of the races."

5. Intellectual development."... Southern Negroes usually are below the intellectual level of their white counterparts . . . Some advocates of integration say the way to cure these differences is to let the children mingle so that the Negroes will learn from the whites. The trouble with this theory is that even if it works, a single generation of white children will bear the brunt of the load. While they are rubbing off white civilization onto the colored children, Negro culture will also rub off onto the whites."

1955 Was Big Year For State's Industry

Industrially 1955 was a banner year for Alabama, the annual year-end report of the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce revealed Saturday.

New and expanding industries announced during 1955 will invest $361,100,000 and will add 14,456 new jobs in the state, Roland L. Adams, York, Alabama State Chamber of Commerce president, said in reporting progress for the year.

"There are new industries in 44 different cities and 32 separate counties," Adams continued, "and these new industries alone will invest $172,822,000 and provide 5,655 new jobs."

"Alabamians can be especially proud of the $188,278,000 which is being invested in the state by industries which have long been good citizens," John M. Ward, executive vice-President of the State Chamber, said. "The first obligation of all Alabamians is to existing industry and the expansion of an industry in the state reveals a healthy growth which will do more than anything else to advertise Alabama as a fine location for additional industry," Ward continued. All too often, Ward added, expansion of existing industry is not given the recognition it deserves. This expansion will add 8,801 new jobs and is spread throughout 42 towns in 36 different counties.

If military, gas, telephone and electric power expenditures are considered, the grand total for the over-all investment in Alabama in 1955 is $472,366,000.

There are 37 out of the 67 new industries which are operated by local capital, Adams emphasized.

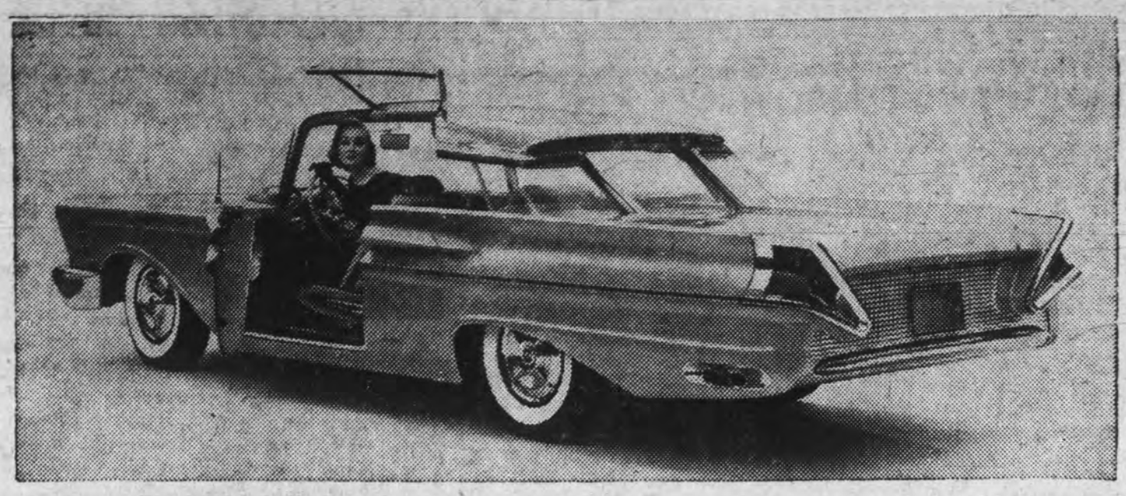

Number one investor in Alabama in 1955 was the paper making industry and the Mobile area dominated the industrial picture both in new and expanded plants.

DAR TO MEET

David Lindsay Chapter, DAR, will hold its first meeting of the new year on Monday evening, Jan. 9, at 7:30 in the home of Miss Josephine Eddy, chapter secretary.

Mrs. A. W. Vaughan will discuss the topic "DAR Opposition to Federal Aid to Education." Dr. Charles L. Gormley of the education department at Alabama College will present the case for federal aid.

Transparent plastic "butterfly" roof inserts lift up automatically when doors are opened to permit ease of entrance and exit. Completely roadable, it is only 4.4 feet high.

March of Dimes

At the beginning of the end of infantile paralysis as a menace, Shelby County is facing the most critical period in the history of the fight against polio. For the first time in the history of polio funds in Shelby County, the local treasury is exhausted. December bills will have to be paid from the funds collected this month. This has never happened before. We have always carried over several thousand dollars from one year to the next. The number and severity of the polio cases in Shelby County this past year is responsible for the depletion of the funds.

I am urging all citizens of Shelby County to make their contributions to the polio drive this year more generous than ever before. The interest in the drive this year is much greater than ever before because of the situation in Shelby County. The American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary have volunteered to help in the campaign. Two $50.00 donations came in in the Advance Gift Drive. A number of others have contributed $25.00. From all indications we will exceed by a substantial amount anything ever collected in the county in previous drives.

Capitol Highlights

Reviving a practice of his first administration, Gov. and Mrs. James E. Folsom entertained several thousands of state employees at a reception and tea at the Mansion on December 28 from 4 to 7 p.m.

A few days before Christmas, the Governor and Mrs. Folsom entertained members of the cabinet, assistant directors and their wives at a Christmas buffet dinner between 6 and 9 p.m. The some sixty officials and wives exchanged personal gifts among themselves under the big Christmas tree in the main living room, which had been set up and decorated for the Governor's six children.

The official Christmas season was completed on New Year's Eve when Governor and Mrs. Folsom entertained members of the state legislature and their wives at a breakfast. The Governor and his guests later in the day attended the annual Blue-Gray football game at Cramton Bowl, with the Governor still playing host.

Special Session Opens

Legislators met in Montgomery on Tuesday to take up the question of organizing a Constitutional, or Fair Vote Convention, on special call of the Governor.

The Governor pointed out, among other things, that present representation in the legislature is based on the population of Alabama as it was in 1901. Though the legislature has been required by the present Constitution to reshuffle the legislative seats after each 10 year census, to keep pace with shifts in population—as is the case with Congress—the lawmakers have failed to do this even once during the past 54 years.

The Chief Executive said this meant that many taxpayers were therefore without proper representation.

Therefore, the Governor said, though elected delegates to a Fair Vote Convention would review the entire Constitution, his own prayer would be for a reapportionment of the legislature in accordance with the existing 1955 population pattern of Alabama.

Reflective Clothing Protects Children from Night Traffic

By Mary Lou Chapman

Light clothing has long been advocated for children who do any walking along a road or street after dark, because it's much easier for motorists to see them. Even a white hat or mittens help make pedestrians more visible at night.

Now a manufacturer has gone one step better. A material called "Flecton" has been invented. Flecton brightly reflects any light that shines upon it and can be woven right into any fabric. It doesn't shine in the daylight, but only in the dark under a direct play of light, such as automobile headlights. Then it shines in a bright silver color, making the wearer visible hundreds of feet away... three to six times farther than a person in non-reflective garments.

Miss Chapman

The fabric containing Flecton is attractive and inconspicuous, and has all the advantages of a normal fabric. It stands up to hard wear and is washable, too. Usually, it is combined with other materials such as cotton, nylon or wool.

At present, most of the clothing using Flecton is made for children. The new safety material comes in snowsuits, jackets, t-shirts, mittens, knitted caps and socks. In the near future, all types of garments for both children and adults will have the reflective fabric.

Clothing containing Flecton is now being sold in stores from coast to coast and is hailed by safety officials as good protection for pedestrians crossing streets at night.

At this time of year, when darkness comes early, children are more apt to be out in the dark than in summer or spring. As records show that 76 per cent of pedestrian fatalities occur in periods of darkness, parents should take advantage of any sound accident prevention measures. Reflective clothing might contribute to your child's safety.

FREE BOOK

Speaking of children, we are offering a free book especially for them. It's all about trucks — trailer trucks, fire engines, cement mixers, oil trucks and many more. Little boys from two to ten especially will love this book. It is printed in full color, has a hard cover and would make an exciting extra gift for Christmas.

The offer is good as long as our supply lasts, so send in your name and address for your book on trucks to: MARY LOU CHAPMAN, BOX 1919, CHRYSLER CORPORATION, DETROIT 31, MICHIGAN.

The book is yours for the asking.

PLANT NOW

In Middle South, sow seed of following annuals, says The Progressive Farmer: alyssum, larkspur, poppy, snapdragon, cornflower. Lower South: Chinese forget-me-not, pinks, gaillardia, petunia, verbena, larkspur, sweet william, gayfeather, four o'clock. Wait until February to sow seed of these in Upper South.

Plant seed in hotbeds or boxes six to eight weeks before plants are to be set in the open, says The Progressive Farmer.

LANDSCAPE TIPS

In making plans for foundation shrubs, The Progressive Farmer suggests you keep the following points in mind:

1. A small house can be made to appear larger if shrubs extend beyond the front corners.
2. A very large house can be made to appear smaller if tall shrubs and trees are planted outward from the corners and sides at spots which will hide some of the building from front view.
3. A house which has a low foundation will need fewer shrubs than one which is high from the ground. If the house is not underpinned, it needs a mass of shrubs.
4. Low and slow-growing shrubs should be used beneath windows. Taller shrubs give accent to corners.

On many farms, says The Progressive Farmer, rats and mice eat and destroy enough feed to keep several extra animals. One rat can eat 40 pounds of feed in one year and damage another 80 pounds.

Brake Shoe Pittsburgh Plant Wins Award

The Pittsburgh plant of American Brake Shoe Company had the best safety record of 58 company plants for the 1954-1955 safety year. For its outstanding safety record, the plant was presented with the President's Safety Trophy, by Brake Shoe President, Kempton Dunn, in special ceremonies at the plant.

The plant, which is one of eight plants in the company's Southern Wheel Division, scored a total of 291½ points out of 300 to win the trophy. The trophy is awarded annually to the Brake Shoe plant which has the best safety record of the safety year. This was the third year the trophy has been awarded by Brake Shoe. The first year it went to the company's National Bearing plant in Meadville, Pa., and last year to its American Manganese Steel Division plant at Oakland, Cal.

Plastic vegetable bags are excellent for covering potted plants when you leave home for a few days and can't water them, says the Progressive Farmer. The plastic holds moisture and lets necessary gases and light pass through.

Officer Shoots Man Charged With Theft

William Woods, Negro, was carried to a Birmingham hospital last Saturday with a broken leg, the result of a gun fight between him and police officer Jiggs Reeder, of Wilton.

Woods is under arrest charged with larceny in several cases, assault, resisting an officer, and violating the prohibition law.

Last week Police Chief Harry Kendrick obtained information indicating that Woods was implicated in a series of thefts that have been going on for some time at homes in Montevallo. When Kendrick and Reeder went to the home of Woods in Evansville to search for the stolen property, they met the Negro in the road near his home. He had a gallon of moonshine whiskey in his possession and was placed under arrest, but ran away from the officers.

The officers then went to the home of Woods where their search revealed many things that had been reported stolen from various homes in this community; also three more pints of whiskey.

The allegedly stolen property was taken by the officers. Identification of much of it has been made by the people from whom it was stolen.

If you know of anything that was recently stolen from you, contact Chief Kendrick. He may have recovered it. He reports that his investigation of the Woods case is turning up more things each day. In the list of things he has recovered is a fraternity pin that has not yet been claimed.

After eluding the officers last week, it was reported to the officers Saturday that Woods was hiding in a home in Wilton. Officer Reeder went to the place and found Woods in the bed.

He ordered Woods to get up and dress and come with him. When Woods had put on his clothes and shoes, he flew into Reeder in an effort to take the officer's gun away from him. It was a tough fight for a while, according to Reeder, during which the pistol was discharged, hitting Woods in the hand. Then Woods managed to fight his way to the door and ran. Reeder shot at him and broke his leg. That ended the fracas and Woods was taken to the hospital.

The local officers are to be commended for their persistent and apparently successful efforts to break into a wholesale stealing operation that has been going on for several months.

CALERA PTA NEWS

The Calera PTA met last Wednesday afternoon, January 4 in the High School library.

During the business session, plans for the bake sales and the annual calendar banquet were discussed. Dates for each will be announced later.

Miss Anita King, supervisor of Shelby County Schools, spoke on "Children Deserve a Happy Community". Miss King defined a community as "a place composed of people with a common interest". She reminded the parents and teachers that a community should be healthy mentally as well as physically and that it is only good and strong to the extent that needs are met.

"Vitamins for mental health are necessary," said Miss King. Those listed were: Self respect, need for love and affection, need to belong, need to be needed and need to be able to contribute.

Mr. Acridge's seventh grade had the most parents present.

DR. PAUL C. BAILEY

Bailey To Head Science Institute

Dr. Paul C. Bailey, professor of biology at Alabama College, will direct the school's summer institute for high school science teachers.

The institute, scheduled for June 4 through July 13, will be partially financed by a $23,000 grant from the National Science Foundation.

Announcement of the grant was made by the Foundation recently.

First of the kind in the South, the Alabama College institute will be a part of the school's regular summer session and will draw teachers from the Southern states.

Most of the high school teachers are expected to come from Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Florida, South Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Sixty-five all expense scholarships and 25 tuition exempt scholarships will be available to qualified high school science teachers.

Objectives of the institute will be to improve the subject matter competence of teachers in science; to strengthen the capacity of the teachers to motivate students to consider future careers in the fields of science; and to bring these teachers into personal contact with the highly productive scientists who make up the staff of the institute, with the view of stimulating interest and increasing their prestige professionally.

In addition to Dr. Bailey, who will direct the institute, leading scientists from outstanding colleges and universities of the country will serve as lecturers and instructors. Staff personnel includes chemists, physicists, science educators, biologists and a radiation biologist.

Institute Director Bailey is a native Alabamian and is editor of the Journal of the Alabama Academy of Science. He is the recipient of a three year grant for research on the possible factors influencing cell division in plant and animal tissues from the National Cancer Institute. His research is now in its second year.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

Richmond, Jan. 6—Presbyterians in the South, making 1956 a year of special emphasis on Christian higher education, are launching a series of financial campaigns that will, with drives already under way, give more than $37 million toward capital development and endowment of the 28 colleges and seminaries supported by the church.

Applying to Alabama, this program contemplates $1,350,00, including assembly-wide pledges of $1,100,000 to Stillman College in Tuscaloosa.

American Vocational Journal To Feature Alabama Vocational Program

M. Thornton, president of the Alabama Vocational Association, has been notified that the American Vocational Journal will feature a front page of the 1955 convention. The arrangement by the artist and the managing editor includes a picture containing Dr M. D. Mobley, executive secretary of the American Vocational Association, R. E. Cammack, director of vocational education in Alabama, J. F. Ingram, president elect of the American Vocational Association, M. Thornton, president of the Alabama Vocational Association, and Cecil B. Stanley, president of American Vocational Association. The January issue of American Vocational Journal is dedicated to the practical arts teachers of the United States.

Through united efforts on the part of members of the Alabama Vocational Association, the program of work in Alabama has been recognized nationally. Because of the many needs being met by vocational education as a part of the total program of education in Alabama and elsewhere, much thought is being given to expansion of the program to reach those communities and the schools desiring the vocational education program. Recent expansion of industrial programs, the changes in farming operations, and the need for homemaking education and other trends have caused many requests for the work to be started in more of the school systems.

Karl Harrison Attends New York Meeting

New York, N. Y., Jan. 10—Karl Harrison, veteran Alabama legislator and president of the Alabama Citizens Educational Advisory Council, and C. B. Gilmore, past president of the same group, were among those attending the National Citizens Commission for Public Schools meeting here.

The two-day meeting was attended by prominent laymen from all parts of the nation, who will make recommendations to President Eisenhower regarding America's public schools.

Commenting on the work of the Citizens Commission, President Eisenhower said: "Youth, our greatest resource, is being seriously neglected in a vital respect. The nation as a whole is not preparing teachers or buildings fast enough to keep up with the increase in population."

Rep. Harrison has long been interested in improving Alabama's educational standards. He led the income tax amendment campaign that provided Alabama teachers an increase of $7 million annually by diverting existing taxes to schools.

The Montevallo Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual dinner meeting Tuesday, Jan. 17, at 6:30, at which time officers will be installed for the coming year.

Lecture Series To Present "World Affairs Council"

The World Affairs Council featuring speakers from England, France, Germany and the United States will be presented as the fifth event on Alabama College's Concert and Lecture Series.

Described as a miniature United Nations Security Council, the featured speakers will present the "World Affairs Council" in Palmer Hall Friday of this week at 8:15 p.m.

Background information on the big issues of the day, personalities and anecdotal material and an analysis of the latest world events make up the program of the World Affairs Council.

The program is unrehearsed and presents a telescoped version of the 11 nation UN Security Council. Each speaker represents one part of the world in a four-way debate on the great issues of the day.

Representing France will be the Hon. Camille Chautemps, considered one of the great statesmen of the world. He is a former vice president and four times Premier of France. A news columnist for European papers, he now divides his time between the United States and France.

John C. Metcalf, American Syndicate editor and moderator of the council, will represent the United States. He is a former Washington diplomatic correspondent for Time Magazine and the New York Herald Tribune.

Arthur Webb, dean of British correspondents in Washington, will represent Great Britain. A veteran of fifty years in the newspaper field, it was he who gave the title to the world famous "Atlantic Charter".

Peter von Zahn, chief Washington correspondent for the West German Radio Network, will represent Germany. He currently broadcasts five times weekly to an audience of millions of listeners in Germany.

The four speakers have behind them a record of several thousand professional lectures in the United States and abroad.

CALERA MARCH OF DIMES

Mrs. C. E. Tidwell, chairman of Calera March of Dimes, is again urging each and everyone to give and give generously to the March of Dimes.

Polio continues to strike. In 1955, the year in which the Salk vaccine was given to the world by the March of Dimes research, some 30,000 Americans were stricken with infantile paralysis. The number and severity of the polio cases this past year is responsible for depletion of funds.

Again parents are reminded to fill the school cards for the children and return them to their teachers. Also, don't lay aside the cards you received through the mail. Please fill them and mail them to the Central State Bank.

Montevallo Defeats Vincent and Thompson

By Susie DeMent

After dropping a heart-breaking 41-40 decision to Vincent in the season's opener, Montevallo came back Tuesday night to even the count with the Yellow Jackets, downing them 49-37.

In this slow moving game the Bulldogs took command from the start and never gave up the lead. Threatening several times, the Jackets managed to whittle the Bulldogs' lead to a thin two points in the third quarter, 26-24, as the Bulldogs came back cold after halftime. However, Pickett laid in ten points in the fourth stanza to give insurance to a mounting lead and permit all the Bulldog reserves to get into the game in the quarter.

Pete Pickett was the game's top scorer with 10 field goals and four free tosses, giving him 24 for the night. Doyle Burdette, playing his consistently good ball, contributed a valuable ten points to the cause.

Bailey, hitting from all angles, set the pace for the losers, dropping through 19 points.

Montevallo's "B" team was nosed out by the baby Jackets by 44-43. Berryhill was top man with 24 points. Thrasher had 11 for the Bulldogs.

Montevallo handed the Thompson Warriors of Siluria a second defeat for the season. As they outdistanced them 59-41 in Montevallo Friday night.

Pete Pickett, playing his usual cool game, pumped in 12 field goals and eight free tosses to lead the Bulldogs in scoring and set a record for this season at 32 points. Zuiderhoek, with 13 points, was leading scorer for the Warriors.

Thompson "B' team took the preliminary game 34-25. Carter scored eleven for Thompson, and Thrasher had 10 points for the Bulldogs.

Suppose you are in the right-hand lane on an expressway . . . four lengths behind a big truck rolling along between 35 and 40 miles per hour. You want to pass. You toe the throttle and in eight seconds flat you're four lengths ahead of that moving truck and back in your own lane!

That's 1956 Chrysler performance. That's the kind of power only the "PowerStyle" Chrysler can deliver . . . with its great airplane-type V-8 engine.

And that's not all. There's full-time PowerPilot Steering . . . Pushbutton PowerFlite, the ultimate in automatic transmissions . . . and the big PowerSmooth Brakes that outlast others 2 to 1.

Christmas Seal Sale Contributions Continue

Contributions to the TB Christmas Seal sale continue to come in to Roy Downs, Calera, TB Association Treasurer, many of them in response to reminder post cards that have been mailed by the County TB Association. One contribution was accompanied by a note, "Sorry — my oversight. wish I could give more, and will try next year". Another contribution was accompanied by a note saying, "Thank you for reminding me. I had forgotten.'

The Association says that it is not too late to have a part in the good work being done to fight tuberculosis. In fact, many more dollars will be needed to reach the goal that has been set by the State Association for Shelby County. The goal is $2,224. Mr. Downs reports that as of Monday, $1,641.80 had been received.

These Christmas Seal dollars are badly needed. They will buy drugs, supplies and clinical treatment for those infected with the disease. They will buy X-rays for those who may desire them.

Shelby County people have been generous in past years in their support of this program. They, in turn, have reaped benefits in that many cases of active tuberculosis have been detected and treated, thus rendering the county a safer and more healthy place in which to live.

The Shelby County TB Association feels that the program deserves the continued support of the citizens of the county. If you have not yet mailed your contribution to Roy Downs, Calera, please do so today.

Students Enter News Oratorical Contest

Several schools from Shelby County were enrolled in The Birmingham News oratorical contest and school eliminations have been held.

John M. Smith, Thompson High School, Siluria, Joanne Park, Calera High School and William Mayfield Slaughter, Indian Spring School, Helena, have won the right to represent their schools in the next phase of this contest, the senior county competition.

Since only one school in the county qualified a representative in the junior contest, that representative, Patsy Gail Carden, Calera High School, junior department, will automatically represent the county in the junior district contest.

District contests to be held in February are made up of county winners from a particular area, and winners in the district competitions will compete in the state finals to be held at Birmingham-Southern College in April.

Southern will award tuition scholarships to all senior state finalists with first place winner in the state receiving a four-year scholarship. The Birmingham News will award cash prizes to all state finalists, both senior and junior, and will award checks to second and third place winners in all district contests. This newspaper will also give each visiting state finalist and chaperon an expense-paid trip to Birmingham.

Sowing a crop of telephone convenience...

Many new, improved construction methods are helping Southern Bell to extend telephone service in rural areas. For example, the cable plow shown above can lay 30 miles of cable a week to a maximum depth of 30 inches, leaving no unsightly trenches.

Also, a small new-type cable which carries several telephone lines has been developed. Of light, inexpensive construction, it is strung right alongside wires on pole lines.

These new and improved techniques helped make possible the installation of about 86,000 new rural phones in 1955 in our nine-state area at a total cost of 16 million dollars. And there's still a big job to do. We'll spend over 18 million dollars in 1956 to bring even more telephones to farm folks who want and need them.

Fight Against Tuberculosis Should Be Continued

Failure thus far to reach our Christmas Seal Sale quota may result in some curtailment of the county's tuberculosis control program. This would be a tragic occurrence since in this writer's opinion Shelby County is accomplishing more toward the control and eventual eradication of tuberculosis than any other of the 67 Alabama counties.

The Shelby County Tuberculosis Clinic, supported jointly by the county tuberculosis association and the board of revenue and control and manned by health department personnel furnish complete diagnostic and treatment facilities for tuberculosis.

The clinic has some delinquents but the percentage does not nearly equal the one-third who go AWOL from sanatoria. The past year the clinic has discharged 20 patients whose tuberculosis is considered arretsed.

For this year plans being consummated to skin test a large group of children, X-ray the positive reactors and treat any primary lesions which appeared active, and thus prevent the future development of active reinfection. The parents and other close contacts were to be X-rayed in order to find the active source cases who caused the child to have a positive skin test.

Such a program, we believe, will lead to eventual eradication of tuberculosis, but it can not be done without the voluntary help of the people.

If you have not yet sent your Christmas Seal check to Mr. Roy Downs, treasurer, Shelby County Tuberculosis Association, Calera, it is urged that you do so as soon as possible. — Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

A COMMANDING EVENT IN THE RESISTANCE

The thundering revolt in the State of Virginia against the U. S. Supreme Court race mixing order is one of the commanding events of the Resistance.

It is a dull one indeed who can not read the signs by the light of this fire.

Virginia is the most distinguished of American states. It is the womb of this nation. Its people are the descendants of august figures in the founding of this republic and the heirs to a matchless tradition of statesmanship.

Our impression is that most members of the Supreme Court live across the river from Washington in Virginia and vote in Virginia. So do most of the chief officers of the Washington government.

The state's leading newspapers, its foremost political leaders and the people were as one Monday in voting by the overriding majority of 2 to 1 to defy the court's race mixing order.

Virginia is acting in the best and oldest American tradition of defying the Supreme Court. It learned the ropes from the Hartford Convention in New England, from the North's snarling defiance of the court in the case of the Fugitive Slave Law, and from Abraham Lincoln's folksy contempt of the court and habeas corpus.

The significance of the Virginia vote is that Virginia leadership is pure of rabble rousers, that its best brains took a 14-month look at the problem before contriving this artful dodging of the race mixing order. Then its citizenry amidst whom dwell Supreme Court justices adopted the dodge by a vote of 2 to 1.

It couldn't have been any more in the teeth of the Supreme Court had they counted the ballots under the white dome of the Jefferson Memorial in Washington.

This event will resound through the South. It will warn the rest of the country more than if it had happened in any other Southern state.

It means, as we have said repeatedly, that there isn't going to be any general mixing of the races in Southern schools for years to come.—Montgomery Advertiser

Alabamian Winner in Safety Quiz

Although he missed the grand prize of a car for life in a nationally televised safety quiz on the Lawrence Welk show, B. Herman Reid, of Cullman, Ala., won a new 1956 automobile in the final of a series of seven contests sponsored by Dodge. Reid (right) is shown receiving the keys to his new car from Ben Holmes, Cullman Dodge dealer. A Presbyterian minister from Ohio was the winner of the top prize of a car every year for the rest of his life.

FFA News

National FFA Week will be celebrated this year during the week of February 18-25, the week of George Washington's birthday. Montevallo FFA members, along with the others of Alabama, are beginning to make plans for the week.

During the first week of January and throughout the next two weeks the Montevallo FFA members will be making a study of the work being done in our Congress concerning the farm program for 1956. As bills are introduced and recommendations are made from time to time, the FFA boys plan to keep a day by day check on current happenings. Particular emphasis is being given to a study of the "Soil Bank" idea and just what it can mean to the farmers of Alabama.

The FFA quartet consisting of Billy Ray Harris, Ben Harrison, Lee Salter and Jim Potts are working with Mr. Young this week getting ready to enter the county contest. The string band made up of Robert O'neal, Billy Joe Mills, Tommy Greer, Robert Lemley, Jackie Warren and Johnny Thomas is getting in readiness for the county contest which will be held this month. James Dyar is participating in the home improvement contest and a number of the members will participate in livestock judging contests. The chapter members will go to Auburn on March 31 to compete in the district contest of Central Alabama.

Alabama Sets Road Building Record in 1955

Last year Alabama smashed all previous records in the miles of new roads built in the State during any 12-month period.

The State Highway Department annual report shows that 1,414 miles of new blacktop roads were added to the State's highway system, This exceeded by 204 miles the previous record established during the 1953-54 financial year.

Highway officials believe, however, that this new record will be easily beaten this year. Judging from the number of contracts let, roads already under construction, plus blueprints of roads scheduled already for construction this year, it is expected that Alabama may end 1956 with almost 2,000 miles more of new blacktops.

The number of new farm-to-market blacktop roads will certainly increase considerably this year, a highway engineer said. He added that this will be "because of Governor Folsom's emphasis on this type of road program, and the cooperation he is giving to the various counties through spending more secondary federal aid road money on farm-to market roads."

The importance of a good highway system was seen last year when industrialists selected Alabama for the location of almost $400 million worth of new and expanded industries. A good road system is always a prime consideration to manufacturers.

Bulldogs Defeat Talladega, 47-36

The Montevallo Bulldogs, led by Pete Pickett and Wayne Phillips, set back a determined five from Talladega High School here Wednesday night in a low-scoring bout, 47-36. The game was a hard-fought one all the way, seeing a total of 33 fouls called.

Garner, a long-shot artist, hit one from the center line to open the scoring and put Talladega out front as the game opened. Two accurately placed free throws by Wayne Phillips for the Bulldogs quickly evened things up and the race was on. Two more free throws by Pickett put the Bulldogs out front and gave them the only lead they needed to go on and take the game.

The Bulldogs held a five-point advantage at the close of the first quarter. Talladega cut this lead to four points by half time; and at the end of the third quarter, the Bulldogs were leading by only two points, 31-29. However, in the fourth frame, Montevallo, playing smooth ball, pulled away to lead by eleven points at the end of the game.

Pickett and Phillips with 17 and 15 points, respectively, took scoring honors for Corbett's Bulldogs. Garner and Jones with nine points each paced the losers coached by Chock Johnson. Frank Norris of Montevallo was outstanding for his brilliant rebound work.

Talladega's B team defeated Montevallo's B's in the preliminary game. Legge of Talladega, with 10 points, was the game's top scorer.

TEACHERS ATTEND MEETING

Shelby County teachers are attending a regularly scheduled meeting in Columbiana today. Different groups are working on topics aimed at improving the program and increasing efficiency in educational work.

Eagles Win Over Marion, 56-44

The Calera Eagles rolled up another victory Jan. 9 when they beat Marion 56 to 44. Marion was never able to stop the terrific post play of Sidney Godfrey who poured through 32 points, and they could not break the defense led by Ralph Thrasher. Besides the post play, the Eagles also hit consistently from the outside. The Eagles never trailed after three minutes before the half. Half time score was 26 to 21 in favor of Calera.

Scoring honors went to Sidney Godfrey who had 32 points to his credit, Wright Ingram with 11, and Thrasher with 10.

The "B" team couldn't overcome the first half score of 12 to 4 which the more experienced and taller boys of Marion accounted for. The biggest part of the Marion scoring came from the lera was unable to crack the zone defense which Marion used very free throw line in which they successfully. The final score was missed very few attempts. Ca- 30-14.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The second session of the 84th Congress opened January 3 with an abundance of major issues before it. These will be considered against the background of a presidential election year that also poses the question of whether or not President Eisenhower will seek reelection.

Against this backdrop, issues that will certainly engage the Congress are "What farm policy for the future?", whether there will be tax revisions, and whether military and foreign spending will be expanded.

The House in its last session passed a bill to restore supports on basic commodities to 90 per cent, replacing the present flexible supports. The Senate did not act, but the problems of the farmer will receive early consideration in the current session.

Private debate on tax revision could be heard even before Congress reconvened, and future debate will center on how to give tax relief and provide the necessary national revenues at the same time.

The administration is expected to ask for an appropriation of $35.5 billion for defense, an increase of $1 billion over present expenditures. In the foreign aid field, the administration has revealed that it will ask for $4.9 billion in foreign military and economic aid, an increase of approximately $2.2 billion over the 1956 appropriation. In my opinion, this requested increase in foreign spending of almost 82 per cent, will face strong opposition.

Warrior Lock Funds

Domestic issues facing the Congress include a public highway program, federal aid to schools, the exemption of natural gas producers from federal controls, a reconsideration of the reserve program, extension of social security benefits, and programs relating to water resources.

There will undoubtedly be more funds in the budget for the continued construction of the Warrior Lock and Dam, and I believe we can be confident of their approval by Congress.

The highway improvement issue will probably hinge on its method of financing — by appropriations from the general fund or by taxes on fuel and equipment purchased by road users. The House rejected proposals based on both approaches in the last session. The Senate approved an appropriation financing plan.

In the field of federal aid for school construction, the House last year adjourned before considering a measure that would have authorized $1.6 billion in grants for four years. The Congress, however, undoubtedly will grapple in the very near future with the problem of building and maintaining adequate schools.

The House passed a bill in 1955 exempting natural gas producers from federal regulation. This measure is scheduled for early consideration in the Senate, but strong opposition is expected.

Also passed by the House last session was a social security bill that will extend coverage and, at the same time will liberalize age requirements. Senate consideration is scheduled for an early date.

The House Armed Services Committee has already begun its hearings on the operation of the current program designed to build up a ready reserve of 2,900,000 men by 1960. So far, only a comparatively small number have responded to the six months service provision of the present law, which is followed by 7½ years of reserve service.

President's Message

President Eisenhower covered most of the forthcoming issues in his State of the Union Message. Due to his convalescence, this was the first time since he has been in office that he has not personally delivered his State of the Union address.

Considerable attention was focused on the President's announcement that he expects the budget to be in balance during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1956, and that a balanced budget will be proposed for the next fiscal year ending June 30, 1957. Whether this will be achieved in the face of the inevitable drive for tax reduction will be one of the major questions of the year.

The club voted to give $10 to the March of Dimes. Plans were discussed of the possibility of getting the use of a sight testing machine for the purpose of checking children's eyes in school. The machine was made available by the Wilkes Civitan Club of Bessemer. It may be used on a cost basis.

There was a partial report on the fruit cake sale. It was decided that the next meeting, Jan. 23, would be Ladies' Night.

Westinghouse and Employees Sign Five-Year Contract

Westinghouse Electric Corporation has signed a five-year contract with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL-CIO) Local 1903, Montevallo, it was reported today.

Local 1903 holds bargaining rights for approximately 70 production and maintenance workers at the Westinghouse Montevallo plant. The union is the 28th to accept the company's five-year offer, which provides wage increases every year for five years, improved employee insurance and pensions, and some 30 other benefits.

The 28 unions which have signed five-year agreements with the company represent approximately 23,000 Westinghouse employees. An additional 25,000 employees not represented by unions are also receiving the benefits included in the new contract.

In addition to the pay increases, insurance, pension and other benefits, the five-year pact provides for a cost-of-living adjustment which will mean further wage increases amounting to one-half of one per cent for each half point rise in the cost of living.

The IBEW represents some 8,000 Westinghouse employees—1,500 under a "national" agreement and another 6,500 under locally negotiated agreements.

Jeanette McDonald, Calera High School senior, has been declared area winner of the American Legion essay contest with the basic subject "The Constitution."

Christmas Seal Sale Totals Are Announced

Mr. Roy Downs, Treasurer of the Christmas Seal sale fund in Shelby County, stated this week that total funds received up to this time is $1,914.80. The goal for the county was $2,250.

The way is still open for contributions to this fund which is to support the work of the Tuberculosis Association in Shelby County. If you have not done so, you may yet send your money for Christmas Seals to Mr. Downs at Central State Bank, Calera.

Remember, the seals were sent to you before Christmas, and you perhaps used them on your mail and packages at Christmas time.

County Farm Roads

Road Commissionsr Fred McClendon states that all Farm to Market Roads in Shelby County have been numbered as a convenience to travelers.

By giving attention to numbers, a motorist will be able to keep on the right road and not stray off from a state road to a county road, or vice versa.

Mr. McClendon also states that all Farm to Market Roads in the county will soon be marked with a center line as a further measure of safety to drivers.

The Montevallo Volunteer Fire Department keeps a log of its operations, which reveals what has transpired in the way of fire fighting operations for the past year, as follows:

Twenty-four fire alarms were turned in and answered. Of this number, 10 were brush fires, 12 buildings on fire and 2 were false alarms.

Of the 12 buildings on fire, 2 were a complete loss because the fire fighters did not get the call in time to save them.

The Fire Department says it has "openings" for some good volunteers who might be of a mind to join the brigade.

Regular meetings are held on the first and third Thursday nights of each month. If you want to join the fire fighters, be on hand at any of the meetings, and you will be welcomed.

Legislature Enacts Bill To Make Alabama College Coeducational

It was reported Wednesday that the Legislature of Alabama has enacted a bill to make Alabama College at Montevallo a coeducational institution of higher learning, by amending the act which originally established the college as a girls' school.

The measure providing for the change was introduced and sponsored by Senator Dave Yarbrough and Representative Karl Harrison.

Purpose

"The Alabama College is established for the purpose of giving therein instructions in the liberal arts and sciences and in technical and professional subjects suitable for both men and women. Departments or subjects of instruction may be established from time to time by the trustees upon the recommendation of the president and faculty."

Who May Be Admitted to College

"Any white boy or girl, man or woman, residing in Alabama, of good moral character, in good health, and of sufficient physical and mental development, to be judged of by the president, who shall comply with all the requirements prescribed by the trustees, may be admitted to the college, and upon completing the course of study prescribed at the time of his or her admission, to the satisfaction of the faculty, shall receive the certificate, diploma, or degree he or she may have earned. Whenever the accommodations of the college are sufficient to admit more students than apply from Alabama, then students from other states or countries may be received and instructed in the college upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the president or trustees."

Teachers and PTA Parents To Play Benefit Game

In an effort to raise money for the March of Dimes, Montevallo School will sponsor two ball games Friday night, Jan. 20, in the high school gym. The women of the faculty, coached by Miss Susie DeMent, have challenged the mothers in the PTA, with Mrs. James W. Grant as coach.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. and the entire bill promises to be exciting, amusing, and highly entertaining. Admission charge will be a minimum of 25c per person.

Rev. Glover To Attend Meeting

The Reverend Edward Glover, pastor of Montevallo Baptist Church, will lead a delegation of Baptist pastors from Shelby County to attend the Alabama Baptist Evangelistic Conference in Mobile Jan. 23-24.

The two-day meeting will be held in the First Baptist Church of Mobile. The theme of the sessions will be "Ye Are My Witnesses."

The newly elected Secretary of Evangelism for Alabama Baptists, the Rev. Vernon Yerby, will have charge of the meeting.

Featured speakers for the conference will be Dr. Roy O. McClain, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. G. Earl Guinn, president of the Louisiana Baptist College in Pineville, La.

Alabama Baptists now number over 617,000 and added 28,700 by baptism in 1955. More than 2,200 Baptist pastors are expected to attend the conference representing 2,700 church congregations.

The Baptists of Alabama expect to have over 30,000 new members by baptism in 1956.

The library of Alabama College has been selected to receive one of the 1,600 sets of Great Books of the Western World.

Announcement of the gift to Alabama College was made by Miss Abi Russell, college librarian, and David H. Clift, Chicago, American Library Association Executive Secretary.

The books are being distributed through a selection committee of the American Library Association under a grant from the Old Dominion Foundation.

The set contains 54 volumes encompassing 443 works by 74 authors, spanning Western thought from Homer and the Bible to the 20th Century. It totals 32,000 pages, comprising 25,000,000 words.

Great Books of the Western World was produced by Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc., in collaboration with the University of Chicago. Robert Maynard Hutchins served as editor; William Benton as publisher and Mortimer J. Adler as associate editor and editor of the Syntopicon, an idea-index.

Editorial preparation of the set occupied 100 scholars, chiefly engaged on the Syntopicon, for eight years and cost $2,000,000.

The set contains whole works, not excerpts, and for 21 of the 74 authors, all their works. It represents the only publication in English or the only edition aside from rare or expensive printings, of key works by Aristotle, Hippocrates, Galen, Euclid, Archimedes, Ptolemy, Copernicus, Galileo, Harvey, Descartes, Pascal, Newton, Montesquieu, Kant, Lavoisier, Fourier, Farady and Freud.

Included in the set are 1,200 pages of original writing, including Dr. Hutchins' introductory volume, "The Great Conversation," and the 102 introductory essays in the Syntopicon by Dr. Adler. The Syntopicon, or idea-index, makes it possible to trace 102 fundamental "Great Ideas" and their 2,987 subordinate topics through all the writings. The Syntopicon operates in the field of ideas as the dictionary does in the field of words and the encyclopedia in the field of facts.

Mrs. Hubbard Urges Support of March of Dimes

Warm Springs Foundation
Warm Springs, Georgia
January 7, 1956

Mr. Conrad Fowler, Chairman
Shelby County Chapter
National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis

Dear Mr. Fowler:

During this "March of Dimes" season I have several things on my mind that I wish to convey to you and your fellow workers in the Shelby County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. First, I wish to thank the chapter for what it is doing for me. I wish there was some way that I could personally thank each and every supporter of the March of Dimes and urge their continued and increased support of this worthy cause. I have always felt that the Polio Foundation did a wonderful work but this feeling has been magnified many times since July 3 when I was stricken with polio. I just wish more people could really know what a wonderful service is being done here at the Warm Springs Foundation. Anyone who could visit here would certainly be a permanent supporter of this worthwhile work. Words just cannot express how grateful I am for the many benefits offered by the Foundation to polio patients.

I would certainly like to have some means of urging all parents to take advantage of the Salk vaccine that is now available to all young children. I hope that soon everyone can have the opportunity of being vaccinated against this disease. No one, regardless of age, can possibly know what day he or she may be its victim; there is no warning and it is certainly too late after it strikes. I will be glad for you to use my name in any way to push towards 100 per cent participation in the vaccine program; I truly believe that this is the only way we can eventually conquer polio.

Sincerely yours,

GENE
(Mrs. L. H. Hubbard)

NOTE: Mr. Joe Morgan Middlebrook, Mrs. Hershuel Steele, Jimmy Lucas, and Mrs. W. A. Carter are other citizens of the Montevallo area who were attacked by polio during the last calendar year.—M. L. Orr, Director, Shelby County March of Dimes.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By

The highest tribunal of the United Nations has ruled that "loyalty" to the United States is not a requisite for employees of the United Nations organization who are United States citizens.

This UN tribunal has ordered UNESCO to reinstate four United States citizens who were discharged for failure to co-operate with United States loyalty board investigations. As an alternative, the tribunal ordered UNESCO to pay these former employees two years' salary and costs incurred in legal proceedings leading up to this decision. The total indemnity would amount to about $30,000.

If this ruling should prevail, UN would be able to add to its staff United States citizens who are traitors to our country. Churchmen and others who advocate more power and authority for UN would be well advised to give this matter careful thought. Are traitors among us to be given authority over us in the expanding UN for which so many citizens are eagerly working.

L. N. Wyatt Wins Corn Contest

Mr. Howard Parker, of Sylacauga Fertilizer Company, has announced the winner in the 5-acre corn production contest sponsored by his company.

L. N. Wyatt, Harpersville, had the largest yield in Shelby County, 98 bushels per acre.

When the contest was announced early in 1955, it was stated that the winners from Shelby and Talladega Counties would get a plane trip to Washington when Congress convened, with all expenses paid by the Sylacauga Fertilizer Company. It is hoped that Mr. Wyatt will be able to attend the hearings on the new farm bill and that his trip will be helpful to the farmers of Shelby County as a whole.

Runners-up in the contest in Shelby County were: Ray Sampson, Harpersville, second with 91 bushels per acre; O. J. Huffman, Harpersville, third, with 89 bushels per acre; Roxie Wyatt, Harpersville, fourth with 75 bushels per acre.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The Administration's recommendations on farm and school legislation, two of the major issues of this legislative session, were presented to Congress last week in separate presidential messages.

The President's farm message incorporated a nine-point program designed to correct "persistent and critical farm problems." He called for: (1) A soil bank or acreage reserve program; (2) Measures to step up disposal of surplus commodities; (3) A strengthened commodity program; (4) A dollar limit on the size of price support loans; (5) Aid to low-income farm families; (5) Special assistance to the Great Plains area in which erratic climate, wind, and water erosion constitute a continuing hazard; (7) Increased agricultural research; (8) An adequate supply of credit for farmers; (9) Legislation to relieve farmers of the federal tax on gasoline.

Comments on the Administration's farm program varied. The Republican viewpoint was revealed in Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin's statement that the President's message contained "one of the most far-reaching and beneficial agricultural programs ever issued by a Chief Executive." Most Democrats agreed with Senator Ellender (D., La.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, when he said the President's message "contained nothing new." However, quite a few of the members on both sides of the aisle argued that, although there were a number of meritorious long-range proposals in the President's program, it offered little hope in its present form of increasing farm income for 1956.

Both the House and the Senate Agriculture Committees are holding extensive hearings on the farm program at this moment, and legislation will probably be presented for House and Senate action at an early date. These committees are expected to consider carefully not only the President's recommendations but also a number of other proposals that might offer a solution to declining farm income and the disposal of surplus commodities.

School Construction

In the President's second special message last week, he proposed an emergency five-year $2 billion federal-aid program for public school construction. He asked first for $250 million annually in outright grants to be matched by state funds under varying formulas. Authority was then requested for the federal government to buy up a total of $750 million worth of local school construction bonds in districts unable otherwise to market such issues at reasonable interest rates.

The recommendations made by the President last week were considerably broader than the program submitted by the White House during the last session of Congress. Yet, his proposals still fell short of the provisions contained in a measure reported by the House Education and Labor Committee just before adjournment last year. This bill, introduced by Rep. Kelly (D., Pa.), authorizes $400 million yearly in grants over a four-year period.

The most formidable obstacle to the passage of any school construction measure is an amendment that is scheduled to be offered by Rep. Powell of New York. This amendment will ban payment of federal school-aid funds to any state maintaining racial segregation. Should such an amendment pass, the bill will probably be defeated. If not, its chances of passage are good. In any event, action by the House on federal-aid for school construction is expected early in the session.

Warrior Lock and Dam Funds

The budget for fiscal 1957, released Monday, recommended the sum of $4,580,000 in new funds to be used for continued construction of the Warrior lock and dam. There is also a carryover of $500,000 from funds appropriated last year. The new money, almost half a million dollars more than the $4.1 million appropriated by the last Congress, will continue on schedule the construction of this vitally important installation. Every effort will be made by your Congressman to secure approval of the full $4,580,000 in new funds by both the Appropriations Committee and the House of Representatives.

Bulldogs Defeated By Jemison and Calera

By S. DeMent

Jemison's 46 points were good enough to defeat a Montevallo five that started off cold and never found the range last Friday night at Jemison. Plagued by 14 fouls while their opponents suffered only four, the Bulldogs could gather only a meager 29 points.

All five Jemison starters scored. Marcus was top man with 17, Hilyer and Langston had eight each, and Porter and Guy hit for six. Wayne Phillips, the only Bulldog who made any headway at hitting the basket, had 12 points when he was injured and was forced to leave the game. Goggins, in his substitute role, added six.

Jemison "B" team, with Collins racking up 24 points, made it a clean sweep for the night, downing the Montevallo Bees 60-30.

Calera 56, Montevallo 42

With both teams getting off to a slow start, Calera's Eagles downed the Montevallo quintet 56-42 at Calera Monday night.

Calera scored only two field goals in the first quarter, but added nine at the charity stripe to lead 13-7 as the quarter ended. In the second stanza, Sydney Godfrey, center, found the mark for four field goals and the Eagles had extended their lead to 31-19 at halftime.

The Bulldogs were never able to reduce the Eagles' margin to less than nine points after the second quarter.

Wright Ingram, playing outstanding ball, had seven field goals and 10 free tosses to take top scoring honors for the night with 24 points. Frank Norris, with 13, was Montevallo's best.

The Calera "Bees", even though they were held scoreless in the first quarter by the Bullpups, took the lead in the third quarter and went on to win 25-15.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By
Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

Writing in The Freeman, October, 1955, former Congressman Samuel B. Pettengill tells us that in 1929 federal, state and local taxes amounted to 10.7 per cent of the total national product, while in 1953 they amounted to 27.6 per cent of the total product.

Mr. Pettengill also tells us that during the period 1902 to 1953, federal taxes rose 11,765 per cent, state taxes, 6,657 per cent and local taxes 1,244 per cent. All taxes combined rose during that period 5,846 per cent.

Surely we have about reached the limit. If taxes were to expand a little more than 250 per cent over the present basis, they would take all of everybody's income in our country.

Taxes have expanded a little less than 6,000 per cent during the past 51 years, and now we have left a possible expansion, to reach total slavery where the government would take all, of only a little more than 250 per cent over the present rate.

Surely it is later, much later than we think!

AN INVITATION... to the man who is driving any car in the medium-price class

How you can own a bigger, more powerful Chrysler Windsor V-8 for the cost of a medium-priced car

Frankly, we believe you will find that the Chrysler Windsor is the only real luxury car that sells at a medium price . . . a car far in advance of its contemporaries and ahead of its time. We would like to put you behind the wheel of this car . . . because we've found from actual comparative demonstrations that 3 out of 4 open-minded men who drive a Chrysler for the first time prefer it to anything else.

There are many reasons. In the first place, the 1956 Chrysler is the only car in its price class that has been completely restyled this year. It has that "hair-trigger" look for which designers have been striving many years. We call it "PowerStyle."

But there's more to the Chrysler story than styling. There's power . . . more power to pass safely when necessary . . . more power to drive without effort . . . more power to stop.

There is not a car on the road today as completely power-operated as the "PowerStyle" Chrysler. Its PowerFlite transmission is controlled by pushbuttons . . . the ultimate in automatic, foolproof control. But do Chrysler's competitors have this mechanical trouble-free system? Not yet! Chrysler's PowerPilot Steering works full time . . . does 80% of the work, not just in parking, but in long distance driving, in traffic and in rough going. Competitive power steering cuts in and out . . . does only a fraction of this job.

And what about engines? Chrysler was first to adopt the principles of the airplane-type V-8 engine. Today's engine is a new and bigger version of this engine... 250 hp in the Windsor Spitfire V-8* . . . 280 hp in the New Yorker FirePower V-8 and now 340 hp in the blazing new Chrysler 300-B.

Then there is the all-important matter of brakes. Chrysler's newly designed PowerSmooth Brakes not only bring you safer, surer, straight-line stops – they outlast the others 2 to 1.

So if you have been driving another make of car in Chrysler's price class . . . ask yourself this question: Don't I want to know what my money can buy before I spend it? Then make a drive-them-both comparison. We'll leave everything else to your judgment.

With the addition of the Chrysler Power Train at slight extra cost.*

Southern Bell Telephone Co. added 55 telephones in Montevallo and 39 in Calera during 1955, according to a joint year end statement by the utility's local and state managers. During the year, 31,247 telephones were added to the total in Alabama, they said.

B. F. Lunsford, the company's local manager, said that approximately 5 per cent more telephones were in service here at year's end than on Dec. 31, 1954. The increase raised the total in use in Montevallo at the beginning of this year to 1,119, and the total in Calera to 482.

W. A. Thompson, Alabama general manager of Southern Bell, reported that during the same period the number of telephones in the company's statewide system increased nearly 7 per cent to bring the grand total in service in Alabama to 506,258.

To construct the facilities and install equipment needed to expand telephone service in the state during 1955 required the expenditure of approximately $20,000,000 by the company, he said.

Comparison of the year's expenditure with that of 1954 indicates that the cost of furnishing new telephone service continue to go up, the Alabama general manager declared. In the last quarter of 1954, it cost the company $595 to add the average telephone. As 1955 drew to a close, the expenditure of adding the average telephone had increased to $684.

To render telephone service, maintain and expand its plant, Southern Bell employed an average of 6,235 employees in Alabama during 1955. The total payroll for the year was approximately $25,000,000, nearly $3,500,000 more than in the preceding year.

Mr. Lunsford said that last year the telephone company filled 174 requests for new telephones in Montevallo. Higher grades of service were provided for 8 applicants. In Calera, 90 requests for new telephone service were filled, and higher grades of service were provided for 4 applicants.

In Alabama, Southern Bell connected 89,005 telephones for applicants and provided higher grades of service for 31,884 subscribers.

The Alabama general manager pointed out that Southern Bell will continue to expand its facilities during 1956 in conformity with the telephone needs of the state.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Helping Hands

It's often claimed that the hand is quicker than the eye. Our manual swiftness probably accounts in part for the fact that most of us reach old age without some permanent hand injury.

Since many of us depend heavily on our hands for a livelihood, even a minor injury can be serious. Despite modern safety measures, one out of every four industrial accidents involves the hand.

Regardless of the cause, all hand injuries should be given immediate attention. Prompt care is the key factor in preventing permanent disability.

Everyone should be taught first aid for hand injuries, Dr. Robert H. Kennedy stresses in the New York State Journal of Medicine. He says that protection is the all-important consideration — protection from infection, from added injury, and from future disability.

In the pre-antibiotic era, even relatively slight hand injuries sometimes led to mutilating surgery, amputation, and even death. Doctors still must resort to surgery for some bad hand injuries. But antibiotics protect the entire body against infection and ward off serious complications that may follow even a minor hand cut. Dr. Kennedy, for example, uses antibiotics such as Terramycin and Tetracyn to prevent infection complications when treating hand injuries.

Dr. Kennedy offers these first aid rules for hand injuries:

Cover the injured area with a sterile dressing, if available, or with the cleanest material at hand. No matter what, cover it. Do not apply antiseptic of any kind to the wound. Bandage hand and separate each finger with gauze. Immobilize hand in position of rest. Contact a physician

Teachers Conduct School Study

A group of Shelby County teachers who are making a study of the "History of the Shelby County Public School System" asks the readers of this paper for facts and figures on the subject. This work is being done in connection with the In-Service Study Program of the Shelby County Teachers Association and may be considered part of a statewide commemoration of 100 years of public education in Alabama.

Steps are being taken to compile an accurate history of schools in our county, and in addition it is hoped that a county-wide historical pageant may result from the effort.

Helpful information about schools from photographs, old letters, records, or remembered facts, the latter especially by older citizens, is asked.

Loans of old photographs and other materials will be respected, and the originals returned. All type of assistance will be appreciated and acknowledged.

Anyone who wishes to help with this project may contact the group member nearest you, whose name appears below:

Mr. James W. Curtis, Mrs. Ruth C. Baker, Wilsonville; Mr. F. E. Williams, Columbiana; Mrs. Jean Merrell, Shelby; Mrs. Theron Holcomb, Chelsea; Mrs. Virginia McGraw, Vincent; Mrs. Helen Flynt, Mrs. Virginia Sims, Miss Susie DeMent, Mrs. Anne Milford, Montevallo; Mrs. Hilda Cary, Mrs. Margaret Booth, Mrs. Doris Perkins, Calera; Mr. Ned Cary, Thompson; Miss Sarah Pat Baker, Mrs. Marie Lucas, Miss Beatrice Kunstler, Maylene; Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis, Mayberry; Mrs. Irene Mullins, Mrs. Emmie Davidson, Helena; and Mrs. Billye Cobern, Camp Branch.

RUSTLE up a ham and rice casserole, why don't you? Especially if you happen to have some cooked rice on hand. It takes a cup of rice, a cup of cooked ham, and a can of condensed cream of mushroom soup. Stir in a few other ingredients, and you've a "meal-in-a-dish" that's both delicious and nutritious.

Ham and Rice Casserole

1 cup uncooked rice (3 cups cooked rice)
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup
⅔ cup milk
2 teaspoons grated onion
1 cup cubed cooked ham
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
¼ cup corn flakes

Cook rice. Combine soup, milk, and grated onion in a 1½-quart casserole; mix well. Add cooked rice, ham, parsley, and pimiento; sprinkle corn flakes over top. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 25 minutes or until heated through. 6 servings. FNS

Dr. John Robert Fairless, Dentist, To Begin Practice in Calera in June

It is announced by Dr. John Robert Fairless of Trenton, Tennessee, that he will begin the practice of dentistry at Calera in June of this year, after his graduation from the University of Tennessee College of Dentistry at Memphis.

Dr. Fairless is a young single man, age 23 years. He was born in 1932 at Trenton, Tennessee, and was reared on a farm near there.

After graduation from Peabody High School at Trenton, he had two years of pre-dental work at the Martin Branch of the University of Tennessee. He will complete his four years at the College of Dentistry in March.

Dr. Fairless is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Fairless, who live on their farm near Trenton. His father is a postal employee and a farmer. He is a Baptist and has two brothers, one, Mark, a Baptist minister, and the other, David, a teacher of agriculture.

Dr. Fairless was a visitor to Calera for a while some weeks ago, at which time he was cordially received by many citizens whom he met.

DR. JOHN ROBERT FAIRLESS

After his visit here he decided to come here to begin the practice of his profession.

We understand that plans are being made to have a new office building erected and ready for him when he gets here.

Jim Seaman is now sole owner of the company doing business as Seaman Timber Company in Montevallo. His location is on the Highway (25) between the Southern Railway depot and the viaduct.

The Clinton Chain Saw dealership has been taken on by Mr. Seaman, with a complete line of chain saw parts and service. A new building has been erected to take care of the chain saw business, and Jim would like to have anyone interested in this line to call to see him.

He will continue to produce and sell creosoted fence posts at his plant and will handle sales of lumber.

Jim says a creosoted Seaman post will outlast three post holes.

DR. GIDEON E. NELSON

Dr. Gideon E. Neson Receives Science Grant

Dr. Gideon E. Nelson, assistant professor of biology at Alabama College, has been awarded an Alabama Academy of Science grant for purposes of conducting a liminological study.

Dr. Nelson's project is aimed at determining types of plant and animal life existing in Southern waters.

Dr. Nelson's study is being made on the Alabama College campus, using the school's 28-acre lake.

The first phase of the study was started in June of 1955 and will be completed in June of this year. The second phase will follow immediately, and will involve an analysis of streams in this latitude and a more detailed analysis of lake water.

A detailed report on the progress of the study will be presented by Dr. Nelson at the spring meeting of the Alabama Academy of Science scheduled for March 30 and 31 on the Alabama College campus.

The Alabama Academy of Science makes grants such as the one received by Dr. Nelson, for purposes of stimulating scientific research in Alabama.

Tax Booklet Is Now Available

The United States Department of Commerce field office in Atlanta has announced that the Federal Government's booklet to help income-tax payers of Shelby County to make out their returns of the year 1955 is again available.

The booklet is entitled "Your Federal Income Tax—1955." It is published by the Internal Revenue Service, Uncle Sam's "top authority" on the paying of internal revenue taxes at the federal level.

This year's book is "bigger and better," Merrill C. Lofton, Commerce Department field manager in Atlanta, said, because it has a number of added features. It contains diagrammatic charts and illustrated entries of completed tax return forms. It covers, in a series of short articles, Internal Revenue Service rulings, representative court cases, and numerous questions often arising when completing tax returns.

All of this, in addition to the more elementary information regarding who must file a return, where it is to go, nontaxable income, collections and refunds, deductions, family exemptions, and the like.

Mothers To March For Polio Fund

Next Tuesday night, the mothers of Shelby County will march on polio. The famous actress, Helen Hayes, is national chairman of this movement. She is deeply interested, since she lost her only daughter with polio. In a recent letter sent to all city and county chairmen, Helen Hayes states:

"This event, thanks to the dedicated efforts of thousands of volunteers, has become the biggest and most inspirational activity of the March of Dimes.

"This year particularly I feel it is vital that we women surpass our own fine record of success. For we know too well that, despite the vaccine we have created for the world, polio isn't licked yet. The fate and the future of thousands so sadly crippled by this disease rests in our hands."

Dr. M. L. Orr has served as chairman of the March of Dimes for Shelby County, and Dr. Katherine Vickery has organized the Mothers' March. The following are the local committee chairmen:

Alabaster, Mrs. Leo Barton; Aldrich, Mrs. Paul Crenshaw; Bethel Chapel, Mrs. S. P. Stinson; Calcis, Mrs. A. W. Justice; Calera, Mrs. C. E. CARE OF POWER MOWER

A few simple preparations now for the winter care of your power mower will pay off in good dividends next spring, according to a reminder by R. E. Bowdon Jr., of the Bowdon Economy Store in Calera, a dealer for Jacobson Manufacturing Co., of Racine, Wisconsin, makers of home power lawn tools.

Owners of power mowers need only follow a few elementary steps to insure an easy-to-start, properly operating mower next spring when the first mowing day rolls around, according to Mr. Bowdon.

An additional helpful hint from Mr. Bowdon is to have necessary repair work done now. And, if you need someone to do that repair job for you, call Bowdon's Economy Store, and they will fix you up in shape to tackle your lawn when the grass begins to grow.

Alabama's 1956 spring pig crop will increase 10 per cent, while the national crop will go down about two per cent.

Spring grazing is just ahead. It is a good time to plan the best way to use available grazing.

Soil Conservation District News

Leon Baker has a forty acre stand of young pine he plans to begin improvement cutting on. Walking through the woods we discovered a number of "wolf trees," mostly hardwoods, that were oversopping many fine young pines. In some cases there were large bushy crowned spruce pines that were shading and suppressing young slash or loblolly pines much more valuable. SCS workers will help mark some of this timber, and give Leon pointers on the D plus 6 method of thinning.

In stands with more marketable timber local commercial foresters would be available for this service, but Leon will be able to handle this job himself.

Copies of new or revised conservation farm plans have arrived in the office for I. S. O'Dell, Shelby; H. S. Kennedy, Wilsonville; Edwin Pitts, Chapel; W. L. Lawler, Calera; Wade Templin, Kingdom; and Erman Cardwell, Highway 25, east of Columbiana. These will be delivered as speedily as possible.

The annual Soil Conservation District special issues of our county papers will come out in May this year rather than November. If you know of some interesting or informative picture we could take or success story about some conservation crop or practice we should print in that issue please tell us so that the issue will be even more interesting.

C. H. Alcock, a retired government worker, has just enlisted in the ranks of district cooperators. However, on his eighty-acres west of Chelsea he has already begun an ambitious tree-farming program. When we delivered him 1600 lespedeza bicolor plants (for a quail food border) he showed us so many interesting features we are planning a real story on him.

Dr. C. F. Lewis will receive his bicolor plants tomorrow when he spends his usual "Thursday on the farm." Dr. Lewis is doing extensive development of his woodland, lake, and wildlife areas.

C. M. Stuckey, Shelby County ranger, is also a new district cooperator and has planted 4000 pine seedlings on his farm, and planted a one-eighth acre bicolor border Jan. 14.

On two farms, over several years, we have had the pleasure of working with the Melvin Otts family. Last week a new son came to live with mother and daddy Otts and two brothers and a sister. This item might be more expected in the social column except that the Otts complimented this writer by naming the new youngster George for him.

Lloyd Mason, district cooperator of South Calera, grows quail in quantity in cages on his forty acre farm. Now he is planting a bicolor border to produce food and furnish cover for native and escaped birds.

No further plants can be had this year, but each year the Alabama Dept. of Conservation allocates some lespedeza bicolor plants for distribution to earliest applicants from the district cooperators.

At every stop of the Los Angeles-New York plane, a red gasoline truck dashed onto the field to replenish the fuel supply. At the Washington airport a passenger said to the young lady seated beside him, "This plane sure does make time, doesn't it?"

"It certainly does," she agreed, "but that red truck seems to keep right up with us!"

Paper Industry Leads Expansion

Alabama has 20,756,000 acres of woodland, the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association reports. Ownership is broken down thus: Farmers and other private owners control 16,652,000 acres; industry has 31,138,000; state and local governments, 177,000; the federal government, 175,000, and 614,000 acres are in national forest lands.

With newsprint and other types of paper shortages developing in Canada and other U. S. regions, where pulpwood takes almost twice as long to mature, paper manufacturers have been coming more and more to Alabama, so that our woods are one of our very best resources.

Last year, for example, International Paper Co. ($43,000,000); Gulf States Paper Co. ($25,000,000); Marathon Corp. ($30,000,000); Coosa River Newsprint Co. ($36,000,000); Scott Paper Co. ($21,000,000), were among major paper manufacturers who announced new plants, or expansions to existing facilities, in the state. In fact, paper and chemicals led the way in the all-time record industrial expansion which occurred in Alabama during 1955.

The moral should be — don't throw lighted cigarets or matches in the woods, which are among our most valuable assets.

Chief James H. (Jim) Bigbee, petty officer in charge of Navy recruiting in this area, with his main office in the courthouse in Bessemer, has just announced that approximately 300 Alabama youths have taken advantage of the Navy's High School Training Program within the last four months. This program consists of young men and women taking their choice of Navy training before they enlist. It includes everything from advanced electronics to naval aviation.

Chief Bigbee also states that this program will be open for a few more months and that all a person must do to become eligible to pick the type of job he wants in the Navy is to be a high school graduate and to contact the nearest Navy Recruiting Station.

Chief Bigbee is in Shelby County every Thursday and Friday. For times and places check post office bulletin boards.

MRS. STOCKDALE IS HONORED WITH PARTY

Twenty-one ladies came to her home with delicious refreshments and beautiful gifts for Mrs. Stockdale to enjoy on her trip to Mississippi, Texas and California.

This lovely gesture was suggested and planned by Mrs. Otis Littleton and the recipient never had a more enjoyable afternoon.

The memories of this kindness from her friends will make Mrs. Stockdale's trip much happier.

the FORD V-8

Just look at these official registration figures for the first 11 months—January through November, 1955

	Car Sales	Ford Sales Leadership
FORD V-8	1,241,742	———
Car C—V-8	634,376	607,366
Car P—V-8	262,870	978,872
Car C—Six	845,153	396,589
Car P—Six	334,540	907,202

Here's why!

People just naturally go for 8 cylinders in the FORD package!

And to a world record extent!

Just think, in the first 11 months of 1955 alone, 344,496 more people bought Ford V-8's than the two other low-priced competitive eights combined!

Of course, the reason the Ford V-8 is the largest selling eight-cylinder car in the world is that more people like its brand of performance—the kind that comes with the car!

These people aren't amateurs in judging engines. Nearly 24 years of building Ford V-8's to supply their demand is convincing proof of that.

And the Ford V-8 of today is the best yet . . . by a country mile!

Smoother and quieter—you can scarcely hear it, even with the hood up!

Sassier—just ask the highway patrol officer who drives one. He knows it takes a Ford to catch a Ford!

And, for the very practical question of durability—ask a Ford cab driver. He knows how Fords take it days on end.

So, if it's performance that you want—and wrapped like a gift—the '56 Ford V-8 is your baby.

Come in . . . try it today! F.C.A.

Farmers Must File Tax Return on Wages Paid

Farm operators who have paid as much as $100 in cash wages to any farm employee during the year 1955 should file an employer's tax and information return for agricultural employees, George D. Patterson, District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Birmingham, announced today. This tax return will be filed with his office at 1531 Third Ave., North, together with the social security taxes on the wages shown on the form.

Mr. Patterson emphasized that this annual report of wages paid for agricultural labor must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service before Jan. 31, 1956. The return must show the name, social security number, and wages paid every employee whose cash wages from the same farmer amounted to $100 or more.

Tax return forms are mailed out about Jan. 1 to those who have previously notified the District Director of having agricultural employees. Farmers, who must make these tax returns and have not yet written for proper forms, should write the District Director of Internal Revenue, 1531 Third Ave., North, Birmingham, immediately in order to be sure of getting the report filed before the Jan. 31 deadline, Mr. Patterson urged.

WHY THE CHRYSLER WINDSOR V-8

From four lengths behind to four lengths ahead of a moving truck going 40 m.p.h. in 8 seconds flat. That's the kind of reserve power you get in Chrysler's great airplane-type V-8 engine.

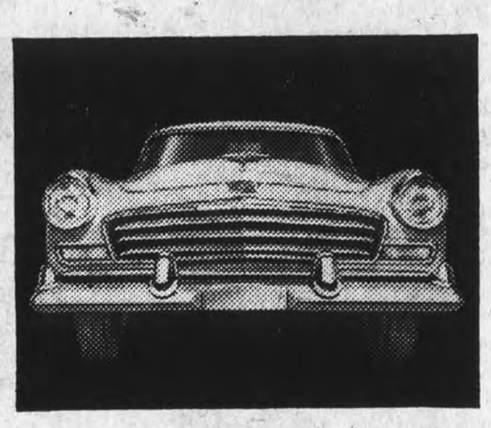

Full-time PowerPilot Steering does 80% of the work . . . gives you a cat-footed feel of the road every inch of the way . . . requires less pull . . . only 3½ turns from full left to full right.

IS THE YEAR-AHEAD CAR

And talk about style! Here's the "PowerStyle" look that is showing its sassy tail to contemporary car designs. Isn't it time you compared a Chrysler with the other cars in its price class?

Best of all, you can own a bigger, more powerful Chrysler Windsor for the cost of a medium-priced car. Here is year-ahead value that means better re-sale value for years to come.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Last week President Eisenhower sent his annual budget message to Congress. The new budget, precariously balanced, is now being examined and re-examined by the Appropriations Committees of the House and Senate.

The proposed budget for 1957 indicates a small surplus, in spite of the fact that the President has recommended increased spending. Expenditures are estimated at $65.9 billion, an increase over his last two budgets. However, estimated income is expected to be higher, covering the increased spending and leaving a small surplus of $400 million.

No tax cut was proposed by the President, although some believe he may make such a recommendation later in the session. But unless estimated income is much higher than expected, any tax cut would immediately throw the budget out of balance.

Uneasy Balance

The precarious balance of the 1957 budget is also illustrated by the fact that the President has asked Congress to approve a ten-year, multi-billion-dollar highway program without including the necessary funds for such a program in his budget. Nor did he propose to Congress a method of financing the program without upsetting the balance.

Farm spending of $3.4 billion, about the same as last year, has been proposed, although $400 million will be needed to pay farmers for retiring acres under the proposed soil bank. The Administration believes, however, that it can cover the soil bank cost by cutting down on price supports and by selling more of the surplus farm commodities it is now holding.

Despite the uneasy balance, it should be noted that a balanced budget has finally been recommended — the first such recommendation since the Republican Administration took office three years ago.

VA Direct Loans

In recent months, I have received inquiries from veterans concerning unnecessary delays in obtaining direct housing loans. I found that this delay was being caused by the channeling of all VA direct housing loan applications through a government-approved but privately sponsored plan, the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program.

Through this program, generally known as the VHMCP, the applications are passed around to at least three private lenders during a 45-day period. If none of the private lenders grant the loan, then the veteran must re-submit his application to the Veterans Administration itself, thereby losing 45 days in the consideration of his loan.

I also found that the VHMCP loans are more expensive than those loans granted directly by the Veterans Administration. This is true because title insurance is required of veterans under VHMCP loans, whereas the Veterans Administration does not require this insurance for its direct loans. In addition, closing costs under VHMCP are more costly than they are under the VA program.

While advocates of the VHMCP maintain that the government should not be in the lending business, it appears that the government is now in the position of soliciting business for the private lenders, a service that it does not perform for other businesses under comparable conditions.

After ascertaining this information, I reached the conclusion that a clarification of the intent of Congress regarding these two loan programs was in order. On Friday of last week I pointed this out in testimony before the House Veterans Affairs Committee. Chairman Olin Teague (D.-Tex.) has assured me that this matter will be carefully considered at an early date by the full committee.

A Story of Progress that Benefits Everyone

The past year has seen booming growth all through the South—in business . . . industry . . . housing . . . personal income. Telephone development has surged ahead, too. Since the telephone means so much to everyone, you might like to know some of the ways Southern Bell answered Dixie's call in 1955 for more and better service.

Last year we:

- Increased operator dialing of Long Distance calls straight through to the distant numbers.
- Converted many exchanges to the new nation-wide numbering system, which will eventually make it possible for you to dial your own Long Distance calls.
- Added many thousands of miles of new Long Distance circuits and TV network routes.
- Installed a bumper crop of new rural telephones, with the aid of newly-discovered technical developments and construction methods.
- Carried out history-making tests proving that new-type rural service can be powered by the Bell Solar Battery, which harnesses the sun's energy for the first time.
- Changed many more telephones to dial service.
- Made widely available new and improved equipment such as telephones in color . . . volume-control phones . . . dials that light up in the dark . . . the Speakerphone, which lets you talk and hear without lifting the receiver . . . and many more.

ANSWERING ALABAMA'S CALL . . .

In Alabama, we added 31,000 new telephones in '55. This involved construction of buildings and equipment amounting to about 20 million dollars. In all, we have spent more than 152 million to expand and improve service in the State since 1945.

In step with Alabama's progress, we plan to spend 27 million more in 1956 on construction to provide Alabamians with the kind of service they want and need.

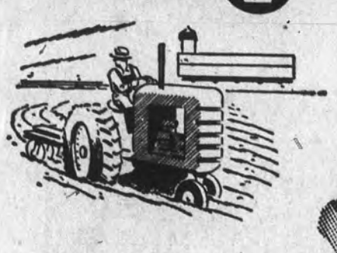

This large expansion program makes telephone service more useful and valuable for everyone. And the millions of dollars for construction, plus more millions we pay in wages and taxes, contribute vitally to the State's economy.

Bulldogs Romp, 71-48, Over Isabella Mustangs

Paced by their ace, Pete Pickett, center, the Montevallo Bulldogs romped to a 71-48 victory over Isabella here Tuesday night.

The Bulldogs grabbed a quick four-point lead only to see the Mustangs tie up the score four times in that stanza. Veazey dropped in a field goal as the whistle ended the first quarter to put the Mustangs out front 16-14.

As the second quarter opened, Baker dropped in two more points for Isabella to extend their lead to 18-14. Then Burdett of Montevallo hit for two and Pickett put in another field goal to tie things up at 18 all. Pickett was fouled in the act of shooting and was given a free throw which hit the mark and gave Montevallo the lead, which they never gave up in the remainder of the game.

Pickett, in the role of top scorer for the night, had 10 field goals and 4 free throws to give him a total of 24 points. Norris backing both boards well, added 14 points to the cause—eight of which came as the result of his sharpshooting from the charity stripe. Burdette played good ball and added 11 valuable points.

Cummings, Veazey and Warren were the point makers for the losers with 13, 12 and 11 respectively.

BRIDGES-CONNELL WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Norma Bridges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bridges of Montevallo Route 1, to Richard Connell, son of Mrs. Madeline Connell and the late Mr. Connell, of Quincy, Mass., was solemnized January 21 at the Valley Grove Presbyterian Church by the Rev. John Y. Robinson. Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Joe Killingsworth.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Mavis Bridges was her sister's only attendant. Mr. Raymond Barrs of Pinson served the bridegroom as best man.

WOMEN AND WHEELS

Police Say Women Can Think Up Funny Excuses

By Mary Lou Chapman

"Was I speeding? I didn't even know it!"

Such is the reaction of many women drivers when stopped by a policeman, according to Inspector William Polkinghorn of the Detroit Police Motorcycle Division. He told us that the most common reason women drivers give for exceeding the speed limit is, "I was hurrying home to fix dinner for my husband."

"Women always seem to be late for something," another police officer added.

One gal was ticketed at 4 p.m. after a lickety-split ride home from her bridge club. She said she was hurrying to prepare her husband's meal. But at 4 p.m. her husband also was ticketed for speeding. His reason: "I can't be late for dinner."

Another woman was concerned with being late, but not for herself. "My dog is late for school," said she. "For school?" repeated the officer. "Yes—he goes to obedience training school."

Miss Chapman

Another feminine speedster was stopped with her five children in the car. She explained that one of the kids had asked her to try to beat the other cars away from the light. She did. In fact, she got up such steam that when caught she was exceeding the limit by 35 miles an hour! She got a ticket.

"Women's Hours"

Policemen have a saying that the hours between 9 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. are "women's hours" on the street. Rush hour traffic is mostly men. But more women are driving now than ever before. Also noted was the fact that women seem to drive a bit carelessly in residential areas, taking greater care in the heavy traffic of downtown.

Mothers picking up children at school cause the police much worry. Mothers double park while waiting for their children, and frequently block traffic around the school. They sit in the car and call to Sammy who braves the traffic alone and unaided to get to his mother's car. Police suggest that mothers park in a safe place, get out of the car and take Sammy's hand as he crosses the street.

Speedsters' excuses are sometimes elaborate. A policeman with speed checking equipment on his car clocked a woman going 40 in a 25 mile zone. He took off after her, and motioned to her to pull over to the curb. She came to an abrupt stop and then started off again. This time he used his siren and once again pulled her over to the curb. "I don't understand what you're doing, ma'am," he said to her. "I stopped you for speeding." "Oh," she exclaimed, "I thought you were conducting a road test. I'm from Pennsylvania and that's what they do down there. I thought you were testing brakes, so as soon as I stopped, I started on my way again."

More Excuses

Highly unusual was another lady's excuse for roaring through stop signs. Her car was being fixed, and she was driving her husband's car with standard transmission for the first time. "Oh, please don't stop me now!" she said in a distressed voice to the policeman who caught her. "I don't know how to shift—my car has automatic transmission, and I don't know how to drive this kind. My husband put it in gear for me, and told me to 'just keep going.'"

The police say that sometimes the gentler sex will shed tears when stopped for speeding. But the sturdy law-enforcers insisted that trick doesn't work with them.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

THOSE who are impressed by the propaganda of Bulganin and Khrushchev against colonialism should remember that since the war Russia has ended the freedom of about 800 million people while the western powers have given freedom to about 600 million people.

In Asia while the United States was granting freedom to the Philippine Islands and Britain was withdrawing from India, Ceylon and Burma, Communist China was destroying Korea, Viet-Nam and Tibet.

Meanwhile Communist Russia seized a part or all of many highly developed countries with demonstrated capacity for self-government. These include about 10 per cent of Finland, all of Esthonia, Latvia and Lithuania, a large part of Poland, an important slice of Germany annexed and a third of that country subjugated by communist tyranny, all of Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and Albania.

No record of colonialism equals or even approaches the subjugation and exploitation Communist Russia has practiced against these formerly free self-governing peoples. Moreover the colonial powers have an impressive record of granting freedom to the various colonies as capacity for self government has developed.

We have made mistakes and should do better but still the record of the East will not bear comparison with that of the West.

"WINTERIZE"

Your Power Lawn Mower

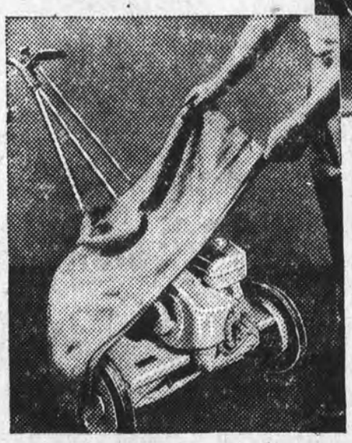

If you haven't already done so, here are three steps to prepare your power mower for winter storage and insure good spring performance, according to authorities from the Jacobsen Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of power lawn tools.

After cleaning the engine, chains, reels and deck—

Drain gasoline from the tank by removing the fuel line. Start the engine to remove any remaining fuel. Gasoline left in the tank over winter may become stale, resulting in gumming of the carburetor.

Remove the spark plug, squirt a few drops of oil in the spark plug hole and pull the starter through once or twice. The spark plug should then be cleaned and replaced in the engine.

The final stage in the winterizing of your power mower is to cover the machine to protect it from dust and from "adjustments" by children playing near it.

West Blocton Tigers Claw Bulldogs, 58-34

By Gayle Jones

Handicapped after the first quarter by the loss of one of the regular guards, Doyle Burdette, the Montevallo Bulldogs fell before the West Blocton Tigers on January 17 at 58-54.

Montevallo scored quickly after the tip-off as Pickett dropped in a field goal. The Bulldogs held on to the lead throughout the first frame, leading 12-8 at the end of the quarter.

Blocton caught hold in the second verse and stepped ahead of the Bulldogs scoring 17 points to Montevallo's 12. Score at halftime was 25-24.

During the third quarter the lead see-sawed several times but once again Blocton came out on top 44-38 as time ran out.

Montevallo fought back hard in the final stanza but was unable to overcome the Tigers' lead. The final score was Blocton 58, Montevallo 54.

Pete Pickett was big man for the losers, knocking the net for 24 points. Phillips and Norris had 13 each.

The Bees of Montevallo suffered their ninth defeat at the hands of West Blocton the same night in a squeaker, 34-33.

Smitherman and Houlditch had 8 and 7 points, respectively, for the Bullpups. Hall with 12 and Nichols with 9 led the winners.

College To Award 16 Scholarships

A total of sixteen scholarships will be awarded to high school girls when Alabama College holds its annual scholarship competition March 15, 16 and 17 on the campus at Montevallo.

Plans for the annual event are announced by Dean Iva Gibson, chairman of the scholarship committee.

Twelve scholarships will be awarded in the "Honors Scholarships" competition. Two scholarships cover full fixed charges for attendance, renewable for two additional years; and two cover one-half of the fixed charges renewable for one additional year.

This year the Honors Scholarships competition will also award eight tuition free scholarships for the freshman year.

Competition will be held in two divisions. Students from high schools graduating fewer than 25 girls may compete in one group, and students from high schools graduating 25 or more girls may compete in another group.

In addition to the Honors Scholarships, the college's School of Music and the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation are awarding two scholarships each.

One four-year scholarship and one one-year scholarship will be awarded for study in the School of Music.

Two scholarships covering approximately one-half college expenses for the freshman year will be awarded for study in the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Deadline for all scholarship applications is February 15.

Telephone Co. Films Available

Public programs in the form of movies and scientific lecture-demonstrations available from the Southern Bell Telephone Company without cost are described in a new catalogue now being distributed.

B. F. Lunsford, local manager of Southern Bell, said "We have 16mm sound films on a variety of telephone subjects. They will be of interest to and are available for free loan to local organizations". The catalogue lists 37 films, several of which are in full color.

One of them, "Family Affair", portrays interesting everyday family situations centering around the use of the telephone in a busy household. Another, "Music in Motion", combines the beautiful music of Zino Francescatti, famed violinist, and the Bell Telephone Orchestra, with a dramatic story of research in the field of sound. Another, "For Progress . . . Call Dixie", deals with Southern postwar progress and the part played by telephone service. Another, "The Transistor", tells the dramatic story of the transistor, mighty electronic marvel invented by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Also described in the booklet are many other movies as well as interesting lecture programs in which telephone personnel demonstrate communications and electronics equipment. The catalogue describes several educational booklets on the history of the telephone, how the telephone system operates, and telephone courtesy.

Mr. Lunsford explained that persons interested in the movies, lecture-demonstrations or educational booklets should contact the telephone business office.

Polio Vaccine Shortage Relieved

The recent shortage of polio vaccine has been relieved and the vaccine is now available to all children from 6 months of age up to their 15th birthday, and to expectant mothers.

The County Health Nurse will visit the schools in the near future in order to immunize the last age group which became eligible to receive the vaccine. These children are from 10 to 15 years old.

Teachers are being requested to have their pupils in the 5th and 6th elementary grades and the first two years junior high school bring notes from their parents stating that they wish them immunized. Children who do not have notes will not be immunized.

It is especially important to immunize against polio at this time since two to three months are required for immunity to develop and another polio season will soon be with us.

We have been informed that it is improbable that any additional age groups will be eligible in the near future because of inability of producers to meet the demand for vaccine. However, 85 per cent of polio cases occur in the age groups now eligible.

Polio shots can also be obtained at the health office or from your family doctor.—E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Christmas Seal Sale Still Short of Goal

The TB seal sales are just $275.20 short of the quota set for Shelby County. However, since the Board of Revenue and Control matches each dollar spent in the program against TB in Shelby County, the association is about $500 short of the money that would be available for the year 1956 if the goal were reached. A shortage in the amount of $500 would necessarily curtail the activities of the association during this year.

TB is the number one health problem in Shelby County. Those who would contribute Christmas Seal dollars to help carry on the work being done by the association are urged to send their donations to Roy Downs, Association Treasurer, Calera, Ala.

County Roads Marked

Route marker signs have been erected on the county paved road system. These markers are in the form of an inverted triangle having the designated route number with the words "Shelby Co." surrounding the number. These roads will hereafter be known by these numbers and the new road maps will show these designations.

A motorist traveling in Alabama will be able to see the shortest route offered by the Farm-to-Market roads, thereby saving him time, distance and cost.

Montevallo Faces Trial

P.T.A. sponsored, a panel of our fellow citizens will call into question the extent of delinquency, the responsibility thereof and the possible correction of such conditions, if this existence is verified.

The hearing will take place in the school cafeteria.

Farmers May Apply For Home Loans

Farmers in Shelby County may apply for the additional loan funds available for financing 1956 operating expenses, R. B. McLeaish, national administrator of the Farmers Home Administration, notified S. S. Pierce, the agency's local representative, today.

The loans may be used to pay a wide variety of farm and home operating expenses including the purchase of fertilizer, tractor fuel, livestock feed and seed.

The loans will be made only to farmers who are operating units no larger than a family-type farm, and who are unable to obtain adequate credit from other sources.

Applications may be filed at the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration. The office serving Shelby County is located in the Shelby County Office Building, Columbiana.

All Farmers Home Administration offices have been instructed to give prompt service to all loan applications. Mr. Pierce pointed out that these loans are short-term credit designed to help farmers finance one year's operations. Credit is also extended by the Farmers Home Administration over longer periods to finance adjustments and improvements in farming operations.

Real estate credit for purchase and development of family-type farms, for financing soil conservation measures, and for the development of water supply systems for farm home, livestock, and irrigation are also available.

Dr. Powers Speaks to Centreville Kiwanis Club

Dr. Richard Powers, dean of Alabama College, gave the Kiwanis Club of Centreville a most interesting account of the work of the Arabian-American Oil Co. at the Monday night meeting at the Twix and Tween Cafe.

Dr. Powers, who was a consulting economist with the Arabian-American Oil Co. last summer, told of the tremendous oil reserves of Saudi Arabia and described the operations of the company which operates these rich oil fields. He gave interesting sidelights on the efforts of the company to improve the living standards of the Arabians and to foster improved relations between Arabian and American personnel. Dr. Powers called this big oil company "America's best ambassador of good will overseas."

Dr. Powers illustrated his talk with colored slides which he made while in Arabia.

It is going to be a treat for all kids from 6 to 60.

L&N Denied Permission To Extend Tracks

An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner recommended Monday that the Louisville & Nashville Railroad be denied permission to build an extension of its trackage in Shelby County to serve the Southern Cement Co. plant at Roberta.

The examiner, John S. Prichard, said Southern Railway now serves the Roberta plant, that it has ample capacity to handle the business. He said Southern would lose more than a half million dollars a year in freight revenues if the traffic were split with L&N.

The cement company had strongly urged two-line service for its Roberta plant.

The L&N proposal called for extending its present spur tracks into the Birmingham Slag Co. quarries near Varnos an additional three miles into Roberta at the cost of close to $200,000.

Selden Bills To Aid Cotton Farmers

Two bills designed to alleviate the problems of the cotton farmers, were introduced in Congress last week by Rep. Armistead Selden of Alabama's Sixth District.

The first of these bills attacks the cotton surplus problem and at the same time raises the states' 1956 cotton acreage allotments to the 1955 level. It also prohibits future acreage reductions.

The first section of this bill directs the Secretary of Agriculture to use authority existing since 1947 to sell surplus cotton for export at competitive prices. Prior to the first of this year, the Secretary had not used the authority previously granted by Congress.

Commenting on this provision of his bill, Rep. Selden pointed out that our share of the world export market for cotton has dropped from 60 per cent to 30 per cent. He said, "Reducing the surplus through competitive export pricing will also help us to regain our historical position as a major cotton exporting nation."

The second section of the measure provides protection for our cotton manufacturers who might face serious competition from foreign cotton products manufactured from our lower-priced cotton exports. Importation of foreign products made from our "cheap" export cotton would be limited.

The final section of this legislation requires that if the 1956 acreage allotment for any state is less than the 1955 allotment, it must be raised to the 1955 level. The increase for each affected state would be added to the national acreage total. In other words, the Selden Bill establishes 1955 allotments as a minimum. However, it does not prevent allotments from going higher.

Rep. Selden pointed out that in setting up the 1955 cotton allotments as a minimum level, reductions in acreage for cotton farmers would be prevented this year and, at the same time, additional loss of cotton acreage to the western states would be stopped.

Congressman Selden's second bill would eliminate the charges that farmers are required to pay when they request that their acreage be measured prior to planting under the loan-support program.

W. L. Parrish, Former Chilton Judge, Dies

W. L. Parrish, 65-year-old Clanton veterinarian and member of the board of trustees of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, died Tuesday after a long illness.

Parrish had served as Chilton County probate judge for six years until 1952. Prior to this he was a member of the Chilton County Board of Education. At his death he was president of the Chilton County Catlemen's Assn.

He was elected to the Auburn Board of Trustees three years ago. He was graduated from Auburn in 1917.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Across the top of the world in Russia's capital, a few men undoubtedly sat down today and discussed foreign affairs. We cannot know what they decided, but as world events develop we encounter the effects of their decisions.

Here in Washington, foreign affairs are handled quite differently. Our foreign policy is shaped by the President, the Congress —and by you, through your vote and through your views which make up public opinion.

Foreign Affairs Committee

One of the most important congressional committees influencing our foreign policy is the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives, of which I am privileged to be a member. I would like to give you a close-up of the functions of this committee from my vantage point as a Congressman serving on it.

The history of this committee began even before the Declaration of Independence when the old Continental Congress had a secret committee that kept close contact with those abroad who sided with us in the Revolution. Today, with the United States in a position of world leadership, the present Foreign Affairs Committee has assumed greater importance than ever before.

This committee is charged with maintaining a close watch on the operations of the State Department and the activities of the executive branch in the field of foreign affairs. During the first session of the 84th Congress, it considered such legislation as the mutual security or foreign aid program and the resolution to discourage further Communist aggression against Formosa and the Pescadores.

Foreign Aid Funds

Because all proposals to appropriate money must begin in the House of Representatives, the House Foreign Affairs Committee has the duty of examining for the House all foreign aid authorizations. The committee recomments approval, disapproval, or modification of these authorization requests made to Congress by the executive branch of the government.

The committee's workload and responsibilities have grown tremendously. For example, in 1933-34, the amount of authorizations approved by the Foreign Affairs Committee was only $102,000. In the first session alone of the present 84th Congress, the approximate total considered by the committee, and passed by the full House, was more than $3 billion.

Heavy Work Load

How does the Foreign Affairs Committee handle its job? It is, indeed, one of the busiest congressional committees. The full committee and various subcommittees spent a total of 177 hours in session during my membership last year. In addition to the legislation it handles, the Foreign Affairs Committee meets periodically to receive information from the Secretary of State, the heads of our armed forces, and from our ambassadors to the various countries.

The full committee is broken down into eight "specialized" subcommittees which devote attention to certain areas such as Europe, the Far East and the Pacific, the Near East and Africa, and to particular subjects such as national security and foreign economic policy.

Through the Foreign Affairs Committee passes all legislation dealing with foreign policy that is considered by the House of Representatives. The committee's importance in this atomic and hydrogen era in which we live cannot be overemphasized.

HELP YOUR HEART FUND— HELP YOUR HEART

The Heart Fund drive opened February 1 and continues through February 29. High point of the drive will be Heart Sunday, the 26th, when volunteers throughout the nation will call on their neighbors for contributions to the Heart Fund.

Mrs. Jim Duncan has been asked to serve as chairman for the drive in Calera this year.

The Heart Fund supports research, education and community heart programs aimed at reducing disability and death from heart and blood vessel diseases.

Coin boxes will be distributed throughout the town and everyone is asked to contribute to this cause. Booklets telling about rheumatic fever will be left with the coin boxes. Pick one up and read it. Through your gift to the Heart Fund, you are helping to conquer rheumatic fever—and to discover new methods of treatment, prevention and cure for all forms of heart disease.

Alabama's annual Dairy Herd Improvement Association meeting will be held in Auburn Feb. 22-23.

You bet it doesn't!

THERE HAS BEEN some loose talk lately accusing the South and its industrial development agencies of using and endorsing practically any type of tactics in order to attract industries from other regions. You know and we know that "blanket accusations" of this kind pointing a finger of criticism at the entire Southland not only are unfair – they simply are not true.

Yet, talk of this sort is often picked up and passed on and on. That's why we felt impelled to "speak up" – in the national advertisement reproduced above.

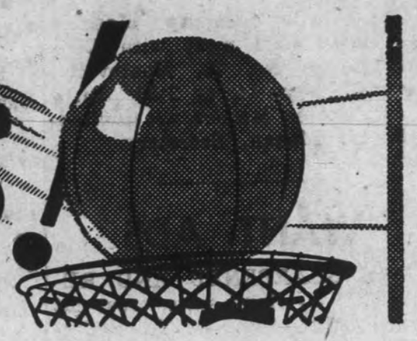

The modern Southland has many enthusiastic spokesmen. We are proud to be one of them. It is still another way we can give meaning to our slogan "The Southern Serves the South."

Alabaster Firemen Hear Capt. Drake

The Volunteer Fire Department of the Town of Alabaster had a dinner meeting at the Green and White Cafe Wednesday evening, Feb. 1, and had as their guest speaker and discussion leader Captain J. F. Drake of the Birmingham Fire Department.

The firemen present were Vernon Attaway, James Davis, F. E. Smith, Horace Massey, Glenn Stallings, Vann Burnett, Jimmie Massey, Edward Nelson, Wallace Simpson, Buddy Glasscow, and Brown Buse. Mayor George Scott, Jr., Police Chief T. O. Fore and Assistant Police Chief O. O. Lee were also present. Some of the Firemen were unable to attend because of duties connected with their work.

After a very interesting discussion on the various phases of fire fighting and prevention the group selected their leaders for the next six months. Chief T. O. Fore is in charge of the day crew and under him are Assistant Chief Vernon Attaway; Captain Brown Buse and Firemen Buddy Glasscow, Jimmie Massey, Edward Nelson, W. J. Mathis, E. Abbott, and Wallace Simpson. The night crew is headed by O. O. Lee, Chief; James Davis, Assistant Chief; Horace Massey, Captain; and Firemen Glenn Stallings, F. E. Smith, Vann Burnett, Frank Washington and Curtis Logan.

Since the town was incorporated and the fire department organized the above group has been very active and have promptly answered all fire alarms. They have prevented much loss of property and deserve the thanks and congratulations of the town and surrounding communities for a job well done. Incidentally, the group has served the town without any remuneration whatever, except the satisfaction of knowing that they have helped others and made their town a better place in which to live.

Local Chapter Plans FFA Week

Future Farmers of America throughout Alabama are scheduling special activities to focus public attention on the work of their organization during National FFA Week, Feb. 18-25.

Locally, members of the Montevallo FFA chapter plan a special meeting on Feb. 22 and a county-wide meeting at Columbiana Feb. 24.

Membership in FFA is made up of farm boys who are students of vocational agriculture in high school. The organizations' activities are designed primarily to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship, and to stimulate the boys to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming.

The Montevallo FFA chapter has 83 members. Officers are: Billy Robinson, president; Lewis Knowles, vice-president; Alfred Herron, secreary; James Alexander, treasurer; E. G. Alexander, reporter; Ronnie Russell, assistant adviser; Billy Joe Mills, sentinel; Joe Wooley, chaplain. M. Thornton, vocational agriculture instructor at Montevallo High School, serves as adviser of the FFA chapter.

The national Future Farmer organization has more than 383,000 members in the 48 states, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. Membership in Alabama totals 13,284.

Future Farmers choose the week of George Washington's birthday each year for the observance of National FFA Week. Although generally recognized as a Revolutionary War general and our first president, Washington's first love was the farm he called Mount Vernon. There, he was one of the first in the nation to practice contour planting, crop rotations, fertilization, and other soil conservation and improvement methods. It was more than a century after Washington's death before general use was made of many of the sound agricultural practices that he advocated.

Selden Announces For Re-nomination

Rep. Armistead I. Selden, Jr., of the Sixth Alabama Congressional District announced today that he is a candidate for renomination in the Democratic primary of May 1. Congressman Selden, whose home is in Greensboro, has already filed his qualifying papers with the State Democratic Executive Committee.

In announcing his candidacy, Selden said he stands on the record he has made during his three years in Congress and will conduct an active and vigorous campaign if he has opposition.

The youngest member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, Rep. Selden was appointed to this important group at the beginning of the 84th Congress. He was previously a member of the Veterans Affairs Committee, and was the author of several bills dealing with veterans legislation.

Now mid-way in his second term, he has compiled one of the highest averages in the House of Representatives for attending sessions and answering roll and quorum calls. His overall average to date is 99 per cent.

CONGRESSMAN SELDEN

Rep. Selden has kept in close touch with his constituents during his tenure in office by writing a weekly newspaper column, maintaining a year-round office in the district, and visiting all eight counties of the Sixth District during the congressional recesses.

In announcing for reelection, he said: "If chosen to serve a third term, I shall continue with every effort to serve well and faithfully the fine people of all eight counties I have the privilege to represent."

Father Ballentine Will Conduct Devotions

A series of sermons entitled "A Liturgical Approach to the Sacraments and Their Practical Application to Our Christian Life" will be delivered during Lenten Season at St. Thomas Catholic Church in Montevallo. Rev. Edgar Ballentine will be the speaker.

Visitors are welcome and are cordially invited to attend.

Robert H. Kincey Writes of Wilton

Just about the most readable and interesting column in the daily Birmingham News is "The State of Things" by Robert H. Kincey. "Uncle Bob," as Henry Vance calls him, is an avid railroad fan, and last week promised his readers to tell them something about Wilton. The next day he made good on his promise, recalling Wilton's history as a railroad center.

"Remember I told you I had something to tell you about Wilton? Well, it's nothing important but one of the fellows on The News took this department to task the other day for having, as he said, left Wilton completely out of the picture. It was Robert Adams, one of our photographers, to tell you the truth.

"Robert is a dyed-in-the-wool Shelby Countian and he swears by Shelby. Which is perfectly all right. And he is a product of Wilton or that immediate neck of the woods. How vivid is Wilton in my recollections as it is to every last one of you who ever commuted up and down the Southern Railway between the Magic City and the Central City.

"You know, there used to be a train on the Southern that left Birmingham of a late afternoon and, in the winter time, it got to Wilton after dark. That was and is, I suppose, still the connecting point of the Southern although the sad part of it is that the passenger trains, with the exception of the mere shadows of Nos. 19 and 20, are all gone.

"What a thrill it was to step off the train at Wilton on a cold night for a cup of steaming coffee. How warm and inviting the coaches were by comparison."

"But it was real railroading, riding the trains in those days, and Wilton was a railroad station of quite some importance. And if I am not wrong, another of Birmingham's good folks is a Wilton product. I'm talking about Clint Milstead, of the public relations department of TCI.

Clint's mother still resides down there and Clint and I had it all framed up several times to go down and spend the day, which we'll surely do. Might be some good country sausage down Wilton way or maybe at Montevallo, hard by."

Wally Fowler To Present All-Nite Sing in B'ham

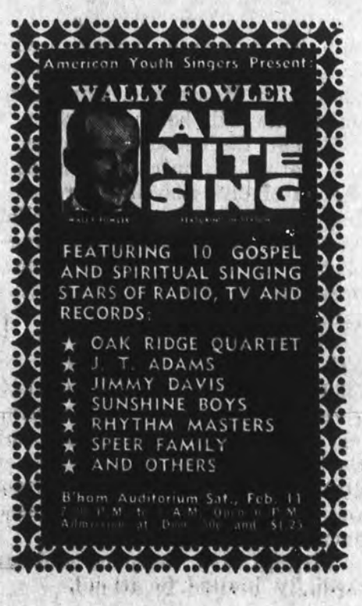

A Jasper girl will have a top billing with some of the nation's best known gospel and spiritual singers appearing on Wally Fowler's All Nite Sing Saturday, Feb. 11, at the Municipal Auditorium in Birmingham.

The Jasper girl is Miss Joyce Marie Black who will be featured soloist with the Singing Speer Family from Nashville.

The Sunshine Boys Quartet, the group that accompanied Mr. Fowler in making his latest Decca Record release, "The Fourth Man" and "Where No One Stands Alone", also are on the program.

Doors open at 6:00 p.m. and the program begins at 7:30, lasting until 1 a.m.

The Oak Ridge Quartet, which has been on Grand Ole Opry for five years, is another group appearing. Jimmie Davis, the singing governor of Louisiana, and Fred C. Maples and the famous Harmoneers Quartet of Atlanta also are on the all star show.

Selden Seeks Funds For Fish Hatchery

Congressman Armistead I. Selden of Alabama's Sixth District has urged a House Appropriations subcommittee to approve funds for the repair and modernization of the federal Fish Cultural Station at Marion, Ala.

He presented to the subcommittee a Fish and Wildlife Service plan which would improve the Marion station at a cost of $380,000.

The congressman called the improvements "essential," pointing out that the Marion station was unable to fill orders for nearly 1,500,000 fish during the last distribution season. The station supplies largemouth black bass and bluegills for stocking waters in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Florida.

Rep. Selden said that because of a ceiling placed on hatchery funds by the Bureau of the Budget, the Fish and Wildlife Service was unable to include the Marion improvements in its budget.

The Marion station has been in operation for 20 years without major change, the congressman said, and is no longer able to meet demands that have grown tenfold.

He cited the station as one idealy located for the study of warmwater pondfish problems of disease control and nutrition. It is the only hatchery in the nation where on-the-job training is provided for federal fish culturists, Rep. Selden pointed out.

The improvements at Marion, largely a revision of the pond system and repair and construction of buildings, are contemplated in two phases. The first would cost $250,000 and the second $130,000.

Subcommittee Chairman Michael J. Kirwan said his group would give consideration to the "fine presentation" of the Marion station needs made by Congressman Selden.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

A measure that will benefit many farmers of our district was passed by the House of Representatives last week without a dissenting vote. This legislation provides annual refunds by the federal government of the present two cents a gallon federal excise tax on gasoline used on the farm for farming purposes. These refunds are payable directly to the farmers. A similar exemption from the federal excise tax on Diesel fuel and special motor fuels is also provided in the same bill.

If approved by the Senate, these exemptions will be retroactive until January 1, 1956, and will provide an estimated $60 million in tax relief each year. Recommended by the President in his farm message, this measure is scheduled for early consideration in the Senate.

Prayer Breakfast

I had the pleasure of attending again this year the annual prayer breakfast sponsored by the International Council for Christian Leadership. This breakfast, the fourth of its kind, was held at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington with Conrad Hilton, head of the Hilton hotel chain, as host. The guest of honor was President Eisenhower.

During the breakfast, Hilton presented to President Eisenhower a silver plaque on which was inscribed the prayer the President wrote for his inaugural address.

In an impromptu response to Conrad Hilton's remarks, President Eisenhower told of his surprise to the reaction he received as a result of the inaugural prayer. It had seemed "a perfectly natural thing" to append the prayer to his inaugural address, he pointed out, and he was quite amazed when thousands of letters poured into the White House praising his action.

The President, who incidentally looked quite well, went on to say: "When we stand up as laymen and meet sincerely in prayer like this, we are telling the world that this is a nation founded on a religious faith, with great concern for the sentiments of compassion and mercy."

The conviction that the United States is trying to "follow in the footsteps of the Prince of Peace is a tremendous gain," he said, "in this day of fears, hysteria and great—sometimes too great—a reliance on force."

The President's remarks, both simple and sincere, made a profound impression on those who were present.

Distinguished Visitor

Washington was host last week to a very distinguished visitor. Sir Anthony Eden, Prime Minister of Great Britain, spent several days in the Capital City conferring with President Eisenhower on problems of mutual interest and concern. On Thursday, he spoke to members of the House and Senate and was given a warm and cordial reception by both bodies.

In his talk to the members of the House of Representatives, Eden affirmed joint Anglo-American determination to deter aggressors but, at the same time, gave his views of the constructive principles which guide both nations. He said: "We offer (other nations) political understanding. We offer material help with no political strings attached. We offer free and friendly association to all peace loving nations."

Although Sir Anthony expressed optimism over the unity of purpose of the United States and Great Britain, his remarks revealed a real awareness of the continuing Communist threat.

RANDOLPH P. GENRY IN CARIBBEAN EXERCISE

The first of a series of amphibious training exercises to be conducted in the Roosevelt Roads-Vieques, Puerto Rico, area is underway in the Caribbean.

Among those concluding their part Feb. 6 aboard the attack cargo ship USS Olmstead is Randolph P. Genry, ship's serviceman second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Genry of Rt. 2, Montevallo.

Approximately 26,000 Navy and Marine Corps personnel and 42 Atlantic Fleet ships will take part in the exercises which will end about May 5.

The national average investment in farm land, machinery, and equipment now stands at over $14,000 per worker.

Either intense heat or intense cold is very bad for cotton fabrics, so don't hang washables out in freezing weather or in very hot sunlight.

Bulldogs Wallop Blocton, 82-49

By S. DeMent

After a dull first half, Coach Corbett's Montevallo Bulldogs snapped back in the third quarter to wallop the Blocton Tigers 82-49 here Tuesday. Blocton had downed the Bulldogs earlier in the season, 58-54.

The game got off to a slow start with neither team able to find the hoop to great advantage. Score at the end of the first quarter was a mere 9-8. In the second stanza, Cook of Blocton showed the way, stripping the net for 10 points to aid the Tigers in leading 30-28 at halftime.

As the third quarter got underway the Bulldogs came to life and staged a 28-point comeback, with Pete Pickett pumping in 14 of the 28 points.

All Montevallo's reserves went into action in the last quarter.

Pete Picket, center, set the pace for he winners, pouring through ten field goals and eight charity tosses with a total of 28 for the night's work. Frank Norris added 19 and Ed Hicks 18, to aid the Bulldogs' cause.

For the first time this season Montevallo's Bees broke into the win column. They took the preliminary game from the West Blocton B team, 34-18. Charles Houlditch, with 9 points, and Barclay Fisher with 8, were top scorers for the winners.

Jemison Edges Bulldogs, 46-44

By S. DeMent

While dropping a 46-44 decision to the power-packed Panthers from Jemison, Coach Corbett's Montevallo Bulldogs played one of their best games of the season here last Friday night. Sharpshooting at the charity stripe gave Jemison the two-point edge as they squeaked by the scrappy Montevallo quintet. Earlier this season the Panthers outscored the Bulldogs 48-29 at Jemison.

Sixteen of the winners' points came at the free-throw line, while Montevallo could find the hoop with only six of their charity tosses. The Bulldogs had 19 field goals to their credit; the Panthers only 15.

The game, tied up at 13 at the end of the first quarter and 33 at the close of the third, was a toss-up from start to finish.

Guy of Jemison opened the scoring as he hit with a long, set shot. Wayne Phillips, Bulldog sharpshooter, quickly retailiated as he stripped the net from side court to knot the count at two all; and the battle was on. Eleven times the score was tied before Jemison finally took their winning two-point margin and held onto the ball in the closing moments of the game.

Pointmakers for Jemison were Marcus, who had 15, and Porter, Hilyer and Guy, with 10 each. Pete Pickett, for Montevallo, paced the losers as he matched Marcus' 15.

Ray, with 13 points, led the Jemison B team to a 45-26 victory in the preliminary game with the Montevallo Bees.

Eight Millionth Person Receives Social Security

As the eight millionth person in the nation receiving social security benefits was handed his first check by the Director of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, Victor Christgau, in Louisville, Ky., on Feb. 1, the number of people receiving benefits in Shelby County is approximately 1,591, according to J. W. Overstreet, Jr., manager of the Birmingham district office of the Social Security Administration.

The eight millionth beneficiary was Mr. Carl C. Krankel, a 66-year-old salesman. He will continue to work on a reduced basis, but since he will not earn more than $1,200 in a year, he will get old-age insurance payments each month. The amount of his monthly check, based on the amount of his earnings, is $103.50. In addition, Mrs. Krankel will receive $51.80 each month.

In Shelby County about 956 people 65 and over are getting old-age insurance payments, Mr. Overstreet said. Some of them have retired, and others like Mr. Krankel, are still doing some work. These figures also include 65-year-old wives and dependent husbands of retired workers. Social security benefits going to this group amount to about $42,513 per month.

An additional $2,561 in monthly benefits goes to the 66 aged widows and aged dependent widowers of deceased workers.

Monthly benefits to children amount to approximately $11,997 each month. Mr. Overstreet estimates that 103 mothers with children in their care receive payments of $3,887 each month.

Mr. Overstreet pointed out that the figures are estimates, and that it will be several months before exact figures for different areas will be available.

Social security records are confidential, Mr. Overstreet emphasized, but because of the nationwide significance of the eight millionth person on the social security rolls, Mr. Krankel consented to the release of the information about his benefits.

Calera PTA News

To Parent-Teacher members everywhere this month is most significant because we observe the founding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in Washington on February 17, 1897. The Calera PTA paid tribute to the founders, Alice Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, in part of their program Wednesday, Feb. 1 in the high school library.

Calera won the Gold Leaf membership award by having as many members by December 1 of this year as we had last year. We hope to equal or pass our goal of 250 by March 31.

Mrs. Claudus Tidwell, chairman of health and pre-school round-up, asks that all mothers send to her the names of all children who will enter school next year.

The series of PTA bake sales will begin Saturday and continue each Saturday through the month of February at these local stores: Baer Grocery, P & T Grocery and Lawrence Grocery.

The annual calendar banquet will be held at the Calera City Hall Tuesday, February 28 from 5:30 to 7:30.

Mrs. Velma Findley was in charge of the Founders Day Pageant, The PTA Rainbow. Mrs. Bill Williams represented the red of the rainbow which reminds us of pulsing life and boundless energies of regular PTA members. Mrs. Claudus Tidwell represented orange which symbolizes a golden treasure left as a legacy from former years of PTA work.

Yellow was presented by Mrs. Chuck Barefield. Yellow is a symbol of brotherly love and reminds us of the more than 10 million members in our national congress.

Mrs. Pierce Garrett represented green, symbol of growing things. Most important to us are our growing children for whom our organization was founded.

Mrs. Julius Barrett represented the rainbow's blue, the symbol of loyalty and devotion. It encourages us to keep before us the ideal of doing our task well.

Mrs. C. B. McDonald represented violet which reminds us of happiness in the royal palace of our organization. Ours is one where children, parents and the teachers are happily brought together.

Mrs. W. D. Maddox represented pink for blossoms. The PTA acorn has been planted and has started to grow and blossom. It is our task to keep it nourished and to make it continue to grow, for in so doing will our children reach the "pot of gold" somewhere at the end of the rainbow.

Calera Bandit Found Guilty

An Associated Press news dispatch from Atlanta, published in the Montgomery Advertiser Wednesday, gives the following account of the court trial of a notorious character who seems to be somewhat known around here:

A smiling bandit from Calera, Alabama, who said he chose Georgia for his crimes because of its leniency with lawbreakers today was sentenced to a maximum of 36 years in prison.

Known variously as Harry Latham, Jack Brown and Alabama Shorty, the stubby and bald 43-year-old man't demeanor changed abruptly when the jury foreman reported a verdict of guilty on five counts of robbery. His accustomed smile faded quickly.

Brown, as he was tried, was charged with being the flippant, kiss-blowing bandit who terrorized Atlanta area super markets. He once was conked on the head by a can of pork and beans tossed by a customer.

He was quoted after his arrest January 13 as saying he picked this area for his crime spree because it is "generally known" that punishment is lighter in Georgia than in most other places.

The prosecutor pleaded for the maximum of 100 years, 20 for each count, allowed by law.

He charged that Brown "tried to make mockery of the state of Georgia—blowing kisses, bowing and scraping and robbing." Actually, he declared, the man is a "skilled robber who made this thing a laughing matter".

At the time of his arrest Brown or Latham was wanted by the FBI on a charge of transporting a stolen car from Greenville, S. C., to Marvel, Ala., last year. A spokesman said this charge probably now will be dropped in view of the state court sentence.

Cecil R. Busby Receives Award

Cecil R. Busby, 30-year-old machinist, has been awarded a bronze plaque as Alabama's outstanding apprentice for 1955, in ceremonies held at the United States Pipe and Foundry Co. in Bessemer.

The award is made annually by the National Association of Manufacturers to one apprentice in each state. Hugh P. Bigler, president of Southern Steel Co., Birmingham, made the presentation.

Busby is a former three-letter man at Montevallo High School, where he played football, baseball and basketball. He began work at the U. S. Pipe and Foundry Co. in July, 1950, and was recommended by his foreman for machinist apprentice.

Soon after the foreman's recommendation was made, Busby began the 8,000-hour program which has now resulted in his promotion to Class A machinist, plus the coveted honor of being selected as one of the best 48 apprentices in the nation, according to George H. Davis, field representative of the U. S. Labor Department's Bureau of Apprenticeship.

Davis explained that Busby, like all men who serve an apprenticeship, followed a program of training which is worked out by union and management, with the cooperation of the Labor Department. He said Busby's training required 746 extra hours of school work in connection with regular job.

The extra hours of related school work and study were given in the U. S. Pipe plant. Classes were held in the same room in which Busby received the outstanding-apprentice award.

Busby, already working as a Class A machinist, is a member of the International Association of Machinists, Lodge No. 359. He lives with his wife and two children at 413 Fifth Ave., Bessemer.

Wilson Appointed Rabies Inspector

Mr. Bloomer Wilson has been reappointed County Rabies Inspector by the County Board of Health and approved by the State Health Officer and State Veterinarian. Mr. Wilson has full authority to enforce the State Dog Control Act and will appoint his deputy or deputies, who will have like authority. Since the Dog Control Law was passed by the legislature solely for the protection of each individual, enforcement should not be necessary, and compliance with the law should be without question.

There are many dogs whose owners have abandoned them and they are therefore forced to seek their food supply by going from one garbage can to another, frequently scattering its contents over the premises. A strenuous effort will be made to humanely dispatch these animals. All others must be given anti-rabies vaccine once each year.

Mr. Wilson did an excellent job last year and will be still better equipped to eliminate rabies as a threat to you and your family this year.

In order to rid their towns of stray dogs and aid in controlling rabies some of the progressive town authorities have adopted a dog licensing law which requires that a certificate of inoculation against rabies be presented before a dog license will be issued. This is a most commendable ordinance and its purpose is to protect the public.—Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

What FFA Means To Me

By Ronnie Russell
Assistant Adviser

Little did I realize the responsibilities that go with my job as assistant adviser when I was elected to this important office in Montevallo FFA last spring.

One hardly realizes the greatness of FFA work until he has seen some of the things it has accomplished. Some of the responsibilities of the assistant adviser are to assume initiative for getting the chapter going at its best and following through with objectives. Another and probably the most important is to see that each boy has a part in the chapter work and that he carries out his responsibilities to the fullest extent.

Many people look upon FFA as just an organization for boys in planning to go into farming, but this is not true. Although one of the main purposes is to help the young future farmers, there are many other things members learn through active participation. A few of these are: How to conduct and take part in a public meeting; how to speak in public; how to solve our problems; and how to assume civic responsibilities. The foundation upon which the FFA is built includes leadership and character development, sportsmanship, cooperation, service duties, thrift, scholarship, improved agriculture, organized recreation, citizenship and patriotism. It is evident that it helps boys in many ways other than farming.

RONNIE RUSSELL

My first year in agriculture, the greenhand year, I could not seem to get fully interested in the work, but as time goes on I realize more and more what the organization has done for me and what it is doing for thousands of other boys. Although this is my last year in vocational agriculture classes, I am going to continue in the FFA.

Among the ways FFA has helped me are: To deal with the public; helpful points on everyday living; and best of all, it has given me confidence in myself.

I think I can become a better citizen of my town, county and state and country. With the wonderful help of the people who support our organization, I think the FFA will continue to be one of the greatest helps to boys of our time.

FEDERAL AID FOR SCHOOLS IN SHELBY COUNTY

A telegram from Senators Hill and Sparkman and Congressman Selden to The Times-Herald last week said:

"We are pleased to advise that Commissioner of Education has certified for immediate payment to the Shelby County Board of Education funds in amount of $4,922.00, pursuant to Public Law 874, providing financial assistance for schools in federally affected areas."

College Becomes Co-educational In September

September 1956 has been set as the date for Alabama College to become a co-educational institution.

The date for the acceptance of men was set by the school's board of trustees at a special meeting Tuesday, February 14 in Palmer Hall.

This action follows the passage of a special bill by the legislature amending the statutes permitting the school to accept men students.

The legislation passed the Senate unanimously and was approved by the House 83 to 6. The bill was signed by the Governor early this month.

The resolution by the Board of Trustees states: "Effective with the opening of the next regular session in September, 1956, Alabama College shall become a co-educational institution, admitting men to all appropriate courses of instruction as may be judged by the president and faculty; and that the facilities of the college the program of instruction and the internal organization of the staff shall, as soon as convenient, be adjusted to favor enrollment of both men and women, provided only that preference initially will be shown to first-year students in the assignment of dormitory space."

Other action by the board of trustees authorized President F. E. Lund and the administrative officers to proceed with plans for the erection of a new dormitory for men. Construction of the building, which will house 175, is expected to start in April.

Plans for the new dormitory, prepared by the architects, were approved by the board, and the president was authorized to award the building contract on the basis of sealed bids which will be opened on March 14.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Some New Developments in Agriculture

By M. Thornton
FFA Adviser

The whole farming enterprise has made many significant changes during recent months and years. All these changes give one many points to study and become concerned about.

Farm output has increased by 30 per cent during the last 15 years. As this increase has been realized fewer and fewer people have been needed to carry on the production of farm products. It is said reliably that each acre must produce 66 per cent more by 1995 if we continue to produce at the same level with a proportionate amount of acreage. Even with all this production it is reported that over 60 per cent of the population of the world goes along hungry. We have a new person to stay with us in America every 12 seconds. This is 5 every minute, 300 every hour, or 7,200 each 24-hour day, and 84,000 in the world. The above figure is arrived at because a baby is born each 8 seconds, a death occurs every 21 seconds, an immigrant arrives every 2 minutes, and an emigrant departs every 24 minutes. It is estimated that U. S. population will reach 175 million before the year 1958. The entire population of the earth is now 2,500 million.

M. THORNTON

New developments in agriculture include the use of radiation to induce variability within a species, new hybrid trees grow two to three times as fast as ordinary trees, chemicals thin blossoms on fruit trees, kill weeds, and leave vegetables untouched. With some chemicals it is possible to delay maturity of vegetables in order to relieve present surpluses and wait for better prices. Chemical fertilizers have made 87 bushels of corn per acre in Missouri where the entire topsoil had been scraped off before the corn was planted.

Livestock producers have learned to select animals as best with the use of a stethoscope—the one with a fast heart beat is better. It is now possible to predict the value of heifers while they are but young calves due to recent methods in estimating future production. Synthetic hormones make reluctant cows give down their milk. Air conditioned hogs return more profit. Hens kept cool lay more eggs and dairy cows kept cool give more milk. Through artificial insemination of dairy animals, it has been possible to have one bull father up to 100,000 calves in one year. Sires go on in use even after death due to freezing of semen.

It has been possible in the feeding industry to use 35c worth of hormone to produce $25 profit

Band Sponsors Valentine Dance

The annual Valentine dance sponsored by the Montevallo High School Band was held Saturday night in the school gym. After the first dance given two years ago, it was decided to hold the dance each year. Mr. Victor Young is director of the band; Arthur Garrett is president; and Miss Mary Thornton, secretary-treasurer. Proceeds from the dance help to pay for trips made by the band, to buy new instruments and to repair old ones.

Giant red hearts hung from each end of the gym and on each side. Four large red hearts formed a circle around the pole standing in the center of the dance floor. From this pole red and white streamers reached out to decorate the entire ceiling. Blue and white hearts pierced with silver arrows formed the background for the stage. Music was furnished by Bill Wilson's "Bop Kats" from Fairfield.

A highlight of the evening was the selection and crowning of Miss Queen of Hearts for 1956. Judges were Mr. Arthur Garrett, Sr., Mrs. Denson Elliott, and Mr. Albert Scott. Candidates for this honor and their escorts were: Miss Mary Williams, Ronnie Dennis; Miss Janice Waters, Teddy Bridges; Miss Jessie Ree Henson, Danny Thornton; Miss Patsy Hooker, Ruben Hayes; Miss Frances Morgan, Jimmy Williams; Miss Sandra Rochester, Jimmy Carden; Miss Phyllis Wooley, Leslie Harrison; Miss Faye Lucas, Billy Robinson; Miss Peggy O'neal, Jack Whatley; and Miss Ann Poole, Denny Elliott.

Miss Peggy O'neal, the newly elected Queen of Hearts, was crowned by last year's queen, Miss Ann Poole of Wilton. Queen Peggy was then presented a bunch of red roses and she and her escort, Jack Whatley, led the 1956 Valentine dance, followed by first alternate, Miss Janice Waters and Teddy Bridges, and second alternate, Miss Phyllis Wooley, escorted by Leslie Harrison.

Miss Harriett Kendrick was in charge of getting parents to operate the food booth. Hot dogs and cold drinks were sold by Mrs. Todd Jeter, Mrs. Rebecca McGaughy, Mrs. John Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garrett, Sr., and Mr. Denson Elliott. Don Johnson was chairman of the decorating committee. Those serving on this committee and the clean-up committee were Sara Jeter, Mary Thornton, Libba Ackerley, Lois Ackerley, Ann Poole, Arthur Garrett, Hoyt Hicks, Gibby Scott, Kitty Stansell, Tommie Ruth Mowery. Sigrid Lund and Jade Higgins were on the ticket and advertising committee.

Chaperones for the affair were Miss Frances Winn, Mrs. A. L. Salser, Mrs. John Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Denson Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garrett, Sr.

About 200 people attended the dance.

CALERA CIVITAN CLUB

The Calera Civitan Club met Monday night, Feb. 13, at Pearl's Cafe for its regular meeting.

The discussion was continued from a previous meeting of the possibility of discontinuing the long distance telephone rates between Calera and Montevallo.

Miss Imogene Lucas, Sam Williams Wed

Before an improvised altar of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and greenery, with white tapers in candelabra, Miss Imogene Lucas became the bride of Mr. Sam Williams in a four o'clock ceremony February 12 at Enon Baptist Church. The Rev. W. A. Carter read the vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Audis Lucas. Mr. Williams is the son of Mrs. Lula Williams.

Mr. Lucas gave his daughter in marriage. Her attendants were Miss Betty Lucas and Miss Shirley Williams. Sister of the bride, Sue Lucas, was flower girl and Gail Lucas lit the candles.

Following the ceremony a reception was given in the church dining room. A wedding cake topped with bride and groom centered the tea table where Miss Edna Faye Compton and Miss Eloise Mitchell presided at the punch bowl.

The bride's book was kept by Miss Emogene Argo. Mrs. G. H. Mitchell, Mrs. R. S. Anderson and Mrs. Claudis Lucas assisted in serving.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Crane, Mrs. Lucile Stanley and children, Miss Margaret Lind, Miss Carleen Lind and Miss Patsy Taylor, all of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dykes, Pinson; Miss Maycie Williams, Woodward; Miss Ouida Bird, Wilton; Mrs. Leon Moody and Sue, Pea Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bright and daughter, West Blocton; Mr. and Mrs. Buel Smith, Calera; Morris Williams, Centreville; Miss Sally Broadhead, Centreville.

A dinner party at Joy Young's in Birmingham was followed by a lingerie shower with a group of the bride's friends as hostesses.

Ebenezer Home Club Holds Regular Meeting

The meeting was called to order by the new president, Mrs. H. A. Pauly. The devotion was given by Miss Ivy Swinford. Reports were given by all chairmen. The demonstration, "The Invited Guest, the Roach," was given by Mrs. Ferman Allbright and Mrs. H. H. Pauly. The program was given by Mrs. James Wyatt.

POST OFFICE BUILDING GETS NEW COAT OF PAINT

Postmaster Morris Watson invited me to take a tour of the Montevallo Post Office building with him one day last week to observe the new look that has been produced by a complete new coat of paint, inside and out.

Our federal building is something of which this community is rightly proud. Some of us may be inclined to take it as a matter of course, but if we didn't have it, then what? We are lucky that Congressman Buck Oliver in his days thought enough of Montevallo to get us on the list for this building. Federal buildings like ours do not go to nearly all the towns that need and want them.

Getting back to the new paint, it should be said that it makes our post office look better, and the employees as well as the patrons are proud of it.

from feeding steers. New methods lead to weaning pigs at 7 to 14 days of age and in Maryland researchers produced 1 pound of meat (broiler) with 1.64 pounds of feed. Automation is coming to agriculture even in a fashion almost unbelievable. Devices make it possible to turn a switch off and the light gives you time to get inside before it goes off. Numerous other devices contribute to efficiency in production.

Farming involves much work and study and the good farmer must be able to do many and varied things if he is to be successful. He must be economist enough to know when to buy and when to sell, and bookkeeper enough to spot weaknesses and strong points. He must be engineer enough to run $10,000 worth of machinery, and mechanic enough to spot-weld. He must be a veterinarian, an agronomist, a diplomat, a psychologist, a capitalist, and a day laborer. He has to have brains enough to make 40 decisions a day and brawn enough to toss around bales of hay and bags of fertilizer. Yes, the farmer of 1956 must be a real man.

Presently the U. S. has been producing about 35 per cent of the products; yet only 6 per cent of the population of the world is in America. This has contributed to the cause of some of our surpluses.

Placement opportunities for Future Farmers with the know-how will continue to be numerous, but the man without the know-how may only be a reserve or unemployed. A challenge goes out to all those entering farming. It will be necessary to make use of new and modern methods and a broad knowledge of their implications is also necessary. As the young men of today face the challenge before them, the FFA is ever on the alert to get into its programs those essentials which may contribute to the success of its members. It is through FFA and vocational agriculture that the future farmer of today keeps abreast of the times. Through study of the outlook, statistics, government releases, agricultural publications, and books students of agriculture today have an opportunity to meet many of the challenges that will come to them later in life. It is evident that FFA must ever live as a vital force in our American way of life.

BILL BAKER

Bill is just one of about 1,300 Southern Bell cable splicers. Been with the Company almost 10 years. He's active in PTA work, likes to bowl, and is as handy with tools around the house as on the job. Was "topkick" to his National Guard pals for years.

Meet Bill Baker, cable splicer for Southern Bell. In his day's work he "joins together" the hundreds of tiny wires in the telephone cables which carry your calls.

Cable splicing is just one of many jobs it takes to fill your telephone needs. And Bill is typical of some 65,000 Southern Bell people who work as a well-coached team. Keeping intricate equipment in top shape. Putting your calls through. Giving you the kind of service you want.

Because you can depend on the people behind the lines, you can depend on your telephone — 24 hours a day.

Shelby County Basketball Tournament in Calera

Strongly favored Calera Eagles go after the county title for the second year in a row as action gets underway in the Shelby County Tournament in Calera tonight at 7:00. Opponents for the Eagles in the opener will be the Thompson Warriors.

In county play this season Calera, sparked by their high-scoring center, Sydney Godfrey, and long-shot artist Wright Ingram, has defeated all opponents at least once, and has not been topped.

Thompson, not to be overlooked for the season, has a knack for upsetting the dope bucket in the tournament plays, and should offer Calera strong opposition. The two teams have not met this season.

Montevallo, under a new coach this year, the former Livingston star, Cratie Corbett, meets Vincent, a possible dark horse, in the second round Friday night at 7:00. Immediately following, the Columbiana Wildcats make their first tournament appearance in opposition to Thursday night's winner.

Having split decisions in their two games this season, Montevallo and Vincent should be evenly matched.

Pete Pickett, averaging 18 points per game, and Wayne Phillips afford much of the Bulldogs' scoring power, while Frank Norris is outstanding on rebound. Bailey, ace sharpshooter and all-county last year, is the Vincent spark.

A consolation game matching the two losers of Friday night, will precede the final game on Saturday night. The preliminary game starts at 7:30. Trophies will be awarded to first and second place winners and an all-county team will be announced following the finals.

CALERA VS. COLUMBIANA

"B" Team

The team got off to a very slow start the first half, but as the game went on they seemed to catch fire and caught the Wildcats of Columbiana midway of the second quarter and led by one point at times before the half.

The Wildcats moved away the second half and held a 10 point advantage the rest of the game. The final score was Calera 32 and Columbiana 42.

"A" Team

The game was a thriller. The Eagles moved out fast 8 to 1, but Columbiana fought back and tied it. The lead changed many times before the half. Before the half Calera moved to 33 to 21.

The Eagles kept the basket hot pouring in points at will. Columbiana lost a scoring threat when Sims and King fouled out, and Calera lost Godfrey by the same route.

Scoring honors went to Godfrey and Ingram with 18 apiece, with Thrasher close behind with 17. King was high point man for Columbiana with 11. Final score was 70 to 40. This win gave Calera a clean slate for county play with a 6-10 record. The season record is 15-13.

PORTER INGRAM MOVES TO FORT POLK, LA.

Army Pvt. Porter C. Ingram, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper E. Ingram of Calera, recently was transferred with the 1st Armored Division from Fort Hood, Texas, to Fort Polk, La.

The division began its permanent move to Fort Polk in December after taking part in "Exercise Sage Brush," the joint Army-Air Force maneuver in Louisiana.

Private Ingram is a radio operator in the division's Headquarters Battery. He entered the Army in February 1955 and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

UNIQUE STUDY CLUB MEETS

The Unique Study Club met at the home of Miss Lucy Norwood February 7 with Mrs. Maurice Hammond as co-hostess. The home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers.

Miss Lorraine McLaughlin was program leader for the afternoon. She read an interesting paper on "Women in the Field of Fine Arts, Who Have Influenced the World". She then introduced Miss Mamie Bishop who in turn introduced the senior and junior winners of the Birmingham News oratorical contest. They were Miss Jo Ann Parks, senior, and Miss Patsy Carden, junior, of Calera High School. The young orators gave their orations.

Mrs. Marvin Smith, president, presided at the business session. The following officers were elected for the new club year:

President, Mrs. A. E. Norwood; vice president, Mrs. Milton Smith; secretary, Mrs. Robert Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. Maurice Hammond.

Tea, cake and congealed salad, carrying out the Valentine motif, was served to 15 members and 3 visitors, Mrs. Clyde Carden, Miss Jo Ann Parks and Miss Patsy Carden.

Telephone Company Begins Chelsea System

The Southern Bell Telephone Co. has begun construction of a $168,000 telephone system in Chelsea that will provide service for 273 subscribers at the outset, it was announced today by B. F. Lunsford, area manager of the firm. It will be the first telephone service of any kind in the area with the exception of a toll station at both Westover and Chelsea.

The community dial building, which will be completely automatic, will be located along Highway 280. It is scheduled for completion about March 1. Service is expected to start some time during the third quarter of this year following completion of outside plant construction and installation of complex central office dial equipment.

Some of the material to be used in the outside construction includes 91,000 feet of aerial cable and 40 circuit miles of aerial wire.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY MAKES PERSONNEL CHANGES

Thomas D. Moore, trainmaster at Danville, Ky., will be appointed superintendent at Selma to succeed Mr. Strench.

Director Lists Income Tax Return Errors

George D. Patterson, district director of the Birmingham Internal Revenue Office, stated today that most taxpayers are doing a good job in preparing their tax returns this year.

Returns received in January reveal only one area where errors are more frequent than last year, according to Patterson. "A substantial number of taxpayers did not use the proper space to list their names and addresses," Patterson. He mentioned a tendency to put the name above the proper space, or to crowd the address in the space intended only for the name. He said that many taxpayers failed to list their street addresses, or the towns in which they live. "These errors result in delayed refunds, erroneous delinquency notices, and excessive processing costs," the director explained.

Patterson listed seven other errors which are common to 1955 and prior year returns as follows: 1. Signature omitted, wife's signature omitted, or her name signed by husband. 2. Income from odd jobs, tips, etc., omitted. 3. Income from interest omitted (savings accounts, credit unions, bonds, etc.). 4. Deductions claimed for tobacco taxes (not deductible). 5. Deductions claimed for health insurance premiums (deductible only as medical expense, subject to limitations). 6. All withholding statements for the year not attached. 7. Wife's exemption is claimed but her income is not reported, or it is reported on a separate return.

OUR FARM PROGRAM STUDY

By ALFRED HERRON

Election year finds the farm program far behind. The farmers all over the U. S. are trying to figure how they can get more crops, better crops, and realize more money for their crops. They are worried because there are so many surpluses. The government is trying to get rid of surpluses but it seems to offer many problems. Day by day we came to our agriculture class and studied this issue during January of this year. Four main issues remain in the farm program: (1) How to get rid of surpluses; (2) How to bring a compromise on the price situation between parity and fixed prices; (3) What will be done about the soil bank idea; (4) How can we help the small farmer.

Many proposals have been made but apparently none in complete agreement. Some in the planning would let the ones not making a paying business of farming go out of business and give strength by special help to the dirt or real farmers with the cowboy, lawyer and drug store farmer making it on his own. Economists agree that the financiers or farmers with money could probably make it on their own.

As yet, much is unsettled about the farm program. We still study and watch future news releases, magazine articles and the Congressional Record to see what happens. Some seem to think an election year is a bad time to try to solve a problem like the farm problem.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

By BILLY ROBINSON

Since I am planning to stdy veterinary medicine after graduation in May, I can see many ways in which it has been an advantage to me to study vocational agriculture and be in the FFA my last year of school. I have studied common ailments of farm animals and scientific feeding of animals. I have seen films about the digestive system of cows which helped me to understand how a cow digests food.

From articles in magazines and books we have in the vocational agriculture class, I have learned much about animals and animal life.

Last year I learned more about the FFA as I attended the district contests and state FFA convention at Auburn. My job as president has taught me much about parliamentary procedure. The job has taught me about public speaking and dealing with people in everyday life.

I have several projects in FFA. They are: beef cattle, pheasants, home garden, hay, pasture and orchard. The agriculture class helped me plan and plant my home orchard.

The office of president takes a good deal of time, but I enjoy doing all of the things. The executive committee meets each Tuesday night to discuss matters of importance confronting the FFA. The FFA as a whole meets every Tuesday during school activity period to discuss matters and plan for things coming up in the future.

The County Council meets at a time designated by the county chairman to go over matters of importance to the FFA chapters of the county as a whole. At present, the FFA officers of the county are planning for a county-wide field day some time in March. All county contests of FFA will be held in Columbiana Friday, February 24, beginning at one o'clock.

THE F F A -- ALWAYS ACTIVE

By FRANK THIEMONGE, Jr.

The FFA is a national organization of farm boys who are studying vocational agriculture at school.

Our chapter has been studying the farm program and has given study to the possible outcome of this session of Congress.

Much haste is necessary if the program is to best serve our nation this year.

We have been active in group projects, among which was the building of a concrete walk from the elementary building to the school lunchroom. The PTA financed the walk and the FFA chapter did the work of pouring and finishing it.

We have studied everything from bees to beef cattle.

When I started agriculture last year, I did not realize how many things I would learn. Last year we learned how to use the farm shop and to weld.

The FFA is not all class work. We have rodeos, possum hunts, and other recreational activities. We have a band, a judging team and a committee set up for each major activity planned.

During our field projects we set some orchards, pruned trees, and castrated some calves and pigs.

The chapter is active during all 12 months of the year. Special activities are planned during the summer months.

Our chapter has worked to get a demonstration unit for almost any farm enterprise which could possibly offer profits in our area.

F. F. A. FOR ME

By GROVER HAYES

During my first year in high school, I was under the impression that the FFA was just for farm boys. I was depressed, thinking I could not enroll. Now that I am enrolled in FFA, I have found how much it can mean to any boy who has special interests.

I have become very much interested in farming, mostly in poultry. During my first year my project was 25 chickens. In the shop I built the needed equipment for my project. I learned much from watching and caring for them.

I continue learning more in books in my agriculture class in Montevallo school. Of course, I study raising cattle, fruit, and welding skills along with many subjects other than raising poultry. I studied many other jobs in farm mechanics. I am planning to be a member of FFA as long as I can remain an active member.

The County F.F.A.-F.H.A. Organization

By BILLY ROBINSON

The County FFA-FHA organization is made up of the FFA-FHA advisers and presidents of the chapters in Shelby County. The purpose of the organization is to discuss problems confronting the four chapters of each. It is made up of delegates of both boys and girls from Montevallo, Vincent, Columbiana and Siluria. The organization meets only when the county chairman calls a meeting.

The last regular meeting was held February 8 at Chesser's Place. The most important points of discussion were the county jamboree, home and community improvements, and a special activity day which is to be held in March. The FFA-FHA officers plan a meeting at the next county teachers meeting March 8 to complete plans.

F. F. A. BAND -- "THUNDERBIRDS"

Center—Johnny Thomas

By BILLY JOE MILLS

Throughout the FFA chapters all over the nation, projects are planned and executed which offer opportunity for individual and group expression. It is through the organization and appearances that Billy Joe and the band expresses themselves in song and music.

The band has made frequent appearances at regular chapter meetings and elsewhere and has become a favorite of many.

BILLY JOE MILLS
Chapter Sentinel

Singing to the tune of his banjo, Robert O'Neal makes one wonder if he is not the real "Grandpappy Jones".

Bill Haley would think it was his very own voice if he heard Billy Joe Mills over the radio—as he sings "Bop Songs". Billy Joe also features in hillbilly and Western music.

The home laundry definitely went haywire when Johnny Thomas joined the band, because he took his mother's washtub to make his "base-tub" instrument.

Tommy Greer certainly does not spend all his time sawing and nailing in his new carpenter training program. He does his usual rounds with the electric guitar almost daily.

The entire band in harmony, using both music and song, is just what the music lover ordered.

February 24, the band will compete for the county award at Columbiana. The county winner goes on to the district at Auburn on March 31, and on to the State contest at Auburn in June.

The band combines with other adult members under the title of "Thunderbirds" and makes a complete unit available for public appearances for square dances, round dancing, and variety shows. If interested, contact Billy Joe Mills, Montevallo, Ala., General Delivery, or phone 7275.

OUR PROBLEMS TODAY

By JACKIE WARREN

Any FFA member who is really on his job in the chapter will soon recognize many problems he must face. One of these is that boys do not have enough land to practice farming. One of the things now helping is the diversified occupations at our school. The boys take two hours in the mornings for study and go out at noon to work as a trainee on a farm or elsewhere for practical experience.

Another one of our problems is that we have 83 members where the average is only 37. This is a big responsibility for our chapter.

The need for another truck is a problem. Bill Lovelady, Victor Scott, Cooper Shaw and Floyd Hawkins gave us the truck we now have. We have used it five years.

Much of our time is spent in identifying problems and working toward the best solution possible.

Our School Group Projects

By WILLIAM HOLSEMBACK

During recent years the FFA chapter has included in its annual program many group projects which have as their objective that of giving the student practice in doing some of the things they have studied in the class room.

For two or three days our class studied a subject, such as concrete mixtures, then some of the boys will pour concrete and build walks or fix a foundation. Another project is landscaping. In recent years the FFA members have landscaped many homes in and around Montevallo. They have also planted demonstration orchards for various people in Shelby County.

Each year members of the FFA prune and advise the practices on the orchards without cost to the owner. A group project this year with the U. S. Forestry Service resulted in the sale of over $500 worth of pine cones harvested from local pines.

Through group projects we are able to plan and work as groups and still be able to express ourselves individually in the plans and the work. We feel that coopeerative effort is fundamental to the success of a chapter.

Report from Washington

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Funds to operate the Treasury and Post Office Departments during fiscal year 1957 were provided in the first appropriation bill to pass the House during the current session of Congress. This appropriation measure, passed last week and sent on to the Senate, contains $645.4 million for operating the Treasury Department, $2.9 billion for Post Office Department expenditures, and $1.4 million for the operation of the United States Tax Court.

Rigid Price Supports

Last week in a vote on the farm bill, the Senate Agriculture Committee approved for the next two years rigid supports of 90 per cent of parity on the five so-called basic commodities—cotton, corn, rice, wheat and peanuts.

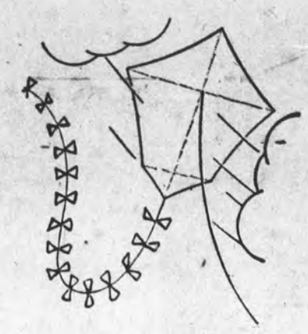

You will recall that during the last session of Congress the House of Representatives approved supports at 90 per cent of parity through 1957 on these basic commodities. This legislation, which I supported, passed the House by a very narrow five-vote margin. The Senate failed to act on the measure before adjournment last August and, since that time, farm prices have continued to drop.

There is every indication that the vote on rigid price supports in the Senate will be very close. Should the Senate act favorably, many feel President Eisenhower will veto the bill. The President's decision may depend, however, on the importance he attaches to other provisions that are included in the same measure, such as his recommended soil bank program.

New Plans Considered

The action of the Senate Agriculture Committee is an indication of the efforts now underway in Washington to find an equitable and workable solution to the problem of falling farm prices and mounting farm surpluses. Legislation will undoubtedly be enacted in the not too distant future that is designed to give emergency relief. Many members of Congress realize, however, that such short-range approaches do not offer a permanent solution to the farmer's problems and that an imaginative long-range program must sooner or later be presented. They believe that such a program should be based on the premise that the welfare of the farmer has a wide effect on the rest of the economy and that the farmer must be assured of a continuing share of the national prosperity.

Open hearings are being conducted by the House Agriculture Committee at the present time on all farm legislation that has been introduced by Members of Congress. On Thursday of this week I will appear before the committee in behalf of farm legislation I introduced earlier in the session. Several other members of the Alabama delegation have scheduled appearances on the same day.

St. Andrews Plans Lenten Services

The Reverend Robert Y. Marlowe of St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Birmingham will hold regular Lenten services followed by instruction in the basic teachings of the church, each Thursday afternoon at 4:30 during the Lenten season at St. Andrews Mission. The first of these falls on Feb. 16. Everyone is, of course, welcome, and anyone interested in confirmation is particularly urged to come and make himself known, since a visit from the bishop is expected later in the spring.

A parish meeting was held Sunday afternoon after the 4:30 communion service for the purpose of electing two new members of the Board of St. Andrews Mission. Dr. F. E. Lund was elected to serve for three years and designated as Warden; Mr. Lou Carson was elected to serve one year in place of Mr. E. Marvin Smith of Calera, whose term has expired. The resignation of Mr. Norman Kent of Columbiana was accepted with regret. Mr. Frank Morgan continues in office. Miss Ethel Reasoner will also continue as treasurer, and Miss Honor Winer will serve as secretary.

The first meeting in 1956 of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Andrews was recently held at the home of Mrs. F. E. Lund. Officers for the new year are: president, Mrs. Florence Lyman; vice-president, Mrs. Alice Craig; treasurer, Mrs. Phebe Wills; and secretary, Miss Honor Winer. The program of the evening was a report from Mrs. Lund of the diocese meeting of the Women's Auxiliary which she attended in Mobile.

At the afternoon service on Sunday two beautiful new vases for the altar were blessed. They are the gift of Mrs. Florence Lyman in memory of Mr. Willis Lyman. They are designed to match the eucharistic candles recently given by Miss Anna Nabors in memory of Miss Emma Hunter.

The regular morning service will continue to be held at St. Andrews each Sunday at 11:00 o'clock. The communion service will continue as formerly at 4:30 p.m. on the second Sunday of each month.

The first grade has completed a unit on home and family life. Pictures and books were displayed and pictures of homes were made by the children. Furniture was made of cardboard and a house was set up on a table.

A cake was baked by the boys of the group. Later the group enjoyed eating the cake.

Redecorating their classroom is the project of the sixth grade. The group changed rooms a few weeks ago and decided to redo the woodwork. Doing the work was a committee composed of Jerry Killingsworth, Jimmy Popwell, Fred Williams, Jimmy Washington, Jimmy Brewster.

The elementary children showed much interest in Valentine's and celebrated the day in various ways. Parties were planned by the room mothers for the lower grades, while the upper grades did their own planning.

The sixth grade presented a play "Knight for Safety" at an assembly for the elementary departments. Taking part in the play were Alvin Brasher, Kenneth Leslie, Joyce Lee, Janice Milstead Kay Watts, Jean Busby, Dorothy Downs, Janet Franks, Linda Sanders, James Wheat, Johnny Scoggins, Claude Jones, Tommy Cost and Charles Fletcher.

Our Chapter Money

By James Alexander
Treasurer

In order to operate the FFA chapter efficiently it is necessary to plan ahead and anticipate the needed funds. The chapter begins in September each year to set up the annual program of work.

As activities are planned and agreed upon, a committee estimates the amount of money to be needed for each project and finally a budget is worked out for the year.

My job as treasurer is to get the money that is needed. The chapter has a truck which gives a small source of money. Each boy pays dues of $1.50, of which 25 cents remains with the chapter. The Study Club gave $5.00 to the chapter for our Christmas tree, the PTA gave $30 to build a walk at school and a committee sold ads for our special edition this week. Our chapter has approximately $100 to complete our activities. We plan to spend most of our money on equipment.

Last year our chapter spent most of its money on walks.

The entertainment committee reports good progress with the new Legion Band. They played their first dance Saturday night, Feb. 11 at the Armory and were complimented by all. The band is known as "The Legionnaires" and is composed of Betty Bucklin at the piano; Charles Smith, saxaphone; Joe Smith, guitar; John Dribnak, drums; and James Mahaffey, trumpet. We predict a bright future for this young group. Later on they will be available for school functions, civic organizations, etc. We wish to thank everyone who has attended our dances for their support in this worthy cause. Each dance brings us a little nearer to our goal—a home for the American Legion in Calera. We cordially invite everyone to attend our next big round and square dance Saturday, February 25 at the National Guard Armory.

Commander Cost is happy to announce that the Legion is now sponsoring an entrant in the oratorical contest to be held at the high school next Monday. The Legion also sponsors a flag education program to build a deeper love and respect for our flag; a junior baseball team that helps to teach the boys good Americanism and citizenship. The "Back to God" program with religious emphasis for children is also sponsored by the American Legion.

Traditional Dry Valley Is Now Wet

By Donald Davidson

The people of the Dry Valley community have cooperatively raised enough money to install a two-inch water main over a two-mile loop through the area. The people are helping install the pipe. Each Saturday a committee is giving free time to the project.

Running water available will cause many changes to Dry Valley. We are thinking many people will build new homes and will be able to expand enterprises in farming. We expect to see much expansion of poultry, hogs, cattle.

Dry Valley citizens certainly appreciate the help of the many different individuals and groups which have made the water line possible. We look to a greater future for this area.

Air Force Enlistments Open During February

For the first time in six months, the United States Air Force has opened wide the doors to voluntary enlistment. This was announced today by Sgt. O'Brien, local Air Force recruiter, and that new recruits can be enlisted locally during February.

Sgt. O'Brien stated that the new opportunities for training and service in the Air Force arise through the need to meet the 137-wing goal authorized last year by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Congress.

He said that local men enlisting in the Air Force in February would be sent to Lackland Air Force Base in Texas for the first phase of their basic training.

Full information concerning the opportunity for enlistment in the Air Force during February can be had by contacting Sgt. O'Brien at City Hall Bldg., Bessemer, or the post office in Montevallo on the first and third Thursdays of each month.

AS I SEE THE FFA

By Joe Allen

It was not until I came to Montevallo and started going on field trips that I really liked school. I have a lot of fun in FFA, going places and entering into the various activities, but I have also learned things I never thought of as being interesting to me.

CALERA BEATS MONTEVALLO

A smooth-operating Calera five defeated Montevallo a second time this season as they downed the Bulldogs Friday night 59-52.

Both teams got off to a cold start and the score at the end of the first quarter was 8-5, Calera. In the second stanza, Sydney Godfrey, center, hooked in four field goals to aid the Eagles in leading 27-16 at halftime.

Sparked by Frank Norris with 11 points in the third quarter and Pete Pickett with 10 in the fourth the Bulldogs staged a second-half comeback which fell seven points short at the final whistle.

As top point getter for the Eagles, Godfrey had 23 for the night. Wright Ingram and Ralph Thrasher had 10 each.

Norris, commanding both the boards, had 21 points to pace the Bulldogs. Pickett had 12.

Calera's "B" team took the preliminary game 25-21 as they downed Montevallo's B's for a second time also.

OUR FIELD TRIPS

By Douglas Jarvis

During my three years in vocational agriculture and FFA our group has been on many educational trips. The trip to the Alabama State Fair, which I am sure all members enjoyed, took the group through the agriculture building where members saw excellent exhibits. After seeing the exhibits, the group went to the cattle barn to see the different cattle and the judging of beef cattle. We also observed the judges at work with poultry, hogs, and sheep. The conservation building offered the interests after the lunch period.

Another interesting trip was to the Westinghouse plant where the boys saw the welding rod factory in operation. We anticipate that some of our boys might try for some of the jobs at the plant as they grow older and after graduation from high school.

FFA As I See It

By Johnny Greene

I started in the FFA last year at Montevallo. I had heard talk about FFA before I started, so I decided to take it. At first, I did not think I would like it, but as the year went on, I became very fond of it. We did a good bit of work, but we also had a little fun as we went along. We learned so many things it would take reams of paper to write all of them down.

The FAF not only takes farm boys into membership, but town boys as well. This is because it teaches all boys to be good citizens. I feel it a happy privilege to have been with the chapter

Calera Wins County Basketball Tournament

By S. DeMent

Paced by Wright Ingram with 28 points, the Calera Eagles won their second county championship in a row by downing Montevallo 53-36 in the finals of the Shelby County Tournament in Calera Saturday night, Feb. 18.

Calera Outscores Thompson

Calera's road to the finals was rough with both Thompson and Columbiana offering stubborn competition.

In the tournament opener, it was only in the final quarter that Calera was able to spread the gap to any sort of a comfortable margin over the fighting Warriors of Thompson.

Godfrey had 17 and Ingram and Thrasher each added 15 in the 56-48 victory. Outstanding for the losers were Jack Zuiderhook and Harold and Leonard Davenport.

Eagles Squeak by Shelby

The Eagles found Shelby County High even harder to handle than the Warriors as they squeaked by the Wildcats 56-53 with a last-minute surge.

With two minutes left in the game, the Shelby five held a one-point advantage. They attempted a freeze which Calera broke up. Then two quick field goals by Goree and Godfrey, and Calera was "home free."

Ingram and Godfrey scored 19 apiece for the Eagles. White had 15 as the losers' best; Sims and King, both playing good ball, added 11 each.

Montevallo Drops Vincent

On their road to the finals Montevallo passed Vincent handily 54-46, being able to use reserve power in the final quarter.

Vincent took the opening tip and Hatcher laid in two points. Norris, for the Bulldogs, quickly tied it up, and Burdett put them out front with a field goal. From there on the Montevallo cagers would not be topped. They held a 30-19 halftime lead.

Big Pete Pickett dropped in 22 points, six of which came at the charity stripe, and Norris had nine field goals and two free tosses to show the way for the Bulldogs. Hatcher with 20 and Bailey with 19 were the big point-makers for the Yellowjackets.

Shelby County Noses Out Vincent

Shelby County High nosed out Vincent 49-43 in a consolation match which preceded the finals. Wayne Sims had 18 points for the winners, and Barrenton 13 for Vincent as the game's top scorers.

All County Selection Made

This year's all county selection, made by the coaches, included Sydney Godfrey, Ralph Thrasher and Wright Ingram of Calera; Pete Pickett and Frank Norris of Montevallo; Wayne Sims and Joe White of Shelby County High; Jack Zuiderhook of Thompson; and Wayne Bailey and Frank Hatcher of Vincent. Winning the honor for the second year were Godfrey, Ingram, Pickett, Zuiderhook, Sims and Bailey.

Funerals Rites For Mr. E. H. Langston

Mr. E. H. Langston, 78, passed away suddenly at his home in Six Mile Tuesday, Feb. 14.

He was a native of Bibb County and a member of one of the oldest families to settle in this section. He was the son of the late Newton P. and Caroline Chism Langston.

Until failing health prevented, Mr. Langston was active in the civic and religious life of his community. He was a member of Six Mile Baptist Church and for many years taught an adult Sunday School class.

Mr. Langston is survived by his wife, Annie Lou Trott Langston; one son, John Langston of West Blocton; four daughters, Mrs. Calvin McKinney and Icelo Langston, Wilton; Furn Langston of Centreville; and Gladys Langston of Decatur; one grandson, Meren Langston of the University of Alabama; one brother, J. C. Langston of Centreville.

Last rites were held at Six Mile Baptist Church Thursday, February 16. The Rev. Cecil Sewell, Bessemer, Fred Walker, West Blocton and Jack Hughen, pastor of the Six Mile church, officiated.

The many sympathetic friends and the beautiful array of flowers were a silent testimony of a good life, loved and respected and held in highest esteem by his many friends. By his courtge and endurance, his smiles, and his scriptural words of encouragement, he served his Master long after ill health prevented his active participation in his church.

Honorary pallbearers were Dr. W. E. Stinson, N. H. Langston, John Battle, George Ewing, Otis Woolley, Oscar McElroy, Bill Jones, Howard Merchant, Ed Russell and Clyde Wallace.

Interment was in Six Mile Cemetery.

Students Ready For College Night

With chants of "Golden Victory, Here We Come!" and "Purples Can't be Beat, Beat!", Montevallo is ready for the 38th annual production of College Night.

The three nights of music, art, drama competition staged by the entire student body, opens tonight Thursday at 8 o'clock.

It is then that the veil of secrecy that has surrounded the campus for four weeks will be lifted and the Purples and the Golds will present their productions for the thousands who annually come to Montevallo for this outstanding occasion.

Saturday night five out of state judges will hand down their decision and one of the chants will come true.

Presiding over the entire proceedings is the president of the Student Government Association, Miss Edna Jackson. She is the only student remaining neutral. Her duties make it necessary for her to confer with both sides.

The week end is also the occasion for the college's homecoming activities. Four class reunions will be held—1951, 1946, 1931 and 1906. The alumna-of-the-year, Mrs. Kapsoon Kim Lee, prominent Korean educator, will be honored at the Friday and Saturday night performances.

20 To Receive Confirmation

About twenty adults and children will receive the Sacrament of Confirmation when it is conferred at St. Thomas the Apostle Catholic Church in Montevallo. The ceremony, which will have as its celebrant the Most Rev. Joseph A. Durick, D.D., will take place on February 29 at 7:30 p.m.

Confirmation is a sacrament in which we receive the Holy Spirit and His gifts, are made strong and perfect Christians and soldiers of Jesus Christ. Confirmation gives us the Holy Spirit and His gifts more abundantly than Baptism; the latter being a sacrament of regeneration makes us children in Christ's family; the former gives us the grace to grow into strong and perfect Christians who will profess and defend courageously the Christian faith.

Bishop Durick is Titular Bishop of Cerbali, Auxiliary to the Bishop of Mobile-Birmingham, and director of the North Alabama Catholic Missions of which the Montevallo church is a part. A native of Bessemer, he was consecrated a bishop in March, 1955.

A reception will be held in the church hall after the ceremony to greet the Bishop. The public is cordially invited and welcome to both the ceremony and the reception.

Frank P. Samford, president, in reporting to the stockholders, has pointed out that during the year the company passed the billion-dollar mark in insurance in force and closed the year with total insurance in force of $1,044,493,167. He also pointed out that the assets at the end of the year amounted to $186,105,071.11 and that the policy holders' surplus was increased from $16,465,362.49 to $18,740,052.47.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

* * *

My old friend Joe Brady, down in Alabama, tells about a neighbor of his who borrowed a copy of Ben Franklin's Autobiography one day. A week later, when the book was returned, Joe asked his neighbor how he liked it.

"First rate," the farmer said. "That fellow Franklin has got a lot of my ideas."

Most farmers I know have got a lot of good ideas, too. One good idea, for instance, is the Tree Farm program. It's a fairly young idea, as ideas go — it started in 1941. In just eight years, the program spread from coast to coast. During those years, more than 1600 farmers joined the movement to save our forests — and this brought more than 17 million acres of trees into the Tree Farm plan. That's enough lumber to make all the newspaper pulp that American papers could use in 75 years.

Out my way, farmers and woods owners like the program. I belong to it. Many of my friends do, too. The idea is to stimulate the interest of private land owners so they can find ways to get the best tree production out of their forest lands. Members include farmers who own less than ten acres, as well as the owners of large industrial forest farms.

It's good to have all these people in the plan, 'cause farming is farming, whether you live in Saskatchewan or South Carolina. Most farming is a mixture of work and fun — even if you're only raisin' Cain.

'Course, I wouldn't want to live on a farm if I couldn't have some pets — 'specially dogs. A farm just ain't a farm without a dog or two. Not long ago I even though of buying a bloodhound. But a newspaper ad sort of scared me off. The ad read, "Bloodhound for sale: beautiful, gentle, good watch dog. Will eat anything and especially fond of children."

If you've got a dog on your farm, you've got to take special care of your trees. Dogs love trees — everyone knows that. Old Betsy, my hound dog, looks up at me when I'm trimmin' trees, with the saddest eyes that seem to tell me to be extra careful. I try to tell her that I'm not cutting 'em all down, just pruning some of them. Trees grow better, I tell her, if the crop trees are pruned while they're young. I select these when they're in the sapling or pole stage, and saw off the lower limbs. It helps me identify them. I can pick out the non-sawing trees to harvest for posts or poles.

Betsy sort of likes this idea of trimmin' special trees. Nowadays, she looks up at the branches and knows right where she buried her bone.

So long folks. See you next week!

All kinds of greens can be used in salads—young, tender mustard, endive, watercress, spinach leaves, dandelions, and beet tops add variety to tossed salads.

WEEK OF DEDICATION

For several years the Methodist Church has set apart a week for special emphasis on the dedication of life and time and talents and substance to the Lord. We have called it the Week of Dedication. There attaches to it no greater obligation to be wholly the Lord's than that belonging to any other week. It does furnish opportunity for a united church-wide appeal to Christian dedication.

Montevallo Methodists were reminded of that obligation Sunday, February 19 by a stirring address by Dr. Festus Cook, well-known Alabama layman.

Dr. Joseph Owen, pastor of the church, will seek to climax that emphasis with two messages on Sunday, Feb. 26. The theme at 11 a.m. is "A Disappointed Lord" or "Is Christ Disappointed in Our Lives?" At 7:30 p.m. the subject will be "The Disturbing Presence" or "Is Christ Always Welcome?"

Congregations have been large on recent Sundays. You and your friends are invited to hear these messages.

Miss Anna Belle Williams of Vance, S. C., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cooper from Wednesday until Monday.

Miss Vance, better known as "Miss Anna Belle," a retired missionary, celebrated her 80th birthday recently. After receiving her higher education at the Methodist Training School in Nashville, Tenn. (now Scarritt College), she went to Japan for social evangelistic work. During her stay of more than 30 years her experiences were many and varied.

As the threat of war became serious she was ordered back to the U. S. in the spring of 1941 and worked with the Japanese on the West Coast until after Pearl Harbor when she was transferred to Rohwer, Ark., to work with Japanese evacuees. After 2½ years she returned to Walnut Grove, Calif., and served a church with no pastor until 1951.

Since her retirement she again lives in her home town of Vance with a sister, Mrs. T. J. Hart. Still active in church work, she has time for her favorite hobby of visiting missionary friends scattered far and wide.

While in Montevallo she was guest speaker at the Wesley Foundation Sunday evening. Her talk was inspirational and most interesting. At noon Sunday she was a dinner guest at Alabama College.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The President's veto of the Harris-Fulbright natural gas bill was the top news item in Washington last week. This measure, passed by the House in the last session and by the Senate only this month, would have freed natural gas producers from federal regulation. These producers had become subject to such regulation only recently as a result of the U. S. Supreme Court's decision in the so-called Phillips case.

Highly Controversial

The advocates of the highly controversial Harris-Fulbright bill argued during its debate that federal regulation was not only uncalled for but, if imposed, would destroy the necessary incentive for future natural gas exploration. They also argued that competition among independent producers would be relied upon to protect natural gas consumers. Those who opposed the measure argued with equal vigor that competitive economic forces in the natural gas field are practically non-existen or at best weak, and that federal regulation is necessary to protect the consumer.

By only six votes (209-203), the House of Representatives passed the natural gas bill before adjournment last year. I was among those in the House who felt the consumer would not be adequately protected by this legislation and therefore I voted against it. Senate action on this measure, deferred until the present session of Congress, got underway in January.

Case Bombshell

In the closing days of Senate debate on the Harris-Fulbright bill, Sen. Francis Case (R., S. Dak.) disclosed to the full Senate that he had rejected a $2,500 campaign contribution from a lawyer interested in the passage of this legislation.

Although this disclosure prolonged the Senate's debate, the bill was passed on February 6 by a 53-38 roll call vote. The following day the Senate unanimously adopted a joint resolution setting up a Select Committee to investigate the campaign contribution offered to Senator Case.

President's Veto

After approval by both the House and Senate, it was the concensus of opinion on Capitol Hill that the President would sign the Harris-Fulbright bill. Early last week rumors began to circulate that a Presidential veto might be forthcoming. On Friday, these rumors proved to be well founded.

In vetoing the natural gas bill, President Eisenhower denounced the "highly questionable" and "arrogant" activities used in lobbying for it. He said that he did not believe he would be discharging his duty if he approved the measure before these activities had been fully investigated by the Congress and the Department of Justice.

The President said, however, that legislation conforming to the basic principles of the bill was needed. But he added that any new legislation "should include specific language protecting consumers in their right to fair prices."

Mixed Reaction

Reaction to the President's veto was mixed. Some members of Congress criticized his action, others praised it, and still others, primarily Republicans, remained silent. A substantial number believed the veto indicated the President would seek a second term. All agreed, however, that the number of votes necessary to override a Presidential veto were not available and that no further attempt would be made during this session to pass similar legislation.

HEART DISEASE IS STATE'S LEADING CAUSE OF DEATH

The State Health Department said today 468 of this number came from the white population, while the remaining 221 deaths were Negro deaths.

A provisional report of the department's bureau of vital statistics revealed that three of the November heart deaths occurred in Shelby County.

White sheets will lose their brightness more quickly if they're washed with colored clothes.

Alabaster Council Hears Hugh Locke

The Alabaster Citizens Council met Friday, Feb. 24, at 7:30 p.m., with the Honorable Hugh Locke of Birmingham as principal speaker. Also present were other distinguished visitors, including the Honorable Handy Ellis and Attorney Rabren of Columbiana.

Mr. Locke delivered a very forceful and comprehensive address is in which he used biblical history as being the basis of the position he has always taken in regard to integration. His address was most convincing to the seven or eight hundred people attending this meeting that something should be done in regard to the serious threat that is being made upon our Southern way of life.

Mr. Locke stated that any organization being organized for the purpose of defending our Southern traditions should at all times use peaceable and legal tactics for the purpose of upholding our State Constitution. Attorney Rabren also stressed the importance of an orderly organization and refraining from any violent methods.

The next regular meeting of this council will be held in Alabaster at 7:30 p.m. Friday, March 9. All present members and all other persons who become members prior to that date are urged to attend this meeting as the purpose of the meeting will be to elect permanent officers.

Home Ec. Students Study Nursing

How to be a good home nurse has been the goal of the members of the Home Economics II class at Montevallo High School for the past two weeks while they studied home care of the sick.

The unit was begun by a brief survey of prevalent diseases in the community that are causing absenteeism in the school.

The girls then studied the responsibilities of the home nurse in caring for a patient. Some of the duties are: ability to recognize symptoms of illness, routine to be followed in putting a patient to bed, the taking of temperature, the giving of medicine, bathing a patient, making a bed with a patient in it and feeding the patient. These were taught through demonstrations and practice by the students.

The class made a study of the types of diets that a patient might need and ways of making the food attractive to the sick person. Exhibits of colorful and attractive trays were set up as examples of inexpensive ways in which food for the sick can be made appealing.

The arrangement of the home medicine cabinet was demonstrated and decisions were made as to what medicines and medical supplies should go into a medicine cabinet. Several of the students have planned the rearrangement of their home medicine cabinets as a home experience to follow up class work in home care of the sick.

Several students expressed interest in the nursing profession and have learned that the wise homemaker will be prepared when sickness strikes.—Margaret Hollingsworth, Student Teacher.

Dixie Days Up North at Maytag

Confederate flags waved, the band played "Dixie" and Rebel caps were much in evidence as what is believed to be the largest trainload shipment of appliances ever destined for the South left the plants of The Maytag Company at Newton, Iowa, recently. The 70-car Dixie Special carried over a million dollars worth of Maytag appliances to supply dealers in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi for the Operation 64 Maytag Mad Marathon throughout the Maytag Southeastern Company's three-state area scheduled for March 1, 2 and 3. Maytag General Sales Manager Claire Ely was at the throttle. The shipment climaxed a three-day Dixie Days celebration in Newton during which the entire production of Maytag plants was slated for Maytag Southeastern. Dixie Belle Connie Nieuwsma (left) curtsies to a Rebel snowman in front of Maytag Plant 2, where automatic washers and dryers are manufactured. The Confederate snowman contrasts the climate at the origin of the record shipment with that at its destination. During the Dixie Days celebration proclaimed by Newton's mayor, The Hotel Maytag coffee shop served a Dixie Days Special, featuring Southern Fried chicken and black-eyed peas. A Newton businessman gets his order (right) as Hotel Manager Fred Pulver exudes Southern hospitality.

Many New Fabrics Foretell Gay Spring

This spring promises to be a gay one with the many lovely fabrics that are available to the seamstress. The Montevallo High School Home Economics Clothing I class are finding that cottons are again rating high on the list for favorites in spring wardrobes and the majority of the girls have chosen one of the many colors of cotton broadcloth for either a skirt or blouse of their ensemble, which they are making in class. These colors range from the lightest pink to the darkest purple.

One of the newest cottons is a lightweight nubby weave which is crease resistant. Edith Edfelt has chosen this fabric in a turquoise blue for her blouse. Another favorite is chambray which will fit into anyone's wardrobe. Brenda Thomason has chosen a pink chambray blouse with a colorful printed skirt for class experience.

The girls have studied how to select cotton fabrics that are suitable, how to read labels critically, and what fabric tests may be made in the store before the fabric is bought. They have learned to look at the fabric carefully to see whether or not the yarns are smooth and woven closely together and to see whether or not starch has been added to make the material appear heavier than it is.

The magazines are featuring cotton prints this spring, especially in oriental designs. Keeping in step with fashion Evelyn Roman has chosen a red flowered design for her blouse. Linens will have their biggest year, according to the Welek Fabric Corporation. In the Welek Fabric Catalog the girls have been admiring a variety of the new materials that are available for early spring wear. Welek shows that fashion is turning to the new lightened wools. Listed among these wools are flannels, floating gossamer wool crepes, impeccable knits, frothy tweeds, and tropic-cool worsteds.

Vincent Tops Montevallo In Tournament Play

By S. DeMent

The Vincent Yellowjackets topped Montevallo 41-37 in the opening game of the Fifth District Tournament in Birmingham on Wednesday, Feb. 22.

This rough, low-scoring event saw 20 fouls called against the Bulldogs and 25 against Vincent. As a result, over one-half Montevallo's points (21) came at the free throw line. The Yellowjackets had 15 charity points.

The Vincent quintet grabbed a quick lead which they never relinquished throughout the game. Score at the end of the first quarter was 12-4, Vincent. In the second stanza both teams scored 11 points, and at halftime Vincent still held their eight-point advantage, 23-15.

The Bulldogs, "cold as a wedge" in the first half, found a tiny spark after halftime intermission and came within one point of tieing the score late in the final quarter. But the gap proved too big for the Bulldogs to bridge as Vincent smothered the threat as time ran out.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By
Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

WHILE the matter is still before UN for settlement, Messrs. Khrushchev and Bulganin rush into Kashmir saying that that country is already a part of India.

Nehru agreed to a vote and no vote has been taken. The Kashmir question has not been solved and is still an acute issue before UN.

This renewed demonstration of communist use of the big lie technique should disqualify the Kremlin from any further voice in the affairs of Kashmir.

The action of Khrushchev and Bulganin was exactly as if two jurors should leave the conference room before a verdict had been reached and announce to the public that the decision had already been made in favor of the side they wished to see win.

Such action would cause a mistrial and a severe punishment of those who caused it.

Communist Russia is not entitled to be classified as a peace-loving nation and her presence should no longer be tolerated in UN.

Christmas Seal Sale Sets County Record

Shelby County TB Association officials report a record breaking sale of Christmas Seals for the 1955 season. The people of Shelby County have again shown their appreciation for the good work being done by Dr. Sloan and his assistants in combatting tuberculosis by contributing $2345.80 for Christmas Seals. Each dollar spent will be matched by an appropriation by the Shelby County Board of Revenue and Control.

The Shelby County TB Association extends thanks to the people of the county who have contributed to the success of this program.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

In recent weeks I have received numerous letters concerning the proposed revisions of the Social Security Act. Realizing that many others throughout the district may also be interested in social security revisions, I shall devote todays' column to this subject.

You may recall that in July of last year the House of Representatives passed a measure expanding social security benefits. Senator Harry Byrd (D., Va.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, to which the House-approved bill was referred, called for extensive hearings on the proposed legislation. As a result, Senate consideration of the social security bill was necessarily postponed until the second session of the 84th Congress. Hearings were begun by the Senate Finance Committee several weeks ago, and a host of witnesses have already testified in connection with this legislation.

If changes are made by the Senate in the House version of the bill, it will be returned to us for further consideration. If not, it will be sent directly to the President for final approval or disapproval.

Provisions of House Bill

As passed by the House of Representatives, the bill lowers from 65 to 62 the minimum age at which women can qualify for social security benefits. It also lowers from 65 to 50 the age at which totally disabled workers can become eligible.

Under present law, benefits received by disabled children are discontinued after they reach the age of 18. The House bill would continue these benefits if total disability had occurred before the child's eighteenth birthday.

The House bill would also broaden social security coverage, extending it to most professional groups (doctors excluded). About 90 per cent of the working population is now covered, and, under the terms of the new legislation, coverage would be extended to an additional 250,000 workers and their families.

To pay for these expanded social security benefits, the payroll tax paid by workers and their employers will be raised by this legislation from 2 per cent to 2.5 per cent during 1956. By 1975, the rate for both groups will rise to 4.5 per cent. For self-employed persons now paying a 3 per cent social security tax on their income, the rate will be raised by three-fourths of 1 per cent.

Food Stamp Amendment

A number of suggested amendments to the House bill are being considered at the present time by the Senate Finance Committee. The most publicized of these amendments is the food stamp plan that has been proposed by Senator Robert Kerr (D. Okla.). This plan would make it possible for persons getting various forms of state aid to also obtain surplus food commodities.

The original Kerr proposal is now being revised to include surplus fibers as well as foods. Under this revised plan, stamps could be exchanged for manufactured fiber products, such as cotton clothing, as well as for items of food.

Those eligible for stamps under the Kerr proposal would be persons receiving assistance through the following state-administered aid programs: (1) public assistance, (2) unemployment compensation, (3) old age assistance, (4) aid for dependent children, and (5) aid for the blind and handicapped.

Whether the Kerr amendment or other amendments to the House bill will receive favorable consideration is a matter of conjecture at this time. However, there is every indication that a measure expanding social security benefits and coverage will be passed before the adjournment of the present session of Congress.

Soil Conservation District News

By B. F. Hatchett and Geo. C. Starcher

Payne R. Mathews, Summer Hill community, has asked for an SCS design for a 12-foot dam to create a farm fish pond. He placed his 10-acre farm under agreement with the district.

R. V. Robertson, plan number 784, owns 80 acres on the south slope of German Hill, near Columbiana. He had SCS workers make a preliminary survey for a 300-ft. dam about 12 feet high that will make an unusually good lake. This hollow is very long, and deep water can be held over a large proportion of the proposed lake.

The newly constructed Hoyt Stephens dam has developed a leak that lets water escape through the drain pipe. It seems the pipe must have been disjointed or crushed while the dam was being built over it. At present the pipe is being uncovered to locate the trouble.

Other newly constructed lakes, like R. M. Lester's at Lester's Chapel, and Frank Harwell's at Westover, have filled and are free of troubles.

The dam constructed by Co-operator W. L. Lawler, Calera, is filling even better than expected. This pond is one where trouble is expected, but is not yet evident.

Only two requests for terracing have been received by work unit technicians. It is hoped that more cooperators will ask help in developing complete water disposal systems. Latest methods assure more satisfactory systems with better row alignment.

Formal draperies should be full enough to fold in softly and long enough so that they just touch the floor.

T. R. Nash Seeks Reelection To Board

Mr. T. R. Nash of Siluria has announced for re-election as a Member of the Board of Revenue and Control of Shelby County. He has held this office for the past 32 years, and his public service in this respect has been a great force in the accomplishment and maintenance of good government in Shelby County.

Few men in public life have served as long and as well as Tom Nash. It is certain, in our opinion, that the people of Shelby County can not hope to find a better man for the job. We consider his re-election a foregone conclusion.

Liberty National Ins. Invests in Shelby County

Mr. John A. Hines, Jr., of Alabaster, having mortgage loan connections with Liberty National Life Insurance Company of Birmingham, has released some interesting figures relative to the mortgage investments in Shelby County of that company.

According to Mr. Hines, the company invested in Shelby County during 1955, the sum of $24,000.00 and now has 20 loans for a total of $121,000.00 so invested.

He stated that this investment of funds was in line with the policy of Liberty National of making investments in those communities and areas from which it collects its premiums. These loans made by the company in Shelby County were primarily for the purpose of assisting people to own their own homes and most of them were made available by FHA and VA loan plans.

Mr. Hines is happy to advise that the policy of Liberty National of investing funds in Shelby County will be continued right on through the coming year. He suggested that any person seeking financing for the purpose of buying or building a home or in connection with the financing of a centrally located commercial property should feel free to call on him for advice and information relative to procedure.

Drive Is Launched To Control Rabies

Alabama health authorities, livestock owners, conservation groups and sportsmen's clubs have launched a drive to meet the problems of rabies and destruction of farm stock and wildlife by wild and stray dogs and rabid foxes, says H. A. Pauly, president of the Shelby County Farm Bureau.

Objectives are the protection of human beings from a horrible disease; the conservation of wildlife, and the reduction of economic losses to livestock. Sheep and calves are especially vulnerable.

Two working committees have been designated to study the overall problem and to make recommendations on specific phases.

1,591 GET BENEFIT CHECKS

During the month of December, 1,591 persons in Shelby County received benefit checks under the federal old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act, according to J. W. Overstreet Jr., District Manager of the Birmingham social security office reports. These benefits are payable because these persons had protection under the socitl security law. This protection has now been extended to farm operators wh omay qualify for benefits as early as the middle of 1956, depending on their age and type of crop produced.

Requests for information regarding tax return forms and tax due should be directed to the District Director of Internal Revenue. Questions concerning benefit payments under social security should be directed to the social security office at 1825 First Avenue North, Birmingham.

Calera Wins Second Place In Junior Tournament

After getting off to a slow start in the first quarter, the Eagles came back to roll past the Vincent Yellowjackets by a score of 28-15. Thomas and Ingram led the Calera team, with Thomas hitting for 10 and Ingram 9.

Playing their second game of the tournament, the Eagles downed Wilsonville in a thrilling game that went into overtime. In the overtime period, Walter Ingram scored a basket with five seconds left to play and when Wilsonville got the ball it was too late to do anything with it. The Eagles won by the score of 27-25. High point man for the game were Edwards and Ingram, scoring nine points each. Tempton was high for Wilsonville with nine points.

Bulldogs Down Eagles

The Bulldogs came through after a hard fought, heartbreaking game. Due to the lack of height, the Eagles had to stand by while Potts of Montevallo pumped in four field goals to lead the Bulldogs with eight points. The best for Calera was Killingsworth with six. Final score was Montevallo 20, Calera 15.

Ford Wins at Stock Car Racing "Olympics"

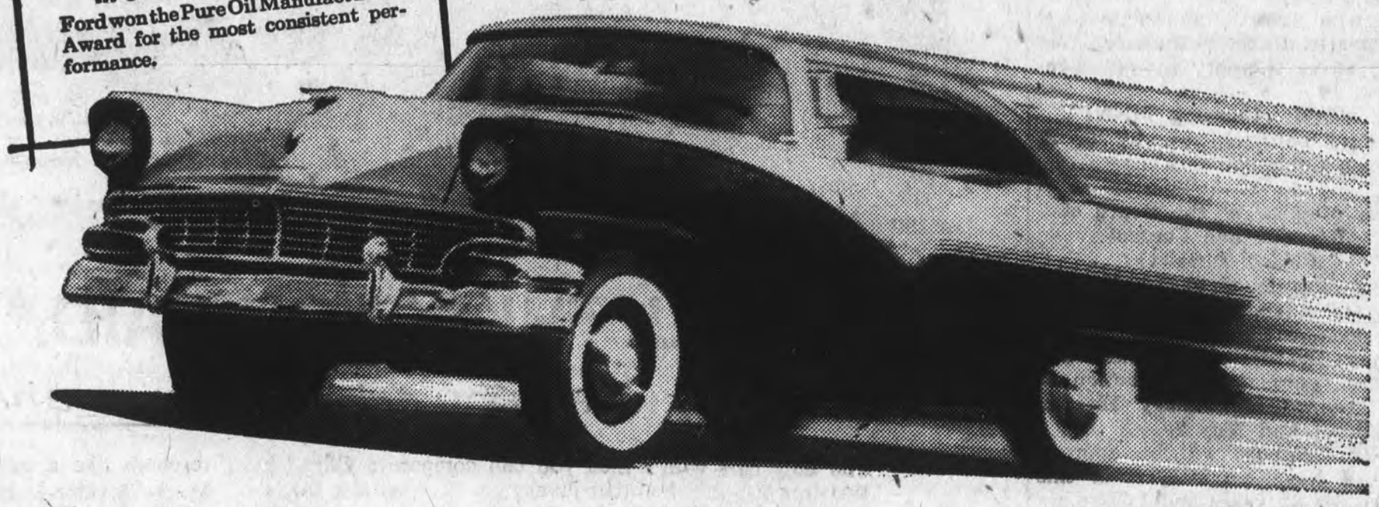

HERE'S FORD'S RECORD AT NASCAR'S DAYTONA BEACH NATIONAL SPEED WEEKS

FIRST
In Sports Car Acceleration
A Ford Thunderbird set a new record for American production sports cars.

FIRST
in top speed—class 4
A Ford "Six" took top honors in the Flying Mile for Class 4 American production passenger cars!

FIRST in
160-mile Convertible race
Ford V-8's took 1st and 2nd place in the National Convertible Championship Race.

FIRST
in over-all performance
Ford won the Pure Oil Manufacturer's Award for the most consistent performance.

The Ford V-8 again showed its taillight to all competitors in the "Olympics" of stock car racing at Daytona Beach, Florida.

In blazing across the finish line Ford demonstrated once more the sizzling performance that keeps it the largest-selling V-8 in the world. No other car in the field could match Ford for getaway "git" . . . for straight-away acceleration . . . for all-around road-ability. To see exactly how the other cars trailed behind Ford, see the chart at the top of this page.

One of the secrets of Ford's performance is the tremendous torque (wheel turning power) developed by Ford engines. For example, Ford's new 225-h.p. Thunderbird engine develops more torque than any other engine in the low-price field. This means quicker response, smoother running in the kind of driving you do! Just nudge Ford's accelerator and whoosh! You pass in instants when instants count!

Ford now offers this mighty 225-h.p. engine with any Ford Fairlane or Station Wagon model with Fordomatic. What's more, these engines are coming off the assembly lines right now! So why wait? Come in today for a Test Drive. Find out for yourself about Ford performance. Find out why Ford is the V-8 with the biggest following!

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

WHEN United States law maintains prices above the world level, it destroys our export markets. A generation ago we were exporting 10 million bales of cotton a year. With far more people in the world last year our exports were around 2 million bales. The high price of American cotton has stimulated cotton-growing in many countries throughout the world.

If we had not interfered with the free market in cotton, those producers able to compete with world prices would continue to grow cotton and those unable to do so would have transferred their energies into some more profitable occupation.

By maintaining a high price for cotton, we have destroyed our foreign markets, tied up nearly $1.7 billion in loans or ownership of cotton, and very soon many of those engaged in producing this commodity will have to change their occupation because of the loss of markets.

Instead of helping the cotton farmer, government intervention is forcing his retirement from that field of activity. It would have been far better to have found ways of meeting competition than to have priced ourselves out of the market. We have practically destroyed our export markets and can now count on but little more than domestic demand.

We now have enough cotton on hand to supply domestic needs for a year and a half, and are adding to the surplus every year. Government intervention has, as always, proved to be a very costly failure.

Patsy Carden Is Winner In 4-H Club Projects

A young lady of whom the Calera 4-H Club is very proud is Patsy Carden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Carden. Patsy has been in 4-H Club work for five years and has taken sewing for five years and foods for four years. In her foods project she has won from her school in consecutive years first place in the biscuit making contest, the roll baking contest, and the corn meal muffin making contest.

In her clothing project, she won from her school in the apron contest, and first place in the junior dress making contest. In the county she won third place in the blue ribbon group. For this achievement she received four yards of gingham at the 4-H Club Rally. She used this material to make a skirt and blouse.

This summer Patsy made several cotton dresses which she has worn to school this year. She is working on some straight skirts for the winter.

4-H Club Record Takes Peggy Wood To Chicago

The Calera 4-H Club has good reason to be very proud of one of its members, Peggy Wood, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wood of South Calera.

Peggy has been a member of the club for six years and during that time she has taken several different projects which include sewing, foods, home improvement, personal improvement, poultry, and frozen foods. She has completed all her projects and has won awards for several. They are a poultry award, talent contest, local dress revue. However, her most outstanding achievement is her frozen foods project. Her record was so outstanding that it won the state contest for frozen foods. As a reward for keeping such excellent records, Peggy went to Chicago to the National 4-H Congress. This trip will always be numbered among the highlights of her life.

IN CITY TRAFFIC where tensions usually mount, Chrysler's cat-like flexibility brings a wonderful sense of calm. And those admiring glances confirm your judgment that this is America's biggest fine car buy.

THEY'LL THINK YOU PAID $1,000 MORE

when you drive the year-ahead car!

The only cars with which you can compare a Chrysler Windsor V-8 are the other luxury cars . . . because that's what the Chrysler Windsor V-8 is. But you can own this car for the cost of a medium-priced car! And at this price, it simply defies comparison.

Take the way it handles in city traffic. Something quite wonderful happens. Instead of feeling tense, you're utterly relaxed—thanks to Chrysler's full-time Power Steering System and a host of other brand new Chrysler exclusives. You're handling a big, powerful car that responds like a mind reader. It does the work for you.

Your Chrysler is beautifully balanced between the forward thrust of its mighty airplane-type engine and the most powerful brakes in the industry. This car flows!

Yet, if you can afford any car in the medium-priced field, you can afford to step up to a Chrysler Windsor V-8. Compare its year ahead new-car features with the other leading cars in its price class. We think you'll agree that it looks and acts like a car that costs $1,000 more than it does!

Bulldog Baseball Prospects Are Fair

By S. DeMent

Montevallo High School's baseball picture has a few bright spots, but on the whole the outlook for the season is only fair, according to Coach Theron Fisher, as practice got underway this week.

Graduation took a heavy toll from last year's Shelby County championship team as six of the starting nine were seniors. Lost through graduation were Ray Winslett, catcher; Joe Anderson and Lee Woolley, pitchers; Jamie Houlditch, second baseman; Marshall Nannini, third baseman; C. D. Galloway, shortstop; and R. L. Anthony, outfielder.

All three returning regulars, James Alexander, Doyle Burdette and Ed Hicks, are in the outfield this year and seem to have the situation in that area well in hand.

Coach Fisher, in building an entirely new infield, has two or three prospects for nearly every post; but at present those showing most promise toward gaining starting positions are Lewis Knowles, catcher; Ronald Smitherman and Pete Pickett, first base; Wayne Phillips, second base; John "Tinker" Underwood, shortstop; and Leroy Winslett and Bill Lee at third base. Pete Pickett and Ronald Smitherman will probably be called on for most of the mound duty.

Last year the Bulldogs had a 12-2 record for the regular season, losing once to Calera and once to Centreville. In the district play-off, Montevallo downed the Tuscaloosa Black Bears in the first round of play, only to be defeated by Woodlawn in the finals of that meet.

Homemakers Plan For Hobo Day

Homemakers! Saturday, March 17, has been declared Hobo Day by the Montevallo chapter of Future Homemakers of America. This project has been undertaken by the chapter members to earn money to be applied on the electric sewing machine which the FHA purchased recently for the high school home economics department.

On Hobo Day, March 17, FHA girls will meet at the high school home economics department at 8:00 o'clock dressed for work. They will be assigned to jobs which will have been scheduled ahead of time with citizens and homemakers of Montevallo and surrounding communities. The girls will do any odd jobs including baby sitting, cooking, ironing, washing windows, cleaning floors, raking leaves, and other homemaking jobs.

Pat Waters, chairman of the committee in charge, announced that ways will be provided for girls living outside of Montevallo to get in to work if necessary.

Anyone desiring help from the FHA members may call the high school home economics department at 6791 or Pat Waters at 6281.

CALERA CITIZENS COUNCIL

Girls Scout Week Is Being Observed Here

Montevallo, as every town and city in the U S A, is observing National Girl Scout Week. The committees, the leaders, the Brownies, the Girl Scouts, and all others connected with the movement, are redoubling their efforts to continue a good, wholesome and enjoyable Girl Scout program.

Today there are more than two and a half million Girl Scouts in the United States learning to enjoy their own skills and talents and to be ready to meet big and little problems ahead. Each girl is important for what she is, rather than who she is or what she does. Each girl learns to take responsibility and to be an active citizen in a girl-sized democracy.

Camp life teaches a girl to live happily out of doors on her own resources. Girls are partners with adults—their leaders guide, rather than dictate.

Membership is voluntary—the entire organization is directed by volunteers. Some 600,000 men and women have tremendous jobs in Girl Scouting. They are busy people with problems at home and in business, but somehow they find time to teach young people that there is fun and adventure in living, and that "duty to God and country" has as much, if not more meaning today than it did half a century ago.

The Girl Scout Promise

On my honor I will try:
To do my duty to God and my country,
To help other people at all times,
To obey the Girl Scout laws.

The Girl Scout Laws

1. A Girl Scout's honor is to be trusted.
2. A Girl Scout is loyal.
3. A Girl Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others.
4. A Girl Scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout.
5. A Girl Scout is courteous.
6. A Girl Scout is a friend to animals.
7. A Girl Scout obeys orders.
8. A Girl Scout is cheerful.
9. A Girl Scout is thrifty.
10. A Girl Scout is clean in thought, word and deed.

Band Presents Spring Concert

On Wednesday evening, March 7, the annual spring concert of the Montevallo High School Band was presented in Palmer Hall. Due to illness, Mr. Victor Young, director of the band was unable to conduct the concert. The band was fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mr. Lamar DeLoach, director of the high school band at Clanton. Mr. DeLoach did an excellent job of directing the concert. During intermission Arthur Garrett, president of the band, presented him a pair of cuff links on behalf of the band members in appreciation for his interest and help.

Besides the band numbers, four specialties were presented: Saxophone Scherzino by Haydn Voxman, played by Sara Jeter, Judy Wallace and Sally Broadhead. Brass quartet: Pavis Angelicus by Franck-Stube, trombones, Arthur Garrett, Don Johnson and Jimmy Seagle; bass, Johnny Lemley. Woodwind quintet: Air from "Water Music Suite" by Handel, flute, Gibbie Scott; oboe, Sigrid Lund; clarinet, Kitty Stancell; French horn, Mavis Bridges; bassoon, Mary Thornton. Them Basses March by Huffine, presented by Johnny Lemley and Jimmy Knowles.

Ushers and other helpers the night of the concert were Clara Young, Jane Nichols, Phyllis Kyser, Brenda Allen, Fay Tillery, Phyllis Wooley and Jo Lyn Appleby. Fathers assisting were Messers. Arthur Garrett, Sr., Guy Milford, Denson Elliott, M. Thornton and B. W. Hamric.

The Montevallo Band had bought an electric toaster to be presented to Mr. Young at the concert but due to his absence it was delivered to his home.

Calera Civitans Hear Red Cross Chairmen

The Calera Civitan Club met Monday night at Pearl's Cafe for the regular meeting with 18 members and two visitors, Mr. Sam Pearson, chapter chairman of the Red Cross Drive and Mr. McClure, fund chairman, both of Columbiana, as guest speakers.

During their talks, they gave some of the important work the Red Cross is and has been doing, and emphasized the need of liberal contributions. They stated that the quota for Shelby County is $4,860. Calera's part is $650.

The Club accepted the responsibility of sponsoring the Red Cross drive. Mr. Roy Downs gave a report on the bright possibility of a new industry in Calera. He also made a report on the need of a high school band and uniforms.

After the report of Mr. Downs, the Club voted to sponsor a carnival and to earmark the funds received from it to be used toward buying uniforms for the band.

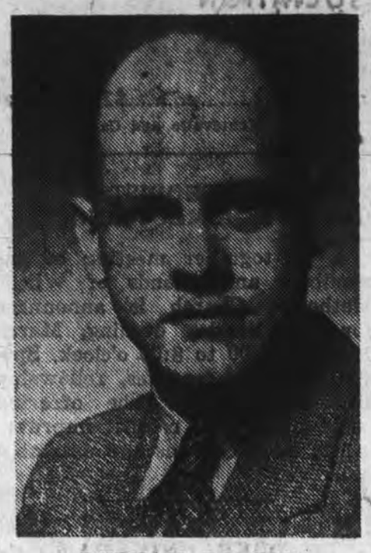

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Mr. Tommie Lawrence.

THREE MAKE ALL-STATE

Three Montevallo High School students, Arthur Garrett, Denny Elliott and Sara Jeter recently received word that they were placed on the All-State Band roster.

Arthur was placed in the third trombone section of the Red Band; Denny in the third cornet section of the White Band, and Sara in the second saxophone section of the White Band. The festival bands are ranked Red, White, and Blue in descending.

The All-State Band meets in Tuscaloosa in April.

For an evening of fun and laughter, come out and see why life is so exciting in the Ozarks.

What happens when Ma Peppin and Pappy Stilsby have the mountain nitwit write off to the "weddin' buree" for mates will keep you laughing. The plot thickens as every stranger who ventures into the hills is mistaken for the expected mates from the "buree."

Industrial Council Discusses Survey

The March meeting of the Shelby County Development Council was held at Wilsonville Monday night. Present were M. S. McGehee, chairman; Pete Givhan, Jimmie Harrison, J. T. McDow, Wales Wallace, S. S. McEwen, Gray Strother, Jiggs Reeder and Warren Findley.

An industrial survey of Shelby County by the State Planning Board was discussed. It seems the County Board of Revenue has agreed to finance the project, but they want each of the ten towns of the county to participate in the cost, which is estimated at $1000.

It was indicated that Calera will contribute $50 to the project, and Mayor Wallace said that Columbiana has voted to give $50. Helena has indicated it may give $25.

Such a survey by the Planning Board would serve as a good basis for the Shelby County Development Council to pursue its objective of locating additional industries in the county.

Mr. Givhan advanced the idea of having an annual dinner with "Shelby County Day" as the theme. Tentative plans for the promotion of the idea were made. Alabama College at Montevallo was selected for the site if the plans can be worked out.

All members present were in agreement on the "Shelby County Day" idea. Membership goal for the day was set at 500.

Some means of getting better attendance at the meetings of the council was discussed. Mr. Wallace's idea was to get the county newspapers to give more publicity to the council, its meetings, its plans, purposes, etc.

The next meeting of the Council will be held April 17 at the Calera Cafe.

Finest ride of all RSD SUSPENSION

Biggest Engines 6's-V8's

Fastest-Ratio CRUISING AXLE

GMC brings you the most impressive improvements of all 1956 trucks

Now we can show you these great new GMC's that are further than ever ahead of all others. Their advances not only clinch power supremacy—but reach into fields still unexplored by other truck-makers.

An optional new fast-ratio cruising axle in light-duty GMC's gives you an overdrive's pace and economy without its cost.

Sharply increased engine displacement in both sixes and V8's gives you a power family unsurpassed in the light-duty field. Specifically, we offer 14.4% GREATER displacement on 6-cylinder models, 16.2% on V8's than our nearest competitors. And GMC V8's, mind you, match the shortest stroke ratios in the truck industry.

Styling is well into the future—panoramic windshield to sand-tight tail gate. Tubeless tires, of course. And a 12-volt electrical system is standard.

These are some of the strides presented in new 1956 Blue Chip trucks we now have on view. The values are even more notable. Come in and get the facts!

*Standard on Suburban; optional at slight extra cost on other ½-ton models

American Brake Shoe provides funds for college scholarships to outstanding students to help them prepare for a career. Metallurgical engineering is the choice of this young man. At fourteen leading schools, others like him are getting an education with the help of Brake Shoe (30 recipients this year). They are following courses of study of their own choice, with no obligation to work for us when they graduate.

What does Brake Shoe get out of this? At plants in the United States and Canada, we make many different products, ranging from parts for railroads to vital components for aircraft engines, and we need new men with trained minds to keep these plants going. Schools and colleges have always been a good place to look for them. Also, if our scholarships help to provide educations for talented young men, Brake Shoe and all industry will benefit. The important thing is to provide educational opportunity for young people of talent.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Last Sunday evening I had an opportunity to present my views on Alabama's current racial problems to an estimated television audience of 75,000 in the Washington area. I appeared on Station WMAL-TV as the guest of Joe McCaffrey, well-known Washington news commentator.

Although my time was limited, I explained briefly the tremendous progress that had been made by the Negro race under the South's traditional system of segregation, pointing out that this had been done with the help of Southern white people and with a minimum of strife.

Present racial tension in the South, I said, results directly from the Supreme Court's decision on segregation and the constant prodding of the NAACP and other determined integrationists.

Left alone, I told Washington television viewers, the responsible leaders of the South will continue their efforts to work out in peace and harmony a satisfactory solution. But prodded by the NAACP, an organization now bitterly resented by the majority of the people of Alabama and the South, tension will probably increase rather than diminish.

Although the television station reported to me the day following my appearance that they had received some unfavorable comment from individual members of the NAACP, the mail I received in my office has been most favorable. For example, a lady who stated she was a native of Minnesota wrote, "Everything you said made sense . . . I agree wholeheartedly."

If presented the facts concerning racial problems in the South, I am convinced the people of other sections of this country will be more sympathetic and less critical. Unfortunately, I am afraid they are not getting the true picture at the present time.

House Votes Funds

Members of the House of Representatives approved last week the third and fourth major appropriation bills for fiscal year 1957. One of these measures includes funds for the Labor Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; and the other appropriates funds for the various independent offices of the government.

For the Labor Department's functions in the next fiscal year, which begins July 1, 1956, the House granted a sum of $380 million. This is nearly $41 million less than the President requested in his budget and $40 million below the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare's share is approximately $1.9 billion, which is $23 million under the budget request and $77 million less than the 1956 appropriation. Unless increased by the Senate, the Hill-Burton program will be the recipient of $111 million for the construction of hospitals and medical facilities.

The combined amount of $2.3 billion allowed both these departments and their related agencies is $116 million less than they received for the current fiscal year.

Independent Offices

Funds appropriated by the House for the independent offices total $6 billion and will be divided among 18 governmental agencies. The largest share, $4.7 billion, goes to the Veterans Administration. During consideration of this measure, the House voted to continue in effect the present requirement that federal civil service employees must retire at age 70. A proposal which would have prevented any compulsory retirement solely because of age was rejected.

Compared with 1955, the House is ahead of schedule on its appropriations legislation. Four major money bills have already been passed. and sent to the Senate, while last year at this time no appropriation measures had received House approval.

FFA BOYS ATTEND OPRY

On Saturday, March 3, twenty-seven agriculture boys attended the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville.

M. Thornton, ag teacher, M. S. McGehee, W. J. O'Neal and R. E. Reid chaperoned the group.

Band Members Give Downtown Concert

On Saturday prior to the Montevallo High School Band concert a group of the band members under directorship of Arthur Garrett formed a sidewalk band and gave concerts morning and afternoon in downtown Montevallo.

The Montevallo Band members wish to thank all those who helped them have a successful spring concert.

IT'S A FINE THING to have the "welcome mat" out for a new factory on opening day. But it's not enough! A community's long-range industrial growth and prosperity depend on sincere and continuing hospitality to industry, long after the welcoming committee has gone home. This is a job for all of us in the South today.

The steady, year-by-year expansion of existing industry is impressive proof that the job is being done. Southern industries are getting an honest day's work for a fair day's pay... understanding acceptance of technological progress, which ultimately creates still more jobs... honest, stable, friendly state and local government and fair tax treatment... efficient. dependable rail service.

With all of us doing all we can to welcome new industries to the South and to keep them happy in their new home, the Southland will continue to grow and prosper. And all in the South will benefit!

Work will begin at 7 o'clock and continue to 4:30 p.m. Please bring picnic lunch, drinking water, tools for work on the chapel and in the cemetery. The ladies are asked to bring shrubs and plants and flower seeds.

Thereupon the commission adopted the following resolution:

CARL R. JONES' HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

The home of Carl and Bonnie Jones was completely destroyed by fire Thursday night, March 15. The home was located two miles south of Calera.

The family was away from home at the time and nothing was saved. They have six children, five boys and one girl. The oldest child is 12. Those wishing to donate clothes, money, furniture or any household item may do so, and it will be greatly appreciated.

Stay Out of the Firemen's Way!

It is notable (and very much annoying) that many people continue to persist in putting themselves and their automobiles in the way of the Montevallo Volunteer Fire Department when a fire alarm is sounded.

This is a dangerous practice, besides being a hindrance to the firemen in the performance of their duties. Somebody is going to get hurt if it is not stopped.

People generally should realize that the best help they can give at a fire is to STAY AWAY FROM IT.

We have a law that imposes on drivers of automobiles the duty of pulling over to the curb and stopping when the fire alarm is given and STAYING THERE until the firemen get on the job and get away with the fire truck. Instead, it seems that most people would break their necks to get to the scene of the fire ahead of the firemen and thus clutter up the area and hinder the firemen instead of helping them.

If this practice is not stopped, somebody is going to land in court charged with willful violation of the law and interfering with the fire department. Then somebody will get mighty mad, perhaps. If a wreck happens in one of these wild rushes and somebody gets killed, then you will be mighty sad.

The public interest simply can not tolerate the reckless behavior of many people who are unreasonably interfering with the operations of our fire department. It must be stopped.

We urge the public to give serious thought to this matter and to voluntarily yield to reason that will avoid the dangers that are unnecessarily and unwisely created by the manner in which many persons rush out to a fire when they should stay away.

Just wait a few minutes—then go if you want to. But leave the way clear long enough for the firemen to get going without danger to themselves and other people. THEY HAVE TO BE IN A HURRY TO GET TO THE FIRE — YOU DON'T.

P. D. D. Pendleton Receives Citation

Phillip Dudley Diggs Pendleton retired from the United States Mail Service on February 29, after a period of loyal, faithful and efficient service as rural mail carrier at Montevallo since April 16, 1926, a period of thirty years.

Attesting his good service, the Post Office Department issued to him a certificate of Honorary Recognition. This award was officially presented to Mr. Pendleton Tuesday morning of this week at the Montevallo Post Office in the presence of members of the office personnel, Mrs. Pendleton, and the Mayor of Montevallo.

Carl Edfelt, successor of Mr. Pendleton on the rural route, opened the presentation ceremony with prayer. Postmaster Morris Watson made a few remarks, reviewing the years of service rendered by Mr. Pendleton. The citation by the Post Office Department was presented to "P.D" by the Mayor.

"Post Office Department. Honorary Recognition is accorded to Phillip D. D. Pendleton for devotion to duty in the course of an honorable career in the United States Postal Service.

"This citation tendered upon the occasion of retirement from active duty, conveys official commendation from the Postmaster General and a cordial expression of esteem from coworkers in the service.

"Issued at Memphis, Tennessee, on February 29, 1956."

AMERICAN BRAKE SHOE CO. DECLARES DIVIDEND

American Brake Shoe Co. declared a quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share on the common stock, payable March 31 to stockholders of record March 23. The regular quarterly dividend of one dollar per share was declared on the preferred stock.

Local Industry Executives Speak at Business Women's Club Meeting

Sidelights and insights into what makes industry tick in Shelby County were given at the Tuesday night program of the Business and Professional Women's Club in Reynolds conference room. Miss Josephine Eddy, program chairman, presented three business men as speakers, Mr. M. S. McGehee of Alabama Power Co., Mr. J. D. Freeman, manager of the Calera Plant, American Brake Shoe Co., and Mr. E. H. Turnock, in charge of the research division of the Westinghouse Montevallo plant.

Mr. McGehee told of the organization and plans of the Shelby County Development Council, which is collecting the kind of information about the county that prospective industries will want. He spoke of the importance of the character of the community itself—its friendliness, the attractiveness of the streets and places of business, good schools, churches, housing, citizens who are "boosting" the community—as factors in determining whether the place may be selected by an industry seeking a location.

Mr. Freeman gave a very interesting account of the history and organization of the American Brake Shoe Co., and the particular work being done at the Calera plant. After several years of research and testing, which resulted in a new and improved steel wheel, Calera was chosen as the site for producing this new product. He said that the American Brake Shoe Co. manufactures 10,000 different items that are used by many different industries all over the United States and in several foreign countries.

"Sound citizens" are the resource that an industry looks for first in seeking a location for a plant, says Mr. Turnock. It is the human resource, to fill the labor supply need, people who are ambitious, willing to learn and "to be a part of the team" that makes it possible for the "key people" who come in with a new factory to make a success of the enterprise.

Mrs. Jessie McGaughy, BPW president, presided. The hostesses, Mrs. E. P. Hood and Miss Ollie Tillman, served nice refreshments at the end of the program.

JACK OWEN

Jack Owen Seeks Re-election to PSC

Public Service Commission President C. C. (Jack) Owen has opened his campaign for re-election with a prediction of "overwhelming victory" because "my record of nine years service to the people speaks for itself."

Owen has been president of the Public Service Commission since 1950 and has served on the Commission since 1947. He is a candidate to succeed himself in the May 1 Democratic primary.

"The people of Alabama know that I have rendered fair and impartial service for the best interests of all our citizens during the nine years I have been a member of the PSC," Owen said.

"I have given Alabama an efficient, business-like administration in the Public Service Commission and will continue to do so. The record speaks for itself. I am sure that Alabama voters will again register an overwhelming vote of confidence for this impartial administration by re-electing me in the May 1 primary."

Owen was first elected to serve as associate commissioner on the PSC in 1947 after returning from duty in the Armed Forces during World War II. He was re-elected in 1950 but resigned to accept an appointment as President of the PSC. Two years later, in 1952, Owen was elected to a full term as president of the commission.

Bibb County Citizens Council To Hold Rally

Saturday night, March 24, at 7:30 the Bibb County Citizens Council will have a rally at the National Guard Armory in Centreville.

Senator Sam Englehardt, executive secretary of Association of Citizens Councils, will speak on the "Purpose of Citizens Councils."

Rev. George Cheek, pastor of Alabama Avenue Presbyterian Church, Selma, will speak on "Segregation and the Christian Religion."

Judge Hugh A. Locke, Sr., of Birmingham will speak on "State Sovereignty and Its Meaning to the South."

Mr. C. E. Hornsby, Jr., chairman of the Bibb County Citizens Council will have charge of the program.

S. S. McEwen Heads Cancer Crusade

Appointment of S. S. McEwen of Wilsonville as Shelby County chairman of the American Cancer Society crusade in April was announced today by Dr. Festus M. Cook of Montgomery, Alabama state chairman.

"The American Cancer Society is indeed fortunate to have such outstanding leadership in its 1956 campaign in Shelby County," Dr. Cook said. "I am confident that, with Mr. McEwen as county chairman, this county will have an outstanding campaign this year."

The annual crusade of the American Cancer Society will be held in Alabama and throughout the nation during the month of April, which has been designated by an act of the national Congress as "Cancer Control Month." The purpose of the campaign is two-fold: to alert the public to the cancer problem and spread information regarding cancer's seven danger signals, and to raise funds for support of the cancer society's three-point program of education, research and service.

Report from Washington.

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Presented to both houses of Congress on Monday of last week was a joint declaration of constitutional principles. This document was signed by 19 members of the Senate and 82 members of the House of Representatives. Senator Walter George, dean of the United States Senate, read the statement to that body and Virginia's Rep. Howard Smith presented it to the House. The entire congressional delegation from Alabama signed the historic document.

The declaration declared "the decision of the Supreme Court in the school cases as a clear abuse of judicial power." After pointing out that the unwarranted exercise of power by the Supreme Court is creating chaos and confusion in the states principally affected, the signers pledged themselves "to use all lawful means to bring about a reversal of this decision which is contrary to the Constitution and to prevent the use of force in its implementation." At the same time an appeal was made in the declaration "not to be provoked by the agitators invading our states and to scrupulously refrain from disorders and lawless acts."

Although those who signed the manifesto constituted less than one-fifth of the membership of the Congress, many of these men hold positions of extreme importance and power in both the House and Senate. Eight chairmen of the House's nineteen standing committees were among those who signed in the House of Representatives. Senate signers included the chairmen of nine of the Senate's fifteen standing committees.

The psychological effect of this document will, in my opinion, be both far-reaching and important.

Excise Taxes Extended

Present exicse taxes on cigarettes, liquor, special motor fuels, automobiles and gasoline will continue for another year if the Senate approves a bill that was passed by the House last week. This measure, passed by a vote of 366 to 4 in the House, also extends until April 1, 1957, the current corporate income tax. Both of these taxes were originally levied during the Korean War and have been extended several times since.

Should these tax reductions go into effect next month as scheduled under the present law, the government would lose approximately $3 billion in annual revenue, and there would be no hope of balancing the national budget during the next fiscal year.

The House-approved bill continues corporate income tax rates at 30 per cent on the first $25,000 of earnings and 52 per cent on the remainder. Under existing law, they are scheduled to drop to 25 and 47 per cent respectively on April 1.

Tax Changes Sought

The House Ways and Means Committee, which is responsible for writing tax legislation, reported the excise and corporate income tax extension bill without a dissenting vote. At the same time, it was revealed that a Ways and Means subcommittee has drafted about 70 proposals for excise tax revisions. The purpose of these revisions is to eliminate certain inequities and to simplify administrative details without changing existing rates.

Of course, the subcommittee's proposals must first be approved by the full Ways and Means Committee before a bill containing the recommendations can be presented to the House for consideration.

Catholic Church Plans Annual Easter Services

The annual commemoration of the sufferings, death and resurrection of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ will be held as usual at St. Thomas Catholic Church, Montevallo, during Holy Week and on Easter Sunday.

A revision in the Holy Week liturgy has been made both regarding the time and parts of the ceremonies themselves. These changes which were announced a few months ago by Pope Pius XII were made in an effort to re-emphasize the traditional Christian approach to these services and to give working people a greater opportunity to be present.

In commemoration of the Last Supper and the institution of the Holy Eucharist Mass and Communion of the faithful, and procession of the Blessed Sacrament will take place Thursday night, March 29, at 7:00 o'clock. Solemn services of Good Friday including Adoration of the Cross, Holy Communion, and solemn prayers for the needs of humanity will begin at 3:30 p.m. The Mass of the Resurrection is scheduled for Easter morning at 11 a.m.

Visitors are invited and cordially welcome to attend and join in the praise and worship of Our Suffering, Crucified, and Risen Saviour during this most solemn season of the church year.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By
Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

THE technique of the big lie was never more blatantly used than by Premier Bulganin and party boss Khrushchev in their recent propaganda tour of India and Burma. In Rangoon, Bulganin said:

"We in the Soviet Union believe in the principles of equality and self-determination enunciated by Lenin."

How much self-determination did the people of Tibet have when their ancient country was ruthlessly subjugated and added to Communist China? How much self-determination did the people of Esthonia, Latvia and Lithuania enjoy when these nations were destroyed and the people enslaved? How much self-determination do the people of East Germany have who are denied a free vote on the question of German unification? This same question might be asked in connection with a score of nations that have been annexed in full or in part by communist imperialism during the past sixteen years. As for equality, there is less of it behind the Iron Curtain than elsewhere.

Why the people of India, where hunger and poverty abound, should have been compelled to foot the bill amounting to millions of dollars to roll out the red carpets, strew the flowers and provide the luxuries for these two representatives of the world's most cruel tyranny and the greatest menace to peace, self-determination and material and spiritual well-being, is beyond comprehension. In Calcutta alone where death by starvation is commonplace, press reports indicate that at least a quarter of a million dollars was expended for the lavish display accorded the two Soviet bosses.

Calera Beta Club Goes to Convention

Accompanied by their sponsor, Mr. Akridge, the Betas left Calera Friday morning with anticipation of an entertaining week end. Arriving at their hotel, the Thomas Jefferson, they immediately unpacked and hurried downtown for a quick snack before registration.

Having registered, the party had some free time in which to take in a movie, go shopping, or relax before going to the Tutwiler for the get-acquainted party which took place from 4 to 5 o'clock.

After dinner the group attended the talent show in which many of the clubs participated.

Following the talent show, the Betas retired to their hotel to get plenty of rest for the big day ahead.

After an early breakfast, the group departed for Phillips High School to attend the second general session and to cast their votes for the new officers. The results of the election were announced at the third general session Saturday afternoon.

The highlight of the convention came Saturday evening at the Beta banquet and ball. At the banquet toasts were given to the Beta sponsors and the boys and girls. The new officers were installed at the banquet also. Following the banquet there was a ball in the ballroom of the Tutwiler Hotel.

Mr. Luke Washington entertained with a banquet Tuesday night, March 20, for the Montevallo football team at Luke's Drive-In in Montevallo. 29 people enjoyed the occasion.

Arthur W. Cooper Receives Degree

It may interest the present Montevallo High School students to know that former student here, Arthur Wiggins Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cooper, was awarded the Ph.D. degree in agricultural engineering at graduating exercises held at Michigan State University on March 15.

Arthur, whose headquarters are at Auburn, is assistant to Dr. Nichols who has charge of all Tillage Laboratories in the United States. The Tillage Laboratories are research units for the Soil Conservation Service in farm machinery and soil conditioning.

Arthur has been stationed at Michigan State for one and one-half years while studying for his doctor's degree and will now return to his post at Auburn.

Dr. McKibbon, in charge of Soil Conservation Service for the federal government, requested Arthur to come by Washington to discuss plans for his future work at Auburn.

Due to arrive in Auburn on Wednesday, Arthur was delayed because of traffic conditions caused by snow storms in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Downs, Deegee and David spent the week end with Mrs. Myra Downs at Hodges.

PANCAKES

2 cups plain pancake mix
1 cup PET Evaporated MILK
1 cup water

Put pancake mix into a mixing bowl. Stir in slowly a mixture of milk and water. Do not beat until smooth, as overbeating toughens pancakes. Using ¼ cup batter for each pancake, pour onto a lightly greased griddle or into a heavy skillet. Bake until bubbles appear and edges are cooked, then turn and brown on other side. If desired, serve with syrup and crisp bacon or browned sausage. Makes 16 four-inch pancakes.

IS THE TIME...

(Before everyone else wants it done!)

NOW—while the weather is cool—is the time to check your window air conditioners to be sure they will give you the comfort you expect of them next summer. While you can clean or replace clogged or dirty filters yourself, oil the motor if required, remove dust and lint from all parts (inside and outside) and see that nothing interferes with the air passages (such as draperies or furniture), it would be well to have a qualified electrician check the motor and wiring.

Air conditioners are built to operate on a certain amount of electricity. If the wiring isn't large enough they won't get sufficient current to operate satisfactorily, and the motor may be damaged. And if fuses are inadequate for the "load," they will "blow" as a safety measure. Your electrician will gladly check these factors for you, and make proper recommendations.

If new wiring is needed for your present window units or those you plan to buy, it would be well to have it done NOW before the hot weather rush.

To assist you in this, Alabama Power Company will gladly finance the cost, which may be repaid in 24 monthly installments with your light bill. For detailed information about this popular plan, mail the coupon at the left, inquire at our office or ask your electrical contractor.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

A GROUP of skilled UAW workers are pointing out that the wage differential between skilled and unskilled men in that industry has shrunk from over 100 per cent before World War II to less than 35 per cent now. We are not sure of these figures but the leveling tendency which always accompanies collectivism in any form is well known. Skill is less rewarded while mediocrity receives more. There is less inducement to work hard and develop one's abilities, and more temptation to slide along with the least amount of effort.

When the price is on the job, there is little incentive. When a man's earnings depend upon himself, his skill, his strength, his personality and his mental abilities, incentive calls forth his best efforts. That's why individualism succeeds beyond men's dreams while collectivism or socialism, government intervention, regulation of any kind tending to suppress individuality and reduce men to a common denominator, greatly retards output and causes decline in the scale of living.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

Folks in our part of the country like the story about the time the French ambassador visited Teddy Roosevelt. Tryin' to entertain his guest, the President invited him to play a game of tennis. They played two sets. Then the President suggested a sprint around the lawn. They sprinted. After that, they worked out with the medicine-ball. Finally Teddy Roosevelt turned to his guest. "What would you like to do now?" he inquired.

"If it's all the same to you, Mr. President," the ambassador said, "I think I'd like to lie down and die."

Well, sir, if you're ever lookin' for exercise, I hope you'll come down and visit me while I'm limbin' the trees I've harvested. Limbing is a real art. I find an axe works best on the small limbs, but I use a saw for the bigger ones. 'Course, it takes practice to do the job right. If the tops of saplings have been pinned down by the falling tree, it's a job for a man who knows what he's doin'. If he's not careful when he cuts the sapling, it may swing back at him with a wallop.

By the way, did you hear about the city feller who started rollin' his own cigarettes, just because his doctor told him he needed more exercise?

I've been fixin' up my log road lately, too. Since most of us woodsmen or farmers go into the woods year after year to bring out wood for home use as well as for sale, it's a good investment to keep the roads in shape.

The four and six wheel trucks most of us use in the woods can travel over a fairly rough road without much trouble. And they can go up a 10 or 15 per cent grade without falterin'. But on tight corners, a truck can be troublesome. Seems to me a curve should have a radius of not less than 80 feet. Don't you agree?

Roads are useful in many ways. One of the best, to my way of thinking, is for holdin' parades on. They held one down at the junction last week. I was watchin' it from Mercy's house. As the parade came by, I looked around and saw that Mercy wasn't there. "Where's Mercy?" I asked.

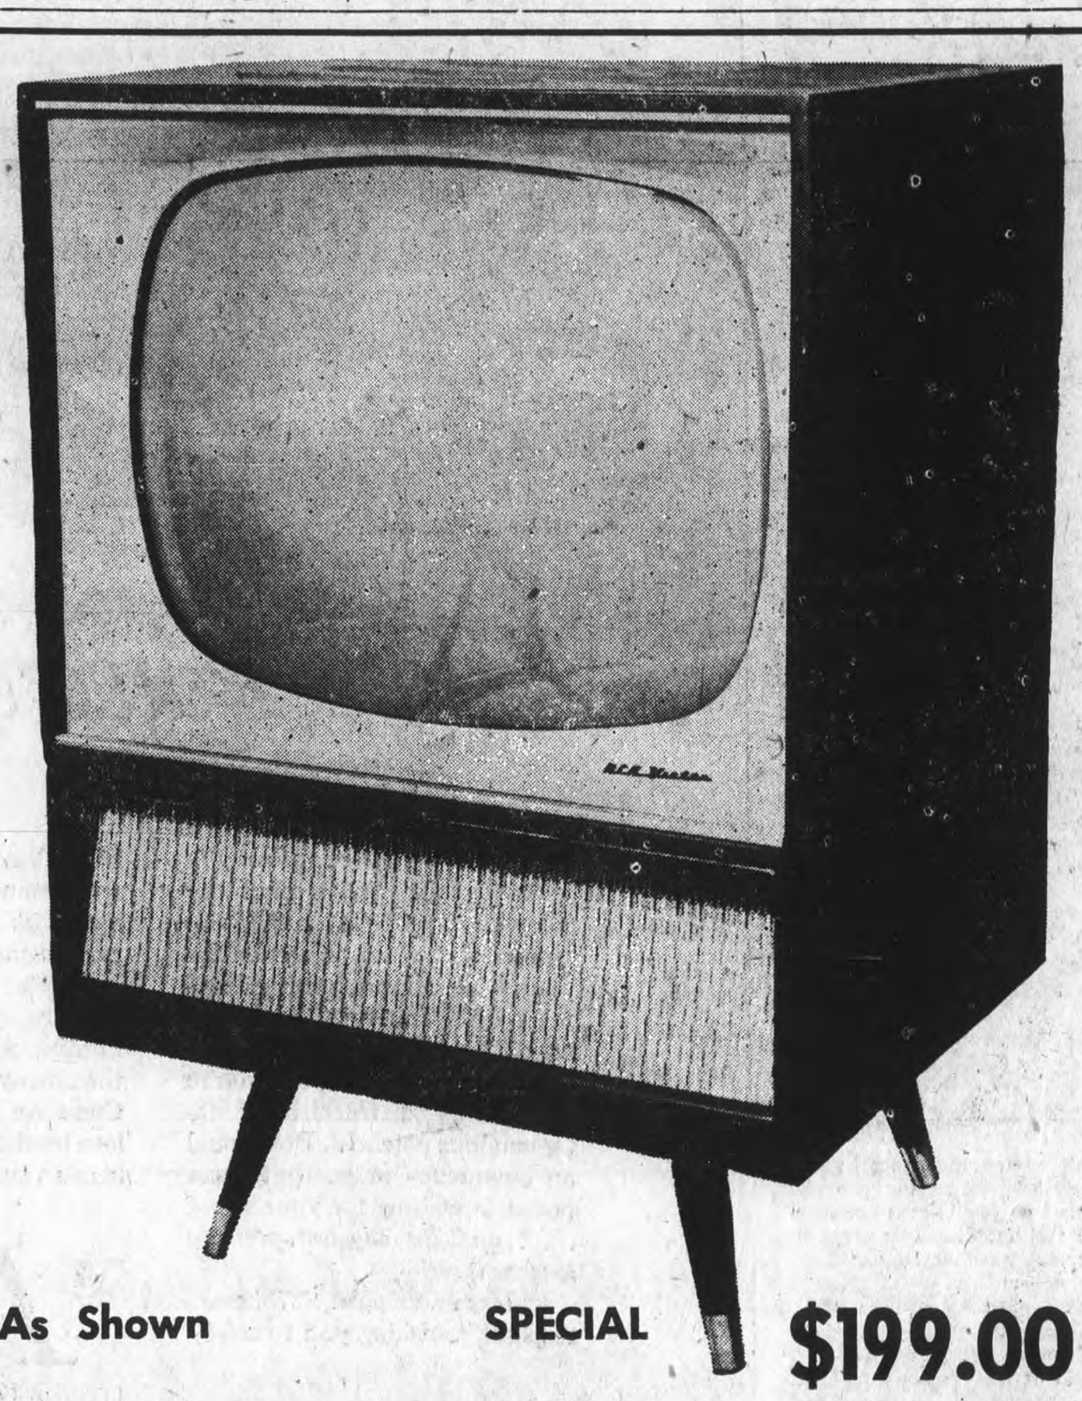

"Upstairs, wavin' her hair," someone said.

"What's the matter?" I asked. "Didn't nobody bring a flag?"

CHRYSLER SWEEPS SPEED WEEK

Repeater-Champion Tim Flock, of Atlanta, Ga., wheels his Chrysler 300B past the checkered flag in heavy rain to win the Grand National Stock Race at Daytona Beach. The first place gave Chrysler a clean sweep of NASCAR Speed Week events. Earlier, Flock won the National Speed Trial Championship with an average speed of 139.373 mph, and took pole position in the race-qualifying heat. Vicki Wood, Detroit mother of three, drove the 300B to the Women's National Speed Trial Championship. This was the second consecutive year in which Chryslers swept Speed Week events. The 300's were sponsored by Kiekhaefer outboards of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin.

Alabama Academy of Science To Hold Annual Meeting in Montevallo

More than 200 scientists from Alabama and the South will attend the 33rd annual meeting of the Alabama Academy of Science at Alabama College Friday and Saturday, March 30 and 31.

Nearly 400 Alabama high school science students will attend meetings of the Alabama Junior Academy of Science for the same two days.

Registration will begin at 8:00 a.m. Friday in Comer Hall.

The first general session at 9:30 a.m. Friday will feature a welcome address by Dr. F. E. Lund, president of Alabama College and a symposium on the improvement of science teaching in Alabama. Symposium chairman will be Dr. William T. Wilks of State Teachers College at Troy.

Dr. John R. Mayer of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Washington, D. C., will describe the Association's teaching improvement program.

The annual Academy Dinner will be held Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Anna Irvin Hall with the Birmingham Division of E. H. Sargent and Company as hosts. Dr. Ralph L. Chermock will deliver the annual presidential address entitled: "Our Dwindling Resource: The Scientist".

Friday afternoon's agenda calls for meetings of the eight sections of the Academy.

Members of the industry and economics section will present a symposium before the Montevallo Rotary Club on Thursday evening, explaining the needs and work of the Academy.

Other highlights of the two-day meeting will include a display of exhibits by the Junior Academy and the annual business meeting on Saturday morning.

Co-chairmen of the local arrangements committee are Dr. Paul C. Bailey and Dr. Gid Nelson of Alabama College.

Dr. Bailey is editor of the Journal of the Alabama Academy of Science, an annual publication of papers and proceedings of the Academy.

Housewives Should Be Prepared for Kitchen Fires

Grease fires in the kitchen need not spread very far or inflict painful burns if the housewife takes certain safety measures.

Dr. D. G. Gill, state health officer, said today that grease fires in or on the stove usually startle the housewife. But if she has prepared earlier to handle such emergencies, she can act deliberately to control the fire.

Such a fire which starts in the oven of the stove, for example, can be stopped simply by closing the oven door and shutting off air from the blaze. For a grease blaze on top of the stove, baking soda or salt can be used to sprinkle the fire. The soda, especially, forms a cloud and tends to shut off the air supply, Dr. Gill explained.

The state health officer cautioned against using such items as flour and meal. Such material is highly combustible, and may cause an explosion, he pointed out.

IN MEMORY OF MARION JONES

Words can not express our true feeling when we have lost a friend or loved one. Truly we can say the county has lost a loyal citizen, the church has lost one of its most faithful members, her children have lost a beloved mother, and we have lost a friend.

But our loss is heaven's gain. The calm, confident, reassuring voice comes to us this Easter season: "He that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die."

Marion is not dead. She will continue to live in the hearts and minds of her friends as long as they themselves live.

Few weeks ago we never knew what the next few weeks would bring. We never knew that death would come and leave its sting.

We never knew that we would be without their pleasant smile. But death has knocked upon their hearts to linger there awhile.

We didn't know God needed them to make His throne more bright.

They made life as bright to us as the stars that shine at night.

We never knew, although He did, for He doeth all things well; and He knew that heaven was a better place to dwell.

We miss you.

Calera Planning Commission

On September 15, 1953 the Town of Calera entered into a contract with the State Planning Board, whereby the Town of Calera would pay the state a certain sum of money annually and the State of Alabama matches this amount. This contract was for the purpose of employing the aid of the State Planning Board in making plans and studies to help the city grow in a proper manner and to the best interest of the public.

Subsequently the Town Council created the Calera Town Planning Commission of nine members. The present members are Cecil Wells, chairman, Warren Findley, secretary, Sidney Bird, W. H. Crawford, J. L. Hill, T. W. Lawrence, Roy Downs, O. C. Farris, and J. W. Martin Sr., city building inspector.

The planning commission works with the Town Council and any legislation or acts adopted by the planning commission must be approved by the Town Council before they become law.

A zoning ordinance was ordained by the Town of Calera in July, 1954. This ordinance provides for establishment of districts and to regulate the height, size of buildings, the percentage of lot that may be occupied, the size of yards and other open spaces, the density of population, and the use of buildings and the land; and to provide methods of administration and penalties for violation thereof. A zoning map of Calera is a part of the ordinance and is filed in the office of the Town Clerk.

The system of having a builder or subdivider obtain a permit was adopted. The procedure for obtaining a building permit is as follows:

1. Obtain an application for a permit from the Town Clerk.
2. Upon completion of the application, return same to the Town Clerk, accompanied with $3 fee.
3. The application must also be accompanied with the plans and specifications or blueprints of the proposed structure. These will be returned after the planning commission passes on them.
4. The Town Clerk will then submit to the City Building Inspector, Mr. J. W. Martin Sr., the application and accompanying papers.
5. The Building Inspector will then consult with three members of the Planning Commission, together they will either approve or disapprove the application.
6. In case of approval, a certificate of compliance will be issued. If the application is disapproved, the concerned people will be notified.

The foregoing is published in the public interest at the request of Warren G. Findley, secretary of the Calera Town Planning Commission.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Rev. J. F. Goree will begin a revival at Belk, Ala., Wednesday, March 1. The pulpit will be filled by Rev. Leroy Anthony during his absence.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

* * *

A couple days ago, some of us were discussin' ways to raise more money for our country. A feller down the road came up with an excellent suggestion: tax every political speech made in this country.

His plan would take a lot of doing, but it would give us an opening wedge to reduce taxes. A wedge such as this would be important, just as wedges are important in the lumbering of big trees — the kind of trees they grow up in Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. Unlike taxation, however, a wedge used in timber work — following a saw cut — prevents pinching. It makes it easier to complete the cut. In felling trees, a wedge can be used to tip the tree in the desired direction. Maybe an opening wedge is just what we need — for timberin' or politickin'.

Many fellers use wooden wedges in the timber, particularly when they're working with soft woods. Wooden wedges are cheap, and they can be home-made. Hardwood is best: dogwood, ironwood, hard maple and beech. But wedges made from green timber don't stand up very well.

I find it's best to use a wedge that's been cut with a saw. It seems to work better than one shaped with an axe. The roughened surface left by the saw holds better. And it's good to use a wooden wedge with a chain saw. Since the wedge is apt to come in contact with the moving chain on the back, steel wedges would only damage the saw.

Sometimes, however, if you're workin' a crew in the woods, it's best to use steel wedges. A crew can split a heap of wooden wedges during a day. You can buy steel wedges from any saw dealer or you can have them made up in a blacksmith shop. I've found the best metal wedges are those that are left untempered. If you strike a tempered steel wedge with a tempered steel sledge, the wedge is apt to spall and the flyin' fragments can be dangerous enough to send you to your doctor.

Speakin' of doctors, I knew one once who put a pretty girl in a private hospital room 'cause she had a skinned finger. "She was too cute for wards," was the doctor's excuse.

Did you know that almost ten million acres of good timber were burned in 1953? That's enough wood to build houses for every family east of the Rockies. Still, this was the lowest forest fire figure since 1946, and that's a good sign.

My old friend Hank Leavitt, out in Sacramento, Calif., wrote to tell me that a pal of his was worried 'cause his daughter had taken up with a new doctor in town. But Henry solved the problem. "There's one way to break it up," Henry told him. "Feed her an apple a day."

CIRCLE 1 OF WSCS

Circle 1 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Montevallo Methodist Church met Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Robert Holcomb with Mrs. Joe Doyle as cohostess.

Mrs. Stanley Mahan and Mrs. M. L. Orr, Jr., gave the devotional. Dr. Owen presented the program, "Ventures in Discipleship."

A delicious dessert plate and coffee were served by the hostesses.

Cows that produce less than 5,000 pounds of milk per year are of questionable value. A dairyman certainly ought to cull such animals if his herd average is above that figure.

For your next club meeting, serve olives that have been allowed to stand for several days with a small clove of garlic. They're delicious with cheese and crackers.

Dr. E. P. Miles, Jr., A.P.I., and chairman of the Physics and Mathematics section of the Alabama Academy of Science, will welcome guests to the joint meeting and preside over the symposium.

Another highlight of the Junior Academy meeting will be awarding of the General Gorgas Foundation Science Scholarships to outstanding high school science students.

More than 200 scientists from Alabama and the South will attend the 33rd annual meeting of the Alabama Academy of Science at Alabama College, Friday and Saturday.

Nearly 400 Alabama high school students will attend meetings of the Alabama Junior Academy of Science, scheduled for the same two days.

Executive committee members of the Senior Academy will meet with Academy President Ralph L. Chermock, University of Alabama, at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday. Registration for the meeting will begin at 8:00 a.m. Friday in Comer Hall.

The first general session, scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Friday, will feature a welcome address by Dr. F. E. Lund, president of Alabama College, and a symposium on the improvement of science teaching in Alabama. Symposium chairman will be Dr. William T. Wilkes, State Teachers College, Troy.

The annual Academy dinner will be held Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Anna Irvin Hall with the Birmingham Division of E. H. Sargent and Co. as hosts. Ralph L. Chermock will deliver the annual presidential address entitled "Our Dwindling Resource: The Scientist."

Friday afternoon's agenda calls for meetings of the eight sections of the Academy.

Meeting To Plan For Girl Scouts

Friday, April 6, at 3:15 p.m. at the Girl Scout Little House, there will be a very important meeting for the entire community, concerning the future of Girl Scouting in Montevallo.

It has been proposed that the Scouting activities here, instead of standing alone and continuing on a local basis, be linked with those of Jefferson County in a coordinated area council. Mrs. James B. Morgan, president of the Jefferson County council, and Miss Fehr Fowler, executive director of the Jefferson County Girl Scouts, will be in Montevallo on this date to explain to interested citizens what participation in a council would mean to the community as well as to the present and potential members of the Girl Scout organization.

It is urged that everyone make a special effort to attend the meeting. Arrangements are being made to take care of the children while the meeting is in progress. Parents, neighbors, businessmen, educators, clergymen, bankers, friends and everyone interested in the growth of the community are urged to be present.

Miss Carolyn Parks Is Honored With Tea

Mrs. Louis W. Burn was hostess Sunday afternoon at her home in Birmingham with a tea honoring Miss Carolyn Parks, bride-elect of Mr. Roy Armstrong.

Receiving were Miss Parks, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Louie Bailey, co-hostess, Mrs. R. L. Parks and Mrs. J. E. Armstrong.

Mrs. Herman Russell registered the guests.

A crystal swan with an arrangement of spring flowers centered the table. The over-all color scheme was pink, white and green. Thirty-three guests registered between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock.

Small Shipment of Polio Vaccine Received

Due to a shortage in the supply of polio vaccine the County Health Nurse has been unable to visit some of the schools to give first shots to the last eligible group—10 through 14 years.

A few hundred doses of vaccine have just been received by the Health Department and these schools will be visited by the nurse within the next two weeks.

Second shots for this age group may not be given in the schools during the present term unless considerably more vaccine becomes available.

The Health Department, however, will endeavor to keep some vaccine at the office at all times for giving second shots and to supply the physicians of the county.

One dose of vaccine gives a considerable amount of protection against polio but it is most desirable to get the second shot if possible.—Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

FFA Members To Choose District Champions

Future Farmers from 15 central Alabama counties will convene at Auburn Saturday to vie for the district championships in six FFA contests.

B. P. Dilworth, supervisor of vocational agriculture in Central Alabama, in charge of the contest, said that the farm youths will compete for the honor of representing their district in the state finals during the FFA convention in June.

Contests to be held include livestock and dairy judging, FFA quiz, radio and television program, string band and tractor driving.

More than 500 Future Farmers will participate in the six contests, Dilworth said. Counties to be represented are Macon, Lee, Chambers, Randolph, Clay, Tallapoosa, Coosa, Talladega, Shelby, Chilton, Autauga, Perry, Bibb, Greene, and Hale.

First and second place winners in each contest will be awarded chapter room pennants. Both first and second place winners in the livestock and dairy judging, tractor driving, FFA quiz and string band contests will represent the district at the state FFA convention.

We invite you to try GMC's great new RSD* ride

-makes roughest roads boulevard-smooth

IT'S A FACT—the new 1956 GMC pickups with exclusive Road Shock Damper Suspension give you a ride comparable to the finest passenger cars in smoothness.

Gone are jolting jounces, front-wheel slither, steering-wheel jitters. GMC's amazing RSD ride makes the roughest road boulevard-smooth—eliminates even the drumming from expansion joints on superhighways.

No longer need you slow down for rough going. Wheel-hop is ended. Travel is safer—steering easier—driver fatigue greatly reduced. And fragile loads are protected from breakage.

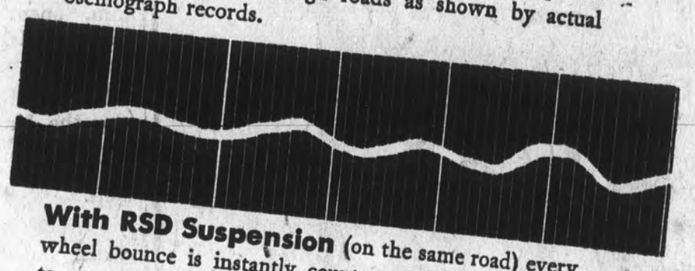

Only an actual ride can show you what a sensational improvement RSD Suspension is. We invite you to try it—over the roughest road you know. Come in today for a demonstration.

See the difference RSD makes

Only pickups with these Blue Chip features

New 180-h.p. V8 and 130-h.p. six engines with the largest displacement in the industry • New optional fast-cruising axle ratio and Safety Power Steering • New Kudu Stabilizer • Tubeless tires and 12-volt electrical system are standard equipment.

Famous bulletin from Mobilgas Economy Run

FORD WINS IN ECONOMY TOO!

V-8 WINS CLASS A

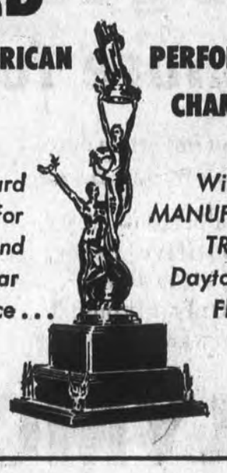

In this year's Economy Run a new Ford V-8, with Fordomatic, was the official victor over every car in its field, with a winning average of 47.7643 ton-miles per gallon. This means that the sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight, with greater gas economy per pound, than any car in its field.

This latest Ford victory was scored over a rough and rigorous 1,468.8-mile route running from Los Angeles to Colorado Springs. Through the heat of Death Valley and over chilling mountain heights . . . through gas-eating city traffic and over the straight-line open road . . . Ford proved anew its traditional reputation for economical performance.

The winning Ford was a regular-production model taken right from the assembly line. It was no different than thousands of '56 Fords you see on the road and in dealer's showrooms. This proves that Ford, the Performance, Style and Safety leader, leads in Economy, too! That adds up to four big reasons why the '56 Ford is worth more when you buy it, while you drive it, and when you sell it, too!

The "ton-mile" formula is used by contest officials to insure equal chance for all cars in each class, regardless of size or weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by the number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

FORD
ALL-AMERICAN PERFORMANCE CHAMPION

Top-Award Winner for All-Around Stock Car Performance . . .

Winner of MANUFACTURER'S TROPHY Daytona Beach, Florida

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Without a dissenting vote, the House of Representatives concurred last week in the Senate amendments to a measure providing additional authority during the current fiscal year for both the special school milk program and the brucellosis-eradication program.

This measure (H. R. 8320), as passed in February by the House of Representatives, provided an additional $10 million for the school milk program as well as an additional $2 million for brucellosis eradication for fiscal 1956. The Senate, by amendments to the House bill, extended both of these programs for an additional two years with increased authorizations.

These amendments extended the school milk program through fiscal 1958 and increased to $75 million the amount of Commodity Credit Corporation funds available for this purpose during each of the next two fiscal years. At the same time, the brucelosis-eradication program received a similar extension and its funds were increased to $20 million annually for fiscal 1957 and 1958.

The Senate amendments also extended the milk program to child care centers, nursery schools, settlement houses, summer camps, and similar non-profit institutions.

Foreign Aid Request

The President recommended to Congress last week a foreign aid program of $4,859,975 for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. Funds requested by the President include $2.9 billion for military aid to other nations. The remaining amount is to be in the form of economic assistance.

President Eisenhower, in his special foreign aid message, said that in order to meet new threats posed by shifting Soviet tactics, the new program should assure continuity—for at least ten years—and also greater flexibility for the Administration in spending funds where they are needed most.

Committee Consideration

In the House of Representatives it is the responsibility of the Foreign Affairs Committee to write an authorization bill which will limit expenditures for the foreign aid program. This committee, of which I am a member, began hearings last Tuesday on the program and has already heard several high government officials testify in support of the Administration's requests. They include the Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles; the Under Secretary of State, Herbert Hoover, Jr.; the Commander of NATO forces, General Alfred Gruenther; and the Director of the International Cooperation Administration, John B. Hollister. These hearings will continue for a number of weeks before the committee attempts to draw up the final draft of the bill.

While testimony in behalf of the President's recommendations is being received by the Foreign Affairs Committee, opposition to several of the President's requests has been expressed by key members of the Congress. Rep. Richards of South Carolina, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, has stated that he believes the President's requests are "sound in principle, but that the amount is too high." Senator Walter George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has announced opposition to the long term commitments recommended by President Eisenhower.

Although there is every indication a foreign aid program will be passed by Congress again this year, the bill in its final form may differ considerably from the President's original recommendations.

Mr. and Mrs. Verle Samons were in Bessemer Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Northcutt.

Calera Students Plan Stunt Night

On Friday night, April 6, the Junior Class at Calera High School will sponsor their annual Stunt Night program. This program is looked forward to with great anticipation as one of the highlights of the school year. A veil of secrecy shrouds the plans of grades 7-12 as each strives to make their contribution to the program the most entertaining. The hum of activity, as different groups work together during free periods and after school is a sure sign that a good program is in the making.

Already the grades participating this program are divided into teams of Blue and Gold, with each team determined to win top honors.

The climax of the evening of fun will come with the crowning of "Miss Calera High of 1956." Each grade has elected a candidate to vie for this coveted title. Candidates elected are as follows: 7th, Glenda Weldon; 8th, Julia Frost; 9th, Patsy Carden; 10th, Jimmy Ruth Gay; 11th, Ann Farris; 12th, Janelle Woods.

Ballots are cast by paying a penny a vote. To add a note of suspense to this election, the winning candidate will not be announced until time for the crowning ceremony on Stunt Night.

With stunts, plays, a talent show, and the crowning of a beauty queen, in this one program there is bound to be fun in store for everyone. The public is cordially invited to come out and enjoy these events. Time: 8:00 p.m. Admission 25c and 50c.

Charlie Sez: Goodbye To Business

Charlie Crisswell has sold out his business, DeLuxe Cleaners, to Clarence Chism.

This brief statement tells the story of the business transaction which took place last week, but it does not nearly tell the story of the severance of Charlie from the warm personal contacts and most friendly relations that have existed between him and his customers and friends in Montevallo for the past twenty years.

The best expression of that phase of the story is told by the tears that come into Charlie's eyes as he tries to talk about it.

Well, it will seem odd indeed for Charlie Crisswell to be taken out of the business activity of this community. He has done well with his business here, dollar-wise, but we honestly believe that the greatest personal value that has come to him is the genuine friendships he has made. They mean more to him than dollars and cents.

Before many days, Mr. and Mrs. Crisswell will go to their home in Panama City too spend the rest of their time in retirement. We wish that their remaining days may be many and happy for them to the utmost.

And too, we welcome Clarence Chism back into the cleaning and pressing business. He has been in that game before and knows how it is done. He will be a worthy successor to take up where Charlie leaves off..

W S C S BAKE SALE

Next Saturday, April 7, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon a bake sale will be sponsored by the Women's Society for Christian Service of Montevallo Methodist Church, at the Times Printing Co. office in the Masonic Building.

CALERA EAGLES WIN 8-4

Southpaw Walter Ingram allowed Columbiana High School only seven scattered hits and the Calera High Eagles won a sharp 8-4 decision at Calera Wednesday.

Sam Adams, Eagle second baseman, had a perfect day at the plate, scoring a triple and two singles. Goree, Calera catcher, tripled in the sixth inning.

Columbiana's two runs came as a result of a single and two errors after two were out in the top of the first. Walter Ingram struck out four and gave only one free ticket in his first high school game.

Social Security Benefits For Farmers Explained

"Many Shelby County farmers have already filed tax returns for the 1955 calendar year," J. W. Overstreet, Jr., Social Security Administration, Birmingham, announced today. "This year for the first time they have paid self-employment tax for social security protection." He emphasized that all farmers who netted $400 or more in 1955 from farming must file these returns by April 15, 1956. Proper tax returns and advice concerning taxes can be obtained from the District Director of Internal Revenue, Birmingham.

Mr. Overstreet explained, "This social security credit will mean much to farm families. Suppose we take the case of a young and prosperous farmer with a wife and child. His earnings up to $4,200 a year are taxable for social security. In the event he should die soon after the close of his second crop year under social security and had made the maximum of $4,200 in both years, the widow and small child would receive a monthly benefit of $162.80.

"Few farmers make $4,200 a year," Mr. Overstreet continued. "Let us consider an instance where the farmer makes $1,200 a year on an average. At that rate he can qualify for $55 per month when he is 65. His wife, after reaching 65, may qualify for $27.50 per month, or a total of $82.50 for the two. If a farmer who makes $1,200 a year (two crop years is the minimum requirement) after 1954 should die, survived by a widow and two young children, $82.60 could be paid them every month, terminating when the youngest child reaches 18. Payments to the widow could be resumed when she reaches 65.

"Write your Social Security Office, 1825 First Avenue, North, Birmingham, for a booklet showing the benefits payable farm families under social security," Mr. Overstreet invited. "And don't overlook the filing of that tax return before April 15, 1956," he cautioned.

Montevallo Wins First Two Games

By S. DeMent

Behind a neat, three-hit pitching performance by righthander Pete Pickett, the Montevallo Bulldogs slammed Vincent High 13-0 to open their baseball season last Friday. Pickett, going the distance in this short game (called at the end of the fifth due to the 13-0 score), issued no walks, whiffed six, and allowed only four of the Yellowjackets to reach first.

Parker, starting pitcher for Vincent, had trouble in finding the range; and in two innings the Bulldogs had drawn four free passes and four base hits. These, together with an infield error, gave Montevallo five runs and brought on a relief pitcher, Reynolds, in the third.

An error at short to open the inning put Ronald Smitherman on first. Then Doyle Burdette and Wayne Phillips connected for singles; and James Alexander, Ed Hicks, Pickett, and Lewis Knowles drew walks. From this Montevallo was able to add six more runs.

Run No. 12 came in the fourth as Phillips, opening the inning with a single, stole second, and took third on Alexander's single. He crossed the plate after Hicks flied to center.

Two infield errors and a walk cost the Yellowjackets another run in the fifth, making the final count 13-0.

Vincent's only scoring threat was erased by a perfect throw from leftfielder Alexander to catcher Knowles. Moore, who had reached first on a single and had stolen second, was out at the plate when he attempted to come home on Parker's single.

Phillips, second baseman, had three for five, and Alexander hit two for three, to lead Montevallo's hitting spree. Burdette, Hicks, Underwood and Winslett each had a single.

Montevallo 12, Jemison 8

In taking their second game of the season, Coach Theron Fisher's Bulldogs had to come from behind three times to outscore the Jemison Panthers 12-8 here Tuesday.

Both teams put men on base in the first inning with walks and singles, then scored three runs on homers. Nelson hit the circuit blow for Jemison, and Pete Pickett cleared the bases for the Bulldogs.

The Panthers continued scoring in the second, adding three more runs as the Bulldogs committeed two errors afield and Hilyer connected with a single.

It was the fourth inning before the Bulldogs could get back into the game. Singles by Underwood and Burdette, a triple by Hicks, a base on balls, and a Panther error put Montevallo out front 7-6 at the end of that frame.

Determined not to be held down, the Panthers came back in the sixth and put together a walk and two singles to net two more runs.

Finishing up the scoring in the sixth, the Bulldogs extended the count to 12-8. Burdette walked and went to third as Phillips singled sharply over second. Alexander then singled, scoring Burdette; and Hicks cleared the bases as he homered in deep right-center. Pickett doubled and came home on a shortstop error.

Winning pitcher Pete Pickett, in his second mound performance, gave up seven hits, walked six, and struck out four. Ed Hicks, with a single, a triple, and a homer in four trips, led the Bulldogs at bat. Ray, shortstop, had two for four, both singles, for the Panthers.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

Ol' Joe Watson was huntin' ducks the other day. When he finally shot one, he said to his dog, "Rover, bring me that duck!" And Rover walked out on top of the water and carried it back.

Joe was flabbergasted! But he tried it again and again. And the same thing happened. Next day, Joe took his pal Zeke huntin'. When he shot a duck, he said, "Rover, bring me that duck!" And Rover walked out on top of the water and carried it back.

"Zeke," Joe gasped, "Did you notice anything strange?"

Zeke thought for a moment. "Now that you mention it, I did," he said. "That crazy dog of yourn cain't swim worth a darn!"

These days, a lot of huntin' takes place — especially in the West — on tree farms, with the full approval of the tree-farm owners. Whenever possible, they let hunters use their forests, and in some cases even provide cabins for the hunters' use. In return, they ask the sportsmen to be careful not to damage any property, and be 'specially careful with fire and matches.

One good thing 'bout tree farming is, you can harvest your trees in any season — and when you have the time and labor available. Most fellers mark the trees they plan to cut with a blaze mark or paint. I use paint myself — it's easier to see. I like white paint, but yellow and blue are good colors, too. And I always like to know where I'm goin' to sell my trees beforehand, and have a written agreement if possible, 'cause that often saves mistakes in cuttin'.

Fellers who have only a few trees usually use a crosscut saw and an axe. Fellers with more trees gen'rally use a power saw. In cutting a tree, I always start out with a notching cut, on the side facin' the direction I want the tree to fall. 'Course, I can only influence the direction to a certain extent. If a tree is leanin' north, it generally won't fall south. Not unless you use a wedge or rope, the way a tree surgeon does.

Well, I could go on like this all night, but I don't want to bore you. I guess you've heard what Alexander Woollcott once told a bore, after listenin' to the feller for a solid hour.

"Excuse me," he said, "my leg has gone to sleep. Do you mind if I join it?"

So long. See you next week!

Comments About People and Things

By Jim Oakley in The Centreville Press

The National Democratic Party is now beginning to reap the fruits from some of their past mistakes. For a number of years the National Party has been drifting down the road to Socialism, they did not stand very strong for States Rights and local self-government, they completely abandoned the South on the question of segregation. The party has been taken over by a bunch of South haters such as Harry Truman, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., Gov. "Soapy" Williams of Michigan, Senator Humphrey of Minnesota and three Negro Congressmen, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York, Rep. Diggs from Detroit, Michigan, and Rep. Dawson from Chicago, Illinois. These are the people that are running the National Democratic Party. We have had a good many Southerners who are willing to go along with this crowd, such as Jim Folsom, who proclaims to be a close friend of Harry Truman and Gov. "Soapy" Williams, but the majority of Southerners who go to the Democratic Conventions have tried to protect the South, but the Northern and Eastern Democrats have run over them at every convention for a number of years, and they intend to do so again this year.

Four years ago Harry Truman stated that the Democrats could win without the South. They lost a few states in the South four years ago to the Republicans and unless the National Party places their house in order this year they may lose other states. At the present time it looks as if Estes Kefauver is the leading Democratic candidate for President. Because of his left-wing and socialistic views he has managed to become popular in a few states. Even though he is from the state of Tennessee he is known as one of the biggest enemies that the South has. He has long been lined up with the crowd who desired to do away with racial segregation in the South. He refused to sign the "Manifesto" stating that he didn't agree with it, and he has favored legislation to abolish filibusters in Congress. These filibusters have saved the South on many important questions.

An article in the daily newspapers stated this week that "The Democratic Party these days is suffering from more afflictions than Job. The party is bitterly divided, and is flat broke."

Who brought on all these troubles? The South has stood by the party almost solidly for years, but the Northern and Eastern Democrats decided that we would always stay by the party regardless of what happened, and they began to adopt policies that were completely obnoxious to the Southern people. If the party goes down in defeat again this year it will be because the party ran off and left the Southern people.

More and more people in the South are becoming independent in their voting on national party issues. They have a sincere desire to stay with hte Democratic Party, but they are unable to take anything that comes along. The people must vote for what they believe to be the best interest of their country.

We have an element of so-called "Loyal Democrats in Alabama who are "hell-bent" on turning the Alabama Democratic Party over to the left-wing Northern and Eastern crowd. Jim Folsom and his crowd belong to that element. There are a number of these people running for delegate or alternate delegate, and the people should leave them at home, unless they desire to see the Democratic Party completely destroyed.

The National Party will have to offer the South something this year to get them to stay in the party—otherwise the party split will become greater.

For several years the liberal and left-wing Democrats in Alabama and the South have been able to confuse the people and have managed to get them to go along, but this year the people understand the issues, and they are seeking information as never before, and unless the National Party can offer the South a suitable candidate for President, and adopt a platform more suitable to the South than in past years, the party will continue to lose strength in the South—but it may not make any difference, because Harry Truman said that the Democrats could elect a President without the South.

WILTON MARCH OF DIMES

It appeaars that in a formerly published report of March of Dimes contributions, there was some phase of the matter relating to the Wilton returns that was not made clear, or perhaps the objection of the people of Wilton is that they were omitted from the published report entirely, as the published report was not intended to be a county-wide report, but covering Montevallo contributions alone.

We have, therefore, checked with Dr. M. L. Orr Sr., county chairman of the March of Dimes, and obtained the figures from Wilton, as shown by his records, which are as follows:

Community organization and the Mothers March $67.10; coin collections $13.90; mailed in to the bank $26.20. Total turned in from Wilton $107.20.

Dr. Orr says that if these figures do not show the correct returns from Wilton, he would like for the workers there to confer with him so the matter can be finally and correctly adjusted.

CHILTON COUNTY PEACHES

The Union-Banner at Clanton last week said of the peach crop prospects in Chilton County:

"Those in authority and supposed to know, say that Chilton county has 75 per cent of a crop of peaches left, although the proportion is not evenly distributed. Some spots will drop to 25 per cent or lower, while other orchards will be well above three fourths. The lowest temperatures seem to have been in spots, but the low orchards generally suffered most. As to varieties, generally it seems to be about tit for tat. The berry crop is in fine shape, especially blackberries. Strawberries have been set back some, but will recover most of the damage. We may look for berries to begin ripening within a month."

SGT. ARMON L. THRASHER

First Cav. Div., Japan — Army Sgt. Armon L. Thrasher, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Estes of Montevallo, is receiving amphibious training in Japan with the First Cavalry Division.

Climaxing the training will be a beach landing on the island of Iwo Jima, supported by warships, aircraft and a simulated atomic attack. Preparation for the assault includes classroom and practical instruction in the use of landing craft.

Sergeant Thrasher, who entered the Army in 1951, is a gunner in Battery B of the division's 61st Field Artillery Battalion. He wears the Good Conduct Medal, the National Defense Service Medal, the Army of Occupation Medal for duty in Japan, and the UN and Korean Service Medals.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I am getting bored with wild projections and estimates of the costs of veterans' benefits. Let's keep the record straight, right from official government records.

Back in 1890, veterans made up 2.1 per cent of our population. The cost of benefits they received represented 1.2 per cent of the national income.

Today our veteran population represents almost 13 per cent of our total population. There are more than six times as many veterans as 66 years ago, yet today the cost of veterans benefits in the coming fiscal year will total approximately 1.5 per cent of our national income. In other words, we are expending only three-tenths of one per cent more of our national income to take care of the enormous increase in the number of our veterans.

Compared with our foreign aid expenditures, the veteran cost is insignificant. — Mrs. C. E. Tidwell, Publicity Chairman, Ware-Crim Unit No. 56, Calera.

Southern Bell Installs Five-Millionth Phone

The five-millionth telephone operated by Southern Bell was installed recently in the office of Gov. Frank C. Clement of Tennessee who accepted the gold-plated instrument as symbolic of growth and progress in the South.

The special telephone, engraved to commemorate the event, was presented to the Governor as a gift by S. H. Youngblood, general manager for the company in Tennessee, on behalf of Southern Bell's 65,000 employees.

The first call over the historic telephone was made by Fred J. Turner, president of Southern Bell, to Governor Clement, from Atlanta.

Mr. Turner said the historic telephone "is a significan symbol of the South's spectacular development, and of the still greater growth that is certain to come."

"Communications is more than ever the nerve center of modern living," he said. "The progress this telephone exemplifies broadens our responsibilities and rekindles our determination to serve well the public trust."

"The South has prospered because Southern Bell Telephone Company, among other things, has rendered a great and an outstanding service to the people," Governor Clement said in accepting the instrument.

B. F. Lunsford, local manager of Southern Bell, pointed out that it was not until December of 1929 that the total number of telephones operated by the company reached 1,000,000. At the end of 1945, Southern Bell had 1,863,204 telephones in service and in April of 1949, hte number had risen to 3,000,000. The five-millionth telephone represents an increase of 168.4 per cent in the 10 years since 1946.

Southern Bell now operates 89 exchanges in Alabama with a total of 514,572 stations, an increase of 174.2 per cent since the beginning of 1946.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By
Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

THE number of our citizens owning stock in American corporations has increased about 1 million during the last three years, and now totals 7.5 million. The assets of investment trusts or mutual funds have increased during the past nine years from $1.3 billion to $7.2 billion. These funds enable small investors to spread their savings over many different securities thus adding a factor of safety. Large numbers of workers are acquiring the stock of the companies they work for. Much larger numbers are indirectly interested in American industry through participation in pension funds of many kinds and various forms of savings at least a part of which are invested in the securities of American industry.

This is a far more effective way for the people to own the means of production than anything Karl Marx ever envisaged through state ownership. He never would have believed that capitalism could and in large measure already has made the workers wealthy enough to buy the industries employing them. If free market capitalism were adopted and practiced, the error and falsity of Marxism would soon become evident to all men everywhere.

Now Is Time to Give Your Car Good Check-up

By Mary Lou Chapman

A car, like its driver, can benefit from a periodic check-up. And what more logical time for a really thorough going over than Spring? You may be changing from a winter to a summer weight oil and having the anti-freeze solution drained from the radiator, so why not go all out for a real tune-up?

What needs to be done? It will help you a great deal to get out your Owner's Manual and study it for the needs of your particular car. This booklet will give you a number of good pointers for general care of your car throughout the entire year.

Miss Chapman

Here are some suggestions on general areas to check:

BRAKES. Both brake pedal and clutch pedal (if you have standard transmission) should be checked to see that they work properly, and the whole braking system should be gone over.

MOTOR OIL. Engine oil should be changed according to the instructions of the car manufacturer. This may vary from every 2,500 to 5,000 miles, according to make of car and the type of driving you do. If you do much stop-and-go driving, you probably should change it more frequently. Also the oil filter cartridge should be changed at the recommended intervals to keep your motor oil clean.

LUBRICATION. Your car should be on a regular lubrication schedule. Again, your owner's manual will list a number of lubrication operations that should be attended to at intervals of 1,000 miles.

ENGINE TUNE-UP. Your spark plugs may be a little fatigued after all that winter driving. They are supposed to fire evenly so that you get the most performance out of your engine and the gas you put into it. If you listen to the sound your engine makes as you drive along, you can tell whether the spark plugs are performing properly. If the "heartbeat" of the engine is regular, chances are it's all right. If the plugs sound as though they are missing a beat, or if you do not get a steady forward pull when you step on the accelerator, better have your spark plugs looked at.

AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION. All automatic transmissions operate on a hydraulic principle—oil does the work. The transmission has its own special oil which flows around the gears and "shifts" it from first into second, and so on. The proper level of oil must be maintained or the transmission will not work properly.

WINDSHIELD WIPERS. The rubber blades may need replacing if they are worn down, and the arms should be adjusted to get the most scraping power.

HEADLIGHTS. Beams may need readjusting so that you get the best long-distance lighting.

ELECTRICAL SYSTEM. It would be an excellent idea to have all wiring examined.

With all these things taken care of, you should be able to breeze through summer with a trouble-free car.

20 Important Chairmanships Rest With Signers of Southern Manifesto

Rep. Roberts, Democrat of Alabama, said 20 important chairmanships rest with southern congressmen who signed the Segregation Manifesto, and "we can do something about it."

Roberts and several other members of Alabama's congressional delegation expressed their determination to maintain racial segregation by all lawful means.

The group was in Birmingham for a congressional subcommittee hearing on housing needs.

Roberts Said

"We are going to support the Constitution but we won't be the victims of a court decision changing customs older than the Republic itself," said Roberts.

He charged that the U. S. Supreme Court decision that segregation in public schools is unconstitutional "set race relations back more than anything that has happened in the past 50 years."

"Segregation is a matter of choice," said Sen. John Sparkman. "It's choice and not court edict. Look at Harlem in New York. They are solidly segregated and by choice alone.

Bitterly Opposed

"If a white man tried to move into Harlem he would be just as bitterly opposed as a Negro moving into a white section in Alabama."

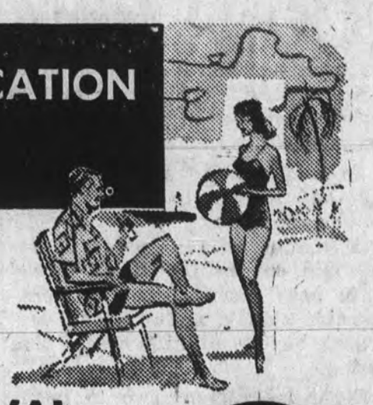

The manifesto, said Sparkman, "sets forth our feeling as to the unjustifiable nature of the Supreme Court ruling."

"It is an appeal to our people to be orderly and lawful, and an appeal to the people away from here to understand the situation," he added.

Stand United

Rep. Robert E. Jones called the manifesto "an expression of the people we represent." Rep. George Huddleston said the manifesto shows the South "stands undivided and united in opposition to outside interference."

Soil Conservation District News

By B. F. Hatchett and Geo. C. Starcher

On his farm in Four Mile Community Frank Wilder has learned to take an extra year if needed to get a good terracing program going.

Last year irregular ground and old terrace embankments caused it to be very difficult to run terraces on one of his fields. None could be laid out parallel, and even if built, the terraces would have had many short curves and short point rows.

Instead of building then, Frank planted his meadow outlet and worked on the job of filling washes and plowing down high spots.

This March SCS technicians were able to lay out a very nice system of terraces on this field. No terrace is over 900 feet long, curves are long and gradual, and an even number of pairs of rows lies between each two terraces except for one short "spur" terrace near the top of his hill.

In addition the meadow outlet has had a year to get ready to handle the water.

A similar terrace system is being laid out on Dr. R. C. Lewis' farm near Chelsea. This cooperator also planted an additional lespedeza bicolor wildlife border this spring.

Eight lakes from two to twenty-two acres in size are awaiting suitable weather to be built on cooperators farms.

Hoyt Stephens, Summer Hill, has had some corrective work done on his new pond which showed serious flaws as soon as it filled. Faulty workmanship.

His friend and new cooperator, Payne R. Mathews, also of Summer Hill, had built a 12-foot tall dam built last week. SCS designed, this will form a fish pond over an acre in size, cost less than $350.

Three short diversion terraces on the Mathews farm will bring in additional water while keeping surplus water off a garden area.

Mrs. W. A. Long, Mrs. Beecher Findley and Mrs. B. F. Morris attended the 4-H Club Rally in Montevallo Thursday.

Dr. John Fairless spent two days here last week making plans for an office in which to start his practice. He made arrangements with Mr. W. H. Crawford to build an office building north of Calera on Highway 31. He also spent one day in Birmingham buying equipment for his office. He plans now to begin practice the first week in July.

Drinkard Explains New State Fishing License Law

With fishermen throughout the state buying licenses in preparation for spring fishing, W. H. Drinkard, director of the Department of Conservation, explained today that "rod and reel" and "pole and line" anglers need to purchase only one state fishing license although they use both kinds of tackle.

"It has come to my attention that many fishermen are confused about whether they are required to buy both the $2 rod and reel and $1 pole and line license if they use both types of tackle. The new fishing license law as enacted by the 1955 Legislature allows the holder of a $2 rod and reel license to use any legal means of taking fish other than commercial fishing gear," Drinkard said. "Pole and line fishermen who don't fish with rod and reel need only a $1 license," he said.

This law was not intended to cause any person to buy two licenses. Its primary purpose was to place a license on the pole and line fisherman when he fishes outside his county of residence; in the past, the rod and reel fishermen have had to bear the financial burden of fish conservation in Alabama and this law spreads the responsibility to all fishermen who gain benefit from the state fisheries program, the conservation director said.

Alabama's fish hatcheries and stocking programs, part of its fishing law enforcement, acquisition of public access areas to fishing waters, fish disease research, public lake construction and biological aid to pond owners are some of the jobs and projects paid for by fishing license money.

CALERA CIVITAN CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jones wish to thank everyone for their kindness and thoughtfulness shown to them after the burning of their home.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Last week I made three separate appearances before Congressional committees to request funds for river development projects important to our District and State. On Tuesday, in a statement to the House Appropriations Committee, I requested that the sum of $160,000 be included in the Public Works Appropriation bill for a re-study of the proposed Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway.

This waterway, designed to connect the Tennessee River with the Gulf of Mexico via the Tombigbee River, was authorized by Congress in 1946. However, funds have never been appropriated to begin construction. In 1951, after a special study of this proposed river development project, a subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee issued a report which concluded that the "proposed Tennessee - Tombigbee Waterway cannot be justified by the statutory criterion of a favorable benefit-cost ratio unless economic conditions in the general area of the project undergo a drastic change."

My request for re-study funds was based on the premise that "economic conditions in the general area of the project" have undergone "the drastic change" referred to in the subcommittee's report.

Also testifying in behalf of the Tennessee - Tombigbee Project were Representatives Frank Boykin and Carl Elliott of Alabama and Rep. Tom Abernethy of Mississippi.

Warrior-Tombigee

The following day I appeared with several other members of the Alabama delegation before both the House and Senate Appropriations Committees to request funds to continue the orderly schedule of improvements on the Warrior-Tombigbee Waterway.

In my statements I urged the committees to approve the sum of $4,580,000 for the Warrior Lock and Dam for fiscal year 1957. This installation, begun in October 1954, is located on the Warrior River in our Sixth District between Eutaw and Greensboro. The Corps of Engineers has indicated that the sum of $4,580,000 will be sufficient to continue on schedule this important projest.

In addition to my request for Warrior Lock and Dam funds, I joined with my Alabama colleagues in asking the committees for an initial appropriation to begin construction on the proposed Jackson Lock and Dam and also for sufficient funds to complete the "first-phase" deepening of the Mobile Ship Channel.

Farm Bill

Many members of Congress are away from Washington this week during the annual Easter recess which began last Thursday. However, conferees from the House and Senate agreed to meet during the recess in an effort to have a compromise farm bill ready for consideration when Congress reconvenes. If such a bill is ready, it will probably be the first order of business on Monday of next week.

We had the pleasure of a visit last week from Miss Young Hi Kim. Miss Kim is an exchange student from Korea, presently attending Alabama College.

This time of year lamb is at its best! Be sure to look for it at your grocer's this month.

Crown Roast of Lamb
Creamed New Potatoes
Peas with Buttered Mushrooms
Hot Rolls Butter
Fresh Strawberry and Pineapple Salad
Cherry Pie Coffee

When roasting lamb, use a low temperature (300°-325°F.). This cuts down on shrinkage and makes a more tender, juicy roast. Roast 30-35 minutes per pound or until meat thermometer reads 180°F. Drain off fat occasionally during roasting. Leg of Lamb or a Crown Roast will carve more easily if allowed to stand about 10 minutes before carving.

Ceremony Honors Mrs. Marion Jones

An official meeting of the Calera unit of the American Legion Auxiliary was called at the home of Mrs. Cecil Cowart, unit chaplain, last Friday, April 6, for the purpose of draping the unit charter due to the recent death of Mrs. Marion Jones, president.

"We have assembled here at the call of our Maker who has taken from us one of our beloved leaders. We have come to give, by simple token, official expression of the grief of the Ware-Crim unit of the American Legion Auxiliary," said Mrs. A. E. Norwood, acting president.

"We stand before the document which gives our unit life and being. Under its authority years of devoted service were given by Marion Jones. She contributed greatly to its significance. Her service is ended but the results of her loyal efforts will go on and on for our American Legion Auxiliary and for God and country which the Auxiliary serves.

"It is therefore fitting that about our charter we should drape this crepe of black, an expression of the sorrow that is in our hearts and of the mourning of Ware-Crim unit of the American Legion Auxiliary over its great loss. We will ask God's blessing for our departed friend and coworker, then go silently to carry forward the tasks to which she was giving so much when called away."

Mrs. W. W. Howell, vice-president, lighted the candle, and Mrs. C. D. Cowart sang a favorite song of Mrs. Jones', "Sunrise Tomorrow."

Past presidents of the unit, new and old members were present to welcome the department president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Dan Waite, Jr., of Centre. Mrs. M. P. Jeter of Montevallo, past district president who organized the Calera unit 22 years ago; and Mrs. Reese L. Woolley, Montevallo, national executive committeewoman of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Alabama.

Mrs. O. C. Farris and Mrs. Roy Downs of Calera were guests at the meeting.

Kindergarten Enrollment Is Open for Next Year

The enrollment of children in the Montevallo kindergarten for next fall is now open. Since the number of children accepted in the kindergarten is limited to 20, it is necessary to have an early written enrollment.

The fee of $10.00 per month, $90.00 per year, is payable by the month in advance. This fee is necessary as the state does not provide any money for this service.

A child must be five years old by October 1 before he can enter. This makes it possible for him to enter the first grade the next year.

Enrollments are accepted in the order of the return of written application blanks. The blanks may be obtained at the high school office. After the first 20 children are enrolled, a waiting list is kept in order of application.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

If you have attended sessions of the House of Representatives or the Senate, you may have noticed men rapidly making shorthand notes of every word that is spoken. These men are the official reporters for the Congressional Record, one of the world's most amazing publications.

The morning following a meeting of the House of Representatives or the Senate — sometimes only a few hours after adjournment—the Congressional Record makes available to the nation a complete report of all that took place on the preceding day in the Congress.

The nation's great debates have been recorded in this fashion for well over a century. Thus when a member of Congress speaks, it is indeed "for the Record."

The daily Congressional Record is a plain, white paper volume produced without hard covers. It may vary from 50 to 60 pages up to several hundred, depending on the length of debate in the previous day's meeting.

After completing a shift of about ten minutes, the official Record stenographer reads his notes into a recording device. He can then return to the floor of the House or the Senate, whichever he happens to serve, for more dictation. From the recording device, another person types what the stenographer has reported. Thus, there is an unbroken report of the daily procedure.

About 30 minutes after making a statement, a member of Congress is supplied with a typed copy of his remarks, which he may revise or extend. The member may also delete his statement entirely, but he may not revise it in a way that would change the meaning of the remarks of another member who spoke before or after him.

If a member should make a statement which reflects in any way on one of his colleagues, or on the House or the Senate, the body in which the member spoke can order his words expunged or deleted from the Record.

Members frequently insert in the appendix of the Congressional Record information which they wish to call to the attention of their colleagues and the nation, such as letters from constituents, speeches, editorials, and articles.

Valuable Publication

The Congressional Record is a valuable publication for all Congressmen, their staffs, Congressional committees and the Executive Departments. A special section of the Record is the "Daily Digest" portion, thumbnail summary of action that has taken place in both houses and in all important committees the preceding day. Every Friday, a section entitled "Congressional Program Ahead" outlines the future work schedule for both houses.

At the end of each day during which the House or the Senate is in session, the Government Printing Office assembles all material to go into the Record that will appear the following morning. The Printing Office seldom fails to deliver copies of this publication to all Senators and Representatives by 8:00 a.m. the next day, regardless of the amount of material to be published.

Earlier Records

There were early forerunners of the Congressional Record, such as the "Register of Debates" and the "Congressional Globe." These records were published privately, although the government contributed to the "Globe" after 1855. The Government Printing Office took over the job in 1873.

It is interesting to note that the first printed item before the daily proceedings of the House and Senate in the Record is the prayer delivered by the chaplain of each house.

Since the number of Congressional Records to which I am entitled is limited, I have placed each high school in the Sixth District on my mailing list, as well as a number of public libraries. Therefore, if anyone in the district is interested in reading a particular issue of the Congressional Record, I am sure you can obtain a copy at your nearest library.

Lawler Machine Co. Joins Poultry Association

A Shelby County business, Lawler Machine and Welding Co., Montevallo, recently has become a 1956 member of the Southeastern Poultry and Egg Association with headquarters in Richmond, Va.

Mays Montgomery, Athens feed dealer and president of the Alabama Institute of Poultry Industries, is directing the membership campaign in Alabama. He is state vice-president of the industry-wide service organization made up of broiler, turkey and commercial egg producers, hatcherymen, feed companies and processing and marketing firms.

With membership in 10 states, the association is the largest regional poultry organization in the nation. As the voice of the Southeast's poultry industry valued annually at more than $750,000,000, it merits the support of all Alabama poultrymen, Mr. Montgomery said.

Montevallo Blanks Shelby High, 11-0

By S. DeMent

Montevallo blanked Shelby County High School 11-0 here Tuesday, April 4, behind a neat, three-hit mound performance by Ronald "Lefty" Smitherman. Smitherman, never in serious trouble as he went the distance, whiffed nine of the Shelby Countians and scattered the three hits throughout as many innings. He walked only two.

The Bulldogs sent Hatchett, starting pitcher, to the showers early as they scored seven runs in the second inning. Included in this assault were doubles by Pete Pickett and Tinker Underwood, a single by Wayne Phillips, and a home run by Ed Hicks, his second of the season.

Run No. 8 was added in the third without benefit of a hit as Underwood drew a base on balls and came home on a series of wild pitches. Alexander singled, stole second, and scored No. 9 in the fourth as Hicks singled.

Smitherman, aiding his own cause, homered in the fifth plating Underwood who had doubled.

Underwood with two for two and Hicks, two for three, were the big guns in the hitting department.

No other truck can offer you as much as a new 1956 GMC

LOOK at the facts—no matter how large or how small a truck you need, there's a GMC that fills the bill for your business.

GMC's new light-duty power plants average substantially greater displacement than the nearest competition—14.4% on 6-cylinder models and 16.2% on the V8's. Horsepower's been upped as much as 20% on some of the larger models. And the new V8's are the very latest in modern, short-stroke design.

In the new half-tonners, a brand-new fast-ratio cruising axle handles this huskier power with all the efficiencies of overdrive. You get the same crisp pace—save 2 to 4 m.p.g. on fuel. And it's an option at a fraction of overdrive's usual price.

A new ride stabilizer gives Blue Chip light-duties remarkable new riding comfort. They're far easier to handle, too, because there's no need to fight the steering wheel—even on the poorest excuses for roads.

And there's more: All GMC's now have a 12-volt electrical system for easier starting. Tubeless tires are standard equipment. And a GMC truck's boulevard styling makes it far and away the best advertisement you can run.

In short, new 1956 Blue Chip GMC's are just about as impressive a line as you've ever seen. Dollar-for-dollar values are even more remarkable. Drop by and see some of the first models—just arrived on our showroom floor.

Elimination of Montevallo-Calera Phone Toll Charges Is Considered

A committee consisting of F. P. Givhan, Victor Scott, W. L. Lawler, Roy Downs and R. E. Bowdon Jr., recently called on B. F. Lunsford, Group Manager of Southern Bell Telephone Company, for the purpose of inquiring as to the possibility of eliminating the long distance charges for calls between people in Calera and Montevallo.

The telephone company representative pointed out that considerable re-arrangements of teleprone facilities would be necessary, namely:

Additional exchange equipment at both Calera and Montevallo; and additional wires and cable between Calera and Montevallo.

Also, it was pointed out that, should this type of service be desired by the people in both towns, the common or basic rates will have to be made higher than subscribers in both towns are now paying.

Below is given the increases in rates which would be necessary in order to secure the proposal:

Increase for Calera

One party residence	$ .50
Two party residence	.30
Four party residence	.20
Eight party residence	.20
One party business	1.75
Two party business	1.75
Four party business	1.50

Two party residence	.20
Four party residence	.10
Eight party residence	.10
One party business	1.00

The number of telephones that can now be called are: From Calera, 500; from Montevallo 1154. Under the proposed new set-up the number that could be called from either Calera or Montevallo, without any long distance charge would be nearly 1700.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF MONTEVALLO

On behalf of the Montevallo Branch of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs we wish to extend to the citizens of Montevallo our grateful thanks and congratulations for the success of the recent Red Cross drive which the B & P W was asked to sponsor.

Your donations amounted to $570. With a quota of $600 for Montevallo, we feel justified in being proud of both the excellent cooperation of those who collected in the areas delegated to them and the donations with which we nearly reached the quota.

Although our plan of collection included every possible way of getting in touch with you, we know there are many we missed. If you have not been contacted, and wish to contribute, please call Miss Edith Hartley, 7204, or Mrs. Jessie McGaughy, 5771, or you may mail your contribution to us.

Respectfully,

MRS. JESSIE McGAUGHY, President B&PW

How Do You Feel About It?

The above-named local group of men who went to see the telephone official about this proposition want to know how the telephone subscribers of Calera and Montevallo feel about the plan. This information is given in order to bring the question to the attention of all concerned. At a later date, each telephone subscriber will be asked to express an individual choice between the present plan of long distance charges and the proposed plan to eliminate long distance charges and increase the rates.

If the change were approved by the telephone users in Calera and Montevallo, it would take about two years to effect the change, owing to the equipment that will have to be secured and installed and other necessary changes to be made.

It is fairly certain that the approval of the subscribers would have to be fairly close to unanimous before the telephone company would agree to go into the new plan.

Think about it and be ready to express yourself when called upon by the committee.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By

Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

Most of the goods and services referred to in the UN Declaration of Human Rights do not exist. These desirable things have to be earned, to be produced.

The term "rights" refers to things already in existence to which one may be entitled in the sense that one's title is enforceable against others or to things that belong to all of us with no individual being allowed to prevent anyone from enjoying them.

One cannot have a right to a trip to the moon for it does not exist. Everyone cannot have a right to a bathtub for there are not enough in existence. We all have a right to freedom, a right to work and produce bathtubs or other goods which we may desire, but we do not have a right to take goods from others by force.

As long as one does not injure others society has no right to interfere with his life, liberty, pursuit of happiness or the exercise of his abilities to acquire desireable goods and services. One does not have a right, however, to enjoy these things if that means taking them from others by force.

The UN Declaration of Human Rights is wrong in proceeding on the basis that the desirable objectives it sets forth should be conferred upon everyone by the coercive power of government—that is, forcibly taking from some such wealth as they have in order to confer a portion of it upon others. In the first place the goods and services do not exist, and if they did, to take them by force from those who had them and to give them to others would be theft, and a violation of the moral law.

The objectives set up in the UN Declaration of Human Rights are goals to be attained, not rights to be enforced against others.

Miss Cowan, Johnny Burgess Wed

The chapel of Spring Hill Avenue Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Patricia Cowan of Mobile and Johnny Burgess of Calera. The vows were exchanged April 7 at 7:00 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. James T. Wiggins and the late Mr. Daniel A. Cowan. The groom is the son of Mrs. James Burgess and the late Mr. Burgess.

The bride's gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle in bridal white was posed over bridal satin. The tightly fitted bodice was pointed in front and back and the long sleeves formed a V over her hands. The neckline was created in an off-the-shoulder effect, and softly treated with folds of tulle and lace. Floral patterns were appliqued on tulle to form the neckline. A deep flounce of lace outlined with scallops of lace was extended into a cathedral train of nylon tulle. The bride's fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls, and her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried an arm bouquet of carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

The candlelight ceremony was performed by Rev. Daniel Jones, before the alter which was decorated with baskets of white gladioli, palms and cathedral candelabra forming the background.

Mrs. W. C. Betbeze, organist, presented a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Mildred Callen, who was attired in blue antique taffeta, with white accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations. Thomas Cowan and Wilbur Nurse served as ushers and candle lighters. Mr. Ed Hamrick of Calera served the groom as best man. A reception followed the ceremony at the bride's home.

After returning from their trip to the Gulf Coast, the bride will resume teaching at Leinkauf School and the groom, who is in the Air Force, will return to his base in Greenland to continue his tour of duty.

Among other offices to be filled are two seats on the Board of Revenue and Control of Shelby County. In all earnestness and seriousness we, the friends and neighbors of Offie Stinson urge you conscientiously to check on the progress of Shelby County for roads, buildings and bridges since Mr. Stinson took office in 1945. To mention a few: Bonded indebtedness in 1945 was $488,000. This was paid in 1953. No debt existing. Addition to Court House Building at the cost of $336,000, all paid. Shelby County ranks seventh in black top roads in the State of Alabama, as of August, 1955. Since then, there has been 9 more miles of black top roads. On the 6th of this month a contract was let to pave 12½ more miles.

Our rural dirt roads are in excellent condition. We personally do not know of a road that cannot be traveled in any kind of weather. District One has more black top roads built by the county than any District in Shelby County.

Please vote for continued progress and OFFIE STINSON

...and one to grow on!

OUR NOW-FAMILIAR SLOGAN "Look Ahead—Look South!" is thirteen years old this month. But you have to count more than the candles on this birthday cake. Count, instead, the number of times we have used this hard-working phrase since it was "born."

The total is impressive—for in these past thirteen years we've said "Look Ahead—Look South!" more than 420 million times in leading financial publications and in magazines from coast to coast. During this same period, there have been 4,203 major industrial developments along our lines alone.

Every time we say "Look Ahead—Look South!" it is an invitation to all America to share in the opportunities of the modern Southland. And every invitation is a bid for new industries for the expanding South "to grow on."

For all of us, the economic development of the South is not a thing apart. It's as close to a man as the job he holds, as personal as his take-home pay. The future of the Southland is your future—and ours. It never looked brighter or offered more "to grow on."

Complacency and TB

By Dr. E. F. Sloan
County Health Officer

In very recent years the tuberculosis picture has changed considerably. Because of the more specific methods of treatment and the consequent lowering of the death rate, many lay and some professional people have developed an attitude of complacency and over-optimism.

While many patients are being restored to health who would formerly have been lost, the fact remains that tuberculosis is a chronic communicable disease. Its treatment requires many months and relapses are common; and a not inconsiderable number of cases, after receiving the maximum benefit from medical treatment have a residual lesion remaining which can only be cured by surgical removal of a segment a lobe or the entire lung.

When found early, many of the complications of tuberculosis can be prevented and the length of treatment can be shortened. It is, therefore, of great importance for every individual to have a chest X-ray once a year or oftener.

Considerable experimental work is now being done in the treatment of children under 12 years of age who have a positive skin test but no X-ray evidence of active tuberculosis. There is a large number of these children and a considerable number of them will eventually develop active disease.

The experimental work is not yet conclusive but it is entirely possible that in the near future it will be good practice to treat children with positive skin tests. The positive skin test shows that the tuberculosis germ has entered the body and it can lie dormant in a small lung lesion or a lymph node for many years and then suddenly become active.

From this large group of positive skin reactors will come our future cases of active tuberculosis and every effort is being made to devise some method of treatment of these primary infections.

A WARNING!

To The People of Alabama Against Folsom's All-Out Effort to Pack Our Highest Courts

Grabbing for the greatest power ever vested in a governor of Alabama since Reconstruction Days, James E. Folsom is making a bid to pack our highest Courts in the Democratic primary of May 1.

He and a group of his political favorites have put in the race for the Alabama Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals two handpicked candidates and for the Chairmanship of the important Alabama Public Service Commission another handpicked candidate, all of whom they believe they can control and dominate.

This is a political move that threatens the integrity of our Courts, the preservation of our way of life and the welfare of all citizens.

It is the latest, but by no means the first, "packing" Folsom has done in the State of Alabama.

Folsom has packed the payrolls of our State with kinsfolk and political friends.

He has packed relief rolls with political henchmen, so that our needy and aged have not had the help that was promised them.

He has sought to pack our white schools with Negro children, by opposing or blocking much of the sound State legislation that has been carefully prepared to keep segregation in Alabama.

He has packed expenses of the Governor's mansion to the tune of many hundred dollars a day.

He has packed the biggest tax load on the back of the little man of any Governor in Alabama's history since Reconstruction Days.

He has packed the cost of many State purchases by buying through companies formed by his friends.

Let's Call a Halt to Folsom "Packing"

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

In probably one of the most important votes of the present session, Congress last week passed a compromise version of the controversial farm bill. By a vote of 237-181, members of the House of Representatives approved the House-Senate conference report on the farm bill after rejecting a proposal to send it back to the Agriculture Committee for revisions. Only a few hours after the action of the House, the conference report was also adopted in the Senate by a safe margin.

Soil Bank Plan

Among the important provisions of the bill are those that constitute the so-called soil bank program. Under this program, payments are authorized to farmers for voluntarily reducing their crops as well as for shifting cropplands into forage, trees, or water storage.

The soil bank plan, recommended by President Eisenhower early in the session, is one of the few major provisions of the farm bill that the Administration approves.

Rigid Price Supports

In addition to the soil bank plan, the farm bill provides for rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity, effective for one year, for the five basic crops—wheat, corn, cotton, rice and peanuts. The adoption of this provision constituted a significant setback for the Administration as it had urged the continuation of present flexible price supports ranging from 82½ per cent to 90 per cent of parity.

If the President vetoes the bill and Congress fails to muster the necessary two-thirds majority to override it, price supports will revert back to the 75-90 per cent of parity formula of the basic law. The present formula, which applied to the 1955 crops, was enacted only as a one-year amendment.

Cotton Acreage Freeze

During the first few weeks of the present session, I was among several members of Congress from the cotton belt who introduced legislation designed to freeze minimum cotton acreage at the 1955 level. Although this legislation was not adopted, the farm bill as passed last week contains a provision that will maintain minimum cotton acreage allotments for the next two years at the present level of 17.4 million acres.

President's Decision

There are no easy answers to the complex farm problem, and most of us who voted for the farm bill realize it is not the final answer. Yet, this legislation as passed by both the House and Senate does represent an effort to provide what seems to be the best solution possible at this time.

As this report is written, the fate of the farm bill rests in the hands of President Eisenhower. Although most Republican congressional leaders have predicted the President will veto the measure, a number of prominent Democrats believe he will sign it. By the time this report reaches you, possibly the President's decision will have been announced.

Twenty-seven per cent of all drivers involved in fatal auto accidents in the U.S. last year were under 25 years of age.

More than 41 per cent of the deaths and more than 35 per cent of the injuries due to motor vehicle accidents last year occurred on Saturdays and Sundays.

There is always something to be thankful for—if you can't pay your bills be thankful you are not one of the creditors.

GRAND JURY REPORT

State of Alabama, Shelby County
In the Circuit Court of Shelby County, Alabama

To the Honorable A. L. Hardegree, Judge of Said Court:

We, the Grand Jury of Shelby County, herewith submit our report to Your Honor.

We have investigated 53 cases during our deliberations and we return into Court 38 indictments; 32 of which are for felonies and the remainder are for misdeanors. These indictments are for the following offenses: burglary and larceny, 21; robbery, 4; manslaughter and assaults 4; distilling, 3; gambling 6. We have questioned 86 witnesses.

We have examined audits of the accounts of various public officials in Shelby County, prepared by the examiners of the State Department of Examiners of Public Accounts, viz: Office of Tax Collector, Office of Tax Assessor, Montevallo Cemetery Board, Town of Montevallo, Water Works Board, Montevallo, Board of Revenue and Control, County Treasurer, Office of Judge of Probate, Consolidated Report, Justices of Peace. These audits reflect credit upon the public officials involved. We commend them for their good work. We do note that several justices of the peace have not submitted regular monthly reports as required by law. We have suggested to the Solicitor that he contact each of these officials and urge that they bring their reports up to date prior to the next meeting of the grand jury.

We visited the jail and found the premises to be clean and sanitary. We saw one of the meals that had been prepared for the prisoners and in our judgment it was adequate. It is our judgment that the jail is sufficient for the safe guarding of the prisoners and we commend Jailer Elvie Parker for the evidence of his good work that we found.

We have by committee examined the Courthouse Annex, the Courthouse and the surrounding grounds. We found all of this property to be in an excellent state of cleanliness and we express appreciation to those charged with the responsibility of maintenance. We note that the County Officials are having a new parking area made just west of the Courthouse annex. We suggest that the present parking lot and the new area be marked for parking spaces so that the manner of parking will permit full utilization of the space available.

Our inspections have revealed that the ladies' rest room now being used by the public is located to the rear of the court room, accessible by climbing a rather steep flight of stairs. We would suggest that a ladies' rest room be left unlocked on the ground floor of the annex building for use by the public.

With reference to the courthouse basement we recommend as follows: that a lavatory and mirror be installed; that compartment doors be installed and that seats be placed on the commodes.

We understand that county officials contemplate certain repairs to the courthouse building. We hope that this will include needed repairs to the roof of the building and to the front porch. We believe it important to give early attention to these porions of the building in order to avoid more expensive repair bills later.

We have investigated one or two wrecks that occurred on the paved county roads. Also we have all from time to time ridden on these roads. It is our considered judgment that these roads would be rendered more safe if the center was marked by appropriate line and we recommend to the County Board that a machine be purchased for this purpose.

We have by committee visited the offices of the various county officials. We find that the affairs of the county are receiving proper attention. Nothing was reported to us requiring investigation on our part. A more detailed examination we have left for the Department of Examiners of the State of Alabama.

Mr. E. B. Lyons has been diligent and conscientious in serving us as bailiff and we express to him our thanks.

In closing we would say to Your Honor that we have endeavored to live up to our responsibilities as outlined to us by the Court as we began our work. We were impressed and greatly assisted by the words of Your Honor as to our responsibilities and duties during our term as grand jurors.

Now having completed our report we request that we be discharged subject to recall by the Court.

This the 11th day of April, 1956.

J. A. LOWE,
Foreman

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

It was no secret to my neighbor Gulliver that his second-hand tractor was a heavy gas-eater. But the other day he pulled into a fillin' station and left the motor running while the feller filled the tank, and after about ten minutes the feller said, "Would you mind shuttin' the motor off, buddy? You're gettin' ahead of me!"

* * *

Conservation is important in farming, too, and nobody knows that better than the boys and girls who belong to 4-H clubs. That reminds me: We're mighty proud of Don Hammerquist, a 16-year-old from Clallam Bay, Washington, who represented his state in the nation-wide 4-H forestry award contest. And we're just as proud of every other boy in this work whom Don represents. He was picked for his skillful management of a farm wood lot, from which he harvested and sold spruce pulpwood from thinnings. Good work, Don!

Out in California, more than 45,000 acres of timber land were placed under the tree farm program last year — bringing the state's total to some 1,856,000 acres of privately-owned land that are devoted to growin' timber as a crop. And that means — in the nation as a whole — that tree farmin' has spread to 7534 separate tree farms and 38 million acres in 40 states!

I like to hear about farmers raisin' all them trees, 'cause trees have played such a big part in our history. They saved the colony at Jamestown, y'know. Ever hear the story?

One mornin' Captain John Smith received an angry letter from the London bankers who had financed the Jamestown colony. Bankers said that, since the colonists hadn't sent any gold or silver back to England, the bankers would abandon the colony if the next ship to England didn't bring back enough products to pay the company's expenses of about $8000. Well, sir, John Smith knew there wasn't no chance of findin' gold or silver thereabouts, but he knew the English badly needed "naval stores" — tar, pitch, turpentine and rosin — which could be made from the pine trees that grew around the colony.

So he put his people to work — tappin' pines for turpentine, cuttin' trees for clapboards and wainscoting, burnin' wood to make soap-ashes, and collectin' frankincense from the trunks of the loblolly pine. When the ship returned to England, it carried a cargo of manufactured forest products — the first from America. From then on, the Virginia colonists sent quantities of naval stores. And in May, 1620 — the same year the Mayflower set sail for the New World — the bankers held a meetin' in London, and decided to continue to support Jamestown as a sound business venture. Virginia's forestlands had saved the colony!

See you next week, folks!

Good Drivers Have Five Visual Habits, Expert Says

By Mary Lou Chapman

All expert drivers possess five seeing habits which they use whenever they get behind the wheel, according to driver training specialist Harold L. Smith of Detroit.

Your routine driving habits determine how many accidents you may have, Smith's findings show. "Driving is therefore a matter of knowing what to look for and knowing what it means," he says. "If we know, our timing is correct, and we avoid even the near-miss traffic problems."

The five habits are:

1. Aim High in Steering. This means to steer for the center of your lane. Don't hug the center line of the street, or wander over to either side of your lane. When looking at your path don't look just over the hood of the car. Instead, look well ahead. Do this both in moving forward and in turning a corner. Your car then travels nicely on center in the lane and your eyes are free for watching traffic problems. At night, watch beyond your headlights for dark shapes on the road. When visibility is poor and you must look low to find your path, the high-aim habit automatically holds your speed down to a safe level.

Miss Chapman

2. Get the Big Picture. Keep general watch over a wide, deep traffic scene. Few drivers pay attention far enough ahead, and most drivers often limit their attention to a car just in front of them. View that car just ahead as a tiny part of a bigger scene.

3. Keep Your Eyes Moving. Most traffic conflicts come from the sides. A driver with a fixed forward stare is slow to see such conflicts. If he does manage to stop in time, his sudden stop invites a rear-end collision. So force your eyes to move at least once each two seconds. Check both sides of the road far ahead, and glance into the rear mirror at least every five seconds. Make it a habit, so you will do it even when mentally preoccupied.

4. Leave Yourself an Out. Keep a good stopping margin ahead, and also try as much as possible to keep open space on at least one side so you can swerve away from sudden danger. Do not ride in a cluster of vehicles any longer than necessary. Either get out front or drop back slightly.

5. Make Sure They See You. This applies to any other driver or pedestrian in a position where you must depend on him to stay put until you get past him. Unless you are sure he sees you and shows by his actions that he will keep out of your path, give several brief taps on the horn—or at night flick your upper and lower headlight beams. Give this warning as early as you can, so you can still take an escape course if necessary.

After you make these five rules strong habits, Smith adds, remind yourself occasionally of three of them: Get the big picture; keep your eyes moving; make sure they see you.

Bulldogs Wallop Thompson, 11-1

By S. DeMent

One homerun pitch was all that stood between Ronald "Lefty" Smitherman and a "no run, no hit" victory as Montevallo walloped Thompson High of Siluria 11-1 here Friday. Hinds connected for the round tripper in the third as he led off the inning. Smitherman, in this airtight pitching performance, gave up one hit, struck out seven, and walked six to win his second game this season.

Siluria's starting pitcher, Glen, allowed three hits, issued four walks, and saw six runs cross before Jones came in to relieve in the fourth. The Bulldogs collected three hits, four free passes, and five runs from Jones.

No player hit safely more than once. Hinds' home run and a double by Ed Hicks for the Bulldogs were the only extra-base hits of the game.

Montevallo scored three runs in the first inning. Doyle Burdett, lead-off man, opened with a single. He was sacrificed to second by Wayne Phillips, stole third, and came home as Underwood grounded to second. Free passes to Smitherman and Hicks counted for runs two and three as Russell singled, plating both of them.

A base on balls and two errors cost the Warriors another run in the third.

Harrison grounded sharply to short and was on as the shortstop muffed the play. Then three walks and Hicks' double gave the Bulldogs four runs in the fourth inning. Wayne Phillips and Ed Hicks stole home in this inning, the second time this season for both.

Harrison led off inning No. 6 with a single, stole second, and took third on an error; Burdett's fly to center field brought him home. Two walks and four Thompson miscues gave Montevallo their final runs in the sixth.

Montevallo 3, Jemison 0

After ten innings of scoreless baseball, Montevallo broke loose with three runs in the top of the 11th to defeat Jemison for the second time this season, 3-0. This was the fifth straight win for the Bulldogs with no losses.

Going into the 11th inning, Doyle Burdett, lead-off man, singled and was sent to second as Wayne Phillips placed a neat bunt down the third base line and was out at first. Alexander grounded to second, sending Burdett to third; then Ed Hicks, clean-up batter, singled the winning run across.

Two insurance runs were added as Pete Pickett doubled, scoring Hicks, and Tinker Underwood singled to plate Pickett.

This was the third straight win for southpaw Ronald Smitherman in as many starts. Smitherman went the full 11 innings.

Of Montevallo's 11 hits, Pickett had three for five—a single, a double and a triple. Burdett had three for six, and Hicks hit two for four.

A feller was once sittin' in a theater beside the British Prime Minister. He turned to his lordship and said,

"Who is that ugly woman who just came in?"

"Oh that," the Prime Minister said, "that is my wife."

"Sir, ten thousand pardons," the feller stammered. "I did not mean her ladyship — I meant the monster beside her."

"That," the Prime Minister said, "is my daughter."

Friend o'mine, Joe Moon, spent his vacation visitin' Canada's national parks last summer—Jasper and Kootenay and Mount Revelstoke. He saw them wonderful waterfalls in Yoho National Park and the mineral hot springs in Banff, and he's still talkin' about the beauty of Lake Louise. He says Canada has 17 national parks, not countin' the historic parks, with a total area of about 29,000 square miles. In the United States, there's 28 national parks, with an area of about 20,000 square miles.

All these places, Joe Moon says, are beautiful — in part — because of their forest lands. And he asked me, "Stumpy"—knowin' how I feel about trees—"Stumpy, what do you figure is the most tragic loss from forest fire: loss of watershed, loss of recreation area, or loss of timber?" Well, sir, I told him, "Joe, there's no answer to that question — they're all tragic."

If you feel the way Joe and I do, you might like to know about the Keep Green movement. You've seen their signs—"Keep Minnesota Green," "Keep Alabama Green," "Keep California Green and Golden," and so on. Keep Green committees are springin' up all over the country to fight forest fire before it starts. If you'd like to form a group in your town, write to American Forest Products Industries, 1816 N Street NW, Washington, D.C., for the free pamphlet, "Keep Green in Action."

By the way, the most unusual tree farm I ever heard of is out in California. It's the Sky Forest tree farm in the San Bernardino Mountains. On 15 of the farm's 400 acres is a community called "Santa's Village," where Santa Claus lives with his reindeer. At least, that's what the farm's owner, Mister Henck, tells me. Anyway, it's a great place for kids. And it just goes to show how many things a tree farm can be used for.

I asked my friend Bob Porter at his recent wedding if he believed in clubs for women. "Sure do," he said, "but only if every other form of persuasion fails!"

IT'S UP TO YOU

By
Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

When Jesus was betrayed He told His disciples that He could call twelve legions of angels to defend Him. No doubt He was many times tempted to set up a strong temporal power that could suppress all opposition, and if persuasion failed, could coerce people to accept His teachings. He faced the same temptation that besets this generation — to try to enforce righteousness by law and police action, to seek to compel people to be good, to make them share with others and to observe Christian principles.

We must assume, I think, that Jesus pondered long before rejecting coercion as impracticable and destructive of human personality and determining to depend wholly upon the persuasive power of His message. Having thought it all through, He chose the Cross and death rather than resort to temporal power. He proposed no law or state action for the redemption of man and his institutions. He depended entirely upon men and women who were born again.

In our opinion the minister who puts his faith in the welfare state, that is in the coercive power of government, is not following in the footsteps of the Master.

Integration of Schools Compared to Prohibition

Senator Robertson says it is now the South's turn to appeal to public opinion.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The present reaction of Southerners to the Supreme Court decision of 1954 prohibiting racially segregated schools has been compared by Senator A. Willis Robertson of Virginia to the reaction of Northern states to the prohibition amendment between 1919 when it was ratified and 1933 when it was repealed.

Sen. Robertson

Robertson spoke on the Senate Floor answering criticism by Senator Herbert H. Lehman of New York which was directed against the "Declaration of Constitutional Principles" signed by nearly 100 members of Congress from the Southern states.

Explaining that he had enjoyed friendly relations in the Senate with Senator Lehman, although they had differed on economic and social problems, Robertson said it was without rancor or bitterness that he proposed to point out "how inconsistent it is for a distinguished member of this body to make a strong and determined fight on one phase of States' rights and attempt to deny a similar privilege to others who invoke the same doctrine but on a different issue."

The declaration signed by Southern members of Congress, Robertson said, condemned the Supreme Court decision as unwarranted under the division of powers provided by the Constitution and unwise not only because of the effect it would have on public schools but also because of the damage it would do to our constitutional form of government. The declaration advocated only "lawful" means to bring about a reversal of the Court's decision. Robertson recalled that after the Eighteenth (prohibition) Amendment and the enforcement act adopted by Congress had been approved by the Supreme Court in a test case, Senator Lehman's state had refused to cooperate in enforcement of the law. He quoted the U. S. District Attorney for the Southern District of New York as saying repeal of the New York enforcement act was "the hardest blow the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment had received."

What New York Did

Robertson also quoted statements of New York officials as to the thousands of speakeasies which operated in that state during the prohibition period and recalled that former Mayor LaGuardia of New York City had said it would take 250,000 policemen and an additional force of 200,000 "to police the the police" to enforce prohibition in New York.

Recalling that Senator Lehman had been Lieutenant Governor of New York during this period and was Governor when the Eighteenth Amendment was repealed, Robertson quoted Lehman as saying that repeal marked "the end, so far as this state is concerned, of a fifteen-year long struggle carried on by thousands of devoted and patriotic men and women against sumptuary legislation which at no time represented the uncontrolled sentiment of a majority of the people of this country." He said former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York had admitted, however, that those who fought against prohibition had been called nullificationists and enemies of the Constitution.

Robertson asked if Lehman would not recognize "that the decree requiring the Southern States to operate mixed schools instead of requiring separate but equal schools for the races is in our eyes 'sumptuary'."

The Virginia Senator said that in 1859 the State of Wisconsin had opposed a Supreme Court decision requiring return of fugitive slaves and the legislature of that state had passed a resolution denouncing the Court and saying that its order was "without authority, void and of no force."

Lincoln Quoted

Robertson said it was with reference to this Wisconsin action that Abraham Lincoln in 1861 had said: "If the policy of the government upon vital questions affecting the whole people is to be irrevocably fixed by a decision of the Supreme Court the instant they are made, in ordinary litigation between parties in personal actions, the people will have ceased to be their own rulers, having to that extent practically resigned the government into the hands of that eminent tribunal."

The Senator also quoted Elihu Root as saying at the New York convention to ratify repeal of the prohibition amendment that the American people had learned two vital lessons. "One is that our Constitutional government rests upon two bases, national strength and local self-government, and that both are essential to the continuance of our free democracy. . . . The other lesson is of higher and broader importance, that human progress, that advance along the road of civilization from brutish animalism to the conceptions of justice and charity . . . has been made not by compulsion, but by the development of higher standards of conduct and nobler emotions among the people; a lesson that advance in all that is noble and good comes not from without, but from within."

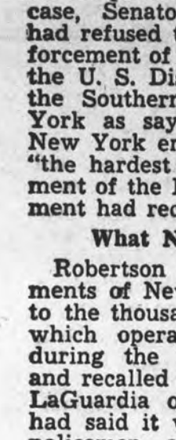

Robertson said Franklin D. Roosevelt in a presidential campaign speech said prohibition had failed because "we have depended too largely upon the power of governmental action instead of recognizing that the authority of the home and that of the churches in these matters is a fundamental force on which we must build. . . . The experience of nearly one hundred and fifty years under the Constitution has shown us that the proper means of regulation is through the States, with control by the Federal Government limited to that which is necessary to protect the States in the exercise of their legitimate powers."

"The principles declared in those utterances," Senator Robertson said, "are the same ones which are advocated by the signers of the 1956 Declaration of Constitutional Principles. New York and other Northern states objected to national prohibition. The Southern states now object to a prohibition against separate but equal schools."

He said Senator Lehman had hailed the repeal of prohibition as evidence that public opinion could do legally what many had claimed could be done only through nullification.

"It is before the bar of public opinion that we of the South now hope to make our case," Robertson concluded.

A few months ago Dr. Steelman said in a letter to Dr. Acker:

"Yes, I am getting quite involved. My wife says I fussed for seven years about getting out of the White House so I could "settle down and be quiet.' Now I am on the board of directors of several companies, president of the Washington Rapid Transit Company, president of a publishing company, publisher of three newspapers, and incidentally, consultant to 15 companies—where I make my living. Outside of that, I try to spend a few hours each week at my farm, so I keep entirely too busy."

Three Weekly Newspapers

Along with his letter, Dr. Steelman sent a clipping from the Washington Daily News, telling of his recent acquisition of three newspapers in Maryland. The story says:

"Ex-Truman Assistant Is An 'Independent' — New Montgomery Publisher Says His Aim Is Not Politics."

Continuing, the News story by Everet Clark, says: John R. Steelman, who was a newspaper man once before, said his purchase of three Montgomery County (Md.) weeklies has nothing to do with politics. The question came up because of Mr. Steelman's background and the history of the papers themselves.

The 55-year-old one-time economics and sociology professor spent almost 20 years in high appointive jobs in the government, all but three months under Democratic administrations.

In 1946 President Truman made hiim the nation's first Assistant to the President. President Eisenhower kept him on as Special Assistant for three months after the Republicans moved into the White House.

Mr. Steelman said he bought the Maryland Press, Rockville Times and Bethesda Record for three reasons — to help make Montgomery County where he has "settled down to live (and farm) for all time," a better place; to make money, and to keep "out-of-state persons" from buying them.

"People are always trying to buy newspapers with some political purpose in mind," he said. "If we take any stand in the national campaign, it will depend on who the candidates are, but we probably won't. In the state and county we'll be expected to be for somebody, but again, it depends on who they are.

"In other words, I didn't buy them for political reasons in any manner, because I am a political independent and always have been —even when I was in the White House."

Dr. Steelman was for some time a professor at Alabama College. He still has many friends here who are interested in his doings.

Methodist Offering To Benefit Retired Ministers, Widows

Methodists of North Alabama are being asked to carry out the Bible injunction, "I am my brother's keeper" on Mother's Day when an offering is to be taken for the work of building homes for retired preachers and widows of deceased ministers.

Dr. W. Nelson Guthrie, executive secretary of the North Alabama Conference Board of Superannuate Homes and Endowment, says that these men and women who have given an aggregate of over 7,000 years of service to the Methodist Church, are looking to 960 churches to make the eventime of life comfortable for them.

Dr. Guthrie says that though most of the 960 churches have put a stipulated amount in the budget for the conference retired ministers program, other churches will take a special offering on Mother's Day.

Dr. Guthrie says that the retired claimants of the North Alabama Conference have led over 100,000 people to Christ and have officiated over 75,000 funerals of persons of all faiths and have performed the marriage ceremony for many thousands of couples.

"Besides these acts of ministry, these now retired have answered thousands upon thousands of calls and preached countless sermons," Dr. Guthrie says.

Bishop Clare Purcell says of these men and women who have served so faithfully for all these years: "They dreamed and prayed worked and preached, believing God and people called Methodists would provide for them in their days of retirement."

Mrs. Leslie Mahaffey now has her bake shop in the Lovelady warehouse building next to Rainbow Market.

Owen Blames Supreme Court For State's High Telephone Rates

C. C. (Jack) Owen, president of the Alabama Public Service Commission, today laid the blame for Alabama's present telephone rates squarely on the steps of the State Supreme Court.

Owen, a member of the Commission since 1947, pointed out that the APSC has not voluntarily granted the Southern Bell Telephone Company a single rate increase in the past nine years.

"In every single instance where Southern Bell received an increase," Owen said, "it was granted after we turned them down and the Supreme Court ordered us to grant the increase."

In a review of the Commission's actions in the past Owen stated, "In October 1947, the Southern Bell Telephone Company filed a petition with this Commission for a rate increase. After numerous lengthy hearings on this case, we issued an order in March 1948.

"Immediately the telephone company appealed this order to the Circuit Court of Montgomery County and the Circuit Court granted the company everything they asked for.

"We appealed this case to the Supreme Court of Alabama and the Supreme Court upheld the Circuit Court in every respect. We had no choice other than to abide by the Supreme Court's decision. We fought it tooth and nail all the way. In addition to our own staff we had the accounting firm of Crane, Jackson and Wilson of Montgomery, the law firm of Maurice Bishop of Birmingham, a field representative of the Federal Communications Commission and the Attorney General's office working with us.

"On July 21, 1952, Southern Bell filed a new petition with the Public Service Commission asking a further rate increase. The Commission found that the company's return under existing rates was 6.01 per cent which was considered fair and reasonable by the Commission under the then existing conditions, and the rate increase was denied by order issued October 17, 1952, without appeal being made by the company.

"On January 24, 1954, Southern Bell again filed for a state-wide increase in rates. After an extended hearing, the Commission found that the existing rates were producing a return of about 6 per cent on actual net investment and we thought this was certainly enough, based on the record in the case. We therefore denied any increase in Southern Bell's rates by order issued April 21, 1954.

"The Company filed its appeal to the Circuit Court of Montgomery County on April 22, 1954, and the Circuit Judge permitted the increased rates to go into effect under bond by order issued June 18, 1954, pending its final determination of the appeal.

"The Court rendered its decision on November 16, 1955, again granting the company everything it had asked for. The Public Service Commission appealed the Circuit Court's decision to the Alabama Supreme Court on November 29, 1955, where the matter still awaits final decision.

"In the meantime, the increased rates are continued in effect under bond by the court order.

"Alabama's telephone rates now are lower than 26 other states. If we win this appeal, Alabama's rates will be lower than 41 other states. We are doing everything the law allows us to do."

Montevallo Edges Calera, 8 to 7

By S. DeMent

Timely hitting by Tinker Underwood, shortstop, and a brilliant relief job by Ed Hicks literally wrote a storybook finish as Montevallo defeated Calera by 8 to 7 there Thursday night.

Not being able to touch Calera ace righthander, Wright Ingram, for more than two base hits to that time, Montevallo went into the seventh inning trailing 7-0. Then the Bulldogs broke loose with eight runs as Tinker Underwood, batting hero for the night, started the assault with a single. Then base hits by Smitherman. Harrison, Phillips, Hicks and Pickett; a walk issued Alexander; and a grand slam homer by Underwood gave Montevallo the winning margin.

Hicks set the Eagles down in order in the bottom of the seventh to wrap up Montevallo's seventh straight victory.

Calera jumped on Montevallo early to score one run in the first inning. Hadaway and Smith singled; Hadaway crossed. A second run came for the Eagles in the second frame as the result of a walk issued Goree. He crossed the plate as Smitherman's wild pitch got by Knowles.

In a five-run uprising in the third Hadaway, Smith, Wright Ingram and Goree had singles, and Thomas hit for two bases.

Calera collected nine base hits and three free trips off Montevallo's three hurlers. Hadaway, shortstop, was head man for the losers with three for four; Smith had two for three; and Godfrey and Thomas each collected a double.

Pickett Hurls Third Shutout of Season

By S. DeMent

A one-hit shutout by righthander Pete Pickett gave Montevallo Bulldogs a 6-0 victory over Shelby County High of Columbiana there last Thursday. Pickett's sparkling pitching job, his third shutout of the season, and errorless defensive play by the Bulldogs afield gave the Montevallo nine their sixth win in as many starts. The big righthander gave up one hit, a single to Tommy King in the first inning, and then closed the door. Only two other Shelby Countians reached first, these by way of free passes, as Pickett faced only 24 batters in the full seven innings.

Ed Hicks, first baseman, making three of Montevallo's six runs, led the Bulldogs at the plate with three for four, one a triple. Wayne Phillips had two singles in three trips and played good defensive ball at second.

A walk issued Burdett and triples by Hicks and Pickett were good for two runs to start the scoring in the top of the first inning. Two more were added in the second as Harrison opened the inning with a single. Burdett was given another free trip; then Wayne Phillips' single plated both Harrison and Burdett.

Hicks opened the third inning with a single, stole second and third, and was home with run No. 5 after Knowles flied to left. A repeat performance came in the seventh as Hicks again led off with a single and crossed the plate when Knowles flied to deep center.

Charles Bradberry, on the mound for Columbiana, gave up eight base hits, walked five, and whiffed nine of the Bulldogs as he went the distance.

Score by innings:								R	H	E

FHA Chapter Confers Degrees

The Montevallo Chapter of Future Homemakers of America met Tuesday, April 17, and with pride conferred degrees on nine of its members who "have worked effectively toward the purposes of the organization, have contributed to the improvement of their own growth as individuals, chapter members, home members, school and community members, and have checked their purposes as they carried out their plans."

The nine FHA members receiving Junior Homemaker degrees were: Mitchie Lovejoy, Nelda Jean Scott, Beth Bice, Edith Edfeldt, Rhonda Albright, Gibbie Scott, Judy Robinson and Tommie Ruth Mowery. Chapter degrees were presented to Jo Ina Huckabee, Pat Waters and Peggy Edwards.

These members met the qualifications for receiving their Junior Homemaker degree by:

1. Getting a better understanding of the FHA organization.

2. Growing as an individual, a member of a home, a member of a school and community by choosing goals which the members believe are important and desirable to work toward.

3. Indicating the purposes of the National FHA organization to which the work done toward this degree has contributed and explaining how it has contributed.

In addition, a chapter member must have belonged to a local affiliated chapter one semester and must have been a member of a homemaking class one semester or one-half a school year.

The main difference in the Junior and Chapter Homemaker degree is that the latter requires that one meet the additional qualifications such as interpreting the homemaking program, including FHA through helping other people have a better understanding of the FHA program, including the work of the member's homemaking class and what the member's FHA chapter is trying to accomplish through its program of work for the year.

In addition to this the member chooses at least six goals which she believes are important and desirable to work toward.

Some of the things that FHA members have done in order to obtain Junior and Chapter Homemaker degrees are: Improve own personality through analyzing personality needs and working toward definite goals. Improve family life through doing such things as planning and preparing family meals, making clothing for family members, understanding and caring for children in the home, helping to improve the appearance of the home through care and arrangement of furnishings, and through helping family members to enjoy recreation at home; participate in community life through church and other organizations. — Hazel Weaver, Student Teacher.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The controversy over farm legislation continues unabated in the nation's capital. President Eisenhower vetoed the omnibus farm bill last Monday and an effort by the House of Representatives on the following day to override this veto failed by a substantial number of votes.

Soil Bank Controversy

In his veto message, President Eisenhower urged Congress to enact separate soil bank legislation "as promptly as possible." Within a matter of only a few days, the House Appropriations Committee approved the sum of $1.2 billion to be used for the soil bank program. In doing so, the committee contended that the President has ample authority under existing legislation to carry out a soil bank plan and that special legislation to authorize such a program is not necessary. However, Republican members of the committee issued a minority report challenging the committee's authority to vote funds without specific authorization.

Administration forces are blaming the Democratic - controlled Congress for delaying the soil bank program. If the contentions of the Appropriations Committee are correct, the practical effect will be to lay the blame for the delay back in the lap of the Republican administration. For that reason, there is little doubt that the pros and cons of this question will be thoroughly presented.

Cotton Acreage Floor

An important section of the vetoed omnibus farm bill provided that the national cotton acreage allotment for 1957 and 1958 would not be less than the allotment for 1956. Realizing the serious effect further acreage reductions will have on the cotton producers of our district and state, I joined last week with twenty-two of my colleagues in introducing separate legislation that will freeze minimum cotton acreage for the next two years at the 1956 level.

Cotton acreage has been reduced to the lowest level in all history. These acreage cuts have created new problems of diverted acres, reduction in gross income, high production costs, displaced labor and insecurity. The economy of the cotton belt cannot continue to absorb further cuts, particularly in the immediate future. My bill (H. R. 10696), as well as those introduced by other members of Congress from cotton-producing states, is designed to guarantee against further reduction of cotton acreage.

In addition, H. R. 10696 establishes a small farm reserve, equal to one per centum of the national allotment, which will provide a minimum of about 170,000 acres for the exclusive benefit of small farmers. This reserve will be in addition to the national allotment and will not take acreage from any state. H. R. 10696 also authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to allot to small cotton farmers a quantity of acreage in each state equal to the amount of allotted acreage that normally will not be planted. As in the case of the small farm reserve provision, this acreage will be in addition to the national minimum reserve and will not take acreage from any state.

If the small cotton farmer is to remain in business, acreage reductions cannot continue. It is hoped that a majority of the members of Congress will realize this fact and will act favorably on H. R. 10696 or similar legislation before adjournment.

There will be a baby show contest, bingo, darts, surprise boxes and many other games. Hot dogs and drinks will be sold at the night program.

CONCORD BAPTIST CHURCH

Dear Friends:

May has been declared "Back to Sunday School Month" by the Concord Baptist Church. We want to break all records in Sunday school attendance. Our goal for the month is 100. This goal can be easily reached by your hearty cooperation.

Please attend services each Sunday and endeavor to enlist the unenlisted. Let's pray that May will be the greatest month in the history of our good church. This can only be realized by the united efforts of the Brotherhood, the WMU, Sunday school teachers and all other church members.

Some of you are members of Concord but haven't attended for a long time. Make it your business to return to your home church in May.

There are others in our community who have never affiliated with any church. Will you attend our Sunday school in May. You will be the better for it.

On Sunday, May 20, we will begin our Spring Revival. Dr. Damon Wyatt, the talented chalk artist and preacher, will be the evangelist. His versatile wife, Vivian, will accompany him. She is a composer and accomplished pianist. Our song leader for this special meeting will be the Rev. Perry Scott, a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute, and now director for the McElwain Baptist Church in Birmingham. We are anticipating an unusual meeting. You are invited. Remember the date is May 20 at 7:30, and closing May 30.

Also on June 10 Concord will have its annual Homecoming Day. There will be good preaching and singing and good eating. Plan to attend.—Yours in His name, P. Timothy Bailey, Pastor.

TERRACING DEMONSTRATION

On Wednesday, May 2, at the farm of Charles Knowles immediately north of the cemetery at Spring Creek Church, there will be a demonstration of terrace construction with farm equipment.

The public is invited to see the construction as well as to study the latest in water disposal systems. Utilizing parallel or equidistant terraces wherever possible this field will have few "point rows", a bad feature of the systems it replaces.

Siluria Chapter FFA is sponsoring the SCS and Soil Conservation District joint demonstration.

Why Is Folsom Trying to Pack Alabama's Highest Courts With His Handpicked Candidates
In the Democratic Primary of May 1?

In a move to seize complete control of Alabama's highest courts, Folsom has personally handpicked and is going all-out to elect his candidate to the Supreme Court of Alabama, one to the Court of Appeals and the President of the important Alabama Public Service Commission in the Democratic primary of May 1.

All over Alabama citizens are asking "What's behind this Folsom court packing deal?"

Is Folsom trying to get Courts that will side with him on breaking down our customs and traditions and to be the first in Dixie to "crack the South" on integration?

Is he seeking Courts that will let him have millions more to pad State payrolls with political friends?

Is he striving to build the most powerful personal political machine our State has ever known?

Does he want Courts that will say "yes" to the removal of tax and debt limitations which our State Constitution seeks to secure?

Does he want Courts that may overturn long-established precedents, as did the U. S. Supreme Court when it wiped out segregation in our schools?

Does he want to break down our safeguards for clean and honest elections?

Does he hope to have Courts that will allow discrimination and favoritism in the collection of taxes?

It is vitally important to our way of life and clean government in Alabama that all our Courts be free and independent. You can help by voting for those candidates who do NOT have Folsom's backing and support.

Attention, Mr. and Mrs. Voter:

Most of you citizens take your voting seriously—and that is as it should be. On May 1 you friends and neighbors of ours will vote. Among other offices to be filled are two seats on the Board of Revenue and Control of Shelby County. In all earnestness and seriousness we, the friends and neighbors of Offie Stinson urge you conscientiously to check on the progress of Shelby County for roads, buildings and bridges since Mr. Stinson took office in 1945. To mention a few: Bonded indebtedness in 1945 was $488,000. This was paid in 1953. No debt existing. Addition to Court House Building at the cost of $336,000, all paid. Shelby County ranks seventh in black top roads in the State of Alabama, as of August, 1955. Since then, there has been 9 more miles of black top roads. On the 6th of this month a contract was let to pave 12½ more miles.

Our rural dirt roads are in excellent condition. We personally do not know of a road that cannot be traveled in any kind of weather. District One has more black top roads built by the county than any District in Shelby County.

Please vote for continued progress and OFFIE STINSON

SOIL CONSERVATION WEEK

North Central Soil Conservation District observes annual week, coinciding for the first time with Soil Stewardship Week, a nation-wide observance.

In Shelby County this activity includes special sermons in many churches, special emphasis in the newspapers, and several farmer-participating activities.

Siluria and Montevallo F F A plan to study a water disposal and tractor demonstration on the C. A. Knowles farm near Spring Creek Church May 2.

Columbiana Kiwanians plan to have O. C. Medlock, State Conservationist, address them at the weekly supper Thursday, May 10. Each member is bringing a farmer, and local area SCS workers will attend.

F. E. Williams is Shelby County District Supervisor, and John L. Carter, Elvin Hill, Woodrow Elliott and Luther Fowler are advisers to the District.

The importance of soil conservation received special attention this week when Governor James E. Folsom proclaimed May 6 to 12 as "Soil Stewardship and Soil Conservation Districts Week" in Alabama. The Governor stated that the quality and quantity of food supplies and farm products depend upon the wise use and the proper management of the soil and its related resources.

"Good stewardship of the soil means good churches and good communities", the Governor said.

The proclamation urged the people to display greater interest in the land and assume a fuller share of the responsibility of preserving its productivity.

Board Authorizes Hospital Election

The Shelby County Board of Revenue has authorized an election to be held on May 29 for the people of Shelby County to vote on the question of financing and establishing a Shelby County Hospital under provisions of the Hill-Burton Act.

The Act provides that hospital projects in Alabama can receive two-thirds of the total cost of construction and equipment from federal funds. The remaining one-third of the cost must be raised locally. This may be done by authorization by the voters of a special hospital tax of up to 4 mills.

The question of a local county hospital tax is what the voters will pass upon in the May 29th election.

The vote on the hospital tax is to be on the same day and at the same time as the run-off Democratic Primary Election.

In the weeks between now and the 29th The Times-Herald will publish a complete digest of information about the needs and functions of such a proposed hospital in Shelby County and how it would serve our people.

Negro Citizens Help in Red Cross Drive

Sherrell McClure, county campaign chairman of the Red Cross, announces that Alabaster was the first community to reach quota in the county.

Local chairman Julius Pilgreen gave much credit to the colored people of Alabaster for the fine response. Of the $680 quota for Alabaster, the colored citizens raised over one-third.

The county chapter, along with the local chairman, wish to commend all who contributed to this drive.

Third Polio Shots Now Available

The State Health Department has assured your County Health Officer that sufficient polio vaccine is now available to give the third or "booster" dose to all children in the eligible age group, from 6 months of age to the 15th birthday, and also to prenatals.

Mrs. Bertha Walton, who retired from public health work on April 30, has already visited some of the schools to give the third shots and her successor as Public Health Nurse in this county, Miss Neila Fuller, will visit as many schools as possible during the first half of May.

Parents of those children who have failed to get their polio shots, whether first, second or third doses, are urged to bring them to the Health Department or take them to their family doctor so that they may be immunized against this disease.—Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

College Plans Speech Workshop

A two-week summer speech workshop for high school students will be one of the outstanding features of Alabama College's first term of the 1956 summer school.

The workshop, starting June 11 and continuing through June 23, will be under the supervision of Dr. Laura Wright, head of the speech department. Donald K. Springen, assistant professor of speech, will serve as workshop director. An instructional staff of six speech specialists will be in charge of specialized study and projects.

Designed for sophomore, junior and senior high school students and students graduating from high school this spring, the first week of the workshop will provide study in theatre, radio and television, public speaking, oral interpretation, discussion and debate.

One hundred dollar scholarships for one year to Alabama College for the 1956-57 school year will be available to students rated as superior in one or more of these areas of speech study.

Applications for the workshop may be obtained by writing the speech department at Alabama College.

Wheelchair Convention To Be in Birmingham

The Wheelchair Convention is to be held at the City Auditorium in Birmingham May 13. Miss Betty Lawley of Montevallo is the candidate of the Crippled Children's Clinic of Birmingham for Wheelchair Queen.

Betty is a post-polio victim in her early years. The first year was the only year she walked to school. She is completely paralyzed from the waist down with a spine and chest deformity; but in spite of this, she graduated from high school and took a business course at a Birmingham business school. She is at present telephone operator and receptionist at the Birmingham Crippled Children's Hospital.

Betty was sponsored by an organization of young people of a Birmingham church, and the Crippled Children's Clinic is doing everything possible to aid her in her contest, because she is such an inspiration to all of her associates at the hospital.

Anne Beddow, surgical supervisor says: "Compared to the rest of us, Betty has so little, but her outlook on life is so beautiful and her achievement over physical handicaps so great that she makes us all ashamed of taking so much for granted in the way of health and normal living."

Betty has been ill recently, and just now she is at home on Montevallo Route 2. She has a very great number of friends and acquaintances around here who are pulling for her to win the crown of Wheelchair Queen at the convention.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It makes me very proud to be an American when I consider that this nation has expended more than $51 billion on foreign aid since World War II. This is the greatest example of neighborly helpfulness in all the history of mankind.

Sharing our prosperity with unfortunates in other lands is a magnificent demonstration of American good will and sense of brotherhood responsibility.

But in our application of this sharing, let us not forget also to take care of our own who need help. We have in our midst thousands of our war veterans who are now reaching retirement age with little or no income to assure them freedom from want. They become unemployable at 65 because of physical disability and due to employment standards. They need help badly in declining years.

The American Legion is fighting in Congress for increased federal assistance for these veterans. On their behalf, the Legion presented to Congress its war veterans security bill.

This measure seeks to liberalize already existing laws for disability payments to unemployable veterans in need. The Legion asks for modest increase in these payments, for modest raises of the present income limitations, and automatic qualification for federal assistance when they reach the age of 65.

This is a program which merits every good American's support. We should not start counting the dollars where our needy veterans are concerned when we do not count the dollars we send overseas.

The War Security Bill is HR 7886. Write your Congressman today and ask him to support this American Legion measure. I certainly think our veterans should have first call on our helpfulness. —W. D. Franks, Adjt. of Ware-Crim Post 56, American Legion, Calera, Alabama.

Methodists Plan Special Mother's Day Offering

The men and women of the North Alabama Conference who have given almost 7,000 years to the conference will be remembered on Mother's Day in 960 congregations.

In most of these churches a special offering for the support of retired ministers and widows of deceased ministers will be taken and in others special services will mark the payment of the church's budget pledge to the conference program for the support and homes for these faithful servants.

The goal for Mother's Day is $100,000. There are 105 retired ministers and 132 widows of deceased ministers who depend each year on a place to live and the pension money from the conference to supply their needs during next year.

DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL TO MEET AT ALABAMA COLLEGE

Ford Trucks Cost Less!

Ford costs start low—Ford costs stay low...

The pay-off is in the payload! New Ford T-800 tandem-axle model lets you carry up to 3,000 lbs. more payload than most other 6-wheelers. GCW 65,000 lbs.

More loadspace than any other ½-ton pickup—up to 19 cu. ft. more! New Ford F-100, GVW 5,000 lbs., now offers full 8-ft. box. 6½-ft. box is standard.

Certified studies show Ford Trucks last longer than any of the other four leading makes

Compare Ford model for model with any other truck line and you'll find that, based on factory-suggested list prices, Ford has more models priced under competition.

But low initial cost is only one of the reasons why Fords cost less. Take resale value—it stays high, thanks to the demand for used Ford Trucks. Take operating costs—no other trucks give you the dependability of Ford's rugged chassis design with the gas and oil economy of a modern Short Stroke engine. Only Ford gives you a Short Stroke engine, V-8 or Six, in every truck—and at no extra cost.

Ford Trucks cost less to maintain because they last longer. There are plenty of reasons why. Ford Pickups, for example, have the highest combined front and rear axle capacity in the half-ton field. Ford Heavy Duty engines have sodium-cooled valves that last up to five times longer because they run up to 225 degrees cooler.

When you take everything into consideration, you'll agree it costs less to own a FORD Truck. Before you buy any truck, see your Ford Dealer.

FORD TRUCKS LAST LONGER

Certified by independent insurance actuaries for the ninth consecutive year! Studies of over 10,068,600 current license registrations show that Ford Trucks last up to 9.9% longer than any of the other 4 leading truck makes!

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

By an overwhelming vote, the House of Representatives has approved a gigantic highway construction program. The House bill authorizes a 13-year Federal-State road building program at a cost of $51.5 billion, to be financed chiefly on a pay-as-you-go basis.

This legislation, as passed by the House last Friday, incorporates construction authorization features worked out by the Public Works Committee and tax financing proposals approved by the Ways and Means Committee.

6th District Benefits

Under the provisions of the House bill, an expenditure of $24.8 billion is authorized over a 13-year period for work on the 40,000 mile interstate highway system. Our own state and congressional district will receive direct benefits from this program since the interstate system covers 947 miles in Alabama and includes all or part of U. S. Highways 11, 29, 31, 90, 78, and 80. Approximately 175 miles of Alabama's present interstate highway system, or over 18 per cent, is in our Sixth Congressional District. Under the bill, a total of $42,782,000 in interstate system funds will be apportioned to the state of Alabama for fiscal years 1957 and 1958.

The federal government will pay 90 per cent of the construction costs under the interstate highway program and the states will furnish the remaining 10 per cent. The federal government's share will be paid from present revenue plus additional funds obtained from the following new sources: (1) a one-cent-per-gallon increase in the gasoline, special motor fuel, and Diesel fuel taxes; (2) an increase of three cents a pound in the tax on tires (now five cents, as well as a new tax of three cents a pound on camelback for retreading tires; (3) a two-percentage-point increase in the present eight per cent manufacturers' tax on trucks, buses, and truck trailers; and (4) a new annual tax of $1.50 per 1,000 pounds of "taxable gross weight" for trucks and buses weighing over 26,000 pounds if registered for use on the highways.

In addition to the interstate program, the House bill authorizes increased funds to continue the regular federal-aid primary, secondary, and urban highway projects. Under the House-approved measure, Alabama's share of these funds for fiscal years 1957 and 1958 will be $15,434,000.

Senate Approval Likely

The number of registered automobiles has doubled since 1946 and there are approximately 62 million operating on the nation's roads today. Highway accidents have now increased to a point where 100 persons are killed and 3000 are injured daily. It is believed that passage of legislation similar to the House-approved bill will decrease substantially this tremendous number of highway accidents.

The need for a greatly increased highway construction program is obvious, and early Senate approval of the House bill is expected.

A good mulch of oak leaves, pine straw, peat, or similar material put around all shrubs will conserve moisture and discourage weed growth this summer. Also, most shrubs do better if they are not cultivated—just pull out the grass and weeds in mulch.

Montevallo Lumber Receives Award

Montevallo Lumber Co., dealers in building supplies, has been given an Honor Roll Award by Johns-Manville, national manufacturers of building materials. In announcing the honor to the local concern today, Johns-Manville stated that the award in the form of a certificate is given to selected firms throughout the country in recognition of their proven integrity and their contribution to better housing in their home communities.

The award has been instituted, according to the Johns-Manville announcement, because of recent disclosures about "rackets" in the home improvement field which may have been damaging to reputable firms. The FHA probe points out to homeowners the importance of dealing with local established firms and avoiding "fly-by-night" concerns who are here today and gone tomorrow and who employ questionable selling practices and have frequently charged homeowners far more than a job was worth.

Through its national advertising, Johns-Manville will suggest that the public rely upon dealers who have qualified for the company's honor roll. Salesmen representing these companies will be provided with identification cards indicating to the public that they are associated with a firm of established integrity.

In accepting the award, Fred Frost of Montevallo Lumber Co. stated, "I look upon this award as a valuable symbol to the homeowners of our community. It typifies the close cooperation between the national manufacturer of quality building materials and the established dealer to assure the homeowner the ultimate value for his building or remodeling dollar." Fred Frost recalled that his firm had been serving this community since 1927.

WHICH DO YOU PREFER?
Home Grown or Imported?

Here are two sketches—

One shows an existing plant being expanded with "home grown" capital to supplement other capital.

The other shows a brand new plant of similar size being built with capital "coming in".

The new plant coming to town is glamorous; the expansion of an existing plant often is taken as a matter of course. "Outside" capital is essential to the continued growth of Alabama, but the home grown variety is essential, too.

Each represents industrial development—the expansion of an existing plant or the building of a new one with "home-grown" or "outside" capital is just as important as the coming of a new one.

Much of the tremendous industrial development for Alabama announced during 1955* represented expansion of existing industry. Our Industrial Development men certainly will continue their activities, independently and in cooperation with others, in presenting to American industry the advantages of a plant in Alabama. Among the many elements in the decision to locate a plant—labor, raw material, transportation, markets—is another. That is, how industry already here likes being here. Often the decision to come to Alabama or locate elsewhere depends on that.

Perhaps this week—Alabama Industry Week—will serve as a reminder that every week should be "Alabama Industry Week"—so that those prospective industrial newcomers will have heard that—"Alabama's a good place for industry to be."

Alabama Power Company

Helping Develop Alabama

*The establishment of 30 new industries and expansions to 26 existing industries in the vicinity of towns and cities receiving their electric power from Alabama Power Company was indicated during 1955. These represent only those which will make capital investments of $50,000 or more each. Total investment is expected to be approximately $276,000,000. The new industries alone will create nearly 9,000 new jobs. The investment figure does not include the cost of additional plants and facilities to be built by Alabama Power Company and other investor-owned utilities in Alabama Power Company's service area.

The 60 churches of the Sylacauga District will remember

Christ Called Them to Serve and will make a liberal offering on Mother's Day for the 245 Retired Preachers and Widows of the North Alabama Conference.

They are Remembered

- They Preached the Gospel
- They Married the Living
- They baptised our Children
- They comforted our sick
- They counseled our youth
- They buried our dead

An opportunity to share our love and our gifts

Can you think of a more urgent call than that of this great Christian Brotherhood to provide for one of our own that has given his best in the ministry of our Lord Jesus Christ? We have nine (9) or more who have been true ministers of the gospel who must be provided for. We cannot answer this urgent call unless every church, large and small, remembers this with quota PAID IN FULL.

The call is urgent to 200,000 Methodists

Where Will They Live?

We have been informed that 9 of our brethren will retire this coming conference. This number could and perhaps will be increased by the time conference convenes. Most of these who will superannuate have served charges at small salaries. They are not financially able to retire, but because of health and age they are compelled to superannuate. They have served well. Their contribution to Methodism in the Work of the Kingdom cannot be measured.

They are worthy of the best the church can provide. Where they will live depends entirely upon what people called Methodist do for this great cause. To say to these who retire "We have a home for you," means that each church on every charge has paid its quota in full. We can and we will give them a place to live, after they have served faithfully.

A Home for Our Claimants Today and Tomorrow

We need to sell many of our old homes. . Take this money plus money from our general fund with gift lots, materials and labor, and build (fireproof) 4-unit brick apartments. These will be comfortable and not a constant drain on our funds to keep homes in repair.

We are anxious to locate these new units in every district in the conference. Grant that the privilege of sharing will be placed on our churches and members until extra help will be provided so we can continue to move forward in providing these modern and permanent type units for our claimants of today and tomorrow. Young men who will enter the Methodist ministry will benefit from these new units, as well as those who are now retired.

OUR PRESENT CLAIMANTS

Our 244 claimants are having a difficult time living on small retirement pay now given them. With each and every charge paying its quota in FULL, these noble claimants will receive $6 more for every year served. They need this and more to buy food, medicine and other necessities of life. We cannot afford to deny them in their day of need.

COULD YOU LIVE ONE WEEK ON THREE DOLLARS?

Is there any couple that you know of that could live one week on $3.00? We have in North Alabama Conference an honored retired preacher and his wife that live on this amount. After they pay lights, gas, water and telephone, buy medicine to keep them alive on, they have $3.00 a week left to buy food. This brother and his wife served over 30 years in our Conference. His highest salary (for 1 year only) was $1,086.00—lowest $183.00. He served rural charges with small salary. If every charge will pay its quota, this brother and his wife will have $200 more per year to buy food and necessities of life.

A Word to Charge Lay Leaders, Board Chairmen, Church School Superintendents and Presidents of WSCS:

We urge you to inform and inspire those under your leadership to support and give to this great cause. We beg of you to counsel and confer with your pastor as to the program in your church. He will give you charge quota and welcome your support. Let us start now to plan, organize and to reach the quota in each and every charge in our Conference. When our report is published in The Alabama Christian Advocate in July, help your church to be listed as PAID IN FULL.

Every church in Sylacauga District paying quota in full by Mother's Day

Shades Valley Hands Bulldogs First Defeat

Shades Valley outscored Montevallo 12-8 here Saturday night to hand the Bulldogs their first loss of the season.

The first two innings were no score, but Shades Valley started scoring in the third. Lawrence had walked and Baumgardner was on first by a fielder's choice. Montevallo came on to even up in the third as Ed Hicks doubled and crossed the plate ahead of Pete Pickett who hit for the circuit, his second home run of the season.

Valley took the lead again in the fourth, 4-2. Lutley drove one out of the park for four bases. The "city boys'" extended their lead to 8-2 in the fifth.

The Bulldogs staged a 4-run rally in the fifth inning to bring the count to 8-6. Included in this five-hit spree were a triple by Hicks, doubles by Alexander and Underwood, and singles by Pickett and Smitherman.

Runs 9 and 10 for Shades Valley came in the sixth. Eleven and 12 came in the seventh as a result of two walks and a siingle.

The Bulldogs scored one in the sixth and one in the seventh. In the sixth Hicks was given a free pass and crossed the plate when Alexander hit a double. Knowles, catcher, got one by the right fielder for a round trip and Montevallo's eighth run.

Lutley for Valley gave up 10 hits (2 home runs, 1 triple, 3 doubles and 4 singles), issued 5 walks and struck out 5.

Smitherman for Montevallo allowed 9 hits, 1 home run, 1 double; walked 7 and struck out 1. Hicks walked 2.

The power packed bats of Pickett and Hicks gave them a perfect night at the plate. Pickett 3 for 3, a home run, a double and a single and 1 free pass; Hicks hit 2 for 3.

Montevallo plays Guntersville here Friday night, May 4, and Saturday morning, May 5.

Members of the chapter have placed over 30 signs in the Montevallo area which were furnished by the Associated Industries of Alabama. The 80 members of the Montevallo FFA are studying industrial problems and progress through viewing 16 mm. sound films secured through the Associated Industries office in Birmingham.

Last Thursday the vocational agriculture students were guests of Alabama Flour Mills at Decatur where they observed the demonstration farm and feeding demonstrations and toured the milling operations under direction of Mr. Creel and Dr. Wilkenen of Alabama Flour Mills. Students were alert to see many relationships between agriculture and industry. It was pointed out that 15 years ago the Alabama Flour Mills purchased approximately $20,000 worth of grain from Alabama farmers, but last year the figure almost reached $2,000,000 in purchase of grain from Alabama farmers. The students also noted that the milling concern employs 300 workers and maintains 90 trailer trucks and 45 tractors for transportation purposes.

Truly the Montevallo boys believe that "What Alabama Makes —Makes Alabama." M. Thornton is adviser of the local chapter.

Hicks Hurls 3-1 Victory Over Calera's Eagles

Ed Hicks was head man in Montevallo's 3-1 victory over Calera here Wednesday night. On the mound for the Bulldogs, Hicks held the Eagles to three scattered hits and then came on in the seventh with a game-ending home run, scoring James Alexander ahead of him.

Montevallo scored one run in the first as Wayne Phillips tripled and came home as Ingram's wild pitch got by Goree behind the plate.

Lambrecht, drawing a walk to open the third, was sacrificed to second by Robinson. He scored on a Bulldog error to tie up the game.

To open the seventh, with the score tied 1-1, Phillips was issued a base on balls. He was out as James Alexander's grounder went to second; Alexander was on by way of a fielder"s choice. Then Hicks wrapped up the game with his home run in deep right center, plating Alexander ahead of him.

Wright Ingram, Calera's ace right-hander, with almost perfect control, allowed only five Bulldogs to reach first. He gave up three hits, walked only one, and struck out five.

Hicks, in defeating Calera a second time this season, allowed three hits, walked four, and sent seven Eagles down the "K" route.

Clanton Lions Club To Sponsor East-West Game

Ott Miller, chairman of the game committe of the Clanton Lions Club, sends us the following information which will be of interest to local sports fans:

The Clanton Lions Club is sponsoring their third annual East-West baseball game next Saturday night, May 12. This game contributes its proceeds for Alabama Sight, Inc.

We are pleased to have Ed Hicks, Montevallo's corking good first baseman back for his third year. He has played in every one of our games and was a participant in the big one in Birmingham last year. Coach Fisher says he had a hard time selecting the second boy from this year's team, but finally named Wayne Phillips. However, he has strongly recommended four other members of this year's team and we plan to play them if any of the other schools fail to respond.

In addition to these, we have been advised that Robert Langston, Jemison's catcher, and one of the winners in our game last year will be back, accompanied by James Nelson. From West Blocton we will have Grady West and Travis Hall.

We extend an invitation to all Montevallo folks to come to our game Saturday night.

FRONT VIEW of the Chilton County Hospital at Clanton. The facility was opened about a year ago with 40 beds. Plans are now being made to extend it to 60 beds. The building in located on a 12-acre site on Lay Dam Road about two miles from the business center of the city.

Shelby County To Vote on Proposed County Hospital Plan on May 29

For several years there has been more or less discussion in Shelby County about the establishment of a county hospital under the Hill-Burton plan. While we have talked about it intermittently the question of needed hospital facilities has grown more and more acute.

Now the County Board of Revenue has made the initial step toward such a hospital by calling for a vote of the people on the matter for May 29.

This vote will decide whether or not the Board of Revenue will be authorized to proceed further with plans for a hospital or if we shall forget about it and go on under the handicap of hard-to-get hospital service.

There are many leading citizens of our county who are fired up with enthusiasm for levying the necessary tax that will make a hospital possible.

You will find in this paper a lot of information about how a Hill-Burton hospital can be financed by local taxation; how it can be built and operated.

We urge you to read this and think on the subject so you may be ready to vote your sentiments on May 29.

This is a most important matter and we should not consider it lightly. Getting proper hospital care is a perplexing problem if you come to face its necessity. It is something that is beyond the reach of some people.

Hospitals everywhere are always crowded. It appears that the only way we can have ample hospital service for the people of our county is to build one of our own.

Under the Hill-Burton plan the people of the county would pay one-third of the cost through a 4-mill tax and the federal Hill-Burton plan would pay two-thirds of the cost.

As an example, the Chilton County Hospital, which began operation about a year ago, cost about $600,000 for the land, the building and its equipment. The county, by its tax, paid about $200,000 and the Hill-Burton federal plan paid about $400,000.

Do we need such a hospital in Shelby County and can we afford to pay one-third of its cost by a 4-mill local county tax? That is the big question your vote will decide on May 29.

How Shelby County Can Obtain a County-Owned Hospital

The people of Shelby County will vote on the proposed county hospital tax on May 29, to authorize or not authorize the Board of Revenue to proceed with the necessary steps to establish a county hospital under the Hill-Burton Federal aid plan.

For the information of those who may desire to know more about the proposed hospital plan, we publish herewith a digest of twenty questions and answers on the subject.

You are urged to read and to study this and give it to your neighbor in order that the subject may have as wide publicity as possible before voting day.

The only answer to Shelby County's needs for hospital service and facilities is for us to build one of our own.

Birmingham hospitals have a full load of their own. If and when you need hospital service, it is difficult and sometimes impossible to find it in Birmingham or elsewhere.

Is the Hill-Burton plan what we want to solve this problem that often is distressing to our people?

Think about it and get ready to express your opinion intelligently and correctly by your vote on the 29th of this month.

Does Shelby County need a hospital?

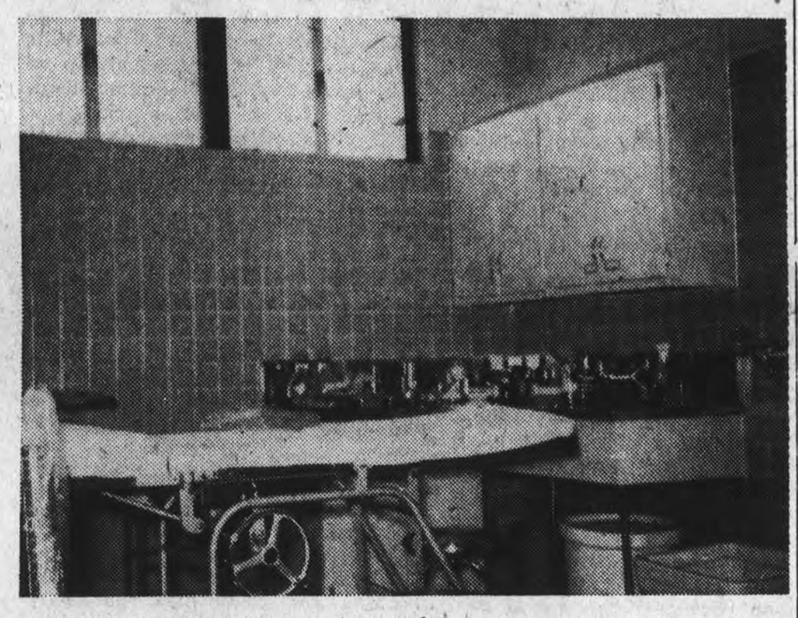

Based on a population of 31,000 and a ratio of 2½ beds per 1,000 persons as established by the Commission on Hospital Care and adopted by the U. S. Public Health Service and the State Health Department, Shelby County should have 78 beds to provide adequate medical and hospital care for her citizens. A survey made by the State Health Department in 1955 and revised annually since that time shows that there are 35 acceptable beds in the county. These are at Alabama College--and are for students only. The need in terms of human suffering, lost lives and life-long deformity due to the lack of hospital facilities cannot be accurately evaluated but is nevertheless very real and of major importance.

Now that we know that Shelby needs a modern hospital for the care of the sick and injured, how can we finance its construction and operation?

Under the generous provisions of the Hill-Burton Act as amended, projects in Alabama can receive 2/3 of the total cost of construction and equipment. The remaining money (1/3 of the cost) must be raised locally. This may be done by the authorization by the voters of a special hospital tax of up to 4 mills. Experience has shown that this is the best method of raising the local funds. Other methods are possible—such as contributions, direct appropriations, etc., but are unreliable for construction and of very little value for operation and maintenance. A sure and steady source income is of vital importance.

THIS is a picture of the central nurses station at the Clanton Hospital. All wings of the building extend from this center. An intercom system connects the nurses' center with all rooms and every other portion of the hospital. If a patient in bed wants something, he has only to pick up his "talkie" and tell the nurse on duty what he wants.

HERE is where the wrecks wind up—the emergency treatment room. All patients to be "patched up" or given first aid after a wreck or accident are taken care of in this department. This part of the hospital does a big business.

For what purpose may the 4 mill tax be used?

The Constitutional Amendment authorizing this tax specifically states that it must be used only to construct, equip, and maintain hospitals and health centers.

Will the hospital be a non-profit institution and explain the meaning of the term?

The Hill-Burton Act requires that any hospital receiving these funds must be a non-profit hospital for not less than 20 years. The term simply means that no individuals may benefit financially from the operation of the hospital.

Assuming that at times the operation of the hospital will result in an excess in revenue, including the tax, over the operating expenditures, what may be done with this money?

Any 'profit' from the operation of the hospital accounts for the purpose of improving the hospital, purchasing new equipment, or reducing the rates.

How will the daily rates and other charges be determined?

In the beginning the hospital manager will set his rates after a study of similar charges in existing hospitals. After sufficient operating experience has been gained the rates may be adjusted according to actual operating expenses.

Will this hospital accept charity patients and to what extent?

It must be emphasized that the facility will not be a 'Charity Hospital'. It must collect reasonable charges from those persons able to pay. Otherwise the hoppital would be too much of a drain on the county finances and would, more than likely, be forced to close its doors. However, the hospital will be a public institution to serve all people of the county. Therefore the hospital will accept some charity patients. The extent of the charity work will be determined by the ability of the hospital to offer such services. The proceeds from the 4 mill tax will assist the hospital to offer this muchly needed service to the county.

How will the charity problem be handled?

This is a matter for your Hospital Board to decide. The hospital manager, the doctors in the county, and possibly, the County Welfare Department will assist the Hospital Board to solve this problem.

In several of the above questions and answers reference has been made to the hospital management. Just how will the hospital be managed?

Your Hospital Board will be the owners of the hospital and and will represent the people of the county. They will, with the assistance of the doctors, decide the policies of the hospital. One of their first duties will be to employ a good business man to actually conduct the business affairs of the hospital. Experience has shown that hospitals, like any other business, must be managed by a good business man if they are to serve the county in an efficient manner. The business manager will, with the advice of the Hospital Board, select the other hospital personnel.

How will the hospital be staffed? Can we secure the doctors, nurses, and other personnel required to operate the hospital?

As in any other line of business, good personnel is scarce. However, experience in other counties has shown that such personnel can be secured. In regards to the securing of doctors it has been definitely shown that they are influenced in selecting a town in which to practice by the availability of good hospitals. You may be assured that a hospital such as will be constructed will be attractive to doctors, nurses, and other persons needed to operate the facility.

Can any doctor in the County practice in the hospital?

Yes, any doctor licensed to practice in the county and in the State can practice in the hospital. The Hospital Board will select an active staff composed of local physicians in nearby communities, and a consultant staff of specialists who may live in the larger cities. In a hospital of this type the close patient-physician relationship so necessary to the speedy recovery of the patient will be maintained.

Suppose there is a bad wreck in the community some night: What will the hospital do and will there be a doctor available?

Immediately upon receipt of the information concerning the wreck or any other accident the nurse on duty will prepare the emergency room to receive the injured. The hospital will designate a doctor or doctors as emergency doctors who will be on call at all times. The nurse will call the doctor who will arrive at the hospital about the same time as the patient. This emergency duty will be divided among the doctors on the medical staff.

Will the hospital have registered nurses on duty at all times?

Yes, there should be one or more registered nurses on duty 24 hours each day.

Mental patients are now put in the county jail pending transfer to Bryce or Searcy Hospitals. Will the hospital have a mental ward to take care of this situation?

This question must be answered by the Hospital Board. The State and U. S. Public Health Service recommend that a multipurpose room or rooms be provided. By making minor alterations

Discourteous Drivers Risk Accidents, Emily Post Says

By Mary Lou Chapman

Bad manners on the part of drivers can lead to serious consequences—even casualties—in traffic.

Emily Post, eminent authority on good manners, has contributed her thinking on the subject to a booklet put out by the National Highway Users Conference, Inc. Here are some of her answers to questions which occur to all of us on "motor manners."

Q. What driver courtesies add to passenger comfort?

A. A well-mannered driver will never frighten his passengers by careless or reckless maneuvering. The accomplished driver makes smooth starts and stops, not jerky ones. The obliging driver "host" will arrange for proper ventilation or heating for the comfort of his "guests."

Miss Chapman

Q. What considerations should passengers show the driver?

A. Passengers should do nothing to distract the driver. Crowding too many in the front seat, arguing, loud playing of the radio are all examples of annoyances. The driver must be allowed to devote his entire attention to the road. In fact, passengers can be politely helpful by assisting the driver in reading road maps and looking for road signs.

Q. Should a gentleman who is driving light the cigarette of his lady pasenger?

A. The answer is no! Safety is more important than chivalry. The driver of a car is not expected to light a pasenger's cigarette, tune the radio, crank other windows than his own, or do anything else that would momentarily divert his attention from the road, while trying to be helpful.

Q. What courtesies should be shown at safety zones?

A. Considerate drivers will not speed by these zones. The driver never can tell when a pedestrian may step out of the zone. In bad weather, the courteous driver never allows his car to splash pedestrians standing at safety zones or at the curb.

Q. What is the proper use of an automobile horn?

A. A courteous driver uses the horn as a warning only in emergencies, or gently as a polite signal.

Q. Should the horn be used to announce arrival at a friend's home?

A. No. A well-mannered visitor will alight and ring the doorbell.

Q. Is it discourteous not to pick up a pedestrian?

A. Just as a host does not welcome strangers into his home, a driver should be careful about taking strangers into his car. Many companies have strict rules against employes picking up "riders," so the woman behind the wheel need not feel discourteous if she does not pick up unknown hitch-hikers.

Dairymen Have Self-Help Program

Alabama milk producers are participating in a nation-wide "self-help" program of increasing their income by broadening markets for their product, according to H. A. Pauly, president of the Shelby County Farm Bureau.

Through the Alabama section of the American Dairy Association, many of the dairymen are contributing two cents per 100 pounds of their sales, through a "set-aside" in which the distributor deducts a portion of the dairyman's milk check.

The Alabama and Georgia ADA groups have employed a full time manager, Ed Roddy of Columbus, Ga., to promote the set-aside plan in the various marketing areas. Roddy reported to a recent state meeting that the system already had been adopted in some areas, with 80 percent or more of the dairymen participating.

The Milk Producers Organization of the Alabama Farm Bureau, through its county and area associations, also is urging participation in the advertising and promotion campaign in addition to the state activities. The ADA program includes newspaper, magazine, radio and television advertising, both emphasizing the value of beverage milk and in cooperation with other products.

"No matter what dairy product is advertised, the whole industry benefits," Mr. Pauly pointed out. "This campaign, however, is for dairy farmers, with their contributions going toward the promotion of milk use. The Farm Bureau, extension service, and Alabama Dairy Products Association (the processors' organization) also are cooperating in plans for observing June Dairy Month. The theme will be 'Refresh with Milk'. Restaurants will be asked to display 'Milk With Your Meal—Coffee Later' placards, and promotional material wil be distributed by milk route men and others."

Future Farmers Visit Alabama Flour Mills

This was followed by a tour of the Red Hat Research Farm. Mr. Kermit Tucker, manager of the Farm showed and discussed experimental work being conducted on dairy and beef cattle, poultry, turkeys and hogs.

Alabama Flour Mill's Director of Research, M. C. Wilening, addressed the FFA group at the mill auditorium at the conclusion of the tour.

Special Offering Will Bring "Brighter Day" To Retired Methodist Ministers

A brighter day will dawn "Mother's Day" for more than 240 Methodist ministers and widows of deceased ministers when Methodists in 960 churches in North Alabama remember the service these servants of the church rendered in the heat of the day.

Dr. W. Nelson Guthrie, executive secretary of the North Alabama Conference program for the care of these retired ministers, says the Mother's Day offering is the climax to a conference wide program.

The Mother's Day offering for retired ministers and widows of deceased ministers was launched more than fifty years ago when the late Dr. John W. Norton was secretary of Homes for Claimants as the program was then known.

During the past four years there has been a new emphasis placed on the Mother's Day offering, says Dr. Guthrie. When the program was launched more than fifty years ago, and which continued for many years, the offering was used only to provide homes for retired members of the conference.

"Over four years ago the conference approved an enlargement program which expanded the program to not only providing homes but also to increase the pension drawn each year by the retired ministers," Dr. Guthrie says. He added that it also includes the increasing of the endowment fund to ministers of the future which retire as well as to increase the present pension payments.

Dr. Guthrie says that during the past four or five years many of the old homes have been sold and several new homes built which include two modern four-unit brick apartment units, one in Birmingham and one in Bessemer.

In the Chattahoochee Valley laymen of the area have gotton behind the superannuate home program and have built four new homes for retired ministers and are presently constructing the fifth.

"While some new homes are being built by churches and groups of laymen, many Methodists in their wills are making the Superannuate Homes and Endowment program of the North Alabama Conference beneficiary of their homes when they die for use by retired ministers," Dr. Guthrie says.

One example of how a loyal Methodist who loved the ministers of her church and benefited by their ministry was Dr. Minnie L. Steckel, who gave her home at montevallo completely furnished to the conference and it is now occupied by Dr. W. E. Lazenby, former pastor and editor of the Alabama Christian Advocate.

Dr. Lazenby's retirement days are not idle ones for he is still serving his church. He is busy writing a history of the Methodist Church in Alabama.

My old friend Allen Reiner, in Long Island City, N.Y., likes to tell 'bout the autumn he spent in Texas. When he got home, he drove up in a brand-new Cadillac and started unloadin' mink coats, diamond rings and bags of money.

"For heaven's sakes, Allen," his wife said, "where did you get that car and those mink coats, diamond rings and bags of money?"

"Relax, honey," Allen said. "I spent Hallowe'en in Fort Worth, where all them millionaire oilmen live, and we decided to go playin' trick or treat!"

Ol' Sam was askin' me questions about loggin' his wood lot the other day. If you own a wood lot or a small forest, and have never logged it, maybe you'd like to know the answers, too. I told Sam I know of four ways for loggin' a wood lot.

One is clear cuttin', where you cut down every tree in sight. That's bad—unless you're planning to use the land for another kind of crop. Two is seed-tree cuttin', where you leave only 10 or 12 trees standing for reseeding purposes. That's bad, too—'cause a lot of time is wasted for reseedin' that ought to be devoted to growin'.

Three is diameter-limit cuttin', where you cut trees over a certain diameter, say ten inches. Trouble with that is, you may leave lots of unhealthy or deformed trees, and cut others that are in their growing prime. Four is selective cuttin'—and that's the best kind of logging I know of. You may need the help of a forester, at least the first time. But you'll be sure every tree has the best chance to grow right, and you'll be cuttin' every tree at its highest value.

If you'd like to become a tree farmer—that is, if you own a wood lot and want it registered as a tree farm—just send a postcard to the American Forest Products Industries, 1816 N Street NW., Washington, D.C., for the free pamphlet, "How You Can Become a Tree Farmer." They'll help you get in touch with a government or commercial forester in your area, too.

I know a newlywed housewife who was havin' trouble cooking ox-tail soup, 'cause every time she got the water hot, the ox would take his tail out!

MONTEVALLO HIGH SCHOOL BAND

High School Band To Present Concert

Hhe Montevallo High School Band will give the second concert of the season on Wednesday, May 16, at 8 p.m. in Palmer Hall.

The program will feature lighter music than the concert given in March. Many special features will include a trombone solo by Arthur Garrett, numbers by the clarinet section and drum section. Also featured will be a fashion show for the home economics department, directed by Mrs. McGaughy; folk dances and tumbling from the girls' physical education classes directed by Miss Behannon; a tango by Sara Fullman and Denny Elliott to the music of "Blue Tango" directed by Miss Charnock of Alabama College; and the majorettes in a routine rehearsed by Harriett Kendrick, head majorette. Special decorations and lighting are being planned.

Band members will have tickets at 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. Proceeds will be used for repair of instruments.

Thousands of High School Girls Are Learning To Be Homemakers

As the school bell rings today in Alabama, 22,337 high school girls are learning to be homemakers in Vocational Homemaking classes. As "future homemakers," they know that a happy home is not a commodity that can be found in the market place. It is a goal to be achieved. They know that even though the homemaker receives no wages, the family income may be conserved or wasted by the homemaker because she spends 80 percent of the family income. Future homemakers in Alabama are learning to build homes that are secure, happy and economically sound.

Two hundred and fifty-one future homemakers will receive a torch which is the symbol of the State FHA Degree of Achievement. These girls have already received the key and scroll for the attainment of the Junior and Chapter Degrees of Achievement.

A key, a scroll, and a torch are the symbols of degrees of achievement. The high school girl who has attained the FHA Degree of Achievement has grown in her ability as a family member today and a homemaker of tomorrow. Her usefulness has been increased to her home, her community, her FHA chapter, and to herself through the achievement of specific goals.

The recipients of the state FHA degree of achievement are home economics pupils in Alabama high schoos. This Award will be made at the 1956 State FHA Convention, Alabama College, Montevallo June 6—8, 1956, in recognition of outstanding achievement in homemaking.

This program is directed by Mr. R. E. Cammack, Director of Vocational Education, and Miss Ruth Stovall, Supervisor of Home Economics, in the State Department of Education working with district Home Economics Supervisors and high school Home Economics Teachers throughout the State.

Get Ready To Vote on County Hospital Tax on May 29

easily accomplished by the hospital personnel, the rooms could be used for mental patients, as an isolation room, or as a private bed room. Such a room could be in use practically all the time. To provide separate mental wards and isolation wards in a small hospital may result in space that is rarely used. Two or more multipurpose rooms can amply take care of the mental patient problem, those patients requiring isolation, and can be used as a private room at other times.

What facilities will the hospital have?

The hospital will include the following services and departments:

a. Administration suite—offices for the hospital management including business office, admitting office, manager's office, waiting rooms, etc.

b. Laboratory—complete equipment for diagnostic test consistent with other hospital services. May include bacteriologic, chemical, serological, and blood-typing tests.

X-ray department—include X-ray and flouroscopic equipment for diagnostic purposes. Serves both hospitalized patients and outpatients.

Pharmacy—optional but may be included for the preparation of medicines. This service may be provided by local drug stores if desired.

Obstetrical and maternity suite—includes delivery room, labor room, sub-sterilization facilities, nursery and maternity bed rooms.

f. Operating suite— will include one or more operating rooms, central sterilizing and supply room, doctors and nurses locker rooms. Depending on the size ofthe hospital cystoscopic, fracture and additional operating rooms may be added.

g. Nursing units—these units include the bed rooms, nurses stations, floor kitchen, utility rooms, storage rooms, and possibly a visitor's waiting room in the larger hospital.

h. Laundry—not recommended for hospitals with less than fifty beds or where a modern commercial laundry is available. May be incluled if no suitable laundry service is available.

I. Kitchen—modern, easily kept clean kitchen with adequate refrigerated and other storage, dining rooms.

j. Storage and Maintenance Department—space for bulk storage of food and hospital supplies, repair facilities for maintenance of hospital equipment.

k. Out-patient Department—optional but would serve those patients who do not need hospitalization with diagnostic and medical treatment services.

l. Emergency Suite—necessary for the immediate care of the injured.

How soon can we expect to have the hospital under construction, and about when will it come?

This question is difficult to answer with a degree of certainty. Such factors as the availibility of funds, selection of the site, architectural work, time required for approval of plans and specifications, time for the contractors to prepare bid prices, and the construction period all influence the time necessry for the opening of the hospital. Experience has shown that from the date of selection of the site until the time construction can begin is between nine and eighteen months depending on the size of the facility. The construction period will take about a year. Therefore it will take about two years before the hospital can open. The hospital must be designed to serve the community for many years and the more time and study spent in preparing the plans and specifications, the better the hospital and therefore the hospital service will be.

What provisions will be made for colored patients?

The Hill-Burton Act requires that the hospital include facilities for all population groups. The facilities such as waiting rooms and nursing units may be separate but must be equal in quality. Other hospital departments can and should be used by all races. The number of bed rooms for each race depends upon the population ratios and the general economic conditions.

How soon will the hospital belong to the community?

The hospital is the property of the community through the Hospital Board from its inception. At no time is it the property of the State or Federal Government. Up until the time the hospital is opened the State Health Department and the U. S. Public Health Service will exercise a certain amount of supervision to insure that the plans meet the State and U. S. Public Health Service hospital standards and that the plans and specifications are complied with. The sole purpose in this supervision is to insure that the community gets a modern, well designed hospital which will adequately serve the needs of the community for many years. After the hospital is opened the policies and operation are determined by the Hospital Board.

What degree of supervision will the State and Federal Government exercise over the operation of the hospital?

The Hill-Burton Act requires only three things after the hospital is opened to receive patients.

a. That the hospital remain a non-profit institution for a period of not less than 20 years. This is to protect the public funds involved, including local, state, and federal. Since the hospital will be publicly owned and operated institution this requirement will unquestionably be complied with.

b. That the hospital provide a reasonable amount of free patient care. This requirement is to insure that the hospital serve all of the people in the county. Considering that one of the purposes of the Hospital Board is to provide emergency and some charity care there can be no question but this requirement will work no hardship and is in line with the wishes of the citizens of the county.

c. That the hospital be inspected at intervals to insure hospital service and operation meet accepted standards. This requirement is met by the Hospital Licensure Act passed by the 1949 Legislature which requires that all hospitals in the state be licensed and inspected by the State Board of Health.

Will the Federal Government control and inspect the project directly during its construction?

The Hospital Board will deal directly and only with the State Health Department. The project will be inspected by the State Health Department. Supervision by the U. S. Public Health Service is held to a minimum and only at the request of the State Health Department. All instructions and comments regarding the planning, construction, and operation will come from the State Health Department. To the maximum degree possible the entire project is a cooperative effort between the Hospital Board and the State Health Department.

Shelby Group Visits Chilton Hospital

Chilton County has a Hill-Burton Hospital that was put into operation about a year ago. Our information that the grounds, the building and equipment for this magnificent institution cost over $600,000, of which the county, by a 4 mill tax, paid about $200,000, and the federal government the balance through the Hill-Burton Act provisions.

Many people of Shelby County have visited the Clanton hospital and have seen it through and through. Their reaction seems to be unanimous that Shelby County needs and should have one like it.

Last Thursday a delegation of Shelby County folks went to see it. Some pictures of the hospital were made, which we include as a part of this presentation of the hospital subject to our readers in Shelby County.

If you would like to see the Chilton County Hospital before you vote on the hospital tax, go down there and take a look. Mr. Morgan, the manager, says all are welcome any time.

New Telephone Numbering Plan Is Scheduled For Installation at Calera

A new telephone numbering plan essential for the participation of Calera in the rapidly expanding direct distance dialing system is scheduled to be introduced in the late summer of 1956, it was announced today by B. F. Lunsford, local manager of Southern Bell Telephone Co.

He pointed out that the new numbering system has been developed as a part of a carefully planned program to make possible faster and more accurate long distance service, and in the case of Calera, will provide flexibility in the planning of local facilities as future demands require it.

Adoption of the plan enables long distance operators in participating exchanges to dial telephone numbers in distant cities direct—much the same as a number is dialed for a local call. It also paves the way for customer direct distance dialing.

To conform to the technical requirements of the new system, all Calera numbers must be changed, Mr. Lunsford said.

Under the new plan, each telephone number consists of an office named followed by five numerals. All Calera telephone numbers will be composed of the name NOrth and five numerals.

A typical Calera number after adoption of the new system will be NOrth 8-9011.

In assigning office names, Southern Bell is using uniform names which will be used throughout the United States and Canada because office names of local significance frequently present spelling and pronunciation difficulties to persons in other parts of the country. The standard names are generally familiar to residents in all parts of the nation.

Mr. Lunsford recalls that, initially, the selection of office names was relatively haphazard. This sometimes led to unfortunate designations, particularly in other sections. In New York, for instance, there are exchanges such as Schuyler, which is hard to pronounce, and Murray Hill, which often is dialed as MH instead of MU, thus resulting in numerous wrong-number calls.

The telephone company manager said that all subscribers in Calera will be notified several weeks in advance of the change in their numbers and of the date and hour when they will become effective. All new numbers will appear in a directory to be issued prior to the change to the nationwide numbering system.

Montevallo Wins Championship

By Susie DeMent

Coach Theron Fisher's Montevallo Bulldogs recently won the Shelby County championship by taking eight straight games. In county competition this season Montevallo defeated Vincent 13-0, 7-0; Columbiana 11-0, 6-0; Thompson 11-1, 9-6; and Calera 8-7; 3-1.

In Fisher's nine years of coaching at Montevallo High School, he has fielded seven county championship baseball teams.

Montevallo won the district championship in 1950 and 1952, defeating Tuscaloosa in the finals in 1950 and West End in 1952.

Winning the regional title in 1950 by downing Gurley High School of Madison County, Fisher's Bulldogs lost that year in the state finals to Sidney Lanier of Montgomery.

Last year Montevallo was district runner-up, losing to Woodlawn in the finals of that meet.

Coach Fisher came to Montevallo from Greenville. He has also coached at Ensley High.

Shelby County Mental Health Association Organization Is Begun

Efforts of Shelby County citizens to organize a Shelby County Mental Health Association were realized last week when the movement was given unanimous support of more than 30 club representatives, ministers, lawyers, county officials, parents and educators gathered at the Courthouse in Columbiana.

Sparked by a group of six citizens of the county, 350 letters were sent to people inviting them to the organizational meeting, the result being the formation of the Shelby County Association for Mental Health.

Dr. Herbert Eber, associate professor of psychology at Alabama College, served as temporary chairman. Mrs. Nell Fulton was acting secretary. State mental health officials present were Dr. Will Egerton, state director, and Miss Nan Callan, field representative.

Using film strips furnished by the state association, Dr. Eber and Miss Callan presented the critical conditions existing in Alabama in the field of mental health.

Bringing the problem closer, Shelby County's immediate needs were cited with the figures of 10 critical mental cases in need of hospitalization for which no help can be forthcoming.

"To begin to serve the needs of the one out of ten who will suffer some form of mental disturbance during their lifetime, we must educate ourselves to the needs," said Dr. Eber. "By forming study groups and presenting mental health programs to the PTA's and other clubs we can begin to educate others as well," he stated.

Other aims of the association include the creation and improvement of facilities for prevention

CAMP BRANCH CHILDREN TAKE A TRAIN RIDE

Wednesday, April 25 the first second and third grades took a train ride to Birmingham. For most of us it was our first train ride. The most exciting part of the ride was going through the tunnel. As we went through, the conductor turned off the lights. It was really dark.

When we got off the train, some mothers were waiting to take us to Lane Park. We enjoyed seeing all the animals of the zoo, especially did we like monkey island.

At noon we had a nice picnic lunch at one of the picnic tables in the park. We got back to our school in time to catch the bus home.

We wish to thank the L & N officials for showing us through a pullman car and providing parking places for our mothers. We want to say thank you to our teachers, Mrs. Youngblood, Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Durden and Mrs. Cobern and the mothers for helping us to have a nice trip. We would like to thank Mrs. Leona Ozley and Mrs. Ina Mae Riley for the nice picnic lunch they packed for us.—Ann Milstead, Third Grade.

In February 1943, the first recruit training camp for WAVES was opened at Hunter College, New York.

GULF STATES PAPER CORPORATION

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

A measure was passed by the House of Representatives last week that should greatly enhance the development of public library service in our rural areas. The bill authorizes for five years a federal-state program to improve and extend library services for those who live in areas of 10,000 population or less. Senate approval of this or a similar bill is almost certain.

During the committee hearings on this important legislation, witnesses stated that about 27 million people in the United States are without local public library service of any kind and that 90 per cent of this group live in rural areas. In addition to those who have no service at all, about 53 million others have inadequate local service.

States Get $40,000—

As approved by the House, the library services bill authorizes an annual federal appropriation of $7.5 million for the next five years. Afterward the states and local communities will be expected to continue the program and support it solely from their own funds. Federal participation in the plan for the first five years is expected to stimulate sufficient interest to get the program well underway.

Under the terms of the House bill, each state will receive a basic annual allotment of $40,000. The balance of the federal appropriation will be divided among the states on the basis of their rural population as compared with the rural population of the United States.

A state receiving an allotment must, in turn, match the federal funds on the basis of its per capita income as compared with the national per capita income. Poorer states will not be prohibited from obtaining the maximum in federal funds, however, as they are required to match only 33 per cent of the money if the per capita income does not enable them to pay more.

In order to qualify for these funds, a state must submit to the U. S. Commissioner of Education and have approved by him a definite plan for the further extension of public library services to rural areas where either there is no service or the service is inadequate.

The program will be administered by the various state library agencies, and the states will have complete authority to select books, materials, and personnel for the program.

Funds For Defense

New funds in the amount of $33.6 billion were approved by the House last Thursday for the operation of the Defense Department during fiscal year 1957. This is $512 million less than the Administration requested, but it is $1.7 billion more than was appropriated for defense spending for the current fiscal year.

Of the total, the Army is allotted $7.5 billion, the Navy $10 billion, and the Air Force $15.5 billion. Fifteen billion dollars is appropriated for functions of the Secretary of Defense's office and $644 million for interservice activities.

Airpower and new weapons received special emphasis in the Defense Appropriation bill. Funds appropriated provide for continuing expansion of the Air Force toward the goal of 137 wings by June 30, 1957. Approximately $248 million of the Air Force funds is designated for the purpose of increasing the number and rate of production of the B-52 heavy long range jet bombers. An amendment which would have added $1 billion for the B-52 program was rejected by members of the House.

The Air Force also expects to continue accelerated production of the F-101B fighter interceptor and the F-104 day fighter. By the end of the current fiscal year, all of our combat units will be equipped with jet aircraft except for the heavy bomber and the tactical reconnaissance units.

The members of the Montevallo FFA chapter thank those making contributions to the field day.

Thanks also to Mr. Bailey, vocational teacher at Columbiana for doing the judging. Also to the girls serving lemonade and cake during the day.

Visit Waters Farm

The chapter members made a visit to the farm of N. H. Waters. The boys were impressed by the fine way in which Mr. Waters is developing one of the outstanding Hereford herds in this part of Alabama. The group also saw the dairy, cattle, and fish pond.

Baker's Dairy

J. Frank Baker took time from his busy day Wednesday to show the boys his dairy. He explained how he works to increase production and improve his herd. The FFA boys enjoyed the trip very much. Mr. Baker has already given the boys 17 calves this year. Houston Lucas, committee member on livestock, reports that Mr. Baker will provide more calves to the boys later on.

Artificial Insemination

Artificial insemination of dairy cattle lost much of its mystery this week when the 26 greenhand FFA boys visited the farm of Joe Sargent and heard Mr. Dewitty and Mr. Copeland tell of their success with artificial insemination with the fine Guernsey herd there. Mr. Dewitty is on a definite breeding program for improving the herd. The farm is 4 miles north of Calera.

The A. L. Little Farm

One does not have to leave the Montevallo community to find some of the best Angus breeding stock in Alabama. A. L. Little, former teacher of the class of veteran farmers, and now a full time beef cattle farmer, has developed a fine herd of over 100 Angus animals since 1945. He has followed the best practices in management and breeding and looks to still more improvement.

FFA members have had an opportunity to hear Mr. Little give his ideas and facts about his herd and beef cattle in general. The group expressed delight in knowing of the progress Mr. Little has made.

Mr. Little is an honorary member of FFA and worked in the vocational department a week in December to make it possible for Mr. Thornton to attend the American Vocational Meeting in Atlantic City.

Mr. Little is making a few of his choice breeding animals available to breeders through private sale.

Chaplain Herschel Day Is Essay Winner

(From Stars and Stripes, May 1, 1956)

Chitose AB, Japan (4thFDW)—Chaplain (Maj.) Herschel H. Day of Birmingham, Ala., staff chaplain of the 4th Fighter Day Wg., has received the third place George Washington Honor Medal for his entry in a Freedoms Foundation essay contest on "My Stake in the American Way."

Day was honored in a special ceremony at Chitose AB when the 4th commander Col. Grover C. Brown added his congratulations to those in a letter from Air Force Chief of Staff General Nathan F. Twining.

Day also received a letter from Kenneth D. Wells, president of the Freedoms Foundation which is a non-profit, non-political organization dedicated to honoring those who "are doing outstanding work for the Republic."

Day, one of 132 Armed Forces award winners in the letter-writing contest, said in his winning entry:

"Everywhere in America the blessings of liberty are apparent. The Founding Fathers discovered through hard and crucial experience that truth is the light of liberty. The light they gained revealed the facts of man's creation and purpose and destiny.

"Together, they embraced and applied this new knowledge to their daily lives. They dared to declare these revelations to the world.

"With them as their source of strength, they dared to resist tyranny, and challenged the traditional rights of both kings and emperors. They insisted that all just powers are derived from those governed.

"They fought a war to uphold and defend these principles. They won! And once free, they founded and established a free government based upon these truths.

"They then covenanted together to defend that government against all enemies, pledging their lives, their fortunes, and their secred honor.

"They then engaged themselves in those honest and honorable pursuits which promised to secure to themselves and their posterity the blessings of civil and religious liberty."

"Today, I am free! I am free-born! I am accounted as somebody in the eyes of everybody because we all have a common creator. In America, there are no little people.

"All are great! I enjoy the liberty to choose and decide. To each of us is granted the privilege and opportunity of an education. An American may be a laborer or a president or both. These rights are dear to me.

"I shall never tire of being grateful. To God and my people, I owe everything, now and forever.

"I, therefore, join heartily in that solemn agreement to defend, to the best of my ability, my government, my nation, and my people against all enemies.

"To this end, I pledge my life, my fortune, and my sacred honor."

Thanks From T. R. Nash

To the Voters of Shelby County:

I very deeply and humbly appreciate the confidence expressed in me by a majority of the voters of Shelby County in the primary election of May 1.

To all the people of Shelby County, those who supported me for re-nomination and those who voted for my opponent, I herewith pledge my sincere efforts to continue to give you the best service possible as a member of your County Board of Revenue and Control.

Sincerely yours,

Pickett Hurls Third Shutout of Season

S. Dement

Pete Pickett, Montevallo's big righthander, won his fifth game in as many starts this season, as he hurled the Bulldogs to a one-hit, 7-0 victory over Vincent here Friday, May 11. This was his third shutout and gave the Bulldogs a perfect record in county play. They lost games to Shades Valley and Guntersville, making their season's record 11-2.

In going the full seven innings, Pickett faced only 23 batters, walking two. He was aided by sharp infielding which included two double plays—third to second to first, and short to first to third.

Montevallo scored four runs in the first inning and never faltered. Walks issued Alexander, Pickett, and Knowles; and singles by Phillips, Hicks, and Underwood brought the four across.

Alexander, on with a single, sccored as Hicks doubled; then, Pickett singled to plate Hicks, for two runs in thie second inning.

In the fourth verse Phillips singled Alexander across with the seventh and final run; Alexander had reached first on an error at second.

With three for four, Hicks carried the big stick for the Bulldogs. Pickett got two for three and Phillips, two for four.

Moore, first up in the seventh, broke up Pickett's no-hitter as he singled sharply over third. Parker then grounded out, second to first; and was followed by Johnson who grounded short to first. Then, Moore, attempting to go to third after the throw to first, was neatly erased by a perfect throw from Hicks to Terrell at third to write the finish to the ball game, the season, and a perfect record for the Bulldogs.

Totals:

Montevallo—	420	100	X	791
Vincent—	000	000	0	015

Batteries: Pickett to Knowles; Reynolds to Moore.

Hicks To Play In Lions Club All-Star Game

Ed Hicks, a senior and Montevallo's first baseman for the past three years, was chosen Saturday night by big league scouts to represent this District in the All-Star game sponsored by the Lions Clubs in Birmingham June 8. Others selected in this East-West try-out held at Clanton were Ray Langston, Jemison catcher, and William Harkins, Tallassee pitcher.

Also representing Montevallo in the try-out game were Wayne Phillips, second baseman; Pete Pickett, pitcher; and Tinker Underwood, shortstop.

To earn the All-State berth Ed played first base five innings, centerfield four, and pitched one, playing errorless ball at all three positions. He led the west squad at the plate with three for five, one a double which knocked in the first run for his team. Of the West's total six runs, Ed scored two and batted in two more.

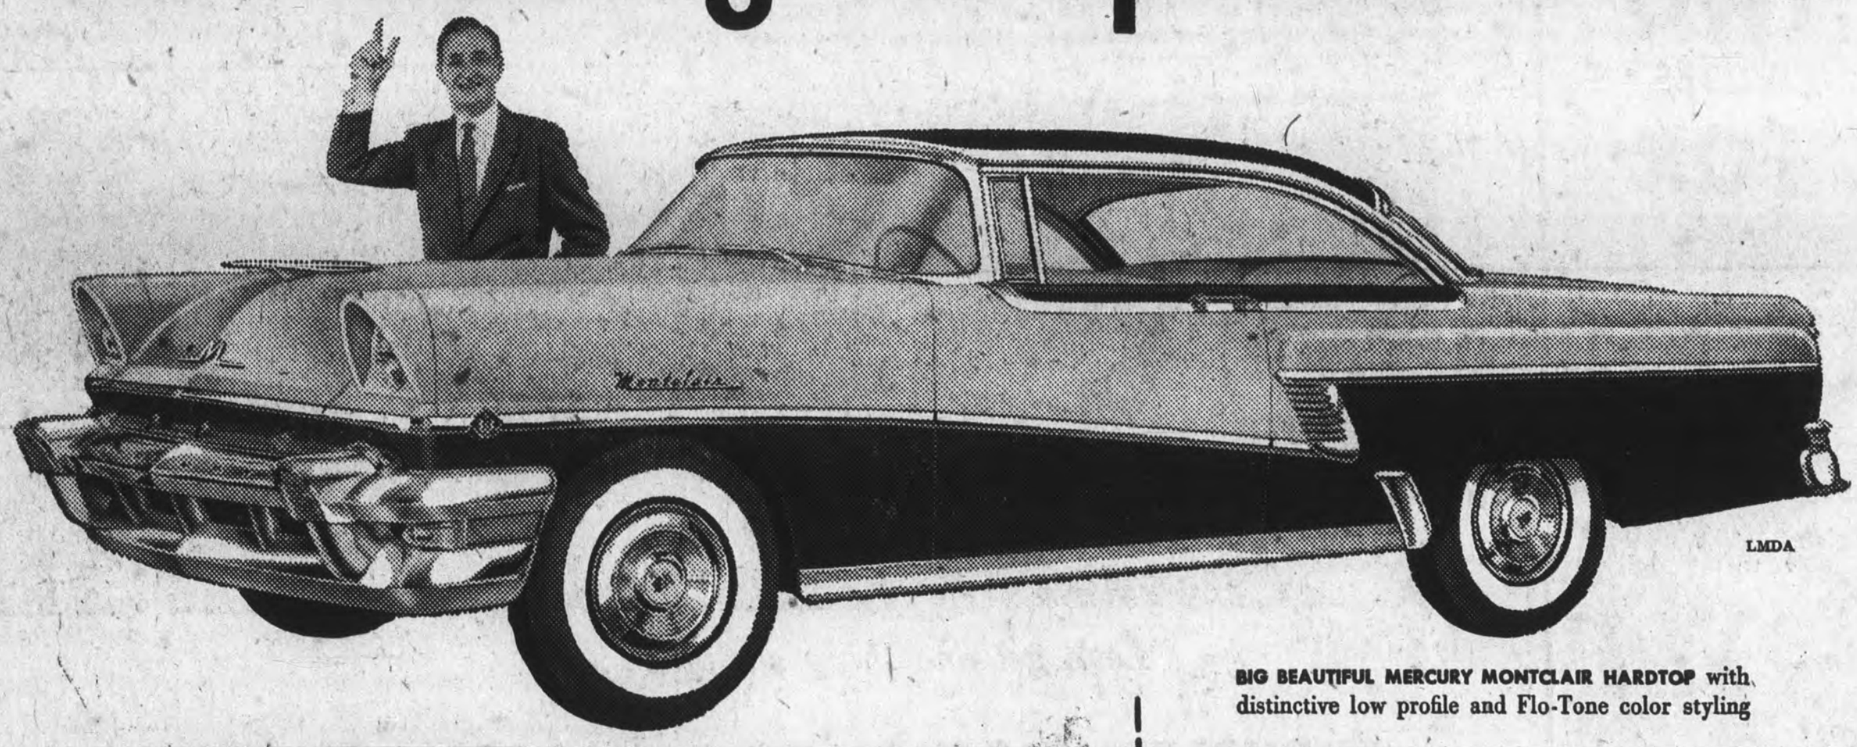

This season with the Bulldogs Hicks hit an even .500, getting 21 for 42 trips. Included in his total were five doubles, three triples, and three home runs. He was credited with 23 of Montevallo's total 101 runs, batting in 17 more.

This will be Ed's second trip to the "glamour game" in Birmingham. In last year's event he hit three for four.

Ed is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks of Pearidge.

GIRL SCOUTS GO CAMPING

Girl Scouts of Troop 3 spent a long week end recently at Camp Gertrude Coleman. Leaving on Friday afternoon, the Scouts did their own cooking, made their own program plans, including hikes, studied the natural surroundings, made new friends with other Scouts, and generally enjoyed the short hours until they returned home Sunday afternoon.

Here's the ride the whole automotive industry envies!

SEE THE DIFFERENCE RSD MAKES

YOU'RE GOING TO DISCOVER the most amazing ride you've ever experienced in a motor vehicle. And that goes for cars as well as other make trucks.

It's our Blue Chip GMC equipped with Road Shock Damper Suspension.* You'll see it smothering every jolt and bounce the worst road offers. You'll note how RSD Suspension blots up even short, sharp vibrations such as from roadway expansion joints.

You can drive at normal speed over a washboard road where other vehicles must crawl. There's no slewing—no steering wheel wrenching—no punishment to truck or driver.

Part of this eye-opening ride, too, is the surging response you'll get from GMC's 180-hp V8 engine, with far and away the biggest displacement of all comparable engines. You'll like the wide-angle safety vision of GMC's panoramic windshield—the luxury of seats that use air, as well as springs and foam rubber, to cushion you.

And you'll discover the amazing economy of GMC's fast-ratio cruising axle that gives overdrive performance at a fraction of its cost. Plus the time-, money- and driver-saving advantages of Hydra-Matic Drive.

Find out all about this soon, won't you—say tomorrow! Drop in at our showroom and learn firsthand about GMC Blue Chip leadership!

*Standard on the Suburban; optional at moderate extra cost on all other ½-ton models.

Auxiliary Poppy Day Is Saturday

Montevallo American Legion Auxilliary will observe Poppy Day, Saturday, May 26.

First and always foremost, the poppy speaks "In Memoriam" of our nation's war dead, those courageous men who gave up their young lives that America might live a free nation. Poppies worn over every heart means that we, as individual Americans, remember them with honor and gratitude and are proud to perform this personal gesture of tribute to them.

Second, the poppy brings aid to wars' living victims, the disabled veterans and needy children of veterans, even as it honors the dead. The coins that are dropped into the contribution boxes of the Poppy Day volunteers help maintain the Auxiliary's vast programs of service to the disabled veterans and veterans' children.

Third, the poppy has beneficial effects for the thousands of veterans who are given employment making the little crepe paper flowers. Busy fingers tend to diminish worry. Hospital hours become shorter. Interest in life increases. Money is earned to help the family at home and to meet personal needs.

A new felt manufacturing plant, just about ready to go into operation at Siluria, was destroyed by fire last Thursday afternoon. It was a subsidiary of Buck Creek Cotton Mills, but was not physically connected with the main mill plant. It was in an entirely separate building some distance away. Volunteer fire fighters with their equipment came from Montevallo, Calera, Alabaster and Helena to battle the flames, but were unable to cope with the head start of the fire. It was a total loss. Above is a picture of the building as it was being consumed and the fire fighters were pouring water into it (The picture was made by Rodney Ruppert.)

COUNTY HOSPITAL

Have you made up your mind about how you will vote on the Shelby County hospital tax next Tuesday?

The editor of The Times-Herald has made a close study of this question and has discussed it with several people. My conclusion is favorable toward the tax for the following reasons:

First, Shelby County needs the hospital. Our people have needed it in the past; they need it now—and the need will be greater as our county continues to grow and develop. I have found nothing that denies this need.

Second, the county tax, applied through the Hill-Burton plan, will supply our needs for a hospital. Our county can afford to pay its part (one-third) of the cost through this plan. I know of no other plan presently available through which we may secure a hospital for our county.

There are two questions which appear to arise in the minds of most people as they think about and discuss this subject: (1) Where will the hospital be located? and (2) Who will constitute the board of management for the hospital?

It has been said by some (and quite aptly, I think) that we should come to decide the answer to these two questions after we see if our people are willing to levy the tax necessary to get a hospital.

As to where the hospital may be located, it is my understanding that there is incorporated in the hospital plan such provisions as will guarantee that it will be located in the place where it will best serve the most people of the county.

I understand that the hospital board of administration will be appointed by the County Board of Revenue, with the advice, counsel and recommendation of the people in the various communities. In this manner it seems reasonable to me to say that the Board of Revenue would pick good and able people without favoritism to any section, any group or any individual.

Do you believe that one man or one community could manipulate the hospital location and management to the unfair advantage of one community in the county over all others?

If you believe this, you will perhaps vote against the proposition, tax and all, from start to finish, and I wouldn't blame you, if such is going to be the case.

But I do not believe that any one man or one community will be able to gain such advantage.

I hope the people will think through this question calmly and seriously and be guided in their votes next Tuesday by their unbiased judgment of what is best for the people of Shelby County in the face of a pressing need which none can deny.

This Sounds Good for Shelby County

Announcement last week of plans by the Alabama Power Company and its associate companies to build a $75 million steam electric generating plant on the Coosa River in the vicinity of Wilsonville gave a big boost to efforts that have been made toward the industrial development of Shelby County.

We hope the proposed plant will be located in Shelby County, although a definite site was not mentioned.

Another phase of the development that interests Shelby County very much was couched in the statement that operation of the plant will utilize millions of tons of Alabama coal.

We hope that will mean Shelby County coal. There is yet much coal in our hills of West Shelby County. Development of a use for the fuel on such a large scale and as close by as that proposed for the new plant should make it profitable for somebody to start digging in a big way.

McKay Explains Interposition

Charles W. McKay, of Sylacauga, newly elected Democratic National Committeeman of Alabama, spoke here Monday night at the meeting of the Montevallo Citizens Council.

Those who heard him received a complete explanation of the interposition action of the legislature of Alabama relative to the U. S. Supreme Court decree to abolish segregation of the races in our public schools.

Mr. McKay, representative of Talladega County, was author of the interposition resolution passed in the legislature. It was his firm and open stand on this question for maintaining the rights of the State of Alabama to control our public schools which brought about his overwhelming victory in the May 1 primary.

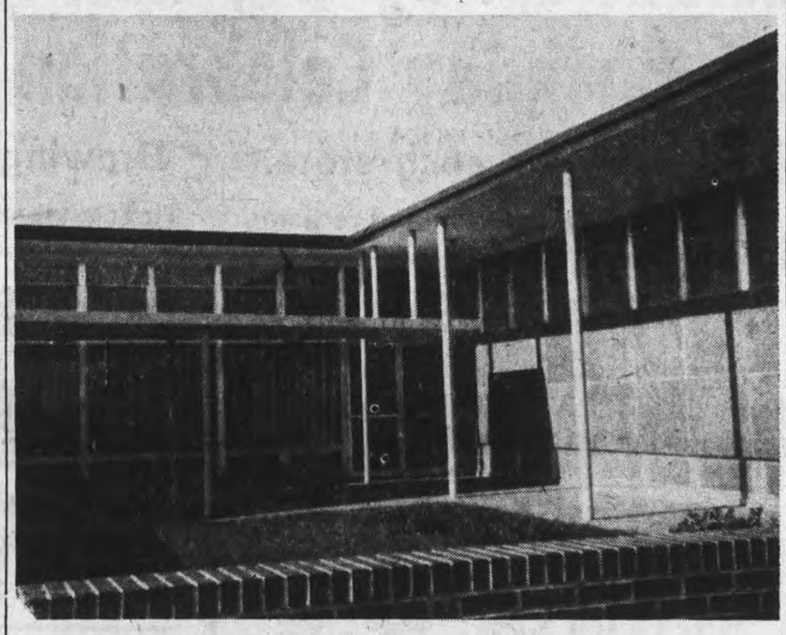

A speech of the kind he made here serves to make his supporters stronger in the doctrine of states rights, in support of segregation in our schools, and more proud of him who is Alabama's outstanding leader in this movement.

Visit Chilton County Hospital

One day last week the Home Demonstration Club of Siluria went to Clanton as guests of Dr. W. E. Stinson, to take a look at the Chilton County Hospital. Rodney Ruppert took a picture of the group (above) at the hospital. Included in the picture are: Mrs. Hank Spires, Mrs. Dan Poole, Mrs. C. L. Lagrone, Mrs. Douglas Kent, Mrs. R. W. Kent, Mrs. Austin Holbrooks, Mrs. A. H. Lee, Mrs. J. O. Sides, Mrs. Nellie Mullins, Mrs. Frances McClendon, Mrs. F. E. Smith, Mrs. I. L. Burley, Mrs. W. E. Stinson, C. H. Fulton, L. P. Wilson and Dr. Stinson.

Re-Elect Jack Owen

Friends of Jack Owen are urged to go to the election next Tuesday and reaffirm your support of him for President of Alabama Public Service Commission.

We agree with the many thousands of Alabamians who have already said in the first primary that they believe the record of Mr. Owen in this office merits the continued support of the people.

There is no reasonable substitute for the experience and qualications of this man in the administration of the important affairs of the Public Service Commission. We see no reason why we should change in our support of him now or ever.

Montevallo Bulldogs Reach Finals in District Baseball Tournament

By S. DeMent

The Montevallo Bulldogs, Shelby County champs, advanced to the finals of the Fifth District Baseball Tournament as they downed the Black Bears of Tuscaloosa High 12-6 in Centreville Tuesday afternoon. The Bulldogs now await the winner of the Jefferson County Champion-Dora meet to play for the District title.

Neither team seemed to be playing up to par in this wide-open ball game. Tuscaloosa outhit Montevallo 12-10 but just couldn't get the hits with men in scoring position.

Tuscaloosa, batting first, took the lead 1-0 as the Bears hit for three straight singles. The Bulldogs came on in their half of the inning to score four runs as Osborne, starter for Tuscaloosa, had trouble in finding the range and issued free passes to Alexander, Hicks, and Pickett; and Phillips and Knowles hit safely.

Neither team scored in the second; but Kencaid, on through an error, and Douglas, who walked, crossed when Sumner doubled, giving the Bears two runs in the third. In the bottom of the same inning, Underwood plastered one for three bases and brought in the Bulldogs' fifth run when Burdett singled.

Montevallo continued to pile up the runs in the fourth inning as Winslett led off with a walk and was followed by Alexander and Phillips, who singled. This brought on reliefer Douglas for Tuscaloosa and sent Osborne to the showers. Off the relief, Hicks drew a second base on balls, and Pickett doubled. At the end of the inning the count was 8-3.

With two away in the fifth, Douglas took first when he was hit by a pitched ball; then, Sumner, Tuscaloosa's batting champ for the day, hit for the circuit and runs No. 4 and 5.

The Bulldogs, not content with a mere three-run lead, came across with four more in the fifth. Smitherman and Winslett were on with singles, then Alexander was hit with a pitch. Phillips lined one over first base and pulled in at third standing up, plating three runs ahead of him. He crossed with the twelfth run when Hicks grounded to second.

Finnell homered in the sixth with none on for the final run for the Bears.

Pete Pickett, on the mound for Montevallo, went the distance, making his record 6-0 for the season. He gave up 12 hits and walked three.

Wayne Phillips, second baseman, handled the timber for the Bulldogs, hitting three for four. He scored three runs and was credited with batting in three more to account for one-half the Bulldogs' total.

First baseman Sumner was power-man for Tuscaloosa with three for four also, one of which was a home run.

Book About Old Speedwell Is Valuable

OLD SPEEDWELL FAMILIES, by Lawrence Edwards. Privately printed.

A Tennessean has published his second book about Speedwell, a little known but historically significant section of East Tennessee. OLD SPEEDWELL FAMILIES, written by Lawrence Edwards, and published by The Times Printing Company, Montevallo, Ala., is valuable both historically and genealogicaly as possiby the first study of its kind in the United States. By families this book traces the development of a strategic locality in American history—the rural expanse of Powell Valley, known as Speedwel.

In his preface the author says this is not intended to be a scholarly book. Nevertheless, this work, three years in preparation, is packed with an amazing variety of valuable information gleaned from dozens of sources—family records, personal interviews, dates from a dozen family graveyards, scores of letters, and research in libraries, the War Department, and National Archives.

Only a person with the author's feeling for his native community, knowledge of its history, understanding of its people, and interest in genealogical research could have successfully completed this volume. Mr. Edwards graduated from Lincoln Memorial University, at Harrogate, in 1931, taught a few years in the high schools of Tennessee, got his MA at the state university in 1935, served during World War II as a naval officer. He is now teaching English at the University of Tennessee, where he is studying toward the Ph.D. degree. Another volume of sketches about Speedwell is now in preparation. He is a member of the American Dialect Society, the Tennessee Folklore Society, and an honorary life member of the Mark Twain Society.

Fourth Grade Visits Moundville

32 members of Mrs. Gladys Holcomb's Fourth Grade of Montevallo visited Mound State Monument at Moundville, May 14. The group accompained by Mrs. Holcomb, Miss. Davidson, Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Eber, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Kyser, Mr. Glover, Mrs. Dunnaway, Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Cecil Brown, and Mrs. Moreland left at 8:30 A.M. With the exception of one or two flat tires the trip was pleasant but uneventful, but not their sight seeing trips.

Skeletons of the Prehistoric inhabitants of an ancient city are preserved at Mound Monument. Scientists have learned that here dwelt a pleasant and contented Indian who spent his days in quiet toil and worship. These builders of fine temples have vanished long ago, but their pottery and metal trinkets lodged in the muddy earth, emerges as fresh proof that "a thing of beauty is a joy forever." Their temples, tho decayed are yet in evidence. The mounds and the story of the people who built them, a story recorded in clay and stone, and native metal made a lasting impression on each of the Montevallo visitors.

For a most interesting and educational account of this trip ask any of the 32 4th graders who attended and they like Ruth Grant and Jimmy Eber will make you start plans for a visit to Moundville.

JOHN M. DOSS, JR. . . . spots "trouble" on telephone lines with the "Wheatstone bridge"—a highly sensitive measuring instrument that tells him how far the trouble is from the central office. Off the job, John's active in church and fraternal work. His hobby is boating.

Meet the man who beats "trouble" to the punch

Many telephone "troubles" never happen, thanks to John M. Doss, Jr. John's a test deskman for Southern Bell. With the help of intricate electronic equipment in the central office which can spot trouble miles away, he tests telephone lines to make sure they stay in good working order. Often he finds causes for trouble on a line and has them corrected, even before your service is affected. Keep 'em talking, is John's motto.

And John's not by himself. He and some 65,000 other trained Southern Bell people in all kinds of jobs — linemen, cable splicers, operators — are working to give you good telephone service, 24 hours a day.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

For the functions of the Department of Agriculture during the next fiscal year, the House of Representatives last week approved the sum of $1.9 billion. This total appropriation is $3.7 million less than the Administration requested but $1 billion more than the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year. All of the increase is for the Commodity Credit Corporation, the agency through which farm prices are supported.

In addition to the $1.9 billion appropriation, the measure also authorizes loans in the amount of $359 million for rural electric and telephone development and for the Farmers Home Administration.

Included in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation bill are increased funds for the school lunch program. The Administration had requested $83 million, approximately the same amount that was appropriated last year, but the House of Representatives increased this amount to $100 million. For the past three years, both the Appropriations Committee and the Congress have resisted all efforts to curtail funds for this important program.

Warrior Lock and Dam

The Public Works Subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee last week approved the sum of $4,580,000 for the continued construction of the Warrior Lock and Dam. This amount constituted the full budget request. Approval by both the full Appropriations Committee and the House of Representatives is expected this week.

I appeared in March before the Public Works Subcommittee and urged that the entire $4,580,000 be approved. The committee's action was most gratifying as it will allow the construction of this important installation to continue on schedule.

Proposed Steam Plant

The announcement last Friday by the Alabama Power Company of a proposed new steam generating plant to be located on the Coosa River is of importance to all of us who live in the Sixth District. I have already contacted an official of the Alabama Power Company and urged that all possible Sixth District sites be carefully considered before a final location for this plant is selected, and I have been assured that this will be done.

The new steam plant, according to the Power Company's announcement, is to be located near Alabama's coal fields. This undoubtedly means that at least a portion of the coal that will be used to supply this proposed installation will be mined in the coal producing counties of our District.

Jim Reeves Opens New Pool and Resort Area

Jim Reeves of Jemison, formery a resident of Calera, was up this way Tuesday in the interest of advertising a new pleasure resort which he has built and opened on his 18-acre place in Jemison.

Jim says he has one of the most delightful recreation spots in this part of Alabama. The central attraction is a new modern concrete swimming pool with all facilities, showers, rest rooms and dressing rooms. The pool is fed by several free springs, and the whole place is located in a densely shaded area which is equipped for picnics and outings. There is a large parking area and a wading pool for the kiddies.

Mr. Reeves extends an invitation to individuals, families, church and civic organizations to make use of his place for their outings.

Southern Bell Signs Contract

Agreement was reached May 19th, on a new contract between Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company and Communication Workers of America affecting about 55,000 non-supervisory employees in nine southern states.

The new contract provides for wage increases ranging up to $5 per week depending upon the job and town classification of the employee. Other changes in the contract includes reclassification of a number of cities and towns for wage purposes. The new contract is effective May 20, it is for one year but will extend beyond this initial period unless terminated by 60 day notice by either party.

Frank M. Malone, personnel vice president of Southern Bell said the pay increases were in line with the upward wage movement which extensive surveys show has occurred in the Southeastern cities and towns. "The increases are necessary to fullfill our basic wage policy; that is, to keep the pay of Southern Bell employees in favorable comparison with wage levels prevailing in the communities where they work and live."

Mr. Malone said this wage increase and the other changes in the contract will add approximately nine million dolars a year to the cost of providing telephone service in the company's nine state area. In Alabama the added cost will amount to $925,000.

Other 4-door hardtops have short rear windows indicated by broken line above. Chrysler's windows extend all the way to the back of the rear seat.

Chrysler's longer roof, greater room, and better visibility are the result of two-part roll-away window. Rear segment rolls forward. Forward segment down.

All the airy openness of a racy convertible . . . and the full size and comfort of a big sedan. That's the Chrysler 4-door hardtop.

You can get in and out as easily as in a sedan because the entrance area is full width. And you get full vision because the rear window comes all the way to the back of the rear seat.

ETHEL MILLER GORMAN

Novel Pictures Rise of Industry

Working over five years on careful research which gives her narrative unquestioned authenticity, Ethel Miller Gorman (above), Alabama writer, has written a magestic novel of her home state called RED ACRES. Published by Vulcan Press of Birmingham this month, RED ACRES is the interesting tale of the rise of the iron and steel industry in the South to a place among the world's great industrial communities. With this background, Mrs. Gorman has developed a story with the heart break, the romance, the humor and the tragedy that surrounded the people of Alabama in reconstruction times.

RED ACRES is a rich and colorful book dealing with the impoverished South following the War Between the States. In creating the necessary fictional characters that must live in a story of this type, Mrs. Gorman has brought persons into being that will live in the minds of Alabamians forever. Dan Ratchford, the hero, dreams of providing industry and new wealth for his people through development of rich mineral deposits that surround them. The woman he loves, Itara McKerol, shares his dreams but still clings to the old traditions of the deep South. Though separated by tragic misunderstandings, Dan and Itara finally combine forces to complete the transition from a basic agrarian economy to one of manufacturing power.

Many real people appear throughout the story, including newspaper man Ryland Randolph of the old Tuscaloosa MONITOR, lending authority to this moving novel. The reader will be interested to note a similarity of conditions that existed during the days of reconstruction to the current tensions that surround our great university and also state politics.

Soil Conservation District News

By B. F. Hatchett and Geo. C. Starcher

Friday, May 18, 1956 was an ideal day for building dams—or at least a number of district cooperators seemed to think so.

Near Westover F. R. Wall had a bulldozer at work building a 2500 cubic yard dam, 15 feet high.

At Chelsea, Clyde Ross had a bulldozer and a loader building a 15 foot dam.

Westover Community has a number of ponds designed recently or under construction, all within a few miles, on the Watson, Cox, Lynn, Bramlett, Faulkner—enough for a complete column later when more details are available.

If you store woolens in airtight closets or packages with paradichlorobenzene crystals or napthalene flakes or balls, these materials will, in evaporating, give off fumes that kill moths.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

By Armistead I. Selden, Congressman, Sixth District

Funds for six river development projects in the State of Alabama, two of them located in the Sixth District, were included in the Public Works Appropriation bill passed by the House last week and referred to the Senate.

An appropriation of $4,580,000 was approved by the House to continue on schedule construction of the Warrior Lock and Dam which is located between Hale and Greene Counties on the Warrior River. Ground was broken for this important installation on October 21, 1954, and construction of the lock is now well underway. The completion date has been tentatively set for December 1957. Funds appropriated to date for this lock and dam, including the amount just approved by the House, total approximately $10.5 million.

In addition to the funds for the Warrior Lock and Dam, an amendment was approved that added to the bill the sum of $160,000 for a restudy of the proposed Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway. Although this project was authorized by Congress in 1946, no construction funds have ever been approved for it. Since the issuance of an adverse report in 1951 by a subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee, Congress has given no further consideration to the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway.

Earlier this year I appeared with several of my colleagues before the Subcommittee on Public Works of the House Appropriations Committee to request that the necessary funds for a restudy of this important project be included in the public Works Appropriation bill. The subcommittee recommended, however, that an appropriation for such a study be postponed until next year. When the bill reached the floor of the House, Representative Abernethy of Mississippi offered a $160,000 amendment to be used for a resurvey. I spoke for and supported the Abernethy Amendment which was adopted by a 179-170 roll call vote

As you know, the Tombigbee River flows between the Sixth District Counties of Green and Sumter, and the construction of this waterway would be of great benefit, not only to our section of Alabama, but to the entire State. It is hoped that the proposed resurvey will provide the necessary justification for the construction of the important Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway.

Other Alabama projects receiving funds in the bill are the Columbia Lock and Dam, the Mobile Harbor, Fort Gaines Lock and Dam, and the Paint Rock River. The Senate will probably approve all of these funds in substantially the same amounts as passed by the House.

New Farm Bill Approved

The conference version of the new farm bill, believed to be acceptable to President Eisenhower, was adopted by both the House and Senate last week. The new measure does not contain the rigid price support provisions which were largely responsible for the President's veto on April 16 of earlier farm legislation.

As sent to the White House, the bill establishes a $1. billion soil bank, and directs the Secretary of Agriculture to put the soil bank in operation to the extent possible during the remaining months of this year. It does not, however, provide the advance soil bank payments requested by the Administration.

Under the terms of the bill, the Secretary of Agriculture is directed to sell up to five million bales of surplus cotton at competitive prices in the world market. Another important provision of the new bill freezes the national cotton acreage allotment for the next two crop years at the 1956 level.

Dog Control Act

Alabama's State Legislature some years ago very wisely passed a Dog Control Law requiring, among other things, that every dog have "shot" once each year against Rabies. This law was passed for the protection of the dog owner and of each individual. Dogs are especially susceptible to rabies and because of their close association with people are a dangerous source of rabies.

Rabies in humans is fortunately rare due to the availability of rabies vaccine. The necessity of taking the vaccine, however, is an unpleasant experience lasting two weeks and is not without danger in itself of causing treatment paralysis and other most undesirable reactions.

Children are most frequently the victims of dog bites and having to take anti-rabies vaccine every day for 14 days is, to say the least, unpleasant to them. Should a human develop rabies, it is a most fearsome and hopeless disease. The mortality rate is 100 per cent.

Mr. Bloomer Wilson, County Rabies Inspector, will soon start his round of clinics and will give every one in the county an opportunity to have his dog inoculated against rabies. Mr. Wilson and his deputy have police power, vested in them by law, to require all dog owners to have their dogs inoculated. However, any thinking person will comply readily with this law for the protection of himself and his family—Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Woodlawn Defeats Bulldogs in Playoff

By S. DeMent

The Montevallo Bulldogs became the tenth victim this season of Jerry Turner, Woodlawn's ace righthander, as they fell before the powerful Jefferson County champions Tuesday night at Leeds, 9-2. In his brilliant performance on the mound, Turner gave up only three hits while walking four and striking out ten. In the second and fourth innings he struck out the batters in order.

Ed Hicks, piching for Montevallo, allowed five hits, gave five free passes, and fanned six.

Woodlawn opened the scoring in the first inning, making two runs without benefit of a hit. Goodwin scored on a wild pitch at home, and Gilbert was in when Sims' long fly got by the right fielder.

Montevallo evened things up in their half of the inning as Alexander, lead-off man, singled and Hicks doubled to bring him around. Hicks stole home for the second run.

A four-run uprising in the seventh put the Colonels out of reach, since they had gathered runs three, four, and five in the third, fifth and sixth. In this seventh-inning rally which came off only two hits, Hewitt walked and Goodwin was in as Gilbert drove at short. Hewitt scored as a balk was called against Hicks, and Goodwin was inas Gilbert drove a powerful double into deep center. A wild pitch plated Gilbert. Sims, hit by a pitch, rode home with the final run of the game as Ryan singled.

This victory gave Woodlawn the Fifth District title. They meet Coffee High of Florence at Leeds Saturday, June 2, at 10 o'clock in the Northern Division play-off.

Homemakers To Meet in Chicago

About the first of July, more than 2,000 teenagers in the U. S. and territories will be packing their suitcases.

But their thoughts won't be of a Fourth of July vacation complete with suntan and firecrackers.

Instead, homemaking—making homes now and in the future where "living will be the expression of everything good and fair"—will be uppermost in their minds.

Monday, July 2, will find these teenage boys and girls registering at the five-day 1956 National Convention of the Future Homemakers of America at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

The convention theme is "You—in home, school, community and chapter." These youthful convention-goers, members of FHA which is the national organization of pupils studying homemaking in junior and senior high schools, will represent a total national membership of 427,165 in 9,457 chapters in the U. S., Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, and District of Columbia. Alabama has 13,725 FHA members in 276 chapters. Miss Ruth Stovall is Alabama State FHA Adviser.

National FHA headquarters are in Washington. Miss Marguerite Scruggs, formerly of Oklahoma, is National FHA Adviser.

National FHA President, Susan Higbie, a hazel-eyed, blonde-haired, 17-year-old from Buhl, Idaho will open the convention.

Main events on the convention program will include addresses by Samuel M. Brownell, U. S. Commissioner of Education, and Mrs. Billie Davis, author and lecturer.

DEIRDRE KOCHMAN IS HONORED WITH PARTY

Deirdre Kochman, age 6, was honored with a birthday party Monday afternoon, May 28, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kochman on Highland St., in Montevallo.

Her guests were Loy Miller, Sherry Anderson, Nellie Gray Strother and Carolyn Frost. Other little girls on the guest list were ill or away.

Carolyn Frost had high score for tossing clothes pins in the milk bottle.

Refreshments of ice cream with slices of a beautiful cake decorated by the honoree, were served. The cake was covered with blue frosting and decorated with a house, small cabins, and animals artistically made of colored frosting.

Drop the handkerchief and jump the rope followed the opening of gifts. Just before leaving the little girls fished for favors.

Deirdre's sister, Andrea, assisted with the games and serving. Kendra, age 9 months, enjoyed looking on.

DAR To Observe Flag Day By Dedicating Marker

David Lindsay Chapter, DAR, will observe Flag Day a day early this year, for at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, June 13th, its members, friends and descendants of Lt. John Mahan will dedicate a bronze marker at the grave of this Revolutionary War soldier.

The Montevallo group was asked to participate with Lt. Mahan's kinsmen in a ceremony to take place in the Smith-Mahan Cemetery on Mahan Creek in Bibb County. Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, chapter geealogical records chairman, did much of the research and served as a liaison between the families concerned and David Lindsay Chapter.

Activities to take place at the outdoor service include: a welcome by Mrs. Charles L. Gormley, chapter regent; a brief talk on "Why the DAR Marks a Grave' by Mrs. John O. Luttrell, vice president general; the introduction of Miss Adelaide Mahan by Mrs. W. R. Pittman, chapter Flag Day chairman; a tribute by Miss Mahan entitled "My Ancestor"; a tribute to Lt. Mahan's sons, who served in the War of 1812, by Miss Maud McLure Kelly, State Department of Archives and History; and, finally, the dedicatory ritual by Mrs. John T. Clarke, state regent; Mrs. John B. Privett, 2nd vice regent; and Mrs. T. H. Napier, chapter chaplain, assisted by members of the chapter.

Invitations to attend Wednesday's afternoon program have been extended to six DAR members whose membership is based on the service of Lt. Mahan. These include Mrs. R. P. Ransom, Moundville, Ala.; Mrs. George Teipel, Jacksonville, Florida; Mrs. William A. Stone, New Castle Pa.; Mrs. Robert M. Brunet, Corinth, Miss.; Mrs. Raymond Rauch, Washington, D. C.; and Mrs. Levens K. Persons, Garland, Ark.

David Lindsay Chapter has invited all guests to attend an informal visiting hour in Reynolds Hall foyer following the dedication services. Hostesses will be Miss Annabeth Cash, chairman of Flag Day arrangements, and her committee composed of Miss Eloise Meroney and Miss Josephine Eddy.

TB Association Hears Report of County Work

The Shelby County Tuberculosis Association met recently in the office of Dr. E. F. Sloan. The report of this meeting is reflective of the good work being done in Shelby County by the Association which in turn is made possible by the generous support of the sale of Christmas Seals by the people and industries of Shelby County.

Treasurer Roy Downs reported that a record total of $2,609.25 was contributed by the people of Shelby County during the 1955 campaign.

Dr. Sloan stated that the fight against TB is being effectively waged. He stated that in the ten year period, 1930-40, there were 250 deaths from TB in the county but that in the past two years the disease had caused only two deaths. Fifty five patients were treated in 1955 and of this number 20 were released from treatment. Twelve men were put back to work, four house wives were retruned to duty and four teenagers were returned to school. Five new cases have been discovered this year. Those released from treatment will receive periodic check-ups. Dr. Sloan cautioned against becoming over optimistic because of this favorable report. He stated that 600 children in the county have a positive skin test and that experts estimate that a least 12 per cent of this number will ultimately become victims of this disease.

Dr. Sloan stated that the work of our association in giving clinical and home treatment for tuberculosis is attracting favorable notice from other sections of the state. The work of Dr. Sloan and his associates is supported by the Shelby County Board of Revenue and Control.

HOW THE SOUTHERN COMPANY HELPS TO PROVIDE A HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS A YEAR FOR SOUTHERN GROWTH

The Expanding South Has A Big Appetite for Electric Power ... The Driving Force Behind Its New Industrial Might

DURING the past eight years demands for electricity in the four-state area served by The Southern Company System have more than doubled. It takes many things to satisfy these huge requirements: steel and concrete for power plants and dams, great turbo-generators, transmission lines to take the power where it's needed—and money. The system operating companies in Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Mississippi will spend more than a billion dollars in the decade 1952 through 1961 on new power facilities.

The Southern Company helps to finance the construction programs of its operating companies, and at the same time strengthens their capital structures. Southern does this by selling shares of its common stock to the public and investing the proceeds, together with retained earnings, in the operating companies, thus, as the security analyst puts it, "building up their equities."

During the past eight years, for example, when the system carried out a $607 million construction program, $178 million of this amount was made available by The Southern Company. Southern increased its investment in Alabama Power Company by $77 million, Georgia Power Company by $76 million, in Gulf Power Company by $12 million, and in Mississippi Power Company by $13 million. Southern's additional investment in these companies helped to build power plants and lines and substations—but it did more than that. By raising the equity portion of their capital structures it created a more favorable market for their bonds and preferred stocks.

Today the total capitalization of the Southern System is in excess of $800 million, more than double that at the beginning of operations in the fall of 1947. And while the capital structure has expanded, it has become stronger, for an important feature of its growth has been the rise in equity from 23% at the end of 1947 to 32% at the end of 1955.

The construction needs of the system operating companies are estimated at nearly three-quarters of a billion dollars for the 1956-1961 period. The Southern Company will continue its important part in financing electrical expansion so essential to the further growth of the South.

Our Day of Opportunity Has Come

(Shelby County Reporter)

Shelby County's day of opportunity is at hand.

If we can secure the location of the great new power plant, it will be the greatest achievement yet recorded in all the long history of our county.

It will doubtless be a long time before such an opportunity comes again. Leaders from practically every community in our county, in the meeting Monday night, pledged themselves to do all in their power to secure the location of this great plant at Wilsonville. Clearly, the spirit of the meeting was, whatever will be good for Wilsonville will be good for Shelby County.

It remains then for them to carry out this pledge and to enlist sympathy and support of their neighbors.

Every man, woman and child will be benefitted; now and throughout the years to come—almost beyond anything we can think or imagine now.

The Alabama Power Company has undoubtedly contributed more to the development of Alabama than any other industry ever organized within the state.

We have every reason to feel that Southern Electric Generating Company, if it comes to Shelby County, will be equally zealous in promoting the further development of our county.

County revenues will be greatly increased; the power companies are glad to pay liberally in taxes.

There will be more money for schools, for hospitals, for building roads, and for every other agency that renders service to our people.

It is our hope that all our people will think of this, our great opportunity, and become so enthusiastic that we may all join together in one effort to do "whatever it takes" to convince the officials of the Southern Electric Generating Company that we want them to come in. That they are welcome now; that our welcome will last through the years.

If we will do this, it may be just the beginning of a great new day for Shelby County. Our county might then go on to become what many of us have long felt it should be, one of the first counties in all Alabama in solid, wholesome industrial development.

(Editor's note—I have searched my mind for something to say on this tremendously important subject, and I have concluded it was all said last week in the editorial of the Shelby County Reporter. Therefore, with the indulgence of my good friend and fellow-editor, Mr. Luther Fowler, I reprint his editorial above, and urge our readers to follow his suggestion and "do whatever it takes" to convince the officials of Southern Electric Generating Company that Shelby County people want them to locate with us and that we will treat 'em right.)

Ready for the Next Step

The expression of the voters of Shelby County on May 29 was a resounding "go ahead" signal for the establishment of a county hospital. Our people are now ready for the next step toward getting the job done.

We look for the County Board of Revenue to act forthwith in the process of setting up a hospital board of administration.

There is no doubt that they will do this by naming a board composed of able business men (and women, perhaps), dedicated and determined in the one purpose of providing a hospital that will serve the great needs of the people of the county.

Progress in County Road Work

County Engineer, J. L. Ray, Jr., sends us the following items about the progress of Shelby County road paving:

The paving of the Harpersville-Arkwright-Gallups Crossroads road has begun. It is estimated to be completed by July, 1956. This paving consists of a double bituminous surface treatment. The length of this project is 12.8 miles. This will increase Shelby County's paved road system to 154.5 miles.

The grading and drainage is nearing completion on the Dargin (U. S. 31) to Pearidge road. Base course (foundation) operations will begin in July. Paving of this road will be done in the Spring of 1957.

In connection with this subject we had a verbal statement from our Road Commissioner, Fred McClendon, the other day, to the effect that grading and preliminary work has begun on the Salem Road north of Montevallo and that it will come around to being black-topped in due and reasonable time.

Watch After Your Dog

The period for confinement of dogs in Montevallo ends this week.

Before you release your dog, make sure he is properly inoculated for rabies. Bloomer Wilson will take care of this for you.

The Centreville Press reported last week that rabies is still rampant in Bibb County. This means that we are not out of danger of an invasion by mad dogs. We must be prepared and alert.

Stray dogs that have no one to look after or care for them will find hard living in Montevallo—in fact very little living, if any at all.

Letter to the Editor

FOREST FIRE PREVENTION

Editor, The Times-Herald:

The Alabama Forest Products Association has planned a statewide Forest Fire Prevention Conference to be held June 20th at the coliseum, Montgomery. They have planned a very fine program to be followed by a free barbecue.

The Forest Products of Shelby County play an important part in our economy, so I am sure we want a part in the control of Forest Fires as well as other good conservation practices.

Those who are interested in protecting our timber should attend the meeting in Montgomery.

Some of us got together and planned a meeting for 7:30 p.m. Friday night, June eighth in the auditorium of the new courthouse office building, Columbiana. The purpose of this meeting is to have a brief discussion of the program and plan transportation for the delegation going to Montgomery. We want to ask that you be with us and bring along anyone who is interested in protecting our timber.

Looking forward to seeing you Friday Night, I am

Yours very truly,
A. A. LAUDERDALE
County Agent

Homemakers Hold County Meeting

There was a County-wide meeting of all the FHA Officers, Supervisors, and some of the parents at the Vincent High School, Vincent, Alabama on May 30, 1956. At this meeting Queen Bess was selected. Miss Tommie Ruth Mowery of Montevallo was selected and will represent Shelby County at the Corn and Livestock Festival in September. Miss Ann Farris of Calera is Tommie Ruth's alternate. Miss Sara Nell Hartsfield of Vincent, Miss Barbara Reeser of Thompson, and Miss Dottie Garrett of Columbiana were the other contestants.

The judges for this big event were as follows: Miss Ruth Wise, Home Service Advisor, Alabama Power Company, Montevallo, Alabama; Mrs. James Sharbutt, Homemaker of Vincent; and Miss Joy Thomphon, Home Economics teacher of Childersburg High School.

After the Queen Bess Contest we divided into groups according to the office which each girl held to learn our duties and how to carry them out better. The following Supervisors were in charge of an office: Mrs. Carol Seale, Presidents; Miss Sara Nell Lightsey, Vice-Presidents; Mrs. Rebecca McGaughy, Secretary-Treasurer; Miss Ann Nichols, Reporters; Miss Ida Jo DeVaughn, Parliamenarians; and Mrs. Ann C. Glass, Historians.

At eleven o'clock we assembled for a talk on Degree work. Mrs. Glennie I. Nybeck, District Supervisor of Montevallo, discussed how they could grow by degrees.

About twelve o'clock we traveled to Butler's Spring for lunch and recreation. Each girl brought a picnic lunch. After lunch some of the girls went swimming.

There were approximately fifty people who attended and each one had a wonderful time. We appreciate Vincent serving as hostess; they did a swell job.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

For more than eight weeks the House Foreign Affairs Committee, of which I am a member, carefully considered the request of the Executive branch of our government for authorization to carry forward the mutual security program.

During hearings on the legislation, we received testimony from representatives of every branch of the government connected with the administration of this program.

At the close of these hearings, the Foreign Affairs Committee voted to authorize an appropriation for the mutual security program of $3,563,475,000 for the next fiscal year, a decrease of $1,109,000,000 in the Executive request. Of this amount, $109 million was cut from the economic assistance program and the remaining billion from the military. These reductions, which I supported, were adopted by a bi-partisan committee vote.

$6.6 Billion Unexpended

Protests against cuts in our foreign aid program have been made since the Committee's action and the usual statements have been issued that the program will be wrecked unless funds are restored. It is interesting to note, however, that in the same seven-year period between 1950 and 1956, inclusive, Congress has reduced the requests of the Executive branch anywhere from $600 million to $1.9 billion each year.

Each time reductions have been made, objections have been voiced immediately. These objections have been made, not only by the executive, but also by a number of writers and commentators who have often displayed a surprising lack of information. Yet, the program has continued to operate, and at the end of the present fiscal year it is estimated that the program's unexpended balance will be about $6.6 billion. That amount is sufficient to continue the mutual security program without a further appropriation for nearly two years.

These indisputable facts have conveyed to many the impression that on occasion more funds are requested than are necessary or that can be spent. This impression was strengthened when the Comptroller General testified recently before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He accused the International Cooperation Administration, which handles non-military aid, of "overprogramming", and said it frequently has asked Congress for more money than it could spend in the subsequent fiscal year. He was equally critical of the Defense Department's handling of funds allocated for military aid.

Reductions Justified

Although the Committee took this information into consideration, other important factors indicated a substantial reduction is justified. Almost $5.6 billion of unexpended military funds is now in the so-called pipeline. Of this amount, more than $3.6 billion is earmarked for European programs. Most of these programs were worked out when German rearmament was scheduled to follow a more accelerated pace, before France moved a large part of her forces to North Africa, and before several NATO countries indicated contemplated reductions in their military budgets.

These facts, coupled with the knowledge that the equipment to be supplied by the European pipeline funds can be transferred to other areas, satisfied a substantial majority of the committee members that the additional sum of $2,563,475,00 recommended by the committee is ample, at least until we can determine more definitely the direction in which the mutual security program will move and the emphasis that will be given to the various components of it.

Although there may be an effort to restore all or a portion of the cut that was made by the committee when the bill reaches the floor of the House, I predict that the House will uphold the committee's action.

Standard Oil To Market New Gas

Savings for the American motorist are possible through a three -grade system of marketing gasoline, W. G. Violette, president Standard Oil Company (Kentucky), declared today, and Standard Oil will introduce such a system on June 15.

According to Mr. Violette, automobile compression ratios have increased so much in recent years that even existing premium gasolines do not satisfy many of the new cars on the road.

Therefore, Standard Oil will market three brands of gasoline—regular, premium and a new, still higher quality of motor fuel at a third service-station pump for the present and future automobiles with higher-compression engines.

"Existing regular and premium grades of gasoline are doing an outstanding job for the great majority of motorists, and will continue to do so for some years to come," Mr. Violette said. "By introducing a third and higher grade of gasoline, specifically designed for the very high-compression cars, and at a cost commensurate with its higher quality each motorist can choose the quality best suited for his car, without paying for performance he cannot use."

Physical changes in facilities at service stations will delay widespread distribution of this new gasoline for a time. Distribution began in the larger cities in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky and Mississippi on June 15, and spread out to other points.

Facts and Fancies Concerning Electrical Storms

Is it dangerous to carry an umbrella during a lightning storm? Do television antennas create a lightning hazard? Should you hide in a closet, go down cellar, or sit in your car when bolts of lightning start flashing?

Separating the facts from the fancy has been one of the projects undertaken by the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company in Boston. About 400 persons die each year because of electrical storms. More than 43,000 fires a year are attributed to lightning, causing damages estimated at $43,000.

No, it isn't dangerous to carry an umbrella, reports the Institute. The mass of metal is very small and the overall height of the person carrying the umbrella is not sufficient to greatly increase the chances of being struck by lightning. Actually, the open umbrella is more likely to result in a traffic accident through obstruction of vision.

As for radio and television aerials atop houses, it is true that points attract lighning. Antennas should be provided with well-grounded lightning arresters. If at all possible antennas should be on self-supporting masts or poles. Antennas located wholly inside the building do not require lightning arresters.

Hiding in a closet is the height of folly, advises the Institute for Safer Living. Getting under a bed is useless, too. There seems to be little point in going down cellar. The greatest hazard from lightning is from a possible ensuing fire. Common sense would dictate staying at or above ground level to make certain of a rapid exit in case of fire.

An all-metal enclosed automobile is a safe place to be in during an electrical storm, provided it is located free of the danger of being struck by falling objects. Occupants of such an automobile are safe as long as they remain in the car. It is possible for lightning to charge the car body so that a person leaving the vehicle could be seriously shocked or electrocuted. After such a hit or near miss, the Institute advises all occupants to remain in the car from 10 to 15 minutes to allow the charge to drain off.

If you are caught outdoors and are unable to get into an all-metal enclosed automobile or a building, the safest thing to do is to head for a grove of trees. Don't stand out in the open or under a single isolated tree, warns the Institute for Safer Living.

The new Bel Air Convertible—one of 20 sassy-styled new Chevrolets.

Want to take the wheel of one of America's few great road cars? Want to send pleasant little tingles up and down your spine? Then hustle on in and try out a new Chevrolet V8!

Now showing—the happiest "double feature" of the year! One part is bold, new Motoramic styling. The other is record-breaking V8 action.

Hollywood has a heap of words that describe it: colossal, stupendous, magnificent. We'll settle for just the name—Chevrolet.

Because once you've driven this sweet-handling showboat, the adjectives will take care of themselves. Horsepower that ranges up to 225 makes hills flatter and saves precious seconds for safer passing. And the way this Chevrolet wheels around tight turns would gladden the heart of a dyed-in-the-wool sports car fan.

Stop in sometime soon and highway-test this new Chevrolet.

"Grass roots" capitalism

Anna Jacobson has lived most of her 65 years in Terre Haute, Indiana. For 32 of these years, she has been a stockholder in American Brake Shoe Company. She is one of thousands of average citizens who have received dividends from Brake Shoe during the past half a century. (American Brake Shoe is one of 50 "blue chip" companies in America which have paid dividends consistently for 50 years.)

More than 14,500 other people like Anna Jacobson share in American Brake Shoe's ownership today. In fact, we have more shareowners than employees.

This "grass roots" capitalism is typical of America today. More than 6,500,000 large and small investors own a share in American corporations.

Few corporations are owned by a small group of stockholders. In Brake Shoe, for example, no individual owns as much as one per cent of the outstanding stock of the company.

This is a new kind of capitalism—ownership by the many, not the few.

Ed Hicks Wins Sugar Bowl Trip

Ed Hicks, Montevallo High School's All-State first baseman, won "the big prize" Friday night. June 8, at Rickwood. On that night Ed's sparkling performance in the All-Star baseball game, sponsored annually by the Lions Clubs of Alabama, earned him a free trip to the Sugar Bowl next January. All expenses of this prize trip will be paid by the Birmingham News.

Also selected from the field of 45 players for this honor were Jimmy Carter, right-handed pitcher from Bessemer High, and LeGrant Scott, West End shortstop.

On this second trip to the "glamour classic" Ed played his usual good game at first and led his team at the plate, collecting two for four. This, plus last year's three for four, gives Hicks a batting average of .625 for the two performances.

Of the Staters' six runs, Ed counted for two himself and knocked in two more.

Carter, in winning his bowl trip, went seven full innings on the mound, giving up only three hits to a line-up which included seven of the Woodlawn Colonels (North Alabama champions).

Scott earned his ticket playing two full games at short without error, and hitting two for four (a double and a triple).

Miss Wylodean Harwell and Horace R. Eddings To Marry in Alabaster

Miss Wylodean Harwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harwell of Alabaster, has completed plans for her marriage to Horace R. Eddings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Eddings of Marvel, on Saturday evening, June 16, in the Assembly of God Church in Alabaster.

The Rev. George E. Walters will perform the 8 p.m. marriage in a candlelight ceremony.

Mrs. Jimmy Curtis organist, and Anthony Pitts, vocalist, will present the nuptial music.

Miss Billie Cobern of Alabaster, serving as honor attendant will carry red roses.

The bride's maids, Miss Patricia Sweeney, Alabaster; Miss Shirley Johnson, Siluria; Miss Ann Lucas, Birmingham; Mrs. Robert York Jr., Alabaster; Mrs. Welles Ozley and Mrs. James Hargrove, Baton Rouge, Louisiana; will wear dresses of light mint-green and their flowers will be carnations tinted in varigated shades of green.

The flower girls, Miss Sandra Joyce Eddings, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Patsy Harwell, sister of the bride, will wear identical replicas of the bridesmaids' dresses and will carry matching flower baskets of green and pink flower petals.

Horace E. Lawley will be best man. Ushers are: C. P. Walker, Albert Lee Pickett, Russell Harkins and J. C. Rowe.

Doyle Johnson, cousin of the bride, and John W. Harwell, brother of the bride will light the candles.

Given in marriage by her father, W. M. Harwell, the bride will wear a white floor length gown of Chantilly and French lace over satin. The fitted lace bodice features a scolloped neckline, and the bouffant skirt falls into a chapel length train. Her finger tip veil of illusion is attached to an open crowned head piece. She will carry a bouquet of white orchids surrounded by stephanotis.

The bride's mother has chosen a dress of blue lace over pink taffeta, and the bridegroom's mother will wear black taffeta. Both will have white orchid corsages.

After the ceremony the bride's parents will be hosts at a reception at their home. Mrs. U. M. Hale, Alabaster; Miss Faye Jones, Bessemer; and Miss Barbara Pickett, Marvel; will serve. Miss Ann Ozley will register the guests.

After a wedding trip to new Mexico, the couple will be at home in Birmingham.

Application Must Be Filed For Social Security Benefits

"An application for old age and survivors insurance benefits must be filed before payments can begin," is the advice given by J. W. Overstreet, Jr., district manager of the Birmingham social security office.

One of the basic requirements that must be met before benefits can be paid to a retired worker is that he must contact the nearest social security office and file an application for them. The same requirements must be met before survivors benefits can be paid to a deceased worker's family after his death.

"It is very important for the worker and his family to understand this requirement so that checks can be started promptly and so that no loss of payments will result," Mr. Overstreet said.

The three statements which follow are important to every worker and to every member of his family:

1. The worker who is between 65 and 72 years old should file his application at the nearest social security office at the earliest opportunity after he retires from work.

2. A worker at the age of 72 need not retire to be eligible for payments. Payments may be made to an insured worker at the age of 72 regardless of his earnings. The worker still employed at the age of 72 should file his application at the earliest opportunity after he attains that age.

3. After the death of a person whose work was covered by social security, some member of his family should inquire promptly to learn what survivors insurance benefits may be paid.

Complete information regarding social security payments can be obtained by contacting the Birmingham social security office at 1825 First Avenue, North.

PSC Suspends Increase In Truck Freight Rates

President C. C. (Jack) Owen, and Associate Commissioners Jimmy Hitchcock and Sibyl Pool today suspended a six percent increase in truck rates in Alabama scheduled to go into effect on July 3, 1956, and ordered an investigation and public hearing concerning the increased rates for Friday, June 29th, at 9:30 a.m. at the Commission's offices in Montgomery. The Alabama truckers will be required to justify the proposed advance in freight rates at the hearing, and all persons desiring to protest the increased rates should be present at the hearing to present their views.

No increase is proposed in the minimum charge per shipment, nor on a small group of commodities on which special rates apply.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stinson and family visited relatives in Boaz this week-end.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Each year that I have been a member of Congress, I have supported the appropriation of federal funds for the construction of National Guard armories. This year was no exception. As a result of the appropriation of these funds, our Sixth District, as well as the entire State of Alabama, has benefitted.

Since January, 1953, federal funds have been provided for nine armory projects in the Sixth District. In 1954 armories were completed in Calera and Centreville, and the following year installations were opened in Marion, Northport, Eutaw, and Clanton.

This year an armory has been completed in Livingston; the Holt armory project has been approved; and an expansion project for the existing National Guard facility in Tuscaloosa received the Secretary of Defense's endorsement.

Today every county in the Sixth District has at least one National Guard armory, most of them built during the past three years.

Under this program, federal funds are provided for the construction of National Guard armories in amounts up to 75 per cent of the cost of construction, provided the states furnish the matching 25 per cent and a suitable building site. The utilization of these federal funds for an armory expansion program was begun while GKen. Walter J. ("Crack") Hanna was our state's Adjutant General. This program has been continued successfully under our present Adjutant General, Gen. William D. Partlow of our own Sixth District.

Tourists in Capital

Washington is always filled with visitors, but especially is this true during the spring and summer months. Last year more than four and one-half million people visited the Capital City and the number is expected to be even greater during 1956. The increase in the number of tourists who visit the Capital each year, not only from the 48 states but from the entire world, is understandable as Washington is truly one of the world's finest cities.

Each year we have visitors at our office from every county in the Sixth District. The senior classes from a number of our schools make annual pilgrimages to Washington, and it is usually our privilege to take these students in the chamber of the House of Representatives. We always enjoy their visits and only wish it were possible for each and every person in the entire District to visit our nation's capital.

For those who do come, I extend an invitation to visit our office which is located in the Old House Office Building. I have available for you a pass for admittance to the galleries of the House of Representatives and the Senate. Arrangements can usually be made for special tours of the White House, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the National Gallery of Art, and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. It is best to write me before coming to Washington if you are interested in any of the special tours, as it is usually necessary to make advance arrangements for them. In any event, if you plan a trip to Washington before the adjournment of Congress, I shall certainly look forward to seeing you.

Chilton County To Hold Annual Peach Festival

Chilton County will stage its annual Peach Festival July 4 at Clanton, after a lapse of one year because of the late freeze which virtually destroyed the 1955 crop.

L. C. Shields, chairman and Joe Jackson, co-chairman, of the 1954 festival will handle arrangements again.

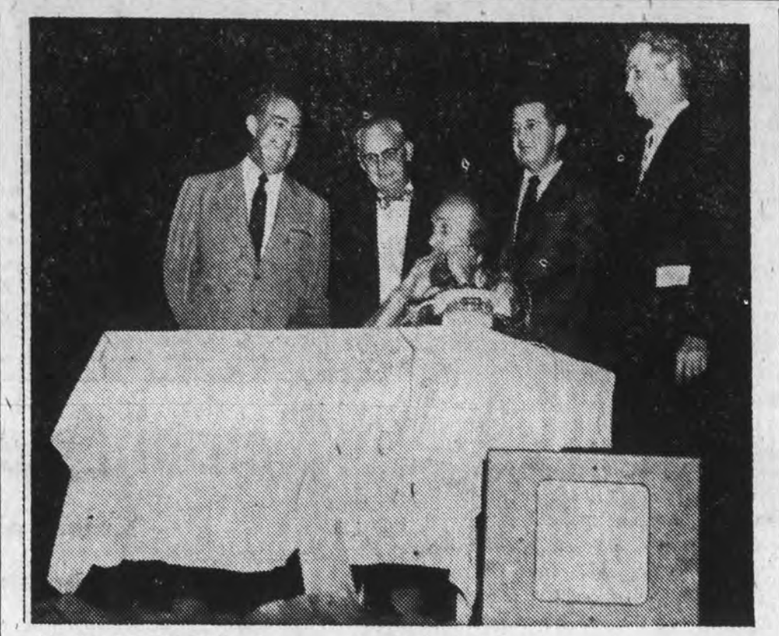

Miss Martha Ball, the 1954 festival queen, again will hold that office.

County Agent M. R. Glasscock has estimated the Chilton peach crop, hit again this year by a late freeze, will be about two-thirds to three-fourths of a normal yield.

The 1956 crop is estimated to be worth about $3,000,000.

Joe Calloway To Be At McClure Drug Co.

Kyle McClure plans to take his vacation next week. He tells me that Joe Calloway of Clanton will take care of the drugstore while he is away. It will be a pleasure to have Joe with us. Wish he could be here for longer than just a week. Mr. Calloway has ben in the drug store business about forty years and is now on the retired list. He owned and operated his own business in Clanton for many years.

Chelsea Receives Telephone Service

More than 900 enthusiastic rural residents of Chelsea and vicinity gathered last week to eat barbecue and participate in other ceremonies observing Southern Bell's inauguration of telephone service in the Chelsea area.

Highlighting the festivities was the first long distance call to be made over the new dial system. Clay Nivens, community leader, talked to Congressman Armistead I. Selden, Jr., in Washington, D. C. A transcription of the call was played back over a loudspeaker for the benefit of the large crowd present.

Other notables present were Karl C. Harrison, representative from Shelby County, who acted as master of ceremonies; Murray Buck, Chelsea civic leader; H. B. Lackey, Alabama commercial manager for Southern Bell; and C. P. Malone, Birmingham district manager.

Official operation of the new Chelsea exchange began at 9 a.m. Wednesday, June 13. The new system will serve approximately 270 subscribers in a 100-square mile area.

Constructed at a cost of more than $181,000, the new exchange brings community-wide telephone service for the first time. Begun in December 1955, the system includes a central office building on highway 91 with completely automatic dial equipment. The project required the use of 96,481 ft. of cable and 665,000 conductor ft. of wire.

During Tuesday night's ceremonies, held adjacent to Lloyd's Restaurant, telegrams to Mr. Nivens from United States Senators John Sparkman and Lister Hill were read to the audience.

Food Handlers To Have X-Rays and Blood Tests

The Board of Health of Shelby County will hereafter require that all food handlers in the County have a chest x-ray and a blood test once a year.

The schedule is arranged and appointments will be mailed to about 25 cafe and dairy workers each week. It is important that these appointments be promptly kept so that all workers can get their x-rays and tests before time for renewal of Permits.

Each new worker, in the course of the year, will be required to have a Health Card, issued by the Health Department, before he can be employed in a food handling establishment.

APSC Grants Permission for Financing Coosa River Steam Generating Plant

The Alabama Public Service Commission today granted the Southern Electric Generating Company authority to issue and sell stock to build a $150,000,000 electric power plant on the Coosa River.

C. C. (Jack) Owen, president of the APSC, said the proposed plant would be one of the largest steam generating plants in the entire South with a capacity of 1,000,000 kilowatts.

The Alabama Power Company and the Georgia Power Company will be co-owners of the proposed plant, and electricity generated will be split betwen the two companies. Alabama Power will sell 10,000 shares of its common stock to The Southern Company for $1,000,000 (m) and pay that amount for 10,000 shares of stock in the Southern Electric Generating Company which will build the proposed plant. The Georgia Power Company also will purchase 10,000 shares of stock in the generating company.

"The benefits to the State of Alabama from construction of such a plant will be enormous," Owen pointed out.

"In the first place, the property tax on such a steam generaing plan will bring in thousands of dollars. The plant will consume more than 2,000,000 (m) tons of coal a year which will come from Alabama coal mines.

This is about one-seventh of the present total coal output in the state, and should go a long way towards helping Alabama coal mines and miners.

"Then, construction of the plant will be the first step toward development of the entire Coosa River area in central Alabama, a project which I have been pushing for many years.

"Pay rolls from construction of such a plant, and from its operation will bring millions of dollars to the state and will benefit every segment of our economy."

Following today's action by the Alabama Public Service Commission, the plan goes to the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington for approval.

When this is issued, the generating company then must apply to the Alabama Public Service Commission for permission to build the plant. Officials of the company expect to be in a position to actually begin construction next year.

"We expect to receive complete plans and details from officials of the company," Owen said, "when they apply for permission to begin construction."

Southern Bell Plans New Organization

Southern Bell Telephone Company today announced plans for establishment of a new organizational set up to administer its operations in the Birmingham meropolitan area and in nearby small exchanges.

The new administrative organization is to be known as the Birmingham division and will be part of the existing departmental state organization.

Named to head the division's four departments are C. P. Malone, W. E. Dillon, J. W. Miller and R. J. Barefield.

Malone will become Birmingham division commercial superintendent. Dillon is to be Birmingham division traffic superintendent.

Miller will be the Birmingham division plant superintendent. Barefield is to be Birmingham division engineer.

Company officials said creation of the Birmingham division will enable the telephone company to more efficiently serve the fast increasing number of telephone subscribers throughout this section. Total number of telephones in service in the division is approximately 190,000, an increase of some 6,000 since the first of the year.

The new Birmingham division will include the Birmingham, Bessemer, Calera, Centreville, Chelsea, Columbiana, Gardendale, Graysville, Montevallo, Pinson, Siluria, Vincent, Warrior, and West Blocton exchanges.

To meet the heavy demand for telephone service brought on by the fast economic growth of the area, Southern Bell currently plans to spend some $6,000,000 on expansion in the Birmingham division by year's end.

DAR Dedicates Marker at Grave of Revolutionary Soldier

Ceremony in Bibb County Pays Tribute to Lieut. John Mahan

David Lindsay Chapter, DAR, took part in an outstanding event on Wednesday afternoon, June 13th, at 4 o'clock, when more than sixty members, their friends, and descendants of Lt. John Mahan, a Revolutionary soldier, dedicated a bronze marker at his grave in the Smith-Mahan Cemetery on Mahan Creek in Bibb County.

Mrs. A. W. Vaughan assembled the proof over a period of four months to procure the marker which bears the inscription:

John Mahan
Virginia
Lt. Continental Line
Rev. War
1750-1820

This was the third occasion that this chapter has marked the burial place of a soldier of the Revolution; the first was that of John Wallace in 1929, Six Mile, Ala. and the second was that of David Lindsay in 1953, Maylene, Ala.

At the outdoor service Mrs. John O. Luttrell explained, "The marking of a grave signifies the accomplishment of securing data regarding the life of the soldier and the proof of his service in the war." And she continued, "And it is the visible evidence of our appreciation of his contribution toward making this a great nation."

Miss Maud McLure Kelly paid tribute to Lt. Mahan's four sons, veterans of the War of 1812, two of whom also lie buried in the Smith-Mahan Cemetery.

Miss Adelaide Mahan, great-granddaughter of Lt. Mahan, read a paper entitled , "My Ancestor" which appears elsewhere in this issue. To Miss Mahan, octogenarian, the only living descendant of her generation goes much of the credit for her great-grandfather's marker. Mrs. Vaughan said, "It was her interest plus her holding fast to family traditions which made this day possible".

Twenty-six lineal descendants of Lt. Mahan gathered together Wednesday for the dedication and numerous other family reunions planned for the day.

In addition to Miss Adelaide Mahan, there were in attendance 9 great-great-grandaughters and grandsons, 8 great-great-great-granddaughters and grandsons, and 8 great-great-great-great-granddaughters and grandsons. Kinsmen from Montevallo who came included: Mrs. Lois Mahan Hubbard, Mr. Stanley M. Mahan, Dr. Leslie H. Hubbard, Mr. Phillip Lacey, Mrs. Helia Yeager Montgomery, Leslie H. Hubbard, Jr., Phillip Hubbard, and Nora Hubbard. Among those from Birmingham were: Miss Sara Alice Mahan, Mrs. Ada Mahan Peacock, Betty Peacock, Carol Ann Peacock, and Cathy Peacock. Maylene, Ala. had a representative in Mrs. Kate Mahan Lacey. Kevin Ransom, Elizabeth Grace Ransom, and Raymond Mahan Ransom arrived with theirmother, Mrs. Anna Mahan Ransom from Moundville. Mrs. Margaret Mahan Splawn of Wilton, Mr. Lance E. Hubbard of Selma and his son Teddy, Mrs. Una Mahan Davis, Mrs. Agnes Lacey Harris of Tuscaloosa and daughter Susan completed the list.

Ten distingushed members of the Alabama Society DAR came to Montevallo for the dedicatory Flag Day program and these included; Mrs. John O. Luttrell, vice president general; Mrs. T. H. Napier and Mrs. Smith G. Fallow, honorary life state regents; and Mrs. John B. Privett, 2nd state vice regent. Also present were Mrs. R. T. Comer, Miss Maud McLure Kelly, Mrs. James C. Bonner, and Mrs. Claude O. Vardaman. Miss Frances Youngblood of Birmingham and Mrs. Emma L. Bettis of Montgomery numbered among other DAR guests. The program concluded with the ritual. In dedicating the marker Mrs. Napier, chaplain, said, "We dedicate ourselves anew to a faithful stewardship of the blessings we have inherited through their support of noble ideals".

United States Daughters of the War 1812 were represented at the service by three past state presidents: Miss Maud McLure Kelly, Mrs. John B. Privett, Mrs. Robert T. Comer, and the present Alabama president, Mrs. James C. Bonner. Also in attendance were other state officers: Mrs. Frank M. Jefferies, Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, Mrs. Claude O. Vardaman, and Mrs. Reid Barnes, president of Alabama Charter Chapter.

Following the dedication at the cemetery David Lindsay Chapter gave an informal reception at which Miss Adelaide Mahan was guest of honor in Reynolds Hall foyer.

MY ANCESTOR

Soon after my mother and father were married in 1870, that was five years after the close of the War between the States, they came to visit these graves. My father told my mother that his grandfather, Major John Mahan was an officer in the Revolutionary War and that he served in Indian Wars. He said that his grandfather came from Ireland with two brothers and that all served through the Revolutionary War.

My father died when I was twelve and of his many brothers and sisters I saw only two sisters. One of these died when I was 16 and I saw little of the other. Four of his brothers and sisters died before I was born and three moved to Texas. I knew few cousins so almost all of my family traditions came through my mother.

When I was about sixteen and visiting one of my sisters, her two young sons had "The Youth's Companion", a weekly published in Boston. In it I read about the newly-formed Daughters of the American Revolution. I at once thought of my Revolutionary ancestor. In later copies of the paper there were small advertisements of persons who would do research for those wishing to join the D. A. R. There was little I could do except ask questions of members of the family still alive but with little results. But I still took great interest in reading occasional articles that I came across about the D. A. R. Then when the David Lindsay Chapter was formed in Montevallo and I met some of the members one of them, Dr. Leah Dennis, helped me with suggestions as to persons and places I could write to. I thought then that I was on my way. I wrote many letters and received courteous replies from historical societies, libraries, different branches of the government, and letters from the war department. But to Mrs. Robert Brunet and her mother's friend, Mrs. L. L. Brockman, should go the credit for making the research to establish the record of Lt. John Mahan of the Revolutionary War, Major John Mahan of the Indian Wars; and of his sons in the War of 1812. I accomplished little of it.

Tradition had it that John Mahan married Mary Scott in Maryland, that he was associated with her father in business and that they were relatives of General Winfield Scott. Research showed that they lived in Virginia in 1772, that they moved from Frederick County, Virginia, which is a county near the Maryland line to Green County, Tennessee. Green County was a part of North Carolina at that time. Here John Mahan and his brother James acquired land in 1778 and here in North Carolina it was that Lt. John Mahan earned his titles of Captain and Major in service against the Chickamauga and Cherokee Indians.

Twenty years later we find Major Mahan living in Sevier County, Tennessee, three miles from the county seat, Sevierville. After the War of 1812 Major John and his children sold their holdings near Sevierville and came to this part of Alabama. They did not come all at once.

A word about how and why they came to this place. The story is that a company of volunteers from Sevier County, Tennessee got this far on their way to join Andrew Jackson at New Orleans when they met couriers who told them that the war was over. Peace had been declared. Among those volunteers were Major John's sons. When they got back to Tennessee they built wagons and brought their families here. They were not alone. Others came with them—Fanchers among others.

The name of one son appears in Cahaba County, now Bibb County Court records in 1818. By 1823 the names of all four sons and two married daughters appear in Bibb County court records. The sons were Edward, my grandfather, Colonel James, J. Alexander Moore's ancestor; John Jr., Archimedes, Mrs. Brunet's ancestor; and the daughters—Christian, wife of Obed Lovelady and Polly (Mary) wife of Elijah Thomas.

Edward and James remained here on this creek, which bears our name. John Jr. moved to Talladega where he built the first log house at the big spring. Archimedes moved early to Perry County, near Perryville, where he had acquired land. The two married daughters also moved to Perry County, where there are Mahan and Lovelady negroes still living but no white people of those names.

All of these people lived a long time ago. Even my father was fifty-four years old when I was born. Major John's family has not produced any very great people—only just good citizens.

Mrs. Abbie Gilbert is visiting her sisters in Taylors, S. Carolina and Gainsville, Georgia this week.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

As the demands for water have increased throughout the nation, the problem of conserving our water supply has become more acte. By 1975, reliable estimates indicate this country will require an increase in the current water supply of 145 per cent. This increase is equal to the continuous flow of water over Niagara Falls.

Recognizing the seriousness of the problem, the House of Representatives last week passed a bill extending and strengthening the Water Pollution Control Act. This act, scheduled to expire on June 30 of this year, deals with various methods of combating the problem of water shortages and impure water supplies. Under the terms of the measure adopted by the House, the Water Pollution Control Act is extended for a period of ten years, new provisions are added, and many of the Act's present provisions are enlarged and strengthened.

Pollution Control Grants

Increased population and the spread of industry to all parts of the country in recent years has caused almost all of the nation's surface waters to be affected by sewage and industrial waste. As our economy expands and as our population grows, pollution of the nation's water supply will continue to increase unless control measures are materially accelerated.

The House of Representatives emphasized the importance it attaches to pollution control by providing in its bill an authorization for grants to state, municipal, intercity or interstate agencies for the preliminary planning and construction of sewage treatment facilities. Under this section of the House-approved bill which is an addition to the present Water Pollution Control Act, the sum of $50 million a year is authorized for sewage-treatment construction grants. At least 50 per cent of the funds appropriated for this purpose is to be used for treatment plants serving communities whose populations are 125,000 or less. The bill stipulates that a grant from the federal government cannot amount to more than 33-1/3 per cent of the cost of a project or the sum of $300,000, whichever is less. It also requires that a project be approved by the state water pollution control agency and by the Surgeon General of the United States.

Another important section of the bill authorizes an appropriation for each of the next five years of $5 million for grants to states and interstate agencies to cover a portion of the cost of their water pollution control programs. Allotments to the states will be made by the Surgeon General on the basis of population, extent of the water pollution problem, and the financial need.

Because the House bill differs from water pollution legislation already passed by the Senate, it will be necessary for a conference committee to work out a compromise measure. The chief difference in the two bills is that the Senate version does not include the section providing for grants for the construction of sewage-treatment facilities. It is hoped that the Senate conferees will allow his section to remain in the bill, as it may prove very beneficial to a number of cities and towns located in our District and State.

House Cuts Aid

As I predicted in a previous column, the House voted last week to cut the Administration's request for foreign aid by $1.1 billion. The Mutual Security Authorization bill is now in the Senate where the Foreign Relations Committee of that body is expected to restore a sizeable portion of the reduction made by the Foreign Affairs Committee and overwhelmingly approved by the members of the House.

The bill authorizing funds for the Mutual Security Program must be followed by an actual appropriation which can be less but not more than the authorization. In my opinion, the appropriation for the Mutual Security Program for fiscal year 1957 will be substantially less than the amount finally authorized by Congress.

Minister Is Killed in Fall Against Saw

A young Birmingham minister was accidentally killed Sunday morning in his backyard workshop.

The Rev. Robert Lee Shurbet Jr., pastor of Rocky Ridge Cumberland Presbyterian Church, was working in his workshop, where he was building handicraft items for a Vacation Bible School, when he apparently fell into an electric rip saw.

The young minister, who had taught spastic patients woodworking at Charlanne School, was pronounced dead on arrival at University Hospital.

Miss Carter and Mr. Kresnye Wed

Miss Doris Ellen Carter and Donald J. Kresnye of Washington, D. C., were united in marriage at 8 p.m. Saturday, at Calera Baptist Church.

The Rev. J. F. Goree performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Leondus Carter, and Mr. Kresnye is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kresnye of Cleveland, Ohio. Miss Mildred Benson was maid of honor. Mrs. Myra Nell Martin, Mrs. Shirley Brasher, and Mrs. Betty Payne were bridesmatrons. They wore white organdy over lavendar taffeta dresses, and lavendar and purple head pieces. They carried bouquets of roses and carnations.

Richard Yoo was best man. Ushers were Eugene Carter, brother of the bride, Ellis and Bill Brasher. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a hand clipped chantilly lace dress with fitted bodice designed with illusion yoke and stand-up collar of lace embroidered in iridescent sequins. The full tulle skirt had an overskirt of chantilly lace, falling into a chapel train. A fingertip veil was attached to a crown of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, white roses, and lilies of the valley.

The reception was in Calera City Hall dining room, with Mrs. Pearl Pilgreen, Mrs. Dean Holcombe, Miss Eloise Stewart, Miss Glenda Askins and Mrs. K. G. King assisting.

For a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains, the bride wore a beige linen sheath dress with white and brown accessories. The couple will live in Washington.

Brazilians Arrive At Ala. College

Proving there is not only "an awful lot of coffee in Brazil", but also a lot of friendship and good-neighborliness, forty Brazilians arrived on the Alabama College campus this week, for a seven week English language and orientation institute.

The Brazilians, of all ages and vocations, will spend the next seven weeks on the campns studying English and customs of the United States. When not in the classroom or laboratory the group will tour Alabama and other points of interest in the South.

First of the college conducted trips will take the Brazilians to the T.V.A. area and Oak Ridge, Tennessee. Other trips will include Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile and other points of interest in Alabama.

On-campnus special events designed for the South American visitors include swimming parties, square dances, canoe and boat trips on the college lake and two summer concerts. Teresita La Tana and her company of Spanish dancers will present a dance concert on June 29. On July 13 Musical Portraits, a concert of semi classical and light opera will be presented by a New York company. Both concerts are scheduled for Palmer Hall.

Montevallo's Rotary Club will have the Brazilians as their guests at an outdoor barbecue scheduled for June 28.

The group led by Dr. Ruy Esteves de Azeredo, Brazilian educator flew to Miami from Rio de Janeiro. Chartered buses brought them from Miami to Montevallo.

Numbered among the Brazilians are two Catholic priests, a retired government official and his wife, a reporter for "Il Globo", one of Brazil's leading newspapers, a Baptist Missionary, businessmen and women and students.

Arrangements for the seven week summer session were made by Alabama College officials and Dr. Azeredo last winter.

4-H Boys Get Registered Herefords

Helping make this possible is N. H. Waters Jr., owner of Waters Hereford Ranch here at Montevallo.

WATERS DONATED two purebred Hereford calves to two of the youngsters. After digesting the impact of this gift, Assistant Bibb Extension Agent T. W. Camp asked if Waters would sell three other calves of similar lineage.

This was agreed upon, and Saturday, a proud-looking group of Bibb youngsters drove to picturesque Waters ranch to get their hopefuls.

The calves given to the group are sons of MW Larry Domino 145th. He, in turn, is the son of Larry Domino 50th, the third ranking register of merit bull of all times.

The other three calves were of similar blood lines.

Mr. Camp said this would be the first time that Bibb County 4-H Clubbers had fed out purebred steers for the stock show.

"We are not getting any culls," Camp said. "Mr. Waters let the boys have their pick of his Spring calves. Nothing was held back." Getting the two free calves were Marshall Smitherman and Tommy Odom, two of the county's top junior showmen. William and Earl Mayfield also came to Montevallo to get a first glimpse of the future steaks.

HELPING CAMP and Mr. Waters transfer the calves was Ford Stewart, manager of the ranch.

Mr. Waters has 700 acres of farm land and now is running 150 head of registered Herefords. In his herd is a son of Zato's Aristocrat which sold for $104,000 in 1953. Another herd sire is the son of CMR Rollo Domino 28th, the national champion in 1945.

Shown admiring the two gift Herefords at Waters Ranch Saturday morning are (left to right) Assistant Bibb County Agent T. W. Camp; William Mayfield, Marshall Smitherman and Earl Mayfield, Bibb 4-H Clubbers; Ford Stewart, ranch manager. and N. H. Waters Jr., owner.

Mr. Waters states that these calves were originally offered to the Montevallo FFA boys who elected not to accept them.

Farm Bill Contains Provisions Favored By State Bureau

The 1956 Farm Bill passed by Congress and signed by President Eisenhower contains many provisions which were advocated by members of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation at their annual convention last October, H. A. Pauly president of the Shelby County Farm Bureau says.

One of the principal features, the Soil Fertility Bank, was urged by the Alabama farm organization as a means of "building a reserve for use in national emergencies." The proposal later was adopted by the American FBF, which pressed it before Congress.

The Cotton Export Sales program also was hailed by Alabama Farm Bureau Pres. Walter L. Randolph as "the first step in regaining and maintaining a fair share of the world cotton market." This amendment directs the Commodity Credit Corporation to sell its stocks of surplus cotton to foreign countries at competitive prices.

A third resolution of the Alabama group which was embodied in the national legislation, was one calling for increasing funds for "Section 32" operations, which were raised to $900,000,000. These funds are used in government purchase programs for beef and pork for such purposes as school lunches.

Livestock farmers also were benefitted by another action which had been advocated by Alabama Farm Bureau. This state opposed "all forms of government regulation that hinder the production of cattle."

A fifth provision carries out another 1955 Alabama Farm Bureau resolution, which urged that "the price support for cottonseed be . . . at a level comparable to that for soybeans."

Discussing other phases of the bill, Randolph pointed out that Alabama's cotton acreage allotment for 1957 and 1958 would be about 150,000 acres larger than would otherwise be the case if the bill had not been enacted.

Marines Organizing "Johnny Reb" Company

Success in their recent group enlistment program for the "Dixie Company" has prompted Marine Recruiters in Alabama and Northwest Florida to repeat the program in June with the new "Johnny Reb Company".

The latest company will enable those who missed the Dixie contingent, and June high school graduates, to join the Marines and serve together with their friends throughout basic training. The new group will leave for active duty on June 22nd.

Members of the Marines' "Dixie Company" left for active duty on May 30th and are currently undergoing basic military training at Parris Island, S. C.

Technical Sergeant K. F. Karling, local Marine Recruiter, emphasied that "young men may join the Marines now for two, three, or four years. The 'Johnny Reb Company' program affords them the opportunity to join with fellows from their own graduating class and hometown and remain together until completion of their basic training."

Men interested in becoming members of the "Johnny Reb Company" should contact the Marine Recruiter at the Post Office Building in Montevallo on each Thursday from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

BRAKE SHOE DIVIDEND

American Brake Shoe Company declared a quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share on the common stock, payable June 30 to stockholders of record June 22. The regular quarterly dividend of one dollar per share was declared on the preferred stock.

Old Pro and New Citizen Team To Aid Fishermen

The old pro is Don Cummins, popular outdoor editor of the Birmingham Post Herald; and the new citizen is Kurt Lang, a cartographer for the land department of TCI. Mr. Lang is from Romania and became a citizen of the United States at Birmingham on March 29, 1956.

Working together with Don, as editor, and Kurt, as artist and map maker, they have come up with what may prove to be a boon for Alabama's fishing enthusists. The Fisherman's Map of Alabama which they have created is being released to the public this week by Vulcan Press of Birmingham.

The Fisherman's Map shows the locations of over 200 of the State's popular fishing camps with their accommodations, along with detailed maps of the State's major fishing waters. Also shown, are illustrations of all the popular fresh and salt water fish with their characteristics and the best baits and methods for catching them.

FORD sets 500-mile record at Indianapolis Speedway

Again proves nobody outperforms Ford

. . . dramatic demonstration of the kind of performance and roadability that makes all your driving more fun in a Ford!

Ford's record was timed and certified by the United States Auto Club

A Ford V-8 hurtled across the brick and asphalt surface of tough and testing Indianapolis Speedway . . . whirling through the tight turns and flashing over the straight stretches . . . to set a mark that no stock car ever reached before!

Previous to Ford's record run, no other stock car had gone even one lap at Indianapolis at 100 m.p.h., but one of Ford's laps was timed at the electrifying speed of 113.7 m.p.h.! And Ford averaged over 107 m.p.h. for the full five hundred miles . . . close to the average set by the extremely costly, specially-built racer which won the Memorial Day "500"!

Ford fully realizes that the welter of claims and counter claims about "racing victories" (many of them completely contradictory) must be confusing and disillusioning to the public. Ford ran this race against time, over the true "Classic" distance and at the most famous track in America, in order to dispel this cloud of doubt and disbelief and prove that no one outperforms Ford!

Peter de Paolo, leader of the team of drivers that piloted the winning Ford, states flatly: "No other stock car could have equalled this performance!" And Pete de Paolo should know, for he was the first driver to win the "500" Classic with a better than 100 m.p.h. average. And now he comes back with a group of drivers to establish a stock car record with the great '56 Ford!

Ford wrote this new mark large and bold in the record books. And the whole Ford did the trick. From the hood-full of throbbing horsepower to the road-hugging rear end, Ford demonstrated that it has what it takes to make your driving more enjoyable. Convince yourself that driving a Ford can be real fun. Test drive a '56 Ford. There's a set of keys waiting for you, so come in and see us soon.

Conservationists Get Things Done

Shelby County soil conservationists believe in doing things instead of just talking about them.

So, in observance of Soil Conservation Districts Week, observed last month, they staged actual demonstrations of various soil and water conservation practices.

The Siluria Chapter of Future Farmers took part in one of these programs with some 60 farm youths getting first hand experience in building terraces, half "W" borders and "W" meadow outlets.

These were part of a complete water disposal system designed for the farm of Charles A. Knowles, their instructor, by Soil Conservation Service Engineer Marlyn Hester.

The system incorporates as many of the new parallel or equidistant terraces as is feasible.

Knowles and SCS Aid George C. Starcher pointed out the advantages of the water disposal system to the group. J. V. Cooper, representing the Mooney Tractor Co., and SC Aid John Morris of Centreville, directed actual consruction operations.

Miss DeMent At Summer Workshop

Susie L. DeMent, a teacher at Montevallo High School, is among teachers from four states who are studying the complex American economy and "how it ticks" at a special summer workshop at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville.

Industry, labor, education, and government groups are jointly sponsoring the workshop to help teachers explain some of the fundamentals of the free enterprise system to the pupils, with the idea of developing better informed, more responsible citizens. The teachers study such subjects as consumer credit and spending, business investment, government spending and policy.

Dr. Lawrence Senesh of New York, economist with the national Joint Council of Economic Education, opened the five week workshop by pointing out that few junior and senior high school teachers teach economics. But their students in English, business, civic, history, and the social sciences need to know how the free enterprise system works.

Field trips to industrial plants, farming, and mining communities are part of the workshop projects which give the participants first-hand knowledge of the area economics.

The U-T College of Business Administration and Education are assisting the various groups of the Joint Council in directing the work.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Should Congress adjourn by July 15 as Speaker Rayburn and other Congressional leaders have predicted, both the House and Senate will have to step up their legislative schedule considerably. Although a number of major bills have already received Congressional approval, other important measures are scheduled for consideration before adjournment.

Major appropriation bills are always acted on before the end of the session and the President has already signed into law six of these measures. Of the remaining seven, five have been passed by both chambers and will probably become law before the end of the week. The House has passed an additional one, the defense appropriation bill, and Senate approval of it is expected within the next few days. The only major appropriation measure that has not been considered by either chamber is the mutual security appropriation bill, almost always the last to receive Congressional approval.

Other important legislation already passed by both houses of Congress and signed by the President includes the revised omnibus farm bill; the Upper Colorado River storage project; the extension of the Sugar Act; continuation of excise and corporation taxes; and the rural library services bill.

There are several measures not yet enacted into law that have been passed by both houses of Congress. The differences between the Senate and House versions of these bills have been or are being worked out in conference committees. For example, the House-Senate conference committee finished work last week on the billion dollar highway construction bill and final approval of this vast construction program is scheduled for this week.

There are at least two very important measures, already adopted by the House of Representatives, that may be revised considerably in the Senate. The mutual security authorization bill (foreign aid), passed by the House several weeks ago, has been reported by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee with numerous changes. Senate action on this measure is expected soon. The bill amending the Social Security Act, passed last year by the House, is still pending in the Senate where a committee has made a number of revisions in the House bill.

Scheduled for House consideration this week are two very controversial proposals. The first of these is a bill that will increase compensation for veterans and their dependents. This measure stands a good chance of receiving House approval.

Also to be considered this week is the school construction bill and considerable controversy is expected. A Negro representative, Adam Clayton Powell of New York, has indicated that he will offer an amendment to bar federal aid to segregated schools. If the Powell amendment is defeated, a number of Southerners will vote for the measure with passage likely.

Other measures expected to receive House consideration before adjournment include the postal rate increase bill, civil service retirement legislation, the housing bill, and possibly the Administration's civil rights measure.

The final weeks before adjournment will undoubtedly include some late evening as well as Saturday sessions. Even so, I doubt very seriously that a July 15 adjournment date will be met.

Farm Credit Extended

Credit facilities for farmers will be improved and simplified under the terms of a bill passed in the House last week and referred to the Senate. This measure provides additional funds for emergency loan programs, authorizes loans for refinancing existing farm debts, permits extension of loan when natural disasters result in crop losses, and provides assistance for part-time and low income farmers.

The guests of the Stone's and the Gentry's, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall and family of Chicago, Miss Linda Tate, and Mr. and Mrs. Van Tate and family of Jacksonville Fla., and Dr. and Mrs. Allen Price (Joan Gentry) and daughter, Ann Terrell, of Birmingham enjoyed this family gathering and delicious supper.

Beautiful in its simplicity was the wedding of Miss Tommie Lambrecht to Rev. Delmus Anthony on Monday afternoon, June 18, at 4 p.m.

The double ring ceremony was held in the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lambrecht in Calera. The home was beautifully decorated with arrangements of white gladioll and daisies.

The bride was lovely in a white eyelet street length dress with matching accessories. She carried a white Bible, with a corsage of lily of the valley and gardenias. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Kyle Lyons from Columbiana was maid of honor and wore a lovely blue organdy dress with matching headdress. She wore a white carnation corsage.

Rev. Don Atchinson from Birmingham was best man for Mr. Anthony. Mrs. Lambrecht, mother of the bride, wore a rose crepe and Mrs. Anthony, the groom's mother, wore a navy dress. Both wore identical corsages of white carnations.

Rev. J. F. Goree performed the ceremony.

After the wedding and congratulations, the guests were invited to the dining room for refreshments. The guests were limited to the families and a few close friends.

The table was centered with a beautiful arrangement of white carnations and baby breath, and a three-tiered wedding cake which was cut by the bride.

Mrs. W. D. Maddox, Mrs. Harlice Coshatt and Mrs. W. W. Godfrey served as hostesses.

The couple will live in Birmingham, where Rev. Anthony continues his ministerial studies at Howard College.

BRIT ARMSTRONG...brings 17 years of experience and "know-how" to his work as a telephone Commercial Engineer. He's a member of the state Builders' Association . . . teaches Sunday School . . . and was a master sergeant during the war.

Meet the Man who tells a City's fortune . . .

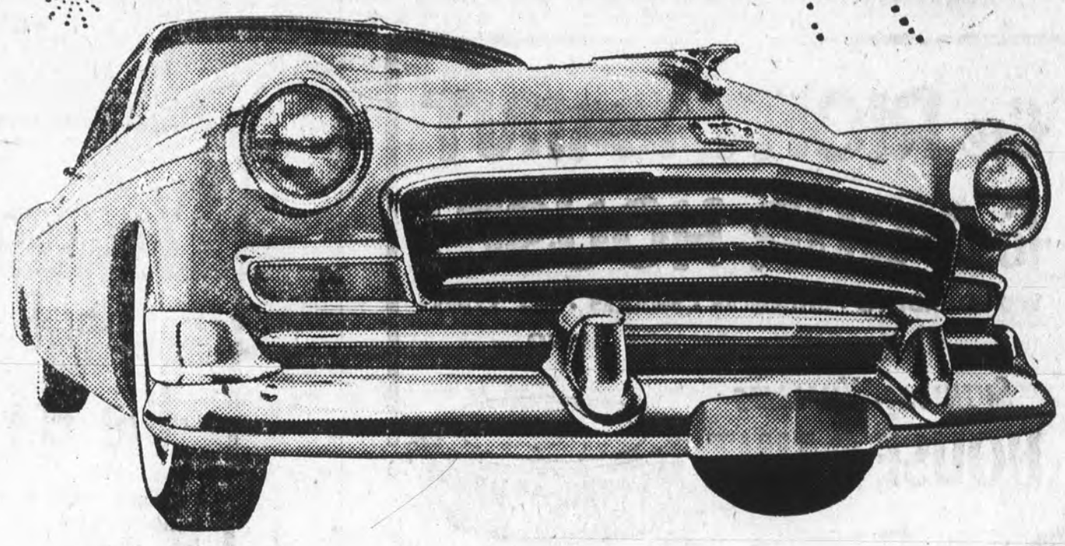

Brit Armstrong uses no crystal ball. But he sees 5, 10 years ahead. He sees thousands of telephones where today there are hundreds—or, none. Brit is one of many Southern Bell engineers who forecast community growth and plan telephone service to meet it for you and your neighbors.

New phones don't just happen. The one you use today is the result of planning years ago. Millions of dollars' worth of equipment, buildings, lines and cables must be engineered and built, long before phones are installed, to fill the needs of a growing community.

Brit Armstrong and some 66,000 other Southern Bell folks have one aim: to bring you the kind of service you want and need, now and in the years to come.

More About Stray Dogs

The article in last week's Reporter in reference to stray dogs prompts this writer to explain some of the provisions of the State Dog Control Law.

Under this Law the County Board of Health appoints a Rabies Inspector. The chief duties of the Rabies Inspector is to hold Clinics in all sections of the County, to give every dog owner the opportunity of having his dog inoculated against Rabies once each year. These clinics are now in progress. Should some unenlightened soul refuse to have his dog inoculated, the Inspector has full authority to impound the dog for 7 days and, if the dog is not then claimed and expenses paid, to humanely dispatch the animal.

The Inspector's compensation is the fee cahgred for inoculation and out of this fee he must pay for the vaccine, for necessary help and for transportation. Obviously he cannot also be a county-wide dog-catcher.

To successfully control the stray dog menace in the incorporated towns of the County where the greatest concenration of dogs exists, the State Law should be supplemented by a town dog licensing ordinance. Under such an ordinance the dog owner would be obliged to buy a dog license once a year. He would have to show a certificate from the Rabies Inspector that the dog had received his Rabies inoculation before the license would be issued. Then on the deadline date, September 1, the town authorities could have a systematic search made, under supervision of the Police Department, for stray dogs, these to be impounded for 7 days and, if not called for, should then be killed. The license fees would defray the expenses involved.

It would be the responsibility of the dog owner to see that the dog wore his immunization tag on collar or harness, and when a dog is found without a tag he be considered a stray.

The Health Officer has repeatedly written to and talked to the various town authorities but, so far, only a few towns have passed this much needed ordinance. Only by town ordinance, strictly enforced, can the stray dog menace and nuisance be successfully abated.

Warden Bayles Explains Fishing License Law

James Bayles, Conservation Officer in Shelby County, today said that a large number of Shelby County residents do not understand fully the new fishing license law now in effect throughout the state.

Bayles said he has been asked by many county people in the last few weeks whether they have to buy both $2 rod and reel licenses and $1 pole and line licenses, and whether any license is required if the fisherman stays within his home county.

"We want everybody to understand this law so that the correct license can be bought by those who need a license," Bayles said. "If you fish with rod and reel, or artificial bait in salt and fresh water anywhere in the state, then you need a $2 rod and reel license.

"Pole and line fishermen who use worms, crickets and minnows but don't fish more than one mile outside of their home county may fish with pole and line with no license at all. However, if you do fish one mile or more outside the county where you live with pole and line, then you should buy a $1 pole and line license." Boyles said.

"There is no need for anyone to purchase both the rod and reel and pole and line licenses. If you fish both ways, then the $2 license is good for all sport fishing with rod and reel and pole and line anywhere in the state," he said.

The new fishing license law was passed by the 1955 Legislature to provide increased funds to be used in improvement of fishing throughout the state. New public lakes, public access to fishing areas, fish for pond stocking, and increased fisheries research are being paid for with the money fishermen pay for their licenses, plus the increased federal excise tax Alabama can secure by selling more licenses.

The Department of Conservation has found that with the increasing number of fishermen each year, anglers of the state must put more money into the fish conservation program or find their fishing getting poorer every year, Bayles said.

Fishing licenses can be bought in Shelby County at the Probate Judge's office in Columbiana, Oak Mt. State Lake and Western Auto, Montevallo.

Survey Shows Industry Growth

Alabama's industrial picture will be enlarged by $362,991,000 plus 6,660 more jobs when projects announced during the first ½ of 1956 are complete, a survey by the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce, Montgomery, revealed here Saturday.

Roland L. Adams, York, president of the State Chamber, said the figures represent announcements made by both new and expanding industries in Alabama and includes utilities, railroads and military installations.

There are 32 new industries in 29 cities scattered through 20 Alabama counties, Adams continued, with an investment of $81,141,000 and creating 3,459 new jobs when full production is reached. In addition, 29 existing industries will expand in 24 cities in 23 different counties investing $169,754,000 and adding 3,201 new jobs.

Exactly half of the 32 new industries are Alabama owned, the State Chamber president said, which reflects well the faith Alabama investors have in their own State.

A major development is not included in these figures Adams added because no details have been released by the firm. He referred to the announcement by the American Machine and Foundry Co., of the purchase of a 2,675 acre tract for $315,000 near Huntsville for an underground plant. However, no details as to product to be manufactured, when manufacturing is to start or the number of estimated employes has been made.

Adams singled out the purchase of the Profile Mills at Jacksonville by the Union Underwear Co., as welcome news for Calhoun County and Alabama.

Southern Bell Announces New Personnel Changes

Southern Bell Telephone Company has disclosed new personnel changes and promotions in connection with the firm's administrative reorganization plans for Birmingham announced June 18. The new district department heads in the Birmingham division will be as follows: F. F. Newman, district manager—central; J. D. Stewart, district engineer—central; R. F. Dement, district plant manager—central.

W. F. Little, district manager—east; W. N. Schneider, district engineer—east; R. C. Richardson, district plant manager—east.

W. C. Murphy will be district traffic manager—toll; M. D. Smith has been appointed district traffic manager—local. J. T. Dawkins, Jr. will be Birmingham construction supervisor.

Officials of the company said the personnel changes made in connection with the reorganization of its Birmingham administrative offices were necessitated by the rapid telephone growth throughout this area.

In order for the company to continue to provide "the best possible service" it was necessary to change administrative procedures. There are 16 central offices in the Birmingham division, two in Bessemer and one each in Calera. Centreville, Chelsea, Columbiana, Graysville, Pinson, Gardendale, Montevallo, Siluria, Vincent, Warrior, and West Blocton. The 30 central offices serve approximately 190,000 telephones.

Howard Weaver Honored With Birthday Dinner

Howard Weaver, whose 11th birthday was Tuesday, June 26, was honor guest at an anniversary dinner Wednesday evening from 6 to 7 p.m.

At their home on Pineview Road in Montevallo his mother, Mrs. Bill Weaver, served a delicious fried chicken dinner to How-Poole, of Wilton, Gayle Price, Amy Orr, Wayne Smitherman, and Tim Fancher.

A color motif of red and green was carried out in the serving and the unusually attractive birthday cake centering the table. Topping the cake was a Western scene: A small track and train depicting the song, "She'll be coming around the mountain." On the hill side were Indians and in the valley, cowboys and cowgirls all in plastic miniatures, which the guests kept for favors.

Dessert of ice-cream and cake and the opening of gifts, ended a party long to be remembered.

Teen-Agers Are Invited To Night Recreation

Montevallo teen-agers are invited to night recreation at the high school gym every Tuesday and Friday night from 7-9. On Friday, July 7th, there will be a picnic and wiener roast at the creek. H. S. Kennedy, Wilsonville, (plan No. 491) has dynamited 1750 linear feet of drainage ditches in a 6 acre swamp. The Shelby Co. A. S. C. committee approved the drainage and will repay a portion of the expenses. S. C. S. engineer Marlyn Hester designed the ditches and local S.C.S. men assisted. Du Pont powder expert Joe Marshall did actual placing of the explosive.

Within a few minutes after the last blast water was flowing in all three ditches. This summer, after the swamp drains, Kennedy will have the land cleared, prepare it, and plant Foscue and white clover.

R. E. Ballentine, Montevallo, and various S.C.S. technicians, last week studied a proposed dam site as bulldozers dug deep to try to find satisfactory material for a 'core' to be built on. Nothing really good could be found, so digging was stopped, the core ditch filled with good clay. This will be watched to determine if it will stop underground water before the co-operator's dam will be completed.

James. M. Rowe Jr. is ready to start planting 30 acres coastal bermuda. He will be ready to irrigate each area as planted, and should end up with one of Shelby County's largest coastal bermuda fields on his Vincent farm.

M. C. Jeter, Montevallo, is in the process of buying a small farm North of that city He has already asked for a district agreement and a conservation farm plan. A pond and forest management are his primary problems.

We have had several calls lately to help on dams already started. These cannot always be corrected, and in every case so far could have been done correctly at a lower cost if designed beforehand.

John Bronaugh, Sterrett dairyman, is in the office as we write. He has owned this farm only a short while. He has 60 acres in millet for summer grazing, and is getting ground ready for rescue and button clover; bahia grass; fescue; and, in February, coastal bermuda—each crop on areas classed as suitable. Before he leaves the office he will have completed planning his farm.

Tuscaloosa Lake Opening Postponed

W. H. Drinkard, director of the Alabama Department of Conservation, today postponed opening of Tuscaloosa Public Lake until roads and parking areas are completed at the new 250-acre lake.

Drinkard said that September 1 has been set as a tentative opening date, that the lake could be opened earlier if conditions permit. An official opening date had not been set earlier, but it was assumed that Tuscaloosa Lake could be opened in late June or early July.

"We had a bad experience with opening of Oak Mountain Public Lake before the paved roads and parking areas were ready. Rain caused considerable trouble for fishermen who attended the opening day ceremonies. We want to open Tuscaloosa Lake as early as possible, but will not take a chance on the road being dusty or muddy enough to create a traffic hazard," Drinkard said.

Fisheries biologists of the Conservation Department say that the fish population is doing well in the new lake, with bream weighing up to a pound and bass up to a pound and a quarter.

Drinkard said that a definite opening date will be set and publicized throughout the state as soon as possible.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Before leaving Walter Reed Hospital last week-end, President Eisenhower signed the multi-billion dollar road construction measure as well as four major appropriation bills. This week he is scheduled to affix his signature to two additional appropriation measures that have already received both House and Senate approval. The first of these, the public works appropriation bill, contains the sum of $856,727,000. Included in this measure are funds for a number of important projects located in our state and district. The second, the defense department appropriation bill, contains a total of $34.7 billion for the operation of the Department of Defense during fiscal year 1957. This amount represents nearly $1 billion more than originally voted by the House of Representatives, all of which is earmarked for the Air Force.

The House and Senate last week also agreed on a compromise water pollution bill. The Senate accepted the House proposal for a ten-year $500 million program of grants to the states for construction of sewage disposal facilities. Federal participation in any project cannot exceed $250,000 or 30 per cent of the cost of the project, whichever is less.

In addition to these several conference reports, two measures of major importance also received House consideration—the school construction bill and the veterans pension bill. A final vote was reached on the veterans pension bill, but it was necessary to postpone the school construction vote until this week.

Veterans Pensions

The veterans pension bill, as reported from the Committee on Veterans Affairs, was an omnibus bill carrying pension and compensation increases for veterans of all wars and their dependents. The bill, as it was finally adopted by the House of Representatives, applies only to the pensions of World War I veterans. All other provisions of this measure were ruled out on points of order. The House approved the revised measure by a 364 to 51 vote after an effort to return the bill to the Committee had failed.

Under present law, a World War I veteran who is rated permanently and totally disabled receives $66.15 a month provided his other income is not more than $1400 a year if he is single or $2700 if he has dependents. If he is 65, or if he has been receiving a pension for 10 years continuously, he is currently entitled to $78.75 monthly. The bill, as approved by the House, will raise these rates to $75 and $90 a month respectively.

If the House bill becomes law, all World War I veterans will be deemed permanently and totally disabled at age 65 for pension purposes and thus eligible for the $90 monthly if they come within the prescribed income limitations. For veterans who are helpless or blind, the monthly increase will be from $135.45 to $150.00.

Sallie Purnell Returns From Visit to New York

Mrs. Sallie Prentice Purnell has returned from a visit with the family of her daughter, Mrs. Maud Woods, and the new addition to her family, a baby daughter, in Rockaway, New York.

She came by to show us a most unusual and attractive jar of home made pickles she brought home with her. A carrot cut to make the word Tampco, gives the rabbits something to nibble on, then there are squirrels, rats, and pineapples of watermelon rind (we think), with bits of carrot and red pepper for color and slices of onion for variety. If anyone is interested in trying for variety in your summer canning, you'll have to ask "Sallie" to show you this jar of pickle.

Members of one of our oldest colored families who arrived Monday for a two week visit are Brown Prentice, from Cleveland, Ohio, Tom Prentice, from Pittsburg, Pa., Mollie Ann and Skippy, both daughters of Eddie Prentice, from Liverpool, Ohio. They will divide their visit between Mr. and Mrs. James Prentice, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Purnell, and other relatives.

Betty Purnell, who has been North for the past few months, is home on visit.

For more even wear, turn wide-hemmed sheet ends to the foot of the bed occasionally.

A solution of dry mustard and water will take the odor out of jars and bottles.

Gone with the wind!

WHEN A FREIGHT CAR rolls down the "hump" at our new $14 million Citico Yard at Chattanooga, Tennessee, even the wind resistance of the car is automatically measured.

While the car is rolling, a radar device instantly picks up and evaluates all the many factors that affect its rollability—weight, speed, size, wind, weather and others. Then the magic brain of an electronic computer regulates the retarder brake in the track under the moving car so that it will couple safely and gently to another car standing far down in the yard below.

This is a new kind of railroading. You'll see it at work in countless ways on the Southern today—at Citico, and in our other multi-million dollar push-button yards at Knoxville, Tenn. and Birmingham, Ala. And still another ultra-modern electronic yard to cost $15 million is now under construction at Atlanta, Ga.

Yesteryear railroading is "gone with the wind" on the Southern. Today's modern railroading means better living for all in the South.

Every year the Civitan Club of Calera chooses the "Man of the Year" for outstanding good work done on community progress. This year the honor went to Mr. E. Marvin Smith, principal of Calera High School.

Mr. Smith has been principal of the school for several years. During his time at Calera the school has registered more progress than in its entire history. Under the aggressive and forthright leadership of Mr. Smith it has become one of the best high schools in Shelby County.

Mrs. Smith is also a teacher in the school, and she has contributed much to the splendid successes which the school has made under the leadership of her husband.

Ed Hicks Signs With Cleveland

Ed Hicks, all around athletic star at Montevallo High School for the past three years, has been signed to a Cleveland Indians contract, it was learned Saturday.

One of the three top boys in the annual East-West Alabama boys' high school baseball classic in Birmingham last month, young Hicks was signed by Indians Scout Joe Sewell.

A left-handed first baseman, Hicks led Montevallo to the Shelby County baseball championship last season and this, his slick fielding and on-the-nose hitting being a big factor in the Bulldogs' success.

Hicks is 18, stands 4-11 and weighs 165. He has reported to the Indians' North Platte, Neb., team.

Young Hicks, along with Shortstop LeGrant Scott of West End and Pitcher Jimmy Carter of Bessemer will be guests of The Birmingham News at the 1957 Sugar Bowl football game in New Orleans.

Vaccination Schedule Of Health Officials

Members of the County Health Department will be at the following places on the date and hour specified to give immunizations against Typhoid, Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Tetanus, Smallpox and Polio:

Tuesday, July 17,—Shelby (Loper Co. Office), 10:00 a.m.; Mt. Era Church, 1:30 p.m.; Saginaw Commissary, 2:30 p.m.

Thursday, July 19—Brantleyville (Brantley's Store), 10:00 a.m.; Helena City Hall, 11:00 a.m.; New Hope School, 1:30 p.m.

Plenty of Tomatoes Are Available Now

Alabama's tomato season is in full swing now; and, with the production peak still a few weeks off, even more plentiful supplies and lower prices are in prospect.

Miss Dorothy Overbey, API Extension consumer education specialist, says tomatoes are an excellent buy, especially during this season. The field-ripened product coming into Alabama stores from nearby farms is particularly rich in ascorbic acid, or Vitamin C.

According to Miss Overbey, absence of rich, red color is no reason to turn down tomatoes that are otherwise desirable though, because they are easy to ripen. Tomatoes ripen best in a shady place with a temperature between 60 and 70 degrees. Higher temperatures are unfavorable, and excessive sunlight causes the skin color to be splotchy. Nor should under-ripe tomatoes be put in a refrigerator; they'll stop ripening and become watery.

Overgrazing, especially in dry weather, is a common cause of failure with pasture plants.

Even the best equipped gin can do a better job on cotton if it has been harvested properly.

Planting and fertilizing equipment should be cleaned, serviced, and lubricated before it is stored

BLUE CHIP GMC TRUCKS

Your key to Blue Chip value

Now–GMC gives you a bonus of up to 3 gallons in every tankful!

Talk about low-cost GMC ownership! With its new high-ratio cruising axle, a Blue Chip GMC pickup now gives you up to 17.8% better gas mileage. That's 3 gallons' worth of bonus miles in every filling!

And you get far better road speeds, too, from an easy-stroking, unstrained engine. In short, from a mere $10.50 axle option, GMC now gives you the advantages of a $125 overdrive.

Add this new gas-stretching ability to the super-efficiency of a GMC 180 hp V8 engine—to the moneysaving advantages of Hydra-Matic Drive*—and an important fact is clear:

The operation and maintenance savings of Blue Chip features can bring the overall cost of a half-ton GMC down to the level of—or below—the cheapest stripped-model truck on the market.

Of course, you'd always have preferred a Blue Chip GMC to any other truck. But now—with cost so strongly in its favor—there's no need to step down. Come in and tell us what colors you want on your GMC.

ABLE AND WILLING

Montgomery Advertiser

At times past, Herman Talmadge had seemed to exploit the prejudice against the Negro in an undue and disagreeable way. But in the circumstances of today—with the white South at bay and combining itself more and more into a solid mass to fend the rash onslaught—Talmadge is no longer a singular figure. He will be joined by more and more hitherto discreet or liberal Southern congressional figures, or else they will not continue to be congressional figures.

If the adventurers and dudes among the Northern abolitionists continue their red-eyed exertions, the time is not too distant when you won't be able to tell Senator Fullbright and Lister Hill from Talmadge.—The Advertiser, May 10.

See now Pg. 1 of today's Advertiser. The thing above has come to pass, almost at a bound.

Every single one of Alabama's congressmen and senators has given it to The Advertiser in writing that he is ready to address Citizen Council rallies, the same as a P-TA, Eastern Star or plumbers' local.

This willingness to associate their names with a Citizen Council is newborn; so new, in fact, that it will surprise some Council leaders. They have encountered some cold shoulders up until now from congressmen.

The open-for-business statement of Alabama's congressional delegation in today's Advertiser will undoubtedly send Council speaking invitations flying to Washington. Soon thereafter the congressmen and the Council audiences will have met.

After that, it will be hard for congressmen to evade membership in a Council.

Let the Northern press and the national political leadership mark well who has now said he is prepared to lend his name to Council rallies.

Above all, there is Senator John Sparkman, who just four years ago was the Democratic nominee for vice president.

There is the lionized "liberal," Senator Lister Hill. He has just been elected to another six-year term without opposition. It cannot be said by Northern apologists that he has signed up to preserve his hide. The fact is, Senator Hill's record is pure on the preservation of segregation. He is orthodox Alabama and Dearborn, Mich., on this issue.

Moreover, by this act, the two senators and all the other congressmen know that they are offending something like 40,000 Negro voters in Alabama. But they have done it in response to a demanding public sentiment that was expressed by the annihilation of Folsom at the polls.

But this is only one recent, spectacular demonstration of the irreconcilable resistance of the white South that should be scrutinized by Northern editors and Democratic leaders.

The dreamers, not all of whom were Northerners, were so superficial in their insights as to suppose that "liberal" North Carolina and Tennessee were different from other Southern states.

It is now in the record that North Carolina and Alabama are marching in close order along the same resistance road and that a North Carolina politician can't hold office without becoming an engine of resistance to race mixing. See Congressman Cooley. See Senator W. Kerr Scott.

Behold Tennessee. Kefauver has now gotten his. He failed to get his own state delegation to pledge its vote to him at the coming Chicago convention.

Consider Gov. Frank Clement's reversal. He is beginning to talk like Talmadge. He was ambitious for preferment by the national party, but seeing the handwriting in Tennessee, he made an orthodox Southern statement recently in Atlantic City at the Governors' Conference.

What has been missing in the Citizen Council is brains.

Second-rate medievalists have been too much in evidence.

Their clumsiness and grotesqueries have repelled many whose insistence upon race separateness was the same.

Recruiting the congressmen is a major step in achieving respectability.

The councils should identify themselves with a program of ungrudging, full and positive help to the Negro in achieving his destinies, apart.

POWELL'S RUINS

Montgomery Advertiser

Democrats and Republicans both miss the point in blaming each other for the defeat of the $1.6 billion federal aid to education bill.

The responsibility of the defeat rests on one man, Harlem Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, who by his dog-in-the-manger persistence succeeded in killing the measure with the integration amendment.

President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson opposed the amendment, knowing as did all other responsible observers that the Powell amendment would simply mean no federal aid for education. Powell knew that too, but he didn't care. To him the defeat of the bill was a great victory for The Cause. See the ruins.

LETTER TO DEMO CONVENTION DELEGATES:

Bruce Henderson "Lays It On The Line"

In a letter to all 52 members of Alabama's National Democratic Convention delegates, former State Senator J. Bruce Henderson of Miller's Ferry, urges the delegates to vote in the party convention "only for a presidential candidate who has declared himself for segregation."

The letter of Mr. Henderson to the delegates was made public in a page one feature of The Montgomery Advertiser Sunday, from which we quote as follows:

Who Elected Who?

"One of the principal reasons you were elected was because you made it clear to the White Citizens' Council that in the convention, from the beginning to the end, you would stand for segregation and against integration," Henderson declared. "To a very large degree the White Citizens' Council and the press (which cooperated 100 per cent) were responsible for the election of nearly all of those elected. They were responsible for the defeat of nearly all of those who were defeated."

"It is our hope that your course of action will conform to both the desires of the people and to the policies of the White Citizens' Councils which pinpointed the issue, and the press which did so much to elect you," Henderson continued. "We hope that you will vote against all candidates who have declared for integration and vote for a candidate—from first to last—who has declared himself for segregation."

"Under political pressure there is a temptation to yield to the political vote getting expediency of the Northern, Eastern and Western politicians, but to do so is the death of any party that makes this mistake," he said. "You can merit and win the undying gratitude of Alabama and the South by voting segregation every vote in the National Democratic Convention."

Henderson, in his lengthy letter, also took time to insist that the U. S. Supreme Court's desegregation decision "is wrong and should and will be repudiated before the American people and the world."

Degree of Fidelity

"The length of time that it will take to bring this about will be determined only by the degree of fidelity with which we stick to the issue and keep ourselves free from prejudice and bitterness," Henderson said. "It is our duty to expose integration and expose those who ally themselves with those who support and advocate it. It won't work. All who have tried it have become outcasts and their seed has been or is being mongrelized out of existence."

"Finally let us always remember that to win, we must believe segregation, practice segregation and vote segregation," Henderson's letter concluded. "It is our duty under the law, under the constitution, under the court, under God who set the pattern, with out violence, with good will, but with determination to declare the mistake of the Supreme Court, to seek restoration of the 10th amendment to the Constituion and to defend segregation."

Recreation Notes

After tour week, we take time to account our progress for the first month. There has been 6880 children and adults in attendance at all areas. This attendance without a doubt would have been 8000 but we had four or five days of bad weather.

Interest is high with our Little League age group boys 12 and under. We have been averaging around 31 each at the baseball field from 9 till 10:30. Boys 13-14 and 15 coming on at 10:30 till 12 p.m. The total baseball attendance for both groups has been averaging about 55 boys.

This group also enjoyed an overnight camp at Boothton river Friday night. Mr. Underwood and Mr. M. C. Lovelady assisted Coach Fisher with this outing. We wish to thank Mr. Albert Scott for the two protected headgears for the little boys to use when batting during our baseball games.

If a rug pad containing animal hair or wool has not been treated by the manufacturer, it should be sprayed on both sides with a moth repellent.

You can put an ELECTRIC WATER HEATER anywhere you wish!

Close to the sink . . .

Save on long pipe runs—put your electric water heater right beneath the kitchen sink. Or, if it's more convenient you can have it next to, or back to back with the sink . . . where the most hot water is used every day. You'll save money now (and later) by eliminating expensive pipe runs . . . water won't be left standing to cool in long pipes.

In a utility room . . .

An electric water heater is so well insulated you won't have any worries if it's in the utility room which doubles as a children's play room. Electric water heaters are as clean as a light bulb.

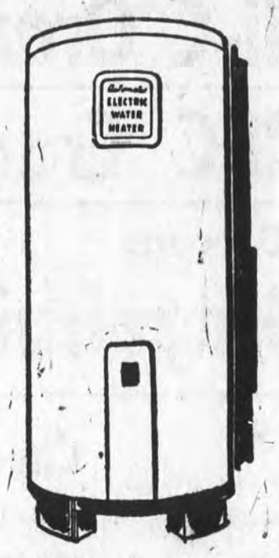

In a closet . . .

An electric water heater doesn't have to have a supply of air to operate. It works just as well in a closet as in a basement. Wherever it's most convenient . . . you can place your electric water heater.

Electric water heaters are good long term investments . . . you'll save money for years to come, thanks to their extra long life and extra efficiency.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Climaxing five days of debate, the House of Representatives last Thursday defeated by a vote of 224-194 a measure that would have authorized federal funds for the construction of badly needed classrooms. Earlier it had approved an amendment to the bill by Negro Representative Adam Clayton Powell of New York denying federal funds to school districts, or states, "that did not comply with the United States Supreme Court's decision against racial segregation in the public schools". All members of the House from Alabama voted against the Powell amendment and, after its passage, also voted against the bill.

Southern Opposition

Although the adoption of the Powell amendment solidified Southern opposition to the school construction bill, many Southern members were convinced during the debate on the measure that, with or without the Powell amendment, funds authorized under the bill would ultimately be denied to those states that continue segregated public schools.

Represenative Graham Barden of North Carolina, Chairman of the House Committee on Education and Labor, emphasized on several occasions that funds could and, in his opinion, would be denied all states that refused to integrate their schools. Represenative Lee Metcalf of Montana, a member of the Committee, a former justice of the Supree Court of his state, and a srong advocate of the bill, frankly stated, ". . .I believe that under the implementation decision of the Supreme Court, the Attorney General of the United States or the Commissioner of Education has the power to deny funds to the schools, for construction or for any other purpose". Although some members said they did not believe that funds would be denied to states with segregated school systems, most admitted such action was possible.

In any event, the Southern members of Congress made it crystal clear that despite the urgent need for school construction funds, they would not vote for a measure that could be used to implement the Supreme Court's unprecedented and unwise decision of May 17, 1954.

Postal Rate Bill

The House passed a measure last Friday which, if approved by the Senate, will increase postal rates an estimated $430 million annually. Of this amount, $312 million will be obtained by increasing the rate on first class mail from 3 to 4 cents and the rate on airmail from 6 to 7 cents. An increase on second and third class mail would produce and additional $112 million.

Those who opposed the bill correctly pointed out that while first class mail and airmail have consistently shown a profit, there is a tremendous loss each year in second and third class mail. Yet, under the terms of the House bill, the users of first class mail will make up the largest part of the deficit that has been brought about as a result of the present rates on second and third class mail.

Despite these convincing arguments, the Administration-backed bill was passed by a 217-165 vote.

Peach Queen Visit

We enjoyed a fine visit last Thursday from Chilton County's beautiful and attractive peach queen, Miss Martha Bell of Clanton. Accompanying her to Washington was Mr. R. L. Culp of Jemison, grower of Chilton County's prize winning basket of peaches.

Miss Bell and Mr. Culp were my guests at a luncheon attended by all the members of the Alabama Congressional Delegation and held in the speaker's private dining room. Following the luncheon, Miss Bell and Mr. Culp accompanied me to the office of House Speaker Sam Rayburn where they presented him with the prize winning basket of peaches.

Chilton County and Alabama were well represented by Miss Bell and Mr. Culp who made a most favorable impression on all who met them.

Mrs. Horn Heads Teachers' Group

In a recent meeting of the Shelby County Teachers' Planning Committee, Mrs. Mayme Horn, Columbiana, was elected as chairman for the 1956-57 term.

The Planning Committee is composed of ten teachers from different schools in the county, the Superintendent of Education and his supervisory staff, and a teacher in the Alabama College Department of Education. A member of the State Department of Education, Montgomery, serves as general consultant.

This group meets at least once a month to make plans for the educational experiences of teachers while they are in service.

The members of the committee accepted, with regret, the resignation of three committee members who will leave the county to teach in other states next year: Mrs. Helen Flynt, Mrs. Effie Sims, and Mr. A. H. Borden. Other teachers were elected to replace them on the committee. A vote of appreciation was given to Mrs. Henen Flynt for her excellent leadership as chairman of the committee in 1955-56.

The members of the Planning Committee for 1956-57 are: Mrs. Mayme Horn, Mrs. Inez Bird, Columbiana; Mrs. Joyce Mabry, Calera; Mrs. Gertrude Cobb, Camp Branch; Mrs. Sarah Walker, Pelham; Mr. John P. Deason, Thompson; Mrs. Inez Underwood, Dogwood; Mr. J. W. Curtis, Chelsea, Mrs. Mary S. Strong, Vincent; Mr. B. W. Hamric, Montevallo; Miss Minnie Dumm, Alabama College; Mr. W. W. Elliott, Mr. S. B. McClure, Miss Zemma Holcombe, Miss Anita King, Superintendent and Supervisors in the County Board of Ed. office; Miss Lulu Palmer, Supervisor of Instruction, State Department of Education, Montgomery, is the general consultant.

Power Co. Warns Of Bogus Checks

The local office of Alabama Power Company urges merchants and others to be cautious about cashing Alabama Power Company checks. Two bogus checks have been cashed at different points within a couple of weeks. The bogus checks cashed purport to be Company payroll checks issued out of its Montgomery office and are drawn on the First National Bank of Montgomery. They show a payee's badge number, which in itself identifies the check as bogus, inasmuch as Alabama Power Company's payroll checks do not carry badge numbers. The checks were peach colored with a black ornamental border, and bear a pen signature purported to be that of Franklin L. Simpson. It is possible, however, that other similar checks presented could be on different colored paper and with a different signature. The local office of the Company cautions merchants and others not to cash Power Company checks unless proper identification is given.

Apparently the same individual passed both of the checks reported thus far. He is described as being a clean-cut, sandy blond, twenty-eight to thirty years old, apparently an outside worker with ruddy complexion, about six feet or better in height, and weighing about 180 pounds.

Citizens of these communities are urged to attend these clinics and be protected against these serious communicable diseases. It is only by keeping a high percentage of the population immunized that serious outbreaks of these diseases can be prevented.

Chilton County's Oldest Citizen Dies

Riley Robinson, 105, Chilton County's oldest citizen died Sunday night without his final wish granted—that he could attend church one more time.

Although Robinson had been confined to a wheel chair and unable to attend the Providence Baptist Church for the last few years, he was still listed as its Sunday School superintendent.

He held the church post for more than 50 years, and records showed that he had a perfect attendance record for 42 years.

The retired farmer was a lifelong Republican, and received a congratulatory message from the White House on his 105th birthday.

Robinson spent his entire life in Chilton County, farming until his health failed. He was 14 years old when the Civil War ended.

Robinson's eyesight remained sharp and he spent several hours a day reading the Bible.

Survivors include five generations: two sons and two daughters, the eldest 85; scores of grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren, and a year-old great-great-great-granddaughter.

Robinson's wife died in 1938 at 88. They were married 72 years and had nine children.

The living children are the Rev. W. W. Robinson, 85, John E. Robinson, 62, Mrs. Beanie Bates, 81, and Mrs. Filey Wyatt, 72, all living in and around Clanton.

Robinson was a small man with a long white beard. When interviewed on his 105th birthday, he said his "big hope" was that he would become strong enough to attend church services one more time.

He was the grandfather of Mr. W. M. (Mack) Wyatt of Montevallo.

Brazilian Students Entertain at Reception

The Brazilian students at Alabama College did an "about face" and entertained students, faculty, and townspeople at a reception in Reynolds Hall on Monday night. They asked the guests to smile if they liked the coffee, and it was noted that no one frowned! The Brazilian hosts and hostesses also served exotic South American pastries, candies, and nuts. Pourers were Mme. Maria Jose Guerreiro de Lacerda and Mme. Rosenda Sampaio Barbosa Lima.

The reception followed a panel discussion in Comer Auditorium on "Present Day Brazil", during which the audience asked many questions about the life and customs there. Panel speakers were Dr. Ruy Esteves de Azeredo, Dr. Edegar Carvalho, and Mme. Irene Costa Pereira Almeida. Dr. Anne Eastman of the Social Science Department acted as moderator.

Eloise Echols Is Butler Cotton Maid

GREEVILLE, Ala. — Butler County's choice as 1956 Maid of Cotton is a combination class leader, feature writer, radio announcer and part-time bookkeeper. And besides, she's pretty!

Honey-haired Eloise Echols, an English major in elementary education at Alabama College, was selected Saturday from a field of nine contestants for the title and honor placing her in line for state-wide competition next Fall.

The brown-eyed beauty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Echols of Greenville, tips the scales at 128 and stands five feet seven and a half inches tall.

SHIRLEY JO STABLER, a green-eyed brownette, was named alternate in the event Eloise drops out of the contest before the state finals. Like the new queen, Shirley Jo is a student at Alabama College at Montevallo and is majoring in secondary education.

Records of the two girls bear many similarities with each of them serving as officers in the freshman class and each active in both high school and college activities.

Montevallo Negro Recreation Report

Our recreational program has been moving along smoothly. Interest seems to be higher now than at any other time. Several visits have been made by the girls softball and the little leaguers.

Swimming has played a large part in making our attendance a big success.

Our night programs have drawn more people this year than last. The teen age variety show went over in a big way; we are looking forward to the adult talent night which will be Thursday night when square dancing and cake walks will high-light the program.

The attendance for the first month was 3,028, and we are hoping to double the number by the end of the program.

NEW LIGHT SOURCE

Bloomfield, N. J.—"Bulb snatchers" will eventually become as extinct as the dinosaur, because the light of tomorrow will come right out of the wall. Westinghouse engineers are nw perfecting electrluminescene—a new light source from phosphor-coated panels which are about as thin as a window pane. The panels, which can be cut to any desired shape, switch on and off the same as an ordinary light bulb.

Shelby Is One Of State's Three Debt-Free Counties

MONTGOMERY, ALA. — Three Alabama counties were free of debt at the end of the last fiscal year and most of the other 64 were in the best shape ever.

Brake Shoe Safety Program Prevents Eye Injuries

The safety program of American Brake Shoe Company has saved the eyesight of nearly 100 employees in the last two and a half years, according to an article in the June issue of the Brake Shoe News, employee magazine of the company.

All production employees of Brake Shoe are required to wear eye protection on the job as a safety precaution. The safety glasses or goggles are supplied without charge by the company to each employee or visior to its plants. If an employee's goggles are struck by a foreign object in the course of his work, and his eyesight is thereby saved, he is enrolled in a club known as the Wise Owl Club. The club is a nationwide organization sponsored by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness to encourage the reduction of eyesight injuries in industry. Since Brake Shoe joined the Wise Owl group, more than 100 Brake Shoe employees have been enrolled as members, meaning that more than 100 eyes were saved by wearing safety protection.

American Brake Shoe spends about $750,000 annually on safety and health benefits for its 10,000 employees located at 60 plants throughout the United States. During the past five years, it has improved its safety record among employees by more than 60 per cent.

Chevy beats own Pikes Peak record . . . and tops all rivals including cars in every price range!

Last fall, Chevrolet broke the Pikes Peak record in a history-making pre-production test.

Chevrolet takes first, second and four of the top six places! Beats its own stock car record by a full minute and 16 seconds!

Running against the hottest competition in the land, Chevrolet won the Pikes Peak climb.

This is unquestionable proof of Chevrolet's supreme roadability—the accuracy of Ball-Race steering, the solidity of outrigger rear springs, the traction of balanced weight distribution.

There is no greater test of a car's road safety qualities than the Pikes Peak climb. Try it yourself, in the car that's won the "crown" twice in a row!

In spite of all claims of prejudice and discrimination, it is undeniable that no people at any time throughout the course of recorded history has made so great an advance in civilization in a like period of time as the Southern Negro under the tutelage of his white neighbors and friends—J. Lions Are Guests For Boat Ride

The Gulf States Paper Co. of Tuscaloosa, through its Forester, Mr. John Block, was host to the Montevallo Lions Club, along with the Lionesses and their guests on Thursday, July 1th.

As pre-arranged the Lions began arriving at 3 p.m. on the banks of the Warrior. As they arrived, they were greeted by Lion Howard McGaughy who had charge of arranging the trip. As they went on board the E. Z. Craft boat they were most cordially welcomed by Mr. Block and his aids. Due to some late arrivals, the host was detained, weighing anchor a short time until Howard was convinced no one would be left stranded at the pier. Then with spirits high, the journey began to the many melodious records and soon groups were playing checkers, dominoes, etc., and crunching on delicious chicken livers and hors d' oeuvres furnished by the hosts.

After a short run we tied up at lock 12, then dancing began in earnest, but before the dance enthusiasts could even begin to tire of the festivities a slight shower made them dash for cover. Then one of the most enjoyable events was commenced when we were told "Eats are Prepared." Well you know Lions are supposed to roar, but these Lions and guests began to devour so avariciously that there was no time for a roar and "such a banquet." We were told it was prepared by the people who supervise the cafeteria at the main plant. Several of the guests began inquiring right away how they could become employees so they might be eligible to receive such delicious food. In the absence of Lion Hamric, Pres. of the Lions, Lion Wyatt acted as toastmaster.

While we were eating a transport of barges approached the lock for passage to our side. The process of getting through so interested some of the eaters that even the eating was stopped, but at that time the storm gained in fury so that they could see little and the meal was resumed.

When we had finished eating it was still raining. Mr. Block informed us that the tables would be put away immediately which was done, and the dancing and revelry began again.

Soon the pilot loosed his anchorage and we began the return trip.

Lion McGaughy was profuse in his thanks to Mr. Block and members assured him that if the courtesy of a trip was extended to the Lions next year they would be aboard with flying colors.

So due to the hospitality of Gulf States Paper Co. another red letter day has made history for the Montevallo Lions.

McClendon Reports On Road Building

Road Commissioner Fred McClendon dropped in at The Times Herald office Monday and gave us some interesting bits of news about the progress of County road building in this area.

He said the base has been put down on the new road from Dargin to Moore's Cross Roads. The work is continuing on by Dogwood to Pea Ridge.

Grading is being done on about two miles of new road from Pea Ridge toward Eddingstown, preparatory for black-topping in the future.

He says the grading is finished on the Salem Road and it will be graveled in a little while.

Next spring will find the several roads now under construction in this end of the county ready for paving.

Mr. McClendon stated that the state has taken over the Jemison cut-off road for future maintenance, thus relieving Shelby and Chilton Counties of this obligation.

Teachers Study Use and Conservation Of Soil, Land, and Water Resources

Efficient use and conservation of Alabama's soil, water, forests, wildlife and minerals.

Since June 11 these subjects have been studied by the 35 Alabama teachers attending Alabama College's 14th annual Resource-Use Workshop.

Purpose of the annual workshop is to acquaint teachers with the natural resources in Alabama and to promote efficient use of these resources.

Through laboratory experiments, field trips, classroom study and lectures by conservation specialists, teachers attending the workshop are provided with up-to-the-minute conservation techniques. The teachers then incorporate this information into their own classroom teaching in grade and high schools throughout the state.

Highlights of the six-week workshop included a three-day field trip to Mobile and the Alabama State Docks and day-long trips to the Gulf States Paper Corporation, Tuscaloosa; Lay Dam; and Salt Springs Game Sanctuary. Local field trips were made to Shelby County forests and farmlands.

Techniques of conservation of resources found in coastal areas and conservation methods used in Alabama's seafood industries were demonstrated by Alabama State Docks officials.

On other field trips workshop personnel were shown modern processes of converting timber to usable products; varied methods of conserving timber lands; and soil conservation practices.

Director of the workshop is Dr. Gid E. Nelson, Assistant Professor of Biology at Alabama College. Serving as Assistant Director is Mrs. Blanche Dean of the Birmingham Public Schools.

Two class meetings per day, five days per week, are scheduled for all workshop participants. In addition to classroom work, each participant prepares a special project or demonstration to be used in his own classroom.

Guest lecturers have included the following conservation specialists: A. L. Harrell, Haynes Kelley, B. F. Hatchett, Soil Conservation Service; Dr. Stewart Lloyd, Assistant State Geologist; R. V Miles, Jr., Virgil Willett, and Frank Parham, Gulf States Pa-

Help Prevent Grass Fires

What can be done to lessen the number of grass and brush fires?

Ours are a willing group of hard working fire fighters who receive no pay for this voluntary service to Montevallo and surrounding communities. Each time the fire siren sounds during the day they leave their places of business or their jobs.

A lighted cigarette or match carelessly tossed into dry grass or brush may start a fire near your home.

Won't you please help the fire department by clearing off your property and by taking every other precaution to avoid the increasing number of such fires during this dry weather?

What To Do During Thunderstorms

Westinghouse experts on lightning advise that, during a thunderstorm, the first and most important action to take is to get under a shelter as quickly as possible.

Houses, barns and other buildings—the bigger the better—are described as good shelters. The top and sides of buildings will usually provide a better conductor path than the human body for lightning to reach the ground.

Because lightning usually takes the shortest path to ground, it is likely to strike tall buildings, trees and water tanks.

When a storm threatens, keep off golf courses, suspend outdoor games, don't ride bicycles or horses and don't operate exposed machines such as tractors. Avoid shelter under trees, particularly isolated trees. Stay away from poles, masts and other exposed objects projecting skyward.

Get away from beaches, swimming pools and fishing ponds before the storm breaks if you can. If working in a garden or open field, go indoors. Avoid exposed locations on hilltops and ridges.

While large buildings are effective shelters, avoid small camp cottages, boothes, sheds and small open barns.

Stay in your car if an electrical storm suddenly develops while you are motoring.

Keep away from wire fences, wires of all types, metal objects and pipes.

Stand clear of stoves and pipes in the kitchen or cellar and shun the chimney and fireplace. Stay away from the attic. Don't stand near a window or door, particularly when it is open. Choose a place preferably near the center of a room.

In large buildings and modern homes, danger of injury by lightning is slight. Lightning strikes hundreds of such structures every year, usually with no injury to the occupants.

"And this year the circus is bigger and better than ever. Almost all of the acts wil lbe seen for the first time in Alabama; and for some it will be the first showing in America.

A NEW PAVED ROAD TO SELMA

Montevallo and the entire central region of Alabama should be gratified to learn that the large new magnesium plant using Montevallo dolomite and steel by-products from Birmingham will be located at Selma. The operation of this plant and the use of these products will inevitably draw the three communities closer together and will contribute to the economic growth of each of them.

One project that will be of great benefit to the new plant and will hasten the economic development of the area is the paving of the Randolph-Ashby-Brierfield road. The paving of this road is practically a necessity now to provide the straightest, shortest route between Selma, Montevallo, and Birmingham. Large sums of federal money are now available to pave Alabama roads. But recently progress toward the paving of this road has not been as rapid as it might have been. Interested citizens should take every opportunity to discuss this project with their public officials and urge them to give it favorable consideration.

While it is assumed that shipment of raw material from Montevallo to the new plant at Selma will be made by rail, it is nevertheless true that the operation will bring about much travel between Selma and Montevallo which would be done by automobiles and trucks.

The road through Bibb County from Brierfield to Maplesville would be by several miles shorter than any existing route to Selma.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Last week the House of Representatives spent four days debating the so-called civil rights bill. Although the dangers of this loosely drawn and politically inspired legislation were thoroughly exposed during the debate, it was obvious the measure would ultimately receive House approval. However, the final vote was postponed by an agreement until Monday of this week.

Dangers Apparent

The so-called civil rights bill provides first for the creation of a Commission on Civil Rights with powers greatly exceeding those of any other federal commission. This commission would be given the power of subpoena, one never before granted to any other federal bureau. With this power, the commission could summon to Washington a citizen from any part of this great land on the mere suspicion of discrimination.

Other sections of the bill give sweeping authority to the Attorney General. For example, the Attorney General is allowed to institute civil proceedings under the terms of this legislation on behalf of persons allegedly denied civil rights. In other words, the Attorney General could provide free legal service for one party in a civil suit, with or without the person's consent. Also, the bill gives jurisdiction to the district courts regardless of whether state remedies have been exhausted.

In my statement against the bill, I pointed out that the attorney General is already authorized to institute criminal proceedings for violations of the civil rights acts and, if crimes are committed, the guilty can be punished. But I warned against the creation of a privileged class for whom the Attorney General could act as private attorney. I also emphasized that the exhaustion of state remedies before application to the federal courts is a tradition of our jurisprudence that should be continued.

The Southern members of Congress also carefully pointed out the weaknesses of the so-called civil rights bill. Most emphasized that the bill would not actually safeguard civil rights. Rather it would undermine the authority of the states by transferring new and dangerous powers to the federal government.

Bill Will Die

It was evident that the extensive debate on this measure, led by Southerners, cast doubts in the minds of many members as to the wisdom of passing the bill. But despite its dangers, it was apparent there were more than enough votes to assure the measure's passage in the House of Representatives.

However, the delaying tactics so skillfully executed by Southern members of Congress left little chance for Senate consideration of this dangerous measure before adjournment. This simply means that the bill will die with the adjournment of the 84th Congress.

POTS and PANS
Stay Bright As CHINA PLATES

When You Cook Electrically

Because electric heat is as clean as sunshine, your pots and pans stay sparkling bright . . . clean as china plates . . . when Reddy does the cooking for you! There is no need to repaint your kitchen as often (electricity can't smudge the walls, ceiling and cabinets) and kitchen curtains remain fresh and new looking much longer.

But cleanliness was just ONE of three leading reasons why women prefer electric cooking. The other two are coolness and safety.

COOLER

An electric range is so cool you can place a flower on top of the oven while you bake a cake. Surface units impart the heat directly to cooking utensils, thus little or none escapes in your kitchen.

SAFE

No harm can result if a surface unit switch is accidentally left on, or turned on and forgotten. Automatic controls see to it that oven circuits are turned on and off at the proper times.

Other reasons for preferring electric ranges that ranked high in the Alabama survey were low operating cost, fast and uniform cooking results and attractive, modern styling to complement the beauty of present-day kitchens.

If you are modernizing your kitchen or merely planning to replace your old range with a new one, be sure to inspect the many new models of electric ranges at our store or your electrical appliance dealer's. You'll find that electric ranges give you the most for your money, and can be had on easy-to-pay terms.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

* * *

Folks down my way like to tell 'bout the time Clarence Darrow, the famous lawyer, came to town to give a lecture to the women's club. After he'd finished talkin', the ladies all applauded wildly, and the club president congratulated him. "Oh, Mr. Darrow," she gushed, "how can we ever show our gratitude and appreciation to you!"

"My dear woman," Darrow replied, "ever since the ancient Phoenicians invented money, there has been only one answer to that question."

Well, sir, us farmers like to make a good livin' from our work, too. I heard some good news about tree farming lately — from up in Wisconsin. Up there, on the 52-acre Champion Valley timber forest — which the state operates to show the value of good woodland management — a feller figured a tree farmer can make at least five dollars an hour for his work at logging time!

Here's how he figured. November sales, at Champion Valley, amounted to $1185. The harvest required 126 man hours of work, and $189 for chain saw and skidding expenses. Taxes would have run about $52, if the forest hadn't been publicly owned. That leaves a net income of $944, or $7.49 an hour for timber work!

* * *

That shows what can be done on a well-run tree farm. Accordin' to one expert, a tree farmer can make as much money as any other kind of farmer if he'll follow two rules: He should harvest mature timber at frequent intervals. And he should never cut more than the natural growth between harvests. Put that in your pipe and smoke it!

But not in the woods, folks, please! Do you know what causes the most forest fires? Take a guess — lightnin', arsonists, or the average citizen?

Yep, I'm afraid you guessed it. We do. Ninety per cent of all forest fires are started by folks who are careless with cigarettes, matches or camp fires.

* * *

Which reminds me of a story Orville Bier, up in Boise, Idaho, told me. Seems a lady saw a boy smokin' on the street one day. She marched up to him and said indignantly, "Does your mother know you smoke?" The kid took the cigarette out of his mouth, blew a smoke ring in her face, and replied, "Nope. Does your husband know you speak to strange men in the street?"

See you next week!

Navy Recruiters Offer Tests To Graduates

High School Graduates who want to know where they stand before taking an important step may get full particulars from Chief Jim Bigbee of the local Navy Recruiting Station.

According to the Chief, high school graduates may take all Navy tests to determine their qualifications for the field of their choice without obligations whatsoever. He added that men who do pass the examinations for a desired technical field may enlist in the Navy and be assured of being assigned to first, Navy School, and later Navy positions in the selected field of endeavor. Visit Chief Bigbee and get more information on his short cut to a career.

Chief Bigbee and Chief Bill Akers are the traveling Recruiters of Shelby County, the following is their schedule: Thursdays—0830 to 10:30 in Calera; 11:00 to 2:30 p.m. in Montevallo; 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Alabaster. On Fridays 08:30 to 10:30 in Vincent; stopping at Harpersville and Wilsonville between 10:45 and 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Explorer Scouts Visit Pensacola

Ten boys from the Troop 60 Explorer unit visited the U. S. Naval Air Station at Pensacola Wednesday through Saturday of last week, living on the station, and touring all activities of the navy cadets there.

Travelling in two cars, escorted by Scoutmaster Gordon Buffner and Exp. Advisor Geo. 'Starcher, the boys made the exciting trip as a part of a get-acquainted program of the Navy.

High point of the trip was the day-long cruise aboard a large air-craft carrier, the Saipan. As far as twenty miles at sea at times, the boys watched many of the 241 practice landings made on the carrier by student pilots during the day. Only one minor mishap, as one pilot failed to hook arresting cables and ran into the arresting barrier, slightly damaging his plane.

The boys ate with cadets except for two noon meals aboard the carrier. Tours of the whole carrier were made, from engine room with 125 degree heat, to the pleasantly air-conditioned Radar room, (C:I:C.).

Other activities were tours of Survival Demonstrations, Fire Rescue, Helicopter water rescue, Jet training field, a tour of a destroyer, and many interesting side-trips.

Recreation included swims in both Pensacola Bay and the Gulf of Mexico, picture shows, and the play "Mr. Roberts", a navy story recently a hit on Broadway.

The trip was financed by the boys from their own earnings, except for use of a car loaned by McDow Motor Company, Columbiana, and the personal car loaned by Scoutmaster Ruffner. The Navy held subsistance charges to a minimum while on the base.

Explorers making the trip were: Frank Hatchett, Joe Turner, Joe Lyons, David Atchison, Alan Starcher, Jerry Mooney, Henry Moon, Wayne Rasco, Charles Tidmore, and Johnny Sims.

Use of Telephones Greatly Increased In Past Ten Years

In the past 10 years the number of telephones in Montevallo has grown from 350 to its present figure today, and in Calera the number of telephones has increased from 112, an increase of approximately 355 per cent!

B. F. Lunsford, District Manager, West Area for the Southern Bell Telephone Company, said that telephone growth in any city is a good barometer of the overall business and industrial progress of the area.

Mr. Lunsford said telephone expansion in Montevallo and Calera has not been accomplished at any small cost. He said more than $5,400,000 was spent last year in expanding telephones in the Birmingham district, which includes these and surrounding cities. The figure includes money spent to further extend telephone service to surrounding rural areas served out of the Montevallo and Calera exchanges.

As for future growth contemplated for this area by Southern Bell, Lunsford said:

"We see no end to the continued growth of Montevallo and Calera insofar as telephone demand is concerned. Additional central office equipment is being added periodically and outside plant lines are being further extended."

United Cement Co. Begins Production

Another very significant step in the industrial activity of the Montevallo-Calera area was accomplished last Saturday, July 28, when the new plant of United Cement Company went into the actual production of quick lime.

Operation has continued since Saturday without interruption, which fact is considered an unusual record for a newly constructed plant of this volume. Ordinarily it takes some time for a plant to get the "bugs" out of its system, but United Cement has clicked from the very start.

Operating personnel is made up from the men who were engaged in construction of the plant. About 35 men will be employed in the making of 225 tons of lime per day.

Mr. Phil J. Kyser states that a complete test of the company's 450 acres of surface reveals that their vast supply of raw materials is the highest quality of limestone in this area.

The new plant is one of the most modern with the latest improved type of rotary kiln and equipment.

The physical appearance of the plant is impressive. It is alongside highway 25 about midway between Montevallo and Calera. All of the power distribution system is concealed underground, eliminating the usual unsightly wires and poles usually seen all about such a plant. The area between the plant and the highway is soon to be landscaped, including a nice entrance of driveways and parking space.

Shipment of lime will begin in a few days when the product has passed inspection and testing in the plant's modern laboratory.

The sales organization will function out of the home office at the plant.

There is a manifold interest in the successful operation of United Cement Company here because people of this local area have invested about a hundred thousand dollars in it.

Montevallo and Calera Offer Free Sites For Shelby County Hospital

Lawler Will Give Land for Hospital

At a meeting of a committee of the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night, W. L. Lawler, Sr., made an offer of five acres of land free for location of the proposed Shelby County Hospital.

The site offered by Mr. Lawler is near the Westinghouse plant on Highway 25 between Montevallo and Calera. It lies alongside a 6-inch water main from Montevallo and the main line of Montevallo's natural gas system.

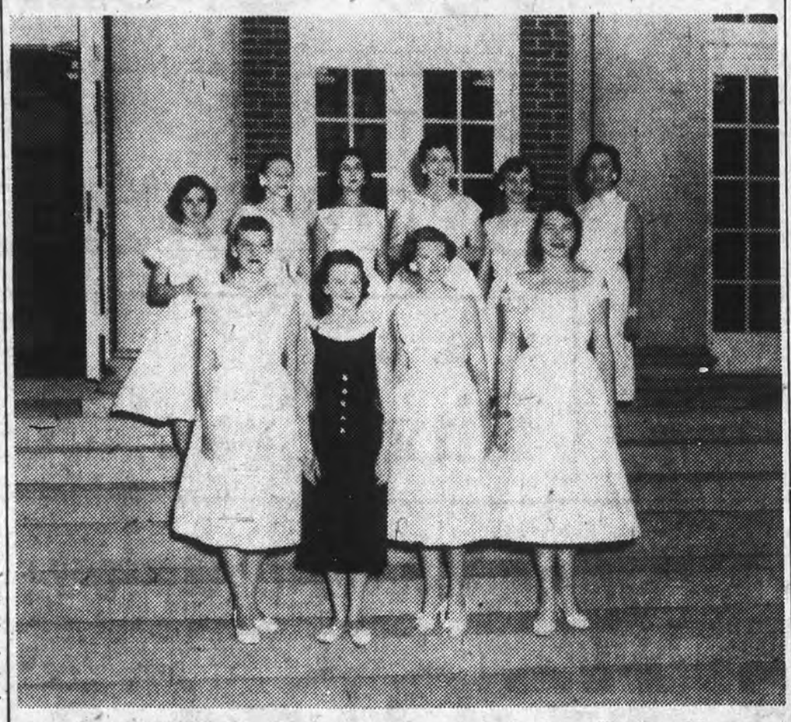

The committee selected Dr. F. E. Lund, president of Alabama College, to go before the Hospital Board Thursday and present the offer of Mr. Lawler on behalf of the community of Montevallo.

All Scoutmasters are urged to bring things for the Crafts tent. If one boy or maybe more in your Troop has some unusual exhibit, have him to bring it for the Crafts tent. A demonstration of lanyard making, basketry, lacing of leather or some other craft would be very interesting.,

The Cahaba District Troops are: Troop 31, Helena; Troop 35, West Blocton; Troop 36, Centreville; Troop 39, Brent; Troop 59, Montevallo; Troop 60, Columbiana; Troop 85, Wilsonville; Troop 148, Siluria.

An Open Letter to the Hospital Board And the Citizens of Shelby County

The Mayor and Town Council of Calera, in special session, voted to offer to the Hospital Board a free site within three blocks of Highway 31, with sewerage, water, gas, and to pave the street to the highway. This offer will mean considerable saving to the county, and for any other town to match it will involve considerable expense.

The first requirement of the hospital is that it be located on a six inch water main with samples of the water approved monthly by the State Board of Health. It must be within the protection of a city fire department so that it will not be necessary to pay country rates for fire and tornado insurance. It must have a septic tank with disposal field or be located on a sewerage system. It should also be serviced with gas.

Some of the proposed sites are out of the corporate limits of the nearby towns, and consequently the tax payers of those towns would not be responsible for the sewerage, gas, or water. Calera offers these facilities and protections and will offer a special gas rate below the normal rate.

There will be lots of petitions presented, and we do not blame any of the people for wanting the hospital located in their communities, but it is impossible for one hospital to take care of all of the county.

The 4 mill tax will be adequate to add additional hospital facilities so that all of the county might be served.

There is no other acceptable location in Shelby County that will take in Calera, Montevallo, Columbiana, Siluria, and Alabaster within a 12 mile radius.

Let us state some advantages to show that Calera is the logical and practical site:

1. It was acceptable to the Hill-Burton officials and was so stated in three separate meetings that Calera was the first selected site.

2. Calera is the only town that has water, sewerage, gas, and fire protection, and can extend utilities to the property line.

3. We were the first to get official action by the Town Council to offer all of this free. Others will follow, but it will cost them big money, and they will perhaps

Where Will The Hospital Be Located?

The Shelby County Hospital Board has progressed in its plans to the point where they now face the big question—Where will the hospital be located?

A meeting of the Board is being held today to begin consideration of that question. The different towns of the county have been asked to send a representative to the meeting.

It is clearly perceived that the duty of the Hospital Board is to locate the hospital at a place where it will best serve the most people of the county, with all proper and necessary factors duly considered.

Surely no one man or one community would try to manipulate the hospital location to the unfair advantage of one community over all others.

The Board is composed of able and reasonable men. They have in their hands the establishment, location and operation of a facility that will belong to all the people of the county, and will be expected to serve all the people of the county.

Any community, of course, would like to have the hospital location but it can be put at but one place.

Now, the question is: Where is that place—the right place—to best serve all our people and to make sure the success of the hospital?

We believe the Board will properly weigh this question in the light of all things that should be considered and that they will come up with the right answer.

Distribution of New Seed Studied by State Farm Bureau

How to get improved and new varieties of seed into the hands of the farmers after they are developed on the Foundation Seed Stock Farm at Thorsby or in other experimental enterprises is a problem now being studied by an Alabama Farm Bureau committee.

The problem was brought to the attention of the state executive committee by Jimmy Henderson, Miller's Ferry, President, and Charles P. Storrs, Wetumpka, another spokesman for the Alabama Crop Improvement Association, says H. A. Pauly, president of the Shelby County Farm Bureau. This is a group dedicated to the improvement of existing crops and development of new ones.

They explained that the Foundation Seed Stock Farm, operated by the Association and the API Experiment Station, was providing an important service in trying to develop better seed. However, the problem has been getting the improved seed to the farmers.

Mr. Henderson said the project could be made self-supporting after a method of distributing the seed is set up, possibly thorough an initial legislative appropriation or legislation authorizing other financial arrangements. He and Mr. Storrs said improved seed would add greatly to the value of Alabama's crops.

The state board pledged its cooperation, and authorized Pres. Walter L. Randolph to name a committee to work with the Association and Experiment Station officials on the problem. He named J. D. Hays, Huntsville; H. H. Knowles, Headland, and Walter C. Givhan, Safford.

Miss Isa Bell Taylor has returned to work after a weeks vacation.

Mrs. Lewis Baer and Phil spent Tuesday in Birmingham shopping.

HOSPITAL SITE

make offers which they cannot back up.

4. This should not be a one-man hospital. We would like to see it in a location most acceptable to everybody. We cannot have ten hospitals but in time, we might have two placed where they can be used by all the people in the county.

5. We offered the Board of Revenue a plan by which each municipality could participate. According to this plan, each mayor and town council were to recommend two business men-citizens, from which the Board of Revenue would select one. If this plan had been followed, each municipality would have representation, and it would have been impossible to stack the Board.

6. Calera is just out of the 25 mile atomic range from Birmingham.

7. We hope that our letter will open the eyes of the people of Shelby County so that on next Thursday, August 2, 1956, at 2 o'clock, enough citizens will appear in Columbiana to show the Board that the people are interested in the location of the hospital.

Pasture with about half legume and half grass not only will lessen bloat danger but will give better yield and quality of grazing.

Crimson clover may be seeded on to of oats in early October to add grazing, says the Progressive Farmer.

Strawberries need at least two liberal applications of fertilizer being late August and Dec. 1 to produce best yields and quality.

Oats for early November grazing should be planted by early September. Use plenty of fertilizer when planting and topdress later, if needed.

Treating seed oats and grass seed for controlling diseases is worth many times what it costs.

Street Paving Program Is Deferred Until Spring

At a special meeting last week to consider the proposed street paving program, the Montevallo City Council deferred the beginning of the work until next Spring.

Invitation of the program was begun early last spring with the expectation of getting the work done this summer. However some unavoidable delays have made it impossible to get started this year until about the first of October. Under these circumstances, the Council felt that it would be best to let the matter go over the winter and take a new start about February or March.

The plans so far made will stand for the project next spring unless it is found necessary to make some minor changes in the meantime.

Hospital Board Hears Local Recommendations

The Shelby County Houspital Board held a meeting in Columbiana last Thursday to hear recommendations for location of the hospital.

Six communities in the county each had a spokesman to go before the Board and present their offers.

It was a "closed" meeting and no one except the Board members was permitted to hear the different offers that were made on behalf or the communities.

It is our understanding that the Board adjourned without taking any action, and set another meeting for next Monday with the understanding that the hospital location will be settled at that time.

Few Counties Record No Tuberculosis Deaths

Slightly more than one third of Alabama's 347 tuberculosis deaths last year occurred in five of the state's major cities.

The State Health Department said today, however, that only a few counties were without at least one TB death last year.

The totals of the five major cities referred to were Birmingham 33, Mobile 12, Montgomery 25, Gadsden 15 and Fairfield 35.

The Department said that Shelby County reported two of the 1955 TB deaths.

These figures compiled by the Department's bureau of vital statistics, are provisional, and may vary slightly when final reports are completed.

The United States Air Force is currently undertaking a campaign to recruit volunteers to man the Ground Observer Post in Montevallo. Representatives of the Air Force were here and talked to Mr. M. Thornton, and Mr. Davis Yeuell in relation to the Ground Observer Corps program.

Civilian "spotters" are needed to watch for airplanes and report them to the warning network of the Air Force. The network consists of radar stations established throughout the country and Ground Observer Corps Filter Centers. Although radar is one of the wonders of modern day science, it is not fully effective in some circumstances. Because its beams do not follow the earth's curvature, low flying planes rarely register on radar scopes. Radar cannot see through hills, and bad weather diminishes its effectiveness.

To plug these gaps in the radar network, the Air Force needs human eyes and ears. It has organized the Ground Observer Corps (GOC) as a civilian auxiliary, in an attempt to make sure that no invading airplane reaches our vital installations undetected.

Here is the way the Ground Observer Corps works: The basic unit is an observation post, which consists of a human being and a telephone. Those two elements may be in an elaborate observation tower, they may be in a store or filling station, in a farmhouse, or they may be in a guard gate at an industrial plant. The Air Defense system needs at least twelve to sixteen such posts per 1,000 square miles.

When the person sees or hears an airplane, he or she telephones the information to a filter center, where other volunteers plot and analyze the report. If the filter center personnel cannot identify the airplane as one that belongs in that area at that time, they pass the information along to the military warning system. Heavily armed fighter aircraft are ready to take to the air and intercept in a matter of minues.

Tickets to the barbecue will be distributed by the Birmingham wholesale firms.

Searcy H. Johnson, Jr., a Chamber of Commerce executive and assistant to the president of the Moore-Handley Hardware Company, will address the retailers on the urgent need for favoring local wholesalers in their own home towns and other Alabama cities in preference to those of other states.

He will cite statistics to show that Alabama ranks very low in its wholesale volume as compared with numerous other Southeastern states because of the huge volume of such business in Alabama being placed with out of state firms.

The result is that large sums of money which could be channelled into education, roads and other municipal and state improvements is being lost.

In their efforts to carry a strong message of giving the wholesalers in their own towns and other Alabama wholesalers a chance to meet the price and quality of out of state competitors the Birmingham group has made numerous tours over Alabama.

During the current Wholesale Days a new Cadillac automobile will be awarded to some lucky retailer registering with the Birmingham wholesalers.

Soil Conservation District News

By B. F. Hatchett and Geo. C. Starcher

Interesting results are being obtained with sub-soiling on farms of district cooperators. The success of these is causing many others to subsoil fields with hardpans or compacted by grazing.

Lester Stansell, Dargin dairyman subsoilled about 10 acres planned for alfalfa.

Walter Watkins, Wilsonville, subsoilled several acres of very hard red land, using several different methods to check on economy of bulldozer and various tractors.

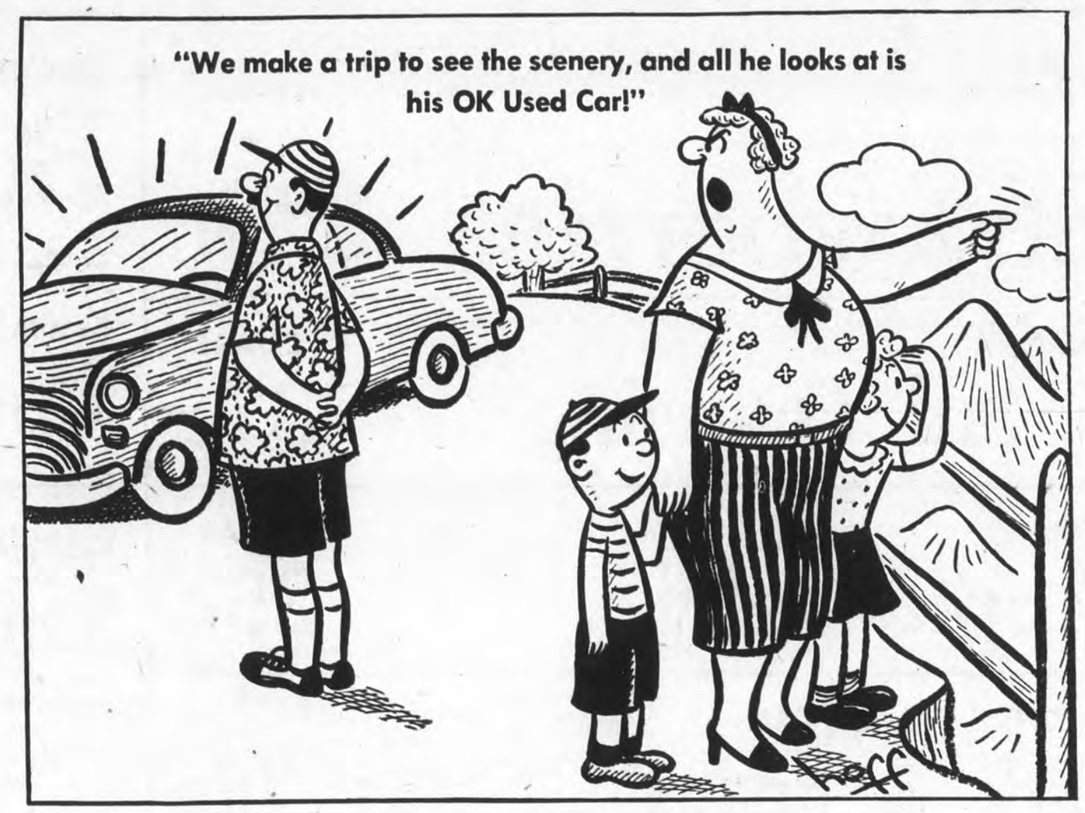

Mr. Dewitt, operating the Joe Sargent dairy, Calera, is sub-soilling pastures to get better root depth and water absorption.

In Kingdom Community N. E. Vickery is sub-soilling deep clay soils, both on his farm and for neighbors.

At Wilsonville, commenting on the increase of interest in sub-soiling, B. B. Mooney informed us Mooney Tractor Co. had sold John Lewis Cates, Cliff C. Smith, N. E. Vickery, D. H. Holcomb, and W. C. Billingsley subsoiling equipment this year.

Cooperator Lester Stansell is planning immediate purchase of an irrigation system. We went with him to see systems of M. B. Bates and J. M. Rowe Jr., both Vincent dist. cooperators. Rowe uses two large nozzles to cover about the same area as the Bates do with 26 (our count) small nozzles. Irrigation experts favor the small nozzles, while both of the men operating these outfits favor the large nozzles.

Water distribution and erosion control, are easier with the smaller nozles, important factors in conservation farming.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The end of the 84th Congress came in the final minutes of last Friday night as the House and Senate adjourned the current session after meeting continuously for 14 hours. House adjournment came at 11:56 p.m., and the Senate adjourned only four minutes later at midnight.

During the final week of the 84th Congress, the House completed action on many bills, resolutions, and conference reports. Major activity included House passage of the controversial civil rights measure, a compromise version of the social security bill, the foreign aid appropriation, a flood insurance measure, and the housing bill. Both the highly-publicized Fryingpan-Arkansas reclamation project and the measure providing for federal construction of atomic-electric plants were defeated.

Social Security Passes

In the last hours of the session, the House and Senate agreed on a compromise version of a liberalized social security measure. This legislation was approved by the House last year. As it was sent to the President, the bill permits women to draw reduced benefits at the age of 62, with widows being eligible for full benefits at that age. The measure also provides disability payments for persons who have reached age 50 and extends coverage to an additional 210,000 persons.

Civil Rights Bill

On Monday of last week, after four days of heated debate, the House passed the so-called civil rights bill on a 270 to 126 roll call vote. Only 24 Republicans voted against the Administration-backed measure, along with 102 Democrats. For the bill were 111 Democrats and 168 Republicans.

When the bill reached the Senate, it was sent to the Judiciary Committee after an attempt to bring into the Senate floor without committee referral failed. Since the measure was not considered in the Senate before adjournment, the bill is now dead unless a special session of Congress is called. The failure of this measure to receive Senate consideration, along with House defeat of the school construction bill which prohibited funds to segregated schools, were major victories for our State and the entire South.

Housing Approved

The housing bill, which almost delayed the adjournment of Congress, received last-minute approval by both houses and was sent to the President. The most controversial provision of the bill dealt with public housing. A section in the House bill called for the construction of 35,000 new public housing units annually for two years, while the Senate proposed 135,000 additional units a year up to a total of 500,000. During conference, the Senate agreed to the House figure of 35,000 new units annually and the bill received speedy approval.

Other Legislation

The proposed postal rate increase bill was killed when the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee decided to postpone action on it. Members of the House had already passed the Administration-backed bill that would have increased the rate on first class mail from three to four cents and the rate on airmail from six to seven cents.

A compromise foreign aid appropriation of $3.7 billion was accepted by both the House and Senate, and the bill was then sent to the President. The amount approved, about $1.1 billion less than the Administration had requested, was approximately the sum originally authorized by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Returns to District

For the fourth consecutive year, it has been my privilege to report to you each week through the courtesy of the Shelby County Times-Herald. When Congress re convenes in January, I plan to continue my weekly reports to you through the cooperation of this newspaper.

In the meantime, I expect to spend the greatest part of the Congressional recess in the Sixth District. I will be in my Tuscaloosa office several days each week and the remainder of the time will be spent in the other seven counties of our district. I hope I can see as many of you as possible while I am in Alabama, and I trust you will continue to call on me by letter or in person for any service I can render.

Father of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers include H. W. Kiker Jr., brother of the bridegroom; Bill Seale, cousin of the bridegroom of Columbiana; Jimmy Mills and Tomie Lee Mills of Jackson, Miss., both cousins of the bride.

The bride-elect is the daughter of the late H. O. Milstead. She attended Alabama College then transfered to the U. of A. where she graduated.

County Tuberculosis Clinic Provides Chest X-Rays for Food Handlers

The Shelby County Tuberculosis Association has made possible another highly important Tuberculosis control program, in addition to its many other contributions to the control and treatment of Tuberculosis. The Tuberculosis Association is making possible chest x-rays for all food handlers, including cafe workers, soda fount workers and dairy workers in the County.

The County Board of Health recently adopted regulations requiring chest x-rays of all food handlers but, from the many commendatory statements by the workers, the regulations are more or less superfluous and the food handlers are very glad indeed to have this opportunity to get a chest x-ray for their own protection.

The Tuberculosis Association, together with the Board of Revenue and Control, is also making it possible at present for 34 patients to receive free drugs and supplies and other treatment for Tuberculosis at the County Tuberculosis Clinic. In the past few years, since the advent of more effective treatment for Tuberculosis, the County Clinic has returned 42 Tuberculosis patients to their occupations and usual mode of life.

Among the most important functions of the Clinic is the periodic x-raying of contacts of a Tuberculosis case. The Clinic also x-rays any suspects referred by the practicing physicians of this County, as well as from the adjoining counties. Film for this purpose is furnished by the State Health Department.

The Shelby County Tuberculosis Clinic is recognized by the various Sanatoria and Veterans Hospitals and frequently have patients referred for continuing treatment or further follow-up from these institutions.

The Clinic personnel is greatly pleased and encouraged this week due to the fact that one of our patients' husband came into the office and handed us a check for $50.00 as a donation to the County Tuberculosis Association, this being the second contribution of this size from him during this year.

On another occasion this week a doctor took the trouble to write us a letter to say how much he appreciated the help we have given him, and remarked that Shelby County was most fortunate to have such a Clinic.

The work of the Tuberculosis Clinic is made possible only by your contributions to the Christmas Seal Sale, and the Christmas Seal money is matched by the Board of Revenue and Control.

At the present time no Public Health program is as important as that aimed at the ultimate eradication of Tuberculosis. Formerly 25 persons died each year of Tuberculosis in Shelby County and each case represented many years of continuing illness with its devastating effect upon the finances and home life of the family involved.

ALABAMA'S INDIFFERENCE TO THE POLITICAL CONVENTIONS

(Montgomery Advertiser)

There appears to be a remarkable lack of interest in Alabama in the Democratic and Republican Conventions, the first of which begins next week. You might almost say that Alabama really doesn't care whether the two parties even hold a convention.

Not the least reason for this indifference is the sense that the South is without friends in either party. To the Alabamian it seems that both parties are simply formations of armies which array three-quarters of the nation against the fourth, the South.

In the case of what is the supreme issue to the South, there is no thought of the South prevailing. The only kind of victory in the convention that is even imagined is one in which the South is not more brutishly poked and misused as a chained hostage to the fortunes of the two parties in North than it was in 1952.

It is all these years since the Civil War and the South has given dog-like devotion to the Democratic Party. In some elections the South was all the Democratic Party was. Its reward has come to be baiting as of the village idiot.

As a matter of fact, its undeviating loyalty has been idiotic. Had the South asserted an independence of the Democratic Party some years ago, had it demonstrated that the Republican Party could successfully bid for its votes, had it ceased yapping about how Grandpap always voted nothing but Democratic—it would not be used as a pawn as it is today. The South's circumstance is well understood if you put yourself in the place of a national party planner. He cares not more for the North than he does for the South, his business is amassing enough electoral votes to win the Presidency. Be he a Democratic or Republican strategist, he knows that no matter how much the South is inflamed over its role as whipping boy, and no matter if the people in a state like Alabama grow rebellious enough to give 46 per cent or 48 per cent of its popular vote to the GOP—traditional, inert yellow dog allegiance to the Democratic label will get the electoral vote for the Democrats, and that's all you count.

Therefore, both parties compete with one another in contriving enticing civil rights planks to win the minority votes in the pivotal Big Bertha states of the North. Why not? The GOP knows that it can't quite win the South; the Democrats know that they can't quite lose the South.

So the heck with the South. We waited too late.

You have got to hand it to the colored brother on this; he demonstrated more gumption than the whites. After all, the Republican Party was, in the case of the Negro, the "party of his fathers" and for a long time, like today's white Democrat, he voted 'er straight. Along came Roosevelt and the Negro took up the offer of a better deal, transferring his affiliation to the Democrats, the ancient enemy. The Southern white remained a Democrat, heedless and immovable. Now look at him.

We, The Duped

We people of the South are spedily coming to grips with a frightening crisis, heading straight into a political storm.

Some patriots—who rate country above jobs—are trying to prepare for it. But Alabama? Oh, no! Our political slickers are in charge, riding high, wide, and handsome. They have their pet candidate—if they can maneuver him in, what matters it what befalls Southern convictions, customs, and traditions?

To be sure, the white voters of ten Southern states could form an organization which would scare the daylights out of the machine flunkies at Chicago, and elsewhere. Will it be formed? Of course not! It might jeopardize somebody's committee rank.

Our colored friends can organize, regardless of loss or inconvenience, and cause both major parties to crook the pregnant hinges of the knee; but our "white-hopes," our $22,500 beauties, are too busy looking out for "number one" and number one's favorite integration candidate.

Our distinguished "leaders" are practically repudiated in a recent election—but, mysteriously, they turn up in full charge of operations.

The slickers have so manipulated the situation as to bar from office-holding in Alabama any man who is unwilling to pledge, in advance, support of the candidate chosen at Chicago, even if that candidate is Father Divine.

So, we trim, and sputter, and hedge—and do nothing—while the anointed smilingly ignore us and go merrily on their way, nominating their picked buddies, voting back-breaking taxes, orating whether to give four billion or five billion of our savings to some nondescript bankrupt government.

If we are not the prize saps, it would be interesting to learn the owners of that distinction. And, don't forget who are responsible, "You, and you, and you," and I, and I, and I.—(Citizen T, in the Montgomery Advertiser).

A Fable About Fish Traveling in Schools

The lovely Lake of Forty-Eight Waters is surrounded by beautiful trees. Along its north shore are the fir and the cedar. Along its shore to the east grow the oak and the elm. Along its shore to the south are seen the palmetto and the orange tree. At its west are found the maple and the sequoia.

This lovely lake had its beginning when 13 separate lakes were turned together making one lake. Now others have added their waters to the original body till it has become the Lake of Forty-Eight Waters.

In the waters of the lovely lake many fishes abide, many kinds of fish, no less. There are perch, bream, catfish, trout, muskies, goldfish, suckers—many another sort. As they did before the first lakes were turned together, the fish abide in certain schools, each according to its own kind, and, so do they in the lovely Lake of Forty-Eight Waters.

On great pillars beside the Lake of Forty-Eight Waters is a great scroll on which inscribed are rules and directions for management of the lovely lake. Recently, at the this scroll, a new rule has been graven charging in words that the fish in the Lake of Forty-Eight Waters shall not travel in schools according to kind, but that perch, trout, bream, etc., shall all thereafter travel together in the same schools.

Will the management of the lake live?

Will the inscription live?

Will the fish live?

LUTHER PATRICK,
(Birmingham News)

Why, Gov. Herter!

Reporters are devilish sorts. You know. Figuring people want to know as much about interesting things as possible, they set themselves up as the go-betweens who will ask the questions the public would ask if it had a chance.

Thusly, in Boston some such agents approached Gov. Christian Herter, whose name is newsworthy because Harold Stassen has him by the arm trying to drag him into the vice presidency. But Herter has said he doesn't But Herted has said he doesn't want the job, that he'll nominate Nixon, that Stassen can nominate him (Herter), but not with his consent.

Ah, upspake the reporters, is it that this is possible, that you can be nominated without your consent?

Oh yea, Herter responded, and then added what we consider the most provocative Republican utterance in a fortnight:

"The delegates are free, white and 21 . . . ."

Governor, is this the party of the Great Emancipator you belong to?—Birmingham News.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this way to express my thanks to the many friends who remembered me with flowers, gifts, cards, and your prayers while I was in the hospital. I sincerely appreciate everything everyone did, and will always be grateful.

MRS. HOWARD SINOR

Alabama made a strong bid for a new animal disease laboratory at a recent USDA hearing in St. Louis, but the site committee selected Iowa State College for the facility. Farm Bureau joined API and other agencies and groups in appearing before the committee in behalf of this state's bid.

Cooking time for frozen vegetables is less than that for fresh ones, says The Progressive Farmer, because the blanching and freezing of frozen vegetables tenderizes them to some extent.

The reduced spring pig crop will cause U. S. meat production to fall below the 1955 level in the last part of 1956.

Veteran Loan Program Extended

The World War II Loan Program ending date has been extended for one more year to July 25, 1958, under an omnibus GI Loan Law signed by the President August 1, 1956, according to Harley A. Smith, Manager of the Alabama Regional Office of the Veterans administration.

In the 12 years that the GI Loan program has been in operation, 4,466,000 World War II veterans have borrowed $33.2 billion in GI loans to purchase homes, farms, and businesses. Of that amount, VA has guaranteed or insured $17.9 billion.

The GI Loan program was previously scheduled to end July 25, 1957, and under the wording of the original law all loans would have to be closed on that date.

Under the new law any GI loan for which the VA receives an application by July 5, 1958, may be guaranteed or insured by VA if it is completed by July 25, 1959.

Mr. Smith emphasized that the new law affects only World War II veterans. Korean conflict period veterans have until January 31, 1956, to obtain GI loans for homes, farms, and businesses. To date more than 345,000 Korean conflict period veterans have borrowed $3.6 billion in GI loans. Of that amount the VA has guaranteed or insured $2 billion.

In addition this new law will permit any veteran who sells residential property with a GI loan to be relieved from liability to the government under certain circumstances. Previously the veteran who sold his property and allowed the purchaser to assume his GI loan still remained liable to the government in the event of subsequent foreclosure and the payment of a guaranty claim by the VA. Now the veteran may be relieved of liability if the purchaser assumes full liability on the loan, the VA approves him from a credit standpoint, and the loan is current.

The new law also permits World War II veterans to have their GI loan entitlement restored up to January 31, 1956, if their property: (1) was taken by a governmental agency for public use, () was destroyed by a natural hazard, or (3) was otherwise disposed of for compelling reasons without fault on the part of the veteran.

The new law also amends the GI Bill to permit the restoration of GI home loan entitlement to a veteran in military service who disposes of his home because of a transfer under military orders.

A veteran, under the new law, will have to certify that he intends to live in the home he is buying with the assistance of a GI loan at the time of application and at the time of closing the loan. The new law also clarifies and confirms the authority of the VA to make the final determination of the reasonable value of property, irrespective of the estimate of value made by an individual appraiser.

4-H Members Attend Fish and Wildlife Camp

Sixty-seven Alabama 4-H club boys, representing nearly every county in the state, are attending the Fourth Annual 4-H Club Fish and Wildlife Camp this week. It is being held at Camp Rotary, near Wetumpka.

Shelby County's representative, Joe Turner, Columbiana 4-H Club, and other campers were chosen on the basis of work they have done in 4-H wildlife projects. W. M. Clark, Assistant County Agent, Shelby County will assist in the camp as one of the Instructors. At the camp, these youngsters are learning how to conserve, as well as catch, fish and game and how to handle themselves safely in the woods and near water.

Now is the time to make plantings for that fall garden, says The Pregressive Farmer. Proper use of water and mulches will help insure success.

Volunteers Wanted

Posts in this area report to the Montgomery Air Defense Filter Center located in Montgomery. Alabama. At least 350 posts operated by some 10,000 volunteers are needed to adequately cover this area. The Air Force hopes to have posts at intervals of about eight miles throughout Alabama.

In city and town posts, the normal procedure is for observers to stand one two hour watch each week, and to work in pairs. In the rural areas where there are fewer people from which to draw volunteers, two or three neighboring farms share the responsibility.

The duties of a Ground Observer Corps volunteer are—(1) to constantly be on the alert for airplanes over and near his post and (2) to place a collect telephone call to the filter center when one is detected. The Air Force trains volunteers in just what to look for and how to make these reports.

Persons in this area interested in volunteering for the Ground Observer Corps may do so by contacting Mr. Davis Yeuell at 5031—Montevallo.

There will be a meeting of volunteers Monday, August 13 at 7:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church.

Many Cities Are Building Hospitals

First-class modern hospitals and health centers are continuing to rise in all parts of the State, as Alabama pushes its big hospital program forward.

Every area of the state has seen important new hospital facilities built in the past few years.

Today, the following hospital and health centers are under construction to add to those already built:

Dothan, 110 bed hospital; Huntsville, 57-bed; Piedmont, 20; Centre, 27; a chronic disease hospital, 30-bed, at Anniston, and another chronic disease, 50-bed, hospital for Montgomery (an addition to the St. Jude's Hospital).

Health Centers are being constructed at Mobile, and Clayton, and Out-Patients clinics at Huntsville and Jasper are being added to existing facilities. At Selma, a 27-bed Nursing Home, long urgently needed, will be completed soon.

In addition, the State Health Department recently opened bids for a 30-bed hospital at Clanton, and contracts are expected to be let for this facility "very shortly".

Some weeks ago, a 95-bed addition was added to St. Margaret's Hospital, Montgomery.

After studying this report, Governor Folsom said "it is most gratifying that all these fine modern facilities are becoming available for our sick and injured . . . Good hospitals are an essential part of progress in our State."

Alabama Education Association To Hold Leadership School

With major emphasis being placed on joint school-citizens committee activities in the study and evaluation of schools, the annual Leadership School of the Alabama Education Association will meet at Alabama College, Montevallo, during the week-end of August 17-19. Through such a program, President David W. Mullins, Auburn, feels that the association's major objectives for the year will be achieved. The objectives as outlined by Dr. Mullins are as follows: (1) Building public understanding and confidence. (2) Building cooperation of other groups in support of public education. (3) Stabilizing and restoring of authorized appropriations. (4) Building public understanding of the necessity for a capital outlay program. (5) Building an ever more dynamic, informed, and active professional organization at the local level.

Featured speakers of the Leadership School will include representatives of education and business. Two major addresses will be given by Robert E. McKay, assistant executive secretary, California Teachers Association and president of National School Public Relations Association. Harry C. Backer, southeastern manager of public relations, General Electric Corporation, Atlanta, Georgia, will describe how industry and the community interact. State Superintendent A. R. Meadows will speak at the general session Friday evening. Other addresses will be given by Dr. David W. Mullins, president of the Alabama Education Association, and Dr. C. P. Nelson, newly appointed executive secretary.

Throughout the conference emphasis will be placed on citizens becoming more familiar with their schools and school activities. Discussion periods will be devoted to the organization of local school study programs which will involve members of the teaching profession and lay citizens. During these discussions information and materials necessary for a thorough knowledge of our schools will be stressed. Methods, instruments, and media for using such information will be discussed. Sample copies of such materials now being used by some school systems in Alabama will be on display.

As a practical example of how one county learns about their schools, Superintendent W. W. Elliott of Shelby County, assisted by staff members and teachers, will give a demonstration of how a group can work on this problem.

A five-member panel will discuss procedures in local school studies. Participants are Dr. Truman M. Pierce, Auburn; L. W. Yates, Cullman; Miss Frances Nungester, Decatur; V. C. Helms, Opelika; and Miss Edna Earle Mullins, Tuscaloosa.

In addition to a rigid work schedule, arrangements have also been made for recreation and fun. On Friday evening, the College unit of the Alabama Education Association and the Shelby County Teachers Association will entertain at a reception. Other entertainment includes, swimming, watermelon cutting, and on Saturday night, a "hill billy" square dance.

The new NOrth numbers are due to be put into effect at 1:01 a.m., 7th, October, 1956.

Prior to that time a new directory listing the telephone numbers of all Calera subscribers will be delivered.

Activities of the conference included workshops, group discussions, general assemblies, and time out for fun—swimming in the college pool, picnics at the lake, and a square dance held in the gymnasium.

Consultant for the meetings was Dr. Frank N. Philpot, State Department of Education. Acting in an advisory capacity from Alabama College were Dr. M. L. Orr, Mr. A. C. Anderson, Dr. Herbert Eber, and Mr. Donald K. Springen. Responsible for the program planning were Miss Sarah Haynes, Tallassee, Chairman; Mrs. Naomi McMurrey, Greensboro; and Mr. B. W. Hamric, Montevallo. The Association's activities ended on Wednesday after a general assembly in which Dr. J. C. Blair, State Department of Education, spoke to the group on "Opportunities for Youth."

The Association, sponsored by the Principals' Association of Secondary Schools, is eight years old. Beginning with a membership of 25 schools, it now totals 130 high schools. The highlight of all activities is the convention held each spring. At that time, elections are held and schools, not individuals, are elected. County Hospital Board Adopts 7-Point Program

At its meeting Monday of this week to consider location of the proposed Shelby County Hospital, the Hospital Board adopted what is almost exactly the general hospital and health program which was devised by the State Health Department for Shelby County in 1953.

There are seven parts to this overall program of hospital and health facilities which were approved by the Board in its meeting Monday, as follows:

1. A 35-bed hospital to be located in the Alabaster-Siluria area.
2. A 20-bed hospital to be located in the Columbiana area.
3. A diagnostic center at Vincent.
4. A 30-bed nursing home for white people (location to be selected later).
5. A 20-bed nursing home for Negroes (location to be selected later).
6. A 15-bed unit for the care of chronic disease patients in connection with the hospital in the Alabaster-Siluria area.
7. A 14-bed unit for care of chronic disease patients in connection with the hospital in the Columbiana area.

Mr. Dean of the State Health Department met with the Hospital Board.

By taking the recommendation of the State Health Department, the Shelby County Hospital Board has thus set up a long-range program, which, when completed, will adequately serve the needs of the people of Shelby County in hospitalization, clinical diagnosis and nursing care.

This program, it is naturally assumed, will be gradually accomplished, step by step, as the Hospital Board will determine as proper and most feasible.

Many details yet remain to be worked out, such as specific locations in the general areas designated for the different units of the program; when the different units can be built and the order in which they will be undertaken.

A fairly reasonable guess is that the first step in accomplishing the program will be the building of the proposed 35-bed hospital in the Alabaster-Siluria area, and that work on it should be ready to start in about a year from now.

Corporate Tax Increase

In the Special Election called by the governor for Aug. 28, 1956, there will be submitted for ratification or rejection a Constitutional Amendment which will increase the Corporate Income Tax from 3% to 5% for general state purposes. There is an Enabling Act of the Legislature earmarking these funds for education if the amendment is adopted, but a simple act of the Legislature could alter this, and so what we are actually writing into the State Constitution is a tax for general state purposes.

Although this newspaper supported the Goodwyn Amendment which the voters of this state defeated soundly, we would hardly think that it is the better part of wisdom to adopt any sort of a tax in this extravagant administration under which we are now having to live. Moreover, in the light of new facts which we now have, it is doubtful whether the schools actually need more funds.

These figures reveal that Alabama has ample funds to operate our school system. We do not need more funds for schools. What we need to do is to plow up and plant over our Department of Education and get people into office who are capable of administering the funds already available.

Here are the facts:

In 1938-'39 there were 691,319 children enrolled in the Public Schools of Alabama. The appropriation to Education at that time was $11,562,000. In 1952 there were less children enrolled in the Public Schools in Alabama than there were in 1939, and yet the appropriation to Education by the state was $84,793,574.12. In the current year of 1956 there are only 732,724 children enrolled in the Public Schools of Alabama, and the funds available to Education this year amounted to $110-500,000—just a few more students since 1939 are enrolled, and yet there is an appropriation of nearly $100,000,000 more today than they had in 1939. According to the estimates for next year Education will have available $102,-914,000.

We do not need any more taxes in Alabama for General State purposes, nor for Educational purposes.

What we need in Alabama is to bring in more industry, so that our economy may be better stabilized. But we will never induce new industry into Alabama by raising corporate taxes.

At the present time our tax structure on Corporations is slightly lower than in our neighboring states, which means that if we leave it where it is and defeat the pending Amendment our chances for inducing new industry will be better.

In Alabama the present tax rate on corporate income is 3.00%. In Tennessee it is 3.75%. In Georgia it is 5.5%; in Mississippi they have a graduated tax of 2% on the first $5,000 and 6% on all over $25,000; in Florida there is none at all. We now have the advantage of three of our neighbors from a tax standpoint in inducing new industry into Alabama if we keep things as they are now but if we increase our corporate tax we may step from the balcony of advantage into the pit of disappointment. — Union Springs Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Popwell visited in Birmingham Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ketchersid.

Proposed Amendment Attacked As Illegal

The proposed "freedom of choice" amendment, if adopted, would bring us a dangerous piece of legislation.

The assignment law, under which our elementary and high schools successfully functioned last year, without any integration, though containing no provision about race, gave a broad authority to boards of education, so that they would have the "final" judgment in determining the interest of the child or children as to entrance into a particular school, and to separate pupils on basis of recognized principles of education, such as different home environments, community factors, established ties with teachers, etc.

Under the proposed amendment, that authority would be taken away from school boards, and placed in the parents or guardians, who could simply make the "choice" for entrance into schools—Negro parents, as well as white parents.

That part of the proposed amendment restricting certain schools for members of their own "race" would be eliminated by federal courts, because it conflicts with Supreme Court decision of 1954. The whole school system in Alabama would be open for Negroes and whites alike simply on "choice" of parents, boards of education no longer having superior authority as to entrance.

Letter to The Editor

Editor Wyatt:

Somehow it seems incongruous to see a large sign advertising "GOOD SCHOOLS FROM NURSERY THROUGH COLLEGE" such as at entrance to Montevallo, with NEAR spelled NERE, ZONED spelled ZONNED, and another mispelled word on one at least.

However, I was educated before progressive education took the day. Maybe spelling isn't important anymore.

GRAND JURY REPORT

The grand jury of the Shelby County Circuit Court presented the following report to Judge A. L. Hardegree on August 7:

We have investigated 25 cases and we return into court 21 indictments, 14 of which are for felonies and the rest charge misdemeanors.

We have examined audits of the accounts of various public officials prepared by examiners of the State Department of Examiners of Public Accounts as follows: The Circuit Court, Criminal and Civil Division; The County Court; Circuit Court in Equity; Office of the Sheriff; County Board of Education and Custodian of County School Funds; Justice of the Peace, Beat 11.

There are no exceptions indicated in any of these reports save that audit of the Justice of the Peace mentioned above. We have been informed by the Solicitor that the discrepancies have been adjusted and therefore we have taken no action. All other reports indicated that the duties of the officials involved have been performed in a creditable manner and we commend them for the evidence of work well done as shown by these reports.

All of our number have visited the county jail. We found it to be clean and sanitary. Prisoners told us that they were well cared for and that the food was adequate and of good quality. It is our judgment that the jail is adequate for the safe keeping of the prisoners confined therein.

We have been told by the Judge of Probate of pending repairs and alterations to be made on the old courthouse. Work is to be done on the roof; some of the floors are to be replaced and the courtroom is to be modernized. We aprove of this work that has been planned.

A committee from our number has examined the courthouse, the annex and the grounds. This property was found to be in an excellent state of cleanliness and we commend the persons responsible for maintaining this public property. In their examination the committee noted several need repairs and we join them in calling the following to the attention to the county officials; In the office of the tax assessor we noticed that a transformer in one of the light fixtures made a loud and unpleasant sound. Those working in this office, in answer to inquiry, stated that the light had been that way for some time and that it did constitute a nuisance. The lavatory in this office was about to fall from the wall and the floor in this part of the building is in bad repair. We recommend that when the alterations are made to the Court room that more comfortable chairs be provided for the jury box.

We also recommend that an office directory be installed in the lobby of the courthouse and that all offices be numbered on the doors and that the numbers also be listed on the directory. We think that a lavatory and mirror should be installed in the basement of the courthouse. We noticed two broken window lights in the annex on the third floor and a broken glass in the door of the Clerks office. We suggest that these be repaired. The woodwork on the outside of the courthouse is in need of a coat of paint for its protection against the weather. Some benches in the corridors of the courthouse have nails sticking out. We suggest that this be remedied. A wooden cabinet and pieces of plank have been accumulated in the balcony of the courtroom. If they are of no value we suggest that they be removed.

We consider that both a men's and a ladies' rest room should be left open for use by the public in the ground floor of the annex. This is a fine building, one of which the entire county should be proud and we feel that its facilities should be made more available to the public. In our judgment there is a definite need for these facilities and certainly they would be more convenient than those rest rooms presently being used.

We have by committee examined the offices of our public officials. We find that the duties of our offices are receiving proper attention. Nothing was reported by any official for grand jury action. A more detailed examination we have left to the employees of the State of Alabama charged with this responsibility.

Mr. E. B. Lyon, our bailiff, has been courteous and attentive. We thank him for his assistance.

In closing we would like to pay our respects to Your Honor and express our appreciation for the impressive charge that we received from the Court as we entered into the performance of our duties. We have endeavored to fulfill our responsibilities in the manner directed by the Court. All of us were impressed with the serious nature of our duties by the remarks of the Court.

Now having performed our duties we request that we be discharged subject to recall by the Court.

This the 7th day of August, 1956.

Jehovah's Witnesses Hold District Assembly

Jehovah's witnesses from this area have returned from a four-day District Assembly which was held in the Alabama State Coliseum in Montgomery, August 9 through 12.

Louis H. Driver, presiding minister of the local congregation, said 7,892 were in attendance to hear the main lecture, "Why Permanent Peace Will Come In Our Day," delivered by W. C. Couch, convention executive director and Southern District Minister of Jehovah's Witnesses.

He told the delegates: "Since the dawn of creation, mankind has sought permanent peace. God's word promises that man one day will have peace. Fulfillment of Bible Prophecies, " He went on, "proves that this permanent peace will come in our generation by means of God's long prayed-for Kingdom, which will 'break in pieces and consume' all these present Kingdoms of the Earth."

The convention, one of more than 100 held world wide, was termed a complete success. 198 were baptized in a mass baptism ceremony Saturday.

Another highlight of the convention was the passage of a resolution to be sent to Soviet leaders urging release from Russia prison camps of Jehovah's Witnesses now being held because of their preaching which is banned in Communist countries.

Would you trade 20 minutes of your time for a saving of hundreds?

August is Saving Season at your Ford Dealer's. Bag a deal while he clears his decks for the '57 models.

Why put off the fun of a Ford Test Drive for a single day? As you know, it puts you under absolutely no obligation. And it may save you literally hundreds of dollars—we'll get to that a little further on.

By a Test Drive we mean more than a once-around-the-block "spin."

We want you to test the power that rocketed Ford to a 500-mile stock car record at Indianapolis . . . the GO that won the grand prize at NASCAR's Daytona Championships. We want you to feel how this Ford scat pays off in your kind of driving: in traffic, passing on the highway, getting going at traffic lights. We'll put either a Ford Six or a mighty V-8 with up to 225 h.p. at your disposal.

We want you to drive and listen—drive and feel.

That fine-car quiet results from sound insulation under the hood, under the roof, in door and body panels—the most insulation in any car at anywhere near Ford's low price.

Some other things that contribute to that smooth, silent, luxury-car ride are things which Ford's leading competitor certainly can't boast: Ball-Joint suspension with wide base control arms for better steering, more stabilized wheel alignment . . . shock absorbers that are mounted to the frame rather than the body.

"Sure," you'll say as you drive along the road. "Feels pretty good—but after all, this car is new."

Well sir, when you come in from your drive we'll show you why Ford will stay like new for a long, long time.

We'll show you how Ford has five cross-members (including a "K" member) in its frame. Ford's leading competitor only has two. We'll show you the deep-block Y-like engine design which enables Ford engines to take it.

Now—what you've been waiting for. How can you save hundreds of dollars by taking a Ford Test Drive?

Simply by proving to yourself that there really is a fine car in the low-price field.

You see, the reason a Ford does not cost hundreds of dollars more than it does, is Ford's huge production and the huge volume which we Ford Dealers sell.

But enough of this talk. Come in. And you do the driving and the talking. Bring the family, too.

NOW! A FORD with AIR CONDITIONING costs less than many medium-priced cars without it. TRY ONE TODAY! Based on a comparison of suggested list prices.

FORD goes first

Elections to au- the levy of such addi- tax or taxes may be held as n as ordered by the gov- g body of either the City of Auburn or the City of Opelika, but when a proposition is submitted to the electors of either of these cities to levy such additional tax for public school purposes, and such proposition is defeated, than no second election shall be held in such city for one year thereafter."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 28th day of August 1956 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 28th day of August 1956 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives hereinabove set forth."

NOTICE

An important amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama is to be considered and voted on by the voters on Aug. 28, 1956. The amendment, known as the three-way school bill, if passed will kill the law now on statute book segregating our schools. The Calera Citizens Council urges all voters to vote against said amendment, and keep our segregated school law in the Alabama Constitution.

More Taxes Are NOT Needed in Alabama Now!

Vote "NO" on Amendment No. 1

August 28th

Voters of our State have been proved right in their rejection of the tax-raising Goodwyn Amendment last December 6th, in spite of threats that our schools would close if it failed to pass. Our schools did NOT close and they won't. Meanwhile teachers' salary raises have been put into force.

School Taxes Show Sensational Gains

Tax collections from key levies which support Alabama schools are almost $19 million ahead of collections during the first ten months of the 1954-55 fiscal year.

Commenting on soaring school revenues, widely-read columnist Hugh Sparrow wrote August 2nd in The Birmingham News:

"What this means to the general public is that sufficient funds will be collected this year to pay the educational appropriations in full. Furthermore it probably means there will be a surplus on hand when the State's fiscal year ends Sept. 30, 1956. For parents and school teachers it should be an assurance that teachers will keep their $600 a year pay boost indefinitely and that schools should get a good start at the beginning of the next school term."

In brief, there is far less reason now to raise taxes than eight months ago when the Goodwyn Amendment was overwhelmingly defeated.

And remember this—Amendment No. 1 is NOT an added tax on "corporations only." It's a pass-it-on Tax Amendment that all the people of Alabama would finally pay.

Vote August 28th as you did last December 6th AGAINST MORE TAXES that are not needed now in Alabama.

Report of Negro Summer Recreation

The official date for closing was June 11, 1956, but we have never waited for it to begin or close to begin or end our program.

The program of activities in Montevallo began early in May and will probably end for us when school opens.

More interest by adults increase each year as we try to find the things they like. Our talent nights for adults filled the gymnasium several times this summer, while many visited our swimming place and took part wading and swimming.

Several activities for night programs on the creek had to be cancelled because no lights have been installed.

We are sincerely hoping that by next year lights will be placed there so more of our night programs on the Creek may be carried out.

The games for small children were interesting to adults so much that they participated.

The little leaguers and softball teams made several visits. We won some games and lost some.

Our girls softball team will play the "Mohawks" of Tuscaloosa two more games before they close for the year.

Our attendance has increased very much over last year, it is as follows:

The last month (second half), 1,242, gymnasium at night; 790 swimming; 1,660, playground; making a total of 3,692.

The first month's total was 3,028, making a total of 6,720 tota alttendance for two months period.

We feel very proud of the interest that was shown in our community this year in trying to discard juvenile delinquency, and we are hoping that each year will bring with it greater improvements for our youth.

Statistics Are Misleading Says Health Officer

A new release by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Health Department, last week demonstrates the misleading possibilities of statistics.

This news item asserted that there had been 2 deaths from Tuberculosis in Shelby County this year. This statement, while correct up to a point, is not entirely in accord with a recent statement by your County Health Officer.

Both of the deaths referred to were in young Negro women. One of these was a resident of Birmingham and actually worked at one of the hospitals there until she became bedridden. After a time, when it appeared that she was not going to get well, her husband deserted her and she came to Shelby County to stay with her parents.

One of our midwives who lived in the community, told us that this woman was confined to her bed, had not had a doctor, and her appearance suggested Tuberculosis. The County Health Nurse went out to see her and found her too weak to come in for an X-ray. The Nurse, therefore, left containers to get sputum for examination. These specimens were all positive for Tubercle Bacilli and the woman died, with no treatment, about the time the reports were received from the laboratory.

In the other case the woman was diagnosed as having active Tuberculosis in the County Tuberculosis Clinic. Every effort was made to get her under treatment. She steadfastly refused to take treatment at home or to go to the Sanatorium. She is now dead, although treatment was readily available to her.

Shelby County, however, is charged with both deaths.—Dr. E. E. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Children Entering School Must Have Birth Certificates

Birth certificates are required of all children who enter the first grade in September. Mr. W. W. Elliott, superintendent of Shelby County Schools, pointed out that the state law says that any child who is six years old on or before October 1, 1956 may enter the first grade provided he has a birth certificate.

Parents who do not have birth certificates for their children may get them from the Shelby County Health Department provided the child was born in Shelby County. If the child was born in another county in Alabama, write the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Health Department, Montgomery, Alabama. Applications for the certificates may be obtained from the Shelby County Health Department. If the application is made at once, the birth certificate will be ready to take to school on the opening day Tuesday, Sept. 4.

Mr. Elliott also suggests that parents see that their children have had the necessary immunization shots. The County Health Department recommends that children have the D. P. T. (Diphtheria-Whooping Cough-Tetanus) shots and the smallpox shots. These can be given by your family doctor or the County Health Doctor in Columbiana.

Alabama Has Low Death Rate and High Birth Rate

Alabama's pattern of a relatively low death rate and a high birth rate was maintained in 1955, the State Health Department said today.

Upwards of three times more live births were recorded than deaths last year. The provisional totals, compiled by the Department's bureau of vital statistics, were 81,217 live births and 26,188 deaths. The death figure does not include stillbirths.

Improvement Assn. Outlines Industrial Rise

A dream of industrial expansion in the Coosa-Alabama River Basin has been outlined by the Coosa-Alabama River Improvement Association, Inc.

In a brochure just off the press, the association reviewed the history of efforts to develop the Coosa-Alabama River System. It also looked into the future to predict what will happen with the addition of new navigation locks, hydro-electric dams, and a nine-foot channel for navigation from Mobile, Alabama to Rome, Georgia.

The Coosa-Alabama system, the booklet declared, is designated by the U. S. Government as one of the ten most important undeveloped rivers in the United States.

Definite plans are now in the making, the association pointed out, to assure barge navigation from Mobile to Rome, and ample hydro-electric power to take care of the expected expansion of industry in the river basin.

School Finances

Public education in Alabama will face a deficit next year of over 8¾ million dollars according to estimated Education Trust Fund taxes next year by Mr. W. L. Horn on August 13. Mr. Horn estimated the Education Trust Fund receipts at $102,817,000. Educational appropriations against these receipts total $111,742,000.

Amendment No. 1, if ratified August 28, will remove approximately $6,000,000 of that deficit. The ratification of this amendment will require corporations to pay the same tax rate that individuals and other business operators now pay.

Corporations are now paying only 3/5ths of the tax rate that other business operators and individuals pay on taxable income of $5,000 or more. Amendment No. 1 would move the corporations up to the maximum 5% along with the rest of us.

The additional State income tax will be exempted from the Federal income tax and 85% of the corporations will save 52 cents in Federal tax out of each additional $1 paid in State income tax, if Amendment No. 1 is ratified. 15% of the corporations will save at least 30 cents in Federal tax on each $1 over State income tax.

Education budget requests have been reduced $15,000,000 in order to balance the budget this year. $14,360,000 this year is coming from a one-time surplus and one-time income tax windfalls that will not be available from these sources next year.

Alabama does not have any school building program to take care of the increased enrollment that is expected to enter school at the rate of approximately 20,000 annually over and above previous enrollments as long as the birth rate continues to be 20,000 over the birth rate prior to 1942.

The State Revenue Department estimates for the Education Trust Fund this year total $106,313,000 plus $4,360,000 surplus brought over from last year to total $110,673,000 to meet appropriations totaling $110,800,000.

Major items reduced in the appropriations to balance the budget this year included $6,600,000 for school buildings, $6,000,000 Minimum Program Fund to relieve overcrowding and provide urgently needed building maintenance, $447,000 for State-owned textbooks, and cuts to vocational education, trade schools, and colleges. Schools are in dire need for funds to meet appropriations and to provide for increasing enrollments and these needs justify urging every voter to vote for Amendment No. 1 to place corporations on the income tax maximum rate that everybody else is already paying. It is a matter of record that General Motors Corporation last year showed a profit over and above all taxes of over one billion dollars. Certainly, the corporation tax dollar that will be earned in the future partly because of education should be required to pay at least the same income tax maximum rate that everybody else already pays.—A. R. Meadows, State Superintendent of Education.

From San Francisco:

Another NAACP-ADA Defeat

(By Grover C. Hall, Jr., in The Montgomery Advertiser)

The NAACP and the Americans for Democratic Action have found themselves in plowed ground from Chicago to San Francisco. They are going away from both conventions mad. For, taking the Democratic and Republican civil rights programs together, the sum is a net loss to the NAACP and associate fire bugs.

True it is that both planks bristle and portend challenges to the ingenuity of Southern evasion. Any Southern politician who blessed a single sentence, period or comma in either of the planks would embrace doom.

Nevertheless neither of the two planks is as strong as was expected.

First and foremost is the fact that neither party this year endorsed a federal cop Fair Employment Practices Commission to compel private business to hire persons not wanted.

This seems reactionary to the NAACP and ADA because in 1952, the Democratic plank specifically called for enactment of an FECP. The 1952 Republican plank did not call for an FECP.

Second, despite the threats and entreaties of the NAACP and ADA, neither party would register opposition to Senate Rule 22, which is the filibuster shield of the South.

Both in Chicago and San Francisco these were the two additions to the two party planks sought by the NAACP, ADA and such collaborators as Walter Reuther, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Senator Herbert Lehman, Senator Paul Douglas, Mayor Robert Wagner of New York, et al.

In Chicago—oddly the story got very little attention even in the Chicago press despite a dramatic open meeting in the Congress Hotel—the inflamed Walter Reuther, a proprietor of the Democratic Party, went so far as to complain that the platform committee would not even talk to them after the regular sessions and walled themselves off with cops in the towers of the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

When the Republican plank was released here, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, and Joseph Rauh, ADA chairman, popped a testy verdict on the press bulletin board: "On balance . . . . a thin shade stronger" than the Democratic plank.

Why did the Republicans tip their foil with a rose? It seems plain that an appeal over the heads of the platform drafting comittee to the White House accomplished a modification, for previously the Republicans had been sneering at the "weasel" work of the Democrats in Chicago.

The appeal for a milder dose was made in behalf of the two Republican candidates for the Senate in Kentucky and the incumbent congressmen in Virginia, Texas, North Carolina and Florida.

The Democrats steeped the Southern galls in honey in order to be certain of Southern electoral votes in the presidential election. The Republicans have but modest hopes for Southern electoral votes, but they wish to hold and expand their congressional foothold.

There is a lesson in this for the South, if it is not too angry to read it. This Republican plank shows the consideration that can be won from the GOP when the South invites arm's length bids.

It is depressing to see that another third party wheeze has started in Alabama.

Anybody with a fragmentary knowledge of American history knows that of the dozens of splinter parties that have been organized, only one—the Republican Party—has amounted to anything, and in more cases than otherwise, third parties have actually favored the party they sought to drag down.

A third party in Alabama this year is no more than a vacuum in which the aimless may sputter.

It is not linked to any Southern splinter movement and can scarcely throw the election of a president into the House of Representatives. But even if there were enough Southern throw-away electoral votes to force the election into the House, the President eventually elected would not be more satisfactory in his civil rights views than Eisenhower or Stevenson. —GCH.

A VOTE FOR AMENDMENT NO. 1 IS A VOTE FOR THE FUTURE OF OUR CHILDREN!

WHAT IT IS . . . An amendment to the constitution authorizing a net income tax not exceeding 5% on all corporations doing business in Alabama.

WHY IT IS NEEDED . . . To insure that the children of Alabama will have an adequate school program in the future. The figures:

State appropriations for education 1956-57	$111,742,435.50
Estimated net receipts earmarked for education	102,917,000.00
(Estimate by Alabama Commissioner of Revenue)
Deficit in Special Education Trust Fund	$ 8,825,435.50

WHERE WILL THE MONEY GO? The proceeds from the tax are specifically marked, "to be used for payment of public school teachers salaries only."

IT EQUALIZES THE INCOME TAX BURDEN . . . All individuals and non-corporate businesses in Alabama NOW pay 5% on net income of $5000 or more. Amendment No. 1 proposes that as of January 1, 1956, corporation net income tax be raised from 3% to not to exceed 5%; the same rate that individuals and non-corporate businesses are presently paying.

Vote YES ☒ for Amendment No. 1 on August 28

KENDRA KOCHMAN HAS FIRST BIRTHDAY PARTY

Kendra Kochman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Kochman of Montevallo, celebrated her 1st birthday anniversary Sunday, August 19. At a party given by her mother and two older sisters, Andrea and Deirdre, Kendra and her guests, Debbie Pendleton, Jeanne Bailey, and Doris Montgomery were a very busy little group of crawlers, and toddlers. A picture was taken of the honor guest and her birthday cake with its one candle. After the mothers and their small daughters were served cake and ice cream, the wee guests were "on the go" while Andrea, Deirdre, Mary Joe Lowery and Stanley Bailey were served. The opening of gifts proved quite exciting for all. Each little girl with her party favor, a blue teething ring, was taken for a stroll by the older children. Mothers and the one grandmother present, Mrs. W. E. Montgomery, had a cup of coffee before party guests were taken home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Baer, Phil and Howard, visited in Birmingham and "Kiddy Land", Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Rose Rakes Smitherman is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otha Rakes this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen H. Griffith of Birmingham, and Mrs. Robin D. Smith III and son, Michael, of Tifton, Ga., visited Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Ray Wednesday of last week.

This GMC has "muscles" unsurpassed in its class!

The simple facts speak for themselves.

This new GMC 250-8 has 180 V8 horsepower standard. No other truck in its class comes even close to that.

The extra power delivers 276 foot-pounds of truck-propelling torque. Over-the-road truckers call it "guts" – and this GMC's got up to 33% more than the others.

It's at the top of the heap in frame-strength, too. In fact, there's as much as 10% more "muscle" in its chassis than you'll find in comparable trucks.

And there's more. For this rugged GMC has 3500 lb. front axles and 7200 lb. rear – unsurpassed in its weight-bracket. It has extra-size brakes and springs.

Add it all up and you can see what GMC Blue Chip stamina really means. Especially when you team it with a GMC's dependable performance and Hydra-Matic* savings.

For here's a truck that not only delivers the goods at lowest cost – but keeps delivering long after an ordinary truck would have faded out.

Come in and find out about having one start work for you! Optional at extra cost*

It's Time to Stop
Alabama's Tax Spending Spree
Vote "NO" on Amendment No. 1
August 28th

Since pre-war 1940 State of Alabama tax collections have increased from about $50 million to $190 million—or nearly fourfold.

In the past 18 months of "Folsomism," more new and increased taxes have been added than in any like period in Alabama's history.

Now it is proposed through Amendment No. 1 to "increase the tax on corporations" from 3% to 5% and milk about $5,500,000 more from the pockets of the people.

A Tax on All the People

Amendment No. 1 is another thinly disguised tax on all the people. Just as the gasoline tax is passed on to the man who drives a car . . . the cigarette tax to the man who smokes . . . taxes on utilities to those who use electricity and gas—so would this so-called "corporation tax" increase filter down to those who buy what Alabama industries and businesses produce or sell.

You can depend on it—you will find this tax increase hidden in the price of coal and other fuels that you buy to heat your home, in the cost of your fire insurance, in many food products on your grocers' shelves—and many more commodities that make the cost of living so high today.

The time has come again when we, the people, must say a positive "No" to Alabama's tax raising—tax spending program, as we did last December on the Goodwyn Amendment. We don't need any more taxes in Alabama now. We can't afford to pay more taxes to support a State Government that has gone on a hog-wild tax spending spree and padded the pockets of political friends with our hard earned dollars.

Vote against any more increased taxes in Alabama now!

THIS AMENDMENT IS ENDORSED AND SUPPORTED BY VARIOUS MUNICIPAL GOVERNING BODIES, CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS, CLUBS, HAMILTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, AND COUNTY BOARD OF REVENUE OF MARION COUNTY. WE EARNESTLY SOLICIT YOUR SUPPORT. PLEASE VOTE "YES."

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 28th day of August 1956, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The Cities of Auburn and Opelika, each, shall have, in addition to the power to levy and collect ad valorem taxes at the rate of one and one-half per centum (1½%) as provided for in Amendment VIII of this Constitution, the further power to levy and collect each year an additional tax or taxes to such extent that the total ad valorem tax rate of either of these cities shall not exceed two per centum (2%) in any one year on the property situated in such city based on the valuation of such property as assessed for state taxation during the preceding year; provided, however, that all additional ad valorem tax or taxes levied and collected by either the City of Auburn or the City of Opelika in excess of one and one-half per centum (1½%) shall be levied and collected solely for public school purposes and may be pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds, warrants, and other evidences of indebtedness issued for public school purposes, which pledge shall take priority as provided in such bonds, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness, and provided, further, that before any such additional tax or taxes may be so levied and collected a majority of the qualified electors of the city voting at an election called for that purpose shall vote in favor of the levy thereof, and provided, further, that the total ad valorem tax or taxes to be levied and collected by either of these cities shall not exceed two per centum (2%) in any one year. Each election held under the provisions hereof shall be ordered, held, canvassed and may be contested in the same manner as is or may be provided by the law applicable to municipal corporations for elections to authorize the issuance of municipal bonds. The ballots used at such elections shall specify that the proposed additional rate of taxation shall be authorized for public school purposes only and may be pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds, warrants, and other evidences of indebtedness, issued for public school purposes, which pledge shall take priority as provided in such bonds, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness, and shall contain the words "For ___% additional rate of taxation"; and "Against ___% additional rate of taxation"; the additional rate of taxation proposed to be shown in the blank space provided therefor. The voter shall record his choice, whether for or against the additional rate shown, by placing a cross before or after the words expressing his choice. The proceeds of any such ad valorem tax or taxes in excess of one and one-half per centum (1½%) so authorized at any such election shall be used only for public school purposes and may be pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds, warrants, and other evidences of indebtednes issued for public school purposes, which pledge shall take priority as provided in such bonds, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness, as authorized at such election. Elections to authorize the levy of such additional tax or taxes may be held from time to time as ordered by the governing body of either the City of Auburn or the City of Opelika, but when a proposition is submitted to the electors of either of these cities to levy such additional tax for public school purposes, and such proposition is defeated, than no second election shall be held in such city for one year thereafter."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 28th day of August 1956 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 28th day of August 1956 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

"Any provision of the constitution or laws of the state of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, Marion County shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest-bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty percent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by Subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the county or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county taxes are levied and collected. "8. To construct a dam or system of dams, and to acquire a site or sites therefor, on any public stream flowing within the county for the purpose of impounding waters to be used in irrigation projects, or in generating hydroelectric power, or in providing recreational facilities, or for other purposes, and to accept any funds by way of gift, grant, or loan from the federal government, or any agency or instrumentailty thereof, for the purpose of constructing such dam or system of dams.

"9. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"10. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of Marion County may imposed, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the judge of probate or the secretary of state, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon the county.

The bonds, warrants, notes, or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of Marion County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such county under section 224 of the constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in section 215 of the constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives hereinabove set forth."

Senator Boutwell Gives Digest of Amendment No. 2

On Tuesday, August 28th we vote in Alabama one of the most vital and urgent amendments that has ever been submitted to the people of our State.

This is Amendment No. 2 to preserve segregation in our public schools and save our Southern way of life. On the outcome of the vote on this amendment will depend the preservation of our State's school system, the maintenance of opportunity for every white child—rich and poor—to enjoy the benefits of a good education, and the ability of our State to block federal efforts to mongrelize our schools.

It is not necessary to warn any white audience in Alabama of the catastrophe that would follow school integration in our State. Bloodshed or mixed blood would come if white and colored were forced together in our schools as the N.A.A.C.P. now seeks to do under the U. S. Supreme Court mandate.

With the beginning of this school term next September, only a few short weeks away, we are confronted by the stark fact that the N.A.A.C.P. will seek to force integration in public schools in Alabama, under the Supreme Court decision. At the meeting of this subversive organization in New York, it was announced through the press that legal action to force integration in the public schools of Mobile County would be taken this September. It can be expected that like action will be taken in other counties here in the near future.

If ratified by the people of our State, Amendment No. 2 will put the power in the hands of our elected representatives in the Legislature to block any action on any front that the N.A.A.C.P. or other agitators may take.

Since the end of Reconstruction Days, our Alabama State Constitution has provided that:

"Separate schools shall be provided for white and colored children and no children of either race shall be permitted to attend a school of the other race."

This section of our State Constitution was struck down and rendered null and void by the U. S. Supreme Court in its infamous decision on black Monday, May 17th, 1954. In this decision the Supreme Court swept aside all past rulings to the effect that separate but equal facilities for each race met requirements of the U. S. Constitution.

It is tragic but true that decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court override provisions of our State Constitution. Hence the provision for separate schools in our State Constitution is now a dead letter.

The situation that we in Alabama now face is this: Under our present Alabama Constitution we are helpless and defenseless. We have no legal safeguards by which we can insure the maintenance of segregation in our schools and defeat the efforts of the N.A.A.C.P. and other agitators to force integration through federal courts.

In brief, under our State Constitution as it stands today, strongly financed N.A.A.C.P. can bring a suit against the school authorities in any Alabama county or municipality to compel admission of negro children to white schools. When they bring such a suit, school authorities who refuse to comply are liable to civil damages and criminal prosecution. The School Placement Bill gives some measure of protection, but until changes are made, our State Constitution can no longer insure the full protection that is urgently needed to prevent integraion.

The School Placement Bill and Amendment No. 2—both prepared by an able committee of constitutional lawyers appointed by the Alabama Bar Association — are companion measures. They supplement each other. Together they give us the full legal authority we must have to stop integration and the chain of disastrous consequences that would follow its compulsory enforcement by federal decree.

To arm our State with full authority to meet all efforts of the N.A.A.C.P. to force integration in our public schools, our Legislature appointed a committee in September, 1953, to make a thorough study of the problem. This committee's task was to recommend ways and means by which we could maintain segregation, regardless of outside interference or Federal action.

The beloved J. Miller Bonner of Wilcox County, known in the Legislature as "Mr. Segregationist", whose county is almost 90% colored and who is the only Senator to have ever been elected 7 times, was the author of this resolution. Legislators named to serve with him were: Senator Herbert Byars of Hale County in the heart of the Black Belt; Senator Albert Boutwell of Jefferson County who was born in Montgomery and reared in Butler County, as chairman; Ira D. Pruitt, Representative from Sumter County; Robert Kendall, Representative of Conecuh County and Jack Gallalee of Mobile County—all from South Alabama where the problem is most acute.

Recognizing that many complicated constitutional legal questions were involved, this committee of the Legislature asked the Alabama Bar Association to appoint a committee of lawyers to work with them in drafting the needed Constitutional Amendment and enabling legislation. The Bar Association named Jos. F. Johnston, Birmingham, grandson of a former Alabama Governor and United States Senator; Gessner T. McCorvey, Mobile, long time chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee and also a supporter of segregation; J. Kirkman Jackson, Birmingham, and Norman Harris of Decatur, also lifetime staunch segregation advocates.

This committee devoted many months to study of the problem They called into consultation many other leading lawyers. It completed its report—a report that has served as the pattern for many other Southern States—on October 18, 1956. Amendment Number 2, recommended by this report was unanimously approved by the State Senate and passed the House with only three opposition votes. On July 21, 1956 it was unanimously endorsed and recommended for approval of the people of Alabama by the State Bar Association at its annual meeting in Birmingham. In its resolution endorsing Amendment No. 2, the Bar Association stated.

"Be it Resolved by the Alabama State Bar in convention assembled in Birmingham, Alabama, on the 21st day of July, 1956, that proposed amendment No. 2 to the Constitution of the State of Alabama, know nas "The freedom of choice amendment" is hereby approved;

Be it further resolved that this association urge and promote its adoption to the end that segregation in the schools of Alabama may be maintained in a lawful and orderly manner; and

Be it further resolved that the voters of the State of Alabama are urged to support the adoption of said amendment."

What does Amendment No. 2 do and why is it urgently needed now?

First, Amendment No. 2 authorizes the Attorney-General of Alabama to defend any and all suits that may be brought by the N.A.A.C.P. or other outside agitators against State, County and City school authorities who refuse to open their white schools to negro students.

This is necessary to give our school authorities State-financed legal help to fight all types of court orders, civil suits or criminal prosecution. Individuals or school boards would be financially unable to employ counsel to represent them against court orders or suits of N.A.A.C.P. attorneys with limitless funds at their disposal. These school authorities, who would be fighting our battles to preserve segregation, are entitled to the backing and support of the State of Alabama in their stand.

Second, Amendment No. 2 confers judicial powers on all members of State school boards, state boards of education, county school boards and city school boards, and all superintendents of schools, school officials and employees throughout Alabama.

Clothing school officials with judicial power would provide them with additional safeguards in defense of their actions, since judges cannot be sued or prosecuted for their decisions.

Third, Amendment No. 2 establishes a basic principle of "freedom of choice" for any child to attend a school of its own race. It does not provide for any freedom of choice for a negro child to attend a white school nor a white child to attend a negro school. The old provision in our State Constitution makes separation of the races a matter of law rather than choice. This new provision, in the opinion of leading lawyers, is absolutely necessary to operate public schools within the framework of the distorted U. S. Supreme Court decision. It makes every school child's right of admission an individual case, based on not only its choice, but on all factors that may be taken into consideration by local authorities in placing a child in a particular school.

Fourth, Amendment No. 2 gives the power to the Legislature as a last resort to abolish any public school which may be compelled to integrate, and substitute therefor, a private segregated school operated with a subsidy from the State. Such a segregated school might be operated by any type of non-profit charitable corporation or association organized under the laws of Alabama. It would permit the Legislature to use any number of plans which may be necessary to avoid mixing of the races in our schools.

In view of the other strong provisions in Amendment No. 2, it is not anticipated that the Legislature will ever have to resort to this final last ditch stand. But if and when this final emergency should arise, it would have this weapon cocked and ready for instant and effective use.

It should be borne in mind that if and when the U. S. Supreme Court or any federal court should order integration in any school in Alabama, it would by this action automatically abolish that school, since white citizens of our state will never under any circumstances send their boys and girls to schools where the races are mixed. Without this section of Amendment No. 2, providing for the use of other methods to insure an education for white children in an all white school, there would be no school . . . no way by which an education of white youth at public expense could be furnished in that particular county or school district.

This provision of Amendment No. 2 insures the same opportunity for children of poorer parents to obtain an education in an all white school as it does wealthy parents to send their children to expensive private schools.

Since there may be emergency cases in some school districts where private schools may have to be subsidized as a last resort by the State to preserve segregation, Amendment No. 2 permits State funds that are now earmarked for public schools to be used also for the broad purpose of giving an education to every child.

The final section of Amendment No. 2 makes its safeguards also available to Mobile County, whose school system operates under the Constitution slightly differently from other counties in our State.

To Sum It Up

Amendment No. 2 unties the hands of our State Legislature and gives it the authority so urgently needed to preserve segregation in every school in Alabama.

Amendment No. 2 provides means to insure an education in an all-white school for every white child in Alabama and an education in an all-negro school for every negro child in Alabama—rich or poor.

Amendment No. 2 preserves our State's educational system which could be wholly disrupted by attacks of the integration forces.

Amendment No. 2 protects our teacher's rights of tenure and their retirement system.

Amendment No. 2 makes no radical or revolutionary changes in our public school system.

Amendment No. 2 represents the best thought of the best authorities and staunchest segregation advocates in the State of Alabama.

It deserves the unqualified support of every Alabamian who believes in the customs and traditions of the South and the maintenance of separate schools for the white and colored races of our State.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

The British, said a highway expert recently, drive on the left hand side of the road, the Americans on the right, and the French favor the middle. The British, he continued, are willing to concede that an automobile is not as fast as a plane, but the French try to prove that it is. And this expert added that a great many Americans are apparently as skeptical as the French about a car's potential speed.

There is more here than meets the eye; more, that is, than a mere restatement of the well-known fact that driving habits differ in different countries. The heart of the matter is the difference between individuals when they get behind the wheel. There are undoubtedly a great many Frenchmen who never confuse a highway with a runway at an airport. And there are, despite our appalling traffic toll, many Americans who always drive safely.

But there are too many other Americans who never acquire the safe-driving habit. These motorists may be kind to old ladies and good to their families, but they're poison on the highway. They ignore the rules of the road, tear through stop signs, pass other cars on curves and hills, and operate generally as if the highway were their own backyard.

At night, especially, these free-wheeling drivers are a major threat to themselves and to every motorist and pedestrian on the road. They are dangerous enough during the day, when they can see what they're doing. But at night, when their vision is reduced by darkness, they are literally mayhem on the move.

Only a psychiatrist can explain why these drivers perform as they do. Who else can dredge up the reasons for such behaviour as passing stop signs and ignoring the light-reflecting markers that warn day and night of danger ahead? It could be, however, that if most of these maniacal motorists submitted to an analyst's couch, they would never get back to the driver's seat.

Constant alertness and safe driving habits on your part give you some protection against these highway hoodlums. You can increase this protection by working with your community for better and safer day-and-night highway marking.

Don't however, take anything for granted. Remember that the driver approaching you on the road has more than a gun pointed at you—he may be aiming 250 runaway horses right at your radiator.

Provisions of New Social Security Amendments Are Explained

Four very significant provisions are contained in the new Social Security Amendments signed by President Eisenhower on August 1, but the different provisions do not all take effect at the same time. This was announced today by J. W. Overstreet, Jr., District Manager of the Birmingham Social Security office, in response to many inquiries. Mr. Overstreet said these far-reaching changes apply particularly to women who are fifty years or older, to certain self-employed people who have not been covered by social security previously, and to disabled children over the age of eighteen.

Working women, wives of men receiving old-age insurance payments, and widows of insured workers can start getting monthly benefits at age 62. The dependent mother of an insured worker who dies leaving no spouse or child eligible for benefits, may also get benefits at 62. Payments for women who are already 62 and who qualify under the Amendments can begin with the November benefit checks, due early in December. Application must be made for these benefits.

Working women and wives who apply before age 65 will receive benefits at reduced rates, on a sliding scale. Benefits for widows and dependent mothers of insured deceased workers at age 62 will not be reduced.

Disability benefits at age 50 may be paid to workers who are totally disabled for substantial gainful work of any kind. Under the new law, these persons may get monthly disability payments beginning with July 1957. Mr. Overstreet emphasized that applications cannot be accepted for these disability payments before October 1, 1956.

To qualify for disability insurance payments, a worker must meet strict requirements as to the amount of work to his credit under social security. The definition of disability is the same as the one which has been in the law as one of the requirements for a disability freeze since 1954. The payments can be made only to a worker who has a disability which prevents him from engaging in any substantial gainful activity. The disability must have lasted at least 6 months, and must be expected to continue indefinitely.

To prevent duplication, the amount of any disability payment will be reduced if the beneficiary is receiving disability benefits from another Federal agency or under a State or Federal workmen's compensation law.

Many disabled persons over fifty have already filed applications designed to freeze their benefit level. It is not necessary for these persons to take any action at the present time because the social security office will notify them before June 1957 so that they may file applications for cash benefits.

A large group of people self-employed in certain professions was covered by the law for the first time. Self-employed lawyers, dentists, chiropractors, veterinarians, naturopaths, osteopaths, and optometrists will get social security credit and pay social security taxes on their earnings for taxable years that end after 1955. Doctors of medicine are now the only self-employed people who as a group are not covered by social security.

The Amendments made it possible for a new group of dependents— "disabled children over 18"—to receive social security payments based on the earnings of a retired or deceased parent. The "children" eligible for benefits under this provision may be of any age at the present time, provided they are unmarried, that they became totally disabled before they were age 18, and that they have remained totally disabled ever since. These benefits are effective with January 1957.

A representative of the Birmingham Social Security office is at the U. S. Employment Office in Calera every Wednesday between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

Sam Jackson dropped by the other day. Sam says he's plannin' to harvest some of his trees for the paper mill, and wondered how to go about it. I told him tree farmers who sell to the pulpwood market usually cut their logs into lengths of about five feet. Most mills won't take wood that's less than four inches in diameter at the small end. The largest diameter wood they'll take depends on the individual mill. Before you do any harvesting, it's best to check with the mill people.

By the way, did you know a tree that's six inches in diameter at breast height, doubles its volume if left to grow to eight inches?

* * *

Paper mills buy lots of wood that might otherwise be wasted. They don't object to knotty wood if the knots are trimmed close to the logs. They'll generally take trees that have been unhealthy or deformed. But not dead wood—because there's so little strength in it. They don't like burnt wood either—'cause a piece of charcoal may ruin the quality of a whole run of paper.

* * *

There was a time when most mills would take only peeled wood. Not any longer! Today many prefer it unpeeled, in fact. This, of course, means cutting and hauling can now be done the year around, instead of being limited to the busy growing season.

Calera Civitans Select Corn and Cotton Maids

The Calera Civitan Club had a very nice meeting Monday night, August 27, at Pearl's Cafe, with Arthur Davis, our president, presiding and W. I. Capps giving the invocation.

Along with our regular meeting we had a good meal served as usual, and to improve the looks of the crowd, we had representatives of our Cotton Maid and Corn Festival Queen.

The Maid of Cotton who was selected by the club, was Miss Twila Fay Collum, and the Corn Festival Queen, Miss Ann Farris. Both of which we think will represent our Civitan Club very highly.

We also had two guests from the Telephone Co. Mr. Joe Switzer, our district manager and J. B. Smith, public relations manager. Mr. Smith made a very good talk explaining new phone numbers going into effect in October of this year, and their uses. Mr. Smith gave some very good points as to how the Company would improve telephone service for the public in the future.

The club is glad to announce Mr. Carl Edwards, manager of P & T Store in Calera, as a new member. Mr. Edwards is fast becoming an active citizen since moving here from Alabaster.

Meeting was closed with prayer by Zollie Cowart Sr.

Scout Troop To Receive Charter

Representatives of "The Montevallo Rotary Club", the sponsoring institution, will present the Charter for the year 1956-57 to Troop 59, Boy Scouts of America, on Tuesday evening, September 4, 1956 at 7:00 o'clock in the regular Scout meeting room at the Presbyterian Church. This is the twenty third year that Montevallo has had a Scout Troop.

Danny Thornton will become a Star Scout at a "Court of Honor" at this program.

These special ceremonies are the beginning of a very busy year for our Troop as we look forward to a large increase in membership during our September Round Up Time. We will welcome all boys of eleven, twelve and thirteen as Scouts in our Troop, and boys of fourteen and older will be accepted as Explorers.

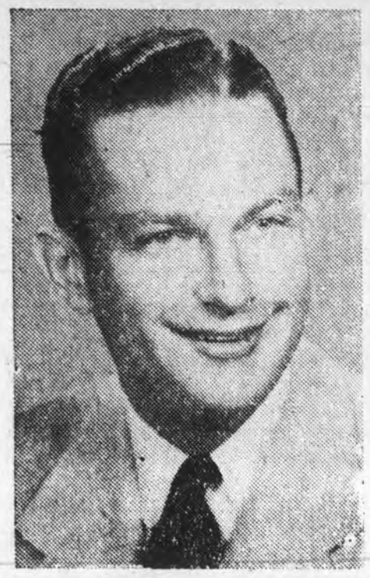

The public and all prospective members are invited to the ceremonies next Tuesday evening.

On September 1st. to 3rd. Troop 59 will complete a busy summer with a camp at Camp Horne; the camp owned by the Black Warrior Council for the use of our Scouts.

Rotary Governor To Visit Local Club

The Rotary Club of Montevallo on September 6 will be host to William B. Young, Governor of the 238 District of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 27 Rotary Clubs in Northern Alabama. He will address the local Club and confer with President Frank Thiemonge, Secretary Felix Lewis, and committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities. Mr. Young is a farmer in Athens. Born in Florence County, South Carolina, he was graduated from Furman University in Greenville, South Carolina. He is Treasurer of the First Methodist Church and a Director of the Limestone County Bank. During World War II, he served as an officer in the U. S. Navy as a Naval Aviator. He was elected as a District Governor of Rotary International for the 1956-57 fiscal year at Rotary's 47th Annual Convention in Philadelphia last June. He is one of 248 District Governors supervising the activities of more than 9,100 Rotary Clubs which have a membership of 431,000 business and professional executives in 99 countries throughout the free world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, President Thiemonge asserted in discussing the Governor's visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Montevallo because they are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community-betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

WILLIAM B. YOUNG
Rotary Governor

Each year, this world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength, President Thiemonge added. During the past fiscal year, 351 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 48 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa and the Islands of the Pacific.

Some Advice For 'Do-It-Yourself' Hobbyists

Maybe you, too, have joined the "do-the-job-yourself" movement as a sort of hobby. If so-you'll be interested in this word of advice from the safety specialists: "do-it-yourself, but be careful!"

Alabama's State Health Officer, Dr. D. G. Gill said today that the present tackling of jobs that once might have been left to skilled workers is credited with causing many home accidents. "Doctors and hospitals are reported to be handling more and more Saturday and Sunday home accidents," he said.

Many such injuries stem from the misuse of tools, Dr. Gill pointed out. Even with simple hand tools, much less the more complicated machine tools, certain simple precautions should be observed. These are:

1. Use the proper tool for the job: if you don't know, ask someone who does.

2. Find out how to use the tool properly, if you do not already know.

3. Keep tools in good condition; wood handles should be firm and smooth, and securely attached; blades of cutting tools should be kept sharp.

4. Keep tools in a safe place when not in use, in cabinets or on wall racks.

Across The Adjutant's Desk

Attending the 5th district dinner conference last Friday night at "Holliday Inn" along with your adjutant, were members, J. W. Anderson, John Dribnack, Exton Lowery and W. D. Franks. With the exception of three, all posts in the 5th district were represented by approximately 90 delegates at this conference.

As each post commander was called on to turn in 1957 membership cards, commander Franks paved the way by turning in 41 members from the Calera post. Incidentally, this brings our total to date to 70 members, well ahead of this same date last year but still 80 members short of the 1956 total.

I am happy to announce that your post walked away with the honors when the state department presented the awards for 1956 membership achievement. The following awards were presented Commander Franks in behalf of Ware-Crim Post 56 by Lawson M. Lynn, dept. adjutant; special certificate of most distingushed service; certificate of meritorious service; citation for outstanding achievement; New York trophy presented annually by national headquarters for having led the state in membership achievement; the honor ribbon, two highway signs and initiation lamp.

The Ware-Crim Post will be host to the next 5th district conference to be held Friday, September 7th at 7:30 p.m. in Calera.

Commander Franks has asked me to urge each member to attend this meeting.—Jack Dupree, adjutant, Ware-Crim Post 56, Calera, Ala.

PTA TO MEET

What happens when a NEW PAYROLL comes to town?

MORE SPENDING MONEY isn't the only thing a new factory payroll brings to town. A survey made by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce shows that 100 new factory workers also meant this to a community:

296 more people
112 more households
51 more school children
107 more passenger car registrations
174 more workers employed
4 more retail establishments
$590,000 more personal income per year
$270,000 more bank deposits
$360,000 more retail sales per year

Here's convincing proof, we think, that whatever helps the Southland to develop industrially is a real contribution to the long-range growth and prosperity of the South. The Southern helps in many ways.

Our own Industrial Development Department aggressively seeks new industries for every available plant site. Our nation-wide advertising program continually invites business enterprises of all kinds to "Look Ahead — Look South!" for greater opportunity. Our modern rail service helps provide the economical and efficient mass transportation so indispensable to industrial progress and growth.

New payrolls—and all they mean to a community — are "coming to town" all over the South. Last year 23,000 new jobs were created by industrial expansion along the Southern Railway System alone. Many in the South helped bring this about. All in the South benefit!

Five PTA Objectives Reviewed by County Council

"The five objectives of the Parent-Teacher Association should be reviewed at the first meeting of each local P.T.A.," said Mrs. D. D. Black, past P. T. A. state president, as she addressed the Shelby County P. T. A. Council on Friday, August 4. These five objectives as given by Mrs. Black are:

1. To promote the welfare of children and youth in the Home, School, Church, and Community.
2. To raise standards of home life.
3. To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.
4. To bring closer relations between the home and school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in training the child.
5. To develop between educators and general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education.

The council meeting was held in the Auditorium of the New Office Building in Columbiana with the president, Mrs. G. C. Moore, presiding. The devotional was given by Rev. C. C. Pruett, Pastor of the Columbiana Baptist Church. Mrs. Conrad Flower, President of Columbiana P.T.A., welcomed the group.

Three group discussions were held: 1. Program Planning, with Miss Martha Smith, State Department of Education, serving as leader; 2. Work of Local Presidents, with Mrs. Black as leader; 3. Record Books and Magazines, with Mrs. John Thornton, Siluria, as leader.

Mrs. Moore announced that the Record Book for the P.T.A. Council, and for the Calera P.T.A. both received a special award at the state meeting in Montgomery. This award was given for neatness and attractiveness of the books and for following carefully the directions given for keeping the record books. Mrs. John Thornton was chairman of the record book for the County Council and Mrs. Beecher Finley chairman for Calera.

Each person attending the council meeting brought a covered dish and a delicious lunch was enjoyed.

After lunch, Mrs. Black led the group in singing. Mr. W. W. Elliott, Supt. of Shelby County Schools, spoke briefly on the progress of schools in Shelby County. Summaries of the discussion groups were given by Mr. Elvin Hill, Mrs. Wyatt, and Mrs. Edfeldt.

The council set the dates for future meetings as follows: Sept. 20, Calera; November 15, Columbiana; February 2, Vincent; April 18, Siluria.

SIDNEY M. BIRD

CANDIDATE FOR

Town Councilman of Calera

IN THE ELECTION OF SEPTEMBER 17

I promise, if elected to the Town Council in Calera, to do everything in my power to make Calera a better town to live in.

I think we need better water, more and better sewerage system, extension of our gas system, and many other things.

I do not know what can be done about these things, but, if elected, I will do all in my power to see that they are done for the citizens of Calera.

If they can not be done, I promise to let the people know WHY they can not be done.

I also promise to represent and serve ALL THE PEOPLE in Calera.

I am not endorsing any Councilman or any Mayor, but will do my best to work with those whom the people elect.

This is the only promise I intend to make.

There'll be Some Changes Made . . .

Beginning October 7

All Calera Telephones Will Get New Numbers

On that date, a new telephone number plan will be introduced in the local exchange. All telephone numbers will be changed to conform to a new uniform Bell System telephone numbering plan. This plan is being introduced throughout Alabama and the nation.

The new numbering plan requires that each telephone number be changed to consist of an office name followed by five (5) numerals. The office name for Calera will be NOrth.

The numbering plan to be adopted for the local telephone system enables long distance operators in exchanges participating in the new numbering system to dial numbers in distant cities direct—much in the same way as a number is dialed for a local call.

Before the change is made, telephone subscribers will be notified of their numbers and the date and hour they will become effective.

All new numbers will be listed in a directory to be delivered a few days before the new system is put into effect.

Registration of freshmen and transfer students for the fall semester at Alabama College will start Monday, September 17.

Dormitories for men and women will open Saturday, September 15. Classes will begin at 8:00 a.m. Thursday, September 20.

The first class of men students in the history of Alabama College will begin college level studies at Montevallo this fall. They are cooperative programs in Dental Hygiene with the University of Alabama School of Dentistry; a cooperative program in nursing with the University of Alabama School of Nursing; and an experimental program in teaching foreign languages to elementary school children.

Other course offerings will be the same as last year, a total of more than 600 different subjects.

Telephone Exhibit Is Something New

The telephone exhibit located in the Fair Exhibit Building at Columbiana, disproved the old adage today that "there's nothing new under the sun."

The exhibit featured something new and under the sun, too.

It was a small-scale model of the Bell Solar Battery, the first device to successfully convert the sun's energy directly into usable amounts of electricity. The Solar Battery first was placed in use at Americus, Ga., late in 1955, and successfully powered a rural telephone line.

The display was particularly interesting from the layman's viewpoint. It provided a thorough and understandable explanation of the Battery, illustrated with a working model of the device.

Marine Corps Offers Two-Year Enlistments

"The Marine Corps is still accepting men for two years active duty", stated Marine Recruiting Sergeant Kenneth F. Karling today. This short tour allows volunteers to fulfill part of their military obligation, according to the Sergeant.

Sergeant Karling emphasized that men who take advantage of the two year tour will receive the same basic training as three and four year enlistees. They will also have the same opportunity to attend one of the many Marine Corps technical schools.

Opportunities offered new Marines are numerous in the service that offers duty on land, sea and in the air; and at duty stations at such places as Rome, Paris, London, Tokyo and Hawaii.

Young men between the ages of 17 and 28, who meet the qualifications, may be eligible for enlistment.

SIDNEY M. BIRD

CANDIDATE FOR

Town Councilman of Calera

IN THE ELECTION OF SEPTEMBER 17

I promise, if elected to the Town Council in Calera, to do everything in my power to make Calera a better town to live in.

I think we need better water, more and better sewerage system, extension of our gas system, and many other things.

I do not know what can be done about these things, but, if elected, I will do all in my power to see that they are done for the citizens of Calera.

If they can not be done, I promise to let the people know WHY they can not be done.

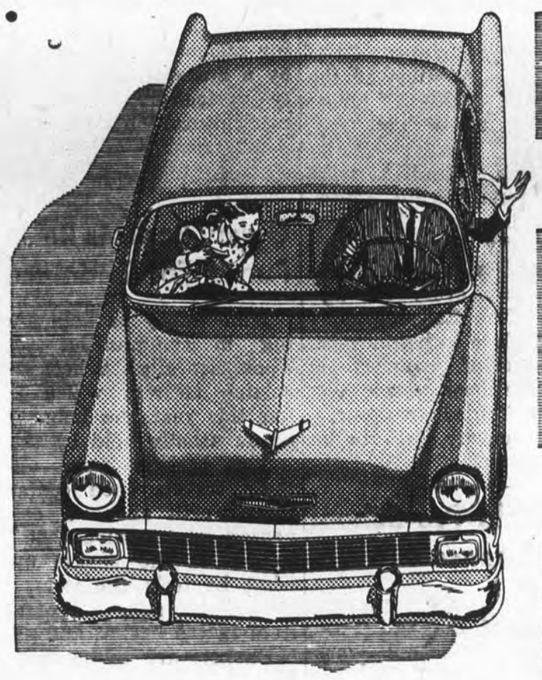

I also promise to represent and serve ALL THE PEOPLE in Calera.

I am not endorsing any Councilman or any Mayor, but will do my best to work with those whom the people elect.

This is the only promise I intend to make.

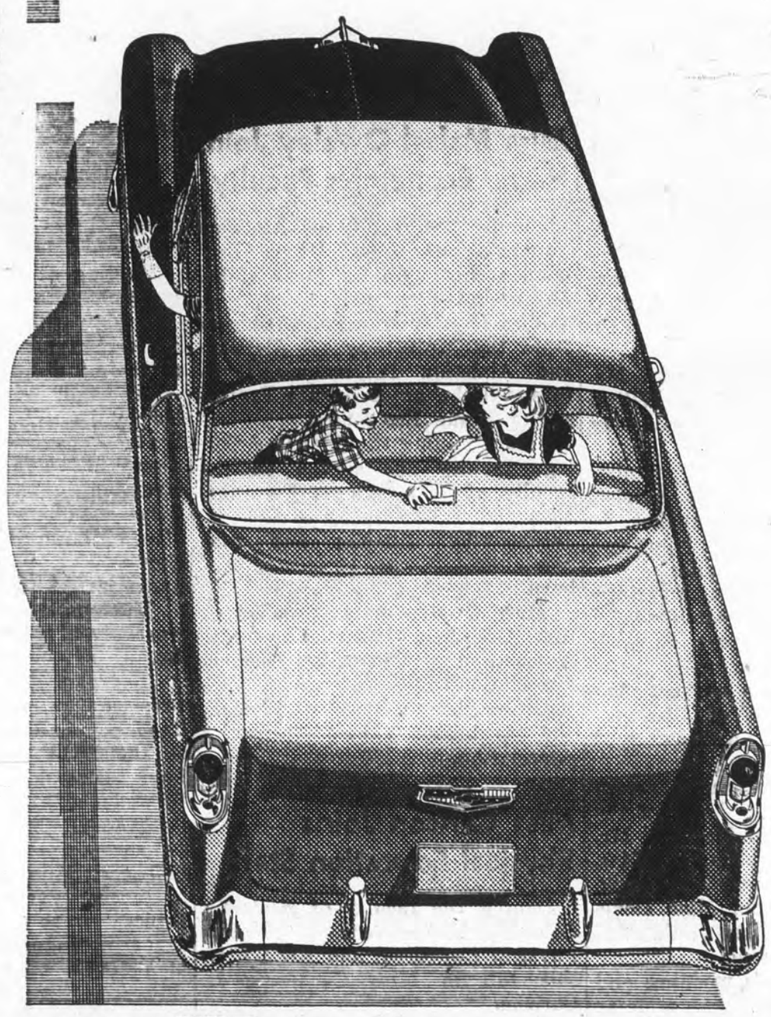

SIDNEY M. BIRD

In truth, there's been a quiet revolution in the automotive world. Higher priced cars used to provide much more in space, ride, and handling. But no longer. Chevy offers all the luxury, all the performance, all the space you've always hoped for—and better roadability besides! Come in, first chance you get, and let a new Chevrolet show you what we mean.

Large Freshman Class Expected

Advance registration figures at Alabama College indicate one of the largest freshman classes in recent years will enter the school on September 17.

A fifty percent increase over last year's freshman enrollment has already been recorded, according to Miss Virginia Hendrick, College Registrar.

Total advance enrollment figures indicate a 20 per cent increase over the first semester of the 1955-56 school year.

Alabama College will start its 61st year with a "New look" when men students will enroll for the first time in the history of the College.

Nearly 100 men have registered in advance for the fall semester.

Decision to make Alabama College a coeducational College of Liberal Arts was made by the school's Board of Trustees last fall. In February of this year, the Alabama State Legislature passed the bill making the school coeducational. At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees, September, 1956 was set as the enrollment date for the first class of men students.

New programs of study including pre-law, pre-engineering, pre-veterinary medicine, business administration, economics, and physical education for men make a total of more than 600 different subjects offered by Alabama College.

County Football Rivalry Begins Soon

Football rivalry gets underway in Shelby County this fall with new coaches at Calera and Columbiana, and added assistant coaches at Vincent, Columbiana, Montevallo, and Thompson.

Thompson High has held the football championship for six years; but, according to dopesters, if all goes well with the Wildcats of Shelby High they just may have the material to take the crown this year.

Calera there are five returning lettermen: Wright Ingram, qb; Bobby Joe Killingsworth, lh; Walter Ingram, rh; Frog Adams, rg; and David Thomas, c. There were three key men lost by graduation.

Approximately 10 new boys will be out for the team. The starting team looks good but there is very little depth. Last year Calera won 3 and lost 6.

The situation looks bright at Shelby County High in Columbiana. Even though there are only four men returning from the starting line-up, there is good depth at most positions, assuring Coach Smith of a good reserve on the bench. Last year's record was 4 won, 4 lost, 1 tied.

Coach Fisher says that Montevallo should hold its own this year. Several key men were lost by graduation; only three regulars return. Thirty-eight have reported thus far. Last year's record was 4 wins; 6 losses.

Thompson has an impressive record over the years. Last year the Warriors won 6, tied 1, and lost 3.

Nine lettermen are returning. Several new men add reserve strength.

Vincent has five regulars returning to see if they can better last year's record of three wins, 6 losses and one tie.

FFA Looks Toward A Great Year

With the opening of school on Sept. 4, the Montevallo vocational agriculture department will enroll over 70 students in the program of vocational agriculture and F.F.A. for 1956-57. Over 30 students will be new and join the "Greenhand" unit of Future Farmers of America.

The chapter officers will be busy in September getting the activity program worked out and getting two delegates ready to attend the national convention in Kansas City early in October. Over 15,000 F.F.A. members from all over U. S. will be in attendance at the national convention. Last year boys saw President Eisenhower at the national meeting.

Leslie Harrison, president of Montevallo F.F.A., states that all indications are that everything is favorable to seeing the chapter in its best year at Montevallo. During recent years, the Montevallo chapter has held its place among the top ten of the 252 chapters in Alabama. The chapter has won honor roll, both. silver and gold awards and in 1954 was one of eighteen chapters in U. S. to receive the coveted Bronze emblem award.

It has been said that there is twenty-five year lag between the time an idea in education is born anl the time it is put to use. This must not happen in vocational agricultural education because the people we teach today are not going into occupations of 1931, but they are being employed today—for the future. Vocational agriculture aims at developing leaders with vision, imagination, and courage. Research must be conducted, experiments made and a restless spirit and devotion to hard work must prevail among all associated with the program. The present is bringing its challenges in education. U. S. population is now 167 million. In five years, it will be 178 million; in 10 years, 190 million; and by 1975, more than 220 million. Applying the birth wave to school enrollments, we find that 10 years hence (1966) elementary schools will enroll 23% more than today—up some 6.6 million. High schools will enroll 55% more than today, up some 4.2 million. Our whole program must meet the needs of these added students.

Vocational education, in all of its plases, will be alert to cope with changes so essential to progress and through the F.F.A. the boys "Learn To Do By Doing". At no other time has it been so important for a farmer to continue with his educational process as today.

M. Thornton, F.F.A. adviser, states that each F.F.A. member special interest topics will make is in high spirit for a great year in F.F.A. and the boys look forwar dto bringing in over 30 new members this year.

The vocational agriculture department at Montevallo, will begin an adult education class early in September. The class will meet each Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the vocational building. Problems dealing with farm production and management as well as special interests topics will make up the program each week. M. Thornton, voc. agr. teacher, will be glad to give more information to those interested. The class is open to both men and women and will extend until mid-December.

S. will be in attendance this year. The boys will leave by special train with Alabama delegation from Birmingham at noon on the 14th.

Twenty six Greenhands have started planning their F. F. A. activity program at Montevallo this year. Freddy Draper is the greenhand group president and his staff of officers are off to a good start. Tony Birchfield is assistant adviser. Tony Birchfield and Carey Kendrick are showing calves at the Bessemer Livestock Show this week.

Leslie Harrison, president of Montevallo Chapter Farmers states that the local chapter is looking to a great year in F. F. A. and many and varied activities are being planned by the group. Plans have been made for F. F. A. members to attend the state fair in Birmingham which will have a special school day October 3rd.

Mr. Johnson at the college dairy farm is planning to help F. F. A. boys secure calves as project animals this year. The boys will be able to get 10 to 12 calves from the dairy there.

Frank Thiemonge, Harold Gentry, Wayne Fulghum and Curtis Jarvis attended the big Rodeo in Montgomery last week. They reported a very exciting occasion. Over 4000 planning to attend were not able to get tickets due to the sell out.

Terry Daviston and Sonny Lucas made a trip to Tuscaloosa last Monday in an effort to help secure school books form the State Depository there.

The Montevallo Band. F. H. A. representatives, M. Thornton and F. F. A. representatives attended the Bessemer Livestock Festival Wednesday and Friday this week.

An adult evening class dealing with agricultural instruction and farm problems will begin in the vocational agriculture building on Tuesday evening the 18th of September. M. Thornton, teacher of the class, is looking to an unusually large attendance this year. There is no cost to enroll in the class and it is expected that a wide variety of subjects and problems will be discussed at the weekly meetings. The class will meet each Tuesday evening at 7:30 and those attending will be dismissed at 8:30. Both men and women may attend. Those interested in additional information please get in touch with Mr. Thornton.

PSC Suspends Increase on Moving Household Goods

The Alabama Public Service Commission has suspended increase in rates for hauling household goods which were published by the Alabama motor carriers to become effective on September 1. 1956. and ordered a hearing at which the household goods carriers will be required to justify the increase in rates.

The increases range from approximately 5 percent for the longer hauls and larger shipments to approximately 18 per cent for the shorter hauls and lighter shipments.

A hearing will be scheduled at a later date.

Dr. Bailey Has Papers Published

Dr. Paul C. Bailey, Professor of Biology at Alabama College recently had two papers published by the International Journal of Cytology (cell study) in Japan for the fall of '57 giving the results of the study of cell division—a problem closely associated with cancer.

The papers explain the results of research emphasizing the fact that there are a number of environmental factors which exert influence upon cell division.

Dr. Bailey said that these factors are comparable to tthe results obtained by researchers using chemical and other experimental agents used in the laboratory to control cell divisions.

A third paper written by Dr. Bailey on the same subject appeared in the Bulletin of Torrey Botanical Club. The Alabama College professor said that other papers will be published in the very near future.

Dr. Bailey's research project has been extended for the third year, with a continuing grant from the Research Grants and Followships Branch of the National Cancer Institute, Washington, D. C. He is using the plant Trillium and the chick embryo as a source of material in his research project.

Past chairman of the Alabama Academy of Science, Dr. Bailey is editor of the Journal of the Alabama Academy of Science. He joined the Alabama College faculty in 1947. He is a member of Sigma Xi; American Association for the Advancement of Science; American Genetic Association; Beta Beta Beta; and the Torrey Botanical Club.

A native of Baileyton, Ala., Dr. Bailey received his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from Vanderbilt University. He is the author of a number of articles appearing in scientific journals and is a 1952 recipient of a research grant from the Alabama Academy of Science for research on the plant Trilium.

MRS. GEORGE DOUGLAS HONORED WITH SHOWER

Mrs. R. E. Bowdon, Sr., entertained at her home Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 till 5:00 honoring Mrs. George Douglas (Frances Ruddy) with a stork shower.

Mrs. R. E. Bowdon Jr., Mrs. Fred Sims, Mrs. Roy Simmons and Mrs. A. E. Norwood, were cohostesses.

The color scheme of green and white was used through out the house. Punch, cookies, nuts and mints, were served to 30 guests.

Mr. Knox Kershaw, well known engineer of Montgomery, visited in town Tuesday afternoon. At present he is doing some engineering for the Montevallo Lime Stone Co. A few years ago he did quite a lot of engineering in Montevallo, the Housing Project and City streets. Before that time he designed the well known W. P. A. Bridge over the Cahaba River between Montevallo and Bessemer.

County Teachers Transfer

Nine Shelby County teachers are transferring within the system this fall.

Principals changing schools are James W. Curtis, who goes to Chelsea from Wilsonville; and Mrs. Clara Poole, teaching-principal at Vandiver, who moves to junior-high work in the Helena School.

Seventh-grade teachers last year, Mrs. Fannie Mae Carden, Helena, and Mrs. Betty McClure, Columbiana, both desert that grade this fall. They will be on the Columbiana Elementary School staff—Mrs. Carden will work with special education, and Mrs. McClure, a third-grade group.

Mrs. Rebecca Downs trades the sixth grade in Helena for that class in Calera.

Ned Cary transfers from Thompson to Calera High (via Pensacola).

Mrs. Louise Curtis will teach a fourth grade group at Chelsea. She worked with 4th and 5th grades at Wilsonville.

Mrs. Margaret Booth, a first-grade teacher, moves from Calera to Chelsea.

From special education in SCHS to the fifth grade in Columbiana is the move of Mrs. Virginia Fowler.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nix and children, Mrs. Leon Nix of Wilton, visited Mrs. L. Nix's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Merchant and Barbara of Ensley Sunday. Later in afternoon, all had an enjoyable time at Kiddieland.

Tuesday of this week, a group of Alabama Power Co. engineers under the direction of Mr. Tom S. Birdsong of Tuscaloosa visited local industries in the vicinity of Montevallo and Calera.

"Ladies in white"

No, this isn't an animal hospital. It's the first aid room at an American Brake Shoe plant. Nurse Genevieve Norwood is bandaging the paw of Sidney, the plant mascot, injured in a cat-and-dog tangle. Later Miss Norwood turned Sidney over to a veterinarian for professional treatment and during Sidney's convalescence kept the plant workers informed of its progress by daily bulletin board notices.

Of course treating Sidney was an exceptional case for Miss Norwood; her regular patients are the plant workers. But her concern for the plant mascot typifies the spirit of humane interest among our industrial nurses. They stand ready at more than 45 of our plants to perform a vital service, as part of our company-wide medical program. Besides administering first aid, these "ladies in white" serve our employees in many ways . . . offering counsel on personal problems, visiting ailing employees (as well as their families), delivering pension checks to all retired employees by hand, not by mail, and in other ways.

Our employees look upon our nurses not merely as "bandage mechanics" but as friends and advisors. That's why Brake Shoe is proud to have been among the first multi-plant corporations to institute a nationwide nursing program which is today recognized as one of the finest in industry.

Shelby Takes First In Dairy Show

Shelby County took first place Friday in the District Dairy Show, a highlight of Bessemer's eighth annual Corn and Livestock Festival.

Following in order were Blount, Jefferson, Chilton, Walker and St. Clair Counties.

The grand champion Guernsey was entered by R. W. Kent of Siluria and exhibited by Jackie Shelton.

Nine-year-old Joy Kent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas M. Kent of Siluria, had the junior grand champion Guernsey. Her brother, Mike Kent, 6, had the junior Guernsey champion in the junior and open divisions. Name of his cow was "Kitty Cat."

This Eight Annual Corn and Livestock Festival, sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and the Jefferson County Extension Service opened with a parade featuring the high stepping antics of majorettes and snappy music from six outstanding bands of Bessemer, McAdory, Hueytown, Jones Valley, Fairfield and Montevallo Schools.

Local nominees in the "Queen Bess" contest were, Miss Tommie Ruth Mowery, and Miss Marguerite Fullman.

Tommie Ruth, a 16-year old blonde, is a member of the Montevallo Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America, who has had two years of Home Economics at Montevallo High. She was sponsored by the Shelby County F. F. A. and F. H. A. following a County Contest in which she won over Calera, Columbiana, Vincent, and Siluria. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mowery of Wilton.

Marguerite was sponsored by the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce. She is a member of the F. H. A. and a Montevallo High School junior. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Will Fullman.

Bulldogs Lose First Game to Isabella

By Susie DeMent

Montevallo Bulldogs fumbled on the opening kickoff and never quite regained control of themselves as they fell before the Mustangs of Isabella 13-0 there last Thursday night. The game, a season-opener for both teams, was set up to Thursday night at the request of the principal of Isabella High School, according to Guy Milford, local principal.

Isabella, appearing a much-improved ball team since last year, capitalized on a 15-yard penalty against the Bulldogs in the second quarter for their first touchdown. Cleckler went over from the five and ran the extra point, making the score 7-0 at halftime.

Play see-sawed throughout the remainder of the game as the Bulldogs could put together enough yardage for only one first down throughout the entire evening. One would-be bright spot, when Ronald Smitherman's pass to Elbert Mahaffey was good for 25 yards, was immediately darkened as the Bulldogs drew a second 15-yard penalty.

Billy Mims, returning Isabella star, scored the second TD after the Mustangs blocked Lewis Knowles' punt on their own 15-yard line. The try for the extra point failed.

Montevallo plays host to Thompson High of Siluria this week. Game time is 7:30. Last year the Warriors defeated the Bulldogs 14-0. Not since 1948 have the Bulldogs beaten Thompson. Last week Thompson tied Dora 6-6 at Siluria.

Calera Defeats Vincent, 14-7

Calera High broke a 7-7 tie in the third quarter Friday night and held on to get a 14-7 win over Vincent.

Left Halfback Bobby Joe Kilingsworth scored what proved to be the winning touchdown with a six-yard run. Walter Ingram converted.

For the first half, Calera and Vincent battled on an even keel, matching touchdown for touchdown.

A 30-yard bootleg play by Calera Quarterback Wright Ingram, which saw him cross the goal line untouched, broke the scoring ice in the first period. He also booted the extra point.

Vincent tied the score in the second quarter when Left Halfback Davis took a pitchout and went eight yards around his own right end for a touchdown. The conversion attempt was good.

Winning Coach Bill Wolaver cited his entire first team as outstanding. The names include alternating ends, Malcolm Crouse, Kenneth Farris and Bettis Terry; Tackles Ray Tate and Kermit Robinson; Guards Frog Adams and Jimmy Wood; Center David Thomas; Quarterback Wright Ingram; Halfbacks Walter Ingram and Killingsworth, and alternating Fullbacks Robert Crouse and Bill Hall.

Many Changes and Improvements Greet Returning Calera Students

Many changes and improvements greeted the eyes of boys and girls at Calera School when they returned the first week of September.

The Home Ec. Girls found an entirely new department to do their assignments and laboratory work when classes began for the 1956-57 term.

The Home Ec. work at Calera became vocational during the past year and it became necessary to enlarge the space to house the department and to secure new equipment.

Through the splendid co-operaton of the Calera Civitan Club, Farris Furniture Store, Bird Hardware, Supt. J. D. Freeman, American Brake Shoe Co., Calera P. T. A., Supt. W. W. Elliot, Mr. Roy Downs, Mr. Tommie Lawrence, Mr. Sid Bird, School Trustees, Parents, Interested Citizens, Faculty and Students, the department has secured practically all the equipment necessary to meet the standard set by the Vocational Dept. in Montgomery.

This additional equipment will be secured in a very short time, according to school authorities.

Other improvements taking place are: The lunchroom completely redecorated along with additional plastic top tables that will allow four students to enjoy their meals together.

In the library new steel bookshelves have been installed to care for the many new volumes secured in the past five years.

New typewriters have been purchased for the Commercial department along with a new record player.

In the elementary department six new tables and matching chairs have been added to the third grade.

The restrooms are in process of being repainted. The ceilings are being done in cream, the walls in Alpine green, and the wood work in Colony green.

Corridors of the entire building have been given three coats of gym finish which has improved the appearance of the halls.

The Auditorium and study hall are the next projects to be tackled in the next few days. The ceiling and walls of the study hall are to be repainted while the floor of the Auditorium Gym will be refinished.

A new inter communication system has been installed in all High School classes and works. It is being rushed to finish installation in all elementary dept. rooms. The system will be all radio, record playing, and communication between the office and classrooms.

The enrollment of the school is increasing, pupil attendance improving, scholastic work gaining in favor. More Calera graduates are going to college and securing employment. All this reflects the progress the school has made the past five years. The future picture of the school looks better as the community joins hands with the faculty in building a bigger and better Calera School System.

Ford's F-100 Custom panel is one of the top load carriers in its class. It provides 155.8 cu. ft. of cargo space in a smooth, fully lined interior and hauls up to 1,535 lb. of payload.

The hardest-working, biggest-saving "two-tonner" of them all is the Ford F-600. Only Ford offers a Short Stroke Six and three Short Stroke V-8's in this field. Max. GVW is 19,500 lb.

Ford Trucks cost less

Ford's F-100 pickup with 8-ft. box is the biggest in the half-ton field—up to 19 cu. ft. more loadspace than the others. Regular 6½-ft. box with a full 45 cu. ft. capacity also available.

And low first cost is only your first saving

● Before you buy your next truck, look at both sides of Ford's story of value. Check what you get and what it costs. You'll like what you see.

Look at the costs. Ford's first cost is low. Resale value is high. Modern Short Stroke engines—V-8 or Six—are designed for less friction, less wear, lower running costs. Maintenance costs are lower, too, because Ford trucks are built stronger for rugged long life. And a 10-million truck study proves Ford trucks last longer.

Look at what you get and you'll see you get more in a Ford. For example, more horsepower per dollar—proved by a comparison of factory-suggested list prices and net horsepower of all truck lines. You get more comfort and safety in Ford's Driverized Cab with exclusive Lifeguard features.

Look carefully . . . consider everything. You'll agree Ford trucks cost less, give you more. If you want a great deal—a great deal more for your money—see your Ford Dealer.

Walton Triplets of Columbiana Enroll at Alabama College

"Here come the three W's," may become a popular phrase on the Alabama College campus this year.

For a while the student body may refer this remark to a trio of vocalists or dancers, but the "Three W's" is a nickname the Walton triplets of Columbiana, Ala., go by.

On registration day, Monday, the Walton triplets enrolled as freshmen. Unlike most twins or triplets they hardly resemble each other except a slight facial resemblence.

Lena, Lula and Thomas are 18 years old but that is where the like characteristics end.

Lena is a pert medium-sized brunette. A great sports fan, she will major in physical education here. After graduation she hopes to become a physical therapist. During her high school days she was an outstanding member of the girls basketball team.

Possessing a quiet austere charm which never fails to impress, Lula is a dark haired Grace Kelly type. Like her sister she is a member of the Future Homemakers of America Club. Both design and sew most of their dresses and sports clothes.

At Alabama College Lula is going to major in elementary education. "I can't think of a better future than to teach in an elementary school" she said. "I love children."

Thomas is the heavy set athletic type who played on the line, guard of the Columbiana High School football team. He resembles his siters only in the face. He plans to major in aeronautical adminstration.

Besides the triplets, there are also twins in the Walton family. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Walton have twin daughters May and Martha, who are fifteen years of age. Also included in the family are two married daughters and a son.

The Walton family tree branches out with twins each generation. Mr. Walton's father was a twin, and there are twin sisters in Mrs. Walton's family. There were twins in both families back even further.

High grades in school is one characteristic that never varied with the triplets. Their report cards were dominated by "A's."

A growing trend in the Walton family is attending Alabama College. Mrs. Walton was student here. The triplets will register Monday and in two more years the younger twin daughters will enroll.

The triplets' teachers will have no trouble identifying them if they happen to be in the same classes but when the roll is called, "Walton, Walton and Walton," is sure to remind the professor of a law firm.

SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

Calera To Get New Phone Directories

Delivery of a new telephone directory will get underway in Calera next week as Southern Bell Telephone Company makes preparation to change all local telephone numbers to the new nationwide telephone numbering plan.

J. L. Switzer, local manager of the company, said distribution of an estimated 550 copies of the telephone book will be completed within the week.

All new telephone numbers are listed in the new directory. The numbers consist of an office name followed by five numerals. The office name which has been assigned to Calera is NOrth.

To call the new name-numeral telephone numbers after they go into effect, the telephone user is required to dial only the first two letters of the office name and the five numerals that follow.

Mr. Switzer said pertinent dialing information is included in the directory. He urges all subscribers to keep their old books for reference until the hour the new telephone numbers become effective.

The directory also lists numbers for many subscribers who have some change in their service during the year as well as numbers for new subscribers.

Something New At College As Men Register

A new atmosphere settled over Alabama College Monday and Tuesday with registration of men and women students.

The former womans' college has become a permanent coeducational institution. During the first days the echo of male voices penetrating all corners of the campus sounded unique to many ears.

On Thursday classes will begin at Alabama College and like other coeducational institutions crew cuts and pony tails will mingle side by side taking notes to the professor's lecture.

Freshmen arriving from all over the state, many corners of the United States and several foreign countries, had a busy day on the Alabama College campus Monday and Tuesday. Students registering for classes and paying fees formed countless lines. The first day seemed hardest, but in the evening they were rewarded by a picnic supper at the college lake.

At the Lake headaches were forgotten when the students paddled canoes, hiked or merely waded in the cool water to ease the pain of "registration day feet."

The last freshmen were registered Tuesday. The rest of the day and Wednesday were devoted to upperclassmen. Toward the evening a splash party was held for the student body in the swimming pool and a Montevallo theatre played host to the freshman class by showing a film.

Registrar, Miss Virginia Hendrick was a happy woman during the registration activities. "There is approximately a 50 percent increase in the freshman class over last year." she said.

"To top that," Miss Hendrick stated, "Approximately 20 or 25 percent increase in the total enrollment over last year. Up to Tuesday evening between 75 and 100 men were officially enrolled."

Last minute registraton spurts are anticipated by the registrar. With more women than men the male students will have a field day choosing their dates.

One problem students at Alababama College won't be confronted with is a lack of subjects to choose from. Nearly 600 courses are being offered.

The campus visitor will have to get used to seeing groups of men playing football. Men's Intramural Director, Dr John Chellman said that intramural football will get underway immediately.

By the end of the week students will be settled down for a winter of studies. The "new" Alabama College will enter the first year with the welcome mat out for men and women students.

Mr. and Mrs. Bynum Watters of Vestavia, were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crawford.

You'll Dial TWO LETTERS and FIVE NUMERALS beginning OCTOBER 7

All Calera Telephones to Get Numbers With Central Office Names

The new uniform telephone numbering system will be in effect at 12:01 A. M. Sunday, October 7. At that time all telephone numbers will consist of an office name followed by five numerals.

The office name that will begin all Calera telephone numbers is NOrth.

Here's the New Look in Telephone Numbers!

Just As Easy . . . Only Different

Starting October 7, to make a call in your exchange, you'll dial the first TWO LETTERS of the central office name, then the FIVE NUMERALS. For example, a Calera subscriber who wanted to call NOrth 8-9011 would dial N-O-8-9-0-1-1.

When you give a number to the operator when making a long distance call or repeat to a friend, the easy way to say it is like this:

NOrth-Eight...nine-O...one-one. This is the best way to say it—to understand it—to remember it.

New System Means Progress

Adoption of the name-numeral telephone numbers in Calera is part of Southern Bell's continuing program to speed long distance calls and to improve telephone service in general.

New Highway

It seems that the temporary spur highway from the home of Ray Moates to Lomax, which was first planned as a part of the by-pass of 31, has been abandoned and preparations are being made to procure the right-of-way from the crossing of Pinedale road to a point on the present Highway 31 above Calera. It is hard to get the straight dope on these big highways, but this report comes pretty straight; and if true that means the new 4-lane super highway will by-pass every town between Coopers and Calera and probably all between Mt. Creek and Calera. More than likely it will go in north of Calera, if so it will by-pass that town too. It might as well by-pass the small towns because nobody can get on it except at certain designated points any way.—Union-Banner, Clanton.

GMC shown at right is Model F350 fitted with 16-foot van. It's powered with a 140 h.p. six-cylinder engine—has over-size axles rated at 4,500 lbs. front; 14,000 lbs. rear. It's designed for 18,000 GVW truck work. The smaller truck at left is GMC's popular ½-ton pickup with a 130 h.p. six-cylinder power plant.

Why settle for less than Blue Chip performance?

IT doesn't take a new GMC owner long to spot the difference—especially if he's just switched from another make truck.

Take the way every Blue Chip GMC is "engined." An ultra-modern power plant gives him flashing response, sparkling road-pace—and record fuel economy.

Hydra-Matic* is another eye-opener. Right away he appreciates its time and effort saving in traffic. And later on, he cashes in on the big maintenance savings.

And every trip he can carry a bigger load. For GMC chassis are rugged—GMC axles are extra-capacity.

So he hauls more—and hauls it comfortably. GMC cabs are man-size and deep-cushioned. Recirculating ball-bearing steering makes handling free and easy. Close-quarters parking's a cinch with Safety Power Steering.*

And at every stop, a Blue Chip GMC attracts admiring attention. With that distinctive boulevard styling, it's a smart advertisement-on-wheels for any business!

One for your kind of truck-work? Our truck specialists will help you select just the Blue Chip model that will do your job most profitably. And our truck servicing experts always stand ready to help you keep it a Blue Chip top-profit-maker. Drop in and get acquainted!

AAUW President To Visit Montevallo

On Thursday evening, October 4th at 7:30 the first meeting of the American Association of University Women will be held in Reynolds Hall on Alabama College Campus. This meeting will be of two-fold interest, a reception for prospective members, and a visit from the president of the Alabama Division of A. A. U. W., Mrs. Van Gelder, of Birmingham. Mrs. Van Gelder is well known to many of us in Montevallo since she has been a guest on the campus a number of times. This summer she attended the meeting of the International Federation of University Women at Paris, France and will talk on this very interesting experience at the Thursday evening meeting.

The membership committee of the Montevallo Branch has been trying to reach all eligible people in and around Montevallo to invite them to this meeting, and to urge them to join the local organization. This is a hard thing to do without missing some one. For ths reason the committee asks that any who are eligible make themselves known. In Montevallo, call Miss Ethel Reasoner, 6091; in Calera, Mrs. E. Marvin Smith: in Columbiana, Miss Jeanette Niven. Graduates of Alabama College, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Birmingham-Southern, Howard College, Huntington and the University of Alabama are for the most part eligible, although in the case of a technical degree it is well to check with the membership committee to make sure since the policy of A. A. U. W. is to require a certain proportion of liberal arts subjects for eligibility. Out-of-state institutions are, of course, often on the list. Miss Reasoner will be glad to check any particular degree and institution. A. A. U. W. is a very outstanding organization with a most active state, national and international affiliation.

Study Club To Give Benefit Bridge Party

The Montevallo Study Club invites you to play Bridge or Canasta at their forthcoming Benefit Party to be held at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 29, at Reynolds Hall. There will be progressive Bridge or not as desired.

Every one is cordially invited. For tickets contact any one of the following committee members: Mrs. M. L. Orr Jr., (chairman), Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mrs. T. Bridges, and Mrs. Ashley Jeter Sr., and she will procure tickets for you.

The Montevallo Study Club held it's first meeting for the club year at 7:00 p.m., Tuesday at the home of Mrs. A. C. Anderson, president. Members Anderson, Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mrs. F. P. Givhan, and Mrs. Jimmy Higgins served as hostesses at this annual supper meeting.

The Parliamentary drill was conducted by Mrs. M. L. Orr Jr.

All 20 members were present and very happy to welcome Mrs. Leslie Hubbard back.

Mrs. Jimmy Wyatt of Birmingham, attended for the last time and with regret her resignation was accepted.

UNDERWOOD REVIVAL

Basil Rathbone To Open Series

One of the theatre's most distinguished actors, Basil Rathbone, will open Alabama College's Concert and Lecture Series on Monday, October 22 at 8:15 p.m.

A change in the schedule of attractions at the Montevallo school was made necessary when Claude Rains cancelled his series of fall and winter appearances because of a cardiac condition.

The revised series of concerts for the 1956-57 school year was announced today by Ralph Sears, Chairman of the College's Concert and Lecture Committee.

Second event of the Alabama College Concert and Lecture series will be the appearance of Lycette Darsonval, Premier Danseuse of the Paris Opera and her Ballet Company of Paris. This ballet concert is scheduled for October 30.

On January 18 Players, Incorporated of Washington, D. C. will present William Shakespeare's adventure, Henry IV, part one.

The Birmingham Symphony Orchestra with Arthur Bennett Lipkin conducting will be featured on March 15.

The College's concert season will close on April 12 with the presentation of Davd Bar-illian, brilliant young pianist.

Catholic Church To Hold Information Forums

A series of Information Forums will be held at St. Thomas Catholic Church, Montevallo, during the month of October. These programs will be conducted each Thursday at 7:30 p,m. under the direction of Reverend Oliver E. Adams.

A part of the Catholic Census and Information Program now being held in the Diocese of Mobile-Birmingham, the Forum is designed to give people not of the Catholic faith an opportunity to have their queries about Catholic doctrine and practice answered.

Doctors Do Not Favor Hospital Plan

The Shelby County Medical Society recently held its regular September meeting in Columbiana. The actions of the Hospital Board were discussed at length. It was decided that the results of this discussion be made known to the people of Shelby County in as much as the majority of the doctors used their influence to get the people of Shelby County to vote for the Hospital Tax. The majority of the doctors present (9 to 1) did not favor the long range program which calls for multiple units. The majority of doctors do not agree with the proposed location of the first unit to be built. The Medical profession was not consulted as a group or as individuals by the Hospital Board as to the facilities needed for treatment of their patients. The majority of doctors do not believe we will have a second hospital in the near future.

Dinner Climaxes BPW Club Week

The Montevallo Business and Professional Women's Club will climax its observance of Business and Professional Women's Week by sponsoring a dinner on Thursday evening, September 27, for the Presidents of all other organizations of the community. The dinner, for which about sixty invitations have been issued, will be held in Anna Irvin Hall.

The speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Elizabeth Wilbanks, a prominent woman lawyer of Alexander City.

In addition to looking after her family, which consists of her husband, three daughters, and a son, Mrs. Wilbanks carries her full share of an extensive legal partnership with her husband. She also takes an active part in the work of many women's organizations which are concerned with the improvement of the Alabama State laws as they effect the welfare of women. She has spent much effort on the revision of the poll tax and on jury service for women. At present she is particularly interested in the revision of the statutes in the Alabama code concerning descent and distribution and also those concerning absconding husbands.

Mrs. Wilbanks serves as President of the Alabama Women Lawyers Association, is Secretary of the Tallapoosa County Democratic Committee, a director of the People's Trust and Savings Bank of Goodwater, Alabama, and is a member of the National Association of Women Lawyers.

The National Business and Professional Women's Club is the largest national women's organization in point of numbers, and it has been very active both in working for things of interest to women and in making the services of women available to the Government or to any other agencies which were in need of them.

Services will be held each evening at 7:30. The public is cordially invited to attend.

From printer's devil to preacher is quite a ways, but John has made the distance in an admirable manner. He has been for some years minister of the New Boston (Tex.) Church of Christ. His many friends in Montevallo will be glad to have him come back for a week, or even to stay all the time if he could.

Calera Defeats Winterboro 37-7

The passing and running of the Ingram brothers, Wright and Walter, left little to be desired by the Calera Eagles as they clipped Winterboro, 37-7 Friday night.

It was the second win in as many starts for Coach Billy Wolaver's charges, who play Jemison here next Friday night.

Quarterback Wright Ingram twice hit Left Halfback Walter Ingram on scoring plays which covered 30 to 50 yards. Wright got another touchdown on a 12-yard run, and Walter two others on a pair of 15-yard runs. Right Halfback Bobby Joe Killingsworth wound up Calera scoring with a 30-yard gallop in the third period.

Paul Dunn got Winterboro's lone score on a four-yard buck through the line in the third period.

Two FFA Boys To Attend Convention

Pooling efforts with the local F. F. A. chapter, the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary club, the Lions club, and the P. T. A. are helping to send two delegates of the Montevallo F. F. A. chapter to attend the national convention in Kansas City during the week of October 4. LeRoy Winslett and Charles Houlditch have been busy lately getting their plans made for the biggest of all trips for an F. F. A. memper. During the week of October 8th the local chapter will have a film which was made of a recent national convention when President Eisenhower was made an honorary member of the national organization. Members of the different organizations will have an opportunity to see the film.

This week the F. F. A. boys started making forms to build new mailbox posts in cooperation with the postal service. It is expected that the improved mailboxes will contribute much toward community improvement. The local chapter hopes to build over 100 of the new posts this year.

Greenhands of Montevallo F. F. A. all really had a way with the girls in home economics this week because they were giving special study to manners and relationship with Mrs. Rebecca McGaughy's classes.

Not only did the Montevallo football boys have a great evening last Friday, the F. F. A. did also, because $65 was realized as profit from the concession stand at the football game.

On October 2 at 7:30 the adult class will meet at the vocational agriculture to discuss some of the new developments of the farm program and the soil bank plans. Those interested are invited to attend.

Alabama College's Opportunity

(An Editorial from The Birmingham News)

With the admission this Fall of men students at Alabama College at Montevallo, that institution, we believe, opens a period of heightened and broadened opportunity in the service of education.

Through the years it has, as a college for women, been a greatly useful unit in the state's system of higher education. But in recent years enrollment had been declining to an extent giving much concern. There can be no doubt that a major factor in this trend was the fact that the college was not co-educational. We expect to see ample confirmation of that in the enrollment trend in the next few years. It is plainly evident that young men and women enjoy going to college together.

That does not mean that all colleges should be co-educational but it does mean that the demand for such institutions is high. By recognition of that reality Alabama College has put itself in position for a new expansion of its service.

It seems to us that it has marked advantages for attaining new distinction as a center for the teaching and fostering of the liberal arts. Its size; its beautiful campus in a favorable location near the state's largest metropolitan area, with many cultural activities; its high traditions; its devoted leadership and faculty —these are among factors of advantage in teaching, and inspiring love of, those insights, values and ideals asociated with a well-balanced and stimulating education.

Of course, we continue in this age in critical need of specialized education along many lines. Our kind of inter-dependent, technical civilization, so obviously relying heavily on many different sorts of special services and products, requires vast numbers of men and women of specialized training.

The University, Auburn and other state colleges, of course, have their own liberal arts courses which are contributing much to the general educational instruction of their great numbers of students. They offer, too, specialized courses which are in great demand. Alabama College, as a co-educational institution emphasizing the liberal arts, will fit well into the state's over-all program of higher education.

Dr. F. E. Lund and his administration associates and the faculty confront a high challenge in the years ahead. They seem to us to have an opportunity to do a particular job of great importance. In this age of science and technology we are in urgent need of the maintenance of the kind of educational training and emphasis required to provide broad perspective and sound balance in a time of imperative concentration and emphasis on specialization.

We have confidence that this challenge will be well met and that Montevallo will become more and more an influence for the understanding and the living of the good life in Alabama.

WOMEN AND WHEELS

Avoid Being Distracted To Escape Auto Accidents

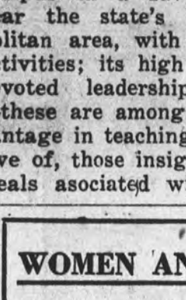

By Mary Lou Chapman

Five common driving distractions cause most accidents, says Harold L. Smith, driver training specialist for several large industrial firms and truck fleets in Detroit.

He contends that most average drivers can handle routine traffic problems fairly well until a distraction enters the picture. These disturbances are present in most accidents, he adds.

These are the distractions against which drivers should guard:

Route Problems: Each driver has his own route in mind. Over half of all accidents occur when drivers get intent on a route problem — on stopping, turning a corner, parking, entering a traffic stream or looking for a road sign or street address, Smith declares. Because of these distractions, they fail to see that they are crowding or blocking other traffic.

Miss Chapman

Mental Disturbances: We look with our eyes, but we see with our mind. If we are physically or emotionally upset, or have something special on our mind, our seeing is below par. This is why we see better on some days than on others. We make driving errors when worrying or hurrying; when irritated at another driver, or when tired, bored or lost in deep thought.

Don't Stare!

Scenery Staring: This covers any roadside feature that holds our eyes too long, or any event that causes us to stare, such as an accident scene. Smith's advice about staring is—DON'T! In a large share of night accidents, drivers are distracted by prolonged staring at roadside lights.

In-the-Vehicle Staring: Drivers sometimes stare at an insect that gets in the car, or pick the wrong moment to light a cigarette or tune in the car radio. Or they become distracted by children quarreling in the back seat. Try to keep your presence of mind, Smith advises.

Lack of Driving Practice: One in four accidents involves a vehicle backing up, because few drivers ever practice correct seeing in backing. Remember to look carefully before backing up.

The following all require special practice—city and rural driving, day and night driving, and wet-road and icy-pavement problems. Driving in another state, with different traffic signs and driving customs, also can bring distractions.

Farmers Converting Cropland to Grass And Trees as Conservation Measure

Auburn, Alabama, September 19, 1956 — Farmers in Alabama's twelve soil conservation districts last year converted more than 66,500 acres of cropland to grass and trees, said O. C. Medlock, State Conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in a Conservation summary just released.

Medlock stated that this shift has taken place as part of the regular soil and water conservation program. Tree planting alone totaled more than 23,700 acres in 1954 and 1955.

"This is a significant measure of the interest that farmers have in shifting their poorer acres to grass and trees—a move that will be given tremendous added stimulus by the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank", Medlock said.

Alabama farmers will have their share of a national 1957 goal of 20 million acres of cropland to be converted to grass and trees. SCS data indicate that in the interest of good land use Alabama has at least 1,055,000 acres of land now in crops, that need to be placed in permanent grass cover and 175,900 acres of present cropland should go to trees. Nationally, 47 million acres of land now in crops need to be in permanent grass cover and 7 million acres of present cropland should go into trees.

Farmers in soil conservation districts in fiscal year 1956 planted trees on 9,481 acres. Tree planting in districts, in cooperation with SCS and the State Division of Forestry has now reached a total of 81,245 acres, of which about 32,980 acres were planted during the past three years.

Farmers in districts planted 370,000 acres of pasture plantings in the last three years, the summary showed.

Pointing to another major accomplishment Medlock said that 1956 was a high year in the construction of farm ponds. Last year, 1,239 were built, bringing the total to date to more than 10,280 constructed wih SCS help in districts in Alabama.

Some 715,000 farm ponds have been built in districts throughout the nation, for water conservation, better livestock management, and better wildlife and waterfowl habitat. Averaging from 1 to 2 acres each, these ponds have a water area of more than 1,000,000 acres, Medlock said.

Another conservation practice last year was 2,493 miles of terracing. Bicolor plantings recommended by SCS and the State Department of Conservation were planted to improve wildlife food and cover on more than 1,020 acres last year, bringing the total 25,240 acres in districts.

These and many other interrelated practices are carried out, Medlock explained, as part of SCS assistance to 57,626 individual farmers cooperating in soil conservation districts in Alabama, as of July 1, 1956. These operate 10,031,408 acres of farm lands in twelve soil conservation districts. There are now 2700 soil conservation districts in the nation, including 91 percent of all farms and 86 percent of all farm lands.

If you have to replace the fence posts on your farm every couple years, you may well be digging that same hole 10 times oftener than you would have to if you used treated posts.

Ninety-six per cent of Michigan's school districts took part in the federal government's special school milk program last year.

A slow-burning cotton rope with firecrackers inserted into the twist makes an effective device to repel blackbirds. The method was developed by the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Calera Baptist W. M. S., including some members of B. W. C. met Monday, Sept 24, at Mrs. Roy Downs Lake home, "Downs By The Lake," for the last business meeting of the year. Royal service and B. B. Curry programs were observed.

The success of a grazing system and feed production program depends largely on the correct selection of seed. Choose seed best adapted to your particular soil and climate zone.

Experimental tests recently have shown that steers fed the antibiotic, terramycin, ate less and returned an additional $3.93 per head. In the test, the animals were given 75 milligrams of terramycin daily.

Alfalfa is pretty greedy for plant food. Each ton of alfalfa you cut removes about 12 pound of phosphorus and 45 pounds of potash. That means an annual top dressing of fertilizer is a necessity.

MONTEVALLO

Montevallo FFA Continues Study

Keith Salter, a greenhand F. F. A. member, almost convinced all the boys in his class that poultry pays. In his discussion with the 25 greenhands, Keith pointed out the many ways one could go into poultry production and make it a paying enterprise. He emphasized the importance of getting the latest and best information before starting into any venture which might be questionable. Troy Mimms also pointed out the many advantages to the family and the community through home improveement projects which F. F. A. boys could do. He pointed to the fact that many property owners had increased the value of property through making it more attractive. Freddie Draper, greenhand president, organized his group into the various committees suggested by the F. F. A. manual and put them at the job of making out the annual activity program. Others serving as officers for the greenhand chapter are: Tommy Taff, Vice pres. Gary Thompson, Secretary. Jerry Lawley, Treasurer. Terry Daviston reporter. Frankie Bayles, sentinel. Tony Birchfield, assistant adviser and Keith Salter is chaplain. The group will continue to look into the possibilities for the various farm enterprises in this community and following these discussions each member will choose certain enterprises and make the success with the enterprise a part of his program as he studies vocational agriculture. "Learning to do by doing" has long been stressed by F. F. A. members.

Sr. I Agriculture boys have been busy this week with their many studies and activities. The class has fixed the posts and fences at the football field and each student has revised his home practice program for this year. Members are making plans to attend the state fair on October 3 which is school day at the fair.

Sr. II agr. students have been making a special study in welding this week. Thanks to Westinghouse for making good welding rods and to Mr. John Suttle our new D. O. teacher for his help in welding instruction and demonstrations.

An adult class will be held each Tuseday evening in the vocational agriculture building and M. Thornton, teacher of the class; invites all those interested in farm problems and the latest information on farming enterprises to attend. The class meets at 7:30 and the usual time is one hour for the class.

All plans are made for Montevallo F. F. A. chapter to have two delegates at the national convention on Kansas City during the week of October 14. Thanks to the Lions Club, the Chamber of Commerce, and the P. T. A. for beginning the contributions to supplement the chapters expense in sending the delegates. Possibly one of the biggest events an F. F. A. member could attend is the national F. F. A. convention when over 15,000 Future Farmers assemble for a week of work and pleasure in Kansas City. Charles Houlditch and Leroy Winslett, the Montevallo delegates, assure members of the chapter that they will not miss attending all meetings of importace while there.

Gene Milton Reid is expanding his farming program and is now locating additional registered gilts to add to his livestock farming program. Gent received his state farmer degree at Auburn last summer and he is continuing to to make his program in F. F. A. better as he enters his third and last year in vocational agriculture.

James Dyar, Charles Smith, Gene Reid and Wayne Anderson will be ready with plenty of cold drinks, peanuts and candy when Montevallo meets Thompson High in football Friday night here.

Speech Professor Has Career as War Hero, Cowboy, Writer, Boxer and Sailor

Cowboy, writer, war hero, boxer, sailor, and now a speech teacher. Dr. John Ellery, 36 year old associate professor of speech at Alabama College, has led a dozen lives.

The speech professor arrived here three weeks ago from the University of Iowa. At Alabama College, Dr. Ellery is entering a new phase of his adventurous life.

The popular conception that a college professor leads a quite life lecturing to students on an ivy covered campus doesn't apply to Dr. Ellery.

As an adventurer who has traveled to the far corners of the world, this quiet spoken professor with a slight build rivals Jack London in his search for color and excitement.

A New Yorker by birth, Dr. Ellery attended Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., where he received his A. B. Degree. He received his Master's Degree at the University of Colorado and Ph.D. at the University of Wisconsin.

When he was 16 years old, Dr. Ellery went to sea as a cabin boy. Later he joined the Merchant Marine and at the oubreak of the war he was a Deck Officer, Navigator. When the war was well underway he joined the army and served in Europe as a sergeant in the infantry.

Coming under the hero category, Dr. Ellery emerged from the war with many decorations. He receivde two purple hearts, two bronze stars, two conspicuous service crosses. He also received two medals from the French government: the Medaille Millitaire Fourragers and the Medal of Liberated France.

Dr. Ellery met his wife in the classic storybook fashion. He was wounded in France and was taken to a hospital in England. For five month Ellen Jane Savacool, a captain in the Army Nurse Corps, was assigned as his nurse After the war when they returned to the States they were married. The Ellerys now have three children, Thea, Sarah, and Martha.

At the University of Colorado the professor became interested in horseback riding, Western style.

"I have ridden horses practically all my life," he said. "After a year at the University I was invited to join the Rodeo Cowboys Association."

Dr. Ellery explained that the Rodeo Cowboys Association is a cowboys' union which protects them from being exploited by unscrupulous showmen at fairs and horse shows, etc..

Like the traditional cowboy who values his horse next to his wife, Dr. Ellery has a great love for the animal, but like other horsemen he has received his quota of bruises and broken bones from many a temperamental bronc.

During his spare time the Alabama College speech professor writes poetry and short stories. Several of his poems and stories have been published in national magazines. He also translates ancient Roman classic from Latin.

The versatile speech teacher was also a boxer. In the infantry he was lightweight battalion champion in his outfit.

"I had dreams of glory in the ring," he said, "Until that fatal day when I was knocked out by the champ of another battalion."

Many people have certain days in which bad luck seems to come in leaps and bounds. The first day of August is the date Dr. Ellery would like to avoid. On that date in 1942 he was sent overseas. In August, 1943, he was wounded in Sicily; in August 1944 he was wounded in France; and on August 1, 1950, he was thrown from a horse and received several broken ribs and severe bruises. Since then his luck has held.

Besides leading a busy, adventurous life, Dr. Ellery belongs to practically every organization in existence. He is listed in Who's Who in American Education; Delta Sigma Rho; Alphi Phi Omega; Eta Sigma Phi; Sigma Delta Tau; National Rifle Association; Civil Air Patrol; Izaac Walton League; Sons of American Revolution; Rodeo Cowboys Association; and has served as Chief of Staff (Iowa Dept.) of the Military Order of Purple Heart.

Before coming to Alabama College, Dr. Ellery was a member of the faculty in the speech department at the Universities of Colorado, Wisconsin, and Iowa.

Dr. Ellery's wife matches him in energy and love of travel—but when it comes to horses she draws the line. "To me horses are large, fierce animals!" she said with a shudder.

To keep fresh milk at its best, keep it clean, cold, covered and in the dark, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reminds homemakers. Milk holds both nutrition value and flavor best when kept cold. Stored near the freezing unit of the refrigerator, it can be expected to keep good quality and flavor for three to four days, perhaps longer.

OUT ON A LIMB

A city feller was tryin' to talk Ol' Sam into buying a bicycle the other day. "I'd suther spend my money on a cow," Sam said.

"But think," the feller insisted, "how foolish you'd look riding around on a cow."

"Not half so foolish as I'd look tryin' to milk a bicycle!" said Ol' Sam.

I was readin' in the papers the other day that the once-fertile lands of the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers, over in the Near East—where lots of fellers think the Garden of Eden was located—is now a barren wasteland. That's right—because people cut down all the trees and never planted any more!

* * *

Well, sir, in our own forests, loggers are swingin' their axes and runnin' their saws at a faster rate than ever before—but there's no danger that they'll destroy our forestlands! 'Cause tree growth today exceeds tree cutting! And the reason for this is tree farms—which now cover 38 million acres of private land in the U.S. alone. This is a great start – so let's keep planting more than we cut!

* * *

The best thing to do, when you harvest your trees, is to figure how to get your wood to the railroad siding or the mill at the least expense. I always plan to haul from low places while the ground is dry, or—in the winter—when it's frozen solid. If my trees aren't too scattered, I throw them along the path my truck will follow, then load directly from stump to truck. 'Course, a feller who uses a team or a horse will work differently from the feller with a tractor. Every job is a little different. Main thing is to avoid unnecessary handling of the wood. 'Cause, when you save handling, you save money!

* * *

My friend Joe Moon defines "tree" as a large solid plant that stands in one place for fifty years, and then suddenly jumps in front of a woman driver!

See you soon!

THIS IS WHERE TOMORROW STARTS

A new "inner car" gives you a NEW KIND of FORD for 1957!

Coming October 3rd.

On Wednesday, October 3rd, Ford Dealers throughout the United States will unveil a new kind of automobile!

Cars are involved in every American's life. News of a new kind of car is the biggest kind of news to millions of Americans.

The Big New Kind of Ford is that kind of news . . . a car totally new in design from crest to trunk lock.

This completely new automotive package will sell at the traditionally low Ford prices.

This makes possible a new high standard of such honest-to-goodness value that it actually increases the purchasing power of your automobile dollar.

When you see it, other cars will look out of date, because . . .

This is Where Tomorrow Starts . . . with a Big New Kind of Ford!

The New Kind of Ford is the fullest, most eloquent expression of Ford's special personality—the youthful grace, the whiplash action—and the reputation for durability known wherever there's a road.

To all this we have added true elegance—a kind of elegance never before seen in the low-price field. To make a car truly elegant, you must start deep-down inside.

The New Inner Ford

The Inner Ford—the car you cannot see—is a very remarkable structure. Its frame is actually a cradle. Side members extend almost the full body width; they serve not only as supporting members but as concealed side bumpers of immense strength.

The New Ford Body

The new Ford body is a triumph of engineering in steel. The doors close with the solid finality of a bank vault. Even the door-lock button has been moved up front—easier for you to reach, but out of the children's reach.

All these features were engineered to give you a solid new kind of comfort.

The New Ford Ride

The New Kind of Ford sits six people as no other low-priced car has ever sat them—six elbows wide in each seat, with deep space around each one of six knees. And above all that space, there's hat room to spare for all six passengers.

The 1957 Ford rides low, solid, with a firm, deep road-holding feel. Yet it's a light-hearted, flight-hearted ride—this car is responsive, nimble, agile, with a proud easy movement.

The New Ford Choice

Ford offers not only one, but two sizes of cars . . . each on its own extended wheelbase . . . each with its own body shell . . . each with its own styling.

First, the two Fairlane Series on a 118-inch wheelbase. The Fairlane 500's come in 5 body types, a four-door sedan, a two-door sedan, a two- and four-door Victoria with no center pillars, and a convertible coupe. The same body types (except for the convertible) are available in the Fairlane Series.

Second, two Custom Series mounted on the 116-inch wheelbase chassis. In the Custom 300 Series, a four-door and a two-door sedan are distinguished from the Custom models by more luxurious interiors and elaborate trim. The Custom Series also includes a Business Sedan.

Beyond all these, you also have your choice of five Station Wagons—the famous glamour cruisers that are the champions in this field!

The New Ford Look

That low, low cradle-span frame means a low, low car. The Fairlane 500 is only four feet eight inches from road to roof! The Custom is just over four feet nine inches!

The new Ford is not only low—but long. Ford gives you more than 17 feet of elegant length in the Fairlane Series, a shade less in the Custom. It's a nice kind of fun just to look at it. It's high-priced in every way except price.

The New Ford Performance

You can have up to 245 wonderful Thunderbird horsepower in any Ford model. There's a moderate—and really moderate—extra charge for this engine of 312 cubic inches with its 4-barrel carburetor.

For "Six" lovers, we've got the 144-hp Mileage Maker Six. Whether you choose Six or V-8, the going is great!

THEY GAMBLE WITH DEATH

The curb-stepping little fellow has the right idea. He's making sure no cars are coming before he and his friend cross the street on the way to school.

School teachers, police and traffic safety officials all try to help our school children learn pedestrian safety rules along with the three R's. Joining with those groups, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company suggests that parents can help a great deal by teaching through example. Your children and you, too, should:

1. Look both ways before crossing streets.
2. Never jaywalk.
3. Cross streets only on properly designated crosswalks.
4. Respect and obey signals of the traffic policeman or safety officer on duty.
5. At intersections regulated by traffic lights, cross only with the pedestrian light.
6. Insist that children play their games in schoolyards or at home, not in the street.

And, as a driver, you can help, too, during the school year by driving slowly and cautiously when passing schools or playgrounds. Keep this question always in mind, "Would I want to be behind the wheel of the car that hit him?"

Science Talent Search Competition Begins

Dr. James L. Kassner, chairman of The Gorgas Scholarship Foundation, Inc., stated today that competition for the seventh annual State Science Talent Search for General Gorgas Scholarships is now underway. "Many science teachers," he said, "are opening the door to higher education in science to promising students by placing before them the opportunity to compete for one of the Gorgas Scholarships."

Details of the competition are given in the Gorgas Scholarship Manual for Teachers and Students, which has been sent to all school libraries.

Dr. Kassner urges all science students to apply to their teachers for entry material before November 1st, inasmuch as all entries must be mailed by the teachers to Science Clubs of America, Washington, D. C., before schools close for the Christmas holidays.

The Science Talent Contest is sponsored each year by the Gorgas Scholarship Foundation, Inc., in cooperation with the Alabama Academy of Science and the following educational institutions:

Alabama College, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Birmingham-Southern College, Howard College, Huntingdon College, Spring Hill College, University of Alabama, Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical College, The Alabama State College for Negroes, Tuskegee Institute.

Each of these educational institutions has agreed to remit to one scholarship winner each year all tuition for four years as its contribution to the advancement of science.

The total financial outlay, including cash awards and tuition each year, amounts to more than $10,000 for the Alabama contest.

Farmers who store grain in bins should make sure the bins have been thoroughly cleaned first. Old grain, trash, feed sacks and other objects furnish living quarters for insects which destroy thousands of bushels of farm-stored grain yearly.

"Zeke!" Old Ezry said to his hired hand. "Run down to the junction and find out what time it is!"

"All right," Zeke said, "but I ain't got a watch. Will you lend me one?"

"Watch! Watch!" snapped Ol' Ezry. "What d'ye need a watch fer? Write it down on a piece of paper!"

Out West nowadays, they're brandin' logs like cattle! Yep, that's right. The logs that float into Puget Sound carry the brand of their owner, so's they won't get lost or stolen. It used to be that lots of logs floated into the Sound and out to sea. And, since some logs were worth as much as $300 apiece, many were lost to tree pirates! So the laws were changed — in Oregon, Washington and British Columbia — and today every log has to be branded, and nobody has the right to remove or alter that brand. I reckon the day of the log rustler, as well as the cattle rustler, is gone forever!

I figure it pays a feller to decide where his woods road should go before he starts cuttin'. Usually it ought to run near the thickest timber and where a truck can go with the least expense. It's also a good idea to reserve some stands of trees in dry, well-drained areas for winter and bad-weather cutting and hauling.

* * *

In the woods, a feller ought to be as careful as he can. F'r instance, when he's bucking—that's when you cut a tree into logs or sections—he ought to work uphill from his previously bucked logs. And he ought to give plenty of warning to other fellers in the area of any log that may have a tendency to roll after it's been bucked!

* * *

As for his power saw, he ought to fill the gas tank only on bare mineral ground, then move to a clean spot before he starts it. And he ought to shut off the motor when he's carryin' it from one place to another, and also when the tree starts to fall. These are good safety rules to follow, I've found!

"Well, how is it?" the plumber asked, when he arrived late.

"Not bad," the husband said. "While we was waitin' for you, I taught my wife how to swim!"

See you soon!

Funeral Held For Dr. Charles T. Acker, Prominent Physician and Former Mayor

Dr. Charles T. Acker, 78, widely known and beloved Montevallo physician, died Monday morning at the University Hospital in Birmingham.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Wednesday from Montevallo Baptist Church with the Rev. Edward Glover, pastor, Rev. Fred B. Pearson, former pastor, and Rev. James Chesnutt officiating.

Burial in the family plot at Montevallo Cemetery was directed by Bolton Walton Funeral Home.

Since 1900 Dr. Acker has been engaged in the practice of medicine, and since 1912 he has treated the ills of the people of this community and the surrounding territory. Truly, a medical man with training comparable to many of our more prominent specialists, Dr. Acker could have gone far, but love for his fellow man kept him striving for better living conditions and administering to the medical needs of the people of his beloved Montevallo and surrounding communities.

"He gave his life in service to others" was the subject of a beautiful and most fitting tribute to "Dr. Charlie," made by Dr. Fred B. Pearson at the funeral services Wednesday.

Charles Thomas, son of the late Dr. James Wilson and Sara Coffee Acker, was born August 11, 1878 at their home on the bank of Shoals Creek on Selma Street. After graduation from local schools he received his A. B. degree from Howard College in 1897, and in 1900 he received his M. D. from the University of Alabama. Post graduate work at Jefferson Medical School, Philadelphia and New York Post Graduate school and Hospital followed.

In 1912 he majored in eye, ear nose, and throat in Vienna, Berlin, London, and Paris.

From 1932-36 he served as mayor of Montevallo; from 1936 to 1938 President of the City Council, and until his death was Chairman of the Board of Deacons of Montevallo Baptist Church.

During World War I Dr. Acker was examining physician, Shelby County Draft Board, served as medicial examiner, Selective Service System. He was a member of the local Community Chest; member of the American Medical Association; Alabama State Medical Society, (Councillor); Shelby Co. Medical Society, (President for several terms); member of the Board of Censors for 30 years; a Mason, and member of Zamora Temple, Charter member of Montevallo Rotary Club, and author of several articles published in Medical Journals.

For the past few years Dr. Acker's health has been failing, but until a few days before his death he continued to administer to others who were ill.

Affectionately known as "Dr. Charlie," a man of courage whose love of medicine and the well being of his fellow man has left many friends to mourn his passing.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Will Lyman of Oak Ridge Tenn. Included among his several surviving nieces and nephews are Mrs. Kate Cook, Montevallo; Miss Alice Lyman, Oak Ridge, Tenn. and Mr. Paul Lyman, Raleigh, N. C.; six greatnephews and twelve greatnieces.

Calera Telephone Numbers Change Sunday Morning

Sunday will mark another milestone in the fifty-one year history of the Southern Bell Telephone Company's operation in Calera. Beginning at 12:01 a.m. all local telephone numbers will change to conform to a new uniform nationwide telephone numbering plan .

Each Calera telephone number will consist of the office name NOrth followed by five numerals.

The mass number change is the first step in Southern Bell's long range program to eventually provide customer direct distance dialing throughout its territory. Approximately 550 telephones are to be assigned new numbers. J. L. Switzer, local manager of the company, said the adoption of the new numbering plan will make possible improvements in the speed and accuracy of long distance service.

All new telephone numbers are listed in the new directory which has been delivered to all Calera subscribers.

Mr. Switzer said that to dial a new type number, it is necessary to dial the first two letters only of the office name and the five numerals that follow.

He explained that these letters are actually numbers when dialed. NOrth is 66. The office name, however, being easier to remember, is an aid to the telephone user and from the technical viewpoint is necessary to the new numbering plan.

Mr. Switzer said, "Although the average time required for completing long distance calls has been reduced in the past few years due to the addition of more long distance facilities and the adoption of the new methods, further improvements are possible by utilizing the new numbering plan."

The new numbering system is being adopted throughout the United States and Canada by both Bell System and independent companies. In Alabama the new numbering system has been placed in service in Attalla, Anniston, Alexander City, Centreville, Columbiana, Fairhope, Gadsden, Goodwater, Gurley, Huntsville, Jacksonville, Mobile, Munford, Ft. Deposit, Opelika, Siluria, Selma, Citronelle, Mt. Vernon, Tuscaloosa, Talladega, West Blocton and partially in Birmingham. Other exchanges will be converted as soon as time and availability of equipment permits.

Waves Important Part of Navy Team

A great deal of first class arguments originate over Navy coffee cups in the mess decks of our fighting ships about the improvements and changes in the post war fleet. Chief Jim Bigbee of the Bessemer, Ala. Navy Recruiting Station, declares however that few of these coffee drinkers (and all true bluejackets are consumers of coffee) will argue the point that the Navy has improved with the permanant addition of the WAVES.

Now over 6,000 strong, in the peacetime Navy, the career women serve in all ranks from Seaman Recruit through Commander; the director of the WAVES holds the rank of Captain, U. S. N. The girls have discovered that Navy life is full of new interests and job opportunities, and while the majority of the WAVES are assigned to duty within the Continental United States; WAVES serve in Hawaii, England, France, Italy, Germany, Japan, Guam, Alaska, French Morocco, and Norway. A few of the adventurous ladies even serve at sea in naval transport vessels as hospital corpsmen, and in the air as flight orderlies.

Working in 27 of the Navy's 62 ratings, the WAVES are performing the same duties as their male counterparts and draw the same pay and allowances. Chief Bigbee, something of an "old-timer" himself in the ways of the Navy, said today that the "experts" who hold forth at the coffee sessions are beginning to agree that the girls-in-blue are not only attractive, but are important members of the team.

"Career, U. S. Navy"; a fully illustrated booklet devoted to the Waves in today's Navy, may be obtained by visiting or calling your local U. S. Navy Recruiter.

Montevallo High School Chosen To Receive Traveling Science Library

Montevallo High School has been chosen as one of 100 schools in the United States to receive during 1956-57 the Traveling High School Science Library, sponsored by the National Science Foundation and the American Association for the Advancement of Science, both located in Washington, D. C. This is an experimental program, now in its second year, designed to determine the influence upon the better-than-average high school student of an outstanding collection of science books for his voluntary assigned reading.

"This program," said Guy Milford, Principal of the local school, "recognizes that most science careers begin in high school. Therefore it is important that the superior students receive every facility and encouragement to broaden their scientific and mathematical knowledge, and to deepen their interest."

The program was originated because of the conviction of the major national scientific organizations of the United States that concerted action must be taken to assure an adequate supply of scientifie manpower for the future. The shortage of scientists exists throughout the country for all large city newspapers run display ads for engineers, chemists, physicists, and other scientists. The majority of the high school students in the United States live in communities where the school and public libraries afford little opportunity for reading good science books. Even the collections of science books in the libraries in many large cities are poor. This program actually tests the reactions of students to good science books and demonstrates to school and public libraries the books they should buy.

The Traveling Library consists of 200 books chosen by leading scientists, mathematicians, librarians, and science teachers. Twenty-five sets of books are being circulated in different parts of the country. Each school receives 50 books at a time, beginning October 1, which may be used for two months. Then books are exchanged with other schools in the State every two months until the end of the school year when the local school will have had an opportunity to use all 200 books. The program involves no cost to the schools. Transportation charges and other expenses are paid by the sponsoring agencies.

The Nantional Science Foundation, which finances the program, is an agency of the United States Government established to promote the progress of science, and supports several programs to improve and extend education in the sciences. The American Association for the Advancement of Science, which administers the Program, was organized in 1848 and is the oldest national scientific society. Music Professor Attracts Students

With musical talent ranging from Bach to Brubeck, John Fesperman, associate professor of music at Alabama College draws students magnetically.

Beginning his first year at Alabama College, Mr. Fesperman recently completed two years of study in Europe on a Fulbright scholarship. A native of Kannapolis, N. C., he is a former associate professor of music at Catawba College, Salisbury, N. C.

Mr. Fesperman is an accomplished organist. He has been playing the instrument for over 12 years. When he was a student at the Amsterdam Conservatory in Holland and the Mozartum, Salsburg, Austria, he was invited to play the pipe organ in several cathedrals and ancient castles in that section of Europe.

Prior to his study in Europe, the associate professor received his B. S. degree from Davidson College, Davidson, N. C., and his Bachelor of Music degree from Yale University.

Having contributed several articles to musical publications, Mr. Fesperman received acclaim from authorities on his "Interpretation of Music of 17th and 18th Centuries," and "The Organ in Protestant Churches."

People in the central Alabama area will be hearing Mr. Fesperman's organ music in a weekly series of radio broadcasts this fall from the Alabama College campus entitled "Music from Montevallo." Several of the broadcasts will include harpsichord music.

While studying in Europe, Mr. Fesperman's prime interest was organ and harpsichord music of the Baroque period. He visited many organ and harpsichord builders in England, Denmark and Holland.

Mr. Fesperman gathered a vast amount of material concerning the construction and history of these instruments. He hopes to use this data in a book he plans to have published. The organist someday desires to be known as "a player of Bach."

Accompanying Mr. Fesperman to Alabama College was a harpsichord which he purchased in Europe. The harpsichord resembles the piano in many ways and is currently enjoying a new vogue. The instrument was very popular during the 17th and 18th century. Unlike the piano the keyboard is smaller and contains only half as many keys. The sound is lighter and more melodic.

At every convocation Mr. Fesperman is at the keyboard of the Alabama College organ and the music of Bach penetrates the entire campus.

Alabama College's famed 62 rank pipe organ is one of the finest instruments in the United States. Installed and built in Palmer Hall in 1930 by the Ernest Skinner Organ Company, the organ has four manuals and more than 5,000 individual pipes. Mr. Fesperman's teaching will be focused on the organ with emphasis on church music.

At evening when classes are over and most of the students are studying in their dormitory rooms, the sound of music can be heard drifting over the college grounds. It is unnecessary to guess who is playing. Mr. Fesperman is a familiar figure at Alabama College and is immediately connected to the sound of a pipe organ.

Dairymen report that young calves need water in addition to the daily milk allowance. Lack of water may be responsible for limited hay consumption.

Farmers who want top pastures for fall seeding should be thinking now about such things as seed bed preparation, lime, fertilizer and mixtures.

Freshman Mother, Sophomore Daughter Enjoy Attending College Together

Mother may be a freshman but her sophomore daughter doesn't pull any upperclassman rank on her.

To see them stroll across the Alabama College campus one would think that Mrs. Eugenia Dodd, a Montevallo housewife turned student, and her 18 year old daughter Ramonia, were two average coeds on their way to class.

Mrs. Dodd is the mother of three children. Besides Ramonia there is Amelia, age 13 and baby Laura who is two years old. Her husband, J. P. Dodd works for a construction company and does a lot of traveling throughout the state.

Mrs. Dodd said that one day in the midst of her housework when her two older children were away at school she was struck by an idea. "Why don't I go to college since I live in a college town?"

The broom was returned to the closet, the dinner meal was placed in the oven to keep warm and with the baby tucked in her arms Mrs. Dodd headed for the registrar's office and made plans to enter Alabama College as a freshman.

"In these times everybody should have a college degree," Mrs. Dodd said. "It is an asset that is priceless to the individual socially as well as professionally."

Mrs. Dodd is majoring in elementary education. "By the time I graduate my youngest child will be in school and I hope that I will be able to teach in some area school."

"My daughter is the one who really made me decide to go to college," Mrs. Dodd said. "Last year she attended Judson College. She talked so enthusiastically about the courses she was taking and college life in general that when fall came it took little effort to cease being a housewife."

Mrs. Dodd's daily schedule runs something like this: In the morning she prepares breakfast. The maid arrives as they leave and looks after the infant and cleans up the house. Then the freshman mother and her sophomore daughter spend the morning in their classrooms. At lunch they go home for a hot dinner cooked by the maid. Then back to school for afternoon classes.

In the evening Mrs. Dodd prepares the supper meal, puts the younger children to bed and then she and Ramonia do their homework. If Mr. Dodd happens to be home from his business trips he helps them with their assignments.

Mrs. Dodd says that she really enjoys being a college student. "Two years ago I would have thought it impossible," she said. "It's wonderful being around young people and studying with them. It adds youth to maturity."

Ramonia is majoring in vocational home economics. Knowledge acquired in the classes is helpful around the house she stated. "There are times when we are unable to get a maid and since mother is just a freshman it is essential that she should meet all classes. I streamline the work and meal schedule, get a neighbor to baby sit and then go to my classes."

On weekends the Dodd household moves at a leisurely pace. Mrs. Dodd and her daughter postpone their homework until Sunday night. The rest of the time is spent shopping, watching TV, and following other activities conducted in the average household.

When Sunday night rolls around, the baby is put to bed early. Then Amelia, Romania and Mrs. Dodd are seated at the kitchen table with textbooks opened before them. For the next day the freshman mother and sophomore daughter may walk into a classroom and find an examination written on the blackboard.

HOW TO DIAL The New Telephone Numbers

At 12:01 A.M., Sunday, October 7, the new name numeral telephone numbers become effective in Calera. Every number consists of a central office name followed by five numerals. For example:

NOrth 8-9011

For a Calera subscriber to dial the number NOrth 8-9011, he would dial N-O-8-9-0-1-1 . . . like this: Lift the receiver —wait for the steady hum-m-m of the dial tone—then

First, dial the letter N...

Then the letter O...

Then the numeral 8...

Then the numeral 9...

Then the numeral 0...

Then the numeral 1...

Then the numeral 1...

It's as easy as that.

If you give a number to the operator, or repeat it to a friend, the easy way to say it is like this: NOrth-Eight . . . Nine-O . . . One-One.

This is the best way to say it—to understand it—to remember it. You'll find complete instructions on the front of your new telephone directory.

County Health Department Gives X-Rays to All School Workers

Dr. E. F. Sloan
County Health Officer

Some years ago the State Legislature delegated to the State Health Department the responsibility of doing a chest x-ray on all School Personnel; teachers, lunchroom workers, bus drivers and janitors, every 3 years.

This being the year for this survey, your County Health Officer requested the State Health Department to send 2 of their x-ray survey buses to Shelby County. This was done on Tuesday of last week, one bus sent to Montevallo High School and one to Shelby County High School. 581 school workers were x-rayed at the 2 places.

Since the survey films are small, 70mm film, they are used for screening purpose only. Any person's film which shows any abnormality is called back for a full-size film. The fact that a person is called back does not necessarily mean that they have any active disease. The State Health Department has asked the County X-ray Clinic to do these re-x-rays, read the films and send them the reports. The individual"s cards will then be issued by the State Health Department on the basis of the County Clinician's reports.

The importance of this work is well demonstrated by the following case. A teacher was denied permission to teach in this County because she was found to have active Tuberculosis. She left the County, address unknown, and at the end of the school year, we found that she had been teaching in another County and had exposed many children to her infection daily. She then had far advanced Tuberculosis.

The other important survey was of the cafe and soda fount workers and dairymen, who do not sell their milk directly to a processing plant. This survey was sponsored by the County Tuberculosis Association and the x-rays and bloodtests were done in the County X-ray Clinic. 285 workers were examined. One worker, in one of the larger eating establishments in the County, was found to have active Tuberculosis and was exposing inumerable people to his infection every day. He is now in the Sanatorium. Five others were called back for further examinations and found to be inactive. They will be kept under close supervision for a year or more. All food establishment employees will be x-rayed once a year and new employees required to have their x-rays before being employed.

Heart Disease Is State's Leading Cause of Death

Every county in the state reported at least 14 deaths due to heart disease, and some of them a great many more, during 1955.

The State Health Department said today that this was Alabama's leading single cause of death, with a total of 8,500 fatalities listed for last year.

A summary prepared by the Department's bureau of vital statistics showed that Shelby county reported 51 deaths due to some form of heart disease.

The figures given here are provisional, and may vary slightly when final reports are available.

All Calera Telephone Numbers Change

New Numbers Have An Office Name

Here are some facts you'll want to remember!

1 Effective at 12:01 A.M. on Sunday, October 7, all telephones served by the local exchange will get new numbers.

2 Each changed telephone number will consist of an office name and five numerals. For example, a new Calera telephone number might be NOrth 8-9011.

3 To call a new number in your exchange, simply dial the first two letters of the office name and then the five numerals as listed in the new telephone directory. For example, a Calera subscriber might dial N-O-8-9-0-1-1. It is most important not to confuse the letter "O" in NOrth with the figure "Zero." The letter "O" is found with the three letters "MNO" while the figure "Zero" is associated with the last dial opening and the word "Operator."

4 IT IS VERY IMPORTANT THAT YOU REFER TO THE NEW DIRECTORY BEFORE MAKING A TELEPHONE CALL SINCE ALL TELEPHONES IN YOUR EXCHANGE WILL GET NUMBERS BEGINNING WITH OFFICE NAMES.

5 When placing a Long Distance call, be sure to give the operator the office name and the five numerals when she asks for the number.

6 Use the new directory after 12:01 A.M., Sunday and dispose of your old directory promptly.

Dr. Gormley Speaks At PTA Meeting

Dr. Charles Gormley, Director of the Montevallo Schools, was the speaker at the regular Montevallo P. T. A. meeting October 1, at the School Cafeteria. The theme of Dr. Gormley's talk was "Some Hopes and Fears" but he hastened to say that he had many hopes and few fears. Dr. Gormley expressed his delight at being able to talk to the P. T. A. group because he said, "We have the same general objective, and the more we know about existing conditions, the better we can work toward this goal. We shall welcome constructive criticism: it implies a desire to improve things, and it means you are willing to work for needed improvements." Dr. Gormley feels that things are off to a good start in our school. "A good school," he says, "is always the result of cooperation by many people; and the team is far bigger than you may suppose.

"Those directly responsible for administration can help to establish suitable conditions, and they can give some leadership.

"Teachers certainly occupy a central position. In a good school most teachers (1) know a great deal and can help others learn, (2) are the kind of people you like to associate with, and (3) are keenly interested in the progress and welfare of pupils.

"Most parents will have to want for their children the kind of education that a good school can provide. And the pupils must cooperate in their own education. This cooperation is pretty well described by the word 'morale'.

"I HOPE we shall be able to improve: administrative leadership, teaching effectiveness, parental cooperation, and pupil morale."

Here Dr. Gormley made the observation that perhaps our school was, at this point doing a better job of preparing students to go directly out from the school and seek a position than it was in preparing students for college. He said, "I hope we shall be able to work out a better program of studies for the increasing numbers of pupils who are going to college. We now have a superior vocational program for those whose formal education will end with high school graduation. But I believe we can establish a pattern of required and elective subjects better suited to the prospective college student."

Another hope of the administration expressed by Dr. Gormley was "that increased attendance will earn for us another elementary teacher for next year."

"Finally," said Dr. Gormley, "I hope that meals in the lunchroom prove so attractive that most pupils will be reluctant to eat elsewhere." It was interesting to the group to learn that nearly 500 people are served in our school cafeteria each day.

It was voted by this group to hold the annual Halloween Carnival on Saturday, October 27. You will be hearing much more from the Carnival Committee, and it is the hope of the P. T. A. that each person interested in our schools will exert every effort to make this the best Carnival we have ever had.

The group also voted $12.50 to help defray the expenses of a member of Mr. Thornton's F. F. A. Group to the national convention in Kansas City

Mrs. Jack Albright gave a most interesting report of the work of the lunchroom committee, and it was with a great deal of satisfaction the group noted the improvements that have already been made in serving attractive, wholesome meals to our children.

DAR Plans First Fall Meeting For Monday

Brief reports will be given by the following committee chairmen: Mrs. W. H. Lyman, approved schools; Mrs. O. B. Cooper, community service; Mrs. E. H. Wills, national defense; Miss Eloise Meroney, national honor roll; and Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, student loan and scholarship. Mrs. Gormley will also give an account of the June Board of Management meeting held in Montgomery.

Miss Annabeth Cash, program chairman, will present Mrs. Mary H. Whatley, associate professor of sociology at Alabama College and a member of the chapter, who will discuss two topics, "The Constitution", and "Democratic and Republican Parties and Their Platforms".

Mrs. Lyman requests all members and friends who wish to make contributions of books and clothing for Kate Duncan Smith School to do so prior to Tuesday, Oct. 23, when the Grant, Alabama school observes its annual Dedication Day program.

Shelby County Has No Polio This Year

With the peak of the Polio season passed Shelby County has not had a case of Polio reported this year. This is the first year since the organization of the Health Department (1929) that the County has failed to have several cases of Polio.

The initial phase of the Polio immunization programa was sponsored by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Congress then appropriated sufficient funds for the USPHS to buy Polio vaccine and distribute it to the States.

The Shelby County Polio Immunization Program, with the combined efforts of the local chapter of the NFIP, the USPHS, the State Coordinator, the phyicians of this County, the school authorities and the County Health Department has been successful. Many children have been immunized and more are being immunized daily.

Much credit is due the School Personnel and to members of the Vignette Club whose cooperation and assistance has been invaluable.

It is believed that, before the advent of another Polio season, a sufficient number of children will have been immunized to obviate the danger of a Polio outbreak in this County. However all parents are urged to have their children immunized since they will no doubt come in contact with healthy carriers from time to time.

All individuals between the ages of 6 months and 20 years, and all expectant mothers, are eligible for these shots.

Dr. Napier Speaks to Thompson Students

There is no very great success without very great labor, Dr. T. H. Napier, retired dean of Alabama College, pointed out to Thompson High school students at an assembly program last week.

Speaking on "Choosing a Career," Dr. Napier advised his audience to decide on a career early and to get all the education possible.

Dr. Napier cautioned the individual student, after making a choice, to ask himself such questions as whether he had the intelligence, special abilities, physical ability, temperament and character for the job.

He also urged consideration of the satisfactions the job would bring, the opportunities open in that field, the kind of public service the person would be rendering, and the financial returns it would afford.

Any Cropland Eligible For Conservation Reserve

Any farm land regularly used in the production of crops including tame hay may be included in the Soil Bank's Conservation Reserve, advises H. C. McDanal, Chairman of the Shelby County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committe. Land which is not eligible under the program includes non-crop land, land that is designated for the Acreage Reserve, and land owned by the Federal Government.

When an approved practice is carried out on land designated for the Conservation Reserve, the farmer will receive a payment varying by practices but which may represent up to 80 percent of the cost of establishing the practice. He will also receive an annual payment, including the first year, at the rate of $9.00 per acre.

Tto qualify for payment, the farmer must reduce the prior 2-year average acreage for crops harvested on his farm by the number of acres he places in the Conservation Reserve.

Chairman McDanal advises that the closing date for signing up in Conservation Reserve program for 1956 is October 15. Information on practice specifications and contract forms which must be submitted before the closing date are available at the County ASC Office at Columbiana, Ala.

Amendment No. 2 Will Provide Funds For State Mental Hospitals

Thousands of mentally ill Alabamians who could get well don't. They are jammed and crowded together in wards that aren't big enough to handle half their numbers. They're in old buildings badly in need of rebuilding. A single bathroom serves a ward of 84 patients. It's a grim, concrete-floored room in need of fresh paint and showing the stains of many years' use. Hospital beds are lined three-deep along the walls of some wards. In a ward of bedfast patients where bed linens must be changed frequently, attendants must pull cach bed out of its row and into the narrow aisle to make changes. There isn't room to work between the beds.

In mental hospitals that have enough space, good buildings, adequate eqipment and staff, 80 to 85 per cent of the patients admitted are discharged as cured or improved within a single year. In Alabama only about 40 per cent are discharged in their first year. Many of them spend half a lifetime there in the hospital.

On November 6th, Alabama voters will have a chance to improve the physical surroundings of the mentally ill and mentally retarded.

The $4,000,000 bond issue provided for in Amendment No. 2 will pay for desperately needed new buildings, will renovate old ones and will purchase equipment needed in treatment of mental patients. This is the first time an opportunity to help this segment of the population has been placed directly before the voters.

Apart from relieving human suffering, what does it mean to the voter in terms of dollars and cents?

First, it does not mean new or additional taxes. These bonds, carrying a maximum interest of three per cent, are to be paid off from the general tax fund. This is the same fund that pays for the long, drawn-out custodial care of patients who could get well but don't.

Second, it means Alabama's mental hospitals will have a better chance to attract the necessary professional staff. Psychiatrists and psychiatric nurses are scarce and can't always be had, even when appropriations are available. But physcial improvements that will help Alabama hospital meet standards that will make them eligible for training personnel to relieve the shortage.

At present, Alabama mental hospitals have about 8700 patients, and the load is growing each year. The present trend indicates that one in 10 of Alabama's citizens will spend some time in a hospital because of mental illness.

A Salute To The Pharmacist

What is a pharmacist?

He is a member of the "health team." His team-mates are the family doctors, specialists, nurses and hospital administrators who work for better community health.

He is the "scientist on the corner." He is that unique storekeeper who must have a college degree in pharmacy and pass the rigid examination of the State Board of Pharmacy in order to win the honored title of "Registered Pharmacist." But he does not stop there. Through professional journals and meetings he is up to date on the latest research and developments in pharmacy and medicine.

He is the physician's colleague and trusted aide. In direct contact with drug manufacturers, he helps keep the busy physician informed on the hundreds of new prescription drugs developed each year.

He is the physician's "warehouse." He must stock every drug that many be prescribed by the doctors he serves . . . medicines for hay fever, arthritis. the common cold . . . thousands of them. Many resemble one another, but there are no substitutes. The pharmacist fills every prescription exactly as ordered.

He is a good neighbor. He knows and likes his customers. He values their friendship and confidence in his professional skill —that skill which stands always dedicated to the wellbeing of his neighbors.

He is a public servant. President Eisenhower, in proclaiming National Pharmacy Week, has called attention to "the splendid services rendered by the pharmacists of America to the health of our people."

Because the pharmacist is all these things, he deserves a tribute of thanks for his devoted and indispensable service throughout the year.

Montevallo Defeats Jemison for First Win

By S. DeMent

After suffering three consecutive defeats this season the Montveallo Bulldogs finally broke into the win column as they downed Jemison there Friday night 13-0.

A Panther fumble on their own 43, as the first quarter ended, set up the initial touchdown for the Bulldogs. Taking the ball from there Kenneth Oglesby, fullback, picked up 11 yards; a pass from Ronald Smitherman to E. .G Alexander was good for four, then Smitherman skirted left end for 28 yards and paydirt. Winslett's attempted kick was blocked.

Tasting the lead for the first time this season, the victory-starved Bulldogs came to life, held the Panthers for downs, and in five plays drove 70 yards for a second touchdown. Again it was the running of Oglesby (39 yards in 3 tries) and Smitherman (31 yards in 2) that paid off. Oglesby went over from 15 yards out and then ran the extra point.

As a result of a pass interception on the part of Malcolm Byrd, who caught the ball on his own 30 and traveled 62 yards only to be caught from behind, the Bulldogs were in possession on the Panther 8-yard line as the first half ended.

Determined to give a homecoming crowd something to cheer, the Panthers threatened three times. Early in the first quarter they marched to the Bulldog 16, where a pass to the 10, almost in the hands of Bush, was gathered in by Smitherman, and the first threat was smothered. Again early in the fourth, as the Bulldogs were set back by two 15-yard penalties, Jemison came within five yards of the pay-off stripe. This time a determined line refused to budge and threw the Panthers back to the 12 where the Bulldogs took over on fourth down.

Late in the final quarter, following a bad punt which traveled to Montevallo's 40, the Panthers moved to within 12 inches of a touchdown; but again the Bulldog's defense was firm, and the Panthers were denied a third time.

Montevallo plays host to Verbena next Friday night.

College Observes Founders Day

When Alabama College celebrates its sixtiesh anniversary on Friday, October 12, the institution will be well underway in its new era—coeducation.

One of the highlights of the program will be the bestowal of gowns to the class of 1957. This ceremony has been performed on Founders Day since the earliest beginnings of the college.

The "Coronation Hymn" which will be sung by members of the congregation at the ceremony has been the leading hymn since the first Founders Day program which was held on October 12, 1896.

During the ceremony which will be held in Palmer Hall auditorium, President F. E. Lund will preside. The special speaker for the occasion will be Dr. James M. Reinhardt, chairman of the Departmentof Sociology, University of Nebraska.

Back near the close of the last century Alabama College was established as the result of a bill introduced in the State Senate in 1892 by Sol D. Bloch, of Camden, Ala. The bill was steered through the House by John McQueen, of Birmingham and passed the following year.

On January 1, 1896 Montevallo was selected as the site of the College because of the town's location near the geographical center of the state. On October 12 of that year the school opened its doors with Captain Henry Clay Reynolds of Montevallo as the first president.

A faculty of six and a student enrollment of 145 marked the first birthday of the college.

During the sixty years since its opening. Alabama College has had seven presidents. From its beginning the institution was a school for women. The year of 1956 has started a new tradition with the enrollment of men students.

WHEREAS, the general election next succeeding the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, November 6, 1956; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The State is authorized to become indebted for building construction and improvement purposes at the Alabama State Hospitals and at the Partlow State School for Mental Deficients, and in evidence of the indebtedness so incurred to sell and issue, in addition to all other bonds of the State, interest-bearing general obligation bonds of the State not exceeding four million dollars in principal amount. The bonds shall be general obligations of the State of Alabama and the full faith and credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged to the prompt and faithful payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon. The proceeds from the sale of such bonds are hereby appropriated and shall be used exclusively for the acquisition of building sites; for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, and improvement of building facilities, including renewal and replacement of structural parts; and for the procurement of equipment for such buildings at the Alabama State Hospitals and at the Partlow State School for Mental Deficients; provided that the expenses incurred in connection with the sale and issuance of the bonds may also be paid from such proceeds.

"All bonds issued hereunder and the interest thereon shall be payable from any funds in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated. The bonds shall be payable in substantially equal installments of principal and interest beginning in the next fiscal year after their date. They shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed three per cent, and they shall contain a provision for their call for payment at such a time or times prior to maturity, and at such a premium, if any, as may be prescribed in the notice of sale. All bonds issued hereunder shall be sold to the best bidder at a duly advertised public sale, upon sealed bids or at auction, and shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest; provided, however, that bidders may be invited to name the rate or rates of interest which the bonds are to bear. The right to reject any or all bids shall be reserved. Bonds issued hereunder shall mature within twenty years from the date of issuance.

"The Legislature shall adopt appropriate enabling legislation to carry out the intent and purpose of this amendment to the Constitution."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

Calera and Verbena Battle to 13-13 Tie

Calera and Verbena battled to a 13-13 draw at Calera Friday night.

Despite rugged line play, only three five-yard penalties were meted in the game. Indicative of the eveness, Calera had 14 first downs and Verbena 12.

Left Halfback Bobby Jo Killingsworth scored first for Calera on a 35-yard run. Right Halfback Walter Ingram made the other TD from 10 yards out.

For Verbena, Burdette broke loose for 56 yards and a TD and Mims scored from about four yards out.

Calera now has a 3-0-1 record.

WHEREAS, the general election next succeeding the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, November 6, 1956; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Cancer Crusade Is Most Successful

Shelby County raised $1,232.63 toward a quota of $1,515.00 in the 1956 crusade of the American Cancer Society, which was the most successful in the society's history on a state-wide and nation-wide basis.

Dr. John Day Peake of Mobile, president of the American Cancer Society, Alabama Division, Inc., expressed appreciation to citizens of this county who participated in the campaign as leaders,workers and contributors.

S. S. McEwen of Wilsonville, Alabama was chairman for this county.

Dr. Peake paid tribute to the late Dr. Festus M. Cook of Montgomery for his leadership as chairman of the 1956 Alabama crusade. Dr. Cook died of cancer near the close of the campaign.

Alabama raised a total of $264,-327.46 during the 1956 crusade, the largest amount ever raised in this state in one campaign by the Cancer Society.

Mortimer H. Jordan of Birmingham served as co-chairman with Dr. Cook and has accepted the chairmanship of the 1957 campaign for the entire state.

The annual crusade of the American Cancer Society is conducted each April for the purpose of spreading life-saving information about cancer and soliciting funds for the support of the American Cancer Society's three-point program of education, research and service. Alabama has never failed to exceed its share of the national quota.

Verbena Downs Montevallo, 41-6

By S. DeMent

Combining speed with experience the Red Devils of Verbena ran over Montevallo here last Friday night 41-6. Sparked by Smith, Burdette, and Mims, the Verbena eleven scored once in the first quarter, twice in the second, and three times in the fourth. The Bulldogs played their best ball in the third quarter, holding the Red Devils scoreless in that period.

Smith scored for Verbena the first time the Red Devils got possession of the ball, running 36 yards for a final gallop across the goal line. The extra point was good, and the Bulldogs sank behind 7-0 early in the first quarter.

In the second period a pass from Smith to Burdette netted six points, and Smith ran the extra point to extend the count to 14. Mims and Smith, fleet Verbena backs, set up the third touchdown with Mims carrying for the last yard. Again it was Smith running the extra point.

Early in the fourth quarter O'Neal Cleckler, Verbena's left tackle, took a Bulldog fumble on his own 19 yard line and went 81 yards for TD No. 4. The try for the extra point failed. The Red Devils scored twice again in this final quarter, once on a 38-yard jaunt by Smith, and once on a line plunge by Wyatt.

Montevallo's score came in the closing moments of the first half when E. G. Alexander, right end, covered a Verbena fumble on the five. In two attempts Oglesby crossed the goal line. The try for the extra point was stopped short.

Montevallo plays host to Shelby County High of Columbiana Friday night. The Wildcats have been defeated by Childersburg, Sylacauga, Thompson, and Clanton this season.

College Theatre To Present First Play

The Alabama College Theater begins its new season October 25, at 8 p.m. with a period comedy, "Lace On Her Petticoats," Dr. W. H. Trumbauer, director, announced today.

Considered an unusual comedy because of its extreme realism, "Lace On Her Petticoats" is concerned with two young women who live on an island off the coast of Scotland around the turn of the century.

The basic conflict of the play involves the social order of the two women. Their friendship is at stake because one is a lady of wealth and the other comes from a destitute family. They fight the line of "class" which has been drawn to separate them.

Mary Dunlap, Holly Pond, Ala., and Janice Hornbuckle, Decatur, have the lead roles. Other members of the cast are: Jo Ann Mynard, Enterprise; Polly Holliday, Haleyville; Mary Frances Tipton, Selma; Edgar Dixon and Davis Yeuell, both of Montevallo.

The Alabama College Theater's production will be held in Palmer Hall Auditorium. The public is invited and admission is free.

Support Urged For Amendment No. 3

Voters of Alabama will have an opportunity on November 6 to cast a important vote in the battle against tuberculosis in Alabama. In an appeal for a favorable vote on Amendment Number 3, the Alabama Tuberculosis Association called this week on state voters to "help those less fortunate than yourself."

Amendment Number 3 authorizes issuance of $2 millions in state bonds, to match $2 millions in local funds and $8 millions in Hill-Burton federal money to build and equip hospitals, health centers and related medical facilities.

"One-fourth of the money is reserved for our badly needed tuberculosis hospitals and will provide additional beds and care for the Alabama victims of tuberculosis. There are still areas in the state now without any facilities for the care and treatment of the tuberculous" said Dr. Otis Jordan of Tuscaloosa, President of the TB Association.

"The bond issue, if approved, will not mean any more taxes. The bonds will be retired by the State of Alabama over a period of years from present revenue" continued Dr. Jordan.

"The State Board of Health will decide where and how these new hospitals are built strictly on the non-political basis of need.

"Because adequate hospital beds present the number one problem in fighting the disease in Alabama, the Alabama Tuberculosis Association is urging a "yes" vote when Amendment Number 3 comes before the people on November 6. It will complete our tuberculosis hospital building program—provide life saving care for our unfortunate victims of tuberculosis—and keep them from spreading infection into your home. All this without additional taxes.

"That is why a "yes" vote is a vote for progress and a healtheir and happier Alabama."

Home Economics Students Visit Modern Beauty Shop

The Home Economics I girls of Montevallo High School had a trip to the Modern Beauty Shop on Tuesday, October 9, to see Mrs. Louise Young demonstrate good methods of trimming, shampooing and setting hair. These students, who have been studying personal appearance for several weeks, have worked together to solve grooming problems which most teenagers face. The girls drew cards to decide who would be the "models" on whom Mrs. Young would demonstrate. Carolyn Hyde drew the lucky card for the shampoo and Flora Lee Norris for the trim.

Prior to visiting the beauty shop the girls discussed some hair problems and decided on questions they needed to ask the beauty operater.

Mrs. Young demonstrated and explained some important things that we need to do in order to have healthy, well groomed hair. Special hair problems such as oily hair, dry hair, dandruff and their treatment were considered.

Following their study of hair care, the class experimented with various types of "hair-dos" that are becoming to different shapes of faces.—Ann Click, Student Teacher.

Here! New Task·Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

Performance-proved in a history-making test on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

The Alcan Highway is the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel endlessly sledgehammers the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts subject chassis to months of wear in a few hundred miles.

Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B.C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours. As a special test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!

Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

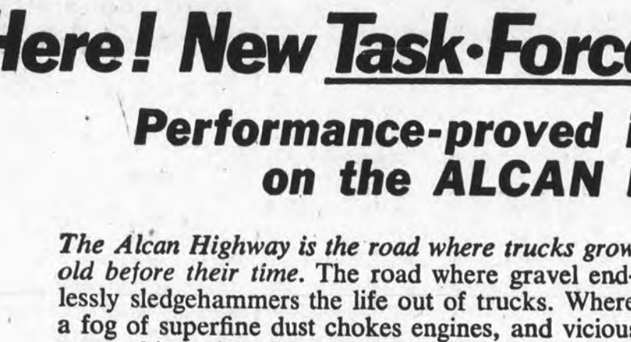

FIRST WITH THE MOST MODERN FEATURES:

New 283-cubic-inch Taskmaster V8 is standard in Series 5000, 7000 and 8000, optional in Series 6000 at extra cost. Horsepower ranges up to 210 in Chevrolet's complete line-up of modern V8 and 6 truck engines.

Revolutionary Powermatic Transmission—exclusive with Chevrolet trucks! This six-speed automatic, designed specifically for heavy-duty hauling, is an extra-cost option in Series 5000 and 6000 and all heavy-duty truck models. Hydra-Matic is offered in 3000 and 4000 Series models at extra cost.

L.C.F. models outdate C.O.E. trucks in every way; yet offer all the traditional C.O.E. advantages.

Heavyweight Champs with Triple-Torque tandem are rated at 32,000 lbs. GVW, 50,000 lbs. GCW. Special features include built-in 3-speed power divider.

Alcan fleet reports up to 18.17 miles per gallon! That's the mileage reported by the Cameo Carrier, with Thriftmaster 6 and Overdrive (optional at extra cost).

All the way in DRIVE range with Powermatic! This Powermatic-equipped 10000 Series tractor traveled the Alcan Highway in a single forward-speed range!

Bibb County Road

Jim Oakley said in the Centreville Press last week that the contract is soon to be let on the Bibb County road from Wilton to Randolph.

This will be another link in the highway we have hoped to see connecting Bessemer with Maplesville.

At Maplesville the highway, when completed to there, will connect with 22 into Selma and with 82 into Montgomery.

Shelby County already has a paved highway to the Jefferson county line at Genery's Gap, where it connects with a highway into Bessemer.

Next summer the county will pave the Salem road from 119 to Underwood, which will make another and shorter route to Bessemer.

With the paving of the Bibb County road from Wilton to Randolph and the extension of same to the present Chilton County road north of Maplesville, there will be a complete paved highway from Bessemer to Maplesville by way of Montevallo, Wilton, Brierfield and Ashby.

The Bibb County road soon to be contracted from Wilton to Randolph is partly in Shelby County (a short distance). It takes off at Hardy Edwards' place south of Wilton on Highway 25 and goes south on the west side of the Southern Railway by Montebrier and the Mahan place, and on through Brierfield and Ashby.

Sergeant To Explain Marine Opportunities

Shelby County men will be able to learn about the opportunities offered members of the U. S. Marine Corps when Marine Sergeant Jack D. Boynton visits here on Thursday.

The Marine Recruiter, who will have full information about service in this world-famous outfit, will be located at the Post Office in Montevallo from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.

He will advise men with one dependent how they can qualify for enlistment. Many questions relative to the pay scale, liberty and leave, duty stations, educational opportunities and recreational facilities offered Marines will be answered by the Marine Sergeant.

Active duty tours for Marines are now offered for as low as two years as well as for three or four years. This variety allows volunteers to choose the amount of time they wish to serve. Young men between the ages of 17 and 28 who meet the qualifications may be eligible for enlistment.

More detailed information on the U. S. Marines may be obtained from the Marine Recruiter during his visit here.

A Tribute To Dr. Charles T. Acker

Since our last meeting this Society has lost its oldest and most honored member. In the passing of Dr. Acker we have lost a man who represented the highest ideals of the medical profession and who has contributed much to the dignity and the prestige of the profession. He was admired, loved and respected by all who knew him. He had prepared himself well for his great life's work; having received his A. B. degree from Southern University and his M. D. degree from Alabama Medical College he further pursued his studies in several of the great European Medical Clinics and in some of the large Medical Centers in this country. Having thus prepared himself he returned to Alabama to spend his life in the service of the people of his native State.

As a physician true to the traditions of the old school, he dedicated his life to the service of others, giving of his best to rich and poor alike, never violating a trust and abiding strictly by his Hippocratic Oath and his Code of Ethics. Dr. Acker had been a member of this Society for 44 years. He had been its President several terms and had been a member of the Board of Censors the past 30 years. He was our leading light and we trusted his judgment implicitly. In the State Medical Association he was a member of the College of Counsellors the past 20 years and at the next annual meeting of the State Association would have been elevated to the post of Life Counsellor. He was a member also of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Acker was active in the civic life of his community and took a leading part in every worthwhile enterprise. He had served Montevallo as Councilman and as Mayor. He was a devout Christian and a pillar of strength in his church. He was Chairman of the Board of Deacons of the Montevallo Baptist Church.

It is seldom that we have the privilege of being associated with one who so commands our admiration, respect and genuine friendship as did Dr. Acker. We admired him for his many personal achievements, his force of character, his indomitable will and his magnificent courage, and we loved him for the warm and loyal friendship which he bestowed upon us and for his unfailing cheerfulness. It was a real privilege to have known and been associated with such a man.

If any man was ever prepared to meet his Maker it was Dr. Acker and when on the first day of October he was led to his eternal home we can well believe that he went with no regrets, no fear and with the cheerfulness so characteristic of him.

His chair is vacant but his spirit will ever abide with us and his memory shall always be cherished.

WHEREAS, the general election next succeeding the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, November 6, 1956; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The State is authorized to become indebted for building construction and improvement purposes at the Alabama State Hospitals and at the Partlow State School for Mental Deficients, and in evidence of the indebtedness so incurred to sell and issue, in addition to all other bonds of the State, interest-bearing general obligation bonds of the State not exceeding four million dollars in principal amount. The bonds shall be general obligations of the State of Alabama and the full faith and credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged to the prompt and faithful payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon. The proceeds from the sale of such bonds are hereby appropriated and shall be used exclusively for the acquisition of building sites; for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, and improvement of building facilities, including renewal and replacement of structural parts; and for the procurement of equipment for such buildings at the Alabama State Hospitals and at the Partlow State School for Mental Deficients; provided that the expenses incurred in connection with the sale and issuance of the bonds may also be paid from such proceeds.

"All bonds issued hereunder and the interest thereon shall be payable from any funds in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated. The bonds shall be payable in substantially equal installments of principal and interest beginning in the next fiscal year after their date. They shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed three per cent, and they shall contain a provision for their call for payment at such a time or times prior to maturity, and at such a premium, if any, as may be prescribed in the notice of sale. All bonds issued hereunder shall be sold to the best bidder at a duly advertised public sale, upon sealed bids or at auction, and shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest; provided, however, that bidders may be invited to name the rate or rates of interest which the bonds are to bear. The right to reject any or all bids shall be reserved. Bonds issued hereunder shall mature within twenty years from the date of issuance.

"The Legislature shall adopt appropriate enabling legislation to carry out the intent and purpose of this amendment to the Constitution."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

Helping to promote the program of technical education, the Lovelady Motor Company of Montevallo has contributed a 1957 Ford engine assembly to the vocantional department of the high school. The unit will be mounted and will be used in the instructional program of the school in farm mechanics, diversified occupations, chemistry and other phases of school imstruction. Over 100 students will learn of the detailed operation of motors and their maintenance during this year. Both girls and boys will be given instruction using the motor assembly as an aid in learning. The entire student body as well as the F. F. A. chapter appreciates very much the interest Mr. Lovelady has in the school program and appreciates so much this contribution to our teaching aids.

Montevallo Lions observed the National F. F. A. convention on film at the regular meeting Monday evening. The Lions club contributed toward the expenses of two F. F. A. boys to attend this year's F. F. A. convention which begins October 14 and lasts throught Oct. 20.

The adult evening class continues to meet each Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the vocational agriculture building. Both men and women interested in farm news and farm problems are invited to attend the meetings.

Dr. Fals-Borda of Bogota, Colombia S. A. who was a visiting teacher on Alabama College campus last summer has written M. Thornton this week of his successes with strawberry plants and other agricultural endeavours since retruning to Bogota. While here Dr. Fals-Borda had an opportunity to visit local farms as well as the experiment station at Auburn. He proposed that certain machines be manufactured to meet the need in Colombia and various engineers are designing equipment to ship him and see if it is what they can use there.

M. Thornton was a luncheon guest of Associated Industries of Alabama at the Tutwiler in Birmingham Thursday when problems related to Agriculture-Industry were discussed.

The Shelby county A. V. A. group met for a dinner meeting at the Green and White cafe when problems of interest were discussed. E. F. Bailey of Columbiana is president of the group which is made up of all vocational teachers in Shelby county.

R. M. Byrd and others of the Montevallo adult evening class attended a special barbeque meeting in Columbiana Tuesday night to work out plans for Shelby county to cooperate in the "Keep Shelby Green" program.

Sixty Montevallo F. F. A. boys attended the State Fair in Birmingham Wednesday, October 3rd. The group visited the agricultural exhibits and enjoyed the many attractions there.

All teachers in Shelby county attended a meeting at Columbiana Thursday when Dr. Bailey of Alabama College made an interesting talk on Science and its place in the school program.

College Dean Enjoys Working With Young People

"I like young people," Dr. Richard Powers, Dean of Alabama College, told a visitor recently. "Work with youth and age keeps it's distance."

As an adminstrative head at Alabama College, the duties of Dr. Powers range from outlining academic programs to advising troubled students.

Entering his fifth year as Dean of Alabama College, Dr. Powers has achieved a high reputation in southern education with his student counseling program, streamlined curriculum setup and his professional relationship with faculty members.

Before coming to Alabama College the Dean was an associate professor of Business Adminstration at Wake Forest College in North Carolina. He aided in the organization of the School of Business Adminstration there. From 1946-48 he was assistant professor of Economics at Clemson College, South Carolina.

The Dean is a native of Virginia. He received his B. S., M. A., and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Virginia. He has done special assignment work for state and federal governments and industrial concerns.

During 1950-51 he was a coordinator-consultant on the advisory council of the Virginia Economy and Regional Economist for the Office of Price Stabilization. During the summer of 1955 he was an economic advisor on the Dhahran Research staff of the Arabian American Oil Co. at Dhahran, Saudi, Arabia.

"I was very impressed with the Middle East," Dr. Powers said." "It was my first trip to that part of the world. Arabs are probably the most colorful people in the eastern hemisphere. Their mysterious ways attract and fascinate the westerner."

Dr. Powers is a popular man with the faculty and student body at Alabama College. He helps solve many problems confronting both groups.

"This job of being a Dean is a full time occupation," he stated. "But I wouldn't trade professions for any price. The hours are long and the work sometimes tedious, but when I think of the number who have benefited from my help, it makes the job seem lighter."

Dr. Powers is the husband of the former Margaret Elizabeth Saunders of Warwick, Va. They have two children, Ricky, age nine and three year old Tommie.

Dean Powers and his sons are great boating and fishing enthusiasts. "Sometimes our catch isn't too great," he said, "But when we have them prepared and ready to eat, the flavor of fresh fried fish more than makes up for the long hours spent angling."

The Marine Corps Rifle Team first captured the coveted first place in the National Rifle Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, in 1911. To repeat again in 1916.

Marine teams have won top honors in the National Rifle Matches for 14 years. The first year was 1911 and the last year was 1955.

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

"Six or V-8 the going is great"

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It started with the "Inner Ford." When Ford planned this baby, they thought in terms of a car through-and-through new.

The wheels got smaller. This Ford is so new that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader, they help you take off quickly.

The wheelbase got longer . . . so now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft. long—or one over 17 ft. long!

The frame got wider. Side rails bow out to give a more stable, safer riding platform . . . a lower, sleeker silhouette.

The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives is the smoothest ever.

The handling got easier. Poised and balanced like a panther, this car has swept-back front suspension that works its magic when you need it most.

The power got hotter. There's a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need* . . . plus a new Mileage Maker Six.

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body built for a low-priced car. No car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Each graceful contour says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! All Fairlane models look like hardtops.

The value got greater . . . the price is still Ford-low.

*A Special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine delivering up to 285 hp.

So now you know the magic of the '57 FORD!

Faculty Wives Are Like Most Other Housewives -- With Several Exceptions

Housewives are pretty much the same everywhere. The Alabama College faculty wife resembles her fellow hausfrau—with exceptions.

The mornings start off on an average schedule. Breakfast for the prof. which is followed by a light kiss on the cheek and he is on his way to the campus. Then the wife is on her own.

Although the average housewife and faculty wife are sisters under the skin there are the sidelines which separate them by a margin.

The faculty wife may have her hands in soapy water all morning, or she may be watching the kids or even bent over on her hands and knees scubbing the floor, but when evening rolls around and there is a reception to attend, she stands out in the receiving line like a diplomat.

Mrs. Arthur Fraser, wife of the music department head is a housewife and a career girl. Several times each week she commutes to Birmingham. A cello player with the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra, she must meet rehearsals. On those days she merely gets up a little earlier and gets the housework done.

Mrs. Fraser is a mother of three children, but she budgets her time in a manner which is satisfactory to her career and family.

"I'm strictly a housewife," says Mrs. Paul C. Bailey, whose husband is a biology professor. Dr. Bailey conducts many expiriments in the campus laboratory and in the lab set up in their home. He may call out, "Darling will you fetch me a guinea pig!" and Mrs. Bailey is most happy to oblige.

Mrs. Bailey has three children. Two are in school. When the noon hour arrives she has dinner on the table and a sprinkling of scientific conversation ready to be dished out to her science-minded family.

Art is the big thing in the Huntly family. Next to the three small children, art is the second greatest love. Mrs. David Huntley is the wife of the art department head. The walls of their living room are lined with are work ranging from abstract to impressionalistic paintings.

Mrs. Huntley does some painting herself. "Now that I have three small children my painting is at a minimum." she said. "But I do find time for exotic cooking."

The Huntley kitchen is filled with an aroma of spices, curry and many odd herbs. Being gourmets she and her husband are always on the lookout for unusual recipes.

"One evening me may have 'skish kabab,' for supper and the next time it may be 'lapa lapa' and if company is present we may go all out with an 'Indonesian Dilemma.' The children are still in the baby food stage. Judging from the strange ways they want it prepared we wonder what their tastes will be in the next few years."

Another member of the Alabama College faculty wife set is Mrs. Jack Ellery. With three young daughters to look after, Mrs. Ellery says that she is strictly a one career woman—housewife. A former nurse and now the wife of an associate professor of speech, Mrs. Ellery is up at dawn and she rarely retires before 11 a.m. The reason? "Children and housework," she replied.

But like the average housewife, the Alabama College faculty wives share one thing in common. When the five O'clock whistle blows there is a hot supper on the table, the kids scrubbed and the wife waits in the doorway to greet the breadwinner.

Also like the hard working average housewife they wouldn't be responsible for the damage if the husband ever came home and asked "Did you do anything today?"

SELDEN TO ADDRESS CITIZENS COUNCIL

Congresman Armistead Selden will be the speaker at the Montevallo Citizens Council meeting Tuesday night, October 23 at 7:30 in the Montevallo High School Auditorium.

Student Holds Swimming Titles

The eighteen year old Alabama College freshman is small, blonde, and highly talented on the diving board. This is proven by her title as Alabama state diving champion for 18 year olds and over.

Miss Weeks won her title at the A. A. U. meet this summer in Birmingham. She is also undefeated for the past three years at the Northeastern Alabama swimming and diving meet. Her name is not only known in Alabama, but throughout the Southeast.

She was third place winner at the Southeastern Conference swimming and diving competition of 1953, held in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Looks and diving talent are perfect companions for her scholastic abilities. The Alabama College freshman is the winner of a scholarship in physical education. "I plan to finish with a degree in physical education", she stated, "but later plans include work in physical therapy."

A native of Gadsden, Miss Weeks attended Gadsden High School and at the age of 14 began her diving career under coach Jack Green. "The first time I dived," she said, " was in a contest at Anniston. I was uncontested—so naturally I won. My later victories were not so easy."

Athletics is not an uncommon thing in the Weeks family. Mary Faye's father, Lawrence Weeks, is recreational director for the city of Gadsden. Mary Faye has spent three summers working in her father's municipal program as life guard, swimming instructor and coach of the swimming team.

At Gadsden High School, Mary Faye was a member of the National Honor Society, Tri Hi Y, Student Council, and was voted Most Athletic Girl of Gadsden High.

At Alabama College, when her classes are over, Mary Faye can always be found in the college swimming pool. If she isn't skimming across the pool like a fish, she can be seen flying through the air, doing a perfect swan dive.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Attend Sylacauga Meet

The Columbiana congregation of Jehovah's witnesses are making arrangements to attend a three-day training program in Sylacauga, October 26, 27 and 28 at the National Guard Armory. Nearly 25 delegates from the local congregation plan to join with over 700 other Witnesses for the seminar. Representatives will come from 17 congregations of east central Alabama and Columbus, Georgia.

Mr. L. H. Driver, presiding minister of the group here, in discussing this announcement said yesterday, "The pupose of the program is to equip every one of the preaching fellowship of Jehovah's witnesses in the practical use of the Bible as a help in fortifying the spiritual morale of people in our community. For that reason the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, sponsors of the three-day assembly, feature a refresher program of Bible instruction and have set the theme of the assembly as 'A Happy People Serving a Happy God'."

The main feature of the assembly will be the public address on Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m., entitled "What Will Armageddon Mean for You?"

Of special interest will be the Saturday night program showing a film entitled "The Happiness of the New World Society." It will feature the conventions held by Jehovah's witnesses worldwide last year, similar to the one held in Nuremberg, Germany, with 107,423 in attendance.

Mr. Driver added, "We sincerely hope that the advanced training program planned for us in Sylacauga will enable us to live close to the Bible and its teachings."

County's First Polio Case Reported

Shelby County's first case of Polio for 1956 was reported this week This case is in a 6 year old white child who had never had a shot of Polio Vaccine. This child has four brothers and sisters, three of whom took one Polio shot many months ago. All are within the eligible age group.

Dr. Salk's great discovery of an effective anti-Polio Vaccine avails nothing unless parents see to it that their children are given the Vaccine at the proper intervals.

No immunizing agent will protect 100% of people to whom it is given. However, a child who has received 3 doses of Polio Vaccine has an 85% to 90% chance of avoiding the infection entirely and, should he develop Polio, it is rarely of the paralytic type.

Every physician in the County and the County Health Department are prepared to give Polio Vaccine and all parents are urged to have their children between the ages of 6 months and 20 years protected from this diasase.

Students Visit Education-Industry Day Exhibits

Alabama College was invaded by hundreds of high school students Thursday when they swarmed on the campus from throughout the central part of the state to view the Central Alabama Education-Industry Days exhibit.

Area industries and business concerns installed exhibits to represent their line of manufacturing. All morning students thronged through the gymnasium where the displays were located.

Electricial, mechanical gadgets, etc., amazed the boys. The girl's attention was focused on the many cotton goods brought in by area textile mills.

One of the biggest attractions was a collection of coins and bills exhibited by a local bank. The money ranged from shiny new coins to a ten thousand dollar bill.

The Alabama College exhibit featured a series of photographs depicting college life attached to the walls of a revolving stage.

The morning session was highlighted by convocation. Dr. Edwin C. Marsh, of Virginia Polytechnic Institute's atomic research department was the featured speaker. Speaking on "Educational Cosmetics," he told his audience that in this industrial age a thorough education is the necessary ingredient to success.

Following convocation the visiting high school students were intertained with a box lunch picnic at the college lake.

Central Alabama Education-Industry Day was sponsored by Alabama College and the Shelby County Development Assn.

American Legion Begins Membership Drive

"It's GREAT To Be An American Legionnaire!" is the 1957 membership theme of the American Legion. "Sure it is!" say local Legionnaires, as they kick off a local drive to increase Legion membersihp.

Teams of membership getters are scheduled to make a door to door survey and issue an invitation to join The American Legion to all eligible veterans.

R. L. Wolley, post membership chairman, reminded eligible veterans that most of their rights and benefits could be credited to American Legion legislative efforts. "Right now, The American Legion needs strength of membership to back a continuing fight to maintain those benefits," he said.

He pointed out that while The American Legion was primarily interested in the welfare of all veterans, especially the needy and disabled, it was also proud of being the author of "The GI Bill of Rights", which helped World War II and Korean veterans and was indirectly of extreme benefit to the entire country.

"These bills were truly readjustment acts for those veterans," he said. "They gave them an opportunity for high education; to get started in business and to buy their own homes."

Business Men Attend Education-Industry Dinner

Nearly 300 business men and industrialists attended the Central Alabama Education-Industry Day dinner held on the Alabama College campus Wednesday evening.

The dinner, sponsored by Alabama College and the Shelby County Development committee, was the first event of the two-day festival featuring Central Alabama's educational facilities and industries.

Guest speaker, James L. Rankin, Decatur, past president of the Alabama Chamber of Commerce, spoke on bringing industry to Alabama and the South and the contributions of educational institutions and industries.

Mr. Rankin said that each citizen of a community should recognize the responsibilities in attracting industry. He explained what industry expects of the town or city. "Industry expects a nearness to raw materials, the market and the suppliers. It expects an availibility to suitable labor, a good plant site, and a soundness of state, county and local government."

Mr. Rankin said that Alabama's tax base is equitable to existing industry. He emphasized that industry is highly interested in how the individual feels about his community; if the community is unfavorable, the problem of bringing in labor would be grave.

Concluding his speech, Mr. Rankin said that industry wants to locate where workers can live, enjoy themselves and raise a family.

M. S. McGehee, Montevallo, chairman of the Shelby County Development Committee, presided at the dinner and introduced out-of-state guests. Dr. F. E. Lund, President of Alabama College, welcomed the industrialists and business men on behalf of Alabama College and Central Alabama.

The speaker was introduced by Ralph Sears, director of public relations at Alabama College. Following the talk, the guests viewed industrial exhibits from over the state which were on display in Bibb Graves Hall.

On the second day of Education-Industry Days, more than 500 high school students from Central Alabama arrived on the campus to view the exhibits, tour the campus, and meet the students enrolled in the college.

Faculty sponsors of the alumni committee are Miss Vinnie Lee Walker, Miss Sara Nell Lightsey, and Mrs. Frances Nybeck Anthony, while Gibbie Scott and Kitty Stansell are student chairmen.

Alumni interested in entering a car in the Homecoming parade at 2:00 o'clock Friday, Nov. 2, should call Judy Wallace at the high school. She will explain details in regard to drawing for a place in the parade.

WHEREAS, the general election next succeeding the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, November 6, 1956; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The State is authorized to become indebted for building construction and improvement purposes at the Alabama State Hospitals and at the Partlow State School for Mental Deficients, and in evidence of the indebtedness so incurred to sell and issue, in addition to all other bonds of the State, interest-bearing general obligation bonds of the State not exceeding four million dollars in principal amount. The bonds shall be general obligations of the State of Alabama and the full faith and credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged to the prompt and faithful payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon. The proceeds from the sale of such bonds are hereby appropriated and shall be used exclusively for the acquisition of building sites; for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, and improvement of building facilities, including renewal and replacement of structural parts; and for the procurement of equipment for such buildings at the Alabama State Hospitals and at the Partlow State School for Mental Deficients; provided that the expenses incurred in connection with the sale and issuance of the bonds may also be paid from such proceeds.

"All bonds issued hereunder and the interest thereon shall be payable from any funds in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated. The bonds shall be payable in substantially equal installments of principal and interest beginning in the next fiscal year after their date. They shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed three per cent, and they shall contain a provision for their call for payment at such a time or times prior to maturity, and at such a premium, if any, as may be prescribed in the notice of sale. All bonds issued hereunder shall be sold to the best bidder at a duly advertised public sale, upon sealed bids or at auction, and shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest; provided, however, that bidders may be invited to name the rate or rates of interest which the bonds are to bear. The right to reject any or all bids shall be reserved. Bonds issued hereunder shall mature within twenty years from the date of issuance.

"The Legislature shall adopt appropriate enabling legislation to carry out the intent and purpose of this amendment to the Constitution."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

"Aunty" and Her Two Nieces Are Attending Alabama College Together

It isn't very aunt that goes on triple dates with her two nieces, but "Aunty" Anne Martin, 19 year old sophomore at Alabama College is about the same age as her two nieces who are also students here.

Anne is the aunt of Karen and Sandra Mullins. They all live at Enterprise, Ala., and are next door neighbors. She is a small pert brunette and has many of her nieces' traits except her major in college—biology.

Sandra is a tall attractive 21 old blonde. She is a senior and like her freshman sister Karen, an 18 year old brunette and former Peanut Festival beauty queen, she is a vocational home economics major.

"Karen and Sandra seem more like sisters to me than nieces," Anne said. "We grew up together and like other kids we've had our share of quarrels. Not only are we related, but we're great friends."

Sandra was the first to go to Alabama College. She was followed by her aunt. Karen entered this year. In high school they were members of the same organizations and had the same group of friends. In college the only difference is that Anne chose a different major.

"At Alabama College most of the students know that Karen and Sandra are my nieces and as a joke many call me 'Aunty.' "

Anne plans to be a laboratory technician when she graduates. In college she is an honor student and a member of the judicial department of the student court.

Karen was Miss National Peanut Festival queen last year at Dothan. She also represented the state of Alabama in the Miss Dixie contest.

Karen is an outdoor-indoor girl. She is as handy with the needle as she is with the tennis racket. She makes most of her clothes. In high school one year she and her sister were majorettes while their aunt reigned as homecoming queen.

"I believe I would rather dance than eat," Sandra said. "I like outdoor sports and I even love to cook, but dancing tops them all."

At Alabama College Sandra is a member of the Orchesis, the modern dance organization. She loves music and is a very good pianist. "My taste in music ranges from Presley to Prokofiev," she stated.

Anne says that she doesn't mind being labeled as an aunt. But if she happens to become a great aunt before she reaches the age of 30 she minght feel a trifle old.

1955 Auto Accident Deaths Total 858

Motor vehicle accidents claimed 858 lives in Alabama in 1955, in an increase over the 1954 motor accident toll of 801.

This amounted to an average of more than two deaths in this accident category for each day of last year, the State Health Department said today.

A summary prepared by the Department's bureau of vital statistics revealed that totals for the various counties ranges all the way from no motor vehicle accident deaths in a single county to the top 129-death toll in another county.

Shelby county's record showed 11 deaths from this particular cause.

The 1955 figures included are provisional, and may vary slightly from the final ones which will be available later.

FHA Observes Emblem Service

The regular meeting of Montevallo Chapter, Future Homemakers of America was held Wednesday morning October 17. The meeting was called to order by the president, Kitty Stansell, who gave a short devotion.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Roll was taken by the secretary.

Voters Can Help Mental Hospitals

Rapid progress in treatment of mental illness has been made in recent years. While it appears that mental illness will strike one in every 10 persons in Alabama, there is more hope than ever that its victims can be rehabilitated and returned to society. But the state's mental hospitals can't do the job with their present limitations.

That diagnosis was made by Dr. J. S. Tarwater, superintendent of Alabama State Hospitals for the mentally ill.

"We beg the interest, help and support of the public in Alabama in providing adequate facilities for the treatment of your mentally sick people," he said. "We must have public support if we are to run good hospitals."

Right now Bryce Hospital has about 4800 patients. The number grows a little each year. With the hospital's rated bed space at something like 2370 beds, some wards are serving more than double the number of patients for which they were intended.

In wards built for 50 patients and serving 105, no new plumbing facilities have been added. In other wards, day rooms have been converted to other purposes and sleeping rooms crowded with row after row of beds must serve as sitting rooms too.

Last February the state legislature decided to submit a $4,000,000 bond issue for improvements at the State Mental Hospitals and Partlow State School to the Alabama voters. For the first time, the voters of the state will have a direct opportunity to do something for the mentally ill and the mentally deficient in these three institutions.

The bond issue is covered in Constitutional Amendment No. 2, which earmarks the $4,000,000 fund for three purposes: construction of new buildings, renovation of old ones and purchase of new equipment.

The bond debt is to be paid off over a 20-year period from the state's general tax fund. No new taxes are to be levied to retire it. Provisions of the amendment also specify that the funds cannot be diverted to other purposes without approval of the voters.

"I sincerely hope that the people of Alabama will give approval to Amendment No. 2 so that this situation long overdue may be corrected," said Lewis E. McCray, department commander of the American Legion of Alabama.

"I have visited the hospitals, in Tuscaloosa on many occasions," said Thomas B. Dean, state commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars. "I know the crowded conditions and since this is the first time the people themselves have had an opportunity to do something for these institutions, I believe they will go along."

Sports fans from every section of Shelby County were pleased to learn that wrestling by television stars, will be sponsored by the National Guard Control Board at the Armory in Calera.

The first show will be held on Saturday Night, November 10th. beginning at 8:00 p.m.

Both of these fellows have been on television from WABT-TV on many occasions and have earned the reputation as being the tops in wrestling.

In the supporting match, Mrs. Carol Kowalski, the wife of the bearded rowdy, a girl who has gained the reputation as one of the best wrestlers in America, meets Cornie Cordero, the Mexican lass who has been a consistant winner since coming to the United States.

Promoter Gus Gulas has assured the Control Board that only the best wrestlers will appear before the local fans.

Wrestling has fast become the most popular sport in this nation, for millions watch TV shows every week in all parts of America. The Calera show will give the Shelby County fans an opportunity to see these people in person.

Home Ec. Students Learn To Make Curtains

How to make windows attractive with curtains is a problem that the Home Economics II Housing class members have been working on for the past two weeks.

A variety of appropriate curtain materials were examined and evaluated in relation to their durability, cost, appropriateness of color and design. The class found that curtains and draperies can add charm and softness to a room if the materials are appropriately chosen and the lines are suitable for the size, shape and length of windows.

A study was made of a variety of styles of curtains and draperies and the effect they can create in a room. The majority of the class members have made cafe curtains. They learned that this informal or cottage type curtain is said to have originated in Paris, but has become popular in our American homes.

Cafe curtains are very practical because of the relatively small amount of material required and the ease of making and laundering. Since the upper panels may be pulled back, this type curtain admits light and air to a room, yet affords privacy.

Since feed sacks are made of color-fast, closely-woven fabric, the girls have found that they are suitable for cafe curtains and the majority of the class members have used them. Some of these curtains are on display in a show window of the Ben Franklin store.

Children To Aid UN With "Trick or Treat"

The children of the Montevallo Methodist Church are observing Holloween "Trick or Treat" in a very unselfish manner, this year. At Sunday School, they study, and learn, the Christian's attitude and concern for people who are in need.

In observance of the eleventh anniversary of the founding of the United Nations, the Methodist children are going out, Halloween night, asking for pennies, instead of cookies, candy or fruit. These pennies are for the United Nations Childrens Relief Fund, better known as U. N. I. C. E. F., and will be sent to relieve suffering from hunger, among children whose lives have been so tragically blighted by war.

You will easily recognize these fine boys and girls, for each will be wearing a pumpkin colored, round tag, bearing the words "Trick or Treat." For all the World's Children, U. N. I. C. E. F. and in the center of this round tag, a picture of a little child, with a glass raised to his mouth. The children will also wear arm bands, with the same symbol on them, so be on the look out for them.

Our children are doing this unselfish deed in the hopes that the children of other lands might have milk to drink, food to eat, and warm clothes to wear. Won't you help them to prove to the world that America is a Christian Nation, whose people have hearts that are touched by the sight of a cold and hungry child.

Will you have your nickels, dimes, or quarters changed into pennies, and be waiting for these boys and girls, Oct. 31st? Each boy or girl is only asking for one penny, which is not much, which when added to other pennies collected, will do so very much to relieve suffering. The children have learned that "It is more blessed to give than to receive," so won't you join with them on this nation wide project, which is sponsored nationally by the U. S. committee for U. N. I. C. E. F., United Nations, N Y.

One day last week Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McConaughy, Mrs. W. A. Pattillo, Mrs. J. A. Brown Sr., and Mr. William McConaughy were guests of the Miller Brothers and their mother at Safford. This proved to be a most interesting as well as an educational experience for the guests of the Miller Brothers who have an apiary on their 800 acre farm. In addition to raising and selling queen bees they can process as much as two tons of honey a day or average approximately 50 tons a season, and they operate in 37 counties. Their speciality is clover and Tupelo honey. The Tupelo honey comes from the Tupelo blossoms and is higher in price than clover honey. Besides this business they raise registered cattle, registered hunting dogs, and grow hay, having produced 700 bales so far this season. Their lovely old farm home in its setting of oak trees is surrounded by camellias, azaleas, and other colorful Florida plants and flowers. The Miller brothers, in years past, were frequent visitors to Alabama College and week end guests at the McConaughy home. From these visits a delightful friendship developed.

Never before in history has anything built by man traveled so far in so short a time

—by land or sea!

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under the supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run . . . Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah . . . it was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before – in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world . . . a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no other cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy . . . and when you sell!

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car-buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

Calera Sixth Grade Gives Assembly Program

"Our Country's Story" was the theme of the assembly program presented by the sixth grade of Calera School. The group wrote the original play using stories, songs and dances to represent the different periods in the growth of America.

The program was presented in the school auditorium to an audience composed of all the elementary grades. Mrs. Eddie Downs is the class teacher.

Another activity enjoyed by this group was a recent trip to the Central State Bank. The class had just completed a unit in English, "Money of Your Own", so they especially enjoyed the bookkeeping machines, coin counter, and the vault.

Mr. Eddie Downs of the Central State Bank conducted the tour pointing out things of interest.

DR. LEWIS EDMOND KIRKLAND

Dr. Lewis Edmond Kirkland of Oneonta To Practice Medicine in Montevallo

Announcement is made this week that Dr. Lewis Edmond Kirkland of Oneonta will come to to Montevallo about December 1 to engage in the practice of medicine here. It is stated that he will occupy the present offices of Dr. L. C. Parnell. Dr. Parnell has taken over the medical practice as physician for Alabama College.

Dr. Kirkland has been engaged in the general practice of medicine and general surgery at Oneonta since 1953. He has been on the medical staff of Gordan-Patton and Blount Memorial Hospitals; is now president of the Blount County Medical Society for 1956-57.

His M. D. degree was obtained at the Medical College of Alabama in 1952. He interned at the City Hospital in Mobile in 1952-53.

Dr. Kirkland was born in Coalmont, November 19, 1917, the son of N. E. (Demus) and Effie Kirkland. He married Helen Louise Sharbutt of Vincent on April 9, 1944. They have two children, Kerry Lewis and Carol Ann.

Jaycees To Sell Reflective Tape

A week-long campaign to reflectorize the rear bumpers of automobiles with safety tape will be launched by the Montevallo Junior Chamber of Commerce as part of a national Jaycee effort November 3, Kenneth Rochester, president, announced today.

"The drive will be aimed toward reducing one of the major killers on the highway—the nighttime rear-end collision," Kenneth said.

He quoted statistics from the National Safety Council which show that collisions "from the rear" account for about 20 per cent of all auto accidents; nighttime, because of lowered visibility, accounts for nearly 5,000 more deaths than daytime—even though more than twice the driving is done during the day.

Kenneth said the reflectorization drive—called "Lite-A-Bumper for Safety" by communities which have done it successfully—strikes at the heart of the problem.

A strip of "Scotchlite" Reflective Tape is adhered to the car bumper which makes the rear of the car visible from hundreds of feet by brightly reflecting the auto headlights of cars approching from the rear. It helps warn the driver behind and gives him more time to react, Kenneth said.

The Jaycees will be selling the reflective safety tape—and applying it to auto bumpers—at the following places:

Main Street, Montevallo 8:30 a.m., November 3, 1956.

Local Jaycees have received their first order of fruit cakes and will take your orders and deliver your cakes beginning November 1st 1956. Your patronage in these fund raising drives will be greatly appreciated by the local Jaycee club. All proceeds go to local worth while projects.

Alabama Voters To Vote on Eight Constitutional Amendments Nov. 6

Eight amendments to the State Constitution will be voted on in the coming general election to be held Tuesday, November 6. Only three of the amendments are for the whole state. Of the other five four apply to only one county and one applies to only one city.

Amendment No. One, if approved by the people would provide for an increase of members of the Legislature from the present 141 in both houses to 219. The membership of the House of Representatives would be increased from the present 106 to 152. The number of Senators would be increased from the present 35 to 67. This would mean a total increase in the membership of the law making body of 78 from 141 to 219.

Amendment No. Two would authorize the State to issue Bonds in the amount of Four Million dollars to provide new buildings and improvemtnts at the State Mental Hospitals and the Partlow School for Children.

This amendment would provide relief from over-crowded conditions at these hospitals and the school for children. It would not require the levy of a new tax; but would be paid from the general fund, from taxes that would be collected anyway.

Amendment No. Three would authorize the issuance of Bonds up to Two Million dollars to be used for building and equipping hospitals, health centers, tuberculosis hospitals or sanatoria. This would enable the state to apply for additional funds provided by the Hill-Burton Act. Neither does this amendment provide for a new tax, but would be paid off from the taxes that would be collected anyway.

Amendment Number Four would authorize the Legislature to fix the costs and charges of the courts in Walker county.

Amendment Number Five would authorize the Legislature to fix costs and charges of the courts in Pike county.

Amendment No. 6 would authorize the Legislature to place county officials in Colbert county on a salary basis, instead of being paid in fees.

Amendment No. Seven would authorize Tuscaloosa county to issue Bonds in the amount of two and a half million dollars to build and equip a court house and jail, after being approved by the voters of the county in a special election.

Amendment No. Eight would authorize the City of Gadsden to levy a special tax to pay off bonds now oustanding and to pay off bonds that may be issued later.

Letter to the Editor

Mr. W. M. Wyatt
Shelby County Times Herald
Montevallo, Alabama

Dear Mr. Wyatt:

The Most Reverend Archbishop has transferred me to Pensacola, Florida from Montevallo. I feel that I should not leave without at least writing you a letter to thank you for the courtesy you have shown the Catholic Church by your cooperation in printing the articles we have sent you. I would also like to thank you for the subscription to your paper that you have sent me.

Reverend Thomas Blyth, now at St. Anthony's Church in Ensley, is the new pastor in Montevallo. Farther Blyth plans to build a rectory near the church in Montevallo in the very near future. I am sure that he would appreciate an extension of the kind courtesy you have shown me, and would appreciate receiving my subscription to your paper at the Church in Montevallo.

Thanking you, I am,
Sincerely yours,
Reverend Oliver E. Adams

A Shadow of Shame

A shadow of shame, a shudder of horror, was visited upon Shelby County last Friday by the brutal slaying of a young mother and her three-year-old son in their rural home.

Such awful things are read about from time to time at various places in the world. When we read of them we usually feel that "it can't happen here." But it did.

Through our shame of the terrible crime surges up the hope and confidence that the Divine laws of human justice applied through the vigilant ferreting of our law inforcement officers will uncover and bring to penalty the one who perpetrated this awful tragedy.

Mental Health Assn. Meets in Columbiana

The Shelby County Mental Health Association had its first meeting of 1956-57 at Columbiana, Ala., Thursday night, Oct. 25. The results of the fund campaign were discussed and evaluated.

The chairman reported special praise due Mrs. Lee Barclay, Montevallo, Mrs. Sarah Cairns, Alabaster, Mrs. J. D. Hughes, Wilsonville, and Mr. B. W. Carter, Columbiana, whose superb leadership in their respective communities resulted in the county's raising $1000 to advance the cause of mental health.

The meeting discussed a film regarding the proposed bond issue known as amendment No. 2 in the general election Nov. 6. It was decided that members would campaign actively for the passage of this amendment, and specific assignments were made. Following further discussion of pending innovations in Shelby County mental health activities, the meeting adjourned.

On Nov. 6, you, the people of Shelby County, will have a chance to vote "yes" on amendment No. 2, thereby beginning a program of real help to our friends and neighbors, the mentally ill. The bond issue of $4,000,000 will mark the first step toward new horizons in treatment and care of these people, without new taxes.

As president of the Shelby County Mental Health Association, I urge every public spirited citizen to vote "yes" on this issue. The money will go directly to improve facilities, where a desperate need exists.

We are our brothers' keeper in time of need. Vote "yes" on amendment No. 2, Nov. 6.

Paris Ballet Gives Performance

Nearly one thousand people Packed Palmer Hall auditorium at Alabama College Tuesday night for the one night performance of the Paris Ballet of Lycette Darsonval.

On their first American tour the ballet troupe was enthusiastically received by it's Alabama College audience.

Following the Montevallo performance, a reception was held for members of the troupe at the home of Alabama College's president Dr. F. E. Lund. Guests included mambers of the college faculty, the French vice consul in Birmingham, and ballet devotees from Montgomery, Birmingham and Tuscaloosa.

Mme. Darsonval's Paris Ballet is making its first American tour. For the past month they have been performing in cities and college towns in the eastern United States. Their first performance which was held in the Brookly Academy of Fine Arts in New York drew a huge crowd. The New York critics hailed the troupe as being "fresh, youthful and highly original."

Members of the cast included Lycette Darsonval, Premiere Danseuse-Etoile of the Paris Opera; Gerard Ohn, Premier Danseur-Etoile of the Ballet des Champs Elysees; Genevieve Godefroy, Violette Lautard, Alice Bess, Joelle Lancret, Robert Poujol, Louis Diaz.

Apperaing with the ballet troupe are the pianists Gilbert Mellinger and Zenon Fishbein, who are in America with them to provide music throughout the tour.

Mr. Mellinger is a 1st prize winner at the Paris Conservatory and Mr. Fishbein received honors at Santa Cecilia Academy in Rome. Both pianists have had concerts throughout Europe and parts of Asia.

After Montevallo the troupe will perform in cities in Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The climax of the tour will be Los Angeles and San Francisco.

For the past 15 years Mme. Darsonval has been connected with the fine arts division of the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of National Education. She was recently informed that on her return to Paris she will be director of ballet for the Paris Opera.

While touring the United States the members of the ballet troupe have become avid camera fans. At very scenic spot the bus stops and the dancers snap pictures to take with them when they return to France as mementos of their American tour.

At Alabama College the Paris Ballet featured "Two Centuries of Dance." The ballet music of Gounod, R. de Banfield, Saint-Saens, Leo Delibes, Minkus and Dukas made up the program.

Dean Powers Speaks To Business Club

Loyalty is of prime importance if you would be a good secretary, Dean Richard Powers told the Montevallo High School Business Club as he spoke before that group here Friday, Oct. 26. "If you don't believe in your boss and the way he treats people, just move out—find someone else to work for," he said.

Other items of importance for a secretary to remember, according to Dean Powers, are protection, dress, and the matter of keeping personal business away from the office.

Dr. Powers explained that by protection he meant protection of the boss's time where mail, interviews, and telephone calls are concerned. About dress he had this to say, "Above all, be feminine; but dress as if you intend to work."

Harriett Sims, a senior, is president of the Business Club. Miss Susie DeMent is sponsor of the group.

Students Elected to College "Who's Who"

The Alabama College seniors have been elected for the 1956-57 edition of "Who's Who among students in American Colleges and Universities."

These students were chosen for the honor because of their scholarship, participation in school activities, leadership and the high qualities they show as leading citizens of the future.

Students chosen are: Carol Bailey of Mobile, Barbara Benton of Bradenton, Fla., Geneva Bryant of Dadeville, Dottie Cullars of La Grange, Ga., Sadie DeWees of Eldridge, Sandra Hall of Montgomery, Sue Howe of Gulf Breeze, Fla., Dot Smith of Thomasville, Monette Strickland of Opp, and Mary Frances Tipton of Selma.

These students were honored during the Elite Night pageant which was held on the campus Saturday.

Jehovah's Witnesses Meet in Sylacauga

The three-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses held at the Sylacauga National Guard Armory was climaxed Sunday afternoon with an attendance of 805 persons who heard the widely-publicized address, "What Will Armageddon Mean for You?" This Bible lecture was delivered by J. W. Filson, District Minister of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Filson, in his Sunday afternoon address, gave the answer to the question, "What is Armageddon?", saying, "At Revelation (or Apocalypse) chapter 16, verse 14 to 16, it is called the 'battle of the great day of God the Almighty' and Jesus referred to it as the climax of the 'great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be'. Describing the events upon earth which began with World War I in 1914, Jesus in Matthew 14:34 said of those living on earth at this time, 'This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled'."

To the question, "What could Armageddon mean to us?" Filson said, "For those who remain without knowledge as to the issues involved and to be fought out at Armageddon it will spell disaster and death along with the wicked angels and ungodly men . . . But those who awake to the prophetic warnings about God's purpose in these 'last days' of the ungodly world and who gain knowledge from the Holy Scriptures and obey such Scriptural instruction, fleeing now to Jehovah God's New World Society of His Witnesses, Armageddon will mean deliverance into a perfect and happy everlasting new world of righteousness."

The attentive audience listened to Filson's final counsel, "Men and Women in the New World Society" after a short talk on "Youth in the New World Society."

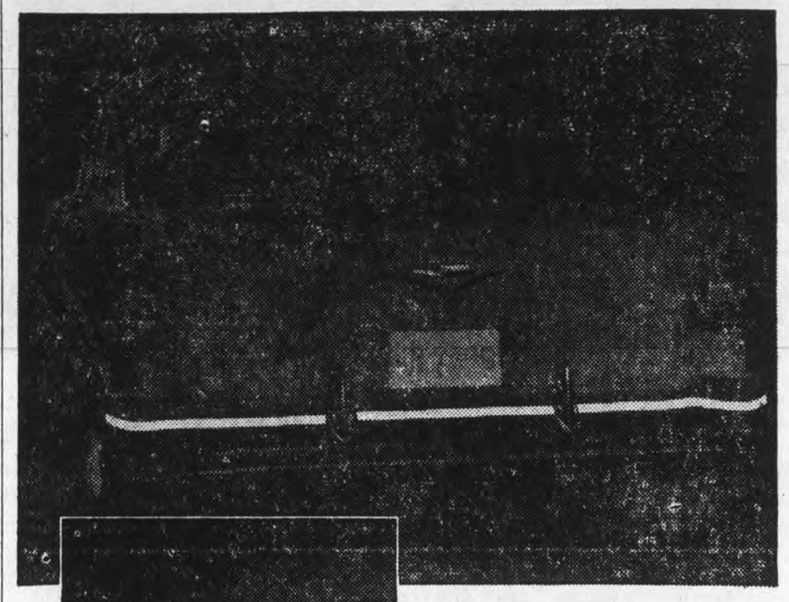

Mr. Lewis H. Driver, local presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, said local delegates have returned home with renewed vigor for the ministry.

Little Eddie Bailey Loses Long Battle With Cancer

Little Eddie Bailey's long battle with cancer ended last Monday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bailey, at New Hope community in Shelby County.

Funeral services for the boy were held last Wednesday at New Hope Baptist Church. The Rev. C. F. Rutherford, pastor, and the Rev. James Cantrell of Third Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, officiated. Burial was in Allen Cemetery.

Eddie underwent surgery for removal of a malignant tumor in Birmingham last spring. However, surgeons reported at the time that the cancer had spread too far to be checked. After recovering from the operation the story of the lad whose luck and sunny disposition kept him playing cheerfully while his young life was fast running out had rallied sympathetic interest from hundreds of people many of whom had never seen him.

Former German Students Attend Alabama College

Alabama College students, Barbara and Christiane Angele have accomplished much in the eight years they have been in this country.

When they left their native Germany along with their parents, they couldn't speak a word of English. Now they have a southern accent with slight Teutonic overtones.

The main accomplishment the two girls achieved along with their parents was acquiring American citizenship. In college the sisters are excellent students. Barbara who is 21, will graduate this year. She is a biology and chemistry major. Their father is a scientist at the Redstone Arsenal near Huntsville.

During the past summer the Angeles returned to Germany for a visit. "It was one big homecoming," Barbara said. "All of our relatives and friends were still there. Just about all we did was talk about the past and tell about our life in America."

"We were surprised at the new Berlin," Barbara continued. "Berlin was our home during the war. Christiane and I practically grew up during the bombings. We were very young when the bombings first started. As the years rolled by we got used to it and considered it more irritating than fearful."

Christiane said when they left for America the cities were masses of ruins and the people looked as if the last shreds of hope had vanished. "On our return everything had changed. New buildings loomed over bomb craters. The scars of war were practically gone. Even the people looked different. They had gained hope and signs of prosperity were evident everywhere."

Prior to their arrival in America, the Angele sisters had received abou five years of schooling. Possessing no knowledge of English they were laced in the first grade. But it was only a matter of months before they were in classes with students of their age.

Not too long ago the Angeles became American citizens. "It was a wonderful moment," Barbara said. "But when we first arrived in the United States eight years ago we felt that we belonged here."

Reapportionment Amendment No. 1

By Robert T. Daland

November 6, 1956, the voters of Alabama will be called on to decide whether or not to reapportion of the Alabama Legislature by constitutional amendment. The proposal to be voted on would increase the size of the House of Representatives from 106 to 152 members, and the size of the Senate from 35 to 67.

Although no county would lose legislators it now has, some would gain additional representation and some would not. Relative gains and losses in representation can be shown by comparing the proportion of total representation in each house as it now exists with that as proposed in the amendment. When this comparison is made, it appears that 31 counties would have a net gain in representative strength in the House of Representatives and the other 36 would lose. In the Senate 40 counties would gain and 27 would lose.

Fifteen counties would gain in both houses. Eleven counties would lose in both houses. However, the majority of 41 counties would gain in one house and lose in the other. For example, Jefferson County would have a 2.6 per cent gain in representation in the House of Representatives. Losing proportionately in the Senate, Jefferson County would have a net gain in average representation for both houses, changing from 4.7. per cent of total representation to 5.4 per cent.

By adding the proportions of total representation which each county has in the Senate and in the House and dividing by two, it is possible to show the net impact of the proposed amendment on the representative strength of the county. On this basis, 32 counties would have a net gain in representative strength, 33 counties would sustain a net loss, and two counties would remain unchanged. This calculation may be of value in deciding the merits of the proposed amendment since the amendment must be accepted or rejected in its entirety. However, it should be pointed out that the fate of many measures is decided in one house, so that relative changes proposed by the amendment must be considered for both the Senate and the House. If a bill is killed in the Senate, the House is not likely to consider it because enactment requires passage by both houses. This fact suggests that the actual effect of the reapportionment measure on the voting strength of a particular county would depend on which house first acted on the bill in question. Should initial action be taken in the Senate, the new proposal might be advantageous while in the House the opposite result might be felt. It was pointed out above that the majority of counties would gain strength in the Senate, while the majority would lose in the House of Representatives.

The accompanying map shows the relative net gains and losses in represtntation of the counties on the basis of averaging the changes in the House and Senate for each county. Since it is necessary to have a standard for purposes of comparison, the map shows the direction of changes in representation in relation to each county's proportion of total state population. Six counties would receive increases in representation which would bring them closer to their population ratio. These are scattered from Baldwin County in the south to Colbert in the North. Twenty-three counties would sustain net decreases which would bring them nearer their population ratio. These counties are grouped in south-central Alabama with the exception of Morgan and Jackson Counties in the counties would, there fore, be counties would, there-fores, be closer in representation to their proportion of the state's population. Two counties, Etowah and Butler, would have the same degree of representation that they now have. Ten counties, scattered from Mobile and Houston in the south to Lauderdale and Jackson in the north would have a net decrease in representation. These counties would be further from their proportion of the state's population than they were before. Twenty-six counties scattered over the state would be given increases in representation which would leave them also further from their proportion of Alabama's population.

Montevallo Downs Calera 33 to 14

By S. DeMent

Handing the Eagles their third defeat of the season, Montevallo downed Calera there Friday night 33-14, scoring two touchdowns in the second quarter, one in the third, and two in the fourth.

Kenneth Oglesby, 190-lb bruising fullback, scored three of the Bulldogs' touchdowns and added as many extra points. In addition to Oglesby's scoring Milton Terrell went over on a three-yard touchdown plunge after the Bulldogs had capitalized on a Calera fumble on their own 43-yard line.

Wright Ingram's desperation pass attempt in the closing minutes of the game cost the Eagles a fifth touchdown when he was hit by Jerry McNeil and fumbled on his own goal line. Elbert Mahaffey covered the fumble for the Bulldogs.

Calera's second touchdown came in the third quarter with Walter Ingram carrying.

Playing good ball for Bulldogs were Curtis Brazier, Ronald Smitherman, and Lewis Knowles.

Montevallo plays host to the Perry County Rams in a homecoming match next Friday night. This is the first meeting of these two teams.

LOCATION OF STEAM PLANT IS DISCUSESD

Congressman Armistead Selden and several Shelby Countians met with Mr. Tom Martin, Chairman of the Board, Alabama Power Company, recently to discuss with him the possibility of locating the proposed steam generating plant in Shelby County. Judge L. C. Walker, Mayor Austin Mitchell of Wilsonville, and Solicitor C. M. Fowler accompanied the Congressman. Mr. Martin indicated that a decision as to the location of this plant would be made in the near future. Extra Care at Night Urged for Pedestrians, Motorists

By Mary Lou Chapman

So you're all grown up. No longer afraid of the dark. Creaking tree branches and monsters no longer pursue you.

Most likely it won't be the goblins who will "getcha if ya don't watch out." It's those crazy drivers. And they'll really getcha.

Those who walk at night seem to be in danger, after all. At least, the Traffic Safety Association says so. In winter, with more dark hours, it's most dangerous. There are twice as many pedestrian fatilities after dark, the association says.

Here is a classic example from the Traffic Safety Association's files:

Miss Chapman

"The typical fatal accident victim was a male pedestrian in his late fifties or early sixties who had never driven a motor vehicle. He was killed at night when he stepped carelessly into the street without looking for approaching cars."

Notice that part which says, "had never driven a motor vehicle." That's important because those who do not drive often don't realize how long it takes to stop a moving car. They may walk out in front of a car completely innocent of the fact that they are in danger.

Children Cautioned

Children at least are taught to "stop, look and listen," and this caution which is drilled into them when they are at an impressionable age may go far toward saving their lives. Perhaps the older citizens have crossed so many streets during their lives that caution seems less urgent to them.

Walking out into traffic from between parked cars in the middle of the block is the most common way pedestrians are struck down. Darkness makes it almost impossible for the driver to see them until it is too late.

Can't See Pedestrian

Let's say you shine a flashlight at someone some distance away from you in the dark. He can see your light long before you can spot him with the beam. It's the same with the pedestrian. He sees the car's headlights and feels safe because he thinks the driver can see him. But often the driver cannot see him—especially if he wears dark clothes—until it's too late to stop.

A driver is further handicaped by his eyes. Even if you're eating your carrots, you still can't see as well at night as in the daytime. Our vision is such that we can't distinguish depth, exact shapes or even color quite so well when it's dark. We are restricted to silhouette vision, say the eye experts. You might be driving along, thinking that black shape on the curb is a fire hydrant, until it steps suddenly into the street. Then you realize it's a child, or a man who was tieing his shoelace.

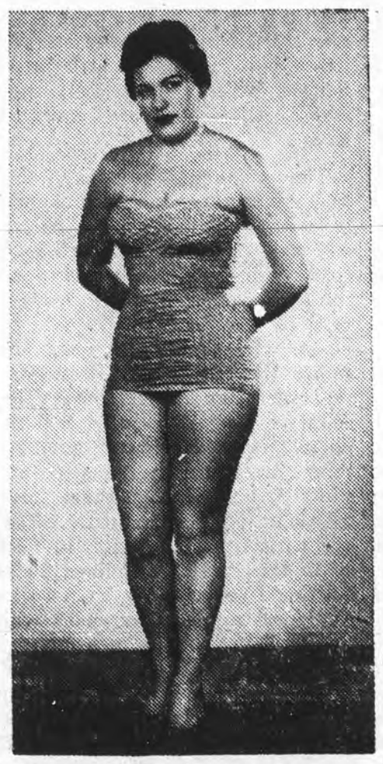

The safe driver adjusts his speed to night driving, and keeps in mind those who walk at night.

with modern Electrical Appliances

Today many old homes are being converted into modern new homes simply by renewing the wiring, installing the new electric kitchen and laundry appliances, such as dishwasher, electric water heater, range and clothes dryer in renovated kitchens or waste space converted into laundry room.

Thus the convenience and efficiency of a new home and the comfort of the roominess of the older home can be enjoyed for modest monthly payments. The important thing in an old home or a new one is enough housepower—that is, wires of the right size to make it possible for you to operate present or future appliances economically and efficiently.

Contractors will gladly tell you how much it will cost to bring the wiring in your home up-to-date. You can either install the appliances you need at one time, or buy them one-by-one. You can pay for the wiring (if needed) and the appliances monthly as you pay your electric service bill.

WHEREAS, the general election next succeeding the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, November 6, 1956; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E. Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The State is authorized to become indebted for building construction and improvement purposes at the Alabama State Hospitals and at the Partlow State School for Mental Deficients, and in evidence of the indebtedness so incurred to sell and issue, in addition to all other bonds of the State, interest-bearing general obligation bonds of the State not exceeding four million dollars in principal amount. The bonds shall be general obligations of the State of Alabama and the full faith and credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged to the prompt and faithful payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon. The proceeds from the sale of such bonds are hereby appropriated and shall be used exclusively for the acquisition of building sites; for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, and improvement of building facilities, including renewal and replacement of structural parts; and for the procurement of equipment for such buildings at the Alabama State Hospitals and at the Partlow State School for Mental Deficients; provided that the expenses incurred in connection with the sale and issuance of the bonds may also be paid from such proceeds.

"All bonds issued hereunder and the interest thereon shall be payable from any funds in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated. The bonds shall be payable in substantially equal installments of principal and interest beginning in the next fiscal year after their date. They shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed three per cent, and they shall contain a provision for their call for payment at such a time or times prior to maturity, and at such a premium, if any, as may be prescribed in the notice of sale. All bonds issued hereunder shall be sold to the best bidder at a duly advertised public sale, upon sealed bids or at auction, and shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest; provided, however, that bidders may be invited to name the rate or rates of interest which the bonds are to bear. The right to reject any or all bids shall be reserved. Bonds issued hereunder shall mature within twenty years from the date of issuance.

"The Legislature shall adopt appropriate enabling legislation to carry out the intent and purpose of this amendment to the Constitution."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of November 1956 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

Calera School To Observe National Education Week

"Schools for a Strong America" is the theme for the 1956 observance of American Education Week which begins Sunday Nov. 11th and lasts through Saturday Nov. 17th.

Calera School will observe this special week by planning a series of daily programs to be presented to the student body at 10:00 o'clock a.m. in the school auditorium. A cordial invitation is extended to members of the community to share these programs.

Wednesday, Nov. 14, has been designated as "Visiting Day." It is hoped that many parents will take this opportunity to visit in the school.

Calera School is proud of the service given and the high type of lunches served by the lunchroom staff. Parents are invited to eat lunch and see the type meal available to students who take advantage of this service.

Pastors of the local churches are cooperating with the school in observing American Education Week. Rev. G. F. Goree and Rev. W. O. Hope of Calera Baptist and Methodist Churches respectively will begin the week by basing their services on "Our Spiritual and National Heritage."

Each member of the community is urged to help observe this important week by attending one of the programs planned.

American Education week committee for Calera School are: Mrs. Anne Glass, Chairman; Mrs. Pearl White, and Mrs. Margie Simpson.

November 16 Is "Band Night"

The last Montevallo High School football game of the season, scheduled on Friday, November 16th, with Vincent High School, will also be observed as "Band Night". Tickets for the game are being sold by band members and by the Band Parents Association to raise funds to defray transportation expenses to out-of-town games, and to replace the worn-out instruments the band is now using.

Many of these instruments are used several times a day in various band classes, and have been used by hundreds of high school students and one Alabama College class over the years past. They have enabled these young people to try out instruments at no cost to them. Many have continued with the first instrument chosen, and have become valued members of the marching and concert bands. Others have tried several instruments before finding the one for which they were best fitted. But for all, there was the same opportunity to try out before purchasing and, in many cases, to continue for six years of band work without the necessity of purchasing.

In order that this work may continue, and that it may be expanded to reach larger numbers, your help in this and other projects of the Band Parents Association throughout the year will be much appreciated.

Band alumni are especially invited to return and meet each other in the band room or at the dance following the game.

Overseas Christmas Mail Should Be Sent Now

Have you done your Christmas shopping for friends and relatives who are overseas with the armed forces?

Postmaster Morris Watson reminds that to insure arrival before Christmas, all parcels for service personnel in Korea, Japan and the Pacific Islands should be mailed now. You have until Nov. 15 to send gifts addressed to U. S. bases in Europe or the American Territories, and you can send Christmas cards as late as December 1, provided you use air mail.

Letters and Christmas cards sent by regular mail should go before November 15. To insure prompt delivery of all overseas mail, be sure you print the full name, rank, serial number, branch of service, organization, and the Army or Navy post office to which overseas mail is to be routed. Time flies, so why not take care of your overseas Christmas shopping and mailing now?

Band Boosters Sponsor Saturday Bake Sale

Beginning at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, November 10th in front of the Calera Theater will be the bake sale sponsored by the Band Boosters Club of Calera High School. After this Saturday, we will discontinue the sale of our baked goods until further notice.

We wish to thank Mr. O'Neal Farris for the use of his show case and Mr. S. M. Bird and his employees for storing and transferring the show case back and forth for us each Saturday.

Plans are being made for a Bazaar to be held the first part of December, the date, time and place to be announced in the near future.

Start your needles to working on some article that will make a nice Christmas gift. Aprons, crochet, knitting, embroidery, appliques, pot plants, planters, trays, pictures, bookends and lamps would make most useful articles. If you do not have time to make something, buy something attractive and donate it for the sale, and boost the band.

B. W. HAMRIC

By B. W. Hamric
President Shelby County Teachers

During the week of November 11-17 every community in Shelby County will observe American Education Week. At the first meeting of the Shelby County Teachers Association this year a special committee was appointed to coordinate all communities in this effort. Mrs. Billye Cobern of the Camp Branch Elementary School is chairman of this group. Other members are Mr. John P. Deason of Thompson, Miss Alyce Harris of Vincent, Mrs. Frances Anthony of Montevallo, and Mrs. Ann Glass of Calera. These people have done an outstanding job in planning with every community in the county. Also Mr. Elliott, our County Superintendent of Education, and other county officials have worked diligently with the committee.

The idea of an American Education Week was first put into effect in 1921. It was sponsored jointly by the National Education Association and the American Legion. Today these two great organizations, together with the Parent-Teacher Association, try to see that this week is observed everywhere throughout the United States.

As a part of this overall plan, Montevallo has a committee that has worked with parents, teachers, and various community agencies to emphasize American education. This local committee is composed of the following people: Mr. M. Thornton, chairman; Mrs. Frances Anthony; Mrs. Ruth Frederick; and Miss Vinnie Lee Walker.

American Education Week has come to be very significant as a means of focusing the attention of the American people on their schools. More and more the public is coming to realize that the education of our youth is a cooperative responsibility. Teachers cannot do the job alone.

Bulldogs Win Close One From Perry

By S. DeMent

A safety in the fourth period gave the Bulldogs the winning margin as Montevallo defeated Perry County High of Marion here last Friday night 16-14 in a homecoming match. Both teams scored one touchdown each in the second and fourth quarters; there was no scoring in the first and third.

The Rams took a 7-point lead in the second period following Woodfin Nickols's 35-yard pass to Alphus Middlebrook. Ingram dashed 25 yards through the middle of the line to place the ball on the 1, and from there a quarterback sneak put the Rams across the pay-off stripe. Ingram ran the extra point.

Ronald Smitherman set up Montevallo's first score with a brilliant 40-yard sprint which placed the ball on the Rams' 5. Two plays later Milton Terrell was in the end zone. Oglesby went through the line for the extra point.

Score at halftime was 7-7.

In the fourth period, after Montevallo had driven to Perry County's 28, the Rams held and took over on downs. From there a loss of 10 yards and a 15-yard penalty forced the Rams back to their own three. An attempted punt from behind the goal line was blocked by Elbert Mahaffey and was good for 2 points for the Bulldogs.

Good running on the part of Terrell, Oglesby, and Smitherman set up Montevallo's second touchdown from the kick following the safety. Smitherman went over from 17 yards out. Again it was Oglesby hitting the line for the extra point.

Roy Crawford's pass to Ingram was good for 35 yards and a Ram TD in the final moments of the fourth period. Ingram made the extra point.

This week the Bulldogs travel to West Blocton.

Family Living Class Has Pot Luck Supper

On Wednesday evening October 31, the family living class of Montevallo High School had a pot luck supper in the Home Economics Department. Parents of the boys and girls were honor guests. The class was assisted in serving the supper by Members of the Home and Family Life Committee of the Montevallo P. T. A.

The idea for the supper grew out of a class discussion in which the students were considering relations and attitudes of parents and young people toward each other. The students decided to have a panel discussion during the evening "What parents and young people should expect of each other." The panel participants were two members of the Montevallo P. T. A., Mrs. W. E. Robinson and Mr. M. S. McGehee. The students who participated were Mrs. Johnny Northcutt and James Vail.

Some of the things which the students felt they have a right to expect from parents were: a sound mental and physical inheritance, affection, feeling of security, wise council and guidance, trust, modern point of view, opportunity of education, sympathetic understanding, attractive home where friends are welcome.

Among the things mentioned that parents expect from young people were: affection, respect and appreciation for parents, loyalty, cooperation in home duties and responsibilities, obedience.

In addition to class members, those present for the dinner and discussion were:

Mrs. Mary Kirby, Mrs. C. G. Wallace, Mrs. W. E. Robinson, Mrs. A. J. Nabors, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. R. L. Johnson Mrs. Lester Stansell, Mrs. Y. J. Pickett, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Gormley, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Milford and son, Guy Windsor Jr., Mrs. Sam Evans, Miss Vinnie Lee Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Luther McGaughy, Mrs. John Birchfield, and Mrs. Paul Crenshaw.

New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

They "flattened" Yukon mountains with the most modern truck V8's of all!

Rated G.V.W. of these payload-carrying heavyweights goes all the way up to 32,000 pounds!

New V8-powered '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded, made one of the world's toughest roads look easy! In a straight-through test run, they rolled over the famous ALCAN Highway to Alaska—in less than 45 hours (normally a 72-hour run). Here's proof-in-action of power that'll handle your toughest jobs—and keep coming back for more!

Whatever your job, there's an Alcan-proved Chevrolet Task-Force truck ready right now to save you time and money!

Six new Task-Force huskies made the run. And six ultra-modern Chevy engines proved their power and performance—with gas mileage up to 18.17 miles per gallon! Two of the engines were not stopped once, and they hummed along at peak efficiency the entire 1,520 miles!

Chevy's big V8's—including the new 283-cu.-in. Super Taskmaster—turned in top performance jobs. They hauled typical loads up and down towering grades and through washouts that sucked wheels into hub-deep mud. They roared on through miles of heavy dust that narrowed visibility to a few hundred feet. And in spite of the varying altitudes and temperatures, not a single truck was forced to drop out or turn back! Stop by and see them soon!

Who says dream cars never come true?

Dynamite from Detroit

Co-op

Coming! America's first production dream car— it will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

The old Detroit rule was to introduce new features gradually, to make little changes each year. Sometimes a new grille, an engine improvement, or new colors and trim.

We broke that rule. In fact, we broke all the rules. This is dynamite!

For you are not the only one who has dreamed of a totally modern car, a car that has everything you find at automobile shows, in illustrations, and in custom-built experimental cars.

Detroit has had that dream, too. And that's why the 1957 Mercury is the car that has honestly excited the most car-jaded, the most sophisticated of Detroit's automotive experts.

When you see the new 1957 Mercury, you'll see America's first full-production dream car—a car that will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

You'll see a dream car you can own and drive—a car that has far more than startling years-ahead beauty.

THE BIG M for '57 boasts dream-car features never before found outside a designer's dreambook: a Keyboard Control that makes ordinary push-button driving old-fashioned; an exclusive Floating Ride with a revolutionary new cushioning action you have to feel to believe. There are Mercury "firsts" everywhere you look. A Power-Booster Engine Fan in the Montclair series that saves horsepower other cars waste. And many more Mercury exclusives.

You'll see THE BIG M—the new Mercury for 1957—soon. You'll see it. You'll drive it. The first dream car that can be yours. The dynamite is on its way from Detroit to your dealer's—now!

President Eisenhower Proclaims National Education Week, Nov. 11-17

President Eisenhower, in an official proclamation, has called upon the nation to set aside American Education Week, November 11-17, as a "week of dedication to education" and has termed the observance a "fitting opportunity for the exchange of views upon educational problems and progress." His statement stresses "the needs of the nation for more and better schools and colleges to the end that our people through improved education may make a greater contribution to the progress and future welfare of America, and to the peace and well-being of the world."

A recent survey of young men and women between the ages of 17 and 22 reveals that these youth want more vocational training in high school. Conducted by the Gilbert Youth Research Co., an 11-year old opinion-polling firm, the survey included 4,967 individuals representing a cross-section of the majority of U. S. youth—the nearly 80 per cent who have not graduated from college. Their most serious criticism of their schooling was directed at the curriculum; they felt they should have had more vocational training. Less than 50 per cent of those interviewed said their school work helped them to prepare for the job they were holding and their major complaint was that the subjects they studied were to general and too unrelated to their present occupations. A basic problem is lack of adequate vocational guidance—62 per cent of those interviewed said that they had received no advice about what courses to take during the time they were in high school.

Protection for a LIFETIME!

Don't you wish there was a serum . . . one that could protect your child for a lifetime? Until science comes up with such a serum, the best protection you can give him is a good education in health and safety.

In his school he gets instruction in nutrition and growth, in body functioning, in cleanliness, in the importance of medical and dental examinations. He learns and practices safe living in shop classes, in first aid courses, on the school bus, through physical education and recreation programs. But more than that, his teachers know that safe and healthful living includes mental and emotional well being . . . attitudes and habits that protect for a lifetime.

Schools have changed since you were young? You bet they have. Why not visit them and see how much?

Thompson Reserve Teachers Organized

Twenty-four patrons of Thompson School have organized a Reserve Teachers Club with Mrs. Douglas Kent of Siluria serving as its first president.

The Reserve Teachers relieve regular teachers so that they may make professional visits to other schools, take students on field trips, take time out from regular classes for remedial work with small groups, and perform other duties which would improve the quality of instruction in the school.

The group was conceived as a method of allowing teachers to take part in activities which would be of benefit to the school, but for which the law will not permit the hiring of a substitute teacher.

The club was formed under the sponsorship of the P. T. A. but has been set up as a separate unit so that it may function individually.

Mrs. Joe Barlow is recording secretary. Other members are the Rev. Joe M. Barlow and Mesdames Leo Barton, W. M. Farris, John Montgomery, W. J. Mathis, J. A. Hines, Jr., Tom Harper, Ray Thornton, Joe Hodges, George Bentley, Hank Spires. Carl Goodwin, Bob Hentz, J. G. Lacey, Douglas Kent, Anita Holbrooks, W. A. Nolen, A. L. P.T.A. Is Sponsor of Education Week

By Mrs. Denson Elliott
President, Montevallo P. T. A.

Since 1920 one week in November of every year has been designated American Education Week. The National Congress of Parents and Teachers is one of the four sponsors of American Education Week. Together with the National Education Association, the United States Office of Education, and the American Legion, it plans the general theme for the week, and prepares program materials.

The P. T. A. is an organization whose basic purposes are to integrate the forces of home, school, and community in behalf of the child and to foster among parents, school authorities, teachers, and the general public "such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education."

"Wishing for good schools is not enough," declares our sponsoring committee. "'Communities have good schools when the people want them enough to take interest in them, to work for them, to cooperate with them."

American Education week affords us the opportunity to re-examine the educational program of our community; to consider educational problems and aims; and to formulate plans to assist in strengthing the schools so they may serve the needs of our children and the community. To help our schools, we must be well-informed about them.

Plan to visit our schools during American Education Week!

Standard Oil Buys Elliott Property

According to talk of the town, Montevallo is soon to have a substantial addition to its business district with the consequent removal of one of the old time homes which will yield its place to the demands of progress and extension in local commercial operations.

It is understood that Mrs. G. T. Elliott has sold her home property on Main Street to Standard Oil Company and that Standard plans to build a gasoline service station on it. The location is at the intersection of Main and North Boundary Streets.

It is reported that Mrs. Elliott will build a home on that part of the property which she did not sell, which faces north Boundary and Island Streets.

Definite details of the plans of Sandard Oil Company have not been made public.

Mrs. Elliott is presently in a Birmingham hospital and could not be contacted for a statement about the matter.

FFA Members Replace Old Mailbox Stands

Alabama's old rickety, dilapidated looking rural mailbox stands are about to become a thing of the past. All FFA chapters and rural mail carriers throughout the state have started a cooperative mailbox improvement program to get the job done.

Ronald Rogers, president of Alabama's FFA Association, says the FFA members will work with their neighbors and encourage them to replace old mailbox stands with new attractive ones. These new stands have a concrete post and concrete base. They are reinforced wth steel rods. Wooden crossarms are bolted to the top of the post to hold the mailbox. Inscribed on the side of the posts are the letters FFA, painted in gold, with glass beads to reflect at night.

FFA members hope to place one of these mailbox stands with every rural family in the state, at a very nominal cost. Their goal now is to construct 45,000 posts immediately.

Warning To Parents

One of our neighboring counties has had well over 20 cases of Diphtheria with one death and this outbreak is continuing.

We posses an effective means of preventing Diphtheria, but it is of no avail after the child has been exposed to the infection. Parents are urged to take all children from 4 months to 9 years old to their doctor or to the Health Department and have them immunized and prevent any such outbreak in Shelby County.

It is imperative also to take any child with a sore throat to your doctor immediately. Aside from the danger of Diphtheria, prompt treatment of sore throat will usually prevent the occurrence of one of childhood's most tragic diseases—Rheumatic Fever.

Alabama College's Objectives Are Given by Administrition Officials

Alabama College is the college in between. . . .geographically.

Sixty miles to the west is the University and southeast lies Auburn.

But in spite of the nearness of thes two giant educational institutions Alabama College continues to attract students to its campus. This year the new upsurge in enrollment was helped when the college became coeducational.

With the admittance of men students, American Education Week (Nov. 11-17) has great significance at Alabama College this year—the entrance into a new era.

There are many reasons why students are attracted to Alabama College more and more each year. This is due in part to the pleasant relationship between the faculty and student; individual advice to students on educational and personal problems by trained counselors; varied cultural activities and the nearness to metropolitan centers.

"Our aim at Alabama College is the development of the cultural, intellectual, spiritual, physical and the vocational resources of the youth and adult," Dr. F. E. Lund, president, stated.

"Alabama College helps young men and women to become more useful and efficient members of the democratic society and improves their own qualities of living," the president continued.

Richard Powers, dean of the college said that instruction is adapted to the needs of the individual student within his intellectual grasp. "At the same time, it will strive to arouse his intellectual curiosity and train him to think critically," he remarked.

Dean Powers stressed that the college is broad and flexible, so that on leaving the school, the student will be more able to live a full life, adequately trained to continue his education or enter employment.

He listed the objectives of Alabama College:

1. "To provide general education to youth and adults."
2. "To develop character and citizenship."
3. "To provide training for employment and give personal, educational and vocational guidance."
4. "To provide a service center for the community."

Students come from throughout the state to Alabama College. Many states are also represented and several foreign countries.

To sum up the attitude of the students, Miss Iva Gibson, dean of residence said, "Students may graduate from Alabama College, but over a period of years they always return for a visit with their alma mater."

Our Educational Heritage

By Dr. Charles Gormley

During most of the year we ought to give attention to the problems and the shortcomings of our schools, for only by studying problems do we solve them and by recognizing deficiencies can we hope to remove them. In short, we should usually take a negative view of educational affairs, continually wondering what needs to be improved. American Education Week is a good time, however, to restore the balance by taking account of some things that are right with American education. These strengths are easy to discover; all we need do is recall a little of our history.

To immigrants, America has always been a land of opportunity, a place where one might climb as high as ability and enterprise could take him. At first the abundant free land, and then expanding business and industry, provided the means by which a man could better himself. But during the past hundred years, our schools have become more and more important for this purpose. School doors open just as freely to the laborer's son as to the capitalist's son, and they sit in class together. The poorest bright youth, if he has enough determination, can hope to climb the educational ladder to the very top.

In other countries, too, almost every child may go through elementary school, but relatively few enter a secondary school from which they can go on to college. Virtually every boy and girl in America can attend such a school, and four-tenths of the graduates enter college. Our educational ladder has room for many to climb even the highest rungs, and the extent of opportunity it offers is perhaps the chief glory of American education.

Shelby and Chilton Go For Ike

The ghosts of A. P. Longshore, Lewis Reynolds and George Weaver must have been "knocking about" among the votrs last week when Shelby and Chilton Counties each rolled up a majority in favor of President Eisenhower.

This made some folks happy and brought frowns of disappointment to others. We see in it a stern warning to the politicians that the voters can and will vote like they want to when they take a notion.

Following is the unofficial vote as reported in the two counties for President:

	Rep.	Dem.
Shelby	2619	2199
Chilton	3139	1838
	5758	4037

That sounds just about like a Longshore, Reynolds or Weaver vote back in the years from 1904 to 1920.

About a hundred of the Republican majority in Shelby County was contributed by Beats 3 (Calera) and 4 (Montevallo) where the tabulation was as follows:

	Rep.	Dem.
Beat 3 (Calera)	291	202
Beat 4 (City Hall)	202	190
Beat 4 (Wilton)	47	63
Beat 4 (Masonic Hall)	142	133
	682	588

Mrs. Joseph A. Dear, and children, Joseph and Charles, of Washington D. C. will arrive by plane Thursday morning to spend two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Blevians.

Higher Education's Role Increasing In Importance

By Dr. F. E. Lund, President, Alabama College

The role of higher education in the nation is increasing in importance. Nowhere is the importance of higher education greater than in the South!

Here are the reasons.

Because of the migration of industry and business to the Southland, and the increasing economic importance of Southern states, the entire nation is currently focusing its attention on the South.

Accompanying this rather fortunate economic condition is an increasing responsibility. A responsibility that must be recognized and shouldered by all of us in the South.

This responsibility is to provide leadership. Not only leadership in highly skilled endeavors such as physics, chemistry and other sciences, but leadership in all echelons of business, industry, research and education.

There once was a time when this leadership could be found in the so-called "home-grown inventor" and the "self made man". The day of the self-made or self-educated man is pretty much a thing of the past. Leadership today, and in the future will come from the ranks of formally educated citizens.

The complexity of today's industrial and business organizations calls for disciplined and educated thinking and leadership. It is squarely up to the people of the South to provide this sort of thinking and leadership for the newly acquired businesses and industries, if the Southland is to continue its rapid economic growth.

The best way, and perhaps the only way to provide this leadership is through institutions of higher learning. While a college degree does not mean necessarily that a person is educated; nevertheless, a greater percentage of our youth must be encouraged to attend colleges and universities. A greater percentage of college students must successfully complete a college education. A greater percentage of our college graduates must successfully complete programs of advanced study. And of course, our institutions of higher learning must continue to upgrade themselves.

Fortunately, these greater percentages of the population in colleges and universities are beginning to materialize. This trend must not only continue, it must gain to keep pace with our rapidly expanding economy.

Calera Fifth Grade Has a Busy Month

Fifth grade boys and girls of Calera School had a very busy month and did many interesting things.

The group taught by Mrs. Mayie Davis, entered a float in the Homecoming parade, Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater was the theme and the group made a large pumpkin to carry it out. Riding on the float were, Betty Ellison and Jimmy Lee.

A chapel program was presented the last week of October. A play, Rabbit's Halloween, poems and instrumental numbers were given.

Members taking part were: Reba Cost, Virginia Willams Billy Brooks, Peter Burrage, Ferrell Cupp, Martha Sargent, Shirley Hope, Terry Duncan, Charles Jones, Georgia Lee Spenser, Ronnie Milstead, Donna Crawford, Elaine Brasher, Jeanette Nichols, Mary Key and Sylvia Burcham.

All the Elementary Grades and a number of visitors were guests.

Not this young lady. She was born with a past as ancient as the great religions . . . as dramatic as the Fourth of July. She's the product of a heritage recorded in the scriptures and annotated in the Declaration of Independence.
Her school is your partner in helping her live up to that heritage . . . in teaching her its intrinsic lessons so that they may become a part of her every-day life.
Shouldn't you know that school better? Visit it. Visit it this week especially.

Confession Made in Falkner Murders

Sheriff Hugh Sims of Shelby County is quoted in the Birmingham papers Wednesday saying that a 45-year-old Clanton cotton mill worker has signed a confession admitting the brutal slaying of Mrs. Helen Odell Falkner on October 26.

The confessor is Charles D. Edwards. Sheriff Sims said that Edwards accused Inez Clonts Abel of stabbing the small son of Mrs. Falkner to death after he had stabbed the mother.

Edwards and his woman companion were arrested at Coalburg in Jefferson County Sunday after the double murder by county deputies. They said hey had hardly started quizzing Edwards when he began confessing burglaries they had never heard of before. The deputies first suspected Edwards and the Abel woman in connection with the murders when they admitted being in the vicinity on the fatal day.

They both told the deputies they had gone to the farm of a Negro doctor near the Falkner home to try to sell the doctor some drugs they had taken from an Opelika drug store.

What puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of FORD?

"Six or V-8, the going is great!"

Here's what puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of Ford!

It's the sculptured look. You'll see it the moment you let your eyes wander over this fine car. In a '57 Ford you belong . . . anywhere.

It's the long, lean lines. There's a greyhound grace to the new Ford. No useless "fat," no showy "padding." Ford is as trim as a jet fighter.

It's the hardtop styling. Fairlane sedans have the hardtop look of Victorias! Superthin center pillars are smartly concealed to give hardtop beauty when doors are closed.

It's the freedom of choice. Colors? Fabrics? Accessories? Far more! Ford gives you a choice of two new, bigger sizes . . . longer, lower, roomier!

It's the ride that stays gentle. With a new frame that rides sweeter and lower, new springs, new suspension all around, even the rudest roads can't ruffle the poise of the new Ford.

It's the Thunderbird power. Ford celebrates its Silver Anniversary of V-8 leadership with the biggest selection of V-8's in Ford history.* In addition to all this Thunderbird GO, there's a new and more powerful Mileage Maker Six.

Just looking at this Fairlane Club Sedan is a special kind of fun!

It's the record-breaking performance. On the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah, a '57 Ford traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days . . . an average speed of 108.16 mph, including all pit stops! Another Ford averaged over 107 mph. Altogether, 458 national and international performance records were smashed as Ford rewrote the record book.

It's the big dollar value that lasts and lasts. Styled for tomorrow, a new Ford keeps its value longer. And wonder of wonders, all this extra strength, extra beauty, extra length is yours at low Ford prices!

*Included is a special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 delivering up to 285 bp.

Wise man say:

"Don't wait for TOMORROW when you can get it today!"

'57 FORD

See it . . . drive it . . . now!

THE TOTAL PROGRAM OF EDUCATION

By M. Thornton

Today our educational program is somewhat different from that of twenty years ago, or that of five or ten years ago. A program of education must change as it causes change and as changes come. Because of the outstanding contributions made by vocational education, certainly today, it is recognized and accepted as an essential in a total program of education. I quote from Dr. Verd Peterson of South Carolina.

"A total program in public education must find its roots deep in the problems of all the people and must make a real contribution to the solution of the problems of each individual. It must provide much for stimulating the growth of the individual.

The whole educational program is larger than any of its parts, but there can be no whole without the parts. It is the responsibility and opportunity of educational workers in each area of education to develop to the maximum their area so as to make a real contribution to the whole.

Any individual who assumes that there is a conflict between the workers in the different areas in education and proceeds to assert himself as a coordinator is likely to fail to make his contribution in his own area and may cause disturbance in other areas."

Vocational education and Vocational experiences are of a specific nature and only through specific subject matter and definite experiences can the workers develop skills. Training a boy in diversified farming sounds good but may be a very ineffective way of developing a self-supporting farmer. So-called diversified occupations may sound like vocational education but unless the specific vocational experiences of a vocation are acquired and the proper related subject matter content is available to be used, it may be only confused general education.

In order that a total program in education, including vocational education, may deal effectively with the problems of the people, that program must be built upon sound research including study of as many phases as possible of the problems involved. This research should be supported by public funds and under the direction of public supported institutions so that it may be more sensitive to the problems of the masses of the people.

As the total program of education becomes better geared to the lives of individuals, it must be realized that vocational education is by nature tied directly into the economic forces with which men must deal. There must be effective programs in guidance that go outside the academic procedures in education to help the individual who is being trained to find his place in society. Programs in guidance, to be effective, must recognize the major choices the individual must make and one of these must always be a choice of a vocation if the individual wants to be useful in society.

If the public schools of this country are to carry on an effective total program in education that will take care of the educational needs of all the people and help provide for real life development, then teachers, supervisors and administrators need a common understanding of the total program. Those designated to administer the total program should have complete understanding of its purposes; they should be able to stimulate and lead those working in each area of education to provide the maximum progress as the program develops.

Be Informed on School Problems

By W. W. Elliott, Supt., Shelby County Schools

As we go into the observance of American Education Week (November 11-17), we find that never before have the people of America concentrated so intensely upon the purpose and problems of public education. The two greatest discoveries of this generation have been the power of the atom and the power of education. The problems of our educational system are enormous. As citizens of a free democracy it should be our desire to understand these problems in order that we might help to correct any deficiencies in our public schools. Our schools are worth the differences they make in the lives of our children. The greatest moment in the life of any child comes at the point where he is awakened to his selfhood and takes charge of his own life. It is your duty, as a parent, and a citizen, to visit your school and be informed on its operation.

"Life is no brief candle to me. It is a sort of splendid torch which I have got hold of for the moment, and I want to make it burn as brightly as possible before handing it on to future generations." —George Bernard Shaw.

You have a most cordial invitation to visit your schools November 12-16.

A PROCLAMATION

By the President of the United States of America

Whereas since the founding of our Nation, our citizens have zealously worked and sacrificed to provide schools and colleges for the education of our children, our youths, and our adults; and

Whereas the White House Conference of Education held in 1955, with delegates from all the States and Territories, representing millions of citizens of all races, faiths, and walks of life, re-emphasized the needs of the Nation for more and better schools and colleges to the end that our people thru improved education may make a greater contribution to the progress and future welfare of America, and to the peace and well-being of the world; and

Whereas the setting aside of a special education week each year provides a fitting opportunity for parents and educators and the public generally to visit schools and educational institutions, to express their appreciation of the work of our teachers and school officials, and to exchange views upon educational problems and progress:

Now, therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the period from November 11 to November 17, 1956, as American Education Week; and I urge the fullest possible participation in the observance of that week by the people thruout the United States. This week of dedication to education and to the efforts and achievements of teachers, school and college administrators, and others in this important area of public service is especially significant during this year of appraisal, in terms of local community needs and required action, of the recommendations made by the White House Conference on Education. Let us all stress the need for good schools to keep America strong.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this fifth day of September of the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-six, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eighty-first.

How Does a Girl Grow?

She grows tall and sometimes chubby, often pretty and occasionally sophisticated. Right before your eyes she grows from today into tomorrow . . . learning the bewildering variety of skills necessary for democratic living.

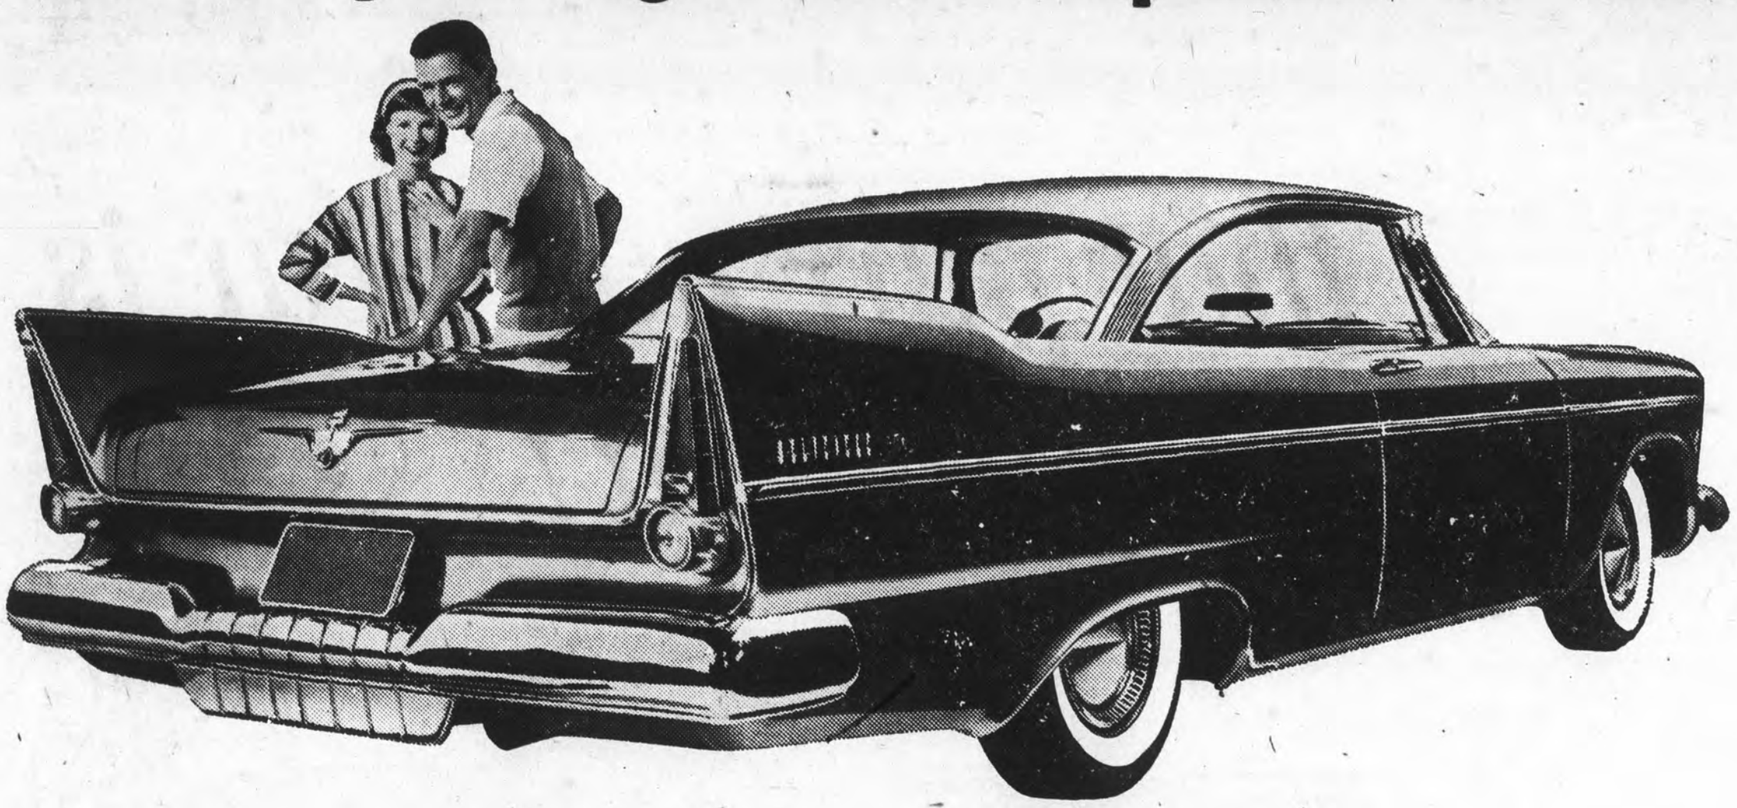

Where does she learn these skills? To a great extent, in her school where she studies the fundamental lessons of our government, where she takes part in class elections, assumes responsibility for the school newspaper.

Practicing good citizenship is not accidental. Today it is a part of her school program. Shouldn't you be familiar with that program? Why not visit her school this week?

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER FOR 1957

Here's the glamorous, low-priced 1957 Chrysler Windsor V-8

Announcing the most glamorous car in a generation!

You never looked or felt as good in anything before!

Other cars have changed models . . . this one changes motoring. Look at its rich, racy lines . . . at the long, low silhouette . . . at the dramatic upsweep of the rear fenders that plume back from the waist like the wake of a hydroplane. It's a streak of a car with the elegance of the boulevard and the spirit of the speedway.

Get into this car, drive it into traffic or out on the open highway and you enter a new domain of travel. In the 1957 Chrysler, with its new Torsion-Aire Ride, motion has a new "feel". And wait till you toe the throttle. A new Pushbutton TorqueFlite Transmission teams with a mighty airplane-type V-8 engine, developing up to 325 horsepower, to give you a new high-velocity getaway, matchless passing power when you need it.

Come in this week and visit our showrooms. See and drive the most completely new car of the year!

Torsion-Aire Ride
pours the road under you!

Try Chrysler's new Torsion-Aire Ride and you'll think some of the laws of gravity, motion and inertia have been suspended in your favor. No more rock and roll. No more pitch when you stop. Chrysler's new torque rod suspension and lower center of gravity give you a brand new ground-skimming "feel" of the road. The wheels ride the contours . . . but you don't. The road just pours under you.

Hints Given For Christmas Mail

Reporting that the "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign is really in high gear, Postmaster Watson today gave some helpful hints on how you can be sure that your Christmas cards will reach every one on your list before Dec. 25.

"When you use three-cent stamps on your Christmas cards you get first-clss mail service," he said. "First class friends deserve first class mail and the use of first class postage makes it certain that your Christmas cards will be delivered promptly. Also use of first class postage insures forwarding service if the recipient has moved or the card will be returned to you if the recipient cannot be located. Then, too, on Christmas cards sent by first class mail, you can include handwritten messages making your greetings more personal.

It is advisable to include your return name and address on each Christmas card envelope. This helps your friends to keep their mailing list up-to-date and insures correction of your list if the card is returned as undeliverable.

Postmaster Watson warns that if any of your Christmas cards are larger than 9 x 12 inches or smaller than 2¼ x 4 inches they must be sent by first class mail because such cards require hand cancellation.

When your Christmas cards are ready to mail, you will do both yourself and the post office clerks a real favor by putting the cards with local addresses in one bundle and those for out-of-town destinations in another. Then mark each with special identification labels you can get free at the post office which read: "All for Local Delivery" and "All for Out-of-Town Delivery."

Regarding the mailing of Christmas gifts, Postmaster Watson points out that right now the big double rush is beginning with the outgoing Christmas mails paralleling the flood of incoming packages and Christmas Cards. He urges that you get your out-of-state packages into the post office within the next day or two and do everything possible to mail all of your Christmas gifts for local delivery by Dec. 10.

The postmaster said that he and the post office clerks would appreciate cooperation from all business firms to step up their regular correspondence mailings to 4:00 p.m. or earlier every day until after the Christmas rush is over

Not Sponsoring Suicide

(Montgomery Advertiser)

President Eisenhower sounded a timely note in a statement on the Hungarian tragedy the other day. Expressing sympathy with the Hungarian people and censuring Russia's use of force in suppressing the independence movement, the President added:

"But I must make one thing clear; the United States doesn't now, and never has, advocated open rebellion by an undefended populace against force over which they could not possibly prevail. We . . . have always urged that the spirit of freedom be kept alive, that people do not lose hope."

It is no act of a friend to incite a subject people to rise up when they don't have a chance. It only invites massacre, misery, and a firmer riveting of the chains.

To what extent outside influences contributed to the Hungarian uprising is not clear. It is a fact that exiles from various countries behind the Iron Curtain have set up shop in the United States. From comfortable desks at a safe distance from any fear of reprisals, they have dispensed brave talk to their captive brethren in the communist grip. How much influence this talk carried, whether it gave an unwarranted implication of American aid, we don't know.

To keep the spirit of freedom alive, as President Eisenhower said, is a commendable thing. To stir up brave men to crash their heads against a stone wall is another.

In this matter of incitement from afar, it is quite possible that when and if the countries behind the Iron Curtain achieve freedom, their people will look for leaders to men who stuck it out and went through the mill with them, rather than to those who fled.

The appeal to American sympathies by such events as those in Hungary is strong, but it is one to which we cannot yield to the extent of going to war. The concept of Uncle Sam as a modern Sir Galahad riding abroad to redress human wrongs has definite limitations. Certainly it is a tragic error to even imply that help will be forthcoming to a people trying to shake off their shackles, when such is not the case.

Montevallo Ends Season With Win

By S. DeMent

Milton Terrell, Ronald Smitherman, and Kenneth Oglesby were leading ground gainers in Montevallo's 20-7 victory over their county rival Vincent here on a slippery field last Friday night. This game wrapped up the season for Coach Theron Fisher's Bulldogs with a record of four wins and six losses. Charles Martin and Cratie Corbett are assistant coaches.

Good running by Oglesby and a 22-yard jaunt by Smitherman placed the ball on Vincent's 28 early in the first quarter. However, the Yellowjackets tightened their defense, and the Bulldogs were unable to move closer in this opening period that saw only an exchange of punts.

As the second quarter opened, Terrell scampered 22 yards and Winslett's 15-yard pass to Smitherman put the Bulldogs in sight of the payoff stripe. Smelling paydirt, Terrell finished the job with a 20 yard gallop. Winslett, on a quarterback sneak, added the extra point. Following the kick-off the Yellowjackets, backed against their own goal line, attempted to pass and fumbled. Leslie Harrison covered the ball in the end zone for six more points for the Bulldogs. The attempted conversion failed.

Eugene Patterson's 40-yard run which brought the crowd to their feet, gave the Yellowjackets hope but after gambling on fourth down with the ball on Montevallo's 40, the determined 'Jackets were forced to give up possession. Halftime saw a brilliant 50-yard dash by Smitherman called back on account of a penalty.

With the score 13-0, the third quarter was a repeat of the first, with neither team threatening.

Again it was Terrell setting up the touchdown for the Bulldogs in the fourth period. Byrd went over from the three. Fisher's attempted pass to Mahaffey for the extra point failed.

In the fourth quarter after the four-minute signal, Howard Garrett broke loose for 25 yards to place the ball in striking distance for the Yellowjackets. Reynolds went over center for the touchdown, and Patterson ran the extra point, making the final count 20-7.

Eight seniors playing their last game for Montevallo served as captains for the Bulldogs. Those seeing action in this final game were: Malcolm Byrd, Curtis Brashier, Lewis Knowles, Alfred Herron, Kenneth Oglesby, Elbtrt Mahaffey, E. G. Alexander, and Willie Ray Hyde.

This season the Bulldogs lost to Isabella, Thompson, Clanton, Verbena, Columbiana, and West Blocton. They deteated Jemison, Marion County, Calera and Vincent.

For its weight— THE MOST POWER of any truck in history!

This one you have to see and drive. It's the phenomenal new GMC Blue Chip light-duty Money-Maker for '57.

It has 206 horsepower—one for every 15½ pounds of its weight. That's more engine than you'll find in most trucks four times its rated capacity.

So it can handle a tremendous amount of truck-work—do it day in, day out without a struggle or strain. You'll marvel at its spirited response—even with a full load.

In fact, there's a real thrill awaiting every first-time rider in this new GMC. Blindfolded, you couldn't tell its serenely smooth and comfortable travel from that of many cars! That's from GMC's exclusive RSD Suspension* that smooths the roughest roads—smothers the smallest bumps.

And you not only ride in comfort—you ride in style! For GMC Blue Chip lines are long and low—colors are dashing—cabs, luxuriously appointed. It's a brilliant new contender for the attention of station-wagon users.

Add them up: matchless appearance—incomparable roadability—huge reserves of power-stamina for extra years of service! In any kind of truck-work this GMC is a money-maker! Come see it—now!

Standard on Suburban, optional at slight extra cost on other ½-ton models.*

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Givhan and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frost Jr. returned home Sunday after a delightful two weeks vacation in Mexico. While there they visited Mexico City, Taxco, the silver center, and Acapulco. At Acapulco about 30 miles out in the Pacific two big Sail Fish were reeled in by the Frosts. Mrs. Frost has the picture and bruises to prove her wreastle with a 106 lb. 8 ft. 5 inch Sail Fish. Fred was a close second with a 95 lb. Sail. Three more Sail fish and a big Dolphin were on their lines that day. Pete hooked the Dolphin, but true of the traditional fisherman's saying "The big ones got away." Fred had a Sail fish that broke a 110 lb. line. In addition to fishing they had interesting sight seeing trips, shopping expeditions, and a good time in general.

Soil Conservation District News

By B. F. Hatchett and Geo. C. Starcher

Back in this country after a couple of years in service in Korea, Capt. G. L. Johnson, Calera district cooperator, has set to work to improve the lake his wife completed while he was overseas. Capt. Johnson plans to deepen some shallow areas in the lake area, raise the spillway slightly, and to fertilize the lake once more before winter.

Mrs. Loraine Fulton, Columbiana, has had a damsite staked out on her farm. She plans to build this to S. C. S. specifications and stock it with bass and bream.

Homer Jackson, of Wilsonville, has one lake built with limited assistance from S. C. S. soon after he became a cooperator, but needs another to serve another section of his nearly 600 acre farm. Tuesday Starcher and Parker ran a preliminary survey of the site, and some of the waterline.

C. D. Whitten, Fourmile, has remarkably good crimson clover and rescue volunteering, ready to graze. He has also a fine stand of alfalfa on 3 1-2 acres recently planted. He plans another planting of alfalfa with rescue especially for hay, rather than grazing.

No grazing we have seen excells volunteer rescue and button clover, overseeded with oats, on cooperator H. S. Kennedy's Wilsonville farm. One and one-half bushels of oats were disced into the surface early in the fall. The oats are slightly taller than the rescue, having come up earlier, but the rescue and button clover are gaining fast.

In the Montevallo area the Jeter, Adkins, and Arnold dams are filling constantly, as occasional fall rains add a little.

Gen. Lewis Pick Is Hospitalized

The health of Alabama's famous and most able Director of the State Planning and Industrial Development Board, Gen. Lewis A. Pick (Retired), is causing concern at the State Capitol these days.

Some weeks ago General Pick reported to the Post Hospital at Fort Benning, Ga., for a general check-up following an indisposition. He was retained for observation. Diagnosis of his ailment has proved a problem, and about two weeks ago he was transferred to the famous Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C.

Between his treatment, General Pick continues to exert his influence on the State Planning and Industrial Development program and direction of its all-important work of attracting new industries to Alabama. It is important to note that in the past 24 months, about $700 million worth of new and expanded industries in the State have expanded the industrial payrolls in Alabama by many thousands of workers drawing many millions of dollars per year. He and Governor Folsom have spent much time, and flown many thousands of miles, on this program.

A few days ago Gov. Folsom went to Washington to visit his director on this important program.

Meanwhile, the routine work of the department continues to be administered by General Pick's Executive Director Pleas Looney.

General Pick, a Virginian, and alumnus of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, was Chief of the Army Corps of Engineers until his retirement three years ago. He is. by general consent, the foremost authority in the world on river and harbor development, and was one of the chief architects of the Intra-costal canal; he wrote the blue-print of the Missouri Basin Development project, among other major works, and during World War II built the ever famous Ledo Road in the China-Burma theater of war.

General Pick is married to the former Miss Alice Carey, daughter of Auburn's Alabama Polytechnic Institute's first famous director of the Alabama Extension Service.

General and Mrs. Pick retired to the old Carey home, Auburn, after his retirement from the Army, and have spent much of their leisure time since then remodeling and renovating this famous mansion.

Dedication Honors M. P. Jeter, Sr.

At a recent open house meeting of the Montevallo P. T. A. held in the auditorium of the Elementary School building a dedication service honoring the memory of the late Murice Presley Jeter Sr., was held. The Rev. Edward Glover gave the Devotional, Mrs. Glover sang, "The Builders" and Mrs. Charlotte W. Peterson, assistant Principal of the Laboratory School, delivered an interesting, informative but informal talk. From her speech we quote: "A very great privilege and pleasure is mine for it gives me the opportunity to reminisce. I came to Alabama College, a lonely little Georgia Cracker. The years passed and soon I reached my senior year and that meant I was to do my practice teaching and oh! what a thrill a beautiful new building (the one we are now in) furnished with fine new furniture. The next year I came to the school as a regular teacher and it was at this time I came to know Mr. Jeter as a board member. He was the moving force in the planning and erection of this new building which was then more than adequate for the small number of Montevallo children to be housed there. A little later a wave of consolidation swept over our state and again Mr. Jeter with other members of the board aquired an additional building from Alabama College Campus. During Dr. Harman's administration this temporary building was destroyed by fire and again Mr. Jeter with the aid of other board members made arrangements for the construction of the Alice Boyd Building. He was interested in progress and particularly when this was progress for our school. After the Alice Boyd Building our Elementary building became the "old building" and thus it has been called over a period of years.

Upon his many short visits to the old building I can still hear Mr. Jeter say, "Charlotte, it is still a good building" and so it is, and it deserves a real name, a name worthy of the good living that has gone on in a fine old building. From henceforth, as long as brick shall remain upon brick is shall bear the name of the one who gave it being, the Murice Prestley Jeter Building.

And now an orchid to you, Mrs. Jeter, for we know that it was you who always gave inspiration and encouragement to your fine husband, and because you loved Montevallo's children enough to give of your time and energy to serve as our very first P. T. A. president."

State's Cancer Cases Increase in September

Reporting of cancer in Alabama increased from 372 cases in August to 396 in September, the State Health Department said today. Only six counties did not contribute to the September total. They were Cleburne, Conecuh, Coosa, Dale, DeKalb and Lawrence.

County Dry Forces Plan Campaign

Workers from nearly every beat in the county gathered at the court house Sunday afternoon to make definite plans for their work in the coming weeks of the campaign to prevent the legalization of the liquor traffic in Shelby county.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Dr. T. H. Napier of Montevallo. A brief talk on "Why We Must Win December 11th" was given by Circuit Solicitor Conrad M. Fowler. Mr. Fowler said: "The liquor traffic never builds; it is destructive. It costs more than it brings in".

Superintendent W. W. Elliott's talk was on "How To Win". He outlined plans for the campaign that had been prepared by himself and Co-Chairman J. T. McDow.

No detail of plans for a campaign that they hope will bring success on election day, was overlooked. Suggestions were given to the workers for organizing their respective beats and material with which to work was distributed.

It was suggested that a Free Will Offering for the expense of the campaign be taken in every church in the county next Sunday, December 2, or at any other time that is convenient.

Following Mr. Elliott's talk there was a brief discussion of the plans submitted and many suggestions of things that might be done to help toward a sweeping victory. Intense interest in the outcome of the campaign was manifest.

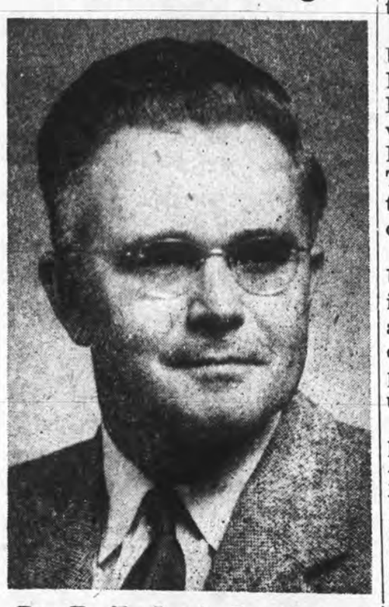

The meeting was closed with a fervent prayer by B. B. Curry of Wilton.

A county-wide meeting of all who are interested in the outcome of the December 11th election is called to be held at the high school in Columbiana on Sunday afternoon, December 9, two days before the election.

W. W. Elliott, Superintendent of Schools, will be the principal speaker.

All those who wish to contribute to the expense of the campaign to prevent legalization of the liquor traffic in Shelby county, as individuals or as groups, are requested to mail their contributions to Ross B. Mullins, Treasurer, Columbiana. Checks should be made payable to The Shelby County Temperance Alliance, Inc.

To Attend Meeting

Dr. F. E. Lund, President of Alabama College at Montevallo, will attend the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at Dallas, Texas, December 2-5. Dr. Lund is a member of the Association's Commission on Colleges.

John R. Gates Is Shelby County's Fourth Soil Conservation Supervisor

John L. Gates has become Shelby county's fourth supervisor in the 16 years since farmers of the county voted to organize with five neighboring counties into the North Central Soil Conservation District. On the resignation of F. E. Williams, Columbiana, after eight years of active and constructive service as district supervisor, Mr. Gates was nominated as a logical successor because of his intense interest in soil conservation, and the application to his 771 acre farm of a good conservation farm plan.

Mr. Williams, who was for a number of years a farmer himself, is now primarily a teacher in the S. C. H. S. at Columbiana, and felt he should step aside for someone who would be able to devote more time to furthering the district movement by example and by taking an active part in working with the "advisors" working with district.

Since taking actual control of farm operations on his farm just East of town on Highway 25, following the death of his father, John has done a great deal to halt erosion, conserve moisture, and plan his crops to fit the various soil classes. Though farming and business interests keep John very busy, he welcomes visitors interested in seeing conservation practices and crops on his farm. He does not miss an opportunity to try to make a convert to the district movement.

In the attendant photo Supervisor Gates is examining subsoiling renovation of his older pastures with B. F. Hatchett, Shelby county work unit conservationist for S. C. S. This practice is not universally effective, according to experimental results, but on such impacted soils as he has here, the new supervisor has found he gets splendid results.

Other predecessors in this position have been Pierce Garrett, Calera, and Solon McGraw, Vincent.

Associated with Mr. Gates in his district activities will be an advisory board consisting of:

Finance Advisor, J. I. Harrison; Program, Elvin Hill, and F. E. Williams; Educational, W. W. Elliott; Publicity, Luther Fowler; Legislative, Karl C. Harrison.

Baptists Planning Mobilization Night

The Shelby Baptist Association will meet for its annual Training Union Mobilization Night at the Calera and at the Liberty Baptist Churches on December 3 at 7:30 P. M., G. C. Moore, Jr., associational director, has announced.

Rev. Lucius P. Marion, First Baptist Church, Tuscaloosa, and Rev. W. Albert Smith, pastor, East Gadsden Baptist Church, will be the speakers at Calera and Liberty, respectively. The 1957 Training Union theme, "Serving the Lord Christ", will be subject of both speakers.

Goals of 25% of the Training Union enrolment have been set in the 31 cooperating churches for attendance upon Monday night's exercises. More than 2300 are reported enrolled in the training units of the churches.

The "M" Night meetings will launch the Baptist Training Union program for 1957. World missions will be the general emphasis of the year. One of the major activities to be promoted in the churches will be Alcohol Education Week, March 17-22, 1957. Other activities to be promoted are Youth Week and Associational Baptist Youth Night.

According to George Caldwell, state training union secretary, this is one of more than 1000 associations holding simultaneous "M" Night meetings in the Southern Baptist Convention.

Martin, chairman of the board.

Christmas Seal Sale Is Underway

The 1956 sale of Christmas Seals has begun. 4500 letters with Seals enclosed have been mailed by the Shelby County Tuberculosis Association. Already contributions have begun to pour in to the Association Treasurer, Roy Downs of Calera. The people of Shelby County contributed $2605.-25 to the fight against tuberculosis last year. The County Goal this year is $2650.00.

Because of the contagious and deadly nature of TB the program of the County Association is important to all people of Shelby County. Most of the money contributed remains in the county and is matched by County funds appropriated by the Board of Revenue and Control. The program is administered under the capable direction of Dr. E. F. Sloan.

In addition to providing treatment, drugs and x-ray to persons suffering from this disease the County Tuberculosis Association during 1956 conducted case finding services including a survey of 258 workers in food handling establishments and x-ray of 581 school workers.

Dr. Sloan, during the year, was elected to membership in the Alabama Trudeau Society. This was merited recognition of the outstanding work he has performed over the years in combating this dread disease. The voluntary contributions of the people of Shelby County in the purchase of Christmas Seals has made this work possible. The County Tuberculosis Association request that those who wish to have a part in the continuation of this great work send their contribution to Roy Downs, Association Treasurer, Calera.

Dogwood School Has Education Week Program

The Dogwood School spent a full week in observing American Education Week. Fifteen minutes was given every morning in each room for this purpose. The children had charge of the activities during this time. They did different things each morning such as singing patriotic songs making talks about citizenship, what it means to be a good American, the Improtance of school, Why I'd rather live in America, the responsibilities of pupils and many others.

Friday was open house. All the parents were invited and many were present.

Mrs. Johnson's first and second grade presented a program on Why I am Thankful.

Mrs. Jeter's third and fourth grade program was on Safety and Citizenship.

The fifth and sixth grade of Mrs. Underwood's room presented a play called "Miss Liberty."

The teachers feel that the children will be much better citizens and will have a better understanding and appreciation for their school as a results of these programs.

March of Dimes Leaders Attend State Meeting

"Let's finish the job" will be the slogan for the 1957 March of Dimes Campaign according to Dr. M. L. Orr, Shelby County Chairman for the drive, Dr. Katherine Vickery, Mother's March Chairman, and Mrs. L. L. Penn, Chairman for the Negro Division. These three representatives recently attended State and Regional Meetings held in Birmingham, Alabama and Tuskegee, Alabama. "Salk Vaccine has made it possible to eliminate paralytic polio, but there are millions of Americans yet unvaccinated. It is vitally important that the job be completed through a successful March of Dimes campaign beginning January 2," the delegates said.

These conferences, under the leadership of National Foundation leaders, gave a preview of the literature and other materials to be used in the January 1957 campaign. Leaders of various campaigns also exchanged ideas and techniques which have proved successful in their localities.

The three directors of the various phases of the drive expressed optimism about the outcome of the 1957 drive, and said the national goal of $46.9 million is needed to further the program that led to the discovery of Salk Vaccine which has been instrumental in reducing the incidence of polio throughout the country.

Many thousands of suffers stricken too early to be helped by the Salk Vaccine are now receiving care and attention under NFIP auspices. In addition, a gigantic research program is still underway.

Shelby County last year raised approximately $7,000 in the Polio Drive. Half this amount was kept in Shelby County and half went to National Headquarters. It is hoped that Shelby County will exceed during 1957 the contributions made in 1956.

Letter To The Editor

Brierfield, Ala.

Dear Editor and the people of Shelby County.

I see in your paper that they are going to vote on the whisky in Shelby County again. I sure hope that this well be defeated. I don't live in the county but I am very much interested in this moral issue. I hope that the mothers and the fathers of the county will look over their children and just ask themselfs if a vote for whisky would vote for one of their children to be a drunk or leave them to be killed in auto wrecks. We have enough of this stuff with out voting it in. Will close hoping it will be defeated.—L. C. Sims.

. . . and a potential taxpayer died, too!

HERE'S SOMETHING for every community to keep in mind when those new multi-billion dollar superhighways are in the planning stage –

Land next to a railroad is often ideally suited for industrial use. Put industries on it and you create new job opportunities and new sources of tax revenue for your community. Everybody benefits!

Under these conditions, this land is a valuable community asset. However, through oversight, this asset can be "killed off" completely and forever by putting a new highway too close to the railroad. For most industry must have easy, economical access to rail service and this is impossible with a highway in between.

The time to protect and preserve this community asset is when the highway is being planned. And it is easy to do. Wherever possible, simply leave an adequate strip of land for industrialization between the existing railroad and the proposed highway. This property immediately becomes doubly attractive to industry – for it then can offer modern rail service on one side and access to a modern highway on the other. You and your community will benefit.

TWO GIRLS, A CHEVY AND A RECORD!

A meaningful achievement in automobile performance

Most automobile performance records are pretty difficult to relate to the kind of day-in, day-out driving most of us do. Running at safe and legal speeds, a '57 Chevrolet recently chalked up an important new coast-to-coast record on the road. And the way it set this record is even more important than the record itself!

A new '57 Chevrolet recently proved it has the qualities most people look for in a car—and proved it on the roads you travel. It set a new record of less than 57 hours for the run from New York to Los Angeles (certified by NASCAR). It was a strictly stock, V8-powered Chevy. It was driven by two young ladies.

When you consider that all the driving was done by 98-pound Betty Skelton and her friend Caroline Russ, the true significance of this record run becomes apparent. It's a tribute to Chevrolet's great-hearted V8 engine and solid road-worthiness that it could travel day and night for 2,913 miles at safe and legal speeds—and better the existing record for the trip by more than three hours. And when a pair of young ladies step into a car and drive it round the clock to a new transcontinental record, you know that car is easy to drive. Come try a Chevy.

The Civitan Club met Monday night Nov. 26th at Pearl's Cafe for the regular meeting with 17 members and 1 visitor present. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Hope, and a good meal followed and was enjoyed by every one. Francis Blake was welcomed as a new member.

Mr. Ledbetter, who has recently moved to Calera, was introduced by Willie Crawford, as a visitor and prospective member. J. C. Rowe gave a report on the fruit cake sale. President of the club, Arthur Davis, is leading all sales. Fruit Cakes from 1 to 5 dollars are being sold by all civitan members, with the profits to go to charity.

The club voted to pay registration fee for members who wish to attend the District Convention at Pensacola, Fla. Dec. 8th.

President Arthur Davis and J. C. Rowe plan to attend. The club discussed and voted to sponsor jointly with Lions Club, Doctor and Dental Clinic at Calera, which will be a good thing and needed in Calera.

The club is cooperating with the National Safety Council in launching their year long campaign on. "Back the attack on Traffic accidents," which will be in December.

Fred Allen was given a Safety Magazine to read and study, to see what Calera Civitans can do to help reduce the traffic accidents record.

The club has a committee of good fellows working to see that the needy have a basket of fruit on Christmas.

It was announced that a radio station for Calera is now being held up by lack of a suitable site. Location must be 9 acres with other specifications to be met. We hope that the right location can be found.

The next meeting of the club will be Dec. 10. This will be the last meeting of the year, due to the 4th Monday being on Christmas Eve. With no further business the club adjourned with prayer by Fred Allen.

Mail Early for Christmas, Postmaster Urges

It's time to start those "Christmas mailings"! Postmaster Morris Watson of Montevallo warned today launching his 1956 "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign.

"On the calendar it's weeks away but here in the post office it's Christmas today—and every day until Dec. 25," he said.

The post office has already dispatched a large quantity of gift pachages headed for members of the armed forces overseas. Christmas cards for service personnel can still be delivered in time if they are sent by air mail before Dec. 1. All over the U. S. smart people are now mailing gifts to friends and relatives living in other states.

Postmaster Watson especially calls on housewives to help in his effort to deliver every package before Dec. 25. "The lady of the house," he emphasized, "is really in charge of each family's Christmas mailing program. She selects the gifts and sees to it that the mailing list of friends and loved ones is up-do-date.

"Actually, success in having all Christmas gifts and greeting cards delivered on time is largely a matter of advance planning and preparation which should be done now," Postmaster Watson pointed out.

Her urges that you take the following steps at once: Get out your Christmas card list and carefully check through it. Make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state. Then stop at the post office, stock up on stamps (use three-cent stamps on your Christmas cards for first class mail service), and ask any questions you may have about mailing regulations.

Chamber of Commerce Dinner Honors Kirkland

Seventy-five business and professional men of Montevallo attended the annual dinner meeting of the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce at the Legion Hall Tuesday night.

Guest of honor at the meeting was Dr. Lewis E. Kirkland who has recently come to Montevallo to practice medicine in the offices formerly used by Dr. L. C. Parnell.

Dr. Kirkland was extended a most cordial welcome by the group.

A good turkey dinner was served by the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary, for which everyone expressed appreciation.

Porter Ingram, of Camp Polk, La. spent Thanksgiving with his mother and family, Mrs. Bert Ingram.

It's hard to keep your pride from showing!

Yes, when you own a '57 Ford, expect to be envied... for you own the first low-priced car to go so long, low, large and powerful

When your new Ford is parked out front it has a way of gathering the gazes. And when folks ask questions, that's your cue to launch the sweetest story ever told.

You'll tell them how the new Ford was built from the inside out. You'll mention Ford's new wider frame which sweeps out between the new 14-inch wheels.

When you start talking about your new Ford's body, your pride in your beautiful "living room on wheels" will really take over!

When it comes to power, you'll mention that there's a choice of a variety of new SilverAnniversary V-8 engines* or the new Mileage Maker Six.

And you'll find that whether your Ford is "taking" the hills or just sitting pretty in your driveway —it's the sheer fun of owning it that puts those lights in your eyes!

*Including a special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine delivering up to 285 hp.

Ten Reasons for Voting "No" in This County On December 11th

1. For the sake of ALCOHOLICS who need your help to free themselves from a harmful habit. This is to love your neighbor.

2. For the sake of our YOUTH and CHILDREN. God requires every good citizen to protect them from evil temptations.

3. For the sake of our HOMES. We already have too many BROKENHEARTED mothers, wives, fathers, brothers and sisters.

4. For the sake of our SCHOOLS and CHURCHES. Why tear down all the good work they have done through the centuries?

5. For your OWN SAFETY. If you vote for liquor, do not complain if some drunken fellow kills you or your loved ones.

6. FOR YOUR OWN JOB and BUSINESS success. Every dollar spent for intoxicating drink should be spent for education, clothes, groceries, or other necessities and conveniences of life. The brewers should not get our money that we want to go to our friends who are in respectable business.

7. THE TRUE PATRIOT will vote for the BEST INTERESTS of all the people. "The traitor to humanity is the traitor most accursed."

8. To vote for liquor is a vote for honky-tonks, increased crime, broken homes, and broken lives. "Better rot beneath the sod than be doubly false to man and God."

9. Legalized liquor stores increase drinking and bootlegging, car wrecks, human wrecks, and damnation. We do not want to help increase bootlegging. It has been proven that bootlegging increases where liquor is legalized.

10. The sale of alcoholic beverages contributes nothing toward making our county a better place in which to live and work.

Rules Given For Safe Christmas Mailing

Pointing up the need for your cooperation on his 1956 "Mail Early for Christmas" Campaign, Postmaster Warren G. Findley says if you will follow these three simple rules, all of your gifts can be delivered before Christmas Day: Wrap them securely, Address them correctly, and Mail them early. Amplifying these rules, the Postmaster said, "Avoid the risk of mailing poorly wrapped packages. Use corrugated mailing cartons, plenty of heavy brown wrapping paper, and be sure that every package is tied with strong cord. Cartons containing several gift packages should be stuffed with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the shocks." He also reminds us that size and weight limitations for Parcel Post packages vary according to place of mailing and destination.

Speaking about correct addressing of Christmas gifts and cards, the Postmaster said: "Be sure your Christmas mailing list is up to date and that you have the complete name, address, zone number, city and state for everyone on your list. Send all your Christmas cards by First-class mail, because they will be processed and delivered quicker, and they'll be forwarded, or returned, if it becomes necessary." Only Christmas cards sent First-Class mail may carry written messages, a custom everyone enjoys. Moreover, Christmas card envelopes smaller thant 2-¾" by 4" or larger than 9" by 12" require hand cancellation, and thus. must carry First-Class postage.

The Postmaster urges everyone to secure free labels at the Post Office marked "All For Local Delivery" and "All for Out of Town Delivery". Then, sort your Christmas cards accordingly, tie them in two separate bundles with each address facing the same way, and attach the correct label to each bundle.

Construction Starts On Golf Course

Construction of a nine-hole golf course for the Montevallo area was begun this week at Alabama College.

The course, being constructed jointly by Alabama College and the Alabama College Golf Club, is a cooperative venture between the college and the community.

More than sixty memberships in the golf club have been obtained from golfers in Alabaster, Calera, Columbiana, Montevallo and Siluria. Maintenance and operation of the course will be performed on a cooperative basis between Alabama College and a Board of Governors representing the Golf Club.

A temporary Board of Governors has been elected to handle organizational details. The Board is composed of a representative from each of the five towns and Alabama College. They are: Stanley Lacey, Alabaster; Roy Downs, Calera; Howard Hall, Columbiana; Ed Bennett, Montevallo; Paul Posey, Siluria; and Charles Gormley, Alabama College.

Officers, also elected on a temporary basis, are: Lee Barclay, Alabama College, treasurer; Eddie Downs, Calera, secretary; Fred Phillips, Siluria, vice-president; and Ralph Sears, Alabama College, president.

The officers and the board of governors will serve during the construction period of the golf course. When construction is completed and the course is playable, a permanent Board of Governors and set of officers will be elected. The course will be ready for play in the spring or early summer of 1957.

Located on college property, the golf course is adjacent to the college's 28-acre recreational lake. The course itself occupies approximately 80 acres of gently rolling, wooded land. According to A. G. Beck, construction engineer from Birmingham, "The course will be one of the finest and most scenic nine-hole courses in Alabama."

Memberships in the golf club are still available. Inquiries should be addressed to the Public Relations office, Alabama College, Montevallo, Alabama.

College Theatre To Give "No Exit"

Jean Paul Sartre's "No Exit," will highlight the Alabama College Theatre Group's pre-holiday dramatic presentation to be held in Palmer Hall Auditorium December 7 beginning at 8 p.m.

The group will also present Kenneth Goodman's classic comedy. "A Man Can Only Do His Best."

Sartre's "No Exit" was first produced in this country in the mid forties. A long one act comedy melodrama with deep philosophical overtones, it was received with critical raves. Since its New York debut it has been performed by many Little Theatre and college dramatic groups in the United States.

"No Exit" is the story of four people who are unaware that they are in Hell until the continual memory of their sordid pasts dominate their present thoughts. They are unable to escape the increasing boredom of their eternal existence in the presence of each other.

The cast includes George Morris, Selma; Barbara Benton, Bradenton, Fla.; David Huntley, Montevallo; and Sarah DeWeese, Eldridge.

"A Man Can Only Do His Best," is a broad comedy depicting the minor faults of mankind. The cast includes Patricia Weigel, Pensacola, Fla.; Birdie Bell, Bessemer; Bonnie Strickland, Birmingham; Sue Thomas, Slocomb; Marguerite Lane, Fairhope; Barbara Baker, Alabama City; Betty Milam, Sylacauga; and Barbara Yarbrough, Lanett.

Both plays are under the direction of Dr. Walter Trumbauer, professor of dramatic literature and director of the College Theatre.

The public is invited to attend this production and no admission will be charged.

Why Buy Christmas Seals?

By Dr. E. F. Sloan

In the decade 1930 to 1940, 250 Shelby County citizens died of Tuberculosis, an average of 25 deaths each year. During the past year there has been one death from Tuberculosis—this in a patient who would neither take treatment at home nor go to the Sanatorium. Great progress has been made in the treatment of Tuberculosis but the actual control of the disease is still a major problem.

In one recent X-Ray Clinic two active cases, both moderately advanced, were found and just this week our Public Health Nurse, purely by chance, saw a man with suggestive symptoms and sent him to the County Clinic for x-ray. He was found to have Miliary Tuberculosis and is acutely ill. This man had been confined to his bed for 5 weeks and still had not consulted a doctor.

Three chest x-ray surveys on special groups have been done this year. In one group 1 active Tuberculosis case was found; in another 2 active cases and 1 suspicious early minimal infection were found; the complete results of the third survey of 581 individuals are not yet available.

Shelby County is the only County in State which furnishes both diagnostic facilities and furnishes drugs and supplies for active cases found. The active case can decide for himself whether he wishes to go to the Sanatorium or be treated at home. Often it is necessary to treat the patient at home for some weeks or months while waiting for a bed to become available at the Sanatorium.

The State Health Department demonstrated their interest in the work being done in Shelby County by asking the Medical Director of your County Tuberculosis Association to present a paper on Shelby County's Tuberculosis program at the annual meeting of Alabama's 600 Public Health Workers. The State Health Department also recognizes the Medical Director, who is a member of the American Trudeau Society, as an accredited film interpreter.

There are yet many cases of undiscovered active Tuberculosis and one of our problems of the near future will be to routinely skin test all children under 12 years and provide treatment for the several hundred who are positive, in order to prevent the future development of active Tuberculosis.

All this work would be impossible without your support of the County Tuberculosis Association by the purchase of Christmas Seals.

Nearly all the money derived from Christmas Seal Sales is kept in Shelby County for the benefit of our citizens and each dollar spent in the County Tuberculosis Clinic is matched by the County Board of Revenue and Control.

The control and treatment of Tuberculosis is of vital importance to every citizen and your support of the Christmas Seal Sale and the County Tuberculosis Association is of vital importance.

The following information was submitted as paid advertising to Mr. Luther Fowler, publisher and editor of The Shelby County Reporter, and Chairman of the Shelby County Temperance Alliance., Inc., and he refused to print it in The Shelby County Reporter.

Stop and Think Before You Vote Tuesday

1. Remember The Issue

It is not "Wet" and "Dry" as the Shelby County Temperance Alliance would have you believe. You must choose between a system of legal sales under state law or a continuation of our present system of "Bootlegging" which has made "Shelby County Corn" famous all over Alabama.

2. Why are most County Officials backing the Prohibitionists?

The answer is the "Fee System" . . . and approximately half of the VPL (Violating Prohibition Law) cases are thrown out after payment of court costs and fees . . . Wouldn't you back the Prohibition law if you depended on fees for an income?

3. What are you doing to uphold Shelby County's Prohibition Law?

When a friend offers you a drink do you demand his arrest (as required by law)? When a friend transports alcoholic beverages from Birmingham for his own use do you demand his car be confiscated (as required by law)? RIDICULOUS! Of course it is . . . The entire law is.

4. Why have over half of Alabama's people repealed this law?

Because it was unworkable and voters in 21 prosperous and leading counties in our state have marked it off as a bad "experiment" that was doomed from the start.

5. Will your children suffer?

Remember, the State Store asks "Are you 21?" The bootlegger asks, "Do you have the money?" Also, why did our politicians stump for the passage of the Goodwyn Amendment which would have meant more tax money for schools, but still deny our schools additional ABC money by keeping our county legally "dry" while the bootlegger makes the profit?

6. How much have your children and you already benefitted from legal alcohol?

Since 1938 Shelby County and its cities have received $463,112.18 (check reports of ABC Board). From 1938 through 1956 Shelby County received $199,340.01; from 1940 through 1956 our cities received $158,621.62; and from 1946 through 1956 Shelby County received $105,150.55 from the state beer tax.

7. Your city has the right of refusal

Your officials can refuse to issue licenses if they so desire and the ABC Board will go along with their wishes.

8. Will county businesses suffer?

How much are we suffering now? How much Shelby County money is going into Birmingham now? When you go to Birmingham for beer and whiskey now don't you shop in the department stores, the shoe stores, the gas station and the cafe before coming home?

9. Remember . . . You must decide

Can we eliminate some of our bootlegging? Can we help our schools get more revenue? Can we help our old folks get more money?

YES . . . BY VOTING "YES"

Suggestions Given For Christmas Mail

Postmaster Watson said today he was glad to see that so many people are getting their Christmas gifts for distant points into the mail this week, pointing out that packages addressed to folks living in other states should be mailed before Dec. 5 and those for nearby points before Dec. 10.

Stressing the need for everyone to cooperate on the 1956 "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign, Postmaster Watson says that by following these three simple rules, you're certain to have your gifts delivered before Christmas day: Wrap them securely. address them correctly, and mail them early.

Early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts is a big factor in getting everything delivered before Christmas. Keep in mind that careful packing and correct addressing is equally important. Every year many poorly wrapped packages break open despite careful handling and postal clerks often have to puzzle over addresses which are incomplete or simply cannot be read at all.

It is always better to use corrugated cartons for shipping gifts, especially where there are a number of various sized objects. Use plenty of wadded tissue or newspaper in the cartons for extra protection against shock. Complete each package by wrapping in heavy paper and tying it with strong cord.

As extra precaution against loss, Postmaster Watson advises placing both your address and the recipient's inside the carton or package before it is wrapped.

If you use Christmas stickers or seals put them on the back of your Christmas cards and packages so that they will not conflict with the address on the front.

When your Christmas cards are ready to mail, you will do both yourself and the post office clerks a real favor by putting the cards with local addresses in one bundle and those for out-of-town destinations in another. Then mark each bundle with special identification labels you can get free at the post office which read "All for Local Delivery" and "All for Out-of Town Delivery."

FRESHMAN IS BARBER, PART-TIME FARMER

Horatio Alger had nothing on 18 year old Joe Mooney. The Alabama College freshman is a barber, student, and part time farmer.

Over in his hometown Columbiana, Joe has his own barber shop. He and his 17 year old wife who is a senior in high school live on a farm.

Every day Joe commutes to Montevallo where he is majoring in business adminstration at Alabama College. When his morning classes are over he hurries back to Columbiana and opens up his one seat barber shop and spends the rest of the afternoon clipping hair and shaving customers.

"I guess you could call me a weekend farmer," Joe said. "My time is so scarce that farm work comes last."

In high school Joe won many awards in the 4-H Club. He was one of the state champions last year and as a reward received a expense paid trip to Chicago.

Joe draws the customers to his shop by the scores. He says that as soon as he opens up in the afternoon people start coming. He has an unusual sign printed on the outside of his shop which says "I Need Your Head im My Business." He believes this may be the one reason why customers come in . . . curiosity. But many of Joe's customers say that his haircuts and shaves are as good as any barber around.

When Joe was in high school he met his wife to be, Myrtlene who was a junior at the time.

Myrtlene will graduate this year but Joe has three more to go before he finishes college.

"That barber shop is certainly going to come in handy to help pay my school expenses," he said. "In these days you should have more than one talent to get ahead."

Heart Clinic for County Health Center

By Dr. E. F. Sloan
County Health Officer

Heart Diseases are the cause of death of more than 8,000 people in Alabama every year. This is almost equal to the combined number of the 9 other leading causes of death.

If the heart disease is found reasonably early, and the patient abides by the advice of his doctor, it need not necessarily materially shorten the life of the individual.

Many heart conditions can be diagnosed by the ordinary means of a history of the patient's past and present complaints and a physical examination. In others the information derived from an x-ray, a fluoroscopic and an electrocardiographic examinationn aid greatly in evaluating the heart condition and in advising the patient.

The County Chest Clinic sees many x-ray films in which the heart appears abnormal in contour or size. Since the Clinic is now equipped with an Electrocardiograph as well as a fluoroscope it was decided by the County Medical Society at its recent meeting to include a Cardiac Clinic in the chest work already being done.

When a suspected heart disease is found on an x-ray film it will be reported to the attending physician. If the physician believes that the other examinations available in the Cardiac Clinic are needed to properly diagnose or evaluate the case, he can send the patient back to the Cardiac Clinic. The results of the examination will be reported to the physician and, it is believed that with the physicians' advice, and active treatment if indicated, the life span of these heart cases can be greatly prolonged. Also any doctor in the County can refer a known or suspected heart case to the Cardiac Clinic at any time except Wednesdays.

We believe the Cardiac Clinic, sponsored by the County Medical Society, is a great forward step and will aid materially in lowering the terrific mortality rate from Heart Disease.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, we believe that legalized liquor has no place in a Christian society and that drunkenness, drinking, poverty, insanity, crime and debauchery are largely results of consumption of intoxicated liquors, and

Whereas, we believe that alcohol is a deadly poisonous, habit forming drug which dethrones the reason, brutalizes the emotions, enslaves the will and works with disastrous effects upon the vital organs of the human body and that the only course of temperance is total abstinence, and

Whereas, we believe that the liquor traffic has no ligitimate place in a civilized society and that the only consistent or effective way to deal with it is to make it an outlaw and destroy it.

Therefore, be it resolved, that the Shelby County Baptist Pastor's Conference in session this date December 3, 1956 go on record as opposing legalization of alcoholic beverages in Shelby County and that we call upon our church members to go to the polls and vote "NO", Election Day, December 11, 1956.

Extra Care Urged For Christmas Mail

Postmaster Warren G. Findley said today that while the Post Office still has a tremendous job ahead of it, efforts are being redoubled to deliver all mail on time and in good condition by Christmas Eve. He points out that by taking a little extra care with your Christmas mailings now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones at Christmas time.

He asks for your special cooperation to be sure that your return address and the recipients address is plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards. Use zone numbers, and it's a good idea to include an extra label inside your packages. Parcel Post size and weight limitations vary according to destination. Ask about them when you go to the Post Office to buy stamps.

Speaking about stamps, the Postmaster said, "Use three cents postage on all your Christmas cards. This way they will be delivered promptly, and forwarded or returned, if necessary, providing you include your name and address on your Christmas card envelopes." First-Class postage on your Christmas cards enables you to include handwritten messages, thus making your Christmas greetings more personal. By including your name and address on each Christmas card envelope, both you and your friends can keep your mailing lists up-to-date.

The Postmaster urges that you mail all of your out-of-town Christmas cards and packages immediately, and certainly not later than December 10th. Christmas mail for local addresses should be started on its way at least a week before Christmas.

You can do both yourself and the Post Office a real favor by securing free labels at the Post Office which read "ALL FOR OUT OF TOWN DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY." Place these labels on bundles of cards for local addresses and on those for out-of-town destinations.

Try to mail your out-of-town Christmas cards several days in advance of those for local delivery, and those for nearby points should all be mailed by at least a week before Christmas.

The cooperation of all business firms in postponing the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after December 25th is requested.

The Postmaster expressed his thanks for the excellent response to his "Mail Early" appeals to date, but warns, that only by stepping up all mailing of Christmas packages and cards immediately, can the record mail load be processed and delivered on time.

Montevallo and Siluria FFA Boys Visit A. L. Little Cattle Farm

The vocational agriculture class of Montevallo High School and the Siluria F. F. A. boys had a joint meeting on the farm of A. L. Little of Montevallo Rt. 1. Mr. Little showed the boys how he had gone about building up his fine herd of Angus cattle during the last 15 years. He pointed out that it required much time, study, patience, and financing to become successful and stay in the beef business as a paying enterprise. Mr. Little also gave each of the groups $25 toward the purchase of an Angus bull for each of the chapters to use in their livestock breeding programs. F. F. A. boys were under the supervision of Charls A. Knowles of Siluria and M. Thornton of Montevallo. Mr. Little is justly proud of both his Canadian and Sunbeam breeding lines.

His main business now is producing hatchery eggs for which he finds a ready market with Dixie Hatchery in Birmingham. Recently Bobby constructed a new, up-to-date metal building 30 by 90 ft. which seems to really meet the need of the poultryman. W. L. Walsh, Executive Secretary Alabama Poultry Association of Montgomery, was a visitor with Bobby this week and all his comments were certainly favorable regarding what Bobby is already doing along the line of poultry farming.

Board of Health Adopts Milk Rules

The Shelby County Board of Health met in Columbiana on December 3 and, among other things, adopted for Shelby County the Regulations Governing the Production, Handling, Distribution and Sale of Milk and Certain Milk Products, as promulgated by the State Health Department.

These Regulations will become effective January 1, 1957 and after that date it shall be illegal to serve any milk, other than Grade A Pasteurized milk, in any school lunch room, soda fount, cafe or other establishment in Shelby County.

Many serious infectious diseases such as Septic Sore Throat, Scarlet Fever, Typhoid and Paratyphoid Fever, Enteritis, Undulant Fever, and others can be transmitted by raw milk.

Calera Goodfellows Are Accepting Contributions

The Goodfellows Committee for the city of Calera wishes to announce that contributions are being accepted for this worthy cause. There are a number of people working on this committee this year. The Lions Club. Civitan Club, American Legion, Unique Study Club, the Churches, and other organizations are all cooperating to make this a merry Christmas for a number of children in our area who would not otherwise have any Santa Claus. The Shelby County Welfare Department will furnish a list of needy children in the Calera area. However if anyone reading this article knows of a family with children that is in need of help you are urged to notify, Eddie Downs, at the Central State Bank and the names of these children will be added to the welfare list.

This is a serious problem, and we are asking you to cooperate. If you have toys around your house that are not being used we ask you to give these toys to the Goodfellows, because we know that after having given something to a needy child at Christmas time you will enjoy your Christmas dinner more. Cash contributions can be made at the bank. If you wish any more information about the Goodfellows, contact any member of the above listed organizations.

All Should Be Satisfied

The result of the liquor referendum Tuesday should be satisfactory to all of our citizens. The "drys" have again made sure that there will be no liquor stores in Shelby County. The "wets" can go "across the river" and get "legal-illegal" liquor and beer, or they can get old bust-head from the moonshiners. And we are still right where we were with the evils of liquor unmitigated.

Even when sitting still, a person generates enough heat—100 watts—to bring a quart of water to a boil in one hour. This "boiling point" time would be shortened to 15 minutes by heat generated by a running person, say Westinghouse heating experts.

ers has been active in recent months serving as an arbitrator in labor-management disputes in the Birmingham area.

Prior to joining the Alabama College faculty Dr. Powers served as Regional Economist for the Office of Price Stabilization for the states of Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, and the District of Columbia with offices in Richmond, Virginia.

He also served as co-ordinator consultant to the governor's Advisory Council on the state of Virginia's economy in 1950-51.

While a member of the faculty at Wake Forest College, Dr. Powers was instrumental in the organization of the College's School of Business Administration. He also served on the faculty of Clemson College, Clemson. South Carolina.

Dr. Powers holds three degrees from the University of Virginia, Charlottesville and has been awarded a DuPont Scholarship and a General Education Board Rockefeller Fellowship. He is a member of the American and Southern Economic Associations, the American Association of University Professors, and the Alabama Academy of Science. Siluria F. F. A. Studies Beef Production

A classroom study of the possibilities of beef production, and a joint field trip with neighboring Montevallo Chapter to the farm of A. L. Little, one of Shelby County's leading breeders of Angus cattle, seems to be leading twenty-five members of the Siluria Chapter Future Farmers of America into doing something about their own future in the beef production business.

Last week several members of this chapter, located at Thompson High School in Siluria, attended a very good field trip conducted by Mr. Little at his farm located near Montevallo. Mr. Little told of of his 15 years in the beef business on his Shelby County farm. He also explained his aims in developing a strain of Angus cattle to suit his needs. He showed the visiting F. F. A. boys cattle from two blood lines that he is breeding in an effort to combine the good characteristics of each line into a herd of animals to suit his needs.

As a result of this first hand information concerning beef cattle, some 35 members of the Siluria chapter began to consider the possibility of purchasing a purebred Angus bull to use in the improvement of cattle on their own farms. These boys formed a Siluria Chapter Angus Club and the club took as its first project the purchase of an outstanding purebred Angus bull.

Several of the club members plan to purchase purebred Angus heifers from Mr. Little and other Angus breeders. This could well be the starting point for some of tomorrow's leading Angus breeders.

Charles Knowles, chapter advisor, states that most club members favor showing the bull at the county and state fair so that members may gain experience in grooming and showmanship. The heifers will also show.

In addition to these Angus cattle, the Siluria Chapter now has on the farm of member Jack Lacy of Maylene, Alabama, a purebred Polled Hereford bull for use by members and farmers of the school community. This animal was donated by Sears Roebuck and Company through the Alabama Association of Future Farmers of America and is being used to fulfill a chapter goal of improving livestock in the area.

Forest Industries Provide Many Jobs

The forest industries of Alabama provide full-time jobs for 47,000 persons, according to the 1957 edition of Alabama Forest Facts, just released by the Alabama Forest Industries Committee.

The booklet shows that one out of every five industry-employed Alabama workers has a job in the forest industries. Wood-using industries rank second in the state in number of people employed and third in wages and salaries paid.

The industry facts book published in cooperation with American Forest Products Industries, Inc., the national Tree Farm sponsor, points out that these industries for the most part are supported by wood harvests from lands that have produced two, three or even four timber crops.

Nearly two thirds of Alabama today is clad in forests, virtually all of it of commercial quality, and—far from becoming depleted—this rich natural resource has increased 10 per cent in area during the past 19 years. The fact book says every county in the state has important forests, ranging from 25.3 per cent in Limestone County to 86.9 per cent of Washington County.

More than 95 per cent of this forest land is privately owned.

Alabama is the third-ranking state in the industry-operated Tree Farm program, both in number of certified Tree Farms and in acreage enrolled. There are currently 727 Tree Farms comprising 3,614,041 acres of well-managed timberland in the state enrolled in the program to grow timber as a crop.

The Tree Farm program is sponsored in Alabama by the Alabama Forest Industries Committee with cooperation from the Alabama Conservation Department's Division of Forestry.

A Message to High School Boys and Girls and Their Parents

Even when the first institution of higher learning was founded in Alabama more than a hundred years ago, there was recognition of the demand for people educated in some field of science or engineering. The need has grown year by year. It has mushroomed in the last 20 years. New inventions, new methods, new uses in this modern world call for more professionally trained men and women than ever before. The shortage of trained personnel that exists today is expected to continue for a number of years, because the advance of science will not slow, but rather will grow, in the fields of research, industry, agriculture, ground and air transportation, atomic energy, electric power, chemistry, industrial production, human comfort and health.

If you are a high school student, and if you have an interest in what makes things work, in how things grow, find mathematics and "puzzle" problems interesting, it might be worth your while to seriously consider specializing in some branch of engineering, science, or physics when you enter a college.

Many top-flight engineers and other graduates in scientific subjects have been graduated from the University of Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and other Southern colleges and universities. Many of them have found employment with Alabama Power Company and other electric power companies in the South, and now hold responsible positions. Others have found eager acceptance for their talents in various Southern industries, as well as elsewhere in the nation.

May we suggest that you talk to the student advisor of your school, particularly if you are a junior or senior. If you have a liking for the scientific and engineering field and apply yourself during your college years, there should be little doubt about your ability to get a job when you graduate. If your funds are limited, your student advisor, science teacher, or principal can tell you about the attractive scholarships available to promising students.

Chorale Presents Concert At Woodlawn High

The Alabama College Chorale under the direction of Dr. Arthur Fraser, head of the department of music, opened its pre-Christmas tour with a concert at Birmingham's Woodlawn Senior High School on December 7.

With the addition of new members this year, the Chorale group is the largest since it was first organized years ago. Currently, there are 34 members. Under Dr. Fraser's direction the group is rated as one of the top college chorales in the state.

For their Woodlawn High School concert the group sang Benjamin Britten's "Ceremony of Carols."

On December 18 the Chorale will present the annual Christmas concert at Palmer Hall auditorium on the Alabama College campus. The public is invited to attend this concert and no admission will be charged.

Christmas Mail Will Set Record

Checking the progress on the "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign, Postmaster Watson predicted today that the 1956 preholiday season will be a real record breaker as he noted the mounting flood of Christmas cards and gift packages.

The postmaster said that the mounting volume of Christmas mail makes it doubly important for everyone to help on the "Mail Early of Christmas" program. He warned that packages mailed to out-of-state points after this week may not be delivered in time for Christmas. He said that the flow of Christmas cards is running about normal but parcel post is definitely behind schedule and suggested that all out-of-state parcels still to be mailed should be sent by air parcel post, and pointed out that Christmas cards addressed to the most distant points should also be air mailed.

Postmaster Watson reminds everyone again that all gifts should be wrapped securely with plenty of heavy paper and tied with strong cord. Write legibly or better yet, print the recipient's full name, street address, city and state on all mailing labels and Christmas card envelopes.

Christmas seals and "Do not open until Christmas" stickers may be used but always place them on the back of your gift parcels or Christmas cards, leaving the address side easy to read.

Please take your parcels to the post office between 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. to avoid the rush.

The exciting Ford Fairlane 500 Club Victoria (above)—over 17 feet long—is one of two new, bigger Ford sizes this year.

If you think it looks new...
wait till you drive it!

...For there's where Ford's newness really pays off
...in melting mountains...in smoothing the bumps
...in straightening the curves

You can see that Ford's longer, lower Sculptured Look makes other cars look downright old-fashioned. But the part you can't see—the new "Inner Ford"—is what shows its stuff when you drive a Ford. It's revolutionary from the wheels up! And it feels it.

Ford's wider frame lets you sit sweet and low. And Ford's new front suspension, rear springs and new easy handling are part of the scheme to make you think every road is cloud-smooth.

The magic touch of the new Ford power plants makes mountains disappear. What looks like uphill feels like downhill. You get this surging power in a wide choice of Silver Anniversary V-8 engines. Or choose Ford's Mileage Maker Six, the most powerful Six in the low-price field.

There's magic in Ford's price tag, too! You won't believe this big new Ford is still priced Ford-low. But it is. Come in and test its magic. It's a real "Wizard of Ah-h-h-h's!"

Fifty years without stopping

The antique clock Gus Kyfus is winding is over fifty years old. Yet it has been running for more than half a century, losing only a few hours in all those years. In a way, Gus Kyfus matches the clock's long-running record.

This year, Gus completed fifty years of service with American Brake Shoe Company. During this half century, he missed only a few hours due to illness. Today, he is still on the job, every hour, every day, as regular as clockwork.

In completing his fifty years with us, Gus joins the golden circle of 30 Brake Shoe employees with half a century of service. This remarkable record is rare in American industry, and we are justifiably proud of Gus and all our long-service employees. Of our 10,000 men and women in plants all over the United States, more than one-third have been with us 15 years or more. Over one thousand have 25 or more years of service.

In a world where most things are temporary, the loyal service of our veteran employees is indeed something to be proud of. We like to think that it is this loyal service of our many employees that has made Brake Shoe a good place to do business for over 54 years.

3,000 Alabamians Die of Cancer Each Year

More than 3,000 persons are dying of cancer each year in Alabama, according to a brochure just published by the American Cancer Society, Alabama Division, Inc.

The booklet, entitled "Alabama's Sword of Hope in the Fight Against Cancer," describes Alabama's part in the national fight to control this dread disease.

The American Cancer Society has spent mors than $1,000,000 on cancer research in Alabama alone since 1945, the brochure reports. Five ACS supported cancer research projects are now in progress in this state, including studies at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn; Medical College of Alabama, Birmingham; Southern Research Institute, Birmingham; Tumor Registry, Birmingham, and Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee.

In the United States, cancer kills one of every six persons who die. More school children are dying of cancer today than any other disease. Some 250,000 American citizens will die of cancer this year.

There are only three known ways of curing cancer: X-ray, radium and surgery.

Doctors, using their present knowledge, could save twice as many lives from cancer as are now being saved if the patients were examined and treated early enough by reputable physicians. Cancer deaths in industry and business mean productive and trained man power destroyed, costly turn over, and lowered efficiency.

In addition to its research program, the American Cancer Society carries on a continuous program of public information and service to medically indigent patients.

The booklet contains statements by Dr. John Day Peake of Mobile, president of the American Cancer Society's Alabama Division, Inc., and Dr. D. G. Gill of Montgomery, health officer of the State of Alabama. Mrs. Lillian G. Meade of Birmingham is executive director of the Alabama Division.

Copies of the pamphlet are available by writing American Cancer Society, Alabama Division, Inc., 503 United Security Life Building, Birmingham 8, Alabama.

Winged Performance and a Floating Ride make The Big M the road-hungriest car ever built BIGGEST SIZE INCREASE IN THE INDUSTRY—Mercury is now over 17½ feet long, more than 6½ feet wide. Wheelbase is a big 122 inches. Inside there are inches more headroom, leg room—as much shoulder room, for example, as in many of the most expensive cars.

Co-op

3-WAY POWER CHOICE

New 290-hp Turnpike Cruiser V-8—Wait till you feel its silk-and-dynamite performance! Optional on all Montclairs and Montereys.

New 255-hp Safety-Surge V-8 with Power-Booster Fan—A Mercury "first" in the Montclair Series. The engine fan coasts when not needed for cooling. You save horsepower other cars waste, enjoy a far quieter ride.

New 255-hp Safety-Surge V-8—Dream-car performance in the Monterey Series—Mercury's lowest priced line! Features another Mercury "first" which you get at no extra cost on all BIG M engines for '57—a Thermomatic Carburetor. It automatically controls the temperature of the air the engine breathes—helps keep it uniform summer and winter. Engine starting is easier, usable power and economy are increased.

YEAR'S MOST IMPORTANT RIDE IMPROVEMENTS

Exclusive Full-Cushion Shock Absorbers—One of Mercury's great Floating Ride features. The first shock absorbers in the industry to give such amazing bump-smothering control on rough roads without sacrificing a soft, satin-smooth ride on average roads.

New Swept-back Ball-Joint Front Suspension—Mercury introduces a new improved version of its famous suspension system. Because of the new swept-back design, the front wheels are now, in effect, pulled gently over bumps, rather than pushed into them.

New balanced weight distribution greatly reduces nose dipping on sudden stops and lurching on fast starts.

New road-hugging center of gravity—Everything is lower. Car height, passenger compartment, frame, and rear axle. You enjoy an amazing sense of "nailed-down" stability on curves.

You've got to feel Mercury's new Floating Ride to believe it. We invite you to do just that, today, at our showroom.

Postmaster Gives Thanks for Early Christmas Mailing

Postmaster Warren G. Findley of Calera expressed his thanks today for your cooperation so far on his annual "Mail Early For Christmas" Campaign. He said, "I know the time has passed to talk about mailing early." To the inevitable last minute mailers he suggests that you use Air Mail for every Christmas card or gift going out-of-town, and don't fail to get them into the mail right now! Even a few hours delay at this critical time may mean disappointment for friends or loved ones on Christmas Day.

The flood of outgoing Christmas cards and gifts is matched by a like torrent of incoming mail that is becoming greater every day. The Postmaster expects the Christmas mail load to hit its peak in the next few days, and that it undoubtedly will break last year's records.

To take care of the last minute rush, the Post Office will remain open from 8:00 A.M. until 5:30 P. M., including Saturday. Stepped up delivery service will be added to regular schedules. The Postmaster said there's still time for local deliveries, but all Christmas cards should be sent by First-Class mail, and be sure to include your return address on all Christmas card envelopes and package labels.

Christmas Spirit Comes To College With Splash

The Christmas spirit hit Alabama College with a splash Wednesday and Thursday nights when the synchronized swimming classes presented their annual Christmas show at the campus swimming pool. The theme of the program was an aquatic version of ' 'Twas The Night Before Christmas" showing the adventures of little "Allie" in a world of dreamland.

Amid splashes and festive music were the dancing dolls, Indians, clowns and three shapely Santa's. The show was under the direction of Miss Catharine Carlson of the Physical Education Department.

Samira Khaki, Egyptian Student, Plans Return to Her Native Land

"The holiday is coming to an end," said Samira Khaki, 21 year old Alabama College senior. "In January I will return to my native country, Egypt. She will need me."

The tall black haired Egyptian beauty is an English major here. For the past four years she has been a campus leader . . . assistant editor of the college newspaper, a member of the debating team, yearbook beauty and a popular personality amongst the student body.

"The past month has been very hard to endure," Samira said. "Here I am 6,000 miles away from my family and country. I try to tell myself that the best thing I can do is study hard so that I can finish in January. But when my country is going through a crisis and the welfare of my family and friends is at stake, it takes will power to remain here in a peaceful land. Yet I try to convince myself that I'm doing right by completing my studies before going home."

Samira's father, Ahmad Khaki, is an influential member of the Egyptian government. He was recently made head of a commission to Egyptianize the education system there. Samira learned of this position through the newspapers when her father was quoted in a speech he made several days ago in Cairo.

Samira has three brothers and one young sister. Her brother, Moustfa. is a jet pilot with Egyptian army and an older brother, Wagdi, is an advisor to King Iben Saud of Arabia.

Before coming to America in 1952, Samira attended a private school in England. At that time her father was director of the education bureau with the Egyptian embassy in London.

"I hope Egypt hasn't changed too much," Samira reflected. "It seems a lifetime ago when I would sit listening at sunset to the Moazen making his call from a minerette. One of my favorite memories concerns the time when I was allowed to wander alone through the crowded bazaars of Cairo listening to a babel of voices advertising their ware. I also remember one time when I was a child I ran barefoot over the warm sands in the shadow of the pyramids."

"When I was ten my family moved to the small town of Mansura which is located on the Nile river. I used to spend hours sitting at a window in our home looking out over the Nile watching the river men skimming over the water in their twin sail feloukas singing river songs. One man would sing a passage and boatmen in passing crafts would join in and soon the entire river, within hearing distance, would echo with ancient river songs."

When the Egyptian crisis first broke out Samira said that she was in her dormitory room studying with the radio on. "I was struck cold when the news commentator announced the invasion of Egypt. For an entire week I was in a daze. The student body expressed their sympathy to me and that has helped keep my morale up."

Samira explained that when she returns to her hometown of Cairo she plans to enter the field of journalism. "I shall miss America," she said. "I have learned much over here and I will always have fond memories of the wonderful times I have had in college and of the friends I have made. I have come of age this past month and now I am ready to be of service to my country."

Campus Beauty Is Photographer

The pert senior is well in her second year as student photographer. What started out as a hobby in high school is paying off in college.

"It wasn't too long ago when a camera looked about as alien and hard to operate as a twin engine jet," Polly stated. "But now I feel undressed if my camera isn't hanging from my shoulder."

Since she first became interested in photography, Polly has explored every phase until she became adept with the various mechanisms. She said it wasn't long until she began to appreciate photography as an art.

"You have to be an artist of a kind to take good pictures," she explained. "Anybody can snap the shutter. But only the experienced can capture the mood of the subject, bring out the appropriate lighting and make sure that the background will blend with the object being photographed."

Polly is a senior at Alabama College. She is an art and education major. A native of Montgomery, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Lawrence. The 21 year old beauty who spends most of her time behind the camera would delight any photographer if she were placed in front of the lens.

Since the beginning of the first semester Polly has become a familiar figure strolling across the campus loaded down with her photographic paraphernalia. "I have to be constantly on the alert for good picture material," she said.

Montevallo Jaycees To Sponsor First Children's Christmas Shopping Tour

This year for the first time the Montevallo Jaycees will sponsor a Christmas shopping tour.

The shopping tour, a project sponsored by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce throughout the United States, is designed to help underprivileged children enjoy and learn to understand the true meaning of Christmas.

The tour will be financed through contributions donated by the general public.

The Montevallo Jaycees feel in sponsoring this project that a few of those less fortunate will be given an opportunity to enjoy the true meaning of Christmas, that of giving rather than receiving.

James Adkins, chairman of the Christmas Shopping Tour, has announced that twelve children will be selected to participate. Southern Bell Is One of County's Large Taxpayers

One of the large tax payment checks received by Shelby County in payment of 1956 Ad Valorem taxes was delivered to the Tax Collector today from the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The payment totaled $10,134.28 and was delivered by Southern Bell Manager, J. L. Switzer, to L. C. Abbott, Tax Collector.

Southern Bell is one of Shelby County's large taxpayers. Today's check is part of an estimated $3-500,000 tax bill to be paid by Southern Bell to the State of Alabama and to the counties and municipalities therein for the year 1956, exclusive of income, social security, and excise tax payments to the Federal Government.

Heart Disease Claims 684 Lives in September

Heart disease, Alabama's leading single cause of death claimed 684 lives during September.

The State Health Department said today that 426 of this number came from the white population, while the remaining 258 were Negro deaths.

A provisional report of the Department's bureau of vital statistics shows that 3 of the September deaths from heart disease occurred in Shelby county.

When final reports are available, the provisional figures may vary slightly, the Department said.

Christmas Mail Approaches Record

Postmaster Morris Watson expressed his appreciation today for the fine response from individuals and business firms to his "Mail Early for Christmas" plea. He went on to say that the period between now and Dec. 25 is bound to be the heaviest of the year for all postal employees.

The terrific stream of out-going Christmas cards and gifts is now near full flood with a like torrent of incoming mail becoming greater every day. In the next few days the postmaster expects the Christmas load to reach its peak and break last year's December record.

He said, "I know the time is past to talk about mailing early." For the last-minute mailers, he suggests they use air mail for every Christmas card going out of town and by all means to get them in the mail this week. Even one day's delay at this critical time may mean disapointment for a loved one on Christmas.

There is still time for local deliveries but all Christmas cards should be sent first-class mail to insure prompt delivery.

To take care of the last minute rush, which always begins when the incoming mail is greatest, the post office will remain open all day Saturday, Dec. 22.

Postmaster Watson said today: "Now that we are coming to the end of the big rush, I want to express my thanks for the fine cooperation from everyone. The 1956 Mail Early for Christmas campaign will be a rousing success if everyone will just keep up the good work. This year, on Christmas Eve; I'd like to see every mail bag empty and every post office employee relaxing at home."

Don't Put Rubbish in Streets

Clement Hyde and his crew of city workmen request that residents do not put leaves and trash in the streets.

Put your rubbish between the curb and sidewalk or at some other place accessible to the truck men—but not out in the street.

College Holidays Start Tomorrow

Students will be leaving for all parts of the country at noon Friday when Alabama College observes the Christmas holidays.

Classes will be resumed January 7, Dr. Richard Powers, Dean of the college stated. Festivities will come to a definite end when the first semester examinations begin on January 21.

Cultural events to be held on the campus during the month of January include Dr. and Mrs. Olin S. Pettingill, Naturalists who will give a lecture on January 15 under the sponsorship of the National Audubon Society. January 18 will see Players Inc. present Shakespeare's Henry IV, part one. Miss Jean Erdman, Creative Dancer, will perform at Palmer Hall Auditorium on January 29 beginning at 11 a.m.

The second semester will begin with registration day falling on January 28. Cultural events for February will be highlighted by College Night in which the entire student body at Alabama College will participate. This will last from February 21-23.

On March 5, Dr. Cleo Lawson, lecturer and psychologist, will lecture to the student body and the public is invited. On March 7 the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs Workshop will be held on the campus.

On March 8-9 the Alabama College drama festival will draw high school students from all over the state. The Alabama College Opera will be held March 14 beginning at 8 p.m.

The next vacation will be on March 29 when Alabama College dismisses for the annual spring holidays. Classes will be resumed April 7.

Montevallo Lions Club drawing for the 1,000 pound beef will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 22, at Lovelady Sales and Service Store. The winner may have his choice of the beef or $150 in cash. It is not necessary to be present for the drawing. The holder of the winning number will be notified and his name posted.

Dr. Trumbauer Develops One of The State's Leading Theatre Groups

For 28 years Alabama College's Dr. Walter H. Trumbauer, professor of dramatic literature and director of the college theatre has believed that "All The World's A Stage."

This slight energetic man who has built up the Alabama College theatre into one of the best in the state has directed every type of play here from early Greek drama to sophisticated drawing room farce.

Through the years Dr. Trumbauer has had some big productions. He and his students have produced plays which required large casts and many different sets.

"There is a fascination about the theatre," Dr. Trumbauer stated. "The weeks it takes to polish up a production sometimes reach a frenzy. Then the opening night approaches. Everybody is nervous and excited. When it is all over, preparations for a new production are underway. It is a wonderful, yet never ending cycle."

Many of Dr. Trumbauer's students have gone to some phases of professional theatre or radio. Others have received scholarships of unusual merit. One of his students received a Fullbright fellowship at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London.

"Since my arrival at Alabama College," Dr. Trumbauer reflected, "I have attempted to make the aim of the theatre here work for the personal development of as many individual students as possible, rather than vocational training for the few."

At a recent state wide speech conference held on the campus, Dr. Trumbauer was honored for the work he has done in college dramatics. His recognition was presented in a "This Is Your Life" manner highlighting his achievements over the years.

His most recent production, Jean Paul Sartre's "No Exit" drew a large audience. No sooner were the sets removed from the stage, than plans for a new play got underway.

"Now that Alabama College is coeducational," he said, "the Alabama College Theatre Group will grow even larger and continue in its reputation as being a leader among college dramatic groups in the state."

Calera Citizens Study Possibility Of Medical Clinic

Citizens of Calera held a mass meeting this week to talk over possibilities for building a medical clinic for their town.

They heard a group from Columbiana report on the Columbiana Clinic, built one year ago after it was planned and financed by people of the community. The clinic has served more than 10,000 patients since it opened, said J. I. Harrison.

Atty. Karl Harrison, also of Columbiana, explained legal problems in acquisition of a site and operation of a clinic.

Other speakers in the Columbiana groups were Mayor Wales W. Wallace. J. T. McDow and Homer Walton.

Dr. Robert Ford of Calera, spoke on the town's need for modern medical facilities.

A committee was named to investigate the town's clinic needs, to survey possible sites and to submit a report on costs. Its reports are to be heard at a meeting planned for early next year.

Centreville Tops Montevallo, 66-62

By Susie DeMent

A twenty-point performance by Cotton Holsomback and a terrific, aggressive game on the part of the entire Montevallo team was not good enough for a victory as the Bulldogs fell before the Centreville Choctaws here last Friday night 66-62. In this nip and tuck affair that saw leadership change hands five times in the first half, Centreville handed Coach Cratie Corbett's Bulldogs their fourth defeat of the season.

Leading by two points at halftime, 33-31, Montevallo came back cold in the third quarter. Before the Bulldogs could find the basket a single time in that period, they watched the Choctaws sink ten straight points to grab the lead for keeps. This scoring spree gave the Bibb Countians a 46-60 advantage at the end of the third quarter.

Struggling bravely the 'Dogs climbed to within one point of knotting the score in the last three minutes of play, but two quick field goals by Greathouse put the Choctaws out of reach for good.

Brackness with 16 points was leading scorer for the winners.

MRS. H. E. HALLMAN

Mrs. H. E. Hallman, wife of the Rev. Hallman, former pastor of Enon Baptist Church, died Tuesday, Dec. 18 at a Talladega hospital. Funeral services will be held at Munford Baptist Church at 11 a.m. Friday, with the Rev. N. L. Gilliland, and the Rev. Douglas Dexter officiating. Burial will be in Elmwood Cemetery at 2 p.m.

Surviving are her husband, the Rev. H. E. Hallman of Munford; 3 sons, and 1 daughter.

Miss Patsy Carden and Mr. Walter Ingram, were Saturday night dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Graves and family of Birmingham.

Rev. J. F. Goree Sr., spent Tuesday in Tuscaloosa, and Gene returned home with him for the Christmas holidays from the University of Alabama.

Westinghouse Contributes To The Development of Formosa Electricity

NEW YORK, DEC. 14—By 1959 Taiwan (Formosa) will have a complete high-efficiency 75,000-kilowatt steam-electric plant, largest generating unit on the island, William E. Knox, president of Westinghouse Electrical International Company, said here today. Total value of the plant is $12 million, of which about $4.5 million is for electrical apparatus.

Mr. Knox also revealed that the Ta Tung Engineering Company, Taipei, Taiwan's largest electrical manufacturing concern, has begun production of electrical motors, fans and other items under a Westinghouse technical assistance argreement. The agreement also calls for assistance to the company in training skilled workers and advanced technical personnel.

The announcements were made at an interview held jointly this afternoon at the Metropolitan Club with Dr. Hollington Tong, Ambassador to the United States from the Republic of China. Early this evening Dr. Tong was to confer on Mr. Knox his country's order of the Brilliant Star, highest civilian honor for a non-citizen.

Station will have 150,000 kilowatts

The new power plant will be located in the north at Shen Ao, near Keelung, the island's main port, and close to a coal supply. Ultimately a second unit of similar design will be installed at the station. The plant will be of reheat design, utilizing high temperature and high pressure to meet an advanced standard of efficiency, Mr. Knox explained.

The installation will help to improve Taiwan's balance between hydro-electric and thermal facilities, which now stand at about three to one, he continued. The dry season, most severe between December and April, cuts into the island's hydro production, and sources of hydro power are also subject to floods and typhoons.

At Taipei, 15 miles from Keelung, two Westinghouse 20,000-kw. steam-electric generating units began operatingg at Peipu station last February. Taiwan is served by an interconnected system of transmssions lines running north and south on both sides of the island.

The Shen Ao project is being financed in part by the International Cooperation Administration.

Manufacturer Trains New Technicians

The license agreement with Ta Tung will enable the organization to reach an ultimate annual production of about 75,000 electric fans and 4,000 motors, including fractional units and motors up to 10 horsepower, as well as significant quantities of lighting ballasts and control equipment, Mr. Knox said. These will be manufactured with the aid of Westinghouse design and production information. The company also produces watt-hour meters, in addition to steel products.

Ta Tung operates a fully-equipped industrial vocational school, Mr. Knox added, turning out trainees for its own operations for other industries. The school has a complete curriculum in Chinese, English, history and geography as well as electrical and mechanical engineering subjects.

"The Shen Ao project and the Ta Tung agreement are evidence that the Republic of China is progressing toward a greater measure of industrial self-sufficiency and development of a new generation of trained citizens," Mr. Knox concluded.

Friends of Mr. David Norwood will be glad to hear that he is improving from a serious operation at Kennedy General Hospital, in Memphis, Tenn.

The Christmas Program of the Calera Nazarene Church will be held Sunday night Dec. 23rd at 6 o'clock. Every one has a special invitation to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Brooks and family visited in Birmingham Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Killingsworth and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brooks.

Communications Workers Accept Decision of National Labor Board

The Communications Workers of America union has agreed to accept without further hearing an order by the National Labor Relations Board against the International Union and 27 of its locals for strike practices employed during the strike against the Southern Bell Telephone Company in 1955, the company reported today.

This action followed an extensive investigation by the NLRB of charges that officers, agents, representatives and members of the CWA restrained and coerced Souther Bell employees by attempting to keep them from their jobs.

Specifically, the NLRB charged the union with violating Sections 7 and 8 of the National Labor Relations Act, which deals with the right of employees to organize, carry on collective bargaining and to strike, and also guarantees emplyees the right to "refrain therefrom" when they so elect.

Southern Bell filed the charges against the International Union on May 12, 1955, before the strike had ended. The charges were filed with the regional office of the NLRB in Atlanta, which conducted the investigation and the subsequent hearings.

The settlement requires the international union representing Southern Bell employees and the 27 locals to refrain from the following:

1. Assaulting, physically harming or otherwise using force or violence against Southern Bell employees and applicants for employment, or attempting or threatening to do so.

2. Picketing the premises of Southern Bell in such a manner as to keep employees, supervisors and others from entering or leaving the premises.

3. Making threatening telephone calls to employees.

4. Following employees, supervisors and others from Southern Bell premises in order to restrain or coerce them.

5. Throwing objects at, against or toward employees entering or leaving Southern Bell premises or at the premises where the employees are working.

6. Restraining or coercing Southern Bell employees by damaging or destroying their property or the property of Southern Bell.

7. In any other manner restraining or coercing employees in the exercise of their rights guaranteed by the National Labor Relations Act.

The settlement further requires the posting of appropriate notices of the order on all bulletin boards in Southern Bell territory. Provision is also made for court enforcement of the order.

The order will become effective when approved by the NLRB in Washington, which is expected within a few days.

The charges originally were filed against 115 locals. Charges against 41 were dismissed, but the investigators found evidence to support charges against 74 locals. Of these, 27 locals where major violence occurred, and the International Union, were the subject of the formal order. An informal settlement was reached on the remaining 47.

In Alabama there were six of the 27 locals where major violence occurred with headquarters in Birmingham, Gadsden, Montgomery, Sheffield, Tuscaloosa and Huntsville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bratcher, attended the funeral of Mrs. Bratcher's brother in-law, Dec. 6th in East St. Louis, Ill.

Miss Beverly Doyle and Lt. Robert Hitt Marry at Methodist Church

Montevallo Methodist Church was the scene at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 23, of the wedding of Miss Beverly Diane Doyle and Lt. Robert Thomas Hitt. Before an altar decorated in smilax, pink gladioli and carnations with pink tapers in candelabra the Rev. James Chesnutt and the Rev. Shirley Lowery officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Percy Doyle of Montevallo and Mrs. Ellis Grady Hitt and the late Mr. Hitt of Tuscaloosa.

Candles were lighted by George Bilbree and Gary Spruce. Miss Mary E. McDonald, organist, of Cullman, rendered the nuptial music. Miss Joan Littrell gave a Bible reading on "Love" and a small choir sang the Benediction with the three-fold amen.

Miss Sadie DeWeese attended the bride as maid of honor. Deborah Leigh Adderhold, niece of the bride, was flower girl. They wore dresses of pink velveteen. The maid of honor's headdress was of pink feathers and she carried camellias and pink feathers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. With her wedding gown of antique silk taffeta she wore a fingertip veil of illusion attached to a pearl tiara and carried a corsage of camellias on a white Bible.

Best man was Loyd E. Hitt, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers included Larry Thomas, George Bilbree, Gary Spruce and Guy Adderhold.

The mother of the bride was dressed in a gown of cafe au lait crepe and had a bronze orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore dior blue with a corsage of pink orchids.

A reception in the church parlor was held after the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. G. B. Adderhold, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Sam Klotzman. Mrs. S. M. Mahan and Mrs. T. H. Napier poured. Assisting were Mrs. Paul Rogan, Mrs. Jimmy Higgins, Misses Jade Higgins and Sigrid Lund, Mrs. Mary Charles Tinsley, Mrs. Martha Jane Hatcher, and Mrs. Martha Ann Champion.

Miss Joy Holcomb caught the bride's bouquet.

For traveling Mrs. Hitt wore an aqua knit suit with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

After a wedding trip to different sections of the state, Lt. Hitt will leave for Japan Jan. 22. His wife is looking forward to following in the near future.

This is the second grant made to the college for this study, a previous allocation of $7,323 having been made.

The Board of Directors of the Alabama Division decided, upon the basis of the previous year's work, that this effort was of such importance that it should be continued, according to Mrs. Lillian G. Meade of Birmingham, executive director of the Alabama Division.

The project is under the supervision of Dr. William L. Hawley, associate professor of clinical medicine at the Medical College, and Dr. Howard L. Holley, associate professor of medicine at the college.

High School Newspaper Wins Honorable Mention

The Spotlight, Montevallo High School newspaper, was awarded an honorable mention in Alabama High School Press Association competition last Friday night at the University of Alabama. Announcement was made at a banquet held annually in connection with the high school journalism clinic there.

In the judging of newspapers from high schools with not more than 500 enrollment, Montevallo's class, Andalusia's "Andy-Hilite" was awarded first place. Winning honorable mention also was Opelika's "Bulldog."

FHA Members Have Christmas Party

The Montevallo chapter of F. H. A. had a Christmas party at their regular monthly meeting December 28 in the home economics department.

A delightful Christmas program was presented. The devotion, read by Pat Allen, was the familiar Christmas story of the birth of Christ from Luke 2:1-16. Following this, some of the favorite Christmas carols were sung by the group.

The punch table was decorated with a single lighted candle in the center surrounded by silvered evergreens. The girls were served a variety of Christmas goodies, oatmeal and chocolate chip cookies and peppermint candy with cranberry punch. The punch bowl was especially lovely with floating candles which had been molded by the home economics students.

The girls enjoyed a Christmas story, read by Ann Birchfield.

Lillie Pearl Carlee, vice president, was in charge of the Christmas program.—Cora Ann Loftin, Student Teacher.

Navy Personnel Offered Schooling

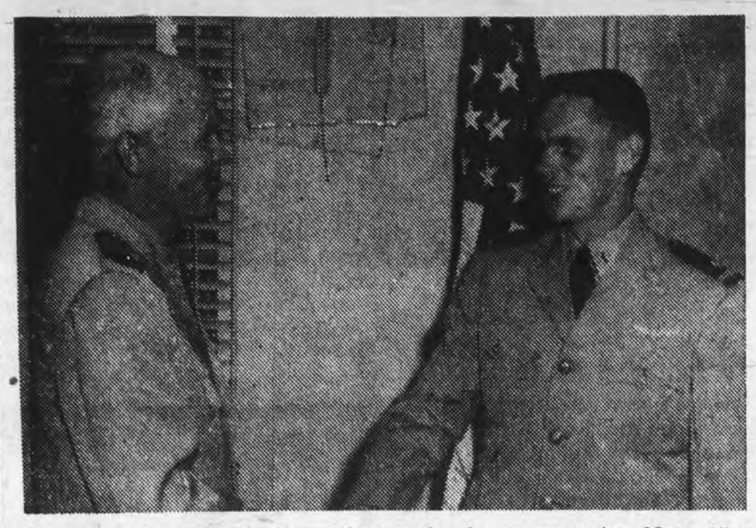

In addition to naval technical training the U. S. Navy now is offering to naval personnel an opportunity to complete their high school requirements and even to take college courses while serving in the Navy. The policy of the Navy is to encourage young men to finish school before joining but this program is designed for those who for various reasons find it desirable to enlist before graduating from high school.

The high school and college courses are made available through the U. S. Armed Forces Institute. USAFI provides the text and all the study materials necessary. There are different kinds of courses but the most common is the correspondence course whereby the student prepares lessons and mails them to USAFI for grading. Every naval ship and station has an information and education officer assigned to assist and advise personnel who desire to graduate from high school and take college courses. The cost to the navyman is only two dollars for the initial enrollment fee and this entitles him to take as many courses as he desires.

For further information about this program contact youar local Navy recruiter. In Bessemer he is located at the County Courthouse.

The Navy recruiter is in Shelby County on Thursdays and Fridays. For times and places consult the post office bulletin boards.

American Brake Shoe Company Creates New Division To Serve Railroads

The local plant of American Brake Shoe Company is one of 27 of the company's 58 plants to be combined into a newly created company division, effective January 1, 1957. The new division, known as the Railroad Products Division, unites four of the company's present divisions including the Brake Shoe and Castings Division, the National Bearing Division, the Ramapo Ajax Division and the Southern Wheel Division.

The creation of the division will enable the company to provide more efficient operation and better utilization of talents, resources and experience to serve the nation's railroads.

Greater emphasis on new and improved products to meet the changing needs of today's railroads will result from the consolidation. New developments in railroading—faster schedules, heavier freight cars, and greater use of equipment—have challenged established concepts of design and operation. American Brake Shoe, with its extensive research and engineering facilities, will be enabled by this consolidation to move even more efficiently in responding to the changing requirements of modern railroads for new and improved products.

The reorganization will bring under a single leadership all of Brake Shoe's accumulated experience in the railroad field. The men who will lead the new Railroad Products Division have served the railroad industry for many years.

Charged with over-all responsibility for the new division will be John S. Hutchins, executive vice president and director of American Brake Shoe. Mr. Hutchins was formerly president of both Ramapo Ajax and National Bearing Divisions.

Named president of the new Railroad Products Division is Stephen S. Conway a Brake Shoe vice president who is now president of the Brake Shoe & Castings Division.

Eads Johnson, Jr., now president of the Southern Wheel Division, will be vice president for sales of the new division. Roy .L Salter, first vice president of Southern Wheel, will become vice president in charge of production. Raymond A. Frick vice president of the Brake Shoe & Castings Division, will become assistant vice president for production. Engineering will be headed by Rosser L. Wilson as vice president. Mr. Wilson has been director of mechanical engineering at the Mahwah, N. J., research center of American Brake Shoe, as well as vice president and chief engineer of Brake Shoe & Castings.

Four product lines will be handled by the new Railroad Products Division. These will include the Racor line of trackwork and specialties, brake shoes, railroad car wheels, and bearing products.

Southern Seeks To Discontinue Trains

The Southern Railway is again asking the Public Service Commission of Alabama for permission to discontinue the operation of its passenger trains 19 and 20 between Birmingham and Mobile through Selma.

The Public Service Commission will hold a public hearing on the application January 21 at Selma.

It's Not Too Late To Buy Christmas Seals

The goal for Shelby County is $2,650.00. Contributions totaling $1,254.25 have been received by Roy Downs of Calera, treasurer of the County TB Association. The 1957 program of the association is dependent upon the dollars given today. Association officials urge the people of Shelby County to buy seals so that the work of finding and treating tuberculosis will not be curtailed during the coming year because of lack of funds.

Sparkman Opposes Debate Limitation

Senator John Sparkman, Alabama, declared today that those who advocate limited debate in the Senate are doing so in order to make possible the passage of the so-called civil rights legislation. "I always have opposed such legislation," he said, "and thus I will oppose a change in Senate rules that would make passage of such legislation likely."

Sparkman said that he would vote and work against any effort to weaken the Senate rule that permits unlimited debate. He said a weaker rule would destroy the one weapon which protects the South from those who for political purposes would impose on southern people a way of life alien to their traditions and not in keeping with racial harmony and economic well-being.

Senator Sparkman stated that the present Senate rule is necessary to protect the minority from a ruthless majority. He said that he does not believe those proposing a change in the rule had thought through the significance of their action. "While the right of debate," Sparkman added, "is now necessary to protect the South, the time may come when this right is essential for the protection of some other minority group."

The Senator said if the North, Republicans and Democrats alike, "will leave us alone we can work out our own problems in harmony and justice."

East Meets West at Alabama College

By Oscar Banks

East meets West at Alabama College. Many classrooms are charged with an international atmosphere. A girl from Tokyo sits across the aisle from a boy from Colombia.

A majority of the college's foreign students remained in the United States for Christmas and received their first sample of American home life when they spent the holidays with students who live in different parts of the state.

Typical of the foreign students now enrolled here is Keiko Nakada, a junior from Shimotikazawa, Japan. Known by her fellow students as Kay, she has been in America for three years.

Kay is majoring in history. She has an older brother who is a student at Harvard. Her father is a retired Tokyo banker.

"When I graduate from Alabama College" Kay said, "I plan to return to Japan and teach in a University in the Tokyo area."

Tsutako Tsukagoshi is also a native of Japan. She has been in this country for two months. A resident of Tokyo, she plans to return there when she graduates and do social work. Her main course of study here is labor relations.

"I can just see Tokyo, now that winter is approaching," she reflected. "I remember the fun my friends and I used to have wandering up and down the Ginza, which is the main thoroughfare. We would windowshop, gazing at the exotic wares on sale in the stalls that line the streets. We were typical of the Japanese students. We would go to the book stores and browse through the Japanese - translated copies of Proust, Faulkner, and other Western writers. When we got hungry, we would go to a small tea house and drink cups of hot green tea, munch on roasted chestnuts and order servings of sukiacki."

Tsutaka is amazed at the contrast in America. "There is so much to see and do here that I am breathless," she said.

Hilda Gomez is an American who lives outside the border of the United States. She is from Soles, Puerto Rico. She has been here since July, and planned to go home for the holidays. She is a home economics major and hopes to work in Puerto Rico when she graduates.

Marina Domingues is a tall, black-haired beauty from Rio de Jeneiro. She is studying English and said that before she returns to Brazil she will tour America from coast to coast. She is looking forward to January when some of her fellow countrymen will arrive on the Alabama College campus to take courses in English. "When they arrive it will be a fiesta," she smiled. Another Brazilian is Victor da Silva, who is studying English. He plans to major in engineering in the near future.

The Middle East is represented by the versatile Samira Khaki, of Cairo, Egypt, who is a campus leader.

From Palestine are the Salem twins, Leila and Widad, language majors, who have been in the United States for five years. They are staying with their brother, a Birmingham rug importer.

From Bogota, Colombia, are Alicia Caballero and Raquel Szantal, both secretarial science majors. Alicia hopes to work for an American firm in Bogota when she returns home. Her father is a prominent surgeon there. She has an older sister who is studying dentistry in Switzerland.

Raquel's parents came from Poland 25 years ago and settled in Colombia. Her father is a Bogota merchant. Raquel plans to visit Israel when she finishes her studies in America.

A local student recently commented, "Nations may be at each other's throats today, but their representatives here at Alabama College practice the meaning of peace and goodwill."

Home Economics Students Serve Buffet Dinner

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 19, Miss Lightsey's Home Economics Foods II Class members were hostesses at a buffet dinner in the high school home economics department.

The building was beautifully decorated with Christmas evergreens, and hand made candles which were molded by the Home Economics Foods I Class.

Nelda Jean Scott served as hostess. The buffet table was centered with a unique arrangement of holly and candles. At one end of the table Edith Edfeldt served the chicken and at the other Mitchie Lovejoy served the salad. They were assisted by Rosa Green and Allie Langston.

Invited guests were parents and friends of the students, Miss Nancy Capell, student teacher, Mr. and Mrs. Milford, and Mrs. McGaughy. — Nancy Capell, Student Teacher.

Westinghouse International President Receives Chinese Nationalist Award

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—The Order of the Brilliant Star, the highest civilian honor for a non-citizen bestowed by the Republic of China, was conferred here today in the name of Chiang Kai-Shek on William E. Knox, president of Westinghouse Electric International Company. Dr. Hollington K. Tong, Ambassador to the United States, made the presentation at a reception for 300 persons at the Metropolitan Club, Fifth Avenue and 60th Street.

Mr. Knox has been identified with practical power development in China since early in World War II, when the Nationalist government was suffering power shortages in the interior. During a visit he conceived the idea of standardized "packaged" steam-electric power plants compact enough for shipment over the Burma Road. Under the Lend-Lease Act Westinghouse-built units in capacities of 500, 1,000 and 1,500 kilowatts went by this route and were reshipped by air to Chungking and the Northwest.

Mr. Knox's concept of the standardized Unit Power Plant, born in China, has since been applied to more than 200 power stations throughout the world from Mexico to India and Japan. Today they range up to 75,000 and 156,250 kilowatts.

Since 1947, Mr. Knox has been active in developing the financial basis for power development on Taiwan. The following year Westinghouse was invited by the Chinese government to organize a survey mission to the island to recomment measures for rehabilitation and expansion. At a time when other sources of financing were closed to the utility, Mr. Knok agreed to a $2-million Westinghouse loan. Taiwan's power supply had fallen to a low of 32,000 kilowatts through war damage and deterioration of equipment.

Increased Power Leads to Higher Production

In 1949 and 1950 Westinghouse began shipments of power transmission and distribution equipment, including protective relay and related apparatus which aided in restoring electrical production. After the war Taiwan's power supply had reached a low of 32,000 kilowatts through destruction and inadequate maintenance. By 1950 it had increased to 181,000 kw and two years later output was 332,000 kilowatts. This made possible production gains in aluminum, fertilizer, cement and other materials at Kaohsiung and other industrial centers.

In 1951 Mr. Knox took the lead in engineering and in financial negotiations for development of steam electric power aimed at achieving a better balance with hydro facilities under Taiwan's first five-year power program. In 1953 Westinghouse received an order for two complete 20,000 kw steam-electric generating units for Peipu Station in the north. The units began operation last February.

Mr. Knox visited the Peipu station during a 24,000-mile trip through the Pacific area in October.

This year is Mr. Knox's 35th year of service in the international operations of Westinghouse. He has been president of Westinghouse Electric International Company since 1946. Among honors for his services in developing world electrical power have been decorations from the governments of France, Italy, Norway, Spain, Chile, Peru and Japan.

Beef Promotion Helps Cattlemen

BY A. W. JONES
API Extension Specialist

ANBURN, Ala.—Today's tough competition for the dollar is developing hundreds of promotion programs, extolling the virtue of specific products.

And competition grows keener, these promotion programs become more ingenious and more necessary to move merchandise from retail shelves. These programs call for strong advertising campaigns through newspapers, radio, television, magazines, the mails, and billboards. These modern campaigns are complete with slogans and jingles thrown at the consumer so often they become as familiar as Old Mother Goose rhymes.

More and more producers and distributors of farm items are finding these promotional campaigns a must if the product is to hold its own in today's highly competitive retail markets. So the retailers themselves have gone all out in the use of store posters, banners, and streamers, plus attractive displays of the product itself.

A good example of a promotion program designed to whet the public appetite for a specific food is the "Eat More Beef" campaign. The slogan, like most other slogans, is based on brief simplicity—using only three one-syllable words. The constant repetition of these three little words has made them as effective and familiar as those three little words "I love you" are to put over popular love songs.

General farm organizations, livestock associations, stockyard operators, marketing cooperatives, packers, livestock boards, meat institutes, distributors, chain stores, industry retailers, and Extension Service workers are but a few of the hundreds of thousands of people who have had a hand in putting over the Eat More Beef campaign. Each worked hard in a nationally organized effort to put more beef on American dinner tables.

All this nation-wide and industry-wide effort deserves much credit for the increase of meat consumption from 55 pounds per person in 1951 to 83.5 pounds in 1956.

Of course we realize that we can eat more meat only if it is produced. And the supply is much greaater now than it was three years ago. But it took a lot of push to make people more meat-conscious.

One effect of this concerted effort was to keep cattle prices from dropping as drastically as they usually do during periods of peak supply such as we have had since 1952. This allowed more cattlemen to stay in business.

Cattle prices are not as high as they should be—running around 65 to 70 per cent of parity for the past three years. But cattlemen know the best way out of the low price difficulty is to get consumers to eat more beef.

The beef promotion parallels that of other farm products such as pork, potatoes, dairy products, eggs, broilers, cotton, and many others.

BEEF PRODUCERS ACT NOW FOR 1958 PROFITS

Beef producers with a weather eye out for future markets are now laying the groundwork to build their 1958 profits to a peak level.

API Extension Assistant Livestockman Robert Farquhar said this week that these producers use a controlled breeding program. And under this program the reunion of the bulls and herd comes now before the end of January. This practice will bring a calf crop ready for market in June, 1958, when prices are at the highest level for the year.

Farquhar said a controlled breeding program is a must for every beef farmer who wants to show a profit. He pointed out that sales at the Union Stock yards in Montgomery this year showed that calves sold on June 22 brought about 20 cents a pound, while those sold on October 22 averaged only about 15 cents per pound. And this difference can add up to success or failure for a producer.

Farquhar declared that farmers, not practicing controlled breeding, are still living back in the days of the old moodel-T. They allow the bull to stay with the herd throughout the year. While those who are in the know turn the bull with the herd in December or January and take him out in June or July—in other words, breeding for fall dropped calves. Then by the following June these calves, with good grazing, will weigh 500 and 600 pounds, and will arrive at the market when prices are highest.

Toward the end of July prices start downward and hit a low, usually in October. This low price is a result of farmers and ranchers unloading calves on the market, rather than feeding them through the winter months.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By
Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

In commenting on the excellent work being done by the Children's Emergency Fund of the United Nations, a Christian leader inquires:

"How anyone in the world can be negative toward the most generous of national appropriations to the work of this magnificent U. N. agency?"

We can well understand how a multitude of individuals would wish to contribute to the Children's Emergency Fund, yet why should any of us desire to mobilize the coercive power of government to compel our fellow citizens who do not wish to contribute personally to do so. Is that not assuming the right to tell our fellows what they must do with their money and to compel them to follow our wishes rather than their own? What right has any group just because it can gain control of government to enforce its will upon others?

Governments are often controlled by small minorities and even though they represent a majority does that give government the right to dispossess the minority and do what it pleases with their wealth. If so, the age of freedom and self government which has brought so many blessings to the world during the past two centuries is drawing to a close, for the process will not stop until wealth declines to the point where freedom and self-government are no longer possible. Only men who have houses, lands, food and supplies can oppose government. When government succeeds in depriving them of their wealth the power of resistance is at an end and they become its slaves.
